Saturday

The Belmont Stakes
6 6 8 11 11 12 4:30 p.m.
Thoroughbreds trot to the final leg of horse racing's Triple Crown at this year's Belmont Stakes from Elmont, New York. Following the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness Stakes, this 2.4 km (1.5 mile) race is one of the sport's most prestigious events.

How to Be a Gentleman
2 2 5 8:30 p.m.
When Andrew is left picking up Jerry's slack at work, he realizes his life is falling apart. He decides to recruit Bert to be his new life coach but soon realizes that may have been a bad idea. Star David Hornsby co-wrote the script for this episode.

Couples Retreat
28 USA 8:30 p.m.
Three married couples go to a vacation resort in an attempt to fix their marriages, and even the most solid relationship hits rocky waters. When they learn that they cannot leave the island, they start to look at their partners in a different light.

Shrek
38 TBS 9:00 p.m.
An unfriendly ogre reluctantly agrees to a quest to rescue a princess. Along the way, he meets an annoyingly talkative donkey, and he is pleasantly surprised when he learns a secret the princess has been keeping. Mike Myers and Cameron Diaz star.

Jersey Shore Shark Attack
43 SYFY 9:00 p.m.
When illegal underwater drilling upsets their habitat, angry sharks attack swimmers and it's up to the locals to stop them. Tony Sirico leads the cast of this original Syfy film, which also stars Paul Sorvino, Joey Fatone and Vinny Guadagnino.

Dog the Bounty Hunter
37 A&E 10:00 p.m.
Dog Chapman is back and more determined than ever, as he tracks down dangerous fugitives and brings them back to the authorities. Despite his gruff demeanour, the bounty hunter and ex-con often shows compassion for the fugitives he apprehends.

Duane Chapman in "Dog the Bounty Hunter"

Late Laughs

Conan: Conan O'Brien
Khloe Kardashian is refusing to take a paternity test to determine if she's actually a Kardashian. She said: "I think my record of fame without talent speaks for itself."

A new report suggests that Christopher Columbus may have secretly been Jewish. What tipped historians off was Columbus's diary entry, where he described his journey to America as "a real schlep."

The Tonight Show: Jay Leno
Two new studies have found that people who snore have a higher risk of cancer. Although in most cases, the spouse will smother them with a pillow long before the cancer takes them.

Canadian Grand Prix
10 6 2:00 p.m.
Formula One fans won't want to miss the Canadian Grand Prix. The race returns to the circuit with this highly anticipated showdown from Circuit Gilles Villeneuve in Montreal, which was won last year by British driver Jenson Button.

The 66th Annual Tony Awards
2 2 5 8:00 p.m.
The stars of the stage come to the small screen as Neil Patrick Harris returns to host this dazzling awards ceremony. The legendary Tony Awards were established to honor theater professionals for outstanding achievements on the Broadway stage.

Extreme Makeover: Weight Loss Edition
4 4 9:00 p.m.
With dreams of starting a family, Jacqui begins working with renowned trainer Chris Powell in the hopes of changing her life. Her journey surpasses everyone's expectations as she rebuilds her self-confidence and rediscovers her love of singing.

Jacqui as seen in "Extreme Makeover: Weight Loss Edition"

The Glades
37 A&E 9:00 p.m.
Jim dives into another mystery when the body of a synchronized swimmer dressed in a mermaid costume washes ashore. The clues point to a love triangle and a hip hop mogul who wants to capitalize on a mermaid show. Also, Callie's job search doesn't go well.

My Big Fat American Gypsy Wedding
58 TLC 10:00 p.m.
Get another fascinating look into gypsy culture in this premiere. Gypsy Annie wears an outrageous fox fur wedding dress as she marries her first cousin. Also, Ana stays true to her heart but breaks a lot of rules in the first gay gypsy wedding.

Late Laughs

The Late Show: David Letterman

That Facebook guy, Mark Zuckerberg, got married over the weekend. His company goes public and he's now worth $100 billion. Then he gets married. He may not be as smart as we thought ...

Facebook is worth $100 billion. Today it was friended by Greece.

Live: Jimmy Kimmel

There's a parking spot in the Greenwich Village area that will be priced at $1 million. I would love it if whoever buys this spot parks a 1986 Ford Taurus in it.

The Late, Late Show: Craig Ferguson

Police discovered 800 pounds of marijuana in the waters off the coast, just floating in the water. The authorities are advising surfers to stay out of the water, because there is nothing more dangerous than a shark with the munchies.

Strange BUT TRUE

• It was celebrated physicist Albert Einstein who made the following sage observation: "Anyone who has never made a mistake has never tried anything new."

• It was in 1917 when one Dr. Walter G. Walford wrote an article warning readers of the perils of tight collars and ties, claiming that such constricting neckwear caused illness by retarding the flow of blood to the brain.

• It's fairly well known that seahorses are monogamous, staying with the same mate until death. Many people donÕt realize, however, that these fish are so devoted that every day they reaffirm their union with a morning greeting dance. • When Ronald Reagan's daughter, Patti, got married, there were more security personnel than guests in attendance.

• America got its first paved street back in 1647. It was, unsurprisingly, in New York City.

• The fastest known star is traveling through space at a rate of 3.5 million miles per hour.

• The figure on the Heisman trophy was sculpted from a real person. Warren Mulrey played football for Fordham University when John Heisman chose him to be the model for the new award.

• If you're like the average American, you use 2 gallons of water every time you brush your teeth. So turn off that faucet while you brush!

• If you like squash, corn, beans, pecans, chili peppers, pumpkins, maple syrup or cranberries, you have Native Americans to thank -- they're the ones who taught Europeans to gather and use these foods. In fact, by the end of the past century, fully one-third of all crops grown in the United States were of Native American origin.

• It's not easy to contemplate, but before there was toilet paper, American colonists used corncobs.

Thought for the Day: "Nothing pains some people more than having to think." -- Martin Luther King Jr.

Moments in time — THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On June 11, 1509, King Henry VIII of England marries Catherine of Aragon, the first of six wives he will have in his lifetime. When Catherine failed to produce a male heir, Henry divorced her against the will of the Roman Catholic Church.

• On June 15, 1877, Henry Ossian Flipper, born a slave in Thomasville, Ga., in 1856, becomes the first black cadet to graduate from the United States Military Academy at West Point, N.Y. Flipper was never spoken to by a white cadet during his four years at West Point.

• On June 16, 1884, the first roller coaster in America opens at Coney Island, in Brooklyn, N.Y. Known as a switchback railway, it traveled approximately 6 mph and cost a nickel to ride. • On June 12, 1942, Anne Frank, a young Jewish girl living in Amsterdam, receives a diary for her 13th birthday. A month later, she and her family went into hiding from the Nazis in rooms behind her father's office. Anne's diary, detailing their two years in hiding, was published in 1947.

• On June 14, 1951, the U.S. Census Bureau dedicates UNIVAC, the world's first commercially produced electronic digital computer. UNIVAC, which stood for Universal Automatic Computer, used thousands of vacuum tubes for computation and was the forerunner of today's digital computer.

• On June 13, 1966, the Supreme Court hands down its decision in Miranda v. Arizona, establishing the principle that all criminal suspects must be advised of their rights before interrogation. The roots of the Miranda decision go back to 1963 when Ernesto Miranda confessed to a crime and later recanted, unaware that he didn't have to say anything at all.

• On June 17, 1972, five of President Richard Nixon's re-election employees are arrested for burglary in the Democratic National Committee headquarters at the Watergate Complex in Washington, D.C. An investigation unveiled a scheme of political sabotage and espionage designed to discredit Democratic candidates. Equipment used during the burglary had been borrowed from the CIA.

Q: I have several Big Little Books, all copyrighted between 1939 and 1941, depicting the adventures of such boyhood heroes as The Phantom, Buck Rogers, The Lone Ranger, The Green Hornet and Dick Tracy. Do these books have any value? --Gene, Goodyear, Ariz.

A: Yes, they do. The first Big Little Book, "The Adventures of Dick Tracy," was published by the Whitman company just before Christmas in 1932. The books are distinctive in that they look like a 4-inch block of wood sawed off the end of a two-by-four. Check out the Big Little Book Club, P.O. Box 1242, Danville, CA 94526. To get an idea of current prices, go to www.biglittlebooks.com.

Q: Last year, I acquired a miniature cast-iron sleigh with eight reindeer that move up and down when pulled. It looks very old, but I can't find anything specific about it. Can you help? -- Don, Sun City West, Ariz.

A: The picture you sent makes me think the sleigh is not as old as you think. This obviously is a Christmas table decoration, and the paintwork doesn't appear to be as detailed as in most of the older pieces I have seen. A good place to begin your research might be to invest in a fairly good guide. A used copy of "The Collectors Encyclopedia of Toys, Banks, Cast Iron Windup Autos and More, with Prices" by L-W Books is available for $6.94 at www.amazon.com.

Q: I have a scale that I believe is from about 1937 or earlier. It is the same one seen in the movie "A House Without a Christmas Tree." It was manufactured by the Hobart Company in Dayton, Ohio. Any idea of how old it is and what its value would be? -- Inge, Granite City, Ill.

A: I'm not sure if your scale has a three- or 30-pound capacity. There is a difference when it comes to prices. The three-pound scale was often found in candy shops, the larger ones in other retail outlets. The scale was manufactured throughout the 1930s and '40s. I found one of the smaller scales being offered in an online auction for $40.

Activities Guide Now Available At Visitors Center

The 2012/2013 Garrett County Activities Guide is now available courtesy of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce. A comprehensive guide of things to do in Garrett County, the annual publication includes information about area attractions, family-friendly activities, outdoor adventures, restaurants, parks, and events. The new publication will serve as a guide for those who are in town visiting the area.

"We created this new publication this year so guests have a reference guide available to help utilize all of Garrett County's resources while they're visiting our area," said chamber president and CEO Nicole Christian. "We invited our chamber member businesses to stop by the Visitors Center to pick up a box of the new guides for distribution in their place of business."

Along with advertisements from the chamber members, the guide features colorful photography, annual events, and a list of activities that visitors to the area can do on the water, outdoors, and indoors. The guide also features shopping and dining options, state parks and forest information, special offers, and a Garrett County map. Great State Publishing, who produces Maryland Life Magazine, helped the chamber produce the guide.

The activities guide is being made available to visitors and chamber members, and can be found in county brochure racks and at chamber member businesses. The guides are also available at the Visitors Center and online at www.visitdeepcreek.com.

Those interested in receiving a guide or wishing to distribute them at a local business are asked to contact the Chamber of Commerce at 301-387-4386.

SCOTS TALL AND SMALL were part of the 20th annual Garrett Highlands Festival, held at the McHenry Fairgrounds Saturday. The festival celebrates the traditions and influences of the Celtic families who populated the Garrett County area generations ago, and whose descendants remain. The heritage of Scottish, Irish, and Welsh clans is honored at the festival, which involves ethnic food, Highland games, dance contests, and the traditional mass band, part of which is shown above. The Garrett Highlands Pipes and Drums organization hosts the event, with assistance from both the Garrett County and Maryland State arts councils, and a wide range of local contributors. Border collie demonstrations took place, as well as a Celtic dog show. Exhibits of longhorn cattle were on display, and vendors of everything Celtic were set up to cater to the crowds. The day was a little chilly, but the sun shone and attendance was good. A tot with her wee kilt is pictured at right as she wanders with her mom through the cattle barns. Photos by John McEwen.

Toys For Tots Fundraiser Set For July 6–9

The eighth annual Toy Thunder is scheduled for Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, July 6–8, at Glendening Park (the former Lions Field), Shaw Street, Frostburg. Sponsored by the Marine Corps Reserve and the city of Frostburg, proceeds will benefit the 2012 Toys for Tots campaign for children in Garrett and Allegany counties.

Gates will open on Friday at 6 p.m. Admission is $10. Food, beer, raffles, and live entertainment will be featured. Scheduled to perform are the Ali Ghan Shriners Bag Pipe Unit, 7–7:30 p.m.; the Cramer Brothers, 7:30–9:30 p.m.; and the Davisson Brothers, 10 p.m.–1 a.m.

Park gates will open at 6 a.m. on Saturday for a flea market/motorcycle swap meet from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. A military display will also be set up. Admission is $5.

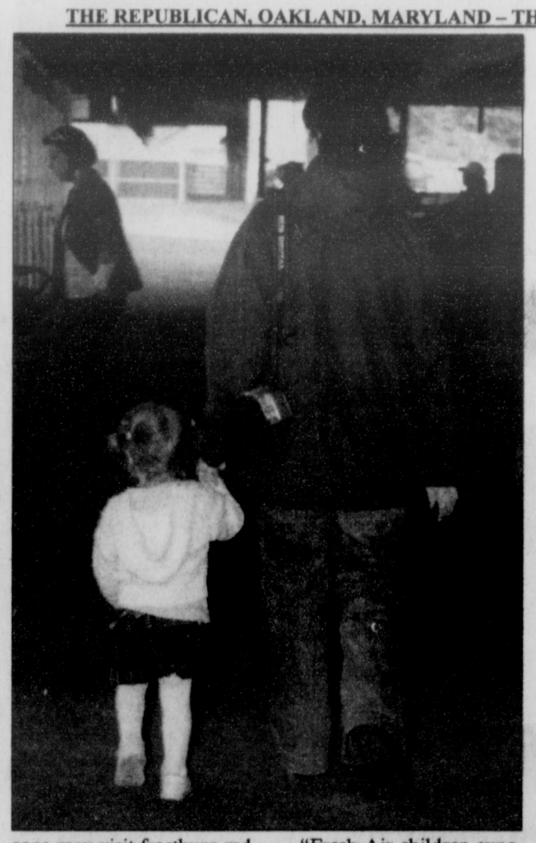
The 2012 Toy Thunder ride will start at the downtown Cumberland pedestrian mall at 1 p.m. and end at Glendening Park, where food and entertainment will be available. Registration for the ride will be held from 11:30 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. The donation is $20 per driver and $15 per passenger (food and entertainment included).

Scheduled to perform beginning at 5 p.m. are EVK, Surrender Dorothy, the Renegades, REVV, the Moondog, the Unruly Blues Band, Thunderstruck, and Cops & Robbers.

Park gates will be open again on Sunday at 6 a.m. for another flea market/motorcycle swap, which will be held from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. The military display will be set up again. Admission is $5.

Bluegrass bands will perform in the park from 4 until 10 p.m. Scheduled artists are Loretta Hummel, Hanna Livingston, Amarillo, and Donnie Gipson.

For more information, persons may visit frostburg-md.toysfortots.org or call John Parsons at 301-689-2825.



Families Sought To Host Fresh Air Participants

Over 4,000 inner-city children visit suburban, rural, and small-town communities across 13 states and Canada each summer through the Fresh Air Fund's Volunteer Host Family Program.

Volunteer families open their homes to children who might not otherwise be able to enjoy a summer away from New York City.

"Fresh Air children experience simple pleasures, like running barefoot through the grass and gazing at star-filled skies," stated a program spokesperson. "Through the eyes of Fresh Air children, families in western Maryland often rediscover the beauty of their own communities."

The Fresh Air Fund, an independent, not-for-profit agency, has provided free summer vacations to more than 1.7 million New York City children from low-income communities since 1877. Fresh Air children are boys and girls, from 6 to 18 years old, who live in New York City. Children on first-time visits are 6 to 12 years old, and stay for one or two weeks. Children who are re-invited by host families may continue with the Fresh Air Fund through age 18 and may have extended stays. Over 65 percent of all children are reinvited to stay with their host families, year after year.

For more information on hosting a Fresh Air child, local residents may contact Alice Orendorf at 301-245-4326 or the Fresh Air Fund at 800-367-0003. Information can also be found online at www.freshair.org.

Thank You

I would like to thank family and friends for prayers, cards, flowers, food, visits and telephone calls.

For my care at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Garrett Medical Group Ambulance, Lauren and driver, and Johns Hopkins in Baltimore.

I am doing much better now.

Thanks very much,
Love, Dorothy Lowdermilk

Energy Assistance Offered Through Community Action

Garrett County Community Action Committee Inc., Office of Home Energy Program, will be taking applications for energy assistance and the Electric Utility Service Program beginning July 1. Regular office hours are Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m to 4:30 p.m.; however, evening appointments can be scheduled.

Outreach at the Grantsville Senior Center will be every Monday starting Aug. 6, and running through Oct. 29 from 8:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m. Other areas are being scheduled.

When applying, applicant will need to bring in proof of total household income for prior 30 days, Social Security cards for all members of household, driver's license for applicant, electric bill, and gas bill (if the main source of heat), and a copy of current rental lease if renting. A new regulation this year is that the rental lease must be current.

Persons desiring more information and/or wishing to schedule an evening appointment may call 301-334-9431, ext. 117, or 1-888-877-8403, ext. 117.

Summer Event To Be Offered By Board Of Ed

A "Celebration of Summer Picnics" will be offered to families of children age birth to 21 with individual education plans (IEPs) or individualized family service plans (IFSPs) in Garrett County. The event will be hosted by the Garrett County Board of Education's Family Support Network, Pre-School Partners, and Partners for Success programs.

The event is free and will be held on Saturday, June 16, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Deep Creek Lake State Park, Birch Shelter. Games, swimming, and activities will be provided for family members of all ages and abilities. A lunch of pizza, drinks, desserts, and snacks will be available. Door prizes will also be awarded.

For more information or to RSVP, persons should contact coordinator Babette Smith at 301-334-8119 or via e-mail at familysupportnetwork@ga.k12.md.us; or Jill Horner, Partners for Success parent liaison, at 301-533-0240, or via e-mail at partnersforsuccess@ga.k12.md.us.

Funding for the Family Support Network is provided by the Garrett County Infants & Toddlers Program through the Garrett County Partnership for Children and Families Inc. The Partners for Success Program is provided through funding by the Maryland State Department of Education through the Garrett County Board of Education.

Baptist Church To Host VBS June 25–29

Deep Creek Baptist Church will host vacation Bible school June 25–29 from 6 to 9 p.m. each evening. Themed "Amazing Wonders Aviation," it is open to those entering kindergarten in the fall through those who completed seventh grade this spring. The event is free and will be held at the church, located along Rt. 219 across from Uno's Restaurant, Deep Creek Lake.

"Come join us as we fly to some of the world's greatest natural wonders and encounter God's awesome power," commented a spokesperson. "As kids 'fly' around the world, they will enjoy missions, music, recreation and games, crafts, Bible stories, and snacks."

Friday night will be family night, with parents invited to watch a performance of the week's songs by the VBS children. The church will host a free cookout and a time of fellowship following the performance, complete with a bouncy house and games.

For more information, persons may call the church at 301-387-5688 or visit the web site at www.deepcreekbc.com.

4-H Club News

OAK HILL
by Bailey Brewer, reporter

The regular meeting of the Oak Hill 4-H Club was held on April 26 at the Accident fire hall. First on the agenda were pledges, officers' reports, and roll call.

Spring Show and weigh-in were discussed.

Members were asked to participate in a hoagie sale to pay for the Hershey Park and Farm Tour trip, which is scheduled for July 22 and 23.

Members were asked for ideas for a 4th of July parade float for the parade in Accident and were asked to volunteer.

The group then discussed the Western Maryland District Show on June 16 at the Allegany County Fairgrounds.

The next regular meeting was held on May 31 at the Rush Farm. The pledges, officers' reports, and roll call were first announced.

Morgan and Jacob Rush gave demonstrations on their steers and pigs. Morgan's pig is named Gizmo, while her steer is named Cosmo. Jacob's pig is named Charlie and his steer is called Wild One.

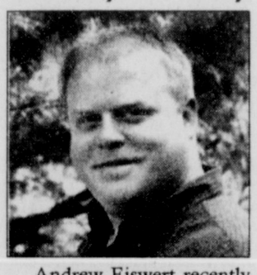
Annie Fratz discussed the Broiler Show. Members were notified about the Rabbit Workshop at Garrett College and were encouraged to attend.

Members received their 2012 fair books from Jackie Fratz.

Members were asked if they could volunteer for the club booth display for the 4-H building at the Garrett County Fair, and Karen Brewer volunteered to be in charge of this again. Members were asked to contact her to help.

The meeting was adjourned and the Rush family provided refreshments.

Eiswert Joins Railey Realty



Andrew Eiswert recently joined the Railey Realty team as its newest member. He has been a Maryland licensed realtor since 2002 and has over 10 years of real estate sales experience. He has primarily worked in the Deep Creek Lake and greater Garrett County area.

Eiswert is a life long resident of Oakland and is the son of area attorney and current district court judge Leonard Eiswert and Kathy Eiswert. After graduating from Southern High School in 1993, Eiswert attended Mary Immaculate College of Limerick, Ireland, and Frostburg State University, where he earned a bachelor's in English literature with a minor in writing.

"Andrew has a true knowledge and appreciation of this wonderful area with a complete understanding of the multiple dynamics to help both buyers and sellers," stated Kevin Liller, co-owner and broker of Railey Realty.

"He is very highly regarded in the local community as the current president of the Garrett County Board of Realtors and has developed many loyal working relationships over the years. We are very excited that he has decided to join our company."

Eiswert lives in Oakland with his wife Jennifer and two children, Sean and Maeve. In his spare time, he enjoys spending time with his family, fishing, golfing, and snow skiing. He and his family attend St. Peter's Catholic Church.

Eiswert invites the public to contact him at 301-387-2000 or at Aeiswert@railey.com for all real estate needs.

We extend a compassionate helping hand.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE OF REAL PROPERTY AND ANY IMPROVEMENTS THEREON

134 KNOLL CREST HEIGHTS DR.
OAKLAND, MD 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Leslie A. Bittinger and Salena D. Bittinger dated February 28, 2007 and recorded in Liber 1291, Folio 524 among the Land Records of Garrett Co., MD, with an original principal balance of $232,000.00 and an original interest rate of 6.625% default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Sub. Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett Co., located at 203 S. 4th St., Oakland, MD, at the East Alder St. entrance, on JUNE 27, 2012, AT 1:30 P.M.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND, together with any buildings or improvements thereon situated in Garrett Co., MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust.

The property, and any improvements thereon, will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $24,000 in cash, cashier's check or certified check is required at time of sale. Balance of the purchase price, together with interest on the unpaid purchase money at the current rate contained in the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received by the Sub. Trustees, payable in cash within ten days of final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court. There will be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason. TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE FOR THE PURCHASER. Adjustment of current real property taxes will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the purchaser. All past due property taxes paid by the purchaser. All other public and/or private charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale to be paid by the purchaser. All transfer taxes shall be paid by the Purchaser. Purchaser shall pay all applicable agricultural tax, if any. Purchaser is responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property, and assumes risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale. If ratification or settlement is delayed for any reason there shall be no abatement of interest. The sale is subject to post-sale audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of the deposit without interest. If purchaser fails to settle within 10 days of ratification, the Sub. Trustees may file a motion to resell the property. If Purchaser defaults under these terms, deposit shall be forfeited. The Sub. Trustees may then resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulted purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds resulting from said resale even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulted purchaser. If Sub. Trustees are unable to convey either insurable or marketable title, or if ratification of the sale is denied by the Circuit Court for any reason, the Purchaser's sole remedy, at law or equity, is the return of the deposit without interest.

The property is improved by a dwelling.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions, easements, encumbrances and agreements of record affecting the subject property, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit in the form of cashier's or certified check, or in such other form as the Substitute Trustees may determine, at their sole discretion, for $57,000.00 at the time of sale. If the noteholder and/or servicer is the successful bidder, the deposit requirement is waived. Balance of the purchase price is to be paid within fifteen (15) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for GARRETT COUNTY, Maryland. Interest is to be paid on the unpaid purchase price at the rate of 8% per annum from date of sale to the date the funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustees, if the property is purchased by an entity other than the noteholder and/or servicer. If payment of the balance does not occur within fifteen days of ratification, the deposit will be forfeited and the property will be resold at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. There will be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event settlement is delayed for any reason. Taxes, ground rent, water rent, and all other public charges and assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges to be adjusted for the current year to the date of sale, and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Condominium fees and/or homeowners association dues, if any, shall be assumed by the purchaser from the date of sale. The purchaser shall be responsible for the payment of the ground rent escrow, if required. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes, and all settlement charges shall be borne by the purchaser. If the Substitute Trustees are unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law or equity shall be limited to the refund of the deposit to the purchaser. Upon refund of the deposit, the sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claim against the Substitute Trustees. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. The purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss for the property immediately after the sale.

CASE NUMBER 11-C-12-012537

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a Deed of Trust from James Brian Reckart recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber 1322, folio 115, and Declaration of Substitution of Trustees recorded among the aforementioned Land Records substituting Thomas P. Dore, Mark S. Devan, Gerard F. Miles Jr., Shannon Menapace, and Erin Gloth as Substituted Trustees, the Substituted Trustees will offer for sale at public auction, at the Courthouse Door, Alder Street entrance, Oakland, Maryland on

All that lot of ground and the improvements thereon situate in Garrett County, State of Maryland, as described in the Deed of Trust recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, in Liber 1322, folio 115, also being further described in a Deed recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber 1322, folio 108. The improvements thereon consist of a dwelling. The property will be sold in "AS IS" condition, subject to any existing building violations, restrictions and agreements of record. Neither the Substituted Trustees nor their respective agents, successors or assigns make any representations or warranties, either expressed or implied with respect to the property. The Substituted Trustees shall convey insurable title.

TERMS OF THE SALE: A deposit in a form acceptable to the Substituted Trustee in the amount of $10,000.00 will be required of the purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns, at the time and place of sale. Unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, the balance of the purchase price shall be paid immediately with available funds within twenty (20) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Time is of the essence. The purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns, shall pay interest at the rate of 7.12500% per annum on the unpaid portion of the purchase price from the date of sale to date of settlement. Real property taxes and assessments shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser, unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, in which case, no adjustments shall be made. Ground rent, water and/or sewer charges public or private, if any, shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser, unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, in which case, no adjustments shall be made. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. If the purchaser defaults, the entire deposit is forfeited. The Substituted Trustees shall resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorney fees, all other charges due, and incidental and consequential damages. In the event the Substituted Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser's sole remedy is return of the deposit. The Substituted Trustees shall have the right to terminate this contract in the event the Holder or its Servicer has entered into any agreement with, or accepted funds from, the mortgagor. Upon termination of the contract, Purchaser's sole remedy shall be return of the deposit.

TERMS OF SALE: The Trustees reserve the right to offer and sell the Property as an entirety, in individual lots, or in alternate grouping of lots. A deposit in the amount of $75,000.00 shall be required at the time and place of sale in order to bid on the entirety. A deposit in the amount of $15,000.00 shall be required at the time and place of sale in order to bid on each lot offered individually, and for each lot if offered in a grouping. All deposits must be made payable in cash, certified check or other form acceptable to the Trustees and will be required at the time and place of sale. The Properties will be sold in the manner which the Trustees, in their sole discretion, determine will yield the higher return for the Holder. The balance of the purchase price shall be due in cash or by certified check with interest on the unpaid balance of the purchase price at the rate of eight percent (8%) per annum from the date of sale to and including the date of settlement. In the event the Holder, an affiliate thereof, or an assignee of either, is the successful bidder at the sale, such party will not be required to make a deposit or to pay interest on the unpaid purchase money. Taxes, water rent and all other municipal charges and liens owed against the Property shall be the responsibility of the purchaser and shall be paid by the purchaser at settlement. In addition, all other charges, expenses and liens owed against the Property, including, but not limited to, all condominium fees, homeowners association fees and expenses and public charges and assessments owed and payable on an annual basis, such as sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges, if any, shall also be the responsibility of the purchaser and shall be paid by the purchaser at settlement. In the event that taxes, water, sewer, water rent, ground rent, condominium fees, and/or homeowners association dues, or public charges or assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges, if applicable, have been prepaid, they shall be adjusted between the Trustees and the purchaser to the date of sale. The cost of all taxes, documentary stamps, recordation taxes, document preparation and transfer taxes is to be paid by the purchaser. The Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to extend the time for settlement, if applicable.

The Property will be sold in an "AS IS" condition and without any warranties or representations, either express or implied, as to the nature, condition or description of the improvements. The Property will also be sold subject to all existing housing, building and zoning code violations, subject to all critical area and wetland violations, subject to all environmental problems and violations which may exist on or with respect to the Property, and subject to all matters and restrictions of record affecting the same, if any. The purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss for the above-referenced Property immediately after the sale takes place. It shall be the purchaser's responsibility to obtain possession of the Property following ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

The Property shall be sold subject to all easements, conditions, liens, obligations of record, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, encumbrances, such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection might disclose, and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and not otherwise extinguished by operation of law.

The purchaser shall pay all state and local transfer taxes, recordation taxes and fees, title examination costs, attorneys' fees, conveyance fees and all other incidental settlement costs. The purchaser of the Property shall settle and comply with the sale terms within twenty (20) days following the final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, unless said period is extended by the Trustees for good cause shown. Time is of the essence. Settlement(s) shall be held at the offices of Rosenberg | Martin | Greenberg, LLP, 25 S. Charles Street, Suite 2115, Baltimore, Maryland 21201, or at such other location as the Trustees may agree..

In the event the purchaser fails to proceed to settlement when required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available to them, the Trustees may, without further order of the court, declare the aforementioned deposit forfeited and resell the Property at the purchaser's risk and expense. In such event, the defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorneys' fees, all other charges due, and incidental damages. In the event a resale of the Property results in a sale in excess of the amount originally bid by the defaulting purchaser, the defaulting purchaser waives any and all claims, rights and interest to any such excess amount and shall not be entitled to any distribution whatsoever from the resale proceeds. The parties' respective rights and obligations regarding the terms of sale and the conduct of the sale shall be governed by and interpreted according to the laws of the State of Maryland.

If the Trustees are unable to convey the Property as described above, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be limited to the refund of the aforementioned deposit, without interest thereon. Upon refund of the deposit to the purchaser, the sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claim against the Trustees or the Holder.

The information contained herein was obtained from sources deemed to be reliable, but is offered for informational purposes only. The Holder, the Trustees and the Auctioneer do not make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of this information.

SUBSTITUTED TRUSTEES' SALE OF REAL PROPERTY
KNOWN AS NO. 971 BLACK OAK DRIVE
CASE NUMBER 11-C-11-012301

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a Deed of Trust from Bartley A. Maheu and Renee P. Maheu recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber 1068, folio 290, and Declaration of Substitution of Trustees recorded among the aforementioned Land Records substituting Thomas P. Dore, Mark S. Devan, Gerard F. Miles Jr., Shannon Menapace, and Erin Gloth as Substituted Trustees, the Substituted Trustees will offer for sale at public auction, at the Courthouse Door, Alder Street entrance, Oakland, Maryland on Monday, June 25, 2012, at 03:20 p.m.

All that lot of ground and the improvements thereon situate in Garrett County, State of Maryland, as described in the Deed of Trust recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, in Liber 1068, folio 290, also being further described in a Deed recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber 1068, folio 287. The improvements thereon consist of a dwelling.

The property will be sold in "AS IS" condition, subject to any existing building violations, restrictions and agreements of record. Neither the Substituted Trustees nor their respective agents, successors or assigns make any representations or warranties, either expressed or implied with respect to the property. The Substituted Trustees shall convey insurable title.

TERMS OF THE SALE: A deposit in a form acceptable to the Substituted Trustee in the amount of $8,000.00 will be required of the purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns, at the time and place of sale. Unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, the balance of the purchase price shall be paid immediately with available funds within twenty (20) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Time is of the essence. The purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns, shall pay interest at the rate of 5.87500% per annum on the unpaid portion of the purchase price from the date of sale to date of settlement. Real property taxes and assessments shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser, unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, in which case, no adjustments shall be made. Ground rent, water and/or sewer charges public or private, if any, shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser, unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, in which case, no adjustments shall be made. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property.

In the event settlement is delayed for any reason , there shall be no abatement of interest. If the purchaser defaults, the entire deposit is forfeited. The Substituted Trustees shall resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorney fees, all other charges due, and incidental and consequential damages.

In the event the Substituted Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser's sole remedy is return of the deposit. The Substituted Trustees shall have the right to terminate this contract in the event the Holder or its Servicer has entered into any agreement with, or accepted funds from, the mortgagor. Upon termination of the contract, Purchaser's sole remedy shall be return of the deposit.

"Secret Garden" Tour Adds Boutique To Event Offerings

The Mountain Laurel Garden Club, which will host the 12th annual "Secret Country Gardens" tour on Saturday, June 30, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., has announced the addition of a new boutique.

This offering, during the Garden Club event, will be curated by chairman Sandy Smith and will have many garden-related items, from traditional to "shabby-chic," available for purchase.

Members of the club have donated items for the boutique, while Smith reports that she has found treasures in many Garrett County places to add. According to a press release, these items, when spruced up by Smith's committee, become perfect for many garden uses – both practical and whimsical.

The "secret" tour will feature four private gardens in Garrett County and will also include a perennial sale overseen by the Horticulture Committee. The Herb Committee will offer tickets for a raffle prize that will be available on the day of the tour. The Conservation Committee will feature a five-minute computer presentation titled "Invasive Plants of Garrett County," prepared by Liz McDowell of Elk Ridge Native Plant Preserve.

Handouts about invasive plants and sources for native plants, and actual invasive specimens will be available for plant identification education. Refreshments will also be offered.

The event's ticket price is set at $7 and will include a short description of each garden and written directions. Tickets may be purchased in advance at the following locations: Gregg's Pharmacy (Oakland), Jan Florist, Green Acres Garden Center, Julie's Greenhouse, Nature's Own, Annie's Restaurant, and Beachy's Pharmacy.

On the day of the tour, members of the Garrett County Historical Society will sell tickets at the Gazebo in downtown Oakland.

Proceeds from the tour will be used by the Mountain Laurel Garden Club for the continued beautification of local communities and to encourage gardening and sound conservation practices through club activities and programs.

The Mountain Laurel Garden Club is a member of the National Garden Clubs Inc., the Central Atlantic Region, and the Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland Inc. According to a spokesperson, "affiliated clubs provide education, resources, and national networking opportunities for members, as well as promote gardening, floral design and civic and environmental responsibility."

Those interested in further information may Contact Barbara Gallagher, tour co-chair, at 301-387-5875 or Kathie Smith, publicity chair, at 301-334-3249. Information is also available at the club's web site: www.mountainlaurelgardenclub.com.

Society To Host WVU Herbarium Curator June 19

The Western Mountains Chapter of the Maryland Native Plant Society will hold its regular meeting at the Appalachian Laboratory in Frostburg on Tuesday, June 19, at 7 p.m. The guest speaker will be Dr. Donna Ford-Werntz, herbarium curator at West Virginia University. Her presentation, titled "What plant is that? – The XID system for plant identification," will begin immediately following a brief chapter meeting. The public is welcome to attend.

Dichotomous keys have a long history as the scientific standard for species identification, according to Ford-Werntz. However, she says they have various drawbacks that limit their utility, especially for the amateur botanist.

Dr. Ford-Werntz recently completed coding West Virginia plant species characteristics into an XID software program. The XID system, which she will demonstrate, allows user-directed identification through unordered selection of taxon features. Attendees may bring their favorite plant identification reference for comparison and discussion.

Ford-Werntz is a native of Cincinnati, where during her high school years she worked as a volunteer at the Cincinnati Zoo and at the University of Cincinnati herbarium. She received her B.S. degree in botany and mathematics/statistics from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. She earned a master's degree in plant biology at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, and a Ph.D. in the joint Washington University (St. Louis)/Missouri Botanical Garden program. Her dissertation was a taxonomic study of a group of Chilean Portulacaceae, and included three field seasons in South America.

DR. DONNA FORD-WERNTZ

She taught for four years at Truman (Northeast Missouri) State University before joining the biology faculty at West Virginia University, Morgantown, in 1995. At WVU, she is the herbarium curator and teaches West Virginia flora, plant systematics, and plants and human health courses. She created a computer database of West Virginia specimen labels, co-authored the Checklist and Atlas of Vascular Flora of West Virginia, and is working on an interactive plant identification software program, using the XID system, for West Virginia plants.

The Appalachian Lab is located along Braddock Road, just off Interstate 68, Midlothian Road Exit.

The Maryland Native Plant Society uses education, research, and community service to increase awareness and appreciation of native plants and their habitats, leading to their conservation and restoration. Membership is open to all who are interested in Maryland's native plants and their habitats. Preserving Maryland's natural heritage, increasing knowledge about native plants, and helping to further the society's mission are its goals. MNPS sponsors monthly meetings, workshops, field trips, and an annual fall conference. More information can be found online at www.mdflora.org.

The Western Mountains Chapter has formed to expand the efforts of MNPS on the Allegheny Plateau and ridge and valley physiographic provinces of the central Appalachians. Residents of western Maryland, nearby Pennsylvania, and West Virginia, and anyone else interested in learning more about and conserving the native plants of this region, are invited to join. For more information, persons may contact Liz McDowell, chapter coordinator, at 301-895-3686 or via e-mail at lmcdnativeplants@hughes.net.

FABULOUS HUBCAPS TO RETURN TO GRANTSVILLE – Working with corporate sponsors, the Grantsville Lions Club will once again bring the Fabulous Hubcaps to Grantsville Days. The group has performed for over 37 years, from Miami to Pittsburgh, for two presidents and numerous other special events. They will perform their special brand of 1950s and 1960s music on Sunday afternoon, June 24, beginning at 2 p.m. The entertainment is free to the public, and persons are encouraged to bring a lawn chair.

THE ANYTHING-THAT-FLOATS REGATTA will be among the fun and zany events of the annual Redneck Dayz, scheduled for this weekend at Broadford Park, Mtn. Lake Park. The two-day blast is organized and hosted by the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club, with Mark "Bubba" Marucci as chairman. The weekend, for which weather conditions are predicted to be ideal, will also include lots of music by several area bands, a mud-pit belly flop, games, and a wide variety of food and beverages available for purchase. A number of other local non-profit organizations besides the Lions Club will be participating. Admission cost to the celebration will $5 on Saturday and free on Sunday. See story on this page for the specific schedule. Photo courtesy of Bubba Marucci.

Sprinklers Will Be Required In New Maryland Homes

The Garrett County commissioners, in an effort to keep Garrett County residents informed of important state mandates, have announced that all new housing starts in Maryland, including Garrett County, will be required to have fire sprinklers installed after Oct. 1.

Gov. Martin O'Malley recently signed legislation that amends Maryland Building Performance Standards to prohibit local jurisdictions from excluding automatic fire sprinkler system requirements for townhouses and one- and two-family dwellings.

The commissioners met with Director John Nelson, Garrett County Department of Planning and Land Development, and Chief Jim Torrington, Permits and Inspections Division, last Tuesday to review county building codes updates, which follow on the heels of Maryland's 2012 edition of the International Residential Code.

Every three years, Maryland amends building standards, which local jurisdictions typically adopt six months later; however, Garrett County will delay making changes to its building code until the new sprinkler requirement takes effect.

"The county cannot weaken fire suppression requirements," Nelson told the commissioners.

He also said that the new sprinkler requirements "will drive up the costs of construction significantly."

There are exceptions to the new sprinkler law. One includes buildings without electricity, such as homes of Amish families who may shun modern conveniences.

Two other exceptions are valid until Jan. 1, 2016: A new dwelling unit does not require a sprinkler system if either (1) the lot was subject to a valid unexpired public works utility agreement executed before March 1, 2011, or (2) the lot is served by an existing water line, installed before March 1, 2011, that is less than one inch in size, approved, and owned by the water system whose mains are fully operational.

Arrested Following High-Speed Chase Along Garrett Hwy.

Garrett County sheriff's deputies arrested a Pennsylvania man following a high speed pursuit along Garrett Highway, Deep Creek Lake, Saturday evening.

Deputies attempted to conduct a stop on a 1999 Chevrolet sedan along Sand Flat Road after they observed the vehicle cross the centerline on numerous occasions. The sedan also had an inoperable brake light, and the driver was not wearing a seat belt. The driver was later identified as Jon David Whittingham, 52, Pittsburgh.

During the attempted stop, the sedan slowed down and began to pull off the shoulder of the road, and then abruptly pulled back into the travel lane and accelerated. Deputies pursued the sedan to the intersection of Sand Flat Road and Garrett Highway. Upon approaching the McHenry area, the sedan was passing numerous vehicle on double yellow lines. At the same time, Maryland State Police and an additional sheriff's deputy blocked the 219 bridge as the pursuit was approaching Lake Shore Drive.

At the intersection of Lake Shore Drive and Garrett Highway, the sedan aggressively turned into the

Wilson Hired As New Superintendent Of Garrett County School System

The Garrett County Board of Education has announced that Dr. Janet S. Wilson will be the next superintendent of the Garrett County Public School system.

This hire comes following a rigorous search process and interview screening designed by the Maryland Association of Boards of Education. Wilson will officially assume the position on July 1. She has signed a four-year contract with the BOE.

Following a unanimous vote to instate Wilson by the BOE at its June meeting on Tuesday, board member Thomas Carr thanked Sue Waggoner, interim superintendent of schools, for her services.

"Thank you everyone for your patience and support," Carr stated. "We appreciate the sacrifices that have been made by students, parents, and teachers in what has been a very difficult year.

"I would especially like to thank Sue Waggoner, who has helped lead us through this rough time. She has been steadfast for us, and we appreciate her taking on a lot of responsibility in such a trying time. As for the future, Dr. Wilson has made it clear that she is eager to help us move forward."

Wilson, a veteran educator with nearly 30 years' experience as a teacher, principal, and administrator, has been the chief academic officer for Allegany County Public Schools since 2010, where she served as instructional leader for 22 schools. Her experience in education involves positions as a teacher, grant writer, principal, supervisor of early childhood programs, and most recently her work as assistant superintendent of Allegany County Public Schools.

"I am honored to serve as the new superintendent of the Garrett County school system," stated Wilson.

"I look forward to engaging collaboratively with all stakeholders as we prepare our students for a bright future and productive citizenry.

"During the interview process it became crystal clear to me that there are wonderful people in Garrett County who care and dare to creatively look for ways to grow and improve an already great school system."

Wilson attended Frostburg State University, where she earned three degrees beginning with a bachelor of science in elementary and middle school education with a certification in special education (K-12). She also completed her graduate work at FSU, earning a master's of education in both reading (K-12) and administration and supervision.

Bank Robbery Suspects Arrested

CORBIN J. WILL

NICHOLE L. DURST

Efforts by Maryland State Police investigators and other federal, state, and local law enforcement resulted in the arrest of the pair of bank robbers suspected in multiple bank robberies in Maryland, West Virginia, and Pennsylvania during the month of May.

The accused are identified as Corbin Jay Will, 39, Garrett, Pa., and Nichole Lynn Durst, 23, Meyersdale, Pa. Both are in police custody in Pennsylvania, after being suspected of robbing the First Summit Bank in Salix, Pa., First United Bank and Trust in Friendsville, the WesBanco Bank in Bruceton Mills, W.Va.,and the First National Bank in Logantown, Pa., as well as an attempted robbery at the M&T Bank in Tyrone, Pa. Charges are pending in all three states.

Will and Durst were taken into police custody on Tuesday by the Pennsylvania State Police from the Somerset Barracks after troopers conducted a traffic stop on the suspected vehicle, which was observed in multiple surveillance videos obtained during the robberies.

When the two vehicle occupants matched the description of the suspects, both were transported to the Pennsylvania State Po-

Redneck Dayz Schedule Noted

Plans have been finalized for the annual Redneck Dayz, sponsored by the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club and scheduled for this weekend at Broadford Park.

The gates will open at 8 a.m. on Saturday. The schedule of events for that day will be as follows: the Anything That Floats Regatta at 10 a.m., musical entertainment by the band Eastbound at 11 a.m., the Speakeasy Boys in concert at 12:30 p.m., the Mud Pit Belly Flop at approximately 2 p.m., the Travis Minnick Band performing at 3 p.m., music by Boathouse at 6:30 p.m., and the Davisson Brothers Band performing at 9 p.m.

Janice Ray will be performing on the side stage in between the shows by the aforementioned bands.

Sunday's schedule will have the gates opening at 9 a.m., a car show from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and the drawing for a 4-wheeler at 5:30 p.m.

A wide variety of food and beverages will be available for purchase throughout the two-day event.

Admission on Saturday will be $5 per person, and admission is free on Sunday. More information is available online at redneckdayz.webs.com.

"Hog" Rally To Travel Through Garrett County

The Maryland State Hog (Harley) Rally will take place this weekend in Garrett County, with nearly 550 Harley motorcycle riders expected to be in the area from Friday until Sunday.

The riders will be mostly concentrated in the Deep Creek Lake area, but will also participate in a scavenger hunt in downtown Oakland on Saturday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., and will be visiting other towns in the county as well.

Residents are advised to travel with caution and watch for the riders throughout the weekend.

"This is a great opportunity for our area, to have these guests for the weekend," said Michelle Ross, Main Street manager in Oakland. "These folks are nice, family-oriented people, so we hope they will all be shown genuine Garrett County hospitality."

Summerfest Under Way At The Fort; Raising Money For New School Fund

The first Fort Father's Day Summerfest is now under way at the Fort in McHenry, located just off U.S. Rt. 219. The majority of the proceeds raised by the three-day event will be donated to Garrett County Community School Support Fund (GCCSSF).

The Summerfest will include performances by several bands, the Family Olympics, and a wide variety of food and beverages, and will involve Smiley's, the Black Bear Tavern, and Pine Lodge Steakhouse.

Summerfest began today with two-person teams competing for over $1,000 in prize money by posting the combined best score for mini-golf, highest score at bowling, and the fastest time on the go-cart tracks. The top five teams will compete in the finals on Sunday, beginning at 1 p.m., with a $500 grand prize being offered.

Musical entertainment that will begin at 6 p.m. this evening will be provided by the Davisson Brothers Band on the new outdoor stage at the Fort.

The Mags will play on the main stage on Friday from 6 to 10 p.m., and three bands will provide entertainment on Saturday, with Dustin McCray from noon to 6 p.m., followed by Jackson Monsour & Accompaniment from 6 to 10 p.m. Then in the club at Black Bear Tavern, Lady Invidia will play from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m.

On the Fort outdoor stage Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. will be the Hillbilly Gypsies.

The band cover cost is $10 per day, or $25 for all four days.

Also from 3 to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Garrett County sheriff Rob Corley will hold a DUI clinic on the go-cart track, where drivers of all ages can experience the effects of driving impaired by using special glasses and driving on an obstacle course. This is free to all participants in the Family Olympics, while others will be charged a $5 fee, which will go to the GCCSSF.

There will also be three poker runs for bikers held, the first of which will be Friday from 1 to 5 p.m. with the run being through various parks in Garrett County. Naturalists will provide information about some of the 104,000 acres of parks and forrestland in western Maryland.

DOVE CENTER TO BENEFIT FROM TALENT SHOW – The Honi Honi Bar will host the fifth annual Deep Creek's Got Talent! fundraiser this Saturday, June 16, from 6 to 9 p.m. Pictured are "Blues Brothers" Max Schwinabart and Jake Mullins performing at last year's event. Through the support of contestants, sponsors, businesses, and the community, more than $55,000 has been raised during the last four years for local charities and organizations. The 2012 event will feature performances by 15 area contestants, ranging from singers to dancers; judges Rob Michael, Pam Trickett, and Jana Brown; prizes and giveaways from local businesses for audiences; and a benefit auction. Proceeds will go to the Dove Center. This year, a guitar autographed by the Thunder Hill Singers and two luxury suite tickets to Pittsburgh Pirates versus the Detroit Tigers game on Saturday, June 23, are up for grabs. In addition, to help commemorate the fundraiser's fifth year, special programming and entertainment, along with prizes, will be featured at this year's fundraiser. More information is available by calling Stacy Holler at 301-387-4020 or visiting deepcreektalent.com.

Fabulous Hubcaps To Be Among Performers At Grantsville Days

The Grantsville Lions Club has announced that the Fabulous Hubcaps will perform for the second year at the 35th annual Grantsville Days on Sunday, June 24, from 2 to 5 p.m.

What began 36 years ago as "Harvey Hubcap and the Do Ron Ron" has evolved into the Fabulous Hubcaps, one of the nation's most sought-after oldies show bands. A spokesperson noted that the careers of the band members have been "as diverse and colorful as the bowling shirts they wear."

"On any given month, their schedule may take them from Miami to Pittsburgh, Atlanta to Detroit, or Albany to Washington, D.C., and now again to Grantsville," said the spokesperson. "Whether a black-tie-formal affair for the Northern Virginia Hospital, a '50s sock hop for the ASPCA or the annual Blow-Out at the Nantucket Yacht Club, the Fabulous Hubcaps have been the choice of entertainment for decades."

The band has performed on the South Lawn of the White House for the 1995 Press Corps Picnic, and sang the national anthem in Orioles Park at Camden Yards. The Hubcaps also performed at the Inaugural Ball for Gov. Joe Manchin of West Virginia.

Hubcaps fans include Maryland Senate president Mike Miller, Maryland Senator Barbara Mikulski, the late Louis S. Goldstein, former comptroller of Maryland, and Coach Joe Gibbs of the Washington Redskins.

The Hubcaps, who have been performing since 1974, were inducted into the Southern Legends Entertainment and Performing Arts Hall of Fame in 2005. Since their first 45 record in 1982, the Hubcaps have released 17 recordings, from cassette tapes to their most recent compact disc, Showtime is Next. They continue to perform the music of artists Little Richard, Sonny and Cher, James Brown, Fats Domino, Ray Charles, the Shirelles, the Beach Boys, and Rod Stewart, among others.

Last year at Grantsville Days there was a reported record attendance at the Hubcap concert, with the audience sitting on their own lawn chairs or blankets and the pavilions filled to capacity, according to Grantsville Days chair Gerry Beachy.

This year, performances from Friday night through Sunday will be held on a new stage, which is located near the playground.

Also performing this year on Friday, June 22, at 8:30 p.m. are the Davisson Brothers, a popular band from western Pennsylvania. Persons may view their web site at www.davissonbrothersband.com.

According to the web site, the band has a unique style infusing a blend of country, southern rock, and bluegrass

Team Prepares For International Event In Orlando

Local students continue to work, even after school is out for the summer, to refine their robot, technical report, and presentation for the upcoming 2012 MATE International Event in Orlando, Fla., this month.

The Marine Advanced Technology Education (MATE) Center coordinates an international student underwater robotics (remotely operated vehicle or ROV) competition and a network of 21 regional ROV contests that take place across U.S. and in Canada, Hong Kong, Scotland, and Japan. Student teams from upper elementary, middle schools, high schools, home schools, community colleges, universities, and community organizations such as the Boys and Girls Club and 4-H participate. The competitions consist of three different classes that vary, depending on the sophistication of the ROVs and the mission requirements.

In addition to technical skills, the events help students to develop the ability to problem solve, think critically, and work as part of a team. By connecting students with employers and professionals from the workplace, the competitions also expose students to ocean-related career opportunities and help them to see the pathways to those careers.

The team members expressed their appreciation to everyone who has supported them. The team wrapped up its fundraising this week at the local Dairy Queen Spirit Night. The group displayed its technical poster board and several underwater robots. Southern States of Oakland loaned them a stock tank to fill with water to fly the students' Seaperch ROVs.

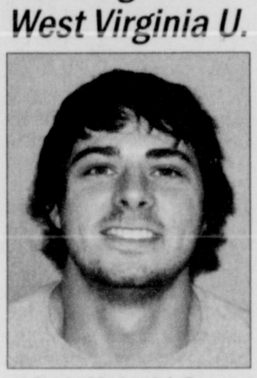
"Young and old alike enjoyed testing their flying skills as they attempted to pick up magnetic chips off the bottom of the tank," said a group spokesperson.

Shelly Hesel from Pennsylvania had the winning ticket drawn for the crab raffle. Team members extend thanks to Randy Gardner, who donated a bushel of steamed crabs for the raffle.

The team chose the team name "Project Phenix" because of the generous financial support they have received from the local business Phenix Technologies.

The team's other major sponsors are Craig & Associates, Terry S. Dornburg D.D.S, Phoenix International, and Thrivent Financial for Lutherans. The team also thanks other local business and individual supporters who have made this trip possible, as well as everyone who came to eat at DQ on Spirit Night.

Gregory Earns Law Degree At West Virginia U.



Justin Nathaniel Gregory recently graduated from the West Virginia University College of Law, receiving the degree of doctor of jurisprudence.

The 2002 Southern High School graduate also holds a bachelor of science degree in accounting from Frostburg State University.

While attending the WVU College of Law, Gregory served as an associate editor of the West Virginia Law Review and was a moot court grade-on invitee. He concluded his law school career with a 4.10 grade point average/3.51 cumulative.

The son of Jeffrey and Janet Gregory, Justin will soon be married to Lindsey Strubin, also of Oakland. He will begin his legal career with the Law Offices of P. Todd Phillips, Morgantown, W.Va.

Driver Cited For Leaving Scene Of Car Accident

Garrett County sheriff's deputies cited a driver after an unattended vehicle was discovered early Friday morning parked along Swallow Falls Road near Cheeks Lane.

Investigation revealed that Michael P. Hauhn, 23, Brooklyn Park, had been traveling southbound, when he reportedly lost control of the vehicle and struck a tree. He was cited for failure to return to and remain at the scene of an accident.

Two Drinking And Driving Arrests Made By Deputies

Garrett County sheriff's deputies arrested two men on drinking and driving charges following two separate incidents this past weekend.

Deputies stopped a 2001 Ford F-150 pickup truck Friday evening along Maryland Highway in Mtn. Lake Park for a traffic violation. The driver was identified as Brandon Delano Wilt, 26, Oakland, and he was reportedly intoxicated. He was charged with driving under the influence.

In an unrelated incident, deputies stopped a 1998 Chrysler along Garrett Highway near Mayhew Inn Road early Saturday morning. Driver Paul Bernard James, 47, Oakland, was given field sobriety tests, which he did not complete to the satisfaction of the deputy. He was charged with DUI, DUI per se, driving while impaired, and failure to drive right of center. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail, where he was later released.

Rafting Available At Discount Price To Local Residents

Whitewater rafting on Garrett County's, and the world's, only mountaintop river park is open to local residents every Monday at a discounted price of $25 per person, according to Suzanne Nicolas, ASCI event coordinator.

To take advantage of the special offer, local residents need proof of residence with an ID or tax bill, Nicolas said.

By adjusting water flow from the pump house – and with the flip of a switch – ASCI course operators can move adjustable plates underneath the artificial river and generate waves up to four feet tall.

"But the course is also as much for beginners as advanced paddlers," said Michael Logsdon, ASCI's acting executive director. "So we have features to modify the channel and affect the water horizontally and vertically."

ASCI's 1,700-foot long whitewater course and its 550-acre Fork Run Recreational Area, for climbing, hiking and biking, is now in its sixth season atop Marsh Mountain in McHenry.

So far this year, ASCI has welcomed a record crowd for its Memorial Day weekend All-American Whitewater Festival and "overwhelming support" from local restaurants and businesses for last weekend's gathering of Wounded Warriors in conjunction with Team River Runner Rendezvous, Logsdon said.

ASCI will be the site this Saturday, June 16, for the Mud Dog Run, a high intensity 5K obstacle run for competitors in two categories: a competitive pack departing at 10 a.m. and general packs leaving every 30 minutes thereafter. Ticket and race information is available online at clickitevents.com/mud-dog-run.html.

After the event, the whitewater course will be available for rafting, kayaking, duckies, and riverboards.

ASCI will also be the start and finish for the Gran Fondo bike ride on Saturday, June 23.

The Adventures Sports Center International is a not-for-profit, 501(c) charitable organization formed to promote adventure tourism and healthy outdoor lifestyles.

The center has taken more than 55,000 people rafting since it opened in 2007, according to the Garrett County commissioners. Programs are designed for groups and individuals of all skill levels and backgrounds.

For more information about ASCI programs and reservations, persons may call 301-387-3250, e-mail asci@adventuresportscenter.com, or visit adventuresportscenter.com.

Driver Flown To Cumberland After Vehicle Overturns

A West Virginia man was flown to the Western Maryland Regional Medical Center, Cumberland, following a two-vehicle accident along Maryland Highway Monday evening. Garrett County sheriff's deputies were the first to respond.

Investigation revealed that Jennifer Corby, 34, Swanton, had been traveling east when her vehicle collided with a pickup truck driven by Allen Hebb, 58, Parsons, W.Va., causing her vehicle to travel into the opposite lane and hit a westbound pickup truck driven by Daniel King, 33, Maysville, W.Va. King's vehicle then drove onto an embankment and overturned.

King was flown to the trauma center in Cumberland by Maryland State Police Trooper 5. Corby was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, and Hebb was reportedly uninjured. No further information has been received on King's condition. Southern and Northern rescue squads and Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department also responded to the 5 p.m. accident. Corby was cited for the accident.

MSP Seeking Info On Attempted Oakland Burglary

Maryland State Police are investigating an attempted burglary that occurred at a Gorman Steyer Road residence this past Saturday.

Sometime between June 8 and 9, unknown suspect(s) tried to gain entry to the home without success. The suspect(s) also moved a vehicle that was parked at the residence and parked it on a different location on the property.

Anyone with information concerning this incident is asked to contact Sr. Tpr. B. Bond, MSP McHenry Barrack, at 301-387-1101.

One Injured In Sunday Morning Vehicle Accident

One person was injured in a single-vehicle accident early Sunday morning at the intersection of Garrett Highway and Blue Ribbon Road, Oakland.

Investigation revealed that Jacob Brooks Gnegy, 21, Oakland, had been operating a 1997 Chrysler sedan along Blue Ribbon Road at approximately midnight, when he reportedly failed to stop for the stop sign at the end of the road. The vehicle collided with the guardrail across the intersection, disabling the sedan. Gnegy's front passenger, Ashley Wolf, 18, Oakland, who was not wearing a seat belt at the time of the crash, was transported by Southern Rescue Squad to Garrett County Memorial Hospital for treatment of her injuries. Gnegy was cited for failure to stop at a stop sign.

Failure To Yield Results In Two-Vehicle Accident

A West Virginia driver was cited by Garrett County sheriff's deputies last Thursday evening after she reportedly turned into oncoming traffic along Garrett Highway.

Investigation revealed that when Katherine L. Myers, 60, Aurora, conducted a left-hand turn into a private driveway located along Garrett Highway, she turned into traffic and struck a vehicle operated by Frank J. Fash, 86, Grantsville. Myers was cited for failure to yield to oncoming traffic while conducting a left turn.

Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, Southern Rescue Squad, and Northern Rescue Squad also responded to the 8 p.m. scene.

MSP Seeking Info On Tractor Theft From Accident

Maryland State Police are investigating the theft of multiple new tractors from an Accident business.

Sometimes between June 2 and June 4, unknown suspect(s) took several new vehicle from the property of Garrett Outdoor Power and Equipment, Accident. Of the stolen tractors, two are described as an orange and gray Husqvarna riding tractor and a red eXmark zero-turn radius tractor. The total value of the tractors stolen is over $15,000.

Anyone with information regarding the incident is asked to contact Tfc. Brick, MSP McHenry Barrack, at 301-387-1101. Callers may remain anonymous.

Remembering My Best Friend
Matthew Scott Bittinger
June 15, 1971 – November 27, 1991
On His Birthday

Happy Birthday in Heaven

I wish you were here today even for just a little while so I could say, Happy Birthday "best friend" and see your beautiful smile.

The only gifts today will be the gifts you left behind;
the laughter, joy and happiness...
precious memories...the best kind.

Today I'll do my very best to try and find a happy place... struggling to hide my heavy heart and the tears on my face.

I'll sit quietly and look at your picture thinking of you with love; hoping you're doing OK in Heaven up above.

May the angels hold you close and sing you a happy song... and I'll be sending wishes to you today and all year long.

We Love and Miss You, Matt,

Extra Special Connection...

Today is Flag Day in these United States, and the observance is somewhat more significant than usual in that this year marks the 200th anniversary of the War of 1812, a battle of which served as inspiration for the writing of the "Star-Spangled Banner" by Francis Scott Key. The history of Key and other significant events involving the United States flag have special meaning for folks who live in Maryland and, yes, even more for those of us who live in Garrett County.

Key, a Marylander, penned the words of our national anthem shortly after watching the bombardment of American forces at Fort McHenry during the Battle of Baltimore in 1814. Big doings are going on in Baltimore right now in observance of this milestone, as the Star-Spangled Sailabration, featuring 40 tall ships, an aerial performance by the Blue Angels, fireworks, and music, is now under way.

And who can forget the famous poem by John Greenleaf Whittier "Barbara Frietchie" (or more commonly, Fritchie), an elderly resident of Frederick, Maryland. The best known lines of that poem are "'Shoot, if you must, this old gray head, but spare your country's flag,' she said," followed by the response of General Stonewall Jackson to his troops, "'Who touches a hair of yon gray head, dies like a dog! March on!' he said."

Jackson, by the way, was born in nearby Clarksburg, W.Va. And Betsy Ross, the creator/seamstress of the original U.S. flag, resided in relatively nearby Philadelphia.

But the far more personal connection between the Key family and Garrett County is that his granddaughter purchased a house in Oakland, and for many nearly 100 years that house served as a summer getaway for many Key descendants. A piece found online and written by one descendant of Keys is as follows:

"A very deep love for Oakland and Garrett County is born into, and inherited by, all the descendants of Francis Scott Key, who have spent their summers at 79 Alder Street, and though for the past two years the present writer is the only member of the family to get there, and that, in all too short a stay, yet it is always with a deep sense of homecoming, of belonging in great part to Garrett County, that I return." Posted by Dave Tabler in May of last year.

The house was purchased in 1870 by Francis Scott Key's granddaughter, Alice Key Howard, who was the daughter of Key's daughter Elizabeth. According to Tabler's post, the house was "bought from a man named Stabler" and was "a four-room hunting lodge with separate kitchens, standing in a dense grove of oaks."

Many of Key's descendants actually died in Oakland, the last one being his great-granddaughter Julie McHenry Howard, who passed away at Garrett County Memorial Hospital in 1959.

So, while all Americans – from shore to shore – can and should take great pride in our "stars and stripes" on this day, we here in Maryland – and in Garrett County – have an extra special connection to the flag's history.

To the Editor:

The Garrett County commissioners are contemplating a land-use management ordinance, which is effectively a zoning ordinance. The ordinance language has several problems for future wind-power projects. We are not in favor of zoning, but are very much in favor of more wind projects in Garrett County. Two wind-power projects in southern Garrett County have proved successful, and more should built.

Proposed setbacks from occupied structures are five times the hub height for each turbine not owned or leased by the project. The proposed language in the ordinance needs to be corrected to include easements. A 1,200-foot setback is industry standard, and the turbine ordinance should be changed to 1,200 feet from occupied structures.

Proposed setbacks from property lines – Turbines must be three times the hub height away from property lines of lots not owned or leased by the projects.

Three times the hub height setbacks would almost assure no further wind projects in Garrett County, and so this must be changed. The industry standard of "tip height" as a setback is 1.1 times tip height from unsigned property lines. This means if the turbine were laid flat in any direction, it would not encroach on any properties not signed with the project.

Garrett should follow all other counties nearby that have turbines and either completely remove the requirements or change it to 1.1 times tip height. Allegany County is the only county with three times the height setback, and the only planned project was suspended after this ordinance was implemented.

Wind-power benefits – Construction and engineering jobs; a boost for local hotels and restaurants, concrete and steel companies, and surveyors; revenue to landowners for energy produced; and several permanent, high-paying jobs.

The Clipper Criterion wind project in southern Garrett County provided over $1 million in tax revenues to Garrett County last year, much of which went toward schools. Elementary schools have been shut down due to lack of funding, showing a clear need for the tax revenues that the future wind projects like the proposed Fair Wind Project could bring.

Property rights – Zoning tells people what they can and can't do with their land. Garrett County voters have been against zoning in the past, and if the county commissioners implement zoning on their own, they will be limiting landowner rights.

To the Editor:

I, Chester H. Sines, have been a member of the Mountain Lake Independent Baptist Church for 17 years, and Dr. Dennis Leatherman has been my pastor for the entire time. In all that time, I have heard hundreds of messages and not one – including the one in question – has ever been about hate, violence, or harm to anyone, but just the opposite; always about patience, humility, and kindness toward others.

Dr. Leatherman is a man of great compassion, integrity, and love for his fellow man. He labors long and hard in study of God's Holy Word, the King James Bible, to be the spiritual leader he needs to be. It is a sad day when three words in a 50-minute message are taken out of context to bash this fine man.

Dr. Leatherman preaches on sin, all sins, and uses the Bible, God's Holy Word, as his sole authority. Any pastor with true grit should do the same. He has a true heart to see souls saved, and he warns about the consequences of sin, according to the Bible.

We don't have the right to choose a sin that we are comfortable with and say it is okay, or think that particular sin is acceptable for some. God made the rules and the punishment. If you want to get mad at someone, take it up with God.

To the Editor:

I would like to make a statement of my feelings regarding the increase in the landfill charges we are to see and the increase in the "flush tax."

First, I would like to caution property owners to be on the lookout for increased, unwanted refuse on their property. A large portion, if not the majority, of locals or full-time residents here in this county are working at or below the poverty level. Another large portion are senior citizens who are on minimal pensions or Social Security.

Now a raise of the landfill sticker from $25 to $50 may not seem like much to those with decent incomes (not too many here in our county), but it is a burden to many. I own roughly 20 acres of land here and in the past I have had worn-out appliances and other bags of trash dropped off on it, which I and the county have cleaned up. I am pretty sure this will be on the increase, and we will see an increased amount of garbage along the sides of our roads and on private properties.

Regarding the "flush tax," we need to add jobs and not more burdens to our Maryland residents (especially Garrett County residents). I don't think one would complain as much if there were more money to go around. It is a poor time to increase this tax, as the economy is probably the worst I've seen it in my lifetime.

Fix the economy and then we'll talk about tax increases.

To the Editor:

After attending the commissioners' meeting last week, I brought home a copy of the 2013 Garrett County budget and began to read it. This is what I found.

Virtually all of the "saving" of county funds comes from delaying what is known as "Capital Projects." We actually spend almost $1.4 million more on everything else.

While we have five fewer county employees listed, none of them come from the web of bureaucracy that not only exists but thrives at the courthouse these days. We added one more to the department known as "Information Technologies" at a cost of over $70,000, counting salary plus benefits.

The first six departments listed as expenditures cost us about $1.5 million every year in wages plus benefits, and no reductions are listed that I can see.

Meanwhile, ASCI is on their organizational chart under Parks and Recreation, and has a separate breakdown of finances, as does the airport. However, airport personnel are counted on the county "position allocation table" on page 38, but there is no listing for ASCI. Interesting. I'm not sure how much $354,600 buys these days, but I'm guessing we've taken on quite a few more mouths to feed at the public trough.

Folks, this isn't the worst of it. If there ever were a case of "robbing Peter to pay Paul," this could be it!

This board tried to get as much political mileage as possible by not raising the property tax rate, but as we saw before, you'd better double check to see where they got the money to perform this miracle.

In this case, the last million bucks came from taking half the tax money that is supposed to be paying down the landfill debt.

What?

Well, that's what page 1, paragraph 3 says. Also page 26, line 2. But who reads this thing? Apparently no reporters did. Commissioners were quoted in last week's Republican about making decisions that are good for the county's future, and at the same time they solve our financial problems like this! What's next year going to be like? Will we ever get the landfill paid off? Not at this rate!

I'll close by saying that, gentlemen, this financial tap dancing cannot go on, and in my opinion, this is just one more episode on the road to political suicide!

Meeting Held By Lions; Scholarship Presented To Sines

The Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club met this past Monday at the Lions Pavilion in Broadford Park, where Lion Ryan Wolfe presented the 2012 Roger P. Glotfelty Memorial Community Service Award to Southern High School graduate Elizabeth Sines.

Roger Glotfelty was a past Lions Club president who served as a Garrett County commissioner until his death. The club started the award in his memory to recognize an "outstanding student" at Southern High School for his/her achievements in volunteer services to the local community.

In order to qualify, the student must be (have been) enrolled full time at SHS and knowingly demonstrate both positive attitudes and citizenship skills for the school and community. The person must serve as a visible role model for other young people, as well as earn a minimum of 100 hours of verified and documented community service hours from at least four different service activities within the current school year. Sines amassed a total of 527 verified service learning hours, and the club felt that she helped strengthen some of the groups that promoted school spirit at the high school.

She was presented with the plaque at the Senior Awards Night held in May, and she will receive a $1,000 savings bond from the Lions Club. Sines, the class salutatorian, plans to attend Cornell University. She is the daughter of John and Crystal Sines, Oakland.

The Lions reported they netted $2,700 from The Remedy Dance held in May as a joint fundraising event with the Oakland Elks. That money was used to buy eyeglasses for 27 people in need.

The Redneck Dayz fundraiser will start at Long Branch Salon this Friday night, with redneck games, and continue Saturday and Sunday at Broadford Park with music, various types of food, and other events.

LIONS PRESENT MEMORIAL AWARD TO GRADUATE – The Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club presented 2012 Southern High graduate Elizabeth Sines with the Roger P. Glotfelty Memorial Community Service Award at its recent monthly meeting. Shown left to right are Lion Greg Shockey, son-in-law of the late Glotfelty representing the family, Lion president Josh Bosley, Sines, and Lion Ryan Wolfe. Later in the evening, Lion Dave Beard (below) presented Wolfe with a check to the Southern Athletic Department for $4,778 as the Lions' annual contribution to the high school. This money was raised in the fall from members operating the concession stand for all home football and soccer games. Members put in 1,680 man-hours operating the concession in 2011.

DAVISSON BROTHERS TO KICK OFF '12 GRANTSVILLE DAYS – The Davisson Brothers Band, with their unique style infusing a blend of country, southern rock, and bluegrass, will perform a free concert on Friday, June 22, beginning at 8 p.m. on the new amphitheater stage at Grantsville Days. Their unique sound, along with the band's talent and energy, has gained a loyal fan base all over the Eastern United States. Brothers Chris and Donnie Davisson and cousin Sammy Davisson, along with childhood friend Aaron Regester, are continuing musical pursuits started by the Davisson family long ago. The Davisson Brothers have been part of DelFest and Jamboree in the Hills and have a new single, "Big City Hillbilly." They will be the first group to use the brand new stage that has been constructed at the Grantsville Park. Their concert will conclude at 10:30 p.m. with the fireworks show. Grantsville Days runs through June 24 and is free to the public.

Patriot Motors Donates To SMS

Patriot Chrysler Dodge Jeep, a car dealership in Oakland, raised $1,260 for Southern Middle School with Chrysler brand's Drive for the Kids program. The fundraiser was held in early May in conjunction with the school's spring dance and open house.

More than 100 drivers participated to earn a $10 contribution to the school from Chrysler by taking a brief test drive in a Town & Country, the company's minivan. The car dealership supplied the vehicles, and volunteers from the company were on hand to assist in the fundraising drives.

"Drive for the Kids is a mutually beneficial program," said Greg Diehl of Patriot. "We are pleased to support our local schools and demonstrate a terrific, world class product. Parents were genuinely interested in testing our 2012 Chrysler Town & Country minivan, and we are happy to help raise extra money for the school. We all worked together for the kids, and everyone had a great time."

Since 1993, when Chrysler introduced Drive for the Kids, Chrysler dealers have worked with parents and educators in communities across the nation. Chrysler companies have contributed an estimated $4 million directly to their local schools for student needs. Adorable Adoptables

"YES, WE'RE ADORABLE, SO ADOPT US!" Several adorable adoptables are available this week at the Garrett County Animal Shelter. Left to right, they include a male brown Chihuahua that was picked up as a stray along Hutton Road, a male Plott hound that was picked up along Maryland Highway at the top of Swanton Hill, a male terrier named Scooter, and Cindy Lou, a mixed breed hound that was found in Grantsville. "Cindy Lou is young and active, so she needs a fenced-in yard or to be walked every day," said a Garrett County Humane Society spokesperson. "These and other canines are available, including an older beagle. Thankfully, HART was able to take many dogs to rescues last week. One small dog was reclaimed, and another was adopted. Several cats were adopted, and one was reclaimed as well. There is a beautiful large silver-tipped longhaired cat at the shelter that was brought in as a stray. It must have an owner. There are dozens of kittens of all colors available now – an orange tabby, brown tabby, calico, black/white, and longhaired ones. If you are wanting a kitten, now is the time. It's 'kitten' season, and they need good homes." For more information, persons may call the shelter at 301-334-3553. Located along Oakland Sang Run Road, the county-operated facility is open Monday through Friday. Photos courtesy of the GC Humane Society, a nonprofit volunteer organization.

Skipper Reunion Set for June 23

Persons are asked to bring a favorite dish to share. Paper products will be provided.

Historical Society Offering Program On Former CCC

The public is invited to attend the second in a series of programs titled "Garrett County Historical Society Presents Then and Now Learning Series."

This second program of the series will be given on Sunday, June 17, in the upstairs community meeting area of the Transportation Museum, Oakland, beginning at 7 p.m. The program will be presented by Colin Gooding, who will give the history of the Swallow Falls CCC camp.

Gooding completed a major project on the CCC to earn the Eagle Scout status. There will be artifacts and photos from the museum available for viewing.

Future programs have been planned on a monthly basis. The history of Garrett County will be the main focus of the programs. There will be special speakers, films, and PowerPoint presentations. Programs will be announced in this newspaper each month.

Light refreshments will be served. Admission is free, but donations will be appreciated, according to Bob Boal, GCHS president.

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

I wonder why Queen Elizabeth can't put together four excellent carriage horses? Her carriage was pulled by two snowy white horses. The reason is that two are still too young to have turned white, so they are still medium gray.

Our enjoyment of big displays by the royalty is still loosely linked to our fondness for childhood fairy tales, and there is no better expression of the fairy tale idea than a white horse. Thus, whoever made the decision about horses on this huge procession chose white, instead of chestnut, which is a much more common color in the equine population, making it much easier to find matching chestnuts.

But if they could pull off a team of pure white horses, that would send a strong message to the world that they have unusual power. They would never choose to dye the coat of a non-perfect match. But what an ultra nuisance it is to have the duty of keeping a snowy white horse snowy white for an important public appearance.

I had that difficult task when I got assigned the care of Mink and Peale. Peale was about as snow white as possible, except a pure albino. She did have a normal skin color that was very dark, maybe black, and not pink as in the case of an albino like our Bittinger white stag.

I think the tiny white fawn that my daughter Meredith saw in our barnyard had a normal eye color. Most likely that tiny fawn was an offspring of our white stag. I hope so. When Mere asked me if seeing that rare creature was a sign of good luck for her, I told her it was probably as close to seeing a living unicorn as possible. And a unicorn seems to have magical power, at least in mythology. But regardless, she was extremely lucky to have that experience.

This tiny rare creature willingly approached her when she held out her hand toward it. Then she watched it dash away toward the woods where its mother probably was waiting anxiously. In fact, the area around our house is a pretty safe place for most wild creatures, unless my current dog Jackson is outside. He is a natural-bred hunter as a bluetick hound. He is pretty adorable, especially the small spots of brown above his eyes. But when he hears any small sound outside when I am in bed, he always raises pure hell.

Is it not pure common sense that a woman doing a job as well as a man should deserve the same pay? But in fact, even college-educated women get paid less, so for every dollar, the female worker receives only about 77 cents. Over a working life, that means a lot.

And if a single mother is the difference between a successful and non-successful family, maybe her children will start their lives way behind. Children from very poor families have their lives so disrupted by everyday struggles that their families go through. It piles unacceptable stress on their young minds and hearts.

Just as hungry children do not learn well, a worried child also has a much harder time in school. Poor children are also much more likely to be bullied, and obviously a very sick child cannot perform great in school.

For example, my problems in math largely resulted from a severe and endless ear and sinus infection during fifth grade. I could keep up in other subjects, and just spent most of my time reading. But that didn't work in math. I remember trying something in our encyclopedia about how to do long division. I did something. So at least I could do that one piece of homework independently.

I seem to remember that search during the middle of the night, when my parents and older brother were asleep, so I couldn't ask them to help me. I under-performed in my elementary school because I couldn't see the blackboard due to my nearsightedness. When I got glasses, it improved.

I was deeply resistant to telling my parents about some deficit in myself. I wanted them to believe I was perfect. So I threw away a card alerting them that the orthopedic screening showed some problem – my pigeon toes. I was unwilling to even face the possibility that I would have to wear some kind of special shoes. I was actually reluctant to wear any shoes if I could get away with going barefoot.

An important milestone in June was the sighting of a tiny red spider outside. It was the traditional signal that it was all right for kids to go barefoot. It is strange but true that it affected how I dressed. I don't know where that piece of old-fashioned information came from.

Another important milestone of summer is almost here. Around June 20, which is my grandmother Emma Babble Glotfelty's birthday, comes the ripening of wild strawberries.

It is also near one of the most important times of farmers' lives. Hay making season is arriving, and my former NHS classmate Randall Wiley is planning to make some hay this weekend, unless the forecast rain arrives late in the week. That messes up that plan. You need at least five dry days in a row to get in one major cutting, which is several hundred regular bales.

The price of a decent bale of hay varies widely, depending on where and whom a farmer sold to, from $2 to perhaps $10 if the horse country in eastern-central Virginia is severely dry. Very little pastures or hay ar available locally right now, and those rich horse owners accept only perfect hay for their five- or six-figure animals.

But you can't feed a performance horse with dusty or even worse – moldy – hay. Even over-aged hay does not have the kind of forage they need. So only hay cut at peak stage, with newly formed seed heads, will do.

But still, a farmer must look at the upcoming week of weather forecasts. Even that does not always predict scattered thunderstorms, which are very common on the tableland I lived on. They regularly formed over both Meadow Mountain to the south and Negro Mountain to the north.

I was surprised to learn that Ellen Hershberger had trouble sleeping when a big thunderstorm was going on because she was worried about a lightning strike hitting their barn. That was the exact same experience I had, probably like most farm girls. Except in our barn was my treasured possession, Little Joe, and many cows and calves. The Hershberger barn did not have as many beloved living creatures as ours.

But no one should see such a horrible sight as Bob and Phyllis Buckel's dairy barn fully engulfed in flames. That is simply an unforgettable event of my childhood. Of course, nearly 100-year-old barns are virtually irreplaceable. They built them from wide, locally grown hemlock timber, and they had beautiful and complicated systems of huge beams.

One popular physical challenge was walking on them. They were very high, and it would be a dreadful fall if someone fell down to the barn floor – a potentially fatal fall. At least it would result in multiple broken bones, and a trip to the emergency room.

It was far less risky and more common to walk the beams above the large hay mows than over those long stretches of open space across the barn floor. I was the master of them. That's where my pigeon toes were an asset, along with my excellent balance.

But it was part of the unorganized warfare between the boys and the girls, involving hay forts, throwing corn ears, corn cobs, or apples, and even dropping a hay bale from a higher position onto an opponent on the floor – like the one I got hit with dropped by my brother Rodney. It knocked my breath out.

Just as in any civil war, there was no way to score a clear win. There were just endless battles. It was stupid, but something to do together.

Another peculiar experiment by members of both camps was when my double second cousin Bill Buckel and I tried to make a parachute from feed bags and binder twine. We tried it out by jumping off a very tall grain tower. Obviously, it wasn't a success, but it didn't result in serious injury.

Another favorite pastime of our gang was to try to follow a mother cat to see where she had hidden her new litter of kittens. My father made a bad decision when he told the boys to go into the woods to search for a cow that probably delivered her calf out there somewhere. The best the boys could do was climb into their tree house and look around from there. That strategy was totally doomed to fail.

What he should have done was ask the girls to get on their ponies and search the woods during our regular activities. Without a clear goal of what to search for, we picked our favorite wildflowers and found great patches of blackberries, or sometimes edible mushrooms.

But the boys failed to find that cow and her newborn calf. It is just an example of the wisdom of the old saying, "If you want something to get done, ask a woman (or girl) to do it."

I guess Jackson thought last evening that he must protect my Meredith and his former owner Lauren, who were sitting around a campfire, from an unfamiliar kind of wild creature. He had never seen this kind of black and white animal before, but he learned that they really stink – at least if anything gets close to them. It was his first time getting skunked. He looked embarrassed about it. He is just starting to be aware that there are a whole bunch of things a young dog needs to learn about in the big, bad, scary world.

This is about the same place the Pirates were in early June last year, starting to compete for first place in the Central Division, just when they got their bats going. They are only three behind the Cincinnati Reds, but that will increase with last evening's loss to the Reds.

I was in deep thought yesterday in the very late afternoon when I was almost knocked down by the most intense roar of thunder I have heard in many decades. But my electricity was not interrupted. It was a big boom.

A little later, Meredith told me I had to go outside to see a wonderful rainbow. It was the most intense color over Meadow Mountain – simply wow – with a bit of a softer version, so it qualified as a double rainbow.

The death toll Friendsville experienced at the end of the 1960s was way too high, regardless of it not being seven, as I mistakenly reported. It was only six, as Robyn Hook corrected me. I really only mentioned the Vietnam death tolls to honor their memories.

But Vietnam accomplished nothing in America, and it is still a wedge issue. It is a shame that it ended, but did not end the suffering of the Vietnamese people over 25 years later. Little girls from remote rural villages are still drawn into sex slavery.

But that is why my Caitlin is half a world away – to fight against child sex slavery. Some of those little sex slaves are the grandchildren of our servicemen, because all wars leave behind countless orphans, and then their helpless children.

Today is June 9, the date of the final leg of the Triple Crown series of horse races, the Belmont Stakes. The longest, most difficult one: 1½ miles of full-blast galloping by 3-year-old thoroughbred race horses. That is about the distance from my house to Glotfelty Cemetery, just before the Rock Lodge Road intersection with Mosser Road. That is a long distance for top-speed galloping.

One thing is for sure: My family farm is in the best possible weather – crystal clear, bright sunshine, and in the mid-70s. And since the recent thunderstorm when we saw those lovely rainbows, everything is such an intense green. You can't get better conditions anywhere. The forecast is saying we are in for a little intense heat, in the 90s.

That is much better than the 100 degrees plus in the dreadful Southwest, regardless of what they say about their obscene heat being a "dry heat with hardly any humidity." That might be all right where everyone has enough money to rely on air conditioners. But not like here, where the conditions are just about perfect for any kind of outdoor activities.

I simply hate air conditioning. It always seems way too cold and barely bearable. It was shocking to come inside after a long hot day on the Ocean City beach into the apartment rented by Lloyd's parents. Ruthie liked very cold temperatures, but I always had to put on a sweater inside.

News from Preston, Tucker, Grant and Mineral Counties

Rowlesburg Has Full Schedule Of Summer Events

The town of Rowlesburg has announced a full schedule of festivals and special events for the summer season. That schedule is as follows:

June 30 – July 1

Northern West Virginia World War II Reenactment & Living History, featuring a fashion show and a dance, with Bobby Menear's Orchestra.

The Rowlesburg Revitalization Committee is sponsoring the event. For more information, persons may contact Shawna Sines at shawnamyers09@hotmail.com, or Jim Barnes at jd621hs@gmail.com.

July 6 – 8

The first Bluegrass on the Cheat, which will be held in Rowlesburg Community Park. This festival is sponsored by CASH (Citizens Aiding Shriners' Hospitals).

John McGuinn, owner of the Thirsty Bear Tavern in Rowlesburg, founded this new organization to benefit children. The group has sponsored several other events in Rowlesburg to benefit Shriners' hospitals. Admission will be $10 per day.

For more information, persons may contact McGuinn at 304-454-2444 or by e-mail at jhmcguinn1@aol.com.

Aug. 25

Appalachian Road Race Series Championship & West Virginia State Championships, presented by the Appalachian Bicycle Racing Association, will be held this day in Rowlesburg.

Online registration for this event will close August 23. For more information, persons may contact J.R. Petsko at info@abraracing.com, or go to web site http://www.abraracing.com.

Aug. 31 – Sept. 3

The Labor Day Festival and Northern West Virginia Model Train Show will be held, and there will also be a firemen's parade, Railroad Day, Pedal and Paddle Day, and an ox roast, among other activities.

Sponsored by the town of Rowlesburg, the Tourism Commission, the Rowlesburg Volunteer Fire Department, Rowlesburg Ambulance Service, and the Community Park, this is Rowlesburg's largest and oldest festival. The ox roast, which has attracted thousands of people over the years, features pit roasted beef with "secret seasonings." The model train show is northern West Virginia's largest of the year.

For additional information, persons may call 978-270-3847 or send an e-mail to wtcweaver@yahoo.com.

Sept. 30

Appalachian Time Trial, presented by Panaracer and the American Bicycle Racing Association, will be held. Online registration will close Sept. 28.

For more information, persons may contact J.R. Petsko at info@abraracing.com, or go to the ABRA web site: http://www.abraracing.com.

July Fourth Events Scheduled In Terra Alta, W.Va., Parks

Terra Alta Betterment Inc. will sponsor the 11 annual Old-Fashioned Fourth in the Park on Wednesday, July 4. The park is located off Rt. 7 in Terra Alta, W.Va.

Music will begin on the park stage at 11 a.m. and continue until 5 p.m. Hosted by the Terra Alta Civic Club, the Miss Fireworks crowning ceremony will take place at 12:30 p.m.

The event will also feature food vendors, a dog show, a car show, a tractor and antique engine display, and horse-drawn carriage rides. New this year is quilt show, which will take place in the Terra Alta Community Building.

Later in the afternoon, the Terra Alta Volunteer Fire Department carnival will begin for the department's annual festivities at Fireman's Field. The firemen's parade is set for Thursday, July 5, at 7 p.m. Fireworks will be featured on Friday, July 6, at 10 p.m., and a demolition derby is scheduled for Saturday, July 7, at 4 p.m.

Climb-A-Thon To Raise Funds For "It's In The Bag"

Coopers Rock Climbing Guides will host the second annual Charity Climb-a-thon on Friday, July 6, from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m.

This year the event will support It's in the Bag. The organization identifies children who depend upon their school's free or reduced breakfast and lunch program as their main meal for the day. It's In the Bag provides the students with an opportunity to take home a backpack loaded with food on Fridays to ensure they have something to eat over the weekend.

Climb-a-thon participants will seek sponsors and then compete in a vertical climb. Prizes will be awarded to the top climbers and top fundraisers.

"This event is suitable for anyone of moderate fitness," a spokesperson said. "Feel free to call for more information about the physical requirements of the climbing."

All participants under 16 years of age must be accompanied by an adult.

To register and obtain details about the fundraiser, persons may call 304-777-7638, visit coopersrockclimbingguides.com/climbathon.php, or e-mail janelle@coopersrockclimbingguides.com.

TA/East Preston Alumni Banquet Set For June 30

The annual Terra Alta/East Preston High School Alumni Banquet will be held on Saturday, June 30, at the school, 1103 East State Avenue, Terra Alta. The event is traditionally held close to the July 4 holiday and attracts alumni from throughout the United States for fun and festivities.

Activities begin with a social hour at noon, followed by the banquet at 1:30 p.m. The event includes entertainment during the social hour by J.C. and the Boys, hors d'oeuvres, a full-course meal, and category and door prizes, plus opportunities to renew old acquaintances and make new friends. Tours of the schools will also be available.

The banquet is open to all alumni and their guests at a cost of $15 per person. To register, persons may contact Jessie Hart at 304-789-6240 or jessie_m_hart@yahoo.com. Walk-ins are also welcome and may register at the door.

4-H Club News

AURORA PIONEERS
by Emily Snyder, reporter

The Aurora Pioneers had their monthly meeting on Monday, June 4. The meeting was held at Smiley's Food and Fun Zone.

Members also discussed the annual Heritage Days. The club will be doing a quiz on historical places in Aurora.

Wyatt and Emily Snyder competed in the county 4-H days on June 2. Emily will move on and compete in the state competition. County 4-H camps are coming up in July. It was voted that the club will pay $25 for each member attending.

The members also discussed who is going to mow the Trotter Park grass. A big "How How" to James Slaughter who has volunteered to mow the park this year.

The club then discussed who was going to get the yard of the month for June, July, and August. There will not be a meeting in July because of county camps.

All members were reminded to have their 4-H books completed by the end of August. Following the meeting, members enjoyed a fun night of go-carts, Laser Tag, and more at Smiley's.

DRE STUDENTS VISIT SHELTER, MAKE DONATION – Tammy Lottman's first grade class from Dennett Road Elementary School recently visited the Garrett County Animal Shelter. Lisa Baker, a volunteer with the GC Humane Society, gave an informal presentation to the class. The children learned why animals are brought to the shelter, how they are cared for, and how they are adopted or taken to rescues by HART when the shelter is too full. They also learned about the importance of spaying/neutering pets and the responsibilities of being a pet owner. The class then toured the cat room, the dog kennels, and other work areas of the shelter. The students presented blankets, toys, dog and cat treats,and food to the shelter. In addition, they raised more than $700 for the shelter and Humane Society by selling dog/cat treats, cat grass, crafts, and other items. Colorful pet care posters made by the students were also donated to the shelter and will be displayed in the lobby for all to see. Prior to arriving at the animal shelter the students visited Pineview Veterinary Hospital. "I think that this day trip to animal-oriented facilities was beneficial to everyone," Baker said. "The children now know why and where there are homeless animals that can be adopted and where to take them for medical care. And they can share what they learned with their families and friends. I wish every child had this opportunity to learn these things so when they grow up they will be responsible pet owners." Lottman's students for the 2011-12 school year were Nolan Antoszewski, Cambria Armstrong, Kaylee Baker, Asiah Beeman, Hunter Chapman, Jason DeLo, Walker Everett, Nickolas Glover, Madeline Greene, Madelynn Haniine, Christina Liller, Avery Morgan, Madison Ringer, Babe Taylor, Cheyenne Uphold, and Chandler Wolfe. Pictured, left to right, with the students and their donations are shelter staff member Barb Shaffe, Lottman, and Baker.

Extension Plans Series Of Classes For Area Youth

A series of "Summertime 4-H Fun" classes have been scheduled by the University of Maryland Extension (UME) to provide educational programs and problem-solving assistance related to agriculture, natural resources, nutrition, finance, 4-H, and youth development.

Classes are as follows:

Citizen Science

Citizen Science provides an opportunity for youth to join with scientific researchers across the country, or even the world, to be part of important environmental studies. Youth contribute their local observations to help answer real-world questions. Monthly meetings will include an overview of the issue and an explanation of why each topic is studied.

Youth will collect data and enter it online. Topics will include verification of NASA satellite data, sightings of birds or insects, and weather reporting.

Citizen Science began on Monday, June 11, and will also be held on Monday, July 16, and Monday, Aug. 13, from 6 to 8 p.m. at Garrett College. The cost is $10 for three sessions.

Robotics

Area students are invited to join the active group of youth who build and program LEGO robotics in Garrett County. Robotics helps youth develop important science and math skills. This innovative program lets youth explore, design, and build robots, and program them to compete in challenges.

Monthly evening sessions are planned to allow youth to progress with their skills and knowledge. Information about future robotics opportunities will also be available.

Classes will be held on the following Wednesdays: June 27, July 25, and Aug. 15, from 6 to 8 p.m. at the GEARS building in Accident. The cost is $10 for three sessions.

Junior Master Gardeners

The Junior Master Gardener program is an international youth gardening program of the University of Maryland Extension network. JMG engages children in novel, hands-on group and individual learning experiences that provide a love of gardening, develop an appreciation for the environment, and cultivate the mind.

Youth will participate in planting, transplanting, and harvesting. They will meet and work with adult master gardeners. Three monthly sessions are planned for the summer, each with a new topic and experience.

Classes are planned for Thursdays on the following dates: June 21, July 19, and Aug. 16, from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at the Garrett County Extension Office in Mtn. Lake Park. The cost is $10 for three sessions.

A Day at Camp

Each summer, hundreds of young people attend a weeklong 4-H camp. This one-day event provides a chance to experience some of the fun and adventure that camping provides. Campers will have a busy day of outdoor education, crafts, sports, canoeing, and many other camp favorites.

Youth are invited to "come for a day to see the beautiful 4-H camp and find out why 4-H camp is the best week of summer."

The camp is supervised by experienced summer camp staff and 4-H educators.

It is planned for Tuesday, June 19, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Western Maryland 4-H Education Center along Route 495 near Bittinger. The cost is $10, which includes lunch.

Shooting Sports Day

Shooting Sports Day provides an opportunity for new shooters to learn about archery and marksmanship. Experienced shooters are also welcome, and will be able to practice and improve skills.

Certified instructors will teach about safety, care of equipment, and shooting technique. Classes will use a variety of bows and arrows and 22 rifles.

The camp is set for Tuesday, Aug. 14, from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Western Maryland 4-H Education Center along Route 495 near Bittinger. The cost is $5, which includes lunch.

Hunter Safety Certification Camp

This fall, 4-H and DNR are teaming up to provide a fun way to earn hunter safety certification at the 4-H camp near Bittinger.

Any youth may attend, and those under age 12 must be accompanied by an adult.

The weekend is planned for Sept. 8 and 9, and will include all the required information for the hunter safety class plus some fun outdoor activities such as canoeing, a campfire, archery, and hiking.

The cost will be $30 for those receiving hunter safety certification. This includes the training, four meals, and lodging.

Additional family members not receiving certification are welcome at a cost of $25. A daytime-only option is also available for those not wishing to stay overnight.

For more information or to register, persons may call the Extension Office at 301-334-6960. Registration is limited to 50 participants.

Squad Auxiliary To Hold Basket/ Purse Fundraiser

The Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad Auxiliary will hold a Longaberger basket/Vera Bradley bingo fundraiser at Grantsville Elementary School on Sunday, June 24. Doors will open at noon, with bingo slated for 1 p.m.

Prizes to be available include hamper, medium gathering, and medium market baskets, large purses and totes, and duffel bags.

Tickets are $25. Early bird tickets are available for $20 and may be purchased from an auxiliary member or by calling Diane Friend at 301-616-6270.

GENERAL SPEAKS AT GOP MEETING – The Southern Garrett Republican Women's Club (SGRWC) held its June meeting in the Clear Mountain Bank Community Room with president Sondra Buckel (left) officiating. The guest speaker was retired U.S. Air Force Gen. Melissa A. Rank (right). She was born in Frostburg and earned a bachelor of science degree in nursing from the University of Maryland. Rank served in the Office of the Surgeon General as the executive management fellow for services; chief of plans, policies, and programs for nursing services in the directorate of work force management; and deputy assistant surgeon for health care operations. The general spoke to the club about women's roles in the military throughout history. Club members will hold a picnic for their July meeting. Anyone interested in joining the club is asked to contact Buckel or any other member.

Author Lauren Carr To Conduct Writer's Workshop

The Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland will hold a workshop with mystery writer Lauren Carr on Monday, June 25, from 6 to 8 p.m. Carr, who is the author of the Mac Faraday mysteries set at Deep Creek Lake, will discuss the "10-Plus Most Common Mistakes Made by New Authors."

The workshop is free and open to the public. Registration is not required, but a courtesy call to the library at 301-334-3996, ext. 117, or an e-mail to bonnie@relib.net, will be appreciated by library staff.

Carr also will sell and sign copies of her books at the event, including her recently released Shades of Murder. In this book, her fifth mystery, Mac Faraday is once again the heir to an enormous fortune – the benefactor of a stolen work of art that is a masterpiece with a murder attached to it.

Carr's first literary detective from the Joshua Thornton mysteries, along with detective Cameron Gates and Mac Faraday, all land together at Deep Creek Lake.

"Little do these detectives know that the paths of their respective cases are on a collision course as they follow the clues to bring them together in a showdown with a killer who has a talent for murder," Carr said.

In Elizabeth Silver's review of Shades of Murders, she writes, "You will be amazed at how cleverly Ms. Carr put the story together and wove two murders into one. It is a murder mystery with a storyline that I have never seen before. This is her third book that I have read, and I enjoyed each one of them... the town, the characters, the ambiance of the Spencer Inn, the creativity, and the surprise endings are worth the reads."

In addition to her writing career, Carr is the owner of Acorn Book Services, which offers editing, layout, publishing, and some marketing services to independent authors. She lives with her husband, son, and two dogs in Harpers Ferry, W.Va. More information about Carr is available at her web sites: http://acornbookservices.com/ and http://mysterylady.net/.

Four New Members Join Spruce Village Board Of Directors

Four new members were added to the board of directors at Spruce Forest Artisan Village this past April. Kathy Delaney, Meyersdale, Pa., is a former teacher and county administrator. April Hershberger, Springs, Pa., is an artist with a background in marketing. Beth Page, Gettysburg, Pa., is a museum archivist who has worked for the Springs Historical Society and the Smithsonian Institution; and Lenore Lancaster, Ridgeley, W.Va., is a colored pencil artist. The board helps coordinate and promote the many heritage and arts programs at the Artisan Village.

"I enjoy introducing people to the heart of this magical place," said Delaney, who was twice a student of Artisan Village founder Alta Schrock. Delaney will bring her experience as a grant-writer and community developer to the board.

Spruce Forest is a fully volunteer-run organization. The volunteer board, which also includes returning members interim board president Reita Marks, Frostburg State University professor Dr. Kara Rogers-Thomas, and three resident artists, Doug Salmon, Ann Jones, and Lynn Lais, is responsible for staffing all village programs in administration, building maintenance, museum hosting, grounds keeping, marketing, educational programs, and special events, such as Christmas in the Village.

"Alta Schrock provided employment and education to artists in a historical context," recalls Page. With her background in museum studies, Page hopes to help realize this vision as she works to strengthen the historical programs.

"The whole community is always invited to participate in projects that preserve the history and context for the fine crafts produced at Spruce Forest," said Marks.

For information about Artisan Village programs and how to get involved, persons should call 301-895-3332 or visit www.spruceforest.org.

FOUR JOIN SPRUCE VILLAGE BOARD OF DIRECTORS – Spruce Forest Artisan Village recently welcomed four new members to its board of directors. Garrett Choral Society, Community Band To Open Chautauqua Series July 4

Garrett Lakes Arts Festival will present its annual July 4 and Chautauqua programs under the tent on the lawn of Garrett College. The Garrett Community Concert Band and the Garrett Choral Society will join together to open the series with the traditional Independence Day Concert on July 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Chautauqua speakers from the Maryland Humanities Council will present the series July 5, 6, and 7 at 7 p.m. each day. The theme this year is "Inspiration, Unity, Preparedness, Courage: Maryland and the War of 1812." This year marks the bicentennial of that war.

The Garrett Community Concert Band, under the direction of Moe Lancaster, and the Garrett Choral Society, conducted by Julie Torrentine, will perform together and separately.

The musical groups will present patriotic songs, standard American folk music, and military selections celebrating American heritage.

The July 4 concert is scheduled to end shortly before the fireworks are to be set off on Marsh Mountain (Wisp ski slope). The fireworks display can be viewed from the Garrett College lawn.

The Chautauqua speakers this year are as follows:

President James Madison on July 5, citizen Rosalie Stier Calvert on July 6, and British Major General Robert Ross on July 7. The characters will be portrayed by scholar actors. They will speak in character, presenting their perspectives on the War of 1812. These sessions begin at 7 p.m. under the tent.

After a short opening act, the featured guest will speak in character, and remain in character to answer questions from the audience. At the end of the presentation, the actor will then answer questions as him/herself.

Bob Boal, president of the Garrett County Historical Society, will be a special guest on July 6, speaking briefly about Garrett County and the War of 1812.

Speakers are assigned through the courtesy of the Maryland Humanities Council. There are six Chautauqua sites in the state. Garrett College was the first to apply when the program began in 1995, and this will be the 18th season of performances.

The programs are free to the public, although contributions will be accepted to help

Author Susan Turner To Speak In Friendsville

Susan Turner, author of the acclaimed Rufus Steele series of adventure novels, will be the guest speaker at a special program being held at 2 p.m. this Sunday, June 17, at the Friendsville Rescue Squad building behind the Friend Family Museum. The Friend Family Museum is hosting this special Father's Day program.

Turner will share her inspirations for the Rufus Steele series, which is set in the town of Friendsville.

Her most recent book in the series, Rufus Steele 1943, was co-authored by her father

My Father's Orchard

The sun sets over my father's orchard,
An orchard he has planted for me.
Raspberries ripen, apples drop.
Peaches and pears sweeten clinging to their trees.

The woodpecker flies into my father's orchard,
An orchard he has planted for me.
I shoo the birds away,
And pick up fallen fruit from the trees.

A breeze blows through my father's orchard.
An orchard he has planted for me.
My father rests beneath the orchard's boughs,
In the shade, sleeping under the yellow transparent apple tree.

The leaves and fruit have all fallen from my father's orchard,
An orchard he has planted for me.
Buck, the Brittany, goes running fast over the leaves.
Doves fly in every direction from the perfect peach tree.

Snow is deep in my father's orchard,
An orchard he has planted for me.
Roots drive deep into the ground.
Rabbits stir; no one is around, until my father's rifle aims towards the trees.

This is some jelly I made from my father's orchard,
An orchard he has planted for me.
Would you like a slice of apple pie or perhaps a bowl of peach ice cream?
I'm using the fruit my father has given me from his many wonderful trees.

I love to walk through my father's orchard,
An orchard he has planted for me.
I have enough sense to stay out of his garden because there are too many weeds.
I prefer picking from the raspberry bush and the fruit trees.

For years and years, there will be fruit from my father's orchard,
An orchard he has planted for me.
Someday, lightening may break a branch down. Oh, we will frown,
For there's nothing as precious as my father's love hanging up in those trees.

WVU Steel Drums To Be Featured Group At DC Fest

The Smithsonian Institution has invited West Virginia University to participate in the 2012 Folklife Festival at the National Mall in Washington, D.C., this summer. The festival, titled "Campus and Community: Public and Land-Grant Universities and the USDA at 150," will be commemorating the 150th anniversary of the 1862 Morrill Act, legislation that paved the way for the founding of land-grant institutions such as WVU.

Selected to represent the university at the festival are Ellie Mannette, the "father of the modern steel drum," and the WVU Steel Drum Band.

The 40 WVU students in the Steel Drum Band will perform throughout the festival, and Mannette will perform with the ensemble in a special concert on the first day. WVU will have a tent, where visitors can learn about the history and manufacturing of steel drums. The tent will also have an exhibition on the Steel Drum program at WVU, Mannette, and the history and manufacture of drums. Visitors will be able to try out the steel drums on display.

Robert McEwen, a 2010 graduate of Southern High School and a music education student in percussion at WVU, is a member of the steel drum band. He will leave next week to begin the 16-day excursion of the group, first rehearsing in Morgantown, and then traveling to Washington on June 25 for the two-week stint. He is the son of John and Mary McEwen, Oakland.

William J. Winsor, associate dean of the College of Creative Arts, said WVU has contributed to the folklife of America with its World Music and Performance Center.

"Established in 1992, the World Music Center was one of the first of its kind in the country, founded to explore and share multicultural understanding," Winsor said. "That same year, the College of Creative Arts brought Ellie Mannette to WVU, where he elevated the humble steel drum from something heard only on Caribbean vacations to a modern instrument embraced by musicians from classrooms to symphony halls."

The festival takes place on the National Mall between Seventh and 14th streets from June 27 to July 1 and July 4 to 8. The festival opens at 11 a.m. each day and runs until 5:30 p.m. Mannette and the ensemble will perform a special evening concert at 6:30 p.m. on June 27.

Michael Vercelli, director of the World Music Performance Center, also directs the Steel Drum Band at WVU and will lead the students in the Folklife performances. He said the band will perform at least one 45-minute concert each day. All events are free.

According to the Smithsonian Institution, the festival will focus on four themes that reflect the current work of public and land-grant universities, such as WVU: reinventing agriculture, sustainable solutions, transforming communities, and building on tradition.

WVU is among more than 25 land-grant and public universities participating in this year's event.

WVU's World Music Performance Center consists of various ensembles such as African Music and Dance, Brazilian, Balinese and Javanese Gamelans, Japanese Taiko Drum, and the Steel Drum. Any WVU student, whether an undergraduate or in graduate school, may join an ensemble.

Shortly after the World Music Center's founding, WVU hosted Mannette, a native of Trinidad, as an artist-in-residence to show students how to build and play steel drums. He eventually became director of the University Tuning Project, a wide-scale steel drum initiative at WVU.

Vercelli said the students will not only perform in Washington, D.C., but will tour the Smithsonian and participate in other cultural events. The ambassador of Trinidad has invited the band to tour the embassy as well.

Vercelli said above all it will be a great honor for his students to represent WVU on a national stage.

"We were selected out of everything they could've chosen from the university," he said. "That's a big honor in itself. The Folklife Festival attracts more than a million people every year. To have this recognition is really outstanding."

BOARD OF EDUCATION RECOGNIZES YOUNG ARTISTS – The Garrett County Board of Education made a special recognition of three local students for their artistic talents at its June meeting. The student artworks were purchased by the board for display. Two of these three pieces were titled "Whispering Child," created by Emily Fratz, and "The Rooster," a work by Tybie Brenneman. Both Fratz and Brenneman attend Northern High School. Representing Southern High School was Alexandria Moreno, who created "Footprints In the Sand." In the photo above, from left, are Jane Wildeson, Fratz holding "Whispering Child," BOE president Charlotte Sebold, Brenneman with "The Rooster," and interim superintendent Sue Waggoner. In the photo below is Moreno, left, displaying her art with Waggoner.

GLAF To Again Present Cashore Marionettes On Garrett Stage

For its next presentation of the season of performing arts, the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival (GLAF) will present the Cashore Marionettes on Saturday, June 23. The performance will be held at the Garrett College auditorium, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The program, which features large, detailed marionettes, will consist of three segments on a broad range of subjects, a spokesperson said.

"Everyday life is portrayed set to a succession of stunning music by composers such as Vivaldi, Strauss, Beethoven, and Copeland. From humorous to tragic, the performance spans a range of emotions that are amazingly lifelike," the spokesperson said.

A writer for the Center of Contemporary Arts St. Louis (Mo.) said the quality of manipulation of the marionettes "is unparalleled, and the effect upon the audience is powerful."

The Cashore Marionettes troupe has traveled throughout Europe, the Far East, and across North America.

"The Cashore Marionettes take the audience on a journey that celebrates the richness of life in a show that is powerful, surprising, and theatrically satisfying, providing a one-of-a-kind evening," the spokesperson said.

Joseph Cashore, the creator of the Cashore Marionettes, has been performing and designing his marionettes for more than 30 years. After receiving a bachelor's degree in fine arts from Notre Dame, Cashore studied portrait and figure painting at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts. He received the UNIMA Citation of Excellence for his marionettes, which is the highest honor a U.S. puppeteer can receive. Cashore is also a PenPAT Roster Artist, an organization committed to maintaining the highest standards of artistic quality and professionalism, the spokesperson said.

The Cashore Marionettes will also be performing for the Garrett Mentors organization. This special performance will be more focused toward the children, according to GLAF executive director Mary Callis, and will be on Saturday, June 23, at 1 p.m. at the Garrett College auditorium.

Tickets for the Saturday evening event are $15 for adults, $5 for students, and free for children 5 years and younger (tickets are required). Tickets may be purchased by calling the GLAF office at 301-387-3082, or through the GLAF web site at www.artsandentertainment.org

Sponsor partners for this event are Jan and Judy Finkel and Coldwell Banker/Deep Creek Realty.

GLAF is partially supported by grants from the Garrett County Arts Council, the Maryland State Arts Council, and Pennsylvania Performing Arts on Tour, a program developed and funded by the Heinz Endowments, the William Penn Foundation, the Pennsylvania Council on the Arts, a state agency, and the Pew Charitable Trust, and administered by the Mid Atlantic Arts Foundation.

GLAF is committed to making all of its programs and activities accessible to persons with disabilities.

Food vendors will be available on site each evening, and guests are welcome to come early and purchase a picnic supper, or bring their own food. Chairs will be available under the tent.

Guests may bring lawn chairs or blankets if they wish to stay on the lawn outside the tent.

Garrett College lawn is accessible along Bumble Bee Road, about a mile east of Route 219. Parking is available in the large lot adjoining the lawn. The tent will be visible from the road.

For more information, persons may check the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival web site at www.artsandentertainment.org or "like" the organization on Facebook.

This event is sponsored by Garrett College and the Maryland Humanities Council.

Turner To Speak

Warren Teets, who was born in 1924, grew up in Friendsville, and is one of 10 children of the late Harley and Pearl Teets, who were longtime residents.

Rufus Steele 1943 was recently named a finalist for the Book of Year in Juvenile Fiction for ForeWord Reviews.

"My books are works of fiction," said Turner, "however, for authenticity of setting, I used the names of the streets of Friendsville, the river, some buildings on Maple Street, and other identifying landmarks within the stories. I am familiar with the founding of Friendsville and recognizable names in Garrett County history: Friend, Myers, Glover, Savage, Schroyer, Fox. These names are sprinkled throughout the book – although the events connected with them are purely fiction."

Turner said that her father's family of 12 lived on a farm along Teets Road, just west of Friendsville.

"Although my immediate family lived in Miami for most of my childhood, we visited Friendsville often, and I have a great fondness for Garrett County," she said. Copies of her books will be available for purchase and signing following her presentation.

In Loving Memory of our father on Father's Day
MORRIS LAKIN WHITE
January 30, 1888 – October 2, 1965
We loved you very much.
From the Family

The Family of

would like to say "thank you" to everyone for their prayers during his illness and for our family after his passing. Thanks to those who called, visited, sent cards, food, flowers and donations in his memory.

We offer our sincere thanks to Rev. Dr. Kevin Gooding and Pastor Bill Dawson for the beautiful, personable service. He would have been pleased. Thanks to Lillian Reckner and Nina Miller for the lovely music provided, and to the McHenry United Methodist Church for the wonderful meal following services. Thank you to the American Legion for the military graveside service. He was a proud veteran! Thanks to grandsons Gerg Iden, Shane DeWitt, Mike Fulmer, and Sonny Livengood; and friends and neighbors, Eric Branthoover, and Jim and harry Glotfelty for being pallbearers. Thanks to granddaughter Kelli Fulmer for the fantastic slideshow.

A special "thank you" to Newman's Funeral Home for your sincere help to our family at a difficult time, to Rob Michael for his help with the details that we needed to attend to, to Mike Voekel for taking time from his busy schedule to stop by with advice, and Dale Paugh for transportation.

We would also like to thank WMHS, especially Drs. Scott Watkins and Blanche Mavromatis and the entire staff for their care during his short battle with cancer. To all our wonderful neighbors and family for help provided in so many ways, we love you and may GOD bless each of your lives the way He blessed Ed's and his family, whom he loved dearly. We miss Eddie (Dad, Granddad) terribly, but we know he is in a much better place and we will be reunited one day.

Ruby, Sandy, Gary, Kris, Connie, and grandchildren

Grantsville Takes Two Decisive Victories Over Fort Cumberland

The Grantsville Post 214 bats rang loud and clear in two American Legion baseball games played with Fort Cumberland earlier this week.

In the first, Grantsville thumped Fort Cumberland by a score of 9-1 in a game played at Garrett College on Saturday.

That offensive trend continued for Grantsville on Tuesday, when it played away at Legion Field and drubbed Fort Cumberland again, this time by a score of 18-4.

In the first game, Grantsville used a five-run third inning to take a 5-1 lead, then added one run in each of the final four to collect its 9-1 win over Fort Cumberland.

Pat Sines led Post 214's 10-hit onslaught with three singles. Scott Cooper drove in a pair of runs with two doubles and Jerad Fike singled twice to bring in one run. Cody Humberson added a two-run single and Steven Holtschneider had an RBI single.

For Fort Cumberland, Matt Propst hit a double and Travis Miller finished with an RBI triple.

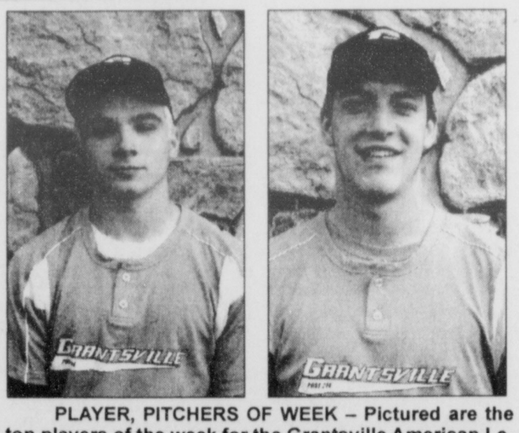
Holtschneider got the victory for Grantsville, tossing a complete game with three strikeouts and just one walk in seven innings of work.

In the game in Cumberland, Grantsville jumped out to an 8-0 lead after just three innings and went on to tack on seven more runs in the fifth inning before making it 18-0 in the top of the sixth.

Aaron Broadwater drove in four runs, getting a two-run double in the first inning and adding a single later on. Cooper, who allowed one earned run in six innings of pitching, had three RBIs on two singles. Mason Dick added a doubled, Josh Bittinger singled twice with an RBI, while Humberson and Seth Holler each had an RBI single.

Pat Livingston led Fort Cumberland with three singles. Colton Mathews had two singles and an RBI, and Kevin Myers added two singles of his own. Cumberland tacked on its runs late in the game, with three in the bottom of the sixth and one more in the final inning.

Grantsville's record now sits at 3-4 overall and 2-1 in the Mountain District. Its next game will be an opener in the Hillbilly Hardball Classic in Elkins, W.Va., on Friday at 11:30 a.m. against Potomac Valley. Following that game, Grantsville is scheduled to take on Charleston (W.Va.) beginning at 6 p.m.



PLAYER, PITCHERS OF WEEK – Pictured are the top players of the week for the Grantsville American Legion baseball team. Above left is Player of the Week Mason Dick, also a standout at Southern High School. Over the past four games, Dick has gone 5-for-11 at the plate for a .455 batting average with a pair of doubles, two runs scored, two RBI, one stolen base, one sacrifice, and four walks. He also excelled defensively. His award is sponsored by the Grantsville Rotary Club. Above right is Co-Pitcher of the Week Steven Holtschneider, who plays for the Northern Huskies. Holtschneider pitched a complete game against Fort Cumberland last Thursday, going seven innings, giving up five hits, only one earned run, and a single walk. He struck out three en route to recording the win on the mound. His award is sponsored by the Grantsville Lions Club. Below is Southern High School's Scott Cooper, Co-Pitcher of the Week, who tossed eight innings this past week, with six of those last night in a win over Fort Cumberland. He allowed seven hits, one earned run, and one walk, and struck out three. His award is sponsored by the Oakland Elks Lodge.

Garrett College Offers Baseball Camp, Clinics

Garrett College head baseball coach Eric Hallenbeck will hold a series of baseball clinics and a Camp for Kids beginning Monday, June 25, on the McHenry Campus. All students attending age 18 and under qualify for a free breakfast and lunch in the Laker Café. Garrett College is a partner with the Garrett County Board of Education in providing the Summer Youth Meal Program.

The following clinics are scheduled:

•Future Laker Hitting Clinic: June 25-26, for ages 6-12, 9 a.m. to noon. The clinic will cover proper hitting mechanics, drills and bunting techniques.

•Prep Hitting Clinic: June 28-29, ages 13-17, 9 a.m. to noon. The clinic will cover proper hitting mechanics, drills, and video analysis.

"This is a must for upcoming Hot Stove, high school, or American Legion players," said Coach Hallenbeck.

•Future Laker Pitching/Catching Clinic: July 9-10, ages 6-12, 9 a.m. to noon. The clinic will cover proper pitching mechanics, drills, and specific instruction on catching.

•Prep Pitching/Catching Clinic: July 12-13, ages 13-17, 9 a.m. to noon. The clinic will cover proper pitching mechanics/drills/video analysis, and specific instruction on catching.

"This is a must also for upcoming Hot Stove, high school, or American Legion pitchers and catchers," said Hallenbeck.

The summer schedule also includes a Future Laker Baseball Camp, which will be held the week of July 23-27 for youth ages 6-13 from 9 a.m. to noon each day. Camp will cover all aspects of the game of baseball.

Breakfast will be served in the Lakers Café from 8 to 10 a.m., and lunch will be available from noon to 1 p.m.

For more details, including fees for the clinics and camp, persons may call Coach Hallenbeck at 301-387-3331.

Hot Stove Baseball League Results

Thursday's Results (6/7)

In Hot Stove league action last Thursday, G&S Coal suffered a tough 10-0 loss to Thomas Chevrolet in a game played at Potomac Park.

Earning a win last Thursday was Cork's Cars, which overcame Hyndman Hobos on the road by a final score of 6-4.

Thomas Chevrolet used a trio of pitchers to limit G&S to just two hits. Jeremiah Bingman, Jeffrey Kidd, and Trenton Elliott combined for seven strikeouts in the outing, which was called after five innings for Thomas Chevrolet.

Braedon Shaffer led the way offensively with a double and a single. Luke Waugerman singled twice and Kyle Miller added a triple for Thomas Chevrolet, which compiled eight hits.

Cork's earned its win by keeping a rally-minded Hyndman team at bay in the late innings of a game played at Hamilton Field. Cork's took an early advantage, scoring two runs in the first inning and had a 4-0 lead after four innings.

Hyndman would get on the board with four runs in its final three at-bats, but Cork's hung on to win, scoring a run in the sixth and seventh innings.

Friday's Results

On Friday, Lakeview Auto Parts battled Frostburg First United to a 10-10 standstill in Accident, while Grantsville downed Madigan's, 5-3, in a game played at Broadford Park.

In its game, Lakeview held a 9-7 lead until Frostburg surged for three runs in the top of the seventh inning. Down 10-9, Lakeview refused to fall, and scored a run to notch it at 10 apiece in the bottom of the seventh.

No deciding blows would be struck, as that at-bat became the game's last, thanks to darkness falling on the ball field at Northern High School.

Brooks Carr hit two doubles and Aaron Rodeheaver added a double for Lakeview.

For Frostburg, Jim Buskirk led the hitting with a double and two singles.

Leading Grantsville overtop Madigan's was Meshach Metz, who tallied three runs batted in on Friday in Oakland.

Hunter Mallow started the game for Grantsville, allowing three runs in five innings of work before Logan White pitched two scoreless innings to close out the contest.

Logan Fratz had an RBI double and Brandon Raley and Logan White each added two singles for Grantsville.

For Madigan's, Bernie Sislo hit a double and Austin Reckart had two RBIs on two sacrifice flies.

Saturday's Results

In a pair of one-sided games played on Saturday, Cork's Cars drubbed Frostburg Legion, 12-2, in a game played at Hamilton Field, while Lakeview Auto blasted Salisbury Legion, 11-1.

Mike Welch surrendered just two runs on five hits and struck out 11 to lead Cork's Cars in its win over Frostburg Legion. He pitched a complete game.

Welch joined Lucas Ritchie and Matt Imhoff to lead Cork's on the offensive side of the ball. All three tallied two singles. Ritchie crossed the plate three times and Imhoff drove in three runners.

In the Lakeview game, Aaron Rodeheaver tripled and singled and Logan Yommer doubled and singled to power their team past Salisbury Legion in a game played on Northern High School's baseball field.

On the mound, Justin Derato scattered three singles and whiffed three Salisbury batters before getting the win in five innings.

Three batters – Trevon Jones, Carr, and Caleb King – each hit a pair of singles for Lakeview, which had its biggest gain in a six-run third inning.

Sunday's Results

In its Sunday win at Potomac Park, Grantsville's Diori Pattison tripled home three runs in the fourth inning, in what became a 10-run at-bat for a team that eventually downed visiting D&D Homes by a final score of 13-3.

Grantsville took a 3-0 lead in the third inning before laying it down thick in the fourth to go up 13-0.

D&D tacked on two runs in its next at-bat, which was not enough to stave off the 10-run mercy rule. The game was called after six innings.

Grantsville's Colton Houser singled twice and drove in a run, while teammate Kyle Pattison tallied two RBIs.

D&D picked up two RBIs off two singles from Colton Winner, while Patrick Russell hit a triple and Justin Wilson had a double.

Monday's Results

In Monday's action, Grantsville powered past Thomas Chevrolet, 9-4, in a game played at Potomac Park. Also on Monday, Cork's Cars bested G&S Coal by a score of 12-2.

Against Thomas Chevrolet, Grantsville's Metz fired a complete-game five hitter and drove in the go-ahead run in a six-run seventh inning to secure the victory.

Grantsville entered the seventh inning down 4-3 when Metz, who had two hits already, changed the momentum in the game with a clutch two-run double. Bradley McKenzie also tallied a two-run base hit in the inning to seal the deal.

Logan Kidd and Shaffer each had RBI base hits for Thomas Chevrolet.

Metz struck out five for Grantsville, and Noah Warner had two hits, including a double.

For Cork's, Welch homered and drove in two runs to beat G&S. He hit a solo home run and a triple to finish with his two RBIs, while teammate Austin Graham hit two triples. Dakota Hinebaugh and Logan Cvetnick each doubled, while Bryson

Oaks Drop 3-Of-4 To Titans Over Two Days Of Tight Competition

In its doubleheader played at Southern High School on Saturday, the Pen-Mar baseball league's Oakland Oaks suffered a pair of losses – 4-0 and 4-1 – after managing just one run in two games while facing some nasty pitching by the Tri-State Titans.

In a second twofer, played Sunday at Allegany College of Maryland, the Oaks would claim their first and only win in the tight, two-day series in the early game, 5-4, before falling to the Titans in the next outing, 4-2.

In game one played in Oakland, the Oaks earned just four hits (all singles) against Titans hurler Brian Powell, who walked four and struck out five. Powell's counterpart, Oaks pitcher Greg Beachy, was forced to absorb a loss after putting in some respectable work of his own. Beachy allowed just six scattered hits and struck out nine Titans in the contest.

Jesus Rivera led the Oakland bats in the game with two singles. Titans Cody Ellsworth and Powell also picked up hits.

Chris Stein would earn the win in game two for the Titans, though he allowed Oakland's Corey Flickinger a solo shot over the fence, and teammates Nathan King and Jeremy Shingler a triple and a double, respectively.

Oaks Rivera and Cody Toothman, who relieved in the fifth inning, teamed for a five-hitter and 10 strikeouts in the loss. Toothman struck out six batters in three innings of work.

In Sunday's opener, Oakland's Bryan Lenhart doubled in the top of the 10th inning, but decided to take third while rounding second base. The late-game gamble paid off for the Oaks, as the play on Lenhart was overthrown, allowing him to turn the corner and advance home for the game winning run.

In the game, Lenhart also singled, while teammate Flickinger singled twice and Tommy Reams singled twice with an RBI.

King went the distance to gain the win, striking out seven in his effort. Titan Tony Fetters was pegged with the loss, though he also pitched a complete game and struck out an impressive 16 batters.

For Tri-State, Fetters knocked in two runs on two singles. Titan Brian Powell singled three times.

In the fourth game of the two-day series both teams scored all of their runs in the second inning. Tri-States' four runs came compliments of Ellsworth, knocked in three runs with a bases-loaded triple, and Powell, who brought home a run with a double.

The Oaks picked up a double and a single from Flickinger.

For Tri-State, Ellsworth pitched a complete game to gain the win, allowing four hits and striking out eight batters. Oakland's Jacob Miller also went the distance in the loss, giving up seven hits and whiffing eight batters, while walking one.

The Oaks (5-3) will next face Cumberland in a series to begin on Saturday.

Caupp And Farr Top Runners In 14th Katie's Run

Two runners from Frostburg were first across the line at the 14th Katie's 5-Kilometer Run/1-Mile Fun Run/Walk, which was held Saturday at New Germany State Park. Some 180 athletes completed the events (139 in the run and 41 in the walk).

Gavin Caupp, 22, ran away from the field by the 1-mile mark to win the 5-K run comfortably with a time of 17 minutes, 36 seconds. Caupp is completing a highly successful collegiate running career at Frostburg State University as a distance runner after getting his start at Beall High School, and then Mountain Ridge.

Leading the female participants in the 5-K was 24-year-old Nicole Farr, an assistant track and field coach at Frostburg State, who crossed the finish line of the 3.1-mile distance in 19:57. Farr arrived at Frostburg after garnering several All-American accolades at Calvin College and Bowling Green State University.

The race is run in memory of Katie DeRosa, daughter of Patty and Norm DeRosa, who died while training for her freshman season of cross country at Beall High School in August 1998. The DeRosa family has been a longtime presence in the running community in western Maryland, according to a spokesperson for the Queen City Striders Running Club.

Norm DeRosa is the longtime coach of cross country and track and field at Mountain Ridge High School, formerly Beall. He and his wife Patti still regularly compete and train in races at distances up to a marathon. Norm and all three of Katie's siblings competed at the high school and collegiate levels.

Younger sister Emily, who ran for Beall and at Wheeling Jesuit University, was married to Jeff Zvenrowski the evening before this year's race, making them the newest newlyweds to cross the finish line together in the area in a long time.

Brother Matt ran for Beall and for the Rochester Institute of Technology in New York. Finally, younger brother Chris ran for both Beall, then Mountain Ridge, and recently competed at Alderson-Broaddus College, running a personal best in the 5,000 meters this past spring.

Chris DeRosa finished second among the men on Saturday, finishing in 18:22 to just hold off Jon Ludders, 23, Charden, Ohio, whose time was 18:25. Erica Wilson, 15, a member of Mountain Ridge High School's state finalist 3,200-meter relay team this year, recorded a time of 21:09 to place second among the women, and Mary Beth Strickler, 37, LaVale, recorded a 21:27 for third.

Masters honors went to 47-year-olds Rob Smith and Jane Rossi, both of Frostburg, with times of 20:19 and 25:03, respectively.

In the 1-Mile Fun Run/Walk, Jaiden Lais, 12, and Olivia Nield, 14, both of Frostburg, had the best times among the men and women, 6:49 and 8:20, respectively.

Darrell Cavey of TriState-Runnur provided race-day photography. Photos are available online at http://www.tristaterunnur.com. Queen City Striders provided timing and scoring services for the event.

Full results and age group awards can be seen on the Striders' web site at http://www.qcstriders.org.

Iron Furnace 5-K Run Slated In Lonaconing

The George's Creek Promotion Council, in conjunction with the celebration of George's Creek Days, announces the running of the 24th annual Iron Furna. 5-K, to be held Saturday, June 30, at 8 a.m. in Lonaconing.

The race will begin at George's Creek Elementary School north of Lonaconing on Maryland Route 36. The point-to-point course will run along George's Creek, through the streets of Lonaconing, and finish at the historic Iron Furnace on the north end of town.

All pre-registered runners will receive a free T-shirt. If pre-registered, families with more than two entries will receive a discounted fee for each additional entry.

Awards will be presented to the first three finishers in 26 age divisions. The fastest overall male and female finishers will receive cash awards, as will the first-place male and female master runners.

After the awards ceremony, a drawing for numerous door prizes will be held in Furnace Park. Refreshments will be provided.

Entrants should be pre-reg-

Sailboat Racing
On Deep Creek Lake

TOO MUCH, THEN TOO LITTLE
by Dan Muss

The PRO for Saturday's racing was Bruce Spinnenweber, and he set the course through the slot. The wind was westerly with gusts up to 18 knots, so there were fewer Flying Scots out racing than normal. I watched the Gold Fleet start from my pontoon boat.

Wolffe won the start, as most of these experienced crews hung back in the puffy wind, but by halfway to the windward mark, Meredith was clearly ahead, followed by Gauthier, Coraor, and Wolffe. Meredith and Gauthier both had spinnakers up very quickly, while the others chose not to raise theirs in the heavy air. At the gibe mark the competitors didn't need to gibe. They just bore off for the leeward mark, with Meredith way out in front.

Now John Meredith's crew was Jon Skoog, and both of these sailors are championship-level racers. But they somehow got the spinnaker sheet under the boat and behind the center board! There's only one way to clear this kind of problem, and that is to untie the sheet from the clew of the sail, pull it through, and rethread and retie to the clew. This is what Skoog did, as Meredith rounded the leeward mark, and then one of them remembered to put the centerboard down again as they sailed up wind. But, on the second downwind leg, as the 'chute went up again, the knot that Skoog had tied came undone and he had to crawl up on the bow to retie it, with the sail flapping away in that heavy breeze. Meredith and Skoog still managed to hold onto second place in a race that was fun to watch.

In the Silver Fleet, Munford won handily, but there was a photo-finish for second, as Deakin nosed out Tran by inches.

Sunday morning, I went out on my pontoon to get the Sunday papers at Arrowhead just as the sun was coming up, and the light filtering through the mists on the water was mesmerizing. The lake was truly beautiful... but there was no wind. The "Weather Underground," my favorite Internet site for weather information, predicted about 5 knots at noon.

The PROs for our racing were Lee and Joan Coraor, and they radioed to say there would be a race after a 15-minute delay, so the Flying Scot fleet headed out to the boats. But, after most of us had our sails up and were ready to cast off the moorings, they radioed again to say that the wind had died and that the race was abandoned. Oh, well, wait 'til next weekend.

Frank Arnold Tops Fort Ashby, Falls To Hite Roofing, WEPCO

Recreational league baseball team Frank Arnold Contractors dropped one in Oakland last Thursday, 8-4, to Hite Roofing before taking a win at home the following day, 11-6, over Fort Ashby.

Then in a game played on Wednesday evening in Westernport, Frank Arnold was blanked, 11-0, by WEPCO.

Facing Hite Roofing, Frank Arnold held a 3-0 lead after the first inning, but fell behind as Hite scored four runs in the third inning and four again in the fifth.

Just after scoring a run in the bottom of the fifth frame, lightning dashed any hopes of a rally for Frank Arnold, as the game was called early.

Ryan Keifer had the majority of Hite's seven hits, finishing with a double and two singles.

In a 11-6 victory on Friday, Derrick Noble tallied three hits and two runs scored for Frank Arnold in its second game played at Southern High School in as many days.

Frank Arnold scored six of its runs in the first inning and didn't let up on Fort Ashby.

Danny Sislo had two hits and two runs scored, Reese Haskiell hit a two-run triple, Mason Dick added an RBI double and scored two runs, and Ryan Bennett and Buck Scheffel each chipped in a double and scored a run for Frank Arnold.

Ryan Bobo, J.P. Twigg, Zach Bradford, Tim Arnold, and Colby Joiner each had a hit and a run for Fort Ashby.

In its loss to WEPCO, Frank Arnold batters were struck out nine times by pitcher Ryan Redinger, who rocketed a solo home run as part of WEPCO's five-run first inning.

From that deficit Frank Arnold was unable to recover. The team managed one hit in the contest, a single by Dick.

Frank Arnold is scheduled to face the Northside Diamond Dogs on Monday at Southern High School.

Local Student Earns USBC Tourney Title

Southern High School student Ryan Schrier, pictured above, recently captured the 2012 All Events, Major/Senior Handicapped tile with a combined score of 2,374 at the United States Bowling Congress's Youth Championship Tournament held at Brunswick Columbia Lanes in Columbia in May.

Schrier competed with Aaron Sisler, Zachary Riggleman, and Dylan Lewis as part of the Southern Senior High School bowling team, which is coached by John Sharpless and Gary Tichinell.

Schrier placed second in singles handicapped competition, with a score of 835, while he and Sisler took fourth place in doubles handicapped play, with a score of 1,515. The four youths finished in eighth place as a team (handicapped), with a score of 2,829.

As part of an awards luncheon scheduled for June 24 at the Richlin Ballroom in Edgewood, Schrier will receive his championship trophy, as will Sisler.

Schrier is the son of Hugh and Donna Schrier of Oakland. Riggleman is the son of Zane and B.J. Riggleman of Oakland. Sisler is the son of Lynn and Cecilia Sisler of Gorman. Lewis is the son of Mike and Linda Lewis of Mtn. Lake Park.

Correction Noted For Golf Tourney

An article in last week's issue of The Republican about the 4th annual Samuel and Judy Reckley Honorary Golf Tournament supporting Maryland Salem Children's Trust stated that a shotgun start is scheduled for 1 p.m. In fact, the shotgun start is scheduled for 9 a.m.

The tournament is set for Saturday, June 30, at Fore Sisters Golf Course in Rawlings.

Tuesday's Results

Team One took control of its game played with Madigan's Auto in Oakland, winning by a final score of 6-1 on Tuesday.

In the win for Team One, Corey Horner allowed just one run in a complete-game performance. He struck out eight Madigan's batters, walked just two, and allowed only five hits. With his bat, Horner picked up two singles and an RBI.

Teammate Skylar Carrico finished with two singles and an RBI, while D.J. Flanigan and Justice Peck had an RBI single each. Justyce Fuimer recorded the only extra-base hit in the game with his triple.

Madigan's got two singles from Matt McCullough, two more from Ryan Wilburn and an RBI single form Bernie Sislo.

Team One (3-7) is scheduled to play today in Oakland when it faces Salisbury Legion.

Wednesday's Results

Grantsville earned a 9-3 win hosting Cork's Cars on Wednesday. Leading the charge for the winning team was Metz, who knocked a two-run homer over the fence in the first inning. After three innings, Grantsville held a 9-2 lead.

For Grantsville, pitcher Roberto Pattison finished with a double and a single with one RBI to complement his five strikeouts. Catcher Kyle Pattison also had a double and a single, but with two RBIs.

Cork's got a home run of its own when Graham went deep with a solo shot in the fourth inning. Josh Adams added a double and an RBI.

With the win Grantsville has notched a 9-3 record and will play against Frostburg Legion at Northern High School on Wednesday.

to create a distinctive sound captured in their first single, "Big City Hillbilly." The band has a wide fan base all over the eastern United States.

Brothers Chris and Donnie Davisson and cousin Sammy Davisson, along with childhood friend Aaron Regester, continue the musical pursuits started by the Davisson family long ago.

They have been performing since 1980 at festivals, clubs, bars, and private and corporate events.

Another group, the Channel Cats Acoustic Duo of Tom "T.J" Jenkins and Pat Sullivan, will perform at Grantsville Days on Saturday, June 23, from 4 to 6 p.m.

Also on Saturday, the band Solid Gold will perform at 7:30 p.m.

A firemen's parade coordinated by the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department will start at 6:45 p.m. on Friday, June 22. Following the parade, there will be crafts and display booths at the park, and a variety of food available for purchase.

A fireworks show will be held at 10:30 p.m., sponsored entirely by First People's Credit Union.

A garden tractor pulling contest will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday. Music will begin at 11 a.m. with Jimmy B., and a horseshoe pitching tournament will get under way at 1 p.m. There will be children's games at 4 p.m., coordinated by Jeff Rice and sponsored by the Northern Athletic Boosters.

A tractor pulling contest will be held at 5 p.m. for stock and hot stock classes. This event is coordinated by Franklin Broadwater.

A fireworks display sponsored by eight local businesses, will be held at 10:30 p.m.

There will be an interdenominational church service at the Grantsville Park in pavilion #3 next to the pond on Sunday at 11 a.m. The service is coordinated by the Grantsville Ministerial Association.

In the afternoon, there will be music by Jimmy B at the stage, and a pickup and truck pulling contest will be held at 2 p.m.

Throughout the weekend, there will be a variety of food booths in operation by local non-profit organizations, with Lions barbecued chicken dinners and kettle corn, along with other vendors selling french fries, sandwiches, ice cream, funnel cakes, hamburgers, hot dogs, sloppy joes, lemonade, and soft drinks.

Beachy says that Grantsville Days is unique in that no commercial food vendors are allowed so that churches, Scouts, and other local groups can raise funds for their organizations.

The entire event is sponsored by nearly 80 Grantsville businesses, and each business is listed on fliers and posters distributed throughout the community.

On behalf of the Grantsville Lions Club, Beachy noted appreciation for all sponsors, and encourages everyone to support those businesses.

A complete schedule of events and contact information can be found at the Grantsville Lions Club web site: www.grantsvillemd.lionwap.org, or persons may Google Grantsville Lions Club and view the 35th annual Grantsville Days brochure.

Maryland.

Wilson has devoted 30 years of educational endeavors to students, faculty, staff and her community. She began her teaching career in Allegany County in 1980 and has taught in elementary, middle, and high schools in Allegany County, as well as three years in Hopkins County, Ky.

Wilson spent nearly 12 years in the classroom before being promoted to principal. She worked in that school-based leadership position for eight years.

During that time she performed additional duties as an administrator of special education programs. As a grant writer, she secured funding and services to benefit student achievement. She then went on to become Allegany County supervisor of early childhood education for three years before being named the assistant superintendent and, ultimately, chief academic officer.

As a member of Allegany County Public Schools senior staff, Wilson has been involved in key discussions and processes to balance the educational budget during a difficult economic climate, while minimally impacting classroom instruction. According to a press release, Wilson's professional educational leadership experiences and her work as a chief academic officer have given her a keen understanding of federal, state, and local school finances, as well as budget management.

With a notable record as a change agent, the press release continues, she has guided Allegany County Public Schools to earn state and national recognition for student achievement, technological innovation and curricular development. She is a proven innovative leader and an effective communicator.

"People are the school system's greatest assets, and academic achievement for all students is the ultimate goal; as such, community members, employees, and students alike must be motivated to contribute and empowered to act through shared leadership," Wilson said.

"I am honored to be afforded the opportunity to meet with Garrett County community members, parents, teachers, administrators, and students to share my experiences, passion for learning, and philosophies on education, as well as to listen."

er new Maryland law, called the Sustainable Growth and Agricultural Preservation Act of 2012, the commissioners also remind the public of the July 1, 2012, deadline for persons to apply for percolation tests on properties planned for subdivisions. After that day, major subdivisions of greater than seven lots may not be approved utilizing onsite sewage or septic systems.

State officials maintain that septic systems leach harmful nitrogen loads into the Chesapeake Bay Watershed.

The Maryland General Assembly recently passed the septic system law, based on recommendations from the governor's Task Force on Sustainable Growth and Wastewater Disposal.

• 1:30 p.m. – Aviary Encounter. Guests are invited to the aviary to see and learn about birds of prey. The birds will be perched, which will provide photo opportunities, so guests should bring cameras. A naturalist will be available to answer questions. Free.

Monday, June 18

• 10 a.m. – Fishing with a Naturalist. Kids 7 and up will meet on the shores of the Discovery Center for fishing basics. Poles, bait, and tackle are provided. The cost is $4/person, and adults (16 and older) must have a license. Pre-registration is required, as space is limited.

• 1:30 p.m. – Toddlers in Nature. This program is for children 4 years old and younger. The naturalist will help them make a craft and find fun in nature. Fee: $2 per child. (60 min.)

Tuesday, June 19

• 8 a.m. – Birding at Deep Creek. Walkers will learn how to "bird by ear" and listen for distinctive songs on a stroll through the park. Participants should bring binoculars and meet at the Discovery Center. Both experienced and beginner birders are welcome. There are a few binoculars to lend out.

• 2 p.m. – Flutterbys and Flowers. Guests will walk around the Discovery Center with the naturalist to learn the many species of wildflowers and butterflies found in the area. The group will learn about the difference between native and non-native plants and their effects on the environment. (60 min.)

Wednesday, June 20

• 11 a.m. – What's That Reptile? Discovery Center staff will teach guests about the reptiles and amphibians in the center. Live specimens will be available for viewing and touching. Free. (Approx. 60 mins.)

• 1 p.m. – Wild Wednesday Tie Dye. Persons may meet at the Deep Creek Lake beach to make tie-dyed shirts and create a conservation message for each shirt. $10 per shirt and $5 for a bandana. (Approx. 2 hrs.)

Thursday, June 21

• 10 a.m. – Junior Ranger Program. Youngsters are invited to join the naturalist for this six-week program. Jr. Rangers will meet every Thursday to explore the park, go behind the scenes in the aviary, learn outdoor skills, and more. Fee: $25 per child, $15 for next sibling. Persons are asked to pre-register by calling the Discovery Center at 301-387-7067. (2 hrs.)

• 11 a.m. – Brant Mine Hike. Guests can join a guided hike with the naturalist to the historic Brant Mine. Hikers will see the remnants of a coal mine that was operated in the 1920s, as well as possibly some wildlife along the way. This required moderate hiking. Free. (Approx. 90 mins.)

• 1 p.m. – Critter Encounter. Guests are invited to join a naturalist as the many fish, turtles, snakes, and birds of prey in the Discovery Center are fed.

Save the Dates for Art in the Park, July 14 and 15.

NEW GERMANY STATE PARK

The following activities have been slated at New Germany State Park. More information can be obtained by calling the ranger station at 301-895-5453 or by e-mailing astachowiak@dnr.state.md.us. The Nature Center is open daily, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Saturday, June 16

• 10 a.m. – Wildflower Hike. The park ranger will lead a leisurely hike to discover some of the wildflowers currently in bloom throughout the park. Wildflower craft activities will be available after the hike. Participants are encouraged to dress for the weather and wear sunscreen, and meet at the Lake House.

• 3 p.m. – Tricky Tracks. The park naturalist will lead a short hike and discuss the common animals found in the park, and the tracks they leave behind. After the hike, children will have an opportunity to create a plaster animal track to take home. Participants should dress for the weather and wear sunscreen, and meet at the Nature Center.

• 6:30 p.m. – Old-Time Jam. Musicians and spectators of all ages are invited to share traditional folk, bluegrass, and other "old-time" Appalachian music. The jam will take place at the New Germany Lake House. Admission is free, and refreshments and gift items will be available for purchase at the New Germany Snack Bar & Gift Shop.

Sunday, June 17

Happy Father's Day. Families are invited to spend the day in the park with their fathers.

• 1 p.m. – Wilderness Survival 101. The park naturalist will lead an outdoor adventure and discuss what it takes to survive in the wild. Participants are encouraged to dress for the weather and wear appropriate footwear, and to meet at the Nature Center.

TIM UMBEL MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

Kiersten Butler, daughter of Doug and Sheila Butler, was also named a winner of the Tim Umbel Memorial Scholarship. Her name was omitted from last week's "Friendsville News."

FFAA NEWS

Author Susan Turner will be the guest storyteller this Sunday, June 17, at 2 p.m. as part of a special Father's Day program. The program will be held at the Friendsville Rescue Squad building behind the Friend Family Museum.

Turner is the author of the Rufus Steele series of adventure books. They are historical fiction inspired by the history of Friendsville and its citizens, and set in Friendsville in the period of 1930s and '40s. Her father, Warren Teets, one of 10 children of the late Harvey and Pearl Teets, provided much of the inspiration for the stories, according to Turner, as he recounted memories of his own childhood in Friendsville in that era to her as she was growing up. The most recent book, 1943, Susan co-authored with her father. The public is invited to hear these stories come alive for all ages.

The biannual meeting of the Friend Family Association of America, the Gathering, will be held next week in Hagerstown, June 22–24. One of the oldest members of FFAA is Vern Friend, Howard, Kan. He will be 100 years old this July 9. At the Gathering held in Friendsville in 2010, Mr. Friend was in attendance and visited the community.

Continuing this month is the wedding exhibit at the FFAA Museum. The exhibit includes many pictures, actual wedding dresses, and various memorabilia of past weddings of various Friendsville residents over the years. Visitors are encouraged to stop by to see these handsome young couples.

The museum hours remain noon to 4 p.m. on Wednesdays through Sundays, and by appointment as volunteers are available.

ON A PERSONAL NOTE

by Lucretia Sines

Rumor has it that this weekend is Father's Day... already! Time is just flying by this summer, and time has certainly flown by from when I was a little girl curling up on my dad's lap, following him wherever he went, and learning from him.

Growing up, I remember my father as always being a hard worker and always busy (except for the occasional nap). When I would hear the car door slam, I was always there with "can I go?" He is a veteran of WWII, and as many are today, he is still very patriotic. I used to love to watch him fold the flag following a school day at the Grantsville Elementary School and was even allowed to help him occasionally, being warned to be careful and not let the flag touch the ground.

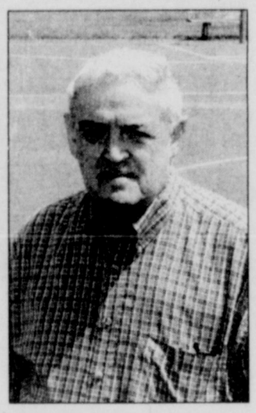
During my childhood, he was the custodian at the Grantsville Elementary School, a job in which he took great pride and always kept it in tip-top shape from the shiny floors to the clean windows (with the help of my mom). He even kept his furnace room in grand shape, which was quite difficult I am sure because back then coal was the main source for heat. He kept his tools neatly arranged and always knew if one of them was missing. I think he still owns the very first ruler and hammer he ever owned. I always loved following him around when he worked and begged to help, whether it was cleaning out the sinks with Comet or buffing the floors.

When I was small, he would let me ride the buffer, and I always begged to use it myself, but it was not allowed. One time it was left standing in the hallway with dad nowhere in sight, and the temptation was too great for me. One squeeze of the handle and that thing dragged me down the hall a couple yards before I could let go of the handle. I never wanted to do that again.

My dad was always a "whistle-while-you-work" kind of guy, and he could be found by following the tune that he always whistled, which I found out later to be "Maryland, My Maryland." I am not sure why, but he always whistled that same tune while working except for the occasional talking while he worked about something that just would not cooperate.

My dad was always a prankster too. He loved pulling practical jokes on people. I think one of my favorite pranks was at Christmas time, when he would fix up a gag box full of stuff that he would wrap and place in a bigger box. You never knew whose turn it would be to get such a gift but it was always fun opening it. There was also the time that a bunch of us girls decided to go to the graveyard for a "séance" on a dark and foggy night only to have him show up and try to scare us.

I could just go on and on about my dad and the memories that I have tucked away, but I will save them for another time. Even though I can no longer curl up on his lap, I still have him to hug and tell him how much I love him. Happy Father's Day, Dad, from your "pie face."



FUNDRAISER WINNERS ANNOUNCED – Winners of the Dove Center's 11th annual Walk and Rock fundraiser, titled "Steppin' Up Against Domestic Violence," have been announced. First, second, and third place prizes were awarded to top child and adult fundraisers. First place child and adult fundraisers were Madelynn Hanline (left) and Ron Umbel (right), respectively. The second place child and adult winners were Tabitha Friend and Amanda Murphy. Third place child and adult fundraisers were siblings Brianna and Brent LeMay, and Christine Welch. Door prizes were also awarded to Kaylee Baker, Nancy Umbel, Mike Alexander, and Peggy Alexander. "With numerous walking participants and many others attending, over $6,300 was raised to aid victims of domestic violence and sexual assault in Garrett County through pledges and sales of souvenirs," said a spokesperson. Picnic food and musical entertainment by Scott Alexander were provided during the fundraiser. The Dove Center is a private nonprofit agency that provides hotline, shelter, psychoeducation, accompaniment, and advocacy services for victims of domestic violence and sexual assault. For more information about this agency, persons may call 301-334-9000 or visit gcdovecenter.org.

PARISH HOUSE DEDICATED – A newly renovated parish house was dedicated at St. James Episcopal Church in Westernport on Saturday. The Right Rev. Joe Goodwyn Burnett, assistant bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Maryland, pictured above center, conducted the dedication and blessing. Over the past 14 months, the structure's windows, floors, kitchen, rest rooms, and meeting area were all upgraded. The parish house was built in 1947. The dedication was attended by parishioners of St. James, as well as by clergy from other western Maryland Episcopal churches. At left is Rev. Tom Hudson, OPA, Oakland, and on the right is Rev. Garrett Carskadon. Hudson and Carskadon are priests on the Mutual Ministry team at St. James.

The births of three babies were announced this week, one girl and two boys.

A daughter, Emma Ruth, was born to Kevin and Rebecca (Petersheim) Coblentz, Oakland, on May 23 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. The maternal grandparents are Paul and Naomi Petersheim, Oakland, and the paternal grandparents are John and Amanda Coblentz, Hicksville, Ohio.

A son, Caleb Alvin Deem, was born to Kristie Wagner and Arthur Deem III, Crellin, on June 1 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

A son, Carlton Lee, was born to Candace Blamble-Sisler and Marcus Sisler, Oakland, on June 4 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. The maternal grandparents are Richard and Donna Blamble, and the paternal grandparents are Buddy and Anna Sisler.

NEW LEADERS FOR CIVIC CLUB – The GFWC Civic Club of Oakland recently installed its new officers, who will serve for the next two years. Pictured are the new co-presidents, Sandy Hill (at left) and Lindy Donahue. See story.

"I'VE GOT A BIKE, YOU CAN RIDE IT IF YOU LIKE..." A fairly new bicycle display is currently being shown at the Garrett County Transportation Museum located along Liberty Street, Oakland, across from the Oakland Train Station. Many of the bikes have been lent to the museum for several years by Larry Black, founder/owner of College Park Bicycles and Mt. Airy Bicycles. Black has more than 45 years in the business, and has provided many of the unique collection of bikes shown above representing over 130 years of cycling history. Above right is one of three cycles in the building with wooden rims. This one was built in Hagerstown in 1902. Below left is a Scarpony High Wheel bike manufactured in 1880 in Smithfield, N.J. This bicycle is deemed particularly interesting because the larger wheel is in the front rather than the rear, and pedaling requires an "up-and-down" motion rather than circular to maintain balance and control. Black has been known to demonstrate how to ride this bike as well as others in many parades and events. He has received numerous awards and recognition for his involvement in civic activities, and has commented that he was impressed with the intent and professionalism of the GC Transportation Museum, and saw it as a perfect venue to share his collection. It is rumored by museum staff that Black may make an appearance in this year's Autumn Glory Grand Feature Parade. Below right is a tiny, yet perfect addition to the collection, a tricycle donated by part-time resident Craig Abrahamson. Additional bikes among the display above are: a Woman Wheelman Special Antique Safety Bike (1897) featuring wooden rims and a chain skirt; a men's American Rambler (1900) with wooden rims, shaft drive system, and rear suspension; an early 1900 racing bike with a rare left side drive; a Ranger cycle by Mead Cycle Company (1920s); a child's classic cycle by Colson (1930s); a replica of the Roadmaster Luxury Liner by EX-Works (1948–1953 era), a three-speed Royal Prince by Hercules (1950s); and a novelty bicycle by Penderson featuring a Cyclone classic mix (1980s). More details on the collection will be provivde at a later date.

GFWC Civic Club Of Oakland Elects Officers

The GFWC (General Federation of Women's Clubs) Civic Club of Oakland recently installed officers for the 2012-2014 term.

Serving as co-presidents will be Lindy Donahue and Sandy Hill. The first vice president is Suzanne Harle, and the second vice president is Peggy Nelson. Beverly Maynard will serve as the treasurer, and the recording secretary will be Kathy Brady. B.J. Gallagher will serve as the corresponding secretary.

Newly installed Civic Club co-presidents: Left, Sandy Hill, Right, Lindy Donahue. Donahue was born near Pittsburgh and spent much of her adult life in Washington, Pa. She and her husband Terry have owned a house at Deep Creek Lake since 1994. They moved to Garrett County full time in 2004. Donahue graduated from California University of Pennsylvania and earned a master's degree in special education from that university. She was a special education teacher and educational consultant for early childhood and early intervention programs. She has two sons, one daughter, and three grandchildren.

Hill was born in Washington, D.C., but was reared in California. She is a graduate of Loma Linda University with a degree in nursing, and also earned a master's degree in public health at the same school.

Her husband Marty was in the U.S. Navy, and they lived in 17 houses in 23 years. They were stationed in Virginia, Guam, Italy, Connecticut, the Azores, Florida, and San Diego before settling in Gaithersburg, where Sandy worked as a high school nurse for the next 18 years. They have lived in Garrett County since June 2010. They have two daughters, one son, and five grandchildren.

Fest Under Way

There will then be a breakfast run held Saturday morning that will give participants a tour of various historic towns in the county.

The third poker run is slated for Sunday at 10 a.m., and will be a tour around Deep Creek Lake.

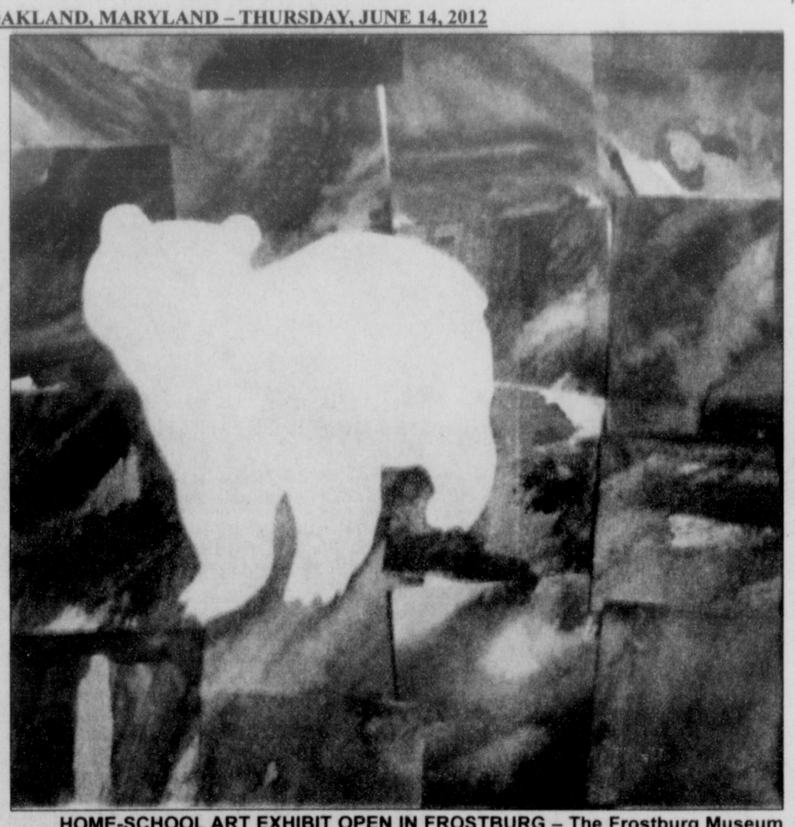
The fee for each of the rides will be $10 per bike, and four-wheeled vehicles (automobiles) are also welcome.

The full schedule of events of the Summerfest can be found online at www.DCLFUN.com.

The Garrett County Community School Support Fund is a new fund administered by the Community Trust Foundation. Funds will be available for classroom needs beginning with the next school year this fall. Teachers may apply for the funds, and any teacher volunteering or participating in the Summerfest event will have preferred priority for their funding needs.

The Community Trust Foundation, serving Garrett, Allegany, and Mineral counties, is an organization committed to building vibrant, strong communities by working in partnership with donors and community groups providing leadership to address community issues. A range of fund options is available to meet the unique needs of donors.

To learn more about CTF, tax-exempt IRA withdrawal, and how to establish a charitable fund, individuals may send an e-mail to info@ctfinc.org or call 301-876-9172.



HOME-SCHOOL ART EXHIBIT OPEN IN FROSTBURG – The Frostburg Museum is currently featuring an exhibition of works by children of the Home-School Art Club, which is an extension of the Firm Foundation home-schoolers' group. The group meets once a month in Cumberland and includes several families from Garrett County. The work shown above is among the items in the show. The club has more than 50 participating students ranging in age from 3 to 16. The exhibition will be on display through June 30, and an artists' reception is planned for June 23 from 5 to 8 p.m. The free reception is open to the public and will include refreshments. Teacher Jessica Cribley, also a resident of Garrett County, said the youngsters created three distinct works of art for the show, working with watercolors and acrylics, as well as studying abstract art. The Frostburg Museum is a non-profit organization located at the corner of Hill and Oak streets. It is open Tuesday through Saturday from noon to 5 p.m. The artists' work will be available for viewing during that time, and admittance to the museum is free. For more information, persons may contact Garry Ritchie, curator, at 301-689-1195 or by e-mail at FrostburgMuseum@verizon.net. The museum is online at FrostMuseum.Allconet.org and on Facebook, LinkedIn, and Twitter. The Museum Gallery is supported in part by the Allegany Arts Council, and is a member of the Allegany County Chamber of Commerce.

Sisler Property Among Those On Garden Tour

The Mountain Laurel Garden Club will host its 12th annual Secret Country Gardens Tour on Saturday, June 30, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The tour will highlight four private gardens in Garrett County, including the "50-Year Garden" at the residence of Janet and Bill Sisler.

For more than 50 years, this garden has been hoed, raked, and tilled by Janet, who said she wonders where all her energy has come from. Despite numerous rocks to overcome, the garden has developed and produced many flowers, including peonies and coneflowers.

Visitors to this garden will be able to view and visit the Sislers' favorite spot near the pond and patio. Because of bears, deer, groundhogs, and rabbits, gardening is a challenge.

On the day of the tour, the Garden Club's conservation committee will offer a presentation about invasive plants. A new addition at one of the gardens will be a garden boutique with many garden-related items from traditional to "shabby-chic" for sale, a spc .esperson said. Refreshments will be offered as well.

The cost of a ticket for the tour is $7. Tickets include a short description of each garden and written directions. They are available at Gregg's Pharmacy, Jan Florist, Green Acres Garden Center, Julie's Greenhouse, all of Oakland; Nature's Own, McHenry; Annie's Restaurant, Accident; and Beachy's Pharmacy, Grantsville.

On the day of the tour, members of the Garrett County Historical Society will sell tickets at the Gazebo in Oakland, located at the corner of Second and Liberty streets.

Proceeds from the tour will be used by the Mountain Laurel Garden Club for the continued beautification of local communities, and to encourage gardening and sound conservation practices through club activities and programs.

The local club is a member of the National Garden Clubs Inc., the Central Atlantic Region, and the Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland Inc. Affiliated clubs provide education, resources, and national networking opportunities for members as well as promote gardening, floral design, and civic and environmental responsibility.

For more information, persons may contact Barbara Gallagher, tour co-chair, at 301-387-5875, or Kathie Smith, publicity chair, at 301-334-3249, or visit the club's web site at www.mountainlaurelgardenclub.com.

SISLER PROPERTY TO BE STOP ON GARDEN CLUB TOUR – The "50-Year Garden" at the residence of Janet and Bill Sisler, pictured, will be one of the stops on this year's Secret Country Gardens Tour, hosted each year by the Mountain Laurel Garden Club. The event will take place on Saturday, June 30, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and will feature four private gardens in Garrett County. See story.

Zion Lutheran Women Convene

Women of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA) at Zion Lutheran Church, Jennings, held their monthly meeting recently at the church. The Bible study was titled "Travels with Jacob," led by Leota Baker and based upon the Old Testament character who cheated his brother Esau out of his birthright.

Judy Stanton presided over the business meeting.

A thank-you letter was received from Our Savior's Lutheran Church in Box Elder, Mont., for a package of sweaters and baby suits for newborns sent from Zion recently.

A note of thanks was also received from Pendleton Nursing Home in Franklin, W.Va., for a package of lap robes and two bath robes sent recently.

A birthday offering was received from Leota Baker. Tribute to the memory of Kenneth Durst was made through an offering to Women of the ELCA/Churchwide and designated for World Hunger.

Horse Liniment Erases Pain

HIALEAH, FL — An ingredient often used to treat inflammation in racehorse legs, is now back on the market in its original doctor recommended formula.

According to a national drug store survey, the formula at one time became so popular that it rose to the top of pharmacy sales for topical pain relievers. But the company marketing the product at the time changed the formula and sales plummeted. One of the inventors of the original formula has brought it back to the market under the trade name ARTH ARREST and says it can relieve pain for millions.

ARTH ARREST works by a dual mechanism whereby one ingredient relieves pain immediately, while a second ingredient seeks out and destroys the pain messenger signal before it can be sent to the brain. Considered a medical miracle by some, ARTH ARREST is useful in the treatment of painful disorders ranging from minor aches and pains to more serious conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, and tendonitis.

ARTH ARREST is available in a convenient roll-on applicator at pharmacies without a prescription or call 1-800-339-3301. Now at all: Walgreens

Northern High Students Receive Grants For Restoration Project

Northern High School and the Youghiogheny River Watershed Association (YRWA) are recent recipients of the Maryland Department of Natural Resources' Aquatic Resources Education (ARE) grants.

This grant program has enabled Northern High School's environmental science students the opportunity to participate in an action watershed restoration project that provided a hands-on learning and community service experience.

"This watershed restoration project, named the Cove Run Brook Trout Restoration Project, ultimately benefits the community by improving the water quality and fish populations of Cove Run, a tributary to Bear Creek, Accident," said a spokesperson. "The central goal of the restoration project is to protect and enhance the brook trout population of Cove Run."

Earlier biological surveys indicated that Cove Run provided a suitable environment for brook trout but was on the brink of becoming unfit. The creation of riparian buffers along Cove Run are believed to improve the water quality of the stream and increase its fish population.

A riparian buffer is land adjacent to a stream where native grasses, flowers, shrubs, and trees are growing. A healthy riparian buffer decreases stream water temperature, which will increase dissolved oxygen levels. Stream bank erosion will be prevented, decreasing the turbidity, or cloudiness, of the water. The buffer will also slow runoff, allowing more water to soak into the ground and recharge groundwater. Nutrients entering the stream through runoff from livestock pastures will also be reduced.

The project began this past fall when NHS's environmental science teacher Rebecca Kenyon-Sisler teamed up with YRWA to obtain the ARE grants to purchase field equipment for water quality assessments, biological monitoring, and transportation for students to the stream restoration sites.

Kenyon-Sisler, Alan Klotz, the Maryland DNR Inland Fisheries western regional manager, and Chuck Hayes of the Natural Resource Conservation Service (NRCS) then began reaching out to landowners whose properties were within the Cove Run watershed. All contacted landowners were very willing to allow a student learning opportunity project on their properties.

By the spring, the initial restoration site had been established on the farm of Dennis and Steve Margroff. Under the direction of Hayes and Jose J. Taracido, Farmland Habitat Program supervisor from California University of Pennsylvania, Habitat Forever LLC, installed fencing within a cattle pasture to create a minimum 10-ft. buffer on both sides of a tributary stream to Cove Run. A cattle crossing was also installed to allow the cattle access to the stream at one location to drink.

NHS students enrolled in the advanced placement environmental science class spent a day in April with the Maryland DNR Forestry Service and Fisheries Service at the site completing tasks to improve the water quality and the overall habitat along the stream. They planted 46 5' to 7' trees, including apple, flowering dogwood, eastern redbud, and other native tree species. In addition, about 140 seedling wetland tree and shrub species were planted within the fenced riparian zone.

The trees were donated by the YRWA, Maryland Department of Juvenile Services, and the National Wild Turkey Federation. Some of the donated seedlings were grown out by youths at the DJS Meadow Mountain Youth Camp. The students also mounted bluebird boxes donated by the state DNR Wildlife Service to fence posts.

"They were very excited when the boxes became inhabited by bluebirds and tree swallows within a week," noted the spokesperson.

The students returned to the site in May to conduct a stream assessment with the DNR Inland Fisheries Service biologists. They collected water quality data, including dissolved oxygen, temperature and turbidity, surveyed aquatic biodiversity, and determined the overall ecological condition of the stream. This year's data will serve as a baseline study for the long-term monitoring project.

"The experience was very educational, yet it was also pretty fun," said NHS sophomore John Major stated when asked his opinion of the field experiences. "I enjoyed applying the knowledge we gained in class to real-world environments."

"The Cove Run project was an excellent way to not only learn about the different problems that current aquatic ecosystems are undergoing, but ways to solve these problems and why we should do something about it," added junior Elizabeth Green.

Plans are in place to both continue and expand this project. Trees have been planted along Cove Run and one of its tributaries on the properties of Jim Margroff and Bob Bender by the DNR Inland Fisheries Service. Habitat Forever will soon begin fencing the stream within a cattle pasture on Bender's property. This project will allow numerous current and future NHS students to learn about and understand how to protect the natural resources found in Garrett County.

School official say that the Cove Run Brook Trout Restoration Project would not have been possible without the help and contributions of the Maryland DNR, NRCS, Garrett Soil Conservation District, YRWA, California University of Pennsylvania Habitat Forever LLC – A Pheasants Forever Company, Stitchin' (Accident), Youghiogheny Chapter of Trout Unlimited, Department of Juvenile Services Meadow Mountain Youth Camp, National Wild Turkey Federation, and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Thanks are also extended to the Dennis Margroff family, Steve Margroff family, Jim Margroff family, and Bob Bender family for making this student learning project possible.

Local Students Take Second In Regional Stock Market Game

Southern High School students Wyatt McBee, Kevin Colaw, and Mikail Perrine recently captured second place in the western region spring session competition of the Stock Market Game™.

This game is taught at Southern High by Athena Wilson, organized by the Maryland Council on Economic Education (MCEE), and sponsored locally by Rob Sharps of PrimeVest Financial of First United Bank and Trust. PrimeVest has sponsored teams locally for over 17 years and has seen several state as well as regional winners from Southern High School.

In the competition, all teams begin with an imaginary $100,000, which they use over a 10-week period to invest in corporations in the New York, American, and NASDAQ markets in an attempt to increase the size of their portfolio. The team of McBee, Colaw, and Perrine completed the event with a portfolio valued at $120,156 – enough for a second place finish for the high school division in the competition.

The Stock Market Game™ requires student teams to formulate daily or weekly decisions about the direction of the markets, make choices about buying or selling corporate stocks, and enter trades on the Internet. Periodically, students receive their team's portfolio statement, which shows how their team ranks compared to all of the other teams in the Maryland/Washington, D.C., region and their school system, as well as the current value of their stocks.

Prizes range from a plaque for first place to a certificate for participation.

The MCEE offers the Stock Market Game™ to students and teachers throughout Maryland and Washington each spring and fall.

According to a spokesperson, the game is an educational simulation that teaches about the stock markets, the American economic system, and the global economy. Participants develop skills in math, language arts, research and critical thinking, while building and maintaining a stock portfolio. It is used in grades 4-12, college courses, and by those who seek to learn more about investing.

Since 1977, almost 10 million students have participated in this national program, while 1,017 teams from Maryland and Washington participated in the program through the MCCE for the spring 2012 competition.

More information concerning the Stock Market Game™ may be obtained from Athena Wilson at Southern High School or from Rob Sharps at PrimeVest, First United. Information about the MCEE and MCFL may be found at www.econed.org and www.mdfinancialskills.org.

William B. Grant, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of First United Bank & Trust, has announced the promotion of Josh Bosley to vice president and commercial loan officer.

Before becoming a commercial lending officer with First United, Bosley was a commercial lines account officer with First United Insurance Group.

Bosley graduated cum laude with a bachelor of business administration/management degree from Shenandoah University and also received the Harry F. Byrd Jr. School of Business Distinguished Best for Business Award. He has attended the Hartford School of Insurance, American Bankers Association National Lending School, and the Maryland Banking School, from which he graduated with honors and received the Lillian T. Moffat Award for being at the top of his class. Most recently he received the Next Leaders in Banking Award from the Maryland Bankers Association and The Maryland Banker magazine.

"Josh's expertise and experience in lending has made him a tremendous asset to the bank, and his dedication to the bank shows daily in his work," Grant said. "He has been a key member of the commercial lending department staff, and this promotion recognizes the important contributions he has made to improving the performance of the bank."

Bosley resides with his wife Jill and daughter McNeely in Mtn. Lake Park. He is the current president of the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club.

First United Corporation operates one full-service commercial bank, First United Bank & Trust, which has a network of community offices in Garrett, Allegany, Washington, and Frederick counties in Maryland, and Mineral, Hardy, Berkeley, and Monongalia counties in West Virginia.

On Dean's List

Abbigayle Smith, Oakland, has been named to Chatham University's dean's list for the 2012 spring term. She is a fourth-year student at CU, which is located in Pittsburgh, Pa.

To eligible for the dean's list, students must carry a grade point average of at least 3.5 and complete a minimum of 12 credits for a letter grade.

Biology Professor To Speak At Mtn. Laurel Club Mtg.

The Mountain Laurel Garden Club will meet on Tuesday, June 19, at 10:30 at Dutch's at Silver Tree, Deep Creek Lake. The meeting will include a presentation by guest Kevin Dodge on "The Reptiles and Amphibians of Garrett County."

"The forests, streams, and wetlands of the county are home to a variety of interesting reptiles and amphibians, including an especially rich diversity of salamanders," said a club spokesperson. "Kevin's presentation will introduce members to a number of species frequently found in our area, as well as to some less common species unique in Maryland to Garrett County."

He will also talk about the Maryland Amphibian and Reptile Atlas project currently under way in the state.

Dodge received his bachelor of science degree in biology from Southwest Missouri State University in 1981 and his master of science degree in biology from Michigan Technological University in 1983.

Since 1987, he has worked at Garrett College, where he is professor of wildlife and biology, and director of the Natural Resources and Wildlife Technology program. Dodge's courses emphasize field experience, and many classes include field trips to other parts of the Mid-Atlantic/Central Appalachian region.

Active in natural resources issues in Garrett County and the surrounding area, Dodge is president of the Allegheny Highlands Conservancy, a board member of the Youghiogheny River Watershed Association, and a member of the Savage River State Forest Citizens' Advisory Board and the Garrett County Commissioners' Marcellus Shale Natural Gas Advisory Committee. He is a frequent local consultant to the Nature Conservancy.

He has traveled extensively, studying the natural history of many locations, including Arizona and Alaska.

Dodge lives in Bittinger with his wife Carolina and their daughter Rhiannon.

REPTILES AND AMPHIBIANS of Garrett County will be the topic of biology professor Kevin Dodge's presentation during the Mountain Laurel Garden Club meeting on Tuesday, June 19, at 10:30 a.m. at Dutch's at Silver Tree. See story.

The Mountain Laurel Garden Club is a member of the Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland Inc., the Central Atlantic Region, and the National Garden Clubs, Inc. Affiliated clubs provide education, resources, and national networking opportunities for members as well as promote gardening, floral design, and civic and environmental responsibility. Winners Of 2013 Residential Refuse Permits Announced

The Garrett County Department of Solid Waste and Recycling has announced the winners of its recent survey: John Farmer, Renee Bone, and Paul Stipe. They were selected by computer using a random selection program and will receive 2013 residential refuse permits when they go on sale on Oct. 1, 2012.

When the 2012 permits went on sale last October, customers were invited to participate in a survey. The survey was used to gather information about the users of the collection sites around the county, and it gave citizens the opportunity to share their ideas and concerns with the Department of Solid Waste and Recycling.

Anyone who completed a survey online was automatically entered in a random drawing for a chance to receive a 2013 permit absolutely free.

Those who did not participate in the 2012 survey may still express their concerns and ideas with Solid Waste and Recycling by contacting the Garrett County Landfill, 3118 Oakland Sang Run Road Oakland, MD 21550, calling 301-387-0322, or e-mailing solidwaste@garrettcounty.org.

On Dean's List

Jennifer George of Oakland was named to the spring 2012 dean's list at the University of Charleston. The list recognizes full-time students who earn a grade point average of 3.5 or higher.

The University of Charleston is a small, private college with approximately 1,400 students from 31 states and 26 countries. It offers 24 undergraduate majors, master's programs in business and physician assistant studies, and a doctorate in pharmacy.

Crellin Brethren Church To Hold VBS Next Week

Crellin United Brethren in Christ will hold vacation Bible school next week, June 18–22, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. There will be classes ranging from prekindergarten to teen.

This year's theme is "Babylon: Daniel's Courage in Captivity."

"Kids will be taken on journeys with Daniel as he is arrested, tested, and even put in a lions' den, yet still retains an awesome faith in God," said a church spokesperson. "We will have games, refreshments, crafts, songs, and fun each night. Be sure to join in and bring a friend."

For more information, persons may call the church office at 301-334-1870.

Ask The Everyday Scientist

TIRE WEAR
by Dr. Tom Sheahen

Q. Where does the rubber go that wears off automobile tires?

A. Your question presents the opportunity to show how chemists and physicists do approximate calculations, by combining reasonable hypotheses with available input data. The intent is not to reach a precise numerical answer, but to understand what is happening. The following calculation shows how the repetition of a huge number of very tiny events adds up over time.

Visualize a standard automobile tire: on a 15-inch wheel, the outer diameter (D) of the tire is about 25 inches. A circle drawn around the circumference (C) is then $C = 25\pi = 78.5" = 6.5$ feet. As that tire rolls along for one mile, it rotates 806.7 times. Separately, the width (W) of such a tire tread is about 7.5", but for now just think about the circle.

Real rubber is actually a complex polymer, but we'll use the simple chemical formula CH_2, which gives the overall elemental analysis without specifying any details of the molecule. Again, take note of the simplifying approximation.

Now here comes the major hypothesis for this calculation: Suppose that each time a point on the circumference of the tire exactly touches the pavement, one molecule of CH_2 comes off. (A real tire isn't a perfect mathematical circle, it's slightly squishy on the bottom; but it's close enough.)

In 40,000 miles, about 32 million revolutions take place, so that's 3.2 x 107 monolayers of CH_2 molecules gone. Next we calculate what is the thickness of the amount worn away.

In chemistry, one mole of a substance is defined as one gram-molecular-weight, which always contains 6×10^{23} molecules. For CH_2, that equals 14 grams. Rubber is denser than water, about 1.1 to 1.2 grams per cubic centimeter, which means that 14 grams of rubber occupies about 12 cm^3. In that case, each CH_2 molecule is entitled to occupy 2×10^{-23} cm3 = 20×10^{-24} cm3. Molecules don't pack together precisely, but to keep the calculation simple, imagine this volume is an exact cube, in which case taking the cube root of the volume gives a side length of 2.7×10^{-8} cm. (Here again, a "good enough" approximation.)

Wearing away one of those little volumes on every revolution for 40,000 miles works out to about 7/8 cm = 0.34" = 11/32". Such a tire has become bald.

However, always bear in mind that if the initial hypothesis were inaccurate, wear could be slower and a better tire might run farther.

How much total rubber goes away? That involves the tire width, typically W = 7.5". The surface area is then πDW = 589 in^2 = 0.38 m^2. Correcting for tread gaps where rubber doesn't touch the pavement, call it 1/3 m^2. With 7/8 cm of thickness worn away, the volume removed is 3,000 cm^3. Using density = 1.15 g/cm^3, the mass is 3.4 kg = 7.4 pounds. In other words, a worn-out tire weighs about 7 pounds less than a new tire.

What becomes of that rubber? A loose molecule of CH_2 isn't going to just sit on the pavement; it will rub off hot and presumably combine with O_2 in the air to form CO_2 + H_2O. Consequently, we can figure how much additional CO_2 goes into the atmosphere.

Cars have four tires, the average car goes about 15,000 miles per year, and there are about 100 million cars in America. So the rubber lost from one tire can be scaled up to a national total: 3.4 kg x 4 x (15,000/40,000) x 100 million = 5×10^8 kg. With 1 mole of CH_2 being 0.014 kg, that amounts to about 3.6×10^{10} moles of CH_2. Since there is one carbon/molecule, that will produce 3.6×10^{10} moles of CO_2.

Given that a mole of CO_2 is 44 grams, that much CO_2 has a mass of 1.6×10^9 kg. A tonne, or "metric ton," is defined as 1,000 kg, so that's 1.6 million metric tons, a convenient unit when talking about big quantities. By the way, throw in a guess about trucks, including 18-wheelers, and that estimate will nearly double.

Fortunately, that much CO_2 is nothing to be concerned about. Last year emissions from all sources in America were about 6,000 million metric tons, according to an estimate by the U.S. Energy Information Administration.

What is the value of all this calculation? My purpose is to illustrate how scientists perform approximate estimates. But there is also one relevant conclusion that may be drawn: CO_2-wise, tire wear is a drop in the bucket.

Kids often consider that Dad knows little and understands even less. Young adults, however, begin to admire Dad's wisdom and marvel at his intelligence. It's clear that in most cases, Dad didn't change at all. It was the son or daughter who learned in those few years...Dad knows best.

So it is with our Father in Heaven. Many of us attended worship and bible classes as children. Perhaps in our late teens some of us unfortunately veered away. This Father's Day as we honor our earthly Dads, let us rededicate our lives to our Heavenly Father as we worship Him. Remember that He is wise even when we are not, and be thankful.

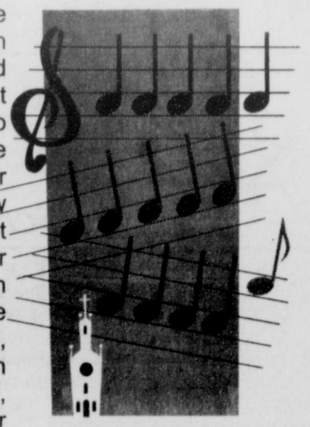
GET OFF THE HEDONIC TREADMILL



Have you ever noticed that the raise in pay which thrilled you beyond measure when first received begins to go flat after a couple of weeks or months? After a few months, you are not discernibly happier with the increase in pay than you were before. Likewise, new pleasures soon become humdrum, as we adapt or "habituate" to them. Psychologists call this adaptation with regard to pleasures the "hedonic treadmill." One way to avoid this is to seek variety. Very few of us want to eat our favorite food three times a day, and if we want to continue enjoying it, it probably makes sense to limit how often we have it. Lifelong hobbies will continue to give pleasure if we vary them in some way, perhaps learning new and better techniques which are relevant to the hobby. Music, literature, and the arts are wonderful sources of pleasure, but no one wants to hear the same song over and over again. Variety is truly the spice of life. Consider how rich the world is with tastes and sounds and sights just waiting to be savored.

Delight yourself also in the Lord, and he shall give you the desires of your heart.

Singing with the stars: Celebrities perform with unknowns in 'Duets'

By Kyla Brewer
TV Media

Talent search shows are nothing new, and the genre has experienced a resurgence in popularity, thanks to Fox's ratings juggernaut "American Idol."

Series such as "Idol" and NBC's "The Voice" follow hopefuls as they perform for superstar judges and mentors such as Jennifer Lopez, Blake Shelton and Christina Aguilera. Simon Cowell's upcoming season of "The X Factor" will even feature controversial pop star Britney Spears on the judging panel.

However, while "Idol" and "Voice" certainly clean up in prime time, one series is offering viewers even more. In ABC's "Duets," which airs Wednesdays, the stars don't just sit behind a desk and critique performances. They perform alongside the singers they've hand picked to compete on the show.

Quddus hosts this truly one-of-a-kind singing competition, which follows the undiscovered talents in their quest for fame. Mentors Kelly Clarkson, John Legend, Jennifer Nettles and Robin Thicke get in on the action and take the stage with their musical charges, adding a whole new element of excitement for both contestants and viewers. It also allows the mentors to experience exactly what the contestants go through each week.

There's a lot at stake for the aspiring singers. In each episode, they test their vocal chops against some of the best in the business in front of a live studio audience. After a series of eliminations, only one singer will remain to claim a lucrative recording contract with Hollywood Records.

Former host of MTV's "Total Request Live," Quddus was a natural choice to host the show.

"From the moment I met Quddus, I knew he would be the perfect host for 'Duets,' " explained executive producer Robert Deaton. "He first and foremost loves music, and that quality, combined with his great personality, will provide a special connection to both the artists on our show and the audience."

But, while TV personality Quddus is a star in his own right, the superstar singers are undeniably the show's main draw.

Clarkson knows a thing or two about TV talent searches. She got her big break on another television show when she won the inaugural season of "American Idol" in 2002. While many other "American Idol" winners haven't fared so well in the big, bad music biz, Clarkson's mix of talent and charm quickly elevated her to superstar status. Her debut single "A Moment Like This" broke the Beatles' record for the biggest jump to No. 1 on the Billboard Top 100 chart when it leaped from No. 52. Her very first album "Thankful" (2003) debuted at No. 1 on the American Billboard 200.

Clarkson's career has had its ups and downs in the decade since her big TV win, but she has become one of the most successful "Idol" winners to date, with album sales topping 23 million, two Grammy awards, 12 Billboard Music Awards and four American Music Awards.

Country music star Nettles will also mentor young singers and perform. As one half of the country band Sugarland, she's well acquainted with the dynamic of a duo. Nettles even had a huge duet hit in 2006 with the country version of Bon Jovi's "Who Says You Can't Go Home," which rose to No. 1 on the Billboard country charts. She and Sugarland partner Kristian Bush made history when they ended Brooks & Dunn's nine-year run as the Academy of Country Music's Vocal Duo of the Year when they won the award in 2009.

Thicke, son of famed Canadian actor and comedian Alan Thicke, may not be instantly recognizable to many viewers, but he's been a force in the music industry since he was just 16. Back then, the young Thicke wrote songs for such artists as Brandy and Brian McKnight, as well as the band Color Me Badd. By the time he was 21, he'd worked on gold and platinum albums by Michael Jackson, Pink and Christina Aguilera.

It was no surprise to industry insiders when Thicke's debut album "A Beautiful World" (2003) wowed critics. But it was his 2006 release "The Evolution of Robin Thicke" that produced the mega-hit "Lost Without U." His other releases include "Something Else" (2008) and, most recently, "Love After War" (2011).

John Legend as seen in "Duets"

Legend was the last of the superstars to join the "Duets" cast at the end of April. He stepped in to take over for music legend Lionel Richie, who reportedly left the show over "personal scheduling conflicts," according to "Entertainment Weekly." A multi-platinum singer/songwriter, Legend is known for such hits as "Shine" and "Green Light." He's well known for his collaborations with such luminaries as Kanye West, Jay-Z and Alicia Keyes.

The multiple Grammy winner hardly needs the exposure, but was nonetheless excited about his new TV project "Duets" when it was announced.

"I'm thrilled to be part of 'Duets' and I'm looking forward to finding an undiscovered gem out there," said Legend. "This is going to be a lot of fun."

Fun, sure. And lots of hard work, too, apparently. Not only do the superstars perform with their charges, they also did a lot of the legwork to find them. Unlike NBC's "The Voice," which brings talented unknowns to the mentors, Clarkson, Legend, Thicke and Nettles were sent on a cross-country trek to find their own duet partners. After an exhaustive search, eight young amateur singers, ranging in age from 21 to 37, were chosen to participate in the program.

Each of the celebrity mentors has something special to offer. Legend's popularity and Thicke's history in the business are valuable assets. Find out whether or not Clarkson's experience on reality TV will help her proteges, or if Nettles' expertise as one half of a duo will give her pupils the edge in "Duets," airing Wednesdays on ABC.

Feast your eyes

'Top Chef Masters' sure to serve up a treat

By Andrew Warren
TV Media

FEAST YOUR EYES: Celebrity chef Curtis Stone ("America's Next Great Restaurant") will be returning to the hosting duties for this, the fourth season of the popular spinoff of cooking competition show "Top Chef." In "Top Chef Masters," world-renowned chefs will face off in a fierce competition to win money for their chosen charities and to be granted the coveted title of Top Chef Master.

The knives will be out as Stone leads the 12 competitors through several weeks of intense culinary competition, starting with the premiere on July 25.

Joining Stone will be a handful of culinary critics, some returning from previous seasons and others making their first foray into the "Top Chef" kitchen.

Fans of the previous three seasons will be happy to see James Oseland back at the judges' table. Besides serving as a critic in each of the other seasons, Oseland is probably best known as the editor-in-chief of the popular gourmet magazine "Saveur."

Also returning this season is Ruth Reichl, co-producer of PBS's "Gourmet's Diary of a Foodie." Her time as a food critic with "The New York Times" has given her a razor-sharp eye for detail and perfection.

Joining the two seasoned veterans are food journalist Krista Simmons and Francis Liam, editor of "Gilt Taste" magazine.

But it's not just food writers and culinary critics behind the judges table. Among the celebrities who will be feasting on the contestants' decadent dishes are legendary boxer Sugar Ray Leonard, folk rock duo Indigo Girls and Olympic gold medalist Brian Boitano.

With its melange of knowledgeable judges, celebrity appearances, a charming host and top-tier chefs, the fourth season of "Top Chef Masters" is shaping up to be a television feast.

It's an Indiana Jones-a-thon as USA airs all four epic films back to back. Harrison Ford stars as the legendary archaeologist who travels the world to track down priceless artifacts. Steven Spielberg directs all four of these incredible films.

Milwaukee IndyFest
4 4 1:00 p.m.
ABC kicks off an afternoon of turbo-charged auto racing with the Milwaukee IndyFest event from the Milwaukee Mile. Later, racing fans can enjoy some NASCAR action with coverage of the Alliance Truck Parts 250 from the Michigan International Speedway.

Lower's Pro
8 11 (11) 12 1:00 p.m.
With sunny summer days on the horizon, surfers from all over the world compete at the Lower's Pro in Trestles, Calif. NBC brings viewers the excitement of the event, which has become one of the most prestigious competitions in the sport of surfing.

Piranhaconda
43 SYFY 9:00 p.m.
Another Roger Corman film comes to Syfy with this tale of a hybrid creature that is half piranha and half anaconda. After her egg is stolen, the creature attacks a film crew, which must outrun the deadly creature. Michael Madsen and Rachel Hunter star.

The Firm
6 6 8 11 (11) 12 10:00 p.m.
Mitch receives an offer he can't refuse when Joey Morolto proposes that the McDeeres and the Moroltos will be square if he defends his best friend. Elsewhere, Abby makes an unexpected discovery about herself as she tries to save her mother's charity.

Molly Parker stars in "The Firm"

Ball Boys
4 4 5:00 p.m.
Senior has a big decision to make and he gets some help from NFL Hall of Famer Warren Moon. Determined to improve his reputation, Sweet Lou tries to secure a 1972 Dolphins helmet. Also, the boys are offered a share of the Green Bay Packers.

The Good Wife
2 2 5 9:00 p.m.
Alicia returns in this rebroadcast featuring a special guest appearance by "House's" Lisa Edelstein as Will's ex. After Alicia's key witness commits suicide, the only person who can salvage her case is Colin Sweeney. Also, Eli makes big moves.

Family Guy
10 6 9:00 p.m.
Ricky Gervais guest stars as the voice of a dolphin Peter encounters while trying to salvage a sunken car. The dolphin soon moves in with Peter, and Peter tries to reunite the sea creature with his ex-wife so he'll return to the ocean.

Sister Wives
58 TLC 9:00 p.m.
Cameras reveal the challenges and joys faced by Kody Brown and his wives Meri, Janelle, Christine and Robyn as they raise their children in their unconventional family. Later, the Browns answer questions about their multiple-marriage lifestyle.

Longmire
37 A&E 10:00 p.m.
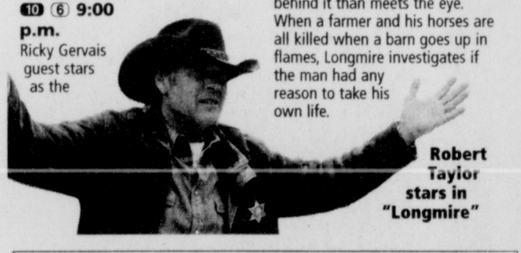
Sheriff Walt Longmire is convinced that a local barn fire has more behind it than meets the eye. When a farmer and his horses are all killed when a barn goes up in flames, Longmire investigates if the man had any reason to take his own life.



Robert Taylor stars in "Longmire"

Late Laughs

organic bean sprouts has the same effect as driving 1,000 miles in a Prius.

The Late, Late Show:

Craig Ferguson

It's Memorial Day, although it's not a good day for America's favorite Canadian, Justin Bieber. He's wanted for questioning by the Los Angeles sheriff's department. Apparently Bieber had an altercation with a photographer. Now Justin's on the lam -- he's considered armed and adorable.

It's not such a great day for fans of the game show "Jeopardy," which is everybody. Alex Trebek says he may retire at the end of the season. Trebek says he wants to spend more time at home, arrogantly correcting his family.

It was announced today that they're auctioning off the Elvis tomb. The auction house in Memphis actually is selling the place where Elvis left the building. He's not in there, of course, because he's working in a gas station in Henderson, Nev.

Moments in time
THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On June 21, 1788, New Hampshire becomes the ninth and last necessary state to ratify the Constitution of the United States, thereby making the document the law of the land. Massachusetts had initially opposed the document as it failed to reserve undelegated powers to the states.

• On June 23, 1902, German automaker Daimler-Motoren-Gesellschaft (DMG) first registers "Mercedes" as a brand name. The famous Mercedes symbol, a three-point star, was registered as a trademark in 1909. • On June 24, 1915, young German fighter pilot Oswald Boelcke makes the first operational flight of the Fokker Eindecker plane. The Fokker was equipped with machine guns that could fire straight ahead through the aircraft's propellers. The precise timing of the propeller blades allowed them to avoid being struck by the machine gun bullets.

• On June 18, 1923, the first Checker Cab rolls off the line at the Checker Cab Manufacturing Company in Kalamazoo, Mich. The shipment stood out as a major landmark in the history of the company, which by then employed some 700 people.

• On June 19, 1953, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, who were convicted of conspiring to pass U.S. atomic secrets to the Soviets, are executed by the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison in Ossining, N.Y. Both refused to admit any wrongdoing and proclaimed their innocence right up to the time of their deaths. • On June 22, 1964, Dan Brown, author of the international blockbuster "The Da Vinci Code" as well as other best-selling thrillers, is born in New Hampshire. BrownÕs novels are known for involving symbols, conspiracies and secret societies. His first novel, "Digital Fortress," was published in 1998.

• On June 20, 1980, in a match in Montreal, Roberto Duran out-points "Sugar" Ray Leonard to win the World Boxing Council welterweight title. Yet, five months later in a rematch, with less than 30 seconds left in the eighth round, Duran looked at the referee and famously uttered the words "no mas" or "no more," giving up.

Strange BUT TRUE

• It was pop art icon Andy Warhol who made the following sage observation: "It's the movies that have really been running things in America since they were invented. They show you what to do, how to do it, when to do it, how to feel about it, and how to look when you feel about it."

• If you were like the average rabbit, you would take 18 naps every day.

• You probably know that the 1939 film "The Wizard of Oz" was based on the book "The Wonderful Wizard of Oz" by L. Frank Baum. You may not realize, though, that Baum wrote a total of 14 Oz books between 1900 and 1920. The series continued even after the author's death; Ruth Plumly Thompson produced one Oz book every year between 1921 and 1939.

•Those who study such things say that wine was being drunk more than 7,000 years ago, in ancient Sumeria.

• When the Coca-Cola Company first started marketing its product in China, the advertisements used Chinese symbols to spell out the brand's name phonetically. It was only after the ads had been published that the marketers learned that those symbols spelled out the phrase "bite the wax tadpole."

• The manufacture of a single domestic automobile requires the use of a whopping 39,000 gallons of water.

• Every year, about 10 percent of the world's population visits a zoo. In the United States, though, about half of us make such a visit annually.

• Most people have about 100,000 hairs on their head. It's not clear why, but redheads tend to have somewhat fewer hairs -- about 90,000 -- while blondes have more.

Q: When my family bought our first TV during the early 1950s, it was essential that it also had a TV light that provided illumination, but not so much that it distracted from the sharpness of the picture. The lamp we had featured the image of a black panther. I still have it, and before I throw or give it away, please advise me. -- Peggy, Naperville, Ill.

A: I, too, remember the old TV lamps. The one I recall featured a design of two Siamese cats, probably inspired by Si and Am from "Lady and the Tramp." Most TV lamps sell in the $25 to $35 range, but as with most collectibles there are always exceptions. Recently I saw a "cowboy and horse" TV lamp from the 1950s priced at $150 in a fancy Scottsdale, Ariz., shop.

Q: I recently found a "Wrinkle Proof" iron with stand, model NE909. It is operational, and I wonder how much it is worth. -- John, Albuquerque, N.M.

A: I always hesitate to answer questions about older irons, since when I do, it almost always triggers dozens of others. So before you dust off the iron at your house and contact me, read this response carefully. Most "sad irons" are selling in the $15 to $25 range. Although there is interest in some of the older, more unusual irons, demand for them is not as hot as it was several years ago before our economy tanked.

David Irons is an expert and might be able to help you. Contact him at 223 Covered Bridge Road, Northhampton, PA 18067; dave@ironsantiques.com; and 610-262-9335. Irons has written what I believe is the definitive book about vintage irons, "Irons by Irons," which can be ordered directly from him.

Q: I have an original one sheet of "Rebel Without a Cause" that I got from our little neighborhood theater in 1955. What do you think it is worth? I have been offered $1,000 for it. -- Bill, St. Charles, Mo.

A: L'Imagerie Gallery in Hollywood is offering one for sale priced at $4,000. Keep in mind that condition is extremely important. If there are rips, tears or stains ... need I go any further? Write to Larry Cox in care of King Features Weekly Service, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475, or send e-mail to questionsforcox@aol.com. Due to the large volume of mail he receives, Mr. Cox is unable to personally answer all reader questions. Do not send any materials requiring return mail.

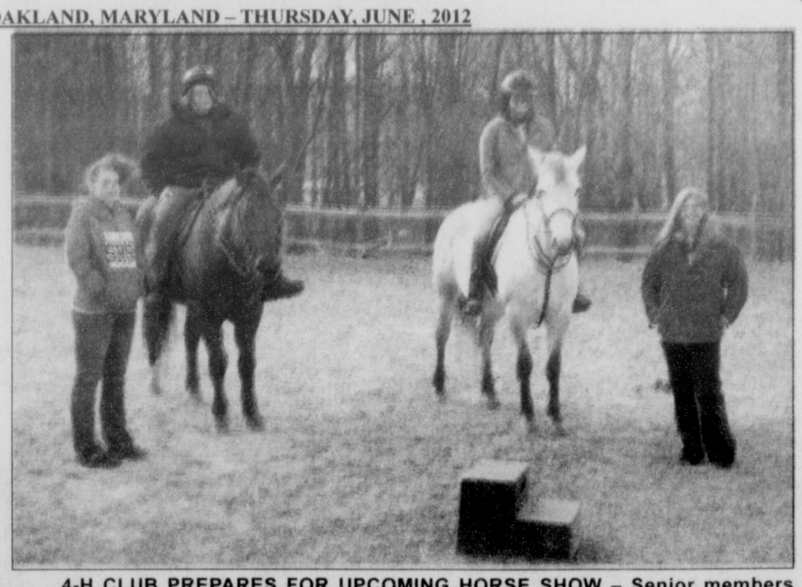
4-H Club News



4-H CLUB PREPARES FOR UPCOMING HORSE SHOW – Senior members of the Garrett Hoofprints 4-H Club recently demonstrated show ring etiquette, showmanship, and other aspects necessary to successfully participate in a horse show, all in preparation for upcoming events. Pictured, left to right, are Christine Welch, Kelsey VanSickle riding Bunz, Kathelyn Hanek riding Bee, and Cari Zbel. The club will host the first of three horse shows on Sunday, June 24, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds. Beginning at 9 a.m., the club will offer competition classes for riders of all ages and experience levels, in both English and western riding, as well as a number of game classes. The entry fee is $5 per class, and 4-H membership is not required. There is no admission fee for spectators, who are encouraged to bring their own seating. The Hoofprints will have refreshments available for purchase. For more information, persons may call the club at 301-746-8259, 301-387-4405, or 301-501-0777.

BEAR CREEK
by Jordan Diehl, reporter

The Bear Creek 4-H Club met at the Accident Town Park for its monthly meeting on June 10.

The meeting was called to order by President Brittany Diehl. Baird Mead and Adam Diehl led the pledges. Roll call was answered by eight members.

Club members discussed a request from former 4-H members Darryl and Elliott Glotflelty to raise funds for orphans in Honduras. It was decided that funds will be collected from neighbors and family, and are to be turned in at the next meeting.

Baird Mead gave a demonstration on fly fishing, and Jill Wood gave a demonstration on her dog Axle.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, July 30, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds at 4 p.m.

GARRETT HOOFPRINTS
by Brianna LeMay, reporter

The Garrett Hoofprints 4-H Club met on May 14 at club leader Mary VanSickle's home. After pledges, club secretary Gertrude Tesar completed the roll call and read last month's meeting minutes. Old business discussed included horse bowl team results and individual awards.

Members were informed of horse bowl practices being held the fourth Monday of every month this summer at 6:30 p.m. at the Extension Office for anyone who interested.

Members were reminded of the Spring Weigh-In and that fair books will be available soon. Also noted was the fair clean-up, and club members discussed arranging a horse clinic this summer.

Kaitlyn Crissinger gave a demonstration on cow bobbing. Nancy Zbel provided handouts on English and Western saddles and spoke of differences and similarities.

The fair booth committee met.

The next meeting will be on Thursday, June 21, at the Garrett College pool at 6 p.m.

NORTH GLADE
by Shawn Markwood, reporter

President Warren Wright called the May 16 meeting of the North Glade 4-H Club to order. Wyatt Wright led the pledges and gave the treasurer's report. Jacki Markwood read the minutes and took roll call.

Mariah Klotz was the highest seller for plants, and Warren and Wyatt Wright were the highest hoagie sellers. Mariah Klotz, Warren and Wyatt Wright, and Shawn Markwood helped with spirit night. Megan Custer, Ashton Chapman, Rachel, Patrick, and Michael Duggan, Mariah Klotz, and Warren and Wyatt Wright helped with cemetery and 4-H building clean-up.

Club members voted to help sponsor the rodeo. The drawing for tickets was to take place at the June meeting.

Tanner Droppleman gave a demonstration on "Broilers." He brought two live broilers for everyone to see. Melanie Custer spoke on HART needing dog treats, and the group mixed and cut several batches.

The club will staff a food booth on June 16 at an auction in the LaVale area.

Members were reminded of spring weigh-in and show.

Scholarship In Memory Of Simms Established By EAC

The Garrett County Extension Advisory Council (EAC) has established a scholarship in memory of Jim Simms. The scholarship fund will be used to provide 4-H youth camp scholarships.

Simms worked for 36 years with the University of Maryland Extension, establishing himself as the 4-H and agriculture educator and the county extension director for Garrett County. He served many years as the supervisor of the Western Maryland 4-H Education Center, a 4-H camp providing outdoor education for youth and families.

A graduate of West Virginia University, Simms was founder and former owner of Green Acres Garden Center, past president of the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club, and a member of the Oakland Elks Lodge 2481. He was also an avid supporter of WVU sports.

Donations to the Jim Simms Scholarship Fund may be sent to Garrett County EAC, 1916 Maryland Highway, Suite A., Mtn. Lake Park, MD 21550.

Town Hall

MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK

Because only three candidates have filed for the office of town council member, the town of Mountain Lake Park did not hold a primary election on Tuesday, June 12, and will not hold a general election on Tuesday, July 10.

According to the town charter, if not more than six persons have filed as candidates for the office of council member, no primary election shall be held, and that in even-numbered years, if only three persons are nominated for council, there shall be no general election, and the three shall be declared elected by the Board of Supervisors of Elections and shall take office on the second Tuesday in July.

Earn Degrees At W.Va. Wesleyan

Two local students were among those who were awarded undergraduate degrees from West Virginia Wesleyan in May after completing their degree requirements during the 2012 spring semester.

Daniel Miller, Grantsville, graduated with a bachelor of science in physical education/secondary education degree.

Philip Adams, Oakland, graduated summa cum laude with a bachelor of science in biology degree.

Founded in 1890, West Virginia Wesleyan is a private residential college located in Buckhannon. The college offers 43 majors and graduate programs in athletic training, business, education, English, and nursing. Nine Wesleyan students have been selected as U.S. Department of State Fulbright Scholars.

Vitéz Recognized With 2012 Heise Spirit Award

Frank Vitéz of Phenix Technologies was named this year's winner of the Heise Entrepreneurial Spirit Award at the annual Garrett County Chamber of Commerce membership meeting and dinner, held on Thursday, June 7, at the Wisp Resort.

Martin Heise made a presentation to Vitéz, who is a native of Garrett County and a graduate of Northern High School. He joined American HV Test Systems at its startup in 1976, and was a founding member of Phenix Technologies in 1988, which purchased the assets of American HV Test Systems in 1989.

Vitéz has been president of Phenix since 1995, a company which currently employs approximately 130 people worldwide, with locations in Basel, Switzerland, and Taipei, Taiwan. He has been a member of the Garrett County Development Corporation since 1995, and is a member of the local Lean Forum, and the Greater Cumberland Committee. For more than 25 years, he has been an active member of various Garrett County educational committees which focus on machine tools, engineering, agriculture, and electronics.

Vitéz has been a supporter of Garrett Engineering and Robotics Society (GEARS) and various robotics teams. He is also owner-operator, with his son, of Vitéz Farms, which produces specialty crops, beef cattle, and timber. He has been a trustee of Mill Run Mercy Chapel since 1984, and has been married to his wife Rebecca since 1973. They have two children, son Ben Vitéz and daughter Jennifer Vitéz Wampler, as well as three grandchildren.

According to a spokesperson, winners of the Heise Entrepreneurial Spirit Award must have "originated and developed a business from inception, shown a willingness to take risks, shown community involvement, held high ethical standards, and demonstrated leadership by overcoming a formidable problem that threatened a business's existence or shown business acumen through embarking on a creative, insightful or overlooked opportunity that will make an important contribution to Garrett County's business environment through substantive community impact."

Each year, the Heise Entrepreneurial Spirit Award Committee, which is composed of previous winners, selects three nominees to be voted on by the general chamber membership.

Past honorees include Jonathan "Smiley" Kessler, Bill Sisler, Olen Beitzel, Johnny Marple, Jim Flanigan Sr., Will and Sharon Roszell, Barry Rush, Rob Michael, Dave and Mimi Demaree, Brenda McDonnell, Bill Meagher, Michael Deligatti Sr., and Jan Russell.

The 2012 Garrett County Chamber of Commerce membership meeting and dinner was sponsored by Clear Mountain Bank and Premier Power Solutions LLC.

Chamber Notes New Members, Executive Board

The Garrett County Chamber of Commerce announced the 2012-2013 board of directors and officers at its annual meeting, held last week. The organization also bade farewell to long-serving members at the get-together, which took place at Wisp Resort in McHenry.

The 2012-2013 board of directors members are Merlin Beitzel of Beitzel Corporation, Robert Browning of Deep Creek Outfitters Hardware & Bait House, Linda Carr of CLS Ventures Inc. (the Lake-Front Magazine), Judy Devlin of the Book Mark'et & Antique Mezzanine, Tony Doerr of Doerr Construction, Warren Glotfelty of Double G RV Park, Shane Grady of Boal & Associates P.C., Cristine Kepple of Kepple & Associates P.A., Ed Lytle of ERL Financial Services LLC, Patty Manown-Mash of Smiley's Sports Bar & Grill, Nancy Railey of Railey Mountain Lake Vacations, Phil Rodeheaver of First United Bank & Trust, Jan Russell of Savage River Lodge, Larry Sisler of Mountain Communications, and Pam Trickett of 104.5 FM WKHJ and 1050 AM WMSG.

The directors were elected by the chamber membership.

The 2012-2013 executive officers, elected by the board of directors, are as follows: Phil Rodeheaver, chairman; Merlin Beitzel, first vice chair; Patty Manown-Mash, second vice chair; Shane Grady, treasurer; and Jan Russell, secretary.

At the annual meeting, outgoing board chairman Tony Doerr was recognized and thanked for his leadership of the chamber for the past two years. Retiring board member Bob Nickel of Bill's Marine Service was also thanked for his service to the chamber for the past six years.

The event was sponsored by Clear Mountain Bank and Premier Power Solutions LLC.

The chamber's fiscal year begins July 1, 2012, and ends June 30, 2013.

For more information about the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, persons may go online to www.visitdeepcreek.com or call 301-387-4386.

Doerr will remain on the board of directors. See story. At right is chamber first vice chair Merlin Beitzel as he congratulates Doerr.

Bob Carney Named 2012 GC Chamber Volunteer Of The Yr.

The winner of the 2012 Volunteer of the Year Award was announced at the annual Garrett County Chamber of Commerce membership meeting and dinner, held last Thursday at Wisp Resort. Tony Doerr, chamber board chairman, made the presentation to this year's winner: Bob Carney of Long & Foster Real Estate.

Over the past year, Carney has served on the chamber's newly created Heritage Area advisory board and was instrumental in developing the Heritage Area Marketing Plan.

He offers his expertise in tourism and the community to help "grow" Garrett County heritage tourism, according to the chamber. Carney also serves on the chamber's Marketing Roundtable Committee and has assisted with many of the special initiatives launched by the group.

"We are delighted to present Bob Carney with the Volunteer of the Year Award as a token of our appreciation for all of the hours he has put in helping the chamber," said Nicole Christian, chamber president /CEO. "Bob is always quick to volunteer his services and goes above and beyond the call of duty. The chamber is very fortunate to have such tremendous support from our more than 100 volunteers, and we are lucky to have Bob Carney among those ranks."

The Volunteer of the Year Award is presented to an individual member who has provided outstanding service to the chamber for a particular program year. Carney was selected from the more than 100 volunteers who help support the chamber each year. The inaugural Volunteer of the Year award was presented last year to Bill Meagher of Lakeside Creamery.

COMMISSIONERS CELEBRATE FLAG DAY – In a recent public statement, the Garrett County Board of County Commissioners proclaimed that it would recognize June 14 as "Flag Day." In the statement, the commissioners invited "all citizens to join in the Pledge of Allegiance to our flag and nation." The commissioners also invited all citizens to participate in a June 14, 2012, celebration. Pictured from left are commissioners Gregan Crawford and Jim Raley, Rob Heilig, Sandy Blamble, Jean Cheshire, Sandy Tasker, commissioner Robert Gatto, and state delegate Wendell Beitzel.

Hydrogeologist Will Speak At YRWA Meeting

The public is invited to attend the next meeting of the Youghiogheny River Watershed Association, set for Tuesday, June 26, 7:30 p.m., at Garrett College, Continuing Education Building, Room 205.

The speaker will be David W. Bolton, director of the Hydrology and Hydrogeology Program of the Maryland Geological Survey. In addition to the presentation on underground geological structures in Garrett County and the Appalachian Mountains, Bolton will cover the hydrogeological groundwater methane study now beginning in Garrett County. Approximately 50 wells will be sampled for methane between June and October of this year.

"This is the best opportunity for Garrett Countians who are pro-drilling, opposed to drilling, or want to ensure best practices are followed if Marcellus shale gas drilling takes place to learn what the geology and groundwater structures are under our feet," said James "Smokey" Stanton, chair of the YRWA. "Understanding the geologic formations of the Marcellus shale and the Utica shale that underlies the Marcellus is necessary to develop this natural resource."

Stanton added that Bolton and his MGS staff of nine geologists and hydrogeologists have the scientific knowledge and skills to accurately describe and sample what often lies miles below the surface. Additionally, he said, the well- and groundwater sampling complements the surface water sampling now being done by the YRWA and other local watershed groups to establish baseline water quality information before drilling takes place.

Bolton and members of his staff will answer questions following the presentation, with the meeting scheduled to conclude at 9 p.m.

For more information about the meeting, persons may contact Stanton at 301-334-3788 or jamesrstanton@verizon.net.

4-H Broiler Show Results Released

A total of 27 Garrett County youth recently participated in the annual 4-H/FFA Broiler Show at the Garrett County Extension Office.

Southern States Oakland Cooperative Inc. donated the chicks to the participants, who raised them for eight weeks. The dressed bird samples were judged on several factors, including feed-to-meat conversion ratios, weight, and appearance. Participants were required to present two dressed bird samples and turn in a record sheet to complete the project.

The grand champion winner was Toby Grove, and the reserve grand champion was Jordon Grove.

Participants were as follows:

Bowman and recorded in Liber 394, folio 457, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland running then with the Northeastern margin of Old Route 219, South 39 degrees 02 minutes 30 seconds East 131.60 feet to an iron pipe, then South 43 degrees 53 minutes 30 seconds East 47.70 feet to an iron pin, then North 31 degrees 05 minutes East 209.50 feet to an iron pin on the Southwest margin of a 74 foot right of way (measured from centerline of road) of New Route 219 then with said Southwest margin North 58 degrees 55 minutes West 211.25 feet to an iron pipe, then with the boundary between Oscar Savage and David Bowman, South 18 degrees 25 minutes West 162.91 feet to the point of beginning, containing 0.8 acre, more or less.

THIRD: BEGINNING at an iron pin standing Northeast 19 feet from the centerline of Old Route 219, said pin being the Southeast corner of Parcel #2 and running with the Northeast margin of Old Route 219, South 68 degrees 29 minutes 15 seconds East 75.33 feet to an iron pin, then South 72 degrees 58 minutes 30 seconds East 101.40 feet to an iron pin, also the Southwest corner of the 1.25 acres deeded to Gary King and Debra King and recorded in Liber 387, folio 769, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, then with the boundary between King-Savage properties North 14 degrees 29 minutes 30 seconds East 197.92 feet to a stake and stone pile set on the Southwest margin of a 74 foot right-of-way (measured from centerline) of New U.S. Route 219 then running with said margin, North 58 degrees 55 minutes West 115.50 feet to an iron pin, then Northeast corner of Parcel #2, then with boundary between Parcels 2 and 3, South 31 degrees 05 minutes West 227.50 feet to the point of beginning, containing 0.7 acres, more or less.

EXCEPTING, HOWEVER, that portion, if any, of the above-described real estate which was heretofore conveyed to the State of Maryland for use of the State Roads Commission, by deed dated April 7, 1967 and recorded in Liber No. 278, folio 248, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, as shown on Plat Numbers 21545, 21546 and 31723, filed in the Plat Case File Numbers 204, 203 and 189, in the Office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

The above-described property (the "Property") being all the same property which was conveyed by the Grantor by the Deed of Trust dated and recorded as aforesaid.

TERMS OF SALE: The Property is being sold and will be conveyed free and clear of the lien of the above-referenced Deed of Trust and all subordi¬nate liens and encumbrances. The Property is being sold and will be conveyed "As Is, Where Is", without recourse, together with and subject to all applicable conditions, restric¬tions, covenants, limitations, rights of way, streets, alleys, reservations, easements, and appurtenances of record and subject also to all environmental conditions affecting the Property, if any. The undersigned Substitute Trustee makes no warranties or representations, express or implied, with respect to any matters concerning the Property, included but not limited to, condition of the Property, matters of survey or title, tenancies or parties in possession, zoning compliance, housing or other governmental or regulatory violations, etc.

A deposit of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($25,000.00) (the "Deposit") will be required at the time of sale in cash or by certified check or other form of payment acceptable to the undersigned Substitute Trustee in the said Substitute Trustee's sole discretion; the balance to be paid upon ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland; except that no deposit shall be required of the holder of the note secured by the Deed of Trust (or any controlled affiliate of the holder; collectively hereinafter the "Holder") where the Holder bids on the Property at the sale and payment of the purchase price by the Holder shall be made by crediting the purchase price against the foreclosure costs and expenses and the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust. Interest shall accrue on the unpaid balance of the purchase price at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date of sale to the date of Court ratification, and at the rate of twenty percent (20%) per annum from the date of Court ratification to the date of settlement. No interest shall accrue on the Deposit. If the successful bidder (the "Purchaser") fails to make settlement within fifteen (15) days following the date of Court ratification, time being of the essence thereto, the entire Deposit may, at the option of the undersigned Substitute Trustee, be forfeited and retained as liquidated damages and notice of said forfeiture shall be provided to the Purchaser by the Substitute Trustee. If the Deposit is not forfeited as liquidated damages, but is instead retained by the Substitute Trustee in escrow pending resale of the Property, the Property may be resold by the Substitute Trustee at the risk and expense of the defaulting Purchaser, and the Deposit thereafter shall be applied as required to any subsequently realized loss of the Substitute Trustee by virtue of the default by the said Purchaser and the required resale of the Property including any expenses incidental thereto. All taxes, water, and other public charges and assessments shall be pro-rated on and as of the date of said sale and shall be assumed thereafter by the Purchaser. Following the date of sale, all risk of loss to the Property shall be assumed by the Purchaser. The Purchaser shall pay the cost of all recordation taxes, transfer taxes (including but not limited to that agricultural land transfer tax imposed by Maryland Tax Property Code §13-302; which said tax may be applicable to the sale and transfer of the Property), document preparation and other costs of settlement. Any and all rents due and payable after the date of sale (but excluding any rents due and payable through the date of sale) from leases of all or any portion of the Property will be received and held by the Substitute Trustee as an accommodation only for the benefit of purchaser pending closing with all of said rents to be credited to purchaser at closing without interest thereon or deduction therefrom. Notwithstanding the immediately preceding sentence, nothing therein contained shall be construed to oblige the Substitute Trustee affirmatively to collect said rents.As an express condition of sale, the Purchaser shall be required to execute at the time of sale a Substitute Trustee's Auction Contract for Sale of Real Property in that form which shall be available for inspection on the date of sale or which may be inspected in advance upon request to the undersigned Trustee or on-line at http://www.schlos-slaw.com/docs/swagat.contract.pdf. The Purchaser shall be entitled to physical possession of the Property only after settlement; however, the Substitute Trustee assumes no responsibility to place the Purchaser in such possession of the Property. The undersigned specifically reserves the right to reject any bids submitted. The Substitute Trustee reserves the right at the sale to vary, modify, alter or qualify any of the foregoing terms or conditions of sale.

SUBSTITUTED TRUSTEES' SALE OF REAL PROPERTY
KNOWN AS NO. 36 LEE LANE
FRIENDSVILLE, MD 21531
CASE NUMBER 11-C-12-012458

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a Deed of Trust from Beatrice B. Artice and Barbara Jane Oravitz recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber 1188, folio 539, and Declaration of Substitution of Trustees recorded among the aforementioned Land Records substituting Thomas P. Dore, Mark S. Devan, Gerard F. Miles Jr., Shannon Menapace, and Erin Gloth as Substituted Trustees, the Substituted Trustees will offer for sale at public auction, at the Courthouse Door, Alder Street entrance, Oakland, Maryland on Monday, July 2, 2012, at 03:20 p.m.

All that lot of ground and the improvements thereon situate in Garrett County, State of Maryland, as described in the Deed of Trust recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, in Liber 1188, folio 539, also being further described in a Deed recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber 1024, folio 776. The improvements thereon consist of a dwelling.

The property will be sold in "AS IS" condition, subject to any existing building violations, restrictions and agreements of record. Neither the Substituted Trustees nor their respective agents, successors or assigns make any representations or warranties, either expressed or implied with respect to the property. The Substituted Trustees shall convey insurable title.

TERMS OF THE SALE: A deposit in a form acceptable to the Substituted Trustee in the amount of $7,000.00 will be required of the purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns, at the time and place of sale. Unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, the balance of the purchase price shall be paid immediately with available funds within twenty (20) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Time is of the essence. The purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns, shall pay interest at the rate of 7.12500% per annum on the unpaid portion of the purchase price from the date of sale to date of settlement. Real property taxes and assessments shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser, unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, in which case, no adjustments shall be made. Ground rent, water and/or sewer charges public or private, if any, shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser, unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, in which case, no adjustments shall be made. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property.

In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. If the purchaser defaults, the entire deposit is forfeited. The Substituted Trustees shall resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorney fees, all other charges due, and incidental and consequential damages.

In the event the Substituted Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser's sole remedy is return of the deposit. The Substituted Trustees shall have the right to terminate this contract in the event the Holder or its Servicer has entered into any agreement with, or accepted funds from, the mortgagor. Upon termination of the contract, Purchaser's sole remedy shall be return of the deposit.

(ii) Lot No. 49 on the "Survey Plat for Sweet Rewards Farm, Phase I, Part II," recorded September 12, 2005, in Plat Case DKM File 3, pages 224 A-C;

(iii) Lot No. 15 as shown on the "Plat of Survey For Sweet Rewards Farm Phase IV-Lot 15" dated July 24, 2008 and recorded in Plat Case SRB1, at File 437; and

(iv) those certain roads and common areas of Sweet Rewards Farm conveyed by deed, dated August 15, 2008, and recorded August 20, 2008 in Liber No. 1384, folio 448.

Being part of the land conveyed by Raymond W. Klotz to Donald J. Adams and Pamela J. Adams, husband and wife, by deed dated May 25, 2002, and recorded June 5, 2002 among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, in Liber No. 899, folio 155.

TERMS OF SALE: The Trustees reserve the right to offer and sell the Property as an entirety, in individual lots, or in alternate grouping of lots. A deposit in the amount of $75,000.00 shall be required at the time and place of sale in order to bid on the entirety. A deposit in the amount of $15,000.00 shall be required at the time and place of sale in order to bid on each lot offered individually, and for each lot if offered in a grouping. All deposits must be made payable in cash, certified check or other form acceptable to the Trustees and will be required at the time and place of sale. The Properties will be sold in the manner which the Trustees, in their sole discretion, determine will yield the higher return for the Holder. The balance of the purchase price shall be due in cash or by certified check with interest on the unpaid balance of the purchase price at the rate of eight percent (8%) per annum from the date of sale to and including the date of settlement. In the event the Holder, an affiliate thereof, or an assignee of either, is the successful bidder at the sale, such party will not be required to make a deposit or to pay interest on the unpaid purchase money. Taxes, water rent and all other municipal charges and liens owed against the Property shall be the responsibility of the purchaser and shall be paid by the purchaser at settlement. In addition, all other charges, expenses and liens owed against the Property, including, but not limited to, all condominium fees, homeowners association fees and expenses and public charges and assessments owed and payable on an annual basis, such as sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges, if any, shall also be the responsibility of the purchaser and shall be paid by the purchaser at settlement. In the event that taxes, water, sewer, water rent, ground rent, condominium fees, and/or homeowners association dues, or public charges or assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges, if applicable, have been prepaid, they shall be adjusted between the Trustees and the purchaser to the date of sale. The cost of all taxes, documentary stamps, recordation taxes, document preparation and transfer taxes is to be paid by the purchaser. The Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to extend the time for settlement, if applicable.

The Property will be sold in an "AS IS" condition and without any warranties or representations, either express or implied, as to the nature, condition or description of the improvements. The Property will also be sold subject to all existing housing, building and zoning code violations, subject to all critical area and wetland violations, subject to all environmental problems and violations which may exist on or with respect to the Property, and subject to all matters and restrictions of record affecting the same, if any. The purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss for the above-referenced Property immediately after the sale takes place. It shall be the purchaser's responsibility to obtain possession of the Property following ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

The Property shall be sold subject to all easements, conditions, liens, obligations of record, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, encumbrances, such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection might disclose, and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and not otherwise extinguished by operation of law.

The purchaser shall pay all state and local transfer taxes, recordation taxes and fees, title examination costs, attorneys' fees, conveyance fees and all other incidental settlement costs. The purchaser of the Property shall settle and comply with the sale terms within twenty (20) days following the final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, unless said period is extended by the Trustees for good cause shown. Time is of the essence. Settlement(s) shall be held at the offices of Rosenberg | Martin | Greenberg, LLP, 25 S. Charles Street, Suite 2115, Baltimore, Maryland 21201, or at such other location as the Trustees may agree..

In the event the purchaser fails to proceed to settlement when required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available to them, the Trustees may, without further order of the court, declare the aforementioned deposit forfeited and resell the Property at the purchaser's risk and expense. In such event, the defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorneys' fees, all other charges due, and incidental damages. In the event a resale of the Property results in a sale in excess of the amount originally bid by the defaulting purchaser, the defaulting purchaser waives any and all claims, rights and interest to any such excess amount and shall not be entitled to any distribution whatsoever from the resale proceeds. The parties' respective rights and obligations regarding the terms of sale and the conduct of the sale shall be governed by and interpreted according to the laws of the State of Maryland.

If the Trustees are unable to convey the Property as described above, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be limited to the refund of the aforementioned deposit, without interest thereon. Upon refund of the deposit to the purchaser, the sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claim against the Trustees or the Holder.

The information contained herein was obtained from sources deemed to be reliable, but is offered for informational purposes only. The Holder, the Trustees and the Auctioneer do not make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of this information.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE OF REAL PROPERTY AND ANY IMPROVEMENTS THEREON

OAKLAND, MD 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Leslie A. Bittinger and Salena D. Bittinger dated February 28, 2007 and recorded in Liber 1291, Folio 524 among the Land Records of Garrett Co., MD, with an original principal balance of $232,000.00 and an original interest rate of 6.625% default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Sub. Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett Co., located at 203 S. 4th St., Oakland, MD, at the East Alder St. entrance, on JUNE 27, 2012, AT 1:30 P.M.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND, together with any buildings or improvements thereon situated in Garrett Co., MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust.

The property, and any improvements thereon, will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $24,000 in cash, cashier's check or certified check is required at time of sale. Balance of the purchase price, together with interest on the unpaid purchase money at the current rate contained in the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received by the Sub. Trustees, payable in cash within ten days of final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court. There will be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason. TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE FOR THE PURCHASER. Adjustment of current real property taxes will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the purchaser. All past due property taxes paid by the purchaser. All other public and/or private charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale to be paid by the purchaser. All transfer taxes shall be paid by the Purchaser. Purchaser shall pay all applicable agricultural tax, if any. Purchaser is responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property, and assumes risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale. If ratification or settlement is delayed for any reason there shall be no abatement of interest. The sale is subject to post-sale audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of the deposit without interest. If purchaser fails to settle within 10 days of ratification, the Sub. Trustees may file a motion to resell the property. If Purchaser defaults under these terms, deposit shall be forfeited. The Sub. Trustees may then resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulted purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds resulting from said resale even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulted purchaser. If Sub. Trustees are unable to convey either insurable or marketable title, or if ratification of the sale is denied by the Circuit Court for any reason, the Purchaser's sole remedy, at law or equity, is the return of the deposit without interest.

MORNINGSTAR®
Data Management Analyst

Morningstar's Back Office Services team seeks an entry-level Data Management Analyst to provide an efficient back-office solution for our licensed users. In this position, you will expand your knowledge of Morningstar products and electronic data population processes. As a Data Management Analyst, you'll join a group of friendly, dedicated individuals who focus on delivering database updates in a timely manner while maintaining accuracy. This position is based in our Oakland, Maryland, office.

The Data Management Analyst updates, corrects, and maintains active databases of multiple clients and their accounts. This takes place through an electronic process that retrieves data from entities such as mutual fund companies, financial institutions, broker/dealers, and data transfer agencies, then transfers this data into our software. You will monitor this process for errors, which may require research and correction. You will communicate with clients to explain or clarify data and, at all times, preserve the confidentiality of client data. Manual input may be required for clients and accounts that are not electronically processed. The Data Management Analyst also maintains quantitative and qualitative records of any actions taken.

We're looking for candidates with excellent written, verbal, and analytical skills. The ideal candidate will have an interest in the investment industry and an in-depth understanding of computers. Knowledge of Windows-based applications is required. A college degree is preferred but not mandatory.

Please apply on line at: http://global.morningstar.com/US/Careers.

GARRETT COLLEGE NEWS BEAT

CELEBRATING 40 YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY

Summer Youth Meal Program Free At Garrett

Garrett College is working in cooperation with the Garrett County Board of Education to provide Summer Youth Meal opportunities which are made possible through the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Summer Food Service Program (SFSP). This cooperative initiative provides free breakfasts and lunches to all individuals age 18 and under during the summer months.

The goal of the SFSP project is to provide nutritious meals to children during the months they do not have access to a school lunch program. It was first created by the USDA as part of a larger pilot program in 1968 and became a separate program in 1975. More than 2.2 million children participated at almost 35,000 sites in the summer of 2009. Local sponsors form partnerships to provide community meal sites.

Scott Germain, food and nutrition program manager for the Garrett County Board of Education, coordinates local meal sites.

"It has been great to form a partnership with Garrett College and find a way to offer free summer meals to the students of Garrett County," said Germain. "I hope this partnership continues in the future."

GC established the Lakers Café on the McHenry campus as an open site location for distribution of free breakfasts and lunches to anyone age 18 and under. Adults may receive a meal for a fee. Breakfast is served from 8 to 10 a.m., and lunch is available from noon to 1 p.m.

"This is a great opportunity for youth in our area to stop in for a meal," said Ann Wellham, GC dean of marketing and enrollment management. "It is particularly convenient for those who are on campus for camps or swimming at the CARC (Community Aquatic & Recreation Complex). We are proud to be part of this board of education program."

For more information on the Summer Youth Meal Program at Garrett College, persons may contact Wellham at 301-387-3045.

GC STUDENT VETERANS CELEBRATE – The Garrett College Student Veterans Organization recently hosted a celebration marking the end of GC's spring semester and the 2011-12 academic year. Student veterans, members of their families, and friends gathered at Jearbryo's Restaurant in McHenry to enjoy a meal and some outdoor fun on a sunny afternoon. A veteran-friendly campus, GC provides a supportive environment for men and women who served in the U.S. armed forces and have returned home to continue their education. Pictured above, from left, are veterans Ken Lillie, Rocky Gregory, Mark Shrout, Steven Friend, Steven Lilly, Bruce McClelland, Jon Walton, Matt Lundquist, Rob Smith, and Garrett College president and military veteran Dr. Rick MacLennan.

Garrett College Hosts Wounded Warriors/Team River Runner

by Peggy Santamaria

Women and men from across the nation gathered last week at Garrett College for a weeklong training, with a goal of learning the skills that would help heal others who had been severely injured in body, mind, and spirit. The trainers represented Team River Runner (TRR), a program provider for the Wounded Warrior Project™ (WWP).

WWP serves military service members who incurred service-connected injuries or illnesses on or after September 11, 2001, and members of their families. The organization includes members and alumni.

"The term 'alumni' indicates a mutual shared experience and denotes that one's place in an organization was earned," said a WWP spokesperson.

TRR was started at the Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington, D.C., in 2004 by Joe Morini and other D.C. area kayakers to introduce wounded veterans to adaptive kayaking. In the hospital pool, volunteers gave lessons in paddling and rolling kayaks.

Primarily a volunteer nonprofit organization, TRR is now run by a council of kayakers overseen by a board of directors. The success of the program has spawned great interest around the country to create TRR opportunities at other veteran sites, such as Veterans Affairs hospitals.

This is the second year that TRR has held the leadership training at GC. Coordinator Dana Larcenaire spoke enthusiastically about the session.

"TRR now has 36 chapters across the country," she said. "It is incredible to have this opportunity to bring the chapter leaders together to give them the tools to help others acquire a lifestyle of paddling."

Larcenaire described Garrett County as "a great venue" for this program.

"It is just perfect for us," she said. "We can stay in the college dorms, which are right on campus, and then come to the classrooms and the café. ASCI (Adventure Sports Center International), where we go for the outdoor trainings, is located just a short distance, so we don't lose time traveling from site to site each day."

The leadership training agenda reflects a concerted Garrett College effort to provide support for these men and women. Garrett College Continuing Education & Workforce Development (CEWD) program coordinator Sue Fowler worked with TRR to set up the program on the McHenry campus.

"We had about 50 folks here for the training," Fowler said. "They stayed in one of the college dorms, had breakfast and lunch in the Lakers Café, and held classes and workshops in the CEWD classrooms."

Fowler also arranged an early morning "roll" training in the pool at the Garrett College Community Aquatic & Recreation Complex (CARC).

"The recreation pool at the CARC was the perfect place for the session," she said. "Those in the kayaks practiced the skills needed to roll the kayak over and bring themselves upright. This is the first skill needed to paddle in whitewater and join their comrades out on the rivers. Accomplishing this feat gave them a great sense of satisfaction."

Each afternoon the trainers and trainees went to the ASCI whitewater course atop Marsh Mountain to put into practice the principles learned in the classrooms and in the pool. Suzanne Nicolas, a Garrett County resident who has worked for several years as a volunteer for Team River Runner events in Garrett County, developed trainings, coordinated the sessions at ASCI, and worked with local restaurants and businesses to provide evening meals for those attending the workshops.

"Suzanne really deserves a lot of credit for all her efforts on behalf of the Wounded Warrior Project and Team River Runner," said Fowler. "She is a great partner to work with in providing these sessions."

According to information from the WWP, advancements in battlefield medicine and body armor have dramatically increased the percentage of service members who survive severe wounds or injuries and require rehabilitative support from the community and the country which they served.

For more information on the Wounded Warrior Project and Team River Runner, persons may visit their web sites at www.WoundedWarriorProject.org and www.teamriverrunner.org. Persons may call 301-387-3069 to learn more about trainings through the Garrett College Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division.

READY TO "ROLL" – Team River Runner (TRR) trainers were working with members of the Wounded Warrior Project (WWP) to develop kayaking skills last week at Garrett College. Learning to roll over and up is a basic step required for all paddlers. Kayakers-in-training acquire the skills to teach others adaptive kayaking techniques and to help establish TRR programs for the WWP at Veterans Affairs sites around the country.

GLAF TO PRESENT CASHORE MARIONETTES - The unique Cashore Marionettes will take the Garrett College stage as the next offering of the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival (GLAF). The show will be given this Saturday, June 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium. The program, which features detailed marionettes such as the one pictured, will consist of three segments on a broad range of subjects, a spokesperson said. "Everyday life is portrayed set to a succession of stunning music by composers such as Vivaldi, Strauss, Beethoven, and Copeland. From humorous to tragic, the performance spans a range of emotions that are amazingly lifelike," the spokesperson said. Joseph Cashore, the creator of the Cashore Marionettes, has been performing and designing his marionettes for more than 30 years. The group will also perform for the Garrett Mentors on Saturday, June 23, at 1 p.m. also at the GC auditorium. Tickets for the Saturday evening event are $15 for adults, $5 for students, and free for children 5 years and younger (tickets are required). Tickets may be purchased by calling the GLAF office at 301-387-3082, or through the GLAF web site at www.artsandentertainment.org. Sponsor partners for this event are Jan and Judy Finkel and Coldwell Banker/Deep Creek Realty.

MUCH LIKE A CHILD eyeing an out-of-reach cookie jar, this young bruin recently spent quite some time in a tree at the residence of Bob Weisenbeck along Clark Lohr Road, Deep Creek Lake, anxiously trying to figure out how to reach the sunflower-seed-filled bird feeder in the foreground of this photo. Weisenbeck said that he heard a noise at about 6:30 a.m. and found the young visitor on his deck near one of the bird feeders. "When he saw me looking at him through the window, he jumped down and went up the nearby tree, where he stayed for about an hour, continuing to eye the bird feeder," Weisenbeck said. Weisenbeck then let his dog Woody outside to bark at the bear, and he finally ambled off, but evidently returned the next night and was successful in grabbing one of Weisenbeck's hummingbird feeders, even though it too was suspended on a wire. "We call him Buddy," said Weisenbeck, "and we continue to see him around the neighborhood, seemingly trying to figure out just what to do with his life."

Co. Farm Queen Program Seeks 2012 Applicants

Applications are currently being accepted for the 67th Garrett County Farm Queen.

The 2012 Garrett County Agricultural Fair will be held from July 28 to Aug. 4, and the farm queen program is set for July 29 at 8 p.m. at the new exhibit hall at the fairgrounds.

This year's fair will feature a new midway with new rides and attractions. The company, Reithoffer, is the largest traveling midway in the world.

The Garrett County Fair is one of a handful of fairs whose primary focus continues to be on the promotion of agriculture.

Farm queen applications are available on the fair web site at www.garrettcountyfair.org, and are due by Saturday, July 7.

To be eligible to compete in the Garrett County Farm Queen program and hold the title of Farm Queen, or court member, candidates must meet all of the following eligibility requirements at the time of the 2012 Farm Queen Program and throughout the period of time that the selected individual(s) hold the title of Farm Queen or court member:

Be a full-time resident of Garrett County.

Be unmarried, with no children (and not expecting a child).

Be at least 16 years of age, but no older than 19 years of age, as of the date of the Farm Queen Program.

Have a verifiable history as an exhibitor at the Garrett County Fair.

The candidate and her family must be actively engaged in an agricultural enterprise within Garrett County.

Agree to represent the Garrett County Fair as the Farm Queen exclusively during her yearlong reign.

The farm queen reigns over fair week activities and represents the fair and Garrett County agriculture at select events throughout the year.

Katelyn Gnegy is the reigning 2011 Farm Queen.

More information is available at the fair web site or on Facebook.

Plans Being Finalized For Accident's 4th Of July Homecoming Celebration

Accident's annual 4th of July Homecoming celebration will occur on a Wednesday this year. It is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m., with an Ecumenical Worship Service to be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church located at 102 S. Main St.

Following that service, the American Legion Post #208 will sponsor the raising of the Maryland state and American flags at the American Legion Memorial, which is located in the Accident Veteran's Park.

A parade is scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. and will follow Main Street (Rt. 219) starting on the northern end of town.

Beginning at noon, chicken dinners, hamburgers, hot dogs, french fries, ice cream cones, drinks, homemade pies, and a variety of sandwiches will be served at the Accident fire hall, which is located at 109 S. South St.

There will be musical entertainment throughout the day at the fire hall pavilion starting at noon with the Garrett Highlands Pipes and Drums under the direction of Paul Browning. The Accident Concert Band will perform patriotic music starting at 1 p.m. Black Diamond will perform bluegrass music at the pavilion beginning at 2 p.m.

The North Star 4-H Club will sponsor assorted games throughout the day for the public's entertainment in Town Park East next to the ball field. Hayrides will be available from 1 to 3 p.m.

The Accident Volunteer Fire Department plans to sponsor bingo, with a start time of 1:30 p.m. The qualifying time for the horseshoe pitching contest will be at 1 p.m. at the pits located on the southeastern side of Town Park East.

The American Legion will have a display of complete military uniforms from World War I, World War II, the Korean War, and the Vietnam War from noon until 5 p.m. This display will be located on the lower level of the fire hall in the American Legion meeting room.

The town of Accident will also sponsor a craft show and sale to be held at the fire hall's upper level from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. There will be craft items

Unclaimed Prop. Insert Generates 12,000 Inquiries

The yearly newspaper insert for unclaimed property that beckoned Marylanders to contact the office of Maryland comptroller Peter Franchot resulted in a response by over 12,000 citizens, with 5,695, or nearly half, being rewarded for their efforts.

For two weeks in April, the 184-page insert could be found in more than 30 local newspapers throughout the state, including The Republican. The supplement listed nearly $51 million in unclaimed property in more than 70,000 accounts.

"There was a huge response to this year's insert," said

Man Arrested In Connection With Burglary

A Mtn. Lake Park man was arrested Tuesday by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in connection with an N Street, Mtn. Lake Park, burglary that occurred during the month of May.

Tyler Ray Fink, 20, reportedly gained entry into a Meadow Woods apartment and stole an Xbox 360 and related games. He was charged with first-degree burglary and theft under $1,000. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail, where his bond is set at $5,000.

Results Of 2012 May Bird Count Are Announced

Weather conditions were ideal for the recent 2012 May Bird Count in Garrett County, according to organizers: sunny with light variable winds and temperatures in the 60s to low 70s.

The final tally of 151 species bested last year's total of 141, but didn't overtake the highest species total ever of 155, achieved in 1989 with 20 observers. This year, 6,766 individual birds were reported, slightly more than the 6,442 individuals found last year.

Highlights of this year's count included 28 species of warblers, 23 of which breed in Garrett County. Six species of vireos and seven species of woodpeckers were identified. Among the woodpeckers found were 14 yellow-bellied sapsuckers in several different parts of the county. (See accompanying photo.)

According to count organizers, this is an encouraging sign for a breeding species that was felt to have been extirpated from the county in the middle of the last century. While some May count sapsuckers may have still been migrating through, most had definitely settled down to breed with pairs established, nest holes being excavated, and adults seen carrying food to nestlings.

More elusive birds, such as owls and other crepuscular species that are likely to be heard rather than seen, also did well on the count.

Annual July 4 Celebration At GC To Kick Off '12 Chautauqua Series

Garrett Lakes Arts Festival will present its annual July 4 and Chautauqua programs under the tent on the lawn of Garrett College. The Garrett Community Concert Band and the Garrett Choral Society will join together to open the series with the traditional Independence Day Concert on July 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Chautauqua speakers from the Maryland Humanities Council will present the series July 5, 6, and 7 at 7 p.m. each day. These sessions begin at 7 p.m. under the tent.

The theme this year is "Inspiration, Unity, Preparedness, Courage: Maryland and the War of 1812." This year marks the bicentennial of that war.

The Garrett Community Concert Band, under the direction of Moe Turrentine, and the Garrett Choral Society, conducted by Julie Turrentine, will perform together and separately.

The musical groups will present patriotic gospel tunes, standard American folk music, and military selections celebrating American heritage.

The July 4 concert is timed to end shortly before the fireworks are to be set off from Marsh Mountain (Wisp ski slope). The fireworks can be viewed from the Garrett College lawn.

The Chautauqua speakers this year are as follows:

President James Madison on July 5, citizen Rosalie Stier Calvert on July 6, and British Major General Robert Ross on July 7. The characters will be portrayed by scholar actors. They will speak in character, presenting their perspectives on the War of 1812.

After a short opening act, the featured guest will speak in character, and remain in character to answer questions

Civic Club Of Oakland Earns District Awards

Barbara Frantz, Anne Forrester, and Ellen Fritz attended a recent Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs Western District meeting in Westminster. They were representing the GFWC Civic Club of Oakland, which won nine first-place awards and two second-place awards for the success of the club's projects during 2011-2012.

The first-place awards were for the following: Communication and Identity Publicity Book, Conservation Community Service Program, Education Community Service Program, Home Life Partnership Community Service Program, International Outreach Community Service Program, Legislation and Public Policy, Membership, Public Issues Community Service Program, and Women's History and Resource Center.

The second-place awards were garnered for the club's Arts Community Service Program and GFWC Signature Project: Domestic Violence Awareness.

Anyone wishing to join the club and/or to obtain more information is invited to attend a meeting, or call 304-789-3189.

THE MAY BIRD COUNT was held recently in Garrett County, with nearly four dozen local birders doing the annual compilation of both species and actual numbers of birds observed. Fourteen yellow-bellied sapsuckers were seen in different areas of the county, including the male pictured above who was spotted at a nest hole feeding young, and photographed by Fran Pope. Pope said that seeing this particular species was encouraging, as it was thought to have disappeared from the county in the 1950s. See story in this section for details of the May count.

GRAN FONDO SET FOR SATURDAY – Bikers from near and far will descend upon Garrett County this weekend to participate in the third annual Garrett County Gran Fondo, slated for this Saturday, June 23. Garrett County and the Deep Creek Lake area boast some of the most scenic – and most challenging – cycling in North America, and in just two years of sold-out rides, the Garrett County Gran Fondo has established itself as a premier North American Gran Fondo. A Gran Fondo is a long-distance, mass-participation cycling event – not a race – that welcomes professional, amateur, and recreational cyclists. The Garrett County Gran Fondo has a ride for everyone, from the recreational cyclist to seasoned professionals, with five supported ride options, ranging from 25 to 125 miles. Proceeds from the event will benefit the Joanna M. Nicolay Melanoma Foundation. Motorists are urged to be aware of the cyclists on the county roadways on Saturday and to drive with caution when approaching or passing them. This photo was taken during last year's Gran Fondo by Kyle Yost.

"Play Hard, Live Clean" Event Now Set For June 25

The "Play Hard, Live Clean" Barefoot Springs event has been rescheduled for Monday, June 25, at Big Bear Lake. This free event is open to Garrett County residents who just completed 6th through 12th grades.

This year's summer celebration will include water park entertainment, basketball, tennis, mini-golf, and games with prizes. Transportation and a picnic lunch will also be provided.

All activities are free and available only to participants who register with a completed registration form, including parent signature. Registration forms may be picked up and dropped off at the Garrett County Health Department Room 206 and are due back to the office by 5 p.m. on June 22 for guaranteed acceptance. Participants bringing completed forms with them to one of the bus stops listed below will be added until the registration limit is reached. The form is also available online at www.garretthealth.org.

Participants must meet the residential and grade requirements, and must ride the event bus to enter the private park. The bus will pick up and return participants at the following locations: Grantsville Rescue Squad, Accident Fire Department, McHenry Burger King, and Friendsville Rescue Squad. Details regarding times are listed on the registration form.

"Our goal is to continue to provide entertainment for local youth in an environment free of alcohol, tobacco, and other drugs," said event coordinator Venessa Stacy, GCHD.

Arrested On DUI, DWI Charges

Garrett County sheriff's deputies made two drinking and driving arrests this past weekend. The following are unrelated.

Deputies responded to a report of a disabled vehicle parked along 9th Street in Oakland on Saturday night. Investigation led to the arrest of Scot Bowman, 32, on driving under the influence and driving while impaired charges.

In a separate incident a few hours later, deputies stopped a 1996 Chevy truck along Maryland Highway for a moving violation. Investigation revealed that Cathy A. Moore, 38, Rowlesburg, W.Va., was reportedly intoxicated. After she failed to perform field sobriety tests to the satisfaction of the deputies, she was charged with DUI, DUI per se, DWI, and driving on a suspended out-of-state license. She was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

Man Arrested On Burglary Charges

A Mtn. Lake Park man was arrested Tuesday by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in connection with an N Street, Mtn. Lake Park, burglary that occurred during the month of May.

Tyler Ray Fink, 20, reportedly gained entry into a Meadow Woods apartment and stole an Xbox 360 and related games. He was charged with first-degree burglary and theft under $1,000. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail, where his bond is set at $5,000.

Deputies Respond To Two Accidents Involving Deer

Garrett County sheriff's deputies investigated two vehicle accidents involving deer this past weekend. The following are unrelated.

Deputies responded to Oakland Sang Run Road in the area of the animal shelter for a reported motor vehicle accident Saturday evening. Investigation revealed that David Alan Shope, 56, Oakland, had been operating a 2002 Harley Davidson motorcycle, when the bike collided with a deer in the roadway. Shope was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by Southern Rescue Squad. Oakland Volunteer Fire Department also responded to the 9 p.m. scene.

In a separate incident, deputies responded to Garrett Highway just north of Wal-Mart for a single-vehicle accident Sunday evening. Investigation revealed that Keith Bryan Bishop, 49, Davis, W.Va., had been operating a 2003 Hyundai, when the vehicle collided with a deer. Passenger Kellie Nicole Bishop, Dawsonville, Ga., was treated by Southern Rescue Squad at the scene for minor injuries.

DockDogs To Host Eastern Regional Event

DockDogs will be hosting the first of four regional championships around the country, kicking the series off in McHenry. The event will take place June 29 through July 1 at Wisp Resort. Over 300 team entries throughout the 15+ divisions of High Flying DockDogs are expected to compete.

"We are very excited to be having the first of the four DockDogs Regional Championships at such an incredible venue," said Grant Reeves, CEO for DockDogs Worldwide. "The regional championships is important for DockDogs competitors who are looking to earn invitations to the World Championships that will be held in Dubuque, Iowa, in November. With the first of our DockDogs Has Talent contests showcasing the 'off-the-dock' talent, as well massive big air jumps, sonic speed retrieve runs, and high-flying extreme vertical jumps. After a long day of competition, our families and spectators can unwind and have fun at the Wisp Outdoors Adventure Park with unique activities such as the Mountain Coaster, Canopy Tours / Zip Lines, and more."

Reeves said that there is a "splash zone" around the edge of the pools for the children to cool off from the summer heat from the splashes made by the big air jumping dogs.

More information can be found online at the DockDogs web site: http://dockdogs.com or Wisp Resort at www.wispresort.com. The venue is open to spectators free of charge.

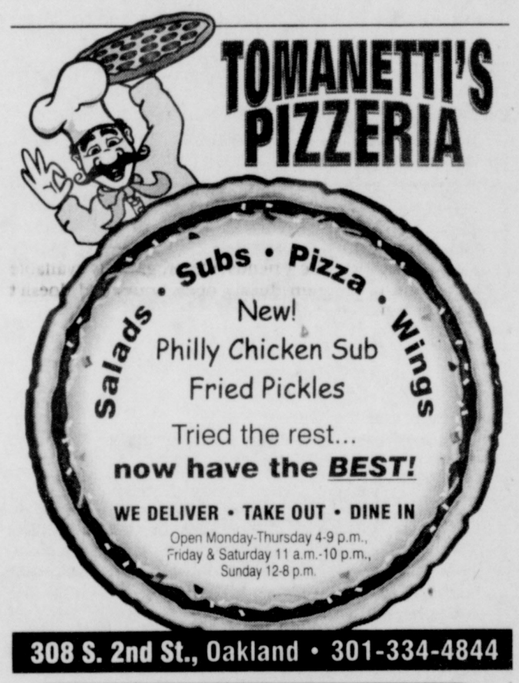
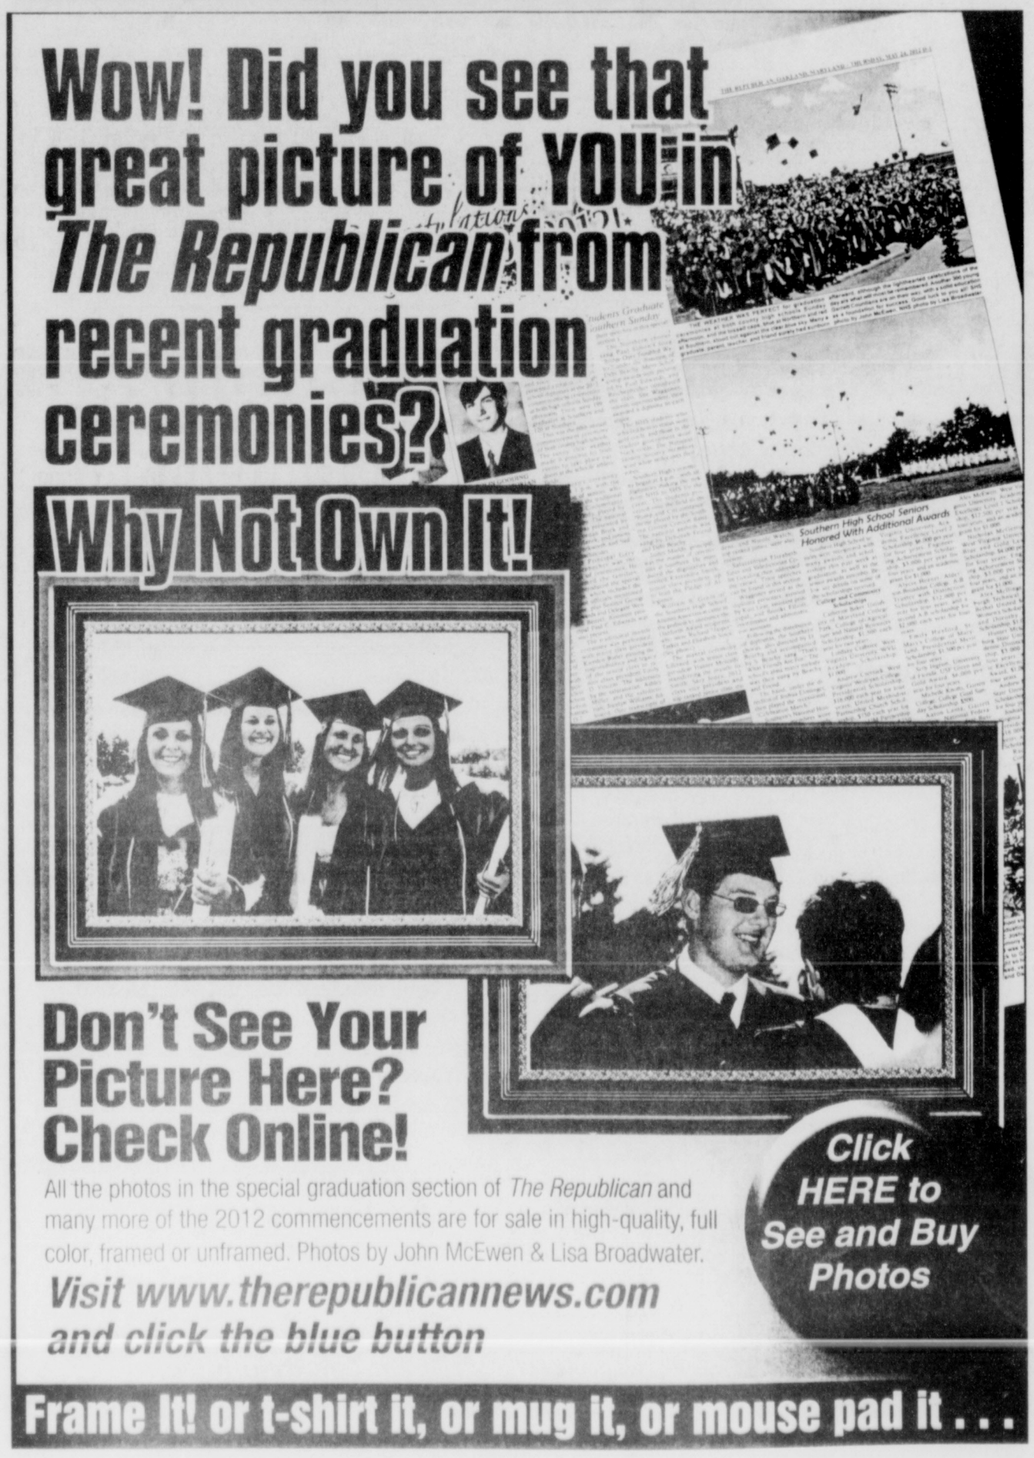
Meadow Mountain Mennonite Church To Host Program

A musical program will be presented at Meadow Mountain Mennonite Church, Swanton, this Sunday, June 24, at 10:30 a.m.

Participants in the program will include Fran Forney of Cumberland, a group of women from the church, the church worship team, Rev. Duane Frederick, Donna Foust and Laura Frederick on their trumpets, Jenna Ruggiero on flute, Bonnie Frederick, and Starliters Gospel Music Ministries of Berlin, Pa.

"Everyone is invited to come and enjoy gospel music at its best," a spokesperson said.





More Prudent Approach...

Owners of Deep Creek Lake marinas are upset over a recent decision by a majority of the Garrett County commissioners to amend the lake zoning ordinance. The 2-1 vote by the commissioners to approve the amendment allows any business on the lake – in this case, an ice cream outlet – to provide boat rentals, but not offer any of the other services typical of a marina. Commissioners Gregan Crawford and Bob Gatto approved the amendment, while Commissioner Jim Raley opposed.

There are credible arguments on both sides of the issue itself. Bill Meagher, owner of the Lakeside Creamery, made the request for the ordinance amendment. He explained that this would allow him to provide another service to his customers, but that he has no desire to open a full-service marina. He said that when his boats need service, his wish is to send that work to the established marinas, thus enhancing their operations. He stated that he has ample, safe parking for some 56 vehicles at his business location.

The current marina owners, however, feel that this is a case of skimming the cream off the top of something that they have worked hard to provide (boat rentals) over the years. They state that changing the ordinance will allow many unrelated businesses such as Meagher's to do the same thing. They point out that boat volume on the lake is already a major safety issue, and several more rental sites would simply make that situation far worse. It is their strong feeling that businesses that provide rentals should be required also to provide service, repair, and fuel pumps. In fact, most of them said that they will be unwilling to provide service for Meagher's boats.

While there seem to be plausible points made by both camps, it seems the commissioners could have – and probably should have – handled the matter differently, as noted by Carol Jacobs, president of the Aquatic Center Inc. Among her points was that, instead of amending the zoning ordinance and thereby "opening up" this opportunity to any and all businesses at the lake, the proper approach would have been to consider a special exception to the ordinance for this single business owner (Meagher).

Jacob's point makes good sense. A good zoning ordinance is designed to protect both businesses and private residents from a wide variety of practices that, if allowed, could negatively affect both quality of life and property values. Amending an ordinance can be a slippery slope, often resulting in the dilution of the ordinance itself and ultimately defeating its purpose. That's why nearly every zoning ordinance in the country is designed to entertain requests for special exceptions, thereby providing some flexibility for specific situations, but not opening a door of opportunity for everyone. It seems that considering a special exception in this case would have been a more prudent approach by the commissioners.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I am sure that our new superintendent of schools will do a wonderful job. But I was puzzled by her statement, "I look forward to engaging collaboratively with all stakeholders as we prepare our students for a bright future and productive citizenry."

Whatever happen to "We're going to do our best job to teach your kids"?

Bob Lewis
Oakland

To the Editor:

Those who believe the recent requirement for sprinkler systems is remotely related to safety are sadly deluded. It's interesting to note that the same article announcing government's latest intrusion into our personal lives also referenced the Sustainable Growth and Preservation Act of 2012, which severely limits land development outside those areas served by public utilities. "Sustainable growth" means building only in locations determined by politicians; "preservation" means keeping rural, private property unlittered with homes and businesses so downstate tourists can more comfortably exploit the few parts of the state they haven't yet ruined.

This sprinkler requirement represents a new, insurmountable hurdle for those residents wishing to live and build on family property. While the sprinkler system itself is expensive, the larger problem is in providing an adequate, infallible personal water supply. For those lifetime residents struggling to get by on service jobs, that dream of living and building a home here just ain't gonna happen. Sadly, that was the plan behind the law. My children live and work in other states, but have dreamed of returning someday. My advice to them is to look elsewhere; Garrett County is not the home you remember.

Another immediate result of this legislation will be a cry from developers for expanded water and sewer services, which will inevitably spawn yet more government, more taxes, more fees, and more regulation. Am I the only one who detects a pattern here?

Where is your outrage? Your recent editorial bemoaned the facts that Garrett County was inexplicably becoming wealthier (a bad thing, because it cut government funding), and that school enrollment was dropping. Since the income threshold for living here just took a huge jump, the county will become wealthier still, and school enrollment will dive again, as working families are forced elsewhere.

Next comes county-wide zoning, under whatever the name of the day might be, and our rural properties will be much more suited for the bears – and soon, elk. Maybe these latest residents can be trained to mow lawns and bus tables. Good luck with collecting their taxes.

To the Editor:

The Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, on May 17, published a white paper on shale gas development. The first sentence states that the chamber is "representing more than 630 member firms." I own a business with my wife, which is one of those member firms represented.

I would like to go on record stating that we do not support this letter in spirit, intent, or content. Nor did we receive any request for input.

Nor do we support "the expedited study of shale gas development," which the white paper proposes.

The white letter provides little more than gas industry rhetoric, personal biases, and politically correct statements, none of which are backed by clear and unambiguous data. I am happy to expound on this opinion if anyone is interested.

In a county where our largest source of revenue is from the recreation industry – those drawn by the beauty and contentment of our land – it astounds us that the chamber would support the massive industrialization that natural gas development would require. There may be jobs and revenue created, but these are temporary jobs, which leave a lasting and potentially irreparable scar on our landscape, way of life, and tourism industry.

What a refreshing thought if the chamber had published a white paper on its support of alternative energy sources and the positive economic impact they would have, rather than chasing the easy, quick dollar and 19th century economics. The mantra more jobs, more money, more growth is misguided. Infinite growth on a finite planet is unsustainable. Is it too much to hope that the chamber withdraw this letter until after actually taking a poll of its members' position on the subject? I have no doubt that in consolation with sustainable economic advisors the chamber can issue a more comprehensive and unbiased plan – a plan which balances growth, environmental safety, and everyone's quality of life.

I would venture to say that this evening most of you are enjoying a quiet, dark, relaxing atmosphere with fresh mountain air and good clean water. No hype here – just visit our neighbors in nearby W.Va. and Pa. It is evident that this type of enjoyment quickly disappears with shale gas development.

I will end with a much used, yet appropriate, quote: "A thing is right if it tends to preserve the integrity, stability, and beauty of the biotic environment. It is wrong if it does otherwise." (A. Leopold.)

Regards,
C.M. Herdering, Col.

To the Editor:

We would like to thank the Southern Rescue Squad, and I believe the Oakland volunteer firemen. On Sunday (Father's Day), my husband Conrad, who is recovering from knee replacement, got awake from a nap, couldn't move his replacement knee, and was in a lot of pain. The rescue squad was called.

Because of the layout of our house, more help was needed to remove Conrad from the house. Within minutes, several men where here to help. One of them even asked me if I was able to drive to the hospital. Everyone was very professional and kind.

It is nice to know that we have such wonderful people when we need help. Thank you again. Thanks also go to people of Garrett Medical Transport, who returned Conrade home from the hospital.

Editor's note: The writer of the following letter to the Garrett County commissioners requested that it appear in this column.

Honorable Gentlemen:

Please accept this correspondence in formal opposition to the draft of Zoning Ordinance: Garrett County Land Management Ordinance that has been proposed and shared for public comment.

After last year's in-depth discussions concerning amending the comprehensive plan and after the overwhelming majority of public commentary, at that time, being opposed to this measure, we are deeply concerned that this issue has resurfaced.

In our opinion, the proposed zoning draft will have a negative impact on Garrett County. County-wide zoning is an issue that has been discussed and defeated many times in the past. Our residents' relative freedom in land use is a virtue that should be embraced and expanded upon. Zoning laws dictate how owners may and may not use their property. Zoning seeks to virtually control every aspect of a property's use.

It is justifiable that zoning be criticized. Restrictions of zoning impose infringement upon and violate property owners' rights to develop, use, and maintain their land in the way they see fit. It easily strips property owners' rights to unencumbered use of their land. Zoning in this form is counterproductive to economic benefit and hinders development in our free economy.

This zoning draft is not limited to construction and development. It controls the smallest details and nuances of an owner's use of his or her property. Where zoning is imposed, a property owner's neighbors can have a greater say over a property than the owner! Zoning has a direct impact on everyone.

In limiting development opportunities, property owners are denied the right to lease their land for economic benefit. Thus, if zoning restrictions are enacted, property owners should rightfully be provided the compensation lost.

Maryland encompasses strict environmental controls and promotes green energy. The draft zoning ordinance seeks to undermine our state's policies. Garrett County must be realistic about the volume of fiscal challenges ahead. Our county has already realized economic benefit from the wind-farm projects. With that said, it would not be fiscally or environmentally responsible for Garrett County to limit or stifle future development prospects.

We appreciate the opportunity to submit written comments. The majority of your constituents are not receptive to any further governmental intrusion.

Sincerely,
Robert Spangler
Frostburg Road

To the Editor:

Has your family ever been touched by cancer?

Two weeks ago, the local Garrett County Relay for Life event raised some $70,000 for cancer research. Congratulations and thank you to all who helped with the event. It was indeed a wonderful evening.

This weekend, 1,000 cyclists will be participating in a day-long, 25-125-mile race called the Gran Fondo here in Garrett County. Local cyclists number 25, with

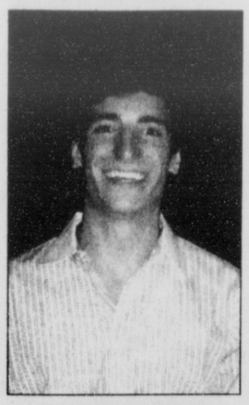
Local Student Earns Dean's List Status



Julian Floro, a 2009 graduate of Southern High School, was recently named to the dean's list at University of Colorado, Boulder. Floro earned this distinction after receiving a grade point average of 3.75 or higher, while enrolled in 12 or more credit hours. He is the son of Dorothy Andreas of Oakland.

Juveniles Arrested On Second-Degree Assault Charges

Garrett County sheriff's deputies made two second-degree assault arrests involving juveniles this week. The following are unrelated.

Deputies responded to the Oakland Wal-Mart at approximately 7:30 p.m. Wednesday evening for a child custody complaint. Upon arrival, deputies observed a white male juvenile running from the parking lot toward another vehicle parked along the Wal-Mart Garden Center and strike another white male in the face who was standing beside the vehicle. The juvenile was charged with second-degree assault and arrested before being released to his legal guardian.

In a separate incident later that night, deputies responded to a N. 12th Street, Oakland, home for a domestic incident at about midnight. Investigation revealed that a 15-year-old juvenile had reportedly struck her great-grandmother in the arm. The female juvenile was charged with second-degree assault and taken to the Garrett County Jail. She was later released to her legal guardian.

CDL Training To Be Offered In Grantsville

Garrett College is currently accepting applications for the next series of courses geared toward training individuals to obtain a Class A, Commercial Driver's License at Mtn. Top Truck Driving Institute. Within a matter of weeks, graduates can be prepared for a job in the trucking industry, according to a GC spokesperson.

The weekday training will begin Monday, July 2, and the weekend session will start on Saturday, July 14. The weekday option will be offered in a 7.5 week timeframe, Monday through Thursday, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The weekend option has duration of 15 weekends, thus, Saturdays and Sundays, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

This program offers a professional truck driving curriculum for the purpose of qualifying students for entry-level positions as drivers in over-the-road or local driving vehicles. The short term training is an intense, fast-paced program. While attending this 30-day, 210 hours of training, students will receive instruction in the following: pre-trip inspection, various skills in the yard, and over-the-road instruction along with a basic overview of map reading and log books. At the completion of training, the student will be taken to demonstrate at their local Department of Motor Vehicles to obtain a Class A license. No prior education or experience with trucks is required.

The CDL training is being held at Mountaintop Truck Driving Institute located at Hilltop, three miles east of Grantsville, near the intersection of U. S. Routes 40 and 219, just north of interstate 68. For more information or to register for this training, persons are asked to contact Terry Beachy, director, at 301-895-4700 or terrry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu

PNC Foundation Awards Funds For Literacy Education

The Maryland State Department of Education has been awarded a $25,000 grant from the PNC Foundation to support financial literacy education in Maryland's schools. The grant from the PNC Foundation will be used to provide up to 110 teachers with scholarships to attend the August 2012 East Coast Educator Training in Personal Financial Literacy Education.

The East Coast Training will be hosted by the Family Economics and Financial Education (FEFE) and Junior Achievement of Central Maryland (JA), and will provide opportunities for elementary, middle and high school teachers of financial literacy education. The training will be held August 6 – 8 at Towson University.

Professional development on the FEFE curriculum has been offered in Maryland each year since August 2008 and is well received by teachers, according to a department spokesperson. "Partnering with JA creates opportunities for elementary educators to receive instruction in personal finance," he said.

Recognizing the importance of early and ongoing instruction in financial literacy education as a means to transform student behavior related to finances, the Maryland State Board of Education requires local school systems to provide financial literacy instruction to all students in grades 3-12 consistent with Maryland's State Curriculum for Personal Financial Literacy Education.

"Some researchers and educators believe that financial education should start early in life to help children learn the importance of managing and saving money," said Laura Gamble, Greater Maryland regional president for PNC. "Through this initiative, we can help children better understand that everything has value and how they can turn everyday moments into financial learning experiences."

"In a time when local school systems are struggling with tight budgets, PNC's support has provided a foundation for school systems to implement financial literacy," said Bernard J. Sadusky, interim state superintendent of schools. "On behalf of teachers throughout the state, I would like to personally thank PNC for helping ensure that they have the necessary knowledge and skills to teach financial literacy. This generous contribution will build a delivery system of financial literacy education at the elementary, middle, and high school levels."

The PNC Foundation, which receives its principal funding from the PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. (NYSE: PNC), actively supports organizations that provide services for the benefit of communities in which it has a significant presence. The foundation focuses its philanthropic mission on early childhood education and community and economic development, which includes the arts and culture. Through Grow Up Great, its signature cause that began in 2004, PNC has created a $350 million, multi-year initiative to help prepare children from birth to age 5 for success in school and life.

IRS Urges Tax Preparers To Take Required Exam

The IRS announced this week that more than 17,000 Maryland tax preparers have now registered with the agency, as required by recent regulations, but about 6,100 of them must take an IRS competency examination by Dec. 31, 2013, or they will not be able to prepare tax returns for compensation.

So far, 86 tax preparers in Maryland have passed the competency exam and, as a result, have been given the new credential of Registered Tax Return Preparer (RTRP). Enrolled Agents, CPAs and attorneys are not required to take the exam because they already have testing requirements.

"Preparers who are required to take the IRS competency exam have about 18 months left to study and pass it," said IRS spokesperson Peggy Riley. "The IRS urges them to take the exam soon in case they have to retake it and to avoid a potential flood of last-minute exam takers."

Three years ago, the IRS began a program to register paid preparers and require certain ones to pass a competency test. In addition, paid preparers are expected to take continuing education courses and meet ethics standards.

The IRS will eventually create a publicly searchable database that will allow taxpayers to see if their tax preparers have met IRS standards or to find a tax preparer in their zip code area. The database will also show any credentials held by the preparer, including the new RTRP credential.

Last year more than 1.4 million individual federal returns, about 52 percent of the total returns filed, were prepared for Maryland filers by paid tax preparers. Nationwide, close to 87 million returns, about 60 percent of the total, were prepared by paid tax preparers.

Riley also reminded taxpayers who requested a filing extension for their 2011 federal income tax returns on or before April 18 and have yet to file that the extended filing deadline is Oct. 15, 2012. For returns prepared in 2012, paid tax preparers must, at the least, hold a Preparer Tax Identification Number (PTIN), and that the PTIN must be shown on tax returns they prepare.

More information about the IRS return preparer program is available at www.IRS.gov/PTIN.

To the Editor:

County-wide zoning equals a broken promise resulting in more government power and control as the county is converted to a playground for the wealthy; with big golf courses, river rides, and other attractions for their leisure time. And, of course, minimum wage jobs for servants to attend them.

Adding insult to injury, taxpayers get to pay for the new bureaucratic zoning department. So much for a democratic republic.

From the Declaration of Independence: "We hold these truths to be self-evident. That all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new government...."

Notes: The underlining is mine. Note also that I believe "and women" should have followed "men."

Is it time to exercise "the right of the people"? If not now, when?

My wife Jean admonishes me not to be so hard on them; that they might not have thought the whole thing through. OK, so now you know. Think about it.

To the Editor:

Now that it is official that both driver education and first aid classes have been eliminated from the Garrett County public school curriculum, Doug Lyons and I would like to thank the school system for six very productive years of teaching at Southern High School.

During this time, we taught nearly 900 students CPR and driver education Doug and I strove to instill safe driving habits in our students, always reminding them that driving a vehicle is the single most dangerous thing that they will do on a daily basis. We felt that this emphasis was essential in that it is still an unfortunate fact that the #1 killer of teen drivers is car crashes.

Southern High School students were a pleasure to teach, and the parents of these students should be commended for raising such fine kids. It definitely made our job a lot easier.

We would also like to acknowledge the following individuals who took the time out of their busy schedules to speak to our students: insurance agents Rob Michael, Andrea Shaffer, and Emily Berry; Maryland state troopers Steve Bennett, Jerry Schlossnagle, and Andy Ferrell; health department employees Diane Lee and Sadie Liller; TL Margroff employee Don Calhoun; and Living Legacy Foundation employee Lauren Muskauski.

In conclusion, although Doug and I are no longer part of the dedicated staff at Southern High School, we will be teaching driver education at Southern this summer and after school during the school year for the Allegheny Driving School. We look forward to continuing to provide instruction to our county's young drivers.

Thank you,
Martin Troublefield

Vesta Rubena (Teets) Riley, 90, Markleysburg, Pa., died Saturday, June 16, 2012, at Soddy-Daisy Health Care Center, Soddy-Daisy, Tenn.

Born July 10, 1921, in Hazelton, W.Va., she was a daughter of the late Lester and Katherine (Katie) Teets. She was also preceded in death by her husband of 58 years, Norris B. Riley; one son, Karol Douglas Riley; one daughter, Judith Virginia Riley; three brothers; her twin Leslie Teets, Oliver Teets, and Reed Teets; two sisters, Thelma Spaw and Grace Thomas; and one grandson, Todd D. Riley.

A longtime member of Sand Spring Church of God, she dedicated her life to serving her Lord and Savior. Along with being a faithful follower of Christ, Vesta was just as devoted to her family. She was an exemplary wife, a nurturing and encouraging mother, and a very loving and affectionate grandmother.

She had many different interests and hobbies during her life. She absolutely loved to quilt, especially with her sister Thelma, and has made many beautiful bed coverings over the years. She was an excellent baker and was well-known for her delicious cookies and pies. Vesta also loved music and could always be heard singing or humming her favorite hymns.

Vesta worked at the Teets Store and Bakery in McHenry and at Spear Nursing Home in Markleysburg, but she will be remembered most for all the years she served at Sunrise Mountain Camp with her husband as the resident caretakers. Many children who attended camp there were touched by her kindness and continued to visit her long after she retired.

Vesta is survived by one sister, Stella Friend, Uniontown, Pa.; two sons, Tom D. Riley and wife Janet, Martinsburg, W.Va., and Stephen L.N. Riley and wife Pat, Joppatowne; two daughters, Carolyn L. Hebert and husband Frank, Soddy-Daisy, and Dotti J. Phillips, Hixson, Tenn.; 17 grandchildren; 34 great-grandchildren; and two great-great-grandchildren.

Friends will be received at Carl R. Spear Funeral Home, Brandonville-Bruceton Mills, W.Va., today, Thursday, from 2 to 4 and 6 to 8 p.m.

A funeral service will be conducted at Sand Spring Church of God, Friendsville, on Friday, June 22, at 11 a.m., with Pastor Nevin Umbel will officiating.

Friends may also call at the church one hour prior to the service.

Interment will follow at Sand Spring Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Alzheimer's Association or the American Heart Association.

Online condolences may be sent to the family at www.spearfuneralhome.net.

PHILIP H. FILSINGER

Philip H. "Babe" Filsinger, 91, passed away peacefully at Garrett County Memorial Hospital on Sunday, June 17, 2012.

He is survived by his beloved wife of over 70 years, Katherine "Kate" Peck Filsinger, who is a resident in Memory Lane at the Goodwill Retirement Community in Grantsville.

He is also survived by one brother, Robert Filsinger, and two sisters, Patricia Filsinger and Barbara Pritts, all of Deer Park, as well as numerous nieces and nephews, including three special nieces, Mary Ann Butler, Susan Filsinger Virts, and Deborah Frantz Wine of Oakland, and an aunt, Katherine Schaeffer, and cousins in the Baltimore area.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Philip and Mary (Ruge) Filsinger; four sisters, Frances Goetten, Ann Filsinger, Ruth Filsinger, and Mary Reardon; and two brothers, John Filsinger and Charles "Mick" Filsinger.

The fourth of 10 children, Mr. Filsinger was born 91 years ago on Oct. 27, 1920, in his family's 19th-century farmhouse. As a child, he walked to a one-room school called Armistead, which had also been attended by his father and aunt, and which his wife-to-be, Kate, also attended. The school closed in 1932.

He liked to reminisce about the hard work he and his brother Bob did as children to develop the farm, especially clearing trees to prepare a field for planting. With two threshing machines on the farm, as a teenager Mr. Filsinger sometimes would take one to a farm in one part of the county while his father took the other to another farm. Despite the hard work, he often spoke fondly of his farm days, and liked to boast that as a boy he "did a man's work."

During World War II, Mr. Filsinger enlisted in the Army and served in the South Pacific as a welder and mechanic. After the war, he worked for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad for 32 years. In retirement, he and Kate traveled a great deal in their motor home, along with their dog, seeing much of the country.

Mr. Filsinger followed current events avidly and loved to hold forth on the issues of the day, from fracking, which he was against, to world affairs and politics. He also loved to reminisce about his favorite car, a 1951 Buick Roadmaster, which he saw in an Oakland dealership as he was driving by. He fell in love with the car on first sight and bought it that day, a purchase completely out of character for a man who always managed his money very carefully.

Until his health began to fail this year, Mr. Filsinger took loving care of his wife at their home, and was saddened to have to admit her to Memory Lane in the Goodwill Retirement Community, where he hoped to join her.

Friends were received at Burdock-Fredlock Funeral Home, Oakland, where a funeral service was conducted on Thursday, June 21, at 10 am. Mr Filsinger's nephew, the Rev. John P. Reardon, associate pastor of the Church of the Holy Paraclete, Providence, R.I., will officiate.

Burial was in Memorial Garden with military honors.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to Southern Garrett Rescue Squad or Hospice of Garrett County.

VIOLET R. LEWIS

Violet Faye Lewis, 72, Oakland, died June 13, 2012, at home with her family by her side.

Born Aug. 3, 1939, in Bloomington, she was the daughter of the late Charles and Ruby (Paugh) Fickes.

She was a graduate of Bruce High School and attended Potomac State College. She was a woman who was ahead of her time in a business dominated by males. As owner of Meadow Mountain Homes, she was a successful contractor for over 20 years and was Maryland's first female Homebuilders Association president.

She was an active member of Pleasant View Baptist Church and attended First Baptist Church, Avon Park, Fla., in the winter months. She was a past member of the Junior Woman's Civic Club and worked with various charities.

She devoted much of her time and energy as a volunteer to others, including the Emergency Hotline at Garrett Memorial Hospital, the Crisis Pregnancy Center of Oakland, and the Center for Great Apes, Wauchula, Fla.

In 1959, Violet married Ronald S. Lewis and together, they reared five children.

She is survived by her husband, Ronald S. Lewis; four daughters, Rhonda Lewis, Angie Cain and husband Benjamin, Patty Pierleonardi and husband Pete, and Donna Lewis; one son, John Lewis. She will also be sorely missed by 10 grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; and her brother, Joseph Fickes.

A celebration of her life will be held Monday, June 25, at Pleasant View Baptist Church at 1 p.m., with Pastor Wally Weeks officiating.

In honor of Violet, the family suggests memorial contributions be made to Hospice of Garrett County, P.O. Box 271, Oakland, MD 21550; or the Center for Great Apes, P.O. Box 488, Wauchula, FL 33873.

Burdock-Fredlock Funeral Home, Oakland, was in charge of arrangements.

Online condolences may be made to the family at www.burdockfredlockfh.com.

Morgan; six sisters, Eliza Jane, Betty Ellen, Rosie, Lillie, Stella, and Mae; two bothers, Oscar and John Larry; and three grandchildren, Christopher Resh, and twins Samuel and Andrew Resh.

Nellie married Elmer Isaac Brenneman on June 6, 1959, in Rowdy, Ky. They lived in Garrett County during most of their marriage and divorced in 1992. She later moved back to Kentucky, where she married Edward Ellis Morgan on June 1, 1997.

She was a member of the Heaven Bound Baptist Church, where she was a Sunday school teacher for years and a church clerk.

She is survived by two sons, Delatha Brenneman, Elizabethtown, and Charles Brenneman, Accident; one daughter, Charlotte Resh, Eureka, Mont.; one stepson, Charles E. Morgan, Radcliff, Ky.; one stepdaughter, Joanne Curren, Elizabethtown; seven grandchildren, Hadley Resh, Elizabeth Williams, Crystal Resh, Jonathan and Marcus Brenneman, and Isaac and Rachelle Brenneman, Accident; and 11 great-grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held in Garrett County in the near future for family and friends. The church prayer chains will be contacted when the arrangements have been made.

In lieu of flowers, Nellie requested that contributions be given to St. Jude's Hospital, Hospice, or the Diabetic Association.

Forest Stewardship Plan Development Offered By DNR

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources is providing landowners with personalized Forest Stewardship Plans to help them create and manage sustainable land areas. The concept behind such a plan is for Marylanders to work together to develop areas that expand tree canopy cover, conserve and improve wildlife habitat, and reduce polluted runoff.

"Thousands of individual landowners can contribute to the future environmental quality and economic stability of Maryland by managing forestland according to a Forest Stewardship Plan," said Mark Muir, project manager for the DNR's Maryland Forest Service. "Forestland is one of our greatest natural resources, and if taken care of, can offer long-term benefits for everyone."

Approximately 90 percent of Maryland's forestland is owned by private woodland owners. Managing forest resources improves water quality, saves and increases wildlife species and habitat diversity, creates recreational opportunities, provides timber, and enhances aesthetics and air quality. Muir said that creating a plan can help property owners identify and recognize the value of their own forestland.

Citizens interested in the Forest Stewardship Plan must have five or more forested acres, not including the residence. Forest landowners in Maryland may receive a reduced tax assessment on the forested land that they own by agreeing to actively manage their land according to their Forest Stewardship Plan. To receive a reduced tax assessment, landowners must complete management activities such as:

- Thinning operations to improve the growth of trees that are more beneficial to wildlife and future timber products,
- Creating improved wildlife habitat,
- Harvesting timber that is mature,
- Tree planting,
- Protecting stream and water quality through forest buffers, and
- Creating recreational trails.

Muir said that sustainable forestry is a broad term for management techniques that respect the full range of environmental, social, and economic values of the forest, and seek to meet current needs without losing any of those values. Sustainable forests maintain all components, such as trees, shrubs, flowers, birds, fish, and wildlife, as well as ecological processes, including nutrient recycling, water and air purification, and ground water recharge so they can remain healthy and vibrant into the future.

Citizens can obtain more information and request to have a Forest Stewardship Plan prepared for their property by going online to dnr.state.md.us/forests/programapps/stewcon.asp, or by calling their local forestry office.

Dairy Queen To Donate Percentage Of Sales To GCHS

Oakland Dairy Queen will donate a percentage of sales to the Garrett County Humane Society (GCHS) on Monday, June 25, between the hours of 5 and 9 p.m.

A few GCHS members will be at the restaurant, and Tux the cat will be there from 6 to 9 p.m. for those who wish to meet him.

Persons are encouraged to make a purchase to help the GCHS continue to help the pets and pet owners in Garrett County who have no where else to turn.

For more information, persons may call 301-616-4425.

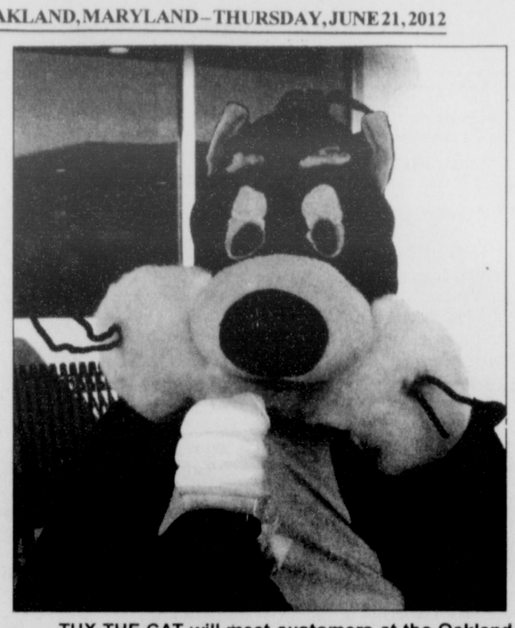
The GCHS is a volunteer organization that has helped homeless and neglected animals for over 25 years.

One volunteer visits the local county animal shelter every Wednesday to photograph the adoptable dogs and cats for The Republican newspaper.

Another posts these animals on Petfinder.com. All members participate in the various fundraisers throughout the year to help raise much needed funds to continue the spay/neuter voucher program and to help with emergency care bills.

The GCHS animal control officer responds to hundreds of neglect calls a year, including dogs or horses without shelter, starved animals, animals in need of medical care, and various other situations.

"Some of our neglect cases could compare to those seen on TV's Animal Cops...," said Lisa Baker, president. "The animals we seize to save their life end up having to be taken to a veterinary hospital right away to be treated, and that takes money, along with the thousands of dollars we give out as vouchers to help residents to have their cat or dog altered."



TUX THE CAT will meet customers at the Oakland Dairy Queen on Monday, June 25, from 6 to 9 p.m. A percentage of sales between the hours of 5 and 9 p.m. will be donated to the Garrett County Humane Society. This volunteer organization has helped homeless and neglected animals for over 25 years. See story for details.

Vacation Bible School Set By Bittinger Parish

The Bittinger Lutheran Parish Vacation Bible School will start Sunday, June 24, and meet each evening from 6 to 8:30 p.m. at Emmanuel through Thursday, June 28.

The theme is "Taking Root: Hunger Causes, Hunger Hopes," and the lessons and projects will include ways of helping others who are experiencing hunger. There will be Bible-based lessons, songs, games, crafts, and snacks.

Emmanuel Lutheran Church is located at the intersection of Maynardier Ridge and Brenneman roads, close to the Bittinger fire hall. The Bittinger Parish consists of three churches: St. John's of Meadow Mountain, Emmanuel, and Zion in Jennings.

Pastor Randy Richardson extends an invitation to everyone to attend. More information can be obtained by calling the church office at 301-245-4202.

Squad Auxiliary To Hold Basket/ Purse Fundraiser

The Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad Auxiliary will hold a Longaberger basket/Vera Bradley bingo fundraiser at Grantsville Elementary School this Sunday, June 24. Doors will open at noon, with bingo slated for 1 p.m.

Prizes to be available include hamper, medium gathering, and medium market baskets, large purses and totes, and duffel bags.

Tickets are $25. Early bird tickets are available for $20 and may be purchased from an auxiliary member or by calling Diane Friend at 301-746-6270.

FRIENDSVILLE NEWS

RUSH BAPTIST CHURCH

Rush Baptist Church will have a church clean-up day this Saturday, June 23, beginning at 9 a.m.

The June 24 morning worship service will be held outside in the church pavilion with Pastor John Wyrick and his band. There will be a covered dish picnic in the pavilion following the service. The public is invited to attend.

BLOOMING ROSE ICE CREAM SOCIAL

Blooming Rose United Methodist Church will hold its annual ice cream social and auction on Saturday, July 14, beginning at 5 p.m. The auction begins around 6 p.m. The menu will consist of chicken or ham dinner with potato salad, baked beans, and roll. The cost is $7 per person. Assorted flavors of homemade ice cream will be served for 50¢/dip. The public invited to attend. Guests may eat in or take out.

SPAGHETTI DINNER

Hoyes Church will hold its monthly spaghetti dinner this Friday, June 22, from 5 to 7 p.m. at the church. The public is invited to attend.

YARD/BAKE SALE

There will be a yard/bake sale held at the home of Mary Frazee, Friendsville Road, on Friday, June 29, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday, June 30, from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Proceeds from the sale will benefit Hoyes Church.

LOWDERMILK REUNION

The Jefferson and Hannah Lowdermilk family reunion will be held this Sunday, June 24, at the Sand Spring fellowship hall. The covered dish picnic will begin at 1 p.m.

CAR WASH/ BAKE SALE

The Northern High School class of 2013 will hold a car wash and bake sale on Saturday, June 23, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Deep Creek Fire Company hall. The group will also sell lemonade and iced tea. The public is encouraged to stop by to support this event.

TOWN NEWS

The next meeting of the mayor and town council has been moved to June 28. The amended budget will be presented at this meeting. Because of the 4th of July holiday, the July meeting has been moved to July 16. This will be the only meeting in July.

Because of a decrease in highway revenue and other funding sources, and the increase in town operating expenses, the mayor and town council deeded the town parking lot over to the Friendsville Volunteer Fire and Rescue Department Inc. Patrons can continue to use the parking lot as they have in the past for one year from the date of transfer, after which the fire department will regulate who can park there. Those who use the parking lot on a regular basis should contact the fire department to see what the stipulations might now be.

Those who have witnessed any vandalism in the town park or around the town are asked to contact the Garrett County Sheriff's Office at 301-334-1911 or Maryland State Police at 301-387-1101.

FFAA NEWS

The Friend Family Association of America will be open on Sunday, July 1, but there will be no story telling that day.

Megan Stark, daughter of April Slagle and granddaughter of Bill and Elsie Slagle, will be the guest speaker on Sunday, July 8, at 2 p.m. She will tell of her interest and work in genealogy and also relate her experiences as an American student in Thailand. She will be returning in August to Thailand for her senior year at Ruamrudee High School.

The presentation on Sunday, July 15, will be done by Tender Heart and will be on the use of native plants.

HISTORICAL SERIES
by Jane and Janice

Who was Rufus Steele? According to the author, Susan Turner, who wrote the trilogy, he was a fictional character placed in the setting of Friendsville. Many places and descriptions match the town and surrounding area as we see it today or have heard of in the past.

Rufus comes to Friendsville unknown and not readily accepted. As he performs courageous deeds and performs his healing of citizens, he becomes an endeared member of the community. A binding relationship with Henry Murphy continues into the war zone of Africa as related in the Rufus Steele 1943 book. In the 1938 and 1940 books, there are exciting, heartwarming, and touching episodes of the role Rufus plays in the community. Much inspiration of these came from the author's father, Warren Teets, who lived in the area.

One will gain much pleasure in reading this series, as it gives life lessons that can be used in today's modern lifestyle. Each reader may be inspired to tell stories of their childhood or stories passed down through generations. That is how history is made and how history is kept alive.

This series of Rufus Steele books are available at the Friend Family Association of America museum or on eBay. They are also on loan to the Ruth Enlow Library in Friendsville and have been placed in the Friendsville Elementary School library.

Perhaps the readers of the Rufus Steele books might be inspired to record in print their own family stories, as Susan Turner did.

ON A PERSONAL NOTE
by Lucretia Sines

Well, as of Wednesday, summer has arrived. Time for swimming, camping, picnics, and vacations. Summer is always a fun time but not quite as relaxing as when I was a kid lounging under a shade tree with a good book or lying on a grassy bank and looking at the clouds. Yes, life as a kid was a great time for me. Oh, there was the usual complaining when it was time to mow the grass and do the chores, but most of my summer was spent

TIGHTROPE BALANCING
by Drs. Tom Sheahen and Steven Parks

Q. A tightrope walker crossed Niagara Falls this past week without falling off. He carried a long pole. How does a long pole help keep a person in balance?

A. There are two key concepts that come together to understand this phenomenon. One is the center of mass; the other is the moment of inertia.

In beginning physics we learn to draw a simple diagram of the "system" being analyzed, and ignore irrelevant details. In this case, the "system" is the wire, the man, and the long pole. Their combined motion is what we focus on.

If the wire stays directly beneath the center of mass (usually called the center of gravity) of the man, he won't fall off. So the trick in tightrope walking is to keep the center of mass aligned with the wire. It is important to remember that even with the wire stretched very tight, it can move left-right a little. If he tips a little to either side, that's an angular rotation. The whole idea of balancing is to keep those angular rotations very small; a large angular rotation means falling off.

The purpose of the long pole is to provide stability by correcting the angular momentum. The walker holds it right at the center. The long pole doesn't have to be heavy; it just has to be long. The moment of inertia of a rod is $I = ML^2/12$, so the length of many feet overcomes the small mass and gives it a high moment of inertia. Meanwhile, the man is much more massive than the pole, but his compact shape gives him a small moment of inertia.

Angular momentum is conserved, and at the start of the walk, nothing is rotating, so the angular momentum is zero. If he can keep it that way all the way across the wire, he won't fall off. As he walks along, rotating the pole creates an impulse of angular momentum, and because the man and the pole together compose a unit, that causes an equal and opposite angular impulse to the man.

Suppose he tips a bit leftward. To compensate, he needs to impart an opposing angular impulse, which means lifting the right end of the pole. The angular momentum caused by the lean-to-the-left is exactly canceled by the angular momentum of rotating the pole. That "rotation" makes his feet – and the wire they're on – both move to the left while his body stays directly above the wire. Rotating the pole has caused the wire to move under his center of mass.

Then he can bring the pole back to level again. In this way, the "average" lean is maintained at zero – meaning straight up and not falling off.

Needless to say, it takes a lot of practice to do this properly. A beginner will lean one way, rotate the bar too much, then lean back the other way and overcompensate, leading to instability and a fall.

Think about walking atop a fallen log to cross a stream. The way to keep balanced is to stick your arms way out to the side, moving them up and down in opposite directions, just like rotating the balancing bar. What you're trying to do is keep your angular momentum equal to zero. If you "lose your balance" and fall into the stream, it's because your arm motion didn't compensate perfectly for your leaning.

Many animals do this very well. A cat tossed off a couch will land on its feet, because its tail swings so as to correct the angular momentum. A squirrel can walk along an overhead electrical wire without falling off, also by using its tail.

One important note about the Niagara Falls crossing: He waited until the early evening when the wind had completely died down before trying this stunt. A wind from the side might have caused the walker to lean further, making it much more difficult use the pole to compensate.

Dr. Sheahen lives at Deep Creek Lake and has taught physics at Garrett College. Persons wishing to submit questions for this column may e-mail them to newsroom@therepublicannews.com.

Dr. Parks has a Ph.D. in solid-state physics, and most of his career has involved the design of sensors and instrumentation. Side interests include molecular biology, exotic travel, and nature study.

Grantsville Days History

In 1977 the Grantsville Business Association decided to have an event that would encourage local organizations to work together to sponsor a fun weekend for the community. It was designed as a non-commercial "homecoming" event for people who had moved away from Grantsville — a chance for them to return to Grantsville to renew old acquaintances and to renew family ties. The participating organizations would be able to use the event for fundraising, and it was decided that food booths would be limited to non-commercial, local church, and community organizations. That tradition has continued to the present day, and that's what separates Grantsville Days from other events that allow commercial food vendors. The food concessions have centered on the local Lions Club chicken BBQ, which is held both Saturday and Sunday. The Lions recently added a kettle corn booth that is very popular with "kids" of all ages.

The 3-day event is now coordinated by the Grantsville Lions Club at the Grantsville Park. Starting on Friday with a huge firemen's parade on Main Street, the event moves to the Park, where there are two nights of fireworks and entertainment is entirely free thanks to donations from local businesses. Many local people donate their time and talents to make Grantsville Days successful. The entire community joins together each year to have a successful weekend.

There are many activities for all ages. Unique tractor and truck pulling contests get huge crowds, and other events include horseshoe pitching and children's games which are very popular. Visitors also enjoy the many craft and exhibit booths in the softball field.

A new stage is being constructed in 2012 to showcase the excellent, free entertainment offered all three days. Visitors are encouraged to bring lawn chairs for a weekend of superb performances.

Similar community events are held each year, but we feel Grantsville Days is unique. Ask anyone who has attended and you will hear the same answer – they are looking forward to the next Grantsville Days. Each year the attendance grows – so the word must be getting out. Come to Grantsville the last full weekend in June for a fun packed weekend, and while here stay at our own historic Casselman Inn.

Summer Fun Fest Slated In Eglon

Maple Spring Church of the Brethren, Eglon, will hold a Summer Fun Festival featuring ice cream on Saturday, June 30, from 4 to 8 p.m. Entertainment will be presented beginning at 5 p.m.

Hot chicken sandwiches, noodles, green beans, coleslaw, and drinks will be served, plus soft serve ice cream, sundaes, banana splits, pie with ice cream, and cake with ice cream.

The event is sponsored by the church's Family Life Center.

Longaberger Basket Bingo Slated July 14

The Raymond Wolfe Center, Preston County's office of Catholic Charities, will host a Longaberger basket bingo on Saturday, July 14, at the Kingwood Eagles Club. All proceeds of the event will benefit the center's food pantry, which serves an average of 520 meals per month.

The doors will open at noon, with Early Bird Bingo beginning at 1 p.m. The cost will be $25 for regular games and five specials. Over $3,000 in filled baskets – both new and retired – plus many door prizes will be awarded.

Tickets are available at Ace Hardware in Kingwood, or by calling the center at 304-329-3644, or by calling Michael or Doris at 304-864-5522.

4-H Club News

EGLON MOUNTAINEERS

The Eglon Mountaineer 4-H Club met for a tree walk in Cathedral State Park on Monday, June 11. Prior to the tree walk and meeting, three members and three leaders met at the Eglon Memorial Building for a food workshop. Sydnee Vandevender gave a demonstration on "How to make a banana split pop." The group then listened to kitchen/food safety and cooking tips. Stephanie Arnett demonstrated how to properly measure both dry and wet ingredients before letting the group participate in making Rice Krispie treats, which were used as the refreshments for the meeting.

The tree walk was led by park superintendent Eric Risinger, who showed the group how to identify a hemlock tree. He also told the group how the trees are being invaded by wooly adelgid aphids and being treated systematically, which does not kill the aphids. An invasive insect, Asian longhorned beetles kill maple, poplar, and other hardwoods. They are almost two inches in length, are dark with white spots, and have very long antennae. These fellows are wood borers and if anyone sees one, it should be captured and reported immediately.

Acting president Jesse Schalker presided over the meeting. West Virginia Day was the theme for devotions. Pledges were led by Zachary Mowery and other first-year members. Danielle Blamble gave the secretary's report and roll call. Members present were Savannah Arnett, Danielle Blamble, Jonathon Blamble, Nathan Davis, Sierra Evans, Savannah Hauser, Tyler and Whitney Pomeroy, Jesse Schalker, Sabryn Schoolcraft, Sara Singer, Brooke Uphold, and Sydnee Vandevender. Jackie Blamble gave the health report. Sara Singer and Savannah Arnett reported on 4-H Days, and Mark Utterback also added remarks. Savannah Arnett reported on the food workshop as well. Mark Utterback announced that the Coopers Rock climb will be in late summer or fall.

Planning to attend county younger camp will be Zachary Mowery, Savannah Arnett, Savannah Hauser, and Sara Singer, while Haley Rocha plans to attend older camp. Both camps are scheduled for July.

The club also decided to donate five desserts to the Mt. Grove VFD for the Elimination Dinner. The date for prepping the outside of the Memorial Building for painting will be discussed at a later time.

Tyler Pomeroy gave a demonstration on "How to break a calf for showing." Whitney Pomeroy gave an illustrated talk on "Identifying the parts of a lamb." Sabryn Schoolcraft's demonstration was on "How I assembled my wooden 4-H Clover." She also talked about her first year in 4-H.

Mark Utterback led the group in a 4-H song, "Down in the Old Cherry Orchard." All projects are due at the next meeting on Aug. 13 for grading. Buckwheat Festival registration will also take place at that time.

AURORA/EGLON

BIBLE SCHOOL

The public is invited to come to the Bethel (Texas) United Methodist Church at Horse Shoe Run for a vacation Bible school from June 25 to 29 at 6 p.m. each evening. This year's theme is "Sunrise National Park." Classes will accommodate those in pre-school through junior high. For more information one may call 304-735-5238 or 304-735-3905.

REUNIONS

The Gnegy family will meet June 23, this Saturday, at the Farmers' Wildlife Park in Horse Shoe Run. A covered dish lunch will be at 1 p.m., and those planning to attend should arrive at noon for pictures.

Family, friends, and the public are invited to attend a gathering of the Nice family on July 8 at the Amboy United Methodist Church pavilion. Those planning to attend are asked to bring a covered dish for a 12:30 p.m. meal.

Members of the Dumire family will hold a reunion at the Mountain Grove pavilion on June 24, this Sunday. Attendees are asked to bring a covered dish for a 12:30 p.m. meal.

Slaubaugh relatives will assemble at the Mountain Grove pavilion on July 1 for their annual reunion. All those interested in attending should arrive for a 1 p.m. covered dish meal.

ANTIQUE TRACTOR PARADE

On Saturday, June 30, there will be a parade of restored antique tractors traveling from Mountain Grove to Thomas. A float will be provided for children to ride. The group will begin to gather at 8 a.m. in Mtn. Grove. They will then parade to Thomas, where they will have lunch, before returning to Mtn. Grove. For more information one may call John Calcamp at 304-735-3141 or Jerry Hauser at 301-334-3702.

UNION SENIORS MEET

The Union District Senior Citizens met for their regular meeting at the Aurora UM Memorial Building with 23 members in attendance. They dined on pork chops and apple dumplings from the senior center. Shirley Parsons read devotions from a Helen Steiner Rice book. President Janet Tackett opened the meeting after the 12:30 p.m. dinner.

Tammy Lewis from the Oakland Rehab and Nursing facility was the quest speaker. She told the group that they have 100 beds in their newly remodeled long-term care housing facility. She also stated that on Sept. 25 they will have a "fun day," to which family and friends are invited.

No date has been set for the defensive driving classes. Those who need a farmstand voucher to purchase food this summer will need to call the Senior Center in Kingwood.

Father's Day gifts went to Dale Harsh and Paul Gnegy. The next shopping date is July 25. The candy jar was won by Janell Harsh. President Tackett read an amusing story before the meeting was adjourned. Some stayed for bingo.

SUMMER FUN FESTIVAL

A summer fun festival is planned for Saturday, June 30, at the Maple Spring Church. There will be pie and cake with ice cream, plain soft-serve ice cream, banana splits, and sundaes. There will also be hot dogs, chicken sandwiches, noodles, coleslaw, and green beans. Entertainment will be provided from 5 to 8 p.m. The festival begins at 4 p.m. and closes at 8 p.m.

PERSONAL MENTION

Carla Fint, daughter of Carl and Betty Fint, Aurora, was united in marriage on June 15 to Jimmy Minuto at College of Window on the Water at Sea Brite, N.J. In attendance were: John and Connie Fint and Joe and Stacy Fint, Aurora, Debbie Wagner, Oakland, Rebecca and Brent Clark, Morgantown, and Courtney and Greg Zimmerman, Silver Lake, Ohio. Also in attendance was the bride's sister and family, Brian and Tina Bassir and Ahnna Violet Bassir. Ahnna was born on April 12 and weighed 8 pounds when born in Bothell, Wash. Carl and Betty had returned from Washington by car and stopped at St. George, Utah, to visit with Carl's brother, Alvin. Mrs. Flint spent about six weeks with her daughter.

Sue Yost was recently hospitalized for tests. She remains at her Eglon home.

Wilma Mae Teets fell at the meeting of senior citizens and as result has a fractured knee cap. She is at her Horse Shoe Run home.

Mary E. Pyles died last week, June 16, at Heartland of Preston in Kingwood. She was born on the Shay family farm in Lantz Ridge, Preston County, the eldest of seven children. She was active in many ways through numerous organizations, including helping start the Senior Citizens. She is now survived by a sister, Jennie May Shay Frazier of Newburg, by her children, Patricia Waller of Fairmont, Victor and Donna Pyles Jr. of Elkins, and Debbie and Tom DeLauder of Terra Alta. She and her husband reared their children in Manheim. In 1990, she and her husband served as Lord and Lady Preston.

Jennifer Conrad has been released from the hospital and is at her home in Eglon. Her son, Daniel, is attending a special school in Martinsburg.

outside with friends.

Our yard was the yard that was always full of kids. We played kickball, croquet, and badminton, and had water battles. When the grapes came ripe on the vine, we even had the occasional grape battle for which we usually got in trouble when Mom and Dad got home and saw the evidence scattered throughout the yard.

We took long bike rides and played softball for hours in the field at the Grantsville School. I always loved climbing trees and find that I still judge a tree by how well it could be climbed. We had a room above my dad's garage where we hung out and played our music loud enough to get complaints. We even made a game out of shelling beans or peas when the garden was ready, and my sister and I would have "shelling" competitions. Oh, yes, summer!

I probably couldn't tell you what I did last summer, but I can fondly remember the summers of my youth.

P.S. Thanks to Douglas Arey, Jessup, who wrote such a kind letter to the editor a few weeks back. It was very nice of you, and I hope that you keep enjoying my ramblings.

PowerPoint '10 Course Offered In Grantsville

Garrett College's Continuing Education and Workforce Development division has scheduled a hands-on computer course titled Microsoft PowerPoint 2010 at the Northern Outreach Center in Grantsville. The course will be held July 17, 19, 24, and 26 from 6 to 9:15 p.m.

This course is geared toward those who are familiar with an earlier version of the program, as well as toward those who are new to the application altogether. Students will learn how to create more effective presentations by including tables, graphics, notes, animations and WordArt to slides.

For additional information, persons may contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, by calling 301-895-4700, or via e-mail at terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu. To register for these courses, one may call the office of Continuing Education and Workforce Development at 301-387-3069.

The Arts

KICKING OFF THE LITTLE YOUGH MUSIC FESTIVAL – Called "a force of nature," "the real deal," and "the genuine article," McClung recorded his first CD, Prisoner of the Blues, in 1998 as a testimony to the emotionally tough events in life. BluesWax, the world's largest virtual blues publication, addressed the authenticity of this release by saying it was "tasty blues, served up hot and intense...the kind you'd like to feast on in a hot, smoky club." All concerts are performed in the Mtn. Fresh Produce Pavilion in the Oakland Town Parking Lot. This is the first concert of the series, which runs through Aug. 31. All concerts are free. Vendors open at 6 p.m. and concerts begin at 7 p.m. Persons should bring their own lawn chairs. The Little Yough Summer Music Festival is funded, in part, by the Garrett County Arts Council and the Maryland State Arts Council.

THE PUFFERS will present a concert at Maranatha Assembly of God in Grantsville on Friday, June 29, at 7 p.m. Bob and Darlene Puffer have been in the gospel music ministry together since 1985. Bob Puffer has been in the country music industry since 1977, and worked on the national television show Hee Haw and with the Oak Ridge Boys. The couple play 150 to 200 concerts per year. Besides singing, they play guitar, banjo, violin, madolin, dobro, ukelele, flute, keyboard, saxophone, and clarinet. The church is located at 176 Springs Road, Grantsville. The public is invited to attend. For more information, persons may call 301-895-5300.

THE CLAIRE LYNCH BAND will headline a list of bluegrass groups that will be performing at the first Bluegrass Festival on the Cheat, scheduled for July 6, 7, and 8 in Rowlesburg Park, Rowlesburg, W.Va. Claire Lynch has been nominated for two Grammys, has won two IBMA Female Vocalist of the Year awards, and has been at the top of the charts in bluegrass music for many years. Her first group was the Front Porch String Band, which evolved in the 1980s and '90s into "one of the sharpest and most exciting post-modern bluegrass bands on the circuit," according to one writer. Dolly Parton, for whom Lynch has provided backup vocals, said Lynch has "one of the sweetest, purest, and best lead voices in the music business today." She has also provided background vocals for Emmylou Harris, Linda Ronstadt, Pam Tillis, Alison Brown, Patty Loveless, Kathy Mattea, and Ralph Stanley. All proceeds from the festival will be donated to the Shriners. For more information, persons may telephone 304-454-2444.

WAR OF 1812 TO BE CHAUTAUQUA THEME – "Inspiration, Unity, Preparedness, Courage: Maryland and the War of 1812" is theme for this year's Chautauqua Series. Featured speakers, clockwise, will be "Maj. Gen. Robert Ross" on Saturday, July 7, "President James Madison" on Thursday, July 5, and citizen "Rosalie Stier Calvert" on Friday, July 6. All sessions begin at 7 p.m. under the tent on the Garrett College lawn. See story.

Terra Voce Next Offering Of MPL

Music at Penn Alps will present a concert by Terra Voce, a flute and cello duo, this Saturday, June 23, in the Great Hall at Penn Alps, Grantsville.

Terra Voce has a reputation for presenting genre-expanding programs that explore diverse musical styles, traditions and cross-cultural influences, while testing the limits of what is possible on just two instruments.

In addition to their numerous performances on college campuses and community concert series, cellist Andrew Gabbert and flutist Elizabeth Brightbill have appeared on the Millennium Stage at the Kennedy Center, in the Christ Chapel Chamber Series at New York City's Riverside Church, and as finalists in the National Flute Association's Chamber Music Competition.

Together with three other flute and cello duos, Terra Voce has formed a commissioning circle and premiered the consortium's first commission, "Dviraag," by Asha Srinivasan in 2009. They later performed this prize-winning work at the 2010 Society of Composers National Conference to much acclaim.

Terra Voce has released two CDs; a self-titled debut CD (2009) and The Frost is All Over (2011), which was chosen as an Editor's Pick on CD Baby.

Prior to moving to the Blue Ridge Mountains of central Virginia, Brightbill and Gabbert lived in Tulsa, Okla., where they performed with the Tulsa Philharmonic Orchestra. Elizabeth held the position of principal flute with that orchestra, and has performed with a number of other orchestras across the country, including the Alabama Symphony, the Fort Wayne Philharmonic, and the Britt and OK Mozart festival orchestras.

A recipient of multiple awards, Elizabeth has been named a winner of the National Flute Association's Dissertation Competition, was a semi-finalist in the NFA Young Artist Competition, and was second runner-up in the Myrna Brown Young Artist Competition. Her artistic pursuits with Terra Voce include performance of traditional and multi-cultural musical styles on a copy of the 19th century Rudall & Rose simple-system flute, made by John Gallagher of Elkins, W.Va.

She holds a doctor of music degree from Indiana University's Jacobs School of Music, and currently teaches at Longwood University, Mary Baldwin College, Eastern Mennonite University, and St. Anne's-Belfield School.

Andrew Gabbert held titled positions with the Tulsa Philharmonic and Opera orchestras for 11 years. He has also performed as soloist with the Tulsa Philharmonic and the National Repertory Orchestra, and has recorded on Centaur Records as the principal cellist of the Chorus Civitas Orchestra. He is a former member of the Baton Rouge Symphony, National Repertory Orchestra, and Terre Haute Symphony. Summer festival appearances have included the Wintergreen (Virginia), Britt (Oregon) and Sunriver (Oregon) festivals, the Texas Festival-Institute at Round Top (Texas), and OK Mozart (Oklahoma) with the Solisti New York Orchestra.

As a chamber musician, Gabbert regularly presented educational concerts as a member of the Tulsa Philharmonic String Quartet/Quintet. He has taught as a visiting instructor at the University of Oklahoma, and as a graduate assistant at Louisiana State University. He currently teaches at Randolph College and Sweet Briar College, and maintains a private studio in Crozet, Va.

Saturday's concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. Admission is $15, with all under age 19 admitted free of charge.

Chautauqua

from the audience. At the end of the presentation, the actor will then answer questions as him/herself.

Bob Boal, president of the Garrett County Historical Society, will be a special guest on July 6, speaking briefly about Garrett County and the War of 1812.

Speakers are assigned through the courtesy of the Maryland Humanities Council. There are six Chautauqua sites in the state. Garrett College was the first to apply when the program begin in 1995, and this will be the 18th season of performances.

The programs are free to the public; although contributions will be accepted to help defray costs.

Food vendors will be available on site each evening, and guests are welcome to come early and purchase a picnic supper, or bring their own food. Chairs will be available under the tent.

Guests may bring lawn chairs or blankets if they wish to stay on the lawn outside the tent.

Garrett College lawn is accessible along Bumble Bee Road, about a mile east of Route 219. Parking is available in the large lot adjoining the lawn. The tent will be visible from the road.

For more information, persons may check the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival web site at www.artsandentertainment.org or "like" the organization on Facebook.

This event is sponsored by Garrett College and the Maryland Humanities Council.

THE PERFORMERS

John Douglas Hall has portrayed James Madison at Montpelier, the president's home, in Orange County, Va., since it was reopened in 1987. He has also represented Madison at conferences, colleges, museums, and historic sites around the country. In his approach to living history, he studies and portrays events as they occurred 200 years ago to the day, starting each day by reading gazettes and pamphlets of that particular date in history.

Mary Ann Jung (Rosalie Stier Calvert) is the award-winning actress behind the "History Alive!" interactive shows. She has beer. a lead actress and director of Renaissance History and Shakespearean Language at the Maryland Renaissance Festival for more than 30 years, and has appeared on CNN, the Today Show, and Good Morning America. Jung's living history performances include Julia Child, Clara Barton, Mistress Margaret Brent, Rosalie of Riversdale, Amelia Earhart, Good Queen Bess, and Rosie the Riveter. She has a bachelor of arts degree in British history from the University of Maryland.

Doug Mishler (Robert Ross) is an independent scholar who has taught at the University of Nevada and Western Washington University. He's the author of a history of the Ringling Brothers Circus. He has appeared in MHC's Chautauqua as Jefferson Davis, P.T. Barnum, Theodore Roosevelt, William Lloyd Garrison, Henry Ford, Upton Sinclair, and George Wallace. He also portrays Ernie Pyle, Billy Sunday, William Clark, Andrew Carnegie, Andrew Jackson, Edward R. Murrow, and Thomas Hart Benton. Mishler has a doctorate in American cultural history from the University of Nevada.

Creative Writing Workshops Set At GC Campus

Two creative writing workshops will be offered at Garrett College from Sunday, Aug. 12, to Saturday, Aug. 18. On-campus accommodations in the form of apartment-style dorms are available for those attending.

One of the workshops, "A Sense of Place," which will be facilitated by Valerie Heller, will encourage participants to explore places, real or imagined, that have meaning for them. The other workshop, "Writing Our Inner Landscapes" facilitated by Daniel Simpson, will lead the participants in mapping the territory of their heads and hearts.

In addition to choosing one of these weeklong workshops, participants may opt to join two sessions with writer Mary McEwen of Oakland.

Facilitator Valerie Heller, who began her career as a "teacher who writes," is currently working as a writer who teaches.

"I am passionate about helping others find their voice on the page," she said.

Working to accomplish this, she has taught English, creative writing, and composition at the secondary and college levels for 17 years and has led writing workshops in a variety of settings.

As a teacher-consultant with the Maryland Writing Project, she has facilitated the invitational Summer Institute for teachers six times, and, as a "Poet-in-the-Schools," she has led poetry workshops for high school students of all grades and abilities, from SSOL (English as a Second Language) to Honors.

Heller said she enjoys writing in a variety of genres, including poetry and creative nonfiction, and currently is devoting her energies to writing a novel for young adults.

Facilitator Daniel Simpson, a former church musician, computer programmer, and high school English teacher, has published work in Prairie Schooner, The Cortland Review, Hampden-Sydney Poetry Review, Passager, The Atlanta Review, and Margie, among others. He leads poetry workshops in schools and in his Philadelphia-area community.

"I do this with the hope of enlarging the number of people who discover that they can understand and fall in love with poetry," Simpson said.

In 2007, he and his twin brother David released a CD of their poetry titled Audio Chapbook. He also writes creative nonfiction and is at work on a memoir. Last fall, his essay "Line Breaks the Way I See Them" and four poems were published in Beauty Is a Verb, an anthology of poems and essays about poetry by writers with disabilities.

As a special no-cost enrichment activity for all participants, Mary McEwen, co-owner of and writer for The Republican, Garrett County's 135-year-old newspaper, will offer two sessions on finding inspiration and the right techniques for feature writing.

A graduate of West Virginia University with a bachelor of fine arts degree in theatre/emphasis on playwriting and a minor in English, McEwen studied all four years with playwright Frank Gagliano. Later, she was a student of novelist Lewis Orde at the University of North Carolina.

A native of Garrett County, McEwen lives in Oakland with her husband John and their three sons.

For more details on these summer workshops, persons may visit www.writing-workshops.org. The registration deadline is July 6. CEUs and/or transcripts will be available.

GLAF Offering Young Artists Workshop In July

The Garrett Lakes Arts Festival (GLAF) will again offer its Young Artists Workshop open Monday, July 16, through Friday, July 20, to youth entering 7th grade through graduating high school seniors. The camp, to be held in the Garrett College Art Room and Gallery from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. daily, is again under the instruction of Laura Stutzman, illustrator and graphic designer.

This is Stutzman's 14th year to teach the visual arts workshop, designed for students with a desire to learn more about drawing and painting.

"The level of study is both ambitious and challenging with opportunities to try advanced mediums, work collaboratively, and raise their level of skill," said Mary Callis, executive director of GLAF. "Exercises in scaling art, life drawing, and color theory round out a week of discovery and camaraderie, with a bonus of well-earned confidence for students to take away."

The week will culminate in an evening show on Friday, open to the public.

Stutzman is a graduate of the Art Institute of Pittsburgh, with a degree in visual communications. Her career began with the Pittsburgh Press in its promotion department, followed by a move to Washington, D.C., where she worked in advertising as an illustrator and designer.

In 1982, Laura co-founded Eloqui, a local illustration company she shares with her husband Mark. She has been a freelance illustrator since the founding of the company, which is headquartered in Mtn. Lake Park.

"She is best known for her confident, painterly style that shows uniquely in today's market," Callis said. "With a blend of traditional approach and contemporary imagery, Laura's paintings have adorned numerous magazines, posters, books, and annual reports."

Stutzman regularly takes on private portrait commissions as well, when time permits.

"The roots of my approach to painting are seeded in the Golden Age of illustration and impressionist from the turn of the century," Stutzman said. "Impressionists Sargent and Hassam, along with the narrative sensibilities of illustrators Dean Cornwell and N.C. Wyeth, inspire my desire to paint."

The registration fee for the workshop is $125, which includes instruction, the cost of materials, and lunch, which is provided by the Garrett County Board of Education at the Laker Café.

For more information about the GLAF Young Artists' Workshop, persons may visit the GLAF web site artsandentertainment.org or call the GLAF office at 301-387-3082.

The BookWorm

FREEMAN
by Leonard Pitts Jr.
C. 2012, Agate Bolden, $16; 432 Pages
Review by Terri Schlichenmeyer

You'll always remember the break-up. It started with a he-said, she-said moment forever burned in your mind. You remember where you stood, the words that were said (or not), the anger, and the queasy feeling that a mistake was about to be made, but you didn't know whose it was.

Relationships come and go, but you never forget your first love and you never forget losing it, either.

And yet, what if you were separated by something beyond your mutual control? Would it be easy to find that love together again? In the new novel Freeman by Leonard Pitts Jr., one man aims to find out.

He called himself Sam because that's what she'd said he looked like he was – a "Sam" – and he told her she looked like a Tilda. So that's what they called one another, even though Mistress had given them ridiculous Greek names when she brought them to her plantation.

Sam had fallen in love with Tilda in that naming minute, and they were inseparable. Mistress let them live together. They had a child together, too, but then Luke was killed and Sam was sold away.

Tilda was angry then, and she had a right to be. Sam hadn't allowed himself to think of that, or of her, for 15 years, but once the North beat the South, he figured it was time to leave Philadelphia and find his wife.

Prudence Cafferty Kent was only acting on the deathbed wishes of her father. With his last breath, he'd told her that he wanted her to go to Mississippi, where his plantation was, and build a school for Negro children as soon as the war was over. Prudence was strong-willed and single-minded, but she knew she couldn't do it without Bonnie's help.

Bonnie was a toddler when, years before, the Captain had purchased her, immediately freed her, and raised her as his own. Prudence couldn't remember life before Bonnie. They were sisters, even though one was milky-white and one was not.

When the Yankees came through and burned what was left of James McFarland's plantation, Marse Jim went a little crazy. Maybe it was because the Yankees killed his son, Tilda wasn't sure. She hated Marse Jim, but she felt sorry for him, too. She knew what it was like to lose a child. She'd lost love, too...

Have you ever read a book so good that you forgot you were reading? Yes, that's what it's like reading Freeman.

Author Pitts serves up a novel that's both ugly and beautiful, with characters that you'll feel honored to know, though it'll hurt. This novel throws you down in the aftermath of war and pushes your face into it – gently, and then rubs. That's a conundrum, for sure, but it's also one of the finest Civil War novels I've ever had.

If you promised yourself one decent book this summer, then look no further because this is it. Read three pages of Freeman and you'll know that this isn't a story you'll soon forget.

Creative Writing Workshop For Teens Offered

The Garrett County Arts Council will offer a creative writing workshop for students in grades 8-12 in July. "I Like to Write!" is the title of the class, which will take place during three sessions, Thursday through Saturday, July 19-21. The class is designed for teens who feel driven to write. The instructor is Mary Sincell McEwen.

McEwen is a graduate of West Virginia University with a bachelor of fine arts degree in theatre (specifically playwriting), plus multiple credits of English and creative writing. She is co-owner of the Sincell Publishing Company in Oakland, which is the producer of The Republican newspaper, and works there as a writer and a staff manager.

This class will be of interest to teenagers who know they like to tell stories. There will be a focus on the value of writing, the need for good writing, and the reasons why the students might want to tell their stories. Essays, "slice-of-life" writing, and some poetry will be discussed. The participants will all write and should leave with a completed piece of work.

Thursday's class will be from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Gallery Shop, 206 E. Alder Street, Oakland. The sessions on Friday and Saturday will be from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and will be held at the Ruth Enlow Library, Second Street, Oakland.

Participants should bring paper and pens or pencils, or they may bring laptops or other devices with which to write short essays.

The cost per person is $35. Arts council scholarships may be available upon request.

The class size is limited and registration is required. The deadline to register is July 13.

To register or to obtain more information, persons may call the arts council office at 301-334-6580.

Bird Count

Four species of owls were reported: two eastern screech, two great horned, 12 barred, and one diminutive northern saw-whet owl, a species of concern in Maryland.

Five eastern whip-poor-wills were found in several different parts of the county, another encouraging note, according to organizers, since they have become locally rare in some areas.

In the count of birds of prey, the following raptors were observed: two adult and one juvenile bald eagles, one sharp-shinned hawk, three Cooper's hawks, one red-shouldered hawk, five broad-winged hawks, 16 red-tailed hawks, and three American kestrels.

Birder numbers were higher, with 46 participants counting for part of the 24-hour period. Fourteen birders counted 34.75 hours in their yards or at feeders. Thirty-two birders ranged further afield in search of birds to count, and spent 160.5 hours traveling 591.65 miles by foot, car, and tractor. Five observers spent 10 hours and traveled 63.5 miles after dark in search of owls and other night birds.

Participants in this year's Garrett County count were: Michael and Peggy Alexander, Ken Bauer, Dave Buck, Matthias Beachy, Tim Boucher, Ron Boyer, Gwen Burkhardt, Jo Cox, Kevin Dodge, Courtney and Mike Englar, Noah Fisher, Aaron and Cliff Graham, Nellie Henken, Marianna Herpel, Rich Hoyer, Sheila Hughes, Nick Jennings, Glen Johnston, Bob and Marg Lewis, Liz McDowell, Pauline Mehta, Jeff Opel, Ada, Joyce, Judy, Lily, and Violet Peachey, Terry Peterson, Bill and Fran Pope, Roger Riley, Savilla Schlabach, Ernest and Martha Schrock, Jane Simms, Connie Skipper, M. Kathy Tucker, David Walbeck, Barbara Yoder, Irene M. Yoder, Samuel C. Yoder, and Samuel M. Yoder.

Results of the count will be published in Maryland Birdlife, the journal of the Maryland Ornithological Society (MOS).

COOL JAMS, SWEET TRIPS – Pictured above are Marcene Huebner (left) and Harry Kight (right), who recently performed to a full crowd at the Will O' the Wisp in a fundraising effort sponsored by the Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church. The musical duo are members of the church and performed in order to send five young women, and fellow church members, on summer trips. Those women are: Jenna Anthony, who will depart for a week at Camp Luther in Cowen, W.Va.; Sammi Bessey, who will travel to Decorah, Iowa, for a monthlong experience at the Lutheran Summer Music Academy at Luther College; and Samantha Gittere, and Mackenzie and Taylor Swift, who will all spend nine days in July on a mission trip through Beckley, W.Va, Birmingham, Ala., and New Orleans. The youth have expressed their appreciation for the support that they have received from their entire community, and especially for the musical talents that were shared by Huebner and Kight. Those who attended the concert were treated to a musical selection which included Concerto for Clarinet and Orchestra by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart; "Autumn Nocturne" by Kight; Concertino by Carl Maria von Weber; and "Clarinet Marmalade," an original Dixieland Jazz Band, arrangement by Kight. The Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church congregation worships Sunday mornings at 9:30 a.m. at Garrett Eight Cinemas. Oaks Split Four-Game Series With Orioles In Pen-Mar Play

The Pen-Mar baseball league's Oakland Oaks played dominant ball on Saturday with home field advantage, defeating the Cumberland Orioles in a twofer hosted at Southern High School.

The first game in that doubleheader ended with the Oaks notching a 9-4 win. The team would repeat its success in the next outing, blanking the Orioles, 6-0.

In its Sunday road trip to Cumberland, however, the Oaks were unable to keep that momentum going. A day after sweeping its opponent, Oakland handed the broom to Cumberland, and fell by scores of 11-0 and 7-2.

The Oaks' Bryan Lenhart played a big role in his team's series-opening wins. Lenhart blasted a first-inning solo shot over the fence to kick-start Oakland's offense in the first game and then took to the mound in game two, where he allowed just five scattered hits before recording a shutout victory.

Lenhart also had a single in the first game, while teammate Sebastian Niemann, who had an exceptional defensive game at third base, tallied a two-run shot in the first inning to go with a later single. Nathan King supplied two doubles, while Jordan Montgomery hit a double and a single, and knocked in a run for the Oaks.

The biggest separation in game one for Oakland came with its five-run fourth inning performance. The team also received some solid pitching from Jesus Rivera and Cody Toothman, who combined for 11 strikeouts.

The Orioles picked up a two-run homer in the opener from Cody Jeffries, while Shane Malloy finished with two singles and an RBI.

In the second game on Saturday, Lenhart took the mound for his first pitching performance of the season. He seized his opportunity and earned himself a win after whiffing four Oriole batters, who tallied just five hits total. He walked just four.

Rivera gave the Oaks a 5-0 lead in the fourth inning, with a solo home run. He went on to add a double in his next at-bat. Teammate Casey Clinton had two singles, while King added a double, a single, and drove in two runs. Toothman earned two RBIs on two singles.

Unfortunately for Oakland it was unable to keep its winning streak alive at Bel Air Field on Sunday. A day after being swept on the road by Oakland, it was Cumberland who cruised to two victories.

The Oaks were shut out in the third game by pitcher Kody Donaldson, who allowed just a single hit and struck out six.

Oakland's poor performance at the plate carried over into its fourth contest with Cumberland, as the Oaks managed just two runs, while facing pitcher Chandler Tomlinson.

Its third game with Cumberland was ended by the 10-run rule, as Oakland allowed Austin Cook to hit a walk-off, three-run homer in the bottom of the fifth.

King, who was the Oaks' starting pitcher, had his team's only hit, a single in the fourth inning.

In game four, Cumberland's Jeffries hit a solo home run as part of a fifth inning surge that left Oakland in the dust and allowed the Orioles to even out the four-game series.

Tommy Reams led the Oaks in game four, with a double, a single, an RBI, and a run scored.

Oakland's record now sits at 7-5 overall, which it will take into its bye this week.

Hot Stove Baseball League Results

Thursday's Results (6/14)

In last Thursday's Hot Stove Baseball League action Team One Auto Mall was downed in its home game with Salisbury, 8-4.

Salisbury jumped out to a 5-1 lead after two innings after Matt Geiger blasted a three-run shot that eventually earned his team the win.

Team One saw some solid production from Justyce Fulmer, who tallied two hits, an RBI, and a run scored.

Geiger went 3-for-5 for Salisbury, adding two base hits to his homer to finish with four RBIs. He also crossed the plate three times. Tim Garlitz was 2-for-4 with a run scored.

Friday's Results

Madigan's was downed, 14-4, by Lakeview Auto on Friday. Falling by the same score on the same day was G&S Coal, which played D&D Homes.

In its game, played at Northern High School, Madigan's was held at bay by the combined pitching of Brooks Carr and Justin Derato, who allowed just two hits.

At the plate, Carr added a double and a single, while teammate Clark Moren hit a triple and a double for Lakeview. Treyvon Jones also hit a triple along with a single. Aaron Rodeheaver added two singles, and Brett Oates and Hunter Hill each chipped in doubles.

Lakeview is scheduled to play again on Monday when it hosts Frostburg Legion at Northern High.

In its loss, G&S Coal picked up two singles from Tommy Duckworth and a double from Brady McGreevy.

Duckworth recorded nine strikeouts in the loss. D&D Homes would secure the win in the game, however, as Dakota Cook and Pat Russell finished with three hits apiece. D&D tallied 10 hits total in the contest.

Monday's Results

In Monday's action, Cork's Cars pitcher Keith Chapman received a 2-0 cushion in the second inning against Madigan's Auto. Chapman then went on to shut out his opponent to earn the win. The game was played at Broadford Park.

Chapman allowed five hits and struck out six batters, stranding the tying run on second base by striking out the final batter in the seventh inning.

Cork's' Lucas Ritchie hit a single and later scored on an error to account for the first run scored in the game. Chapman scored the second run on a squeeze play after singling in the second inning. Teammates Mikey Welch and Dakota Hinebaugh both had singles.

Madigan's received a single from five different players in the contest, as Keaton Taylor, Matt McCullough, Zack Hanline, Bernie Sislo, and Ryan Wilburn all batted their way to first.

Sailboat Racing
On Deep Creek Lake

FINALLY! THE WEATHERMAN GOT IT RIGHT!
by Dan Muss

Yes! We couldn't ask for better sailboat race weather; temperatures in the mid-70s, scudding clouds, and 5-to-10-knot winds. PRO Ryan Schubert set a nice windward-leeward course, with the windward mark off Poland Run and the leeward mark off Blakeslee Point. We got a good start and, I believe, were ahead until I got into trouble off Thousand Acres. I went too far into shore and, when I tacked out on port tack, there was one boat on starboard that I could duck, but along came a second boat, which I hadn't seen. As I tried to slip by him, he had to change course and we had to do a 720.

On the downwind leg, we caught a bunch of boats, but as we approached the leeward mark on starboard, a port tack boat hit us, and I lost my footing and control of our boat. We then proceeded to foul other boats approaching the mark, so we decided to quit and limped back to our mooring.

Sunday conditions were still ideal and PRO Larry Anderson set a really interesting course, similar to Saturday's but with a gibe mark out in the middle, between Blakeslee and Thousand Acres. The run to the jibe mark was almost dead downwind, and the leg to the leeward mark was a close reach or beat.

At the start, the committee boat was heavily favored, but I decided to avoid the crush at the committee boat and start at the middle of the line with, hopefully, clean air. But our start was very poor and we were in last place at the first windward mark. On the run, my lovely crew Carol Muss did a masterful job on the spinnaker, and we were back in competition at the next two marks.

On the second run she not only kept the chute full, but survived multiple jibes as the wind switched back and forth. We were in second place as we approached the leeward mark. I told Carol that we would harden up and then tack for the finish line, which is what the leader, Peters, did.

I did tack, which was a big mistake. Peters got confused and headed for the starting line. Gregory, rounding in third place, just hardened up and fetched the finish line to win, while Peters zipped around the committee boat to finish second and we were third. Still, a thoroughly enjoyable competition!

And from Josh Bullock: "The Silver fleet had an exciting series of races this weekend. The first race ended with the first through fourth boats all finishing within five seconds in a heated battle for the finish line. The second race had a few of the racers trying a risky, but rewarding, port start. The last race was on a course different from the usual triangle and allowed for interesting tactics on the downwind and crosswind legs. Overall the Silver fleet had a fun, safe time this weekend."

Golf Club Notes Upcoming Events, League Results

Max Hill, the Oakland Golf Club pro, announced this week several scheduled event and tournaments that will be held on the Oakland course over the next several weeks.

The Landon's Library Charity Tournament will be held this Friday, June 22.

A junior golf clinic will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. next Wednesday, June 27.

The annual First United/United Way Charity Tournament will be held Friday, July 13.

The Ladies Golf Association Invitational will be held Thursday, July 19.

The Mon Valley Pro/Am Tournament will be held Monday, July 30.

The initial Ladies Monday Evening 9-Hole Scramble was held on June 11. The women were divided into three teams. First place was won by the team of Marie Dray, Judi Upperman, and Bonnie Dixon. Carol Maley made the longest putt on hole #8 to win the skill contest.

All female members and guests are invited to play in the weekly event.

Charlie's Angels, the senior men's group, played a best-ball team format on June 12. The winning team was that of Tom Broadwater, Jerry House, John Hetrick, Gary Dixon, and Gordon Wright. Bill Kelley won the closest-to-the-pin shot on hole #3, and Fred Polce made the longest putt on hole #7. Gordon Wright won the lowest number of putts for the round, with 23 putts in 18 holes.

The group played a Stableford points format on June 19. The team of Ken Metheny, Terry Donahue, Frenchie Grimm, and Paul Cotter recorded a total of 88 points to capture first place. Barry Garris, John Hetrick, Jerry House, and Wayne Johnson teamed up to take second place with 84 points. Al Marucci won the closest-to-pin shot on hole #9, and Paul Cotter made the longest putt on hole #18.

Charlie's Angels will host the Alpine Lake Senior Men in a scramble format next Tuesday, June 26, at 8:30 a.m.

The Wednesday Men's League competed in a best ball format on June 6. The team of Evan Friend, Ed Roszell, Bryce Friend, and Mike Burch won first-place honors with a net team score of 94. Second place went to Mike Brantner, Jack Rickman, Steve Liller, and Jesse Skipper. The closest-to-pin contest winner was Kevin Liller, and Gordon Wright made the longest putt on hole #14. Justin Liller shot a 36 for the low individual score for the evening.

The format for play on June 13 was a team scramble. First place low gross was won by the team of Evan Friend, Brady Donaldson, and Billy Gindlesberger. First place low net honors went to Jerry House, Gordon Wright, Red Guthrie, and Bill Saltysiak. Closest to the pin on hole #9 was Jerry House.

Golfers are invited to call the Oakland Golf Club at 301-334-3883 for information and details about upcoming tournaments, clinics, leagues, and other events.

Oakland Ladies Report Results Of Golf Outings

The Oakland Ladies Golf Association played a round of "Beat the Pro" last Thursday on the Oakland course. Members who beat the club pro with their next score vs. his gross score on a select hole were eligible for a drawing for the prize money.

Winners were Peggy Alexander, Pearl Daniels, and Bobbi Seward. In the low-putts contest there was a tie between Pearl Daniels and Debbie Weissgerber.

The women played a "two best ball pink slipper" format on May 31, in which each group of players had a pink ball that had to finish the round to be eligible to win the two best-ball scores.

First place was won by the team of Cheryl Halterman, Sherry Grant, Kathy Refosco, and Betsy Polce, with a score of 174. Second place was won by the team of June Bray, Janice LaRue, and Barb Levin, with a score of 186, while third place went to Adrienne Plitt, Becky Glotfelty, and Pam Trydahl with a score of 188.

The members had a day of flight play on June 7.

In the first flight, Evie Harrison and June Bray tied for low gross with scores of 86, and Adrienne Plitt won low net. In the second flight there was a tie between Sherry Grant and Jessie Stowell, each with a low gross of 91, and low net was won by Janice LaRue. Third flight was won by Sandy Bello with a 98, with Sue Bredel taking low net. The fourth flight was won by Debbie Weissgerber with a 103, with Pam Trydahl taking low net.

Closest-to-the-pin was won by Bobbi Seward.

Deep Creek's Got Talent! & HEART!

5TH ANNUAL DEEP CREEK'S GOT TALENT! RAISES OVER $13,000 FOR THE DOVE CENTER

The 5th annual Deep Creek's Got Talent! event fundraiser was held on Saturday, June 16th at the Honi-Honi Bar and a total of $13,000 was raised for the Dove Center. Deep Creek's Got Talent! showcased a variety of talent from 14 contestants. Contestants were judged by a live panel of three judges: Rob Michael, Pam Trickett and Jana Brown. Contestants were scored on their donations collected prior to the event, audience donations received at the event, and feedback from the judges' panel. Deep Creek's Got Talent! also featured great prizes and giveaways donated by area businesses for the audience. Live auction highlight items for this year included an autographed guitar by the Thunder Hill singers, 2 Luxury Suite Pittsburgh Pirate game tickets and an autographed Steelers football by Troy Polamalu.

A very special thank you goes out to all the contestants who participated this year: Jesse Ludwig, Matt Roy, Logan Beaver, Grace Stegall, Kali Fike, David Seigh, Isabella Mangum & Kaitlin McSwine, Randeé Engle, Harleigh Wildesen, Trevor Getson, Debbie Goralski, Lauren & Jackie Jacobs, Jessica & Justin Thompson, Jordan Sines, Patty Chapman, Shana Sines and Alex Beeman. Contestants started out with an elimination round followed by the top five contestants performing a second performance in the finalists round. Prizes were awarded to the top fundraiser, the most talented contestant and the top three performers in the competition.

Patty Chapman, Top Fundraiser, received a prize package from the Sewickley Spa, Lowe's and Funland; Shana Sines, Most Talented Contestant, received the Judges Choice Award as well as a prize package from the Inn at Deep Creek, UNO Chicago Grill and Garrett 8 Cinemas. Lauren and Jackie Jacobs, Contest Winners, received a set of waterskis donated by Bill's Marine Service; Debbie Gorlaski, 2nd Runner-Up, received a custom mountain bike donated by High Mountain Sports, and Jessica & Justin Thompson, Third Runners-Up, received tickets to Kennywood, Idlewild or Sandcastle and Pittsburgh Zoo tickets donated by WKHJ 104.5 and 92.3 The Train. Over the past five years, through the generosity and support of contestants, sponsors, businesses and the community, Deep Creek's Got Talent! has raised more than $68,000 for local charities and organizations.

G'ville Goes 2-for-5 In Hillbilly Classic; Falls To Fort Cumberland In McHenry

The American Legion Baseball League team Grantsville Post 214 played a total of six games over the weekend and on Wednesday, and now holds an overall record of 5-8.

Playing in the Hillbilly Hardball Classic in Elkins, W.Va., Post 214 dropped two games on Friday – by scores of 5-4 to Potomac Valley and then 13-2 to South Charleston (W.Va.) – before going 2-1 in three games played on Saturday.

In those games Grantsville opened with a 14-5 loss to Wheeling (W.Va.), but followed with a 7-2 win over Jefferson (Ohio) and then a 7-0 shutout of Bellefonte (Pa.).

Following its tournament run, Grantsville then played host to Fort Cumberland and suffered a 10-3 loss at Garrett College.

In its day-one opener of the Hillbilly Classic with Potomac Valley, Grantsville was edged by a single run following a solo homer by Potomac Valley.

Post 214 took a 2-0 lead in the first inning of the game, which was matched in the next inning by Potomac Valley. Grantsville again took the lead, this time 3-2, with a run in the third inning.

Potomac would then score twice in the bottom of the fourth inning to take a 4-3 advantage. Josh Bittinger had an RBI single in the sixth to tie the score before a one-run blast gave the lead back to Potomac Valley.

For Grantsville, Steven Holtschneider had a double, and Jerad Fike singled home two runs in the first inning.

In the second game of the day, things weren't so close for Grantsville, which allowed South Charleston to bury it with 12 runs scored in the top of the second inning. That nightmare at-bat for Grantsville would set the final score at 13-2. The final three innings of play went scoreless.

Grantsville held South Charleston to just six hits but issued 11 walks in five innings to go along with four errors in the field.

In the second and final day of tournament play, Grantsville would drop its opener in a 14-5 blowout to Wheeling.

In that game, Wheeling scored nine runs over the final three innings to come away with its win.

In the outing Post 214 received two singles apiece from Bittinger and Logan Stewart, while Fike tallied an RBI single.

Playing Jefferson, Grantsville fell behind 2-0 after the third inning and trailed 2-1 entering the final frame. The game saw a serious turn, however, as Post 214 rallied for a seven-run sixth inning and the win.

In the game, Holtschneider, Pat Sines, and Mason Dick all had a double with Holtschneider driving in a run with his. Cody Humberson singled twice and Kyle Rosenberger had an RBI single.

In the final game of its tournament experience, Fike tossed a four-hit shutout for Grantsville to notch its 7-0 win over Bellefonte.

Sines led the way at the plate with two doubles and two RBIs. Holtschneider had three RBIs on a single and a sacrifice fly, while Evan Rodeheaver and Bittinger both had an RBI single. Scott Cooper added a double.

In its Wednesday game with Fort Cumberland, Grantsville was struck out a total of 15 times by pitcher Kevin Myers.

Humberson and Holtschneider combined for all of Grantsville's hits. Humberson singled three times and Holtschneider singled twice.

For Fort Cumberland, Myers allowed five hits in the nine-inning outing. Teammate Drew O'Neal had three singles, while Eli Souders had a double and a single.

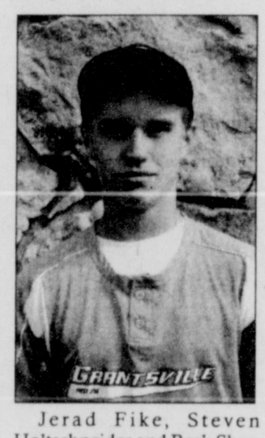
CO-PLAYERS, PITCHER OF WEEK – Co-Players of the Week for the Grantsville American Legion baseball team were former Northern standout Steven Holtschneider, above left, and fellow Husky Cody Humberson, above right. Holtschneider went 6-for-16 (.375) at the plate over the past six games. He scored five runs, drove in six runs, hit a pair of doubles, and drew three walks. Humberson was 7-for-16 with his bat (/438) in those same six games, recorded three RBI with a double, and scored one run. Their awards are sponsored by GMS Mine Repair & Maintenance Inc. and Dennett Road Manor Inc. The Pitcher of the Week was Jerad Fike, also a player at Northern, pictured below. Fike picked up a complete game victory on the mound Saturday in the Hillbilly Hardball Tournament in Elkins against Bellfonte, Pa. He allowed just four hits over seven innings, gave up no runs, struck out three, and yielded just one walk. His award is sponsored by 1st United Bank and Trust.



Jerad Fike, Steven Holtschneider and Beck Sherrard all had RBI singles.

Frank Arnold Falls To Diamond Dogs At Home, 10-0

In a recreational league baseball game played in Oakland on Monday, Frank Arnold was dropped, 10-0, by the Northend Diamond Dogs.

Facing Northend starting pitcher Andy Umbel, Frank Arnold was shut out through six innings.

Frank Arnold managed four hits, was struck out five times, and picked up three walks in that time frame.

The Diamond Dogs earned runs in every inning except the third.

Offensively, Umbel knocked in a run, while teammate Seth Mast doubled for two RBIs, and Kyle Rosenberger singled in two more runs.

Hordubay, Green Top Finishers In Race Up The Face

Aaron Hordubay and Kelly Ann Green led 57 competitors in defying gravity to capture victories in the third annual Race Up the Face (RUF) on Monday at the Wisp Resort in McHenry.

The 400-meter race features a 124-meter ascent up the Face, a black diamond ski slope. Hordubay's winning time of 3:45 was only 9 seconds off the course record set in 2010 by Ryan Bowser.

Green is a veteran of the race who often excels on much flatter courses. She finished ahead of 22 female participants, reaching the top of Marsh Mountain in 4:57.

The RUF was held in conjunction with the annual Taste of Garrett County, a fundraiser for Garrett Trails. The race claims to be the "world's hardest 400-meter foot race." None of the competitors disputed the difficulty of the race.

"There is no real way to train for the race," said Hordubay, a 33-year-old physical education teacher at Yough Glades Elementary School. "You just have to keep pushing until the end."

"You can't really call it a run," said race director Bob Stephens. "Once you hit the steep section, you just try to keep moving forward without falling back to the bottom."

Placing second with a time of 4:09 was Andrew Yoder, 26, followed by Lex Ozias, 19 (4:30), and 45-year-old Steve Green (4:31).

The youngest finisher of the race was 4-year-old Riley Hershey, who recorded a time of 8:44 and finished ahead of 11 other participants. Bill Pope, 75, was the eldest finisher, recording a time of 8:28.

After the race, most of the participants were able to stay for the annual Taste of Garrett County, at which they partook of various offerings from a number of Garrett County's restaurants.

Herrington Manor Hosts Children's Fishing Rodeo

Herrington Manor hosted its 23rd annual fishing rodeo on Saturday, June 2, with 49 participants between the ages of 3 and 16 registered for the event.

The participants were divided into age groups – 6 and under, 7 to 11, and 12 to 16. Prizes were awarded to the top three catches of each age group, based on length and weight in ounces.

In the 6 and under age group, the winners were Laura Moats, first place; Justin Darr, second; and Dale McCombie, third.

Winning first place in the 7 to 11 age group was Chris Whitacre, followed by Zack Sines and Cheyanne Sines.

Alban Welch was the first-place winner in the 12 to 16 age group, with Brandon Sines second, and Hannah Sines, third. Alban also caught the largest fish of the day, a 17¼-inch largemouth bass weighing 2 pounds, 6 ounces.

All participants were also entered into a raffle for a variety of door prizes, which were donated by local businesses.

CELEBRATING 40 YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY

Enthusiasm And Dedication Mark Jean Tressler's 35-Year GC Career

by Peggy Santamaria

Anyone asking Jean Tressler if she likes her work at Garrett College would hear a solid "Yes!" Tressler would explain that she loves being part of a team that has brought opportunities for career growth and personal enrichment to thousands of Garrett County residents through the GC Continuing Education & Workforce Development Division (CEWD).

Tressler began her career at Garrett College in October 1977. Much has changed during the intervening 35 years, but her dedication to the CEWD mission has remained steadfast.

To give perspective to the time frame, one might consider that when Tressler first sat at her typewriter at Garrett Community College (no desktop computers then), people across the country were listening to the Bee Gees sing "How Deep is Your Love?"and watching "LaVerne & Shirley" on TV, with Jimmy Carter as the president.

As the world, the nation, and the community changed, so did Garrett College. Operations expanded, programs were added, new facilities were built, and Tressler's typewriter was replaced with a computer that puts state-of-the-art technology at her fingertips. Keeping pace with this expansion, Tressler's job and responsibilities have grown exponentially.

Hired originally as support staff for continuing education under the leadership of Lowell Bender, Tressler now holds the position of coordinator of operations for the CEWD. The scope of her work increased because of her enthusiasm to help respond to demands of expansion.

35 YEARS AT GC – Jean Tressler started her Garrett College career as a temporary support staff employee 35 years ago. Since then her typewriter has been replaced with a computer, and she now holds the post of coordinator of operations for the Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division.

"Lowell had many responsibilities, so he was very willing to let me learn about, help with, and eventually take over many duties that brought extra dimensions to my job," she said.

While maintaining office managerial responsibilities, Tressler became more involved in the programming for students. Emergency medical training, a signature offering at GC, is one of the programs she began working with more closely, and continues to do so today.

"The EMT classes have been offered since I started working at Garrett," she said. "At first we had the basic courses. It was in the early '90s that we started offering the medic training. At first it was scheduled sporadically, but as the demand for this higher level of training increased, we added more options in the Advanced Life Support (ALS) program and began offering the classes on a regular basis."

Tressler worked diligently with the various emergency medical courses over the years to be sure that GC could offer cutting-edge training for people in the region. It is her work in this arena that has given Tressler the greatest sense of accomplishment.

"I am grateful and proud to have part of the group that was instrumental in bringing about the accreditation of our paramedic program," she said. "We have achieved state accreditation and are currently completing the process to earn full national accreditation for our ALS program."

This process has been rigorous and has included self-studies, site reviews, and meetings with students to review effectiveness of the training for job readiness. The results of this application for national accreditation should be forthcoming within several months, she said.

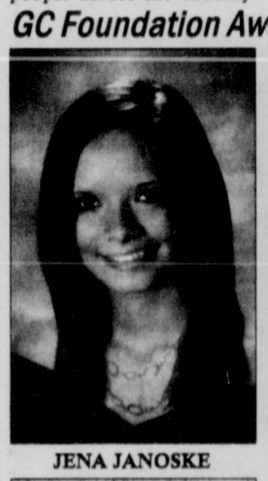
The mission of the Continuing Education & Workforce Development Division of Garrett College is one that Tressler strongly embraces and feels privileged to be working toward.

"It is great to be part of a department that is providing an avenue of education for so many people," said Tressler. "We train them for careers and provide educational opportunities to learn and grow. We do so many things in CEWD that contribute to improvement in the quality of life. There have been so many different people that I've had the opportunity to meet and work with."

After 35 years on the job, many people would be burned out. Not Tressler.

"I also want to express how grateful I am to work at Garrett College," she said. "It is, and has always been, very rewarding. I am extremely fortunate because I love my job and the people I get to work with and serve. It isn't just a job; it is truly a part of my life. This is My GC."

GC Foundation Awards Scholarships



JENA JANOSKE

MORGAN ALLMAN

PAULA GLOTFELTY

PATRICK SINES

The Garrett College Foundation board of directors recently announced the winners of scholarships for the academic year 2012-2013. Awards went to current students, as well as new students at GC. Among those earning scholarships are the following:

Jena Janoske was awarded the Dilgard Scholarship. An Oakland resident, she graduated from Southern High School this year. She is pursuing a degree in early childhood education.

Morgan Allman was selected to receive the Roscoe G. Bartlett Scientific Scholarship. A resident of Grantsville, she is a 2012 graduate of Northern High School. At Garrett College, she plans to focus her studies on mathematics and science.

Paula Glotfelty, who graduated from Southern High School in 2000, has received the Michael Vaughn Vitez Memorial Scholarship. A resident of Oakland, she is currently a student at Garrett, and is preparing for nursing through the Pre-Allied Health program.

Patrick Sines, a Friendsville resident and 2012 graduate of Northern High School, has earned the Deep Creek Lions Club Scholarship. He will pursue a degree in business administration/accounting.

Swimmers At CARC Help Set World Record

Garrett County residents recently had the honor of helping to set a new Guinness World Record™ by participating in the World's Largest Swimming Lesson. Though the final tally was not yet available at press time, there was enough information registered to know that the previous record had been topped.

The Garrett College Community Aquatic & Recreation Complex (CARC) served as a host location for the 2012 World's Largest Swimming Lesson (WLSL), an international event organized to build awareness about the vital importance of teaching children to swim to help prevent drowning. According to WLSL organizers, drowning, though preventable, remains the leading cause of injury-related death for children ages 1-5.

Developed by a coalition of the nation's leading safety and training organizations in support of National Water Safety Month, the WLSL program continues to grow each year around the world. On June 14, the CARC was one of over 500 official WLSL host locations around the globe taking part in a life-saving, Guinness World Record™-setting event. In 2011, the WLSL set a Guinness World Record with over 20,000 participants on five continents.

Maney Gale, Garrett College program coordinator, Continuing Education/CARC, organized the local event and served as lead instructor following the swim lessons scripted by the WLSL. Speaking with a microphone from the pool deck, Gale explained each section of the lesson and its importance to water safety.

In the pool with the class participants were certified instructors Gail Getty and Sara King assuring that swimmers were following the directions and acquiring the various skills outlined.

To meet the requirements for setting a Guinness World Record™ witnesses were on hand. Judi Schiff, an avid swimmer and member of the CARC, said she was pleased to have been asked to participate in this event.

"This is really wonderful," she said. "All these children are getting very important information about being safe around water."

Deb Spurrier, also a CARC member, served as a witness while her children participated in the swimming lesson.

"I'm sure they will share this information with other children to help keep them safe as well," she said.

While daughter Emilia was in the pool, her mother Kristiann Germain watched from the sidelines with approval.

"This is a really good event, and I'm glad Garrett College sponsored it here in the CARC," she said.

Gale said she was appreciative of all the cooperation she had in mounting this event.

"We had excellent participation, and I think it was extremely successful," she said. "Each swimmer received a certificate for taking part in the 2012 World's Largest Swimming Lesson. It is something they can all be proud of."

SPREADING THE WORD – Banners and signs, compliments of Maryland Hunger Solutions, are helping to promote the free summer meal program for youth in Garrett County hosted by Garrett College. Nutritious breakfasts and lunches are served in the Lakers Café Monday through Friday through August 31. The meals are free to anyone age 18 or under. Adults may pay a fee for a meal. Ann Wellham, GC dean of marketing and enrollment management, initiated the contact which resulted in establishing the McHenry campus as a local meal site. "We are excited to be partnering with the Garrett County Board of Education and the U.S. Department of Agriculture to provide meals for the youth of Garrett County," said Wellham. The college agreed to be an open site, which permits everyone meeting the age requirements to participate. Since opening as a free meal site on June 6, over 400 meals have been served in the Lakers Café by the staff of nearby Jearbryo's Restaurant. Pictured from left are Wellham and Jearbryo staff members Gayle Miller, Tracy Humberson, and Gabriella Humberson. More information on the Summer Meal Program can be found online at www.nokidhungryMD.org, or by calling 301-387-3045.

A STEP BACK IN TIME is available to families who would like to offer a meaningful farewell to their loved ones. The horse-drawn carriage shown is owned by Rotruck-Lobb Kingwood Chapel, and the Belgian draft horses are provided by Ray Miller, owner and operator of Pleasant Valley Dream Rides in Oakland with his wife Rachel. This photo was taken at the funeral procession for Roger Lee Graham, a resident of both Deep Creek Lake and Kingwood, W.Va., who passed away on May 29. The funeral was held on June 2, and the carriage traveled from the Rotruck-Lobb Kingwood Chapel to Sunset Memorial Gardens Cemetery, where the interment took place.

GCSO Seeking Info On Theft From Parked Car

Garrett County sheriff's deputies are investigating the theft of $600 in cash and checks from a parked vehicle last Friday morning.

Sometime between 10:40 and 11 a.m. that morning, a representative from the Garrett Fast Pitch League had the cash/checks in a vehicle while it was momentarily parked at the Oakland Sheetz and then the Wellspring Family Medical Center, near Garrett County Memorial Hospital. During that time, the funds were removed.

Anyone with information regarding this crime or any other is asked to contact the GCSO at 301-334-1911 or leave an anonymous tip at www.garrettcountycrimesolvers.org. Tipsters may be eligible for a cash reward.

Franchot. "The number-one priority of my office is to serve the residents of this great state, not just as the tax collector, but to also return any property that may have been forgotten or lost along the way."

The total amount of accounts currently held by the unclaimed property unit is 970,000 accounts, worth more than $985 million.

The comptroller's office is the guardian of bank accounts, contents of safe deposit boxes, security deposits, wages and insurance benefits, and proceeds that have been unclaimed for more than three years. Property such as parcels of land or homes is not included.

By law, financial institutions, insurance companies, utilities, and other companies are required to notify the comptroller of any property that has gone unclaimed, or without activity, for more than three years. Once the comptroller's office is notified, staff attempts to locate the rightful owners to match them with their property. Even though the comptroller is the guardian of the property, the items continue to belong to the owners or their rightful heirs and are available to be claimed at any time. There is no deadline on when the owners can collect their funds.

The information is always available anytime, for free, online at www.marylandtaxes.com or www.missingmoney.com.

Some items held by the comptroller's office are eligible for auction on eBay to obtain the best return in value for the rightful owners. The auction program has been in place for six years, and nearly 6,100 items have been sold, totaling more than $1.2 million. These items can be viewed and bid on by clicking the eBay icon at www.marylandtaxes.com.

Utilizing newspaper advertising is just one way the comptroller's office attempts to locate owners of unclaimed property. The office also searches for owners by matching files with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and state Motor Vehicle Administration (MVA) records, as well as setting up computers at the Maryland State Fair and other events to allow people to check the agency's files of unclaimed funds. The state of Maryland does not charge a fee for returning owners' property.

The comptroller's office honored nearly 50,000 claims totaling more than $43.6 million for fiscal year 2011, which ended on June 30, 2011. More than $240 million has been returned to nearly 240,000 owners since January 2007.

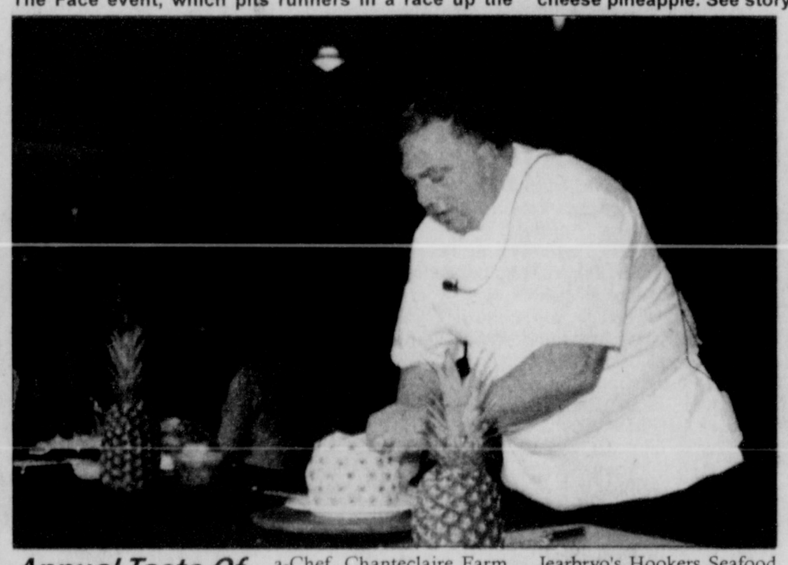
10TH ANNUAL TASTE OF GARRETT HELD – The 10th annual Taste of Garrett County event hosted over 400 individuals at the Wisp Resort on Monday. Those in attendance were treated to a large assortment of catered foods provided by local vendors and restaurateurs, as well as some fundraising activities and the Race Up The Face event, which pits runners in a race up the Wisp's black diamond slope. The event is organized to benefit the Garrett Trails system. In the top photo, Dorothy Andreas (left) faces Laura Stamm in the event's Fender Bender competition, which raised $500 for the construction of new hiking trails. Pictured below is Don Champion of Catering by the Champions creating a cheese pineapple. See story.



Annual Taste Of Garrett Draws 400 Participants

Some 400 participants dined on crab cakes, chocolate strawberries, cookies, sliders, shrimp, salads, soups, cheeses, and more at this year's 10th annual Taste of Garrett County event held at the Wisp Resort on Monday.

According to a spokesperson, the restaurants and catering businesses participating in this year's event, which raises funds to support the Garrett Trails system, made the evening "a delicious, energetic and fun occasion."

The Taste of Garrett County was held in conjunction with the third annual Race Up the Face, a 400 meter footrace up the Wisp's black diamond slope. The competition had nearly 60 runners participate.

Aaron Hordubay earned the winning time of 3:45 minutes, while Kellyann Green placed first among the women with a time of 4:57. Riley Hershey, who only recently turned 4 years old, claimed the title of youngest finisher with a time of 8:44. Bill Pope, in his 75th year, earned the distinction of finishing as the eldest participant. He recorded a time of 8:28.

With its most recent installment of the Fender Blender competition, which has its contestants compete on stationary bikes, this Taste of Garrett County event brought in $500. In the fundraising contest, the red team narrowly edged out the blue team in their attempts to encourage friends, family, and co-workers to support Garrett Trails.

The Taste of Garrett organizers thank the following individuals who pedaled fast and collected cash: Titus Beitzel, Bob Gatto, Jim Raley, Peggy Jamison, Judy Prather, Dorothy Andreas, David Cotton, Tom Johnson, Rick MacLennan, Rob Michael, Andie Myers and Laura Stamm.

The event's organizers also thank the following for providing their donations of time, food, and staff: Black Bear Tavern, Brenda's Pizzeria, Four Seasons Dining Room, Trader's Coffee House, Deep Creek Sweets, Deer Park Inn, DC's Bar and Restaurant, Savage River Lodge, farm foods from Garrett County, Mountain Flour Baking Company, Catering by the Champions, Cornish Manor Restaurant, Lakeside Creamery, Rent-a-Chef, Chanteclaire Farm, Sorellee's/Zip'eez, FireFly Farms, You Take the Cake, Mountain State Brewery, and Jearbryo's Hookers Seafood Grille.

"The array of food presented and the stylish displays pleased the eye and every palate," stated a spokesperson. "Thank you to patrons for supporting this year's event participants."

The public is invited to look for the "Proud Participant of the Taste of Garrett County 2012" decal on local restaurant and business store windows.

The event's organizers also thank the following for their support: Garrett College, Savage River Lodge, Thrasher Engineering, Wisp Resort, High Mountain Sports, Bill's Marine Service, Team One, Railey Mountain Lake Vacations, Dr. Albert W. Getty, Paul Grabow, Dorothy Andreas, Vianne Bell, Ellen Williams, Ed and Jeanne Neff, Lorna Patrick, Evan Byrne, and Mary Green.

Proceeds from the Taste of Garrett go to support the construction of new trails, such as the newest trail from Deep Creek Drive to Marsh Hill Road, which is scheduled to be completed and ready for travel in early July.

Mountain bike and hiking trail construction in the Fork Run Recreational Area is scheduled to begin on July 2 thanks to a Summer Youth Employment "Green Jobs" grant through Garrett County Community Action.

• 10 a.m. – Dutch Oven Demonstration. Guests are invited to stop by the Discovery Center to see what the rangers are cooking up in camp Dutch ovens. (60 min.)

• 11 a.m. – Aquatic Adventures. The public is invited to join with a naturalist on the docks of the Discovery Center to check out fish traps, aqua scopes, and to learn about the critters that call Deep Creek home. Free. (Approx. 90 min.)

• 1 p.m. – Bear Aware. The naturalist will lead a hike to discover the life of a black bear. A bear hide will be on display, and tracking equipment will be explained, along with facts about the animal. Appropriate for all ages. Light hiking. (Approx. 90 mins.)

Saturday, June 23

• 11 a.m. – Fish Prints. Fish that live in Deep Creek Lake will be discussed by the naturalist, who will explain how they survive and what they look like. The activity will culminate in guests making fish prints to take home. Free.

• 11 a.m. – Little Guard. Children age 5 to 7 invited to meet at the beach and learn the skills of a lifeguard. Participants will run a relay, practice throwing a lifesaving device, and learn how to recognize a troubled swimmer, among other skills. There is no swimming required. The cost is $7, and this includes a T-shirt. (60 min.)

• 7 p.m. – Old Fashioned Campfire. Join us as we celebrate the Great American Campout with an old-fashioned campfire. A Dutch oven demonstration is planned. The public is invited to enjoy s'mores, campfire stories, and more. Free.

Sunday, June 24

• 11 a.m. – Kids' Nature Hike. Youngsters may take part in a guided hike around the Discovery Center's Sensory Trail in search of birds and animals, nests, and dens. Free. (Approx. 60 mins.)

• 1:30 p.m. – Aviary Encounter. Guests are invited to the aviary to see and learn about birds of prey. The birds will be perched, which will provide photo opportunities, so guests should bring cameras. A naturalist will be available to answer questions. Free.

Monday, June 25

• 10 a.m. – Fishing with a Naturalist. Kids 7 and up will meet on the shores of the Discovery Center for fishing basics. Poles, bait, and tackle are provided. The cost is $4/person, and adults (16 and older) must have a license. Pre-registration is required, as space is limited.

• 1:30 p.m. – Toddlers in Nature. This program is for children 4 years old and younger. The naturalist will help them make a craft and find fun in nature. Fee: $2 per child. (60 min.)

SUMMER AT SANG RUN Begins. Friend's Store will be open to guests every Monday for special crafts, artisan visits, demonstrations, and shopping at the historic store. Hours: 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Tuesday, June 26

• 8 a.m. – Birding at Deep Creek. Walkers will learn how to "bird by ear" and listen for distinctive songs on a stroll through the park. Participants should bring binoculars and meet at the Discovery Center. Both experienced and beginner birders are welcome. There are a few binoculars to lend out.

• 2 p.m. – Flutterbys and Flowers. Guests will walk around the Discovery Center with the naturalist to learn the many species of wildflowers and butterflies found in the area. The group will learn about the difference between native and non-native plants and their effects on the environment. (60 min.)

Wednesday, June 27

• 11 a.m. – What's That Reptile? Discovery Center staff will teach guests about the reptiles and amphibians in the center. Live specimens will be available for viewing and touching. Free. (Approx. 60 mins.)

• 1 p.m. – Wild Wednesday Tie Dye. Persons may meet at the Deep Creek Lake beach to make tie-dyed shirts and create a conservation message for each shirt. $10 per shirt and $5 for a bandana. (Approx. 2 hrs.)

Thursday June 28

• 10 a.m. – Junior Ranger Program. Youngsters are invited to join the naturalist for this six-week program. Jr. Rangers will meet every Thursday to explore the park, go behind the scenes in the aviary, learn outdoor skills, and more. Fee: $25 per child, $15 for next sibling. Persons are asked to pre-register by calling the Discovery Center at 301-387-7067. (2 hrs.)

• 11 a.m. – Brant Mine Hike. Guests can join a guided hike with the naturalist to the historic Brant Mine. Hikers will see the remnants of a coal mine that was operated in the 1920s, as well as possibly some wildlife along the way. This required moderate hiking. Free. (Approx. 90 mins.)

• 1 p.m. – Critter Encounter. Guests are invited to join a naturalist as the many fish, turtles, snakes, and birds of prey in the Discovery Center are fed.

Save the Dates for Art in the Park, July 14 and 15.

NEW GERMANY STATE PARK

The following activities have been slated at New Germany State Park. More information can be obtained by calling the ranger station at 301-895-5453 or by e-mailing astachowiak@dnr.state.md.us. The Nature Center is open daily, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Saturday, June 23

The New Germany State Park invites the public to participate in the Great American Backyard Campout. For this event the Maryland Park Service has teamed with the National Wildlife Federation to celebrate the Great American Backyard Campout (GABC on June 23), with events at various state parks, including New Germany. The GABC is a nationwide effort to encourage a new generation to explore the wonders of nature and have fun participating in a classic, family-friendly outdoor activity known as camping. GABC events at New Germany will be:

• 2 p.m. – Leave No Trace Hike, Games, and Crafts. This activity will feature a short hike with the park naturalist, in which participants will learn about Leave No Trace outdoor ethics. The activity will conclude with Leave No Trace games and crafts. Participants are encouraged to wear close-toed shoes and sunscreen. Those interested may meet at the Nature Center, next to the Lake House.

• 6:30 p.m. – Campfire Cooking. This program will provide participants with all of the ingredients needed to create an outdoor feast, including unique recipes, tips, and demonstrations. The cost of $5 per person, will include a free hot dog, all-you-can-eat s'mores, and a variety of sample-food items. Children 5 and under may participate for free. Participants will also have a chance to win a free campfire cookbook. Those interested are encouraged to bring an appetite and meet at the lakeside amphitheatre, next to the Nature Center.

• 9 p.m. – Owl Prowl. This program will feature a twilight hike with the park naturalist, in which participants will learn about some fascinating creatures of the night. Participants will have the opportunity to look, listen, and call for owls, and learn to identify some of the owls common to the area. Those interested are encouraged to wear close-toed shoes, and bring a flashlight for safety when leaving the program. Meet at the Lake House.

Sunday, June 24

• 1 p.m. – Build a Bird Feeder. This program will feature instruction on how to build bird feeders using a variety of recycled and natural materials. Participants will have the opportunity to build their own bird feeders to take home with them. Those interested may meet at the Nature Center, next to the Lake House.

SOCIALLY DISADVANTAGED FARMERS TO BE APPOINTED COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack has announced that he intends to appoint voting members from socially disadvantaged (SDA) communities to serve on county committees in county jurisdictions that lack fair SDA representation. USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA), which works collaboratively with county committees, published an interim rule this week in the Federal Register that is open for public comment for 60 days.

County committees have served as a direct link between the farm community and USDA for more than 75 years, helping to deliver FSA farm programs at the local level. Eligible farmers serving on committees provide feedback to USDA on the types of FSA agricultural programs that best serve the needs of local producers.

County committees were formed in the 1930s to oversee federal farm programs, a tool for grassroots engagement whereby locally elected committees give farmers effective self-government authority. That authority continues today, making farmers primary stewards of farm programs passed by Congress, including administration and outreach to all farmers and ranchers in their area.

Secretarial appointments would add SDA voting members to county jurisdictional areas where representation is lacking, according to a statistical review conducted by USDA. The appointments will supplement the existing election process where currently there are 7,700 elected county committee members representing 2,244 county jurisdictions.

Authority to appoint voting SDA members was granted in the 2002 Farm Bill passed by Congress. The interim rule allows the secretary of agriculture to ensure fair representation on county committees by appointing a voting member in areas identified as under-representing the diversity of area producers. Each year, USDA will conduct a fresh statistical analysis, and appointments with voting authority will continue to occur in areas identified as under-representing the diversity of area producers.

A copy of this interim rule is on display in the Federal Register. To submit comments, persons may use any of the following methods:

•Mail: Barbara Boyd, Field Operations Program Manager, FSA, United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), Mail Stop 0542, 1400 Independence Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20250-0542.

•Hand delivery or courier: Deliver comments to the above address.

For more information about FSA county committee elections, producers may visit the Preston County FSA office, located in the Corner Mall of the Kingwood Plaza, telephone 304-329-1923, or visit the FSA web site at www.fsa.usda.gov.

TO SAVE, PAY YOURSELF FIRST

by Lynn Little, Extension Educator, Family and Consumer Sciences University of Maryland Extension

The old advice "pay yourself first" is still good advice today. Saving is an important piece of building your financial security.

Consider savings as a fixed expense similar to the rent, mortgage, or utility bill. Put away some money in savings before you do anything else with your paycheck. Pay yourself first. That means each month, before you are tempted to spend money, commit to putting some of your money into savings. You can write out a check to be deposited into your savings account, but it is much easier to arrange with your bank to do a regular automatic transfer of a certain amount from your paycheck or your checking account into savings.

An important savings goal is to establish an emergency fund, setting aside enough money to cover your basic living expenses for three to six months. This money should be kept in an easily accessible savings or money market account. Only use the money in the event of an emergency, such as receiving unexpected medical bills or losing your job.

Saving is often difficult to do, so here are some tips to help make saving a habit: If your employer offers payroll savings, enroll. If your employer offers such tax-saving accounts as a flexible spending account for medical expenses, enroll. When you contribute money to a 401(k), health savings account (HSA), or flexible spending account (FSA), you are contributing pre-tax dollars.

Therefore, for example, if you contribute $100 pre-tax a month, your paycheck could be $40-$60 dollars less. If your employer offers to match retirement savings, take advantage of the gift! Matched saving is one of the best tools for achieving optimum long-term benefits.

Open a 529 college savings plan. This will allow you to save for your child's college education free from federal income tax. Turn a debt payment into a deposit. If you pay off a debt, such as the outstanding balance on a credit card, or if you make that last loan payment on your car, put that money to work as part of your savings. Save windfall income. The theory is simple. You got along without the tax refund or gift, so why not save it? A similar tip is to save monthly loan payments after a loan is repaid.

Once you are in the habit of saving and seeing your account balances grow, saving becomes easier. Set both short- and long-term savings goals and work toward them.

Music Slated At Laughlin Church

The Reeds will share a time of Christian music at the Laughlin Church of the Brethren along Amish Road near Grantsville on Sunday, June 24, at 7 p.m. Everyone is welcome to attend.

The tobacco cessation classes are funded by a cigarette restitution fund grant from the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene.

main reason they are able to remain smoke free," said Mike Wilburn, cessation facilitator.

To register for the class or receive more information, those interested may call the Garrett County Health Department at 301-334-7730 or 301-895-3111 and ask for Mike Wilburn.

Tobacco Cessation Class Scheduled By GC Health Dept.

The Garrett County Health Department plans to offer a free tobacco cessation class to residents living in or around the Oakland area. The class is scheduled to begin on June 27 at 5:30 p.m. in the Garrett County Health Department's conference room. This will be the last class of its kind offered until September.

Those who enroll in the program are eligible to receive financial assistance for cessation aids in the form of nicotine patches, nicotine gum, or Chantix. The health department encourages cessation participants to develop a quitting plan that works for them.

Participants will meet once a week to provide support for one another. According to a spokesperson, there is strong evidence that shows people who are involved in some sort of support group are more likely to succeed in quitting tobacco.

"Successful quitters tell me that the support they receive from other participants is the

SHS Students Earn National Nod For Financial Literacy

Two students at Southern High School – Rachael Huxford and Cody Murphy – recently received national recognition for their "excellence in financial literacy" from the Maryland Council on Economic Education, which held its annual awards ceremony in Timonium.

Huxford, a sophomore, was honored for her second place national award following her entry into the InvestWrite essay contest. For her paper on investing principles, Huxford won a new laptop computer and a pizza party for her classmates.

As a student in Lisa Bender's economics class, Huxford competed in the academic Stock Market Game for 10 weeks. As a summative assessment for the course, Bender had students complete an essay for the InvestWrite competition. She typically submits the 10 best essays from her class.

InvestWrite is funded by the Investor Education Program that is sponsored by SIFMA (Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association). This year's contest began with 20,000 essays submitted nationwide (K-12).

From the entries, three national winners were named in grades 4-5, grades 6-8, and grades 9-12. Huxford earned her honors in the 9-12 division. Her essay was titled "High and Dry with Highs and Lows."

Huxford was required to demonstrate her knowledge of the language of the stock market and the ability to use fundamental and technical analysis of stocks by writing five things someone should know before investing. The essay also required the writer to state the percentage ratio of specific stocks for an investment portfolio they recommend. The essays were judged by current stock brokers and securities dealers from around the country.

Last year, the Maryland State InvestWrite winner was Brandi Lathbury, also a student in Bender's economics class.

Murphy, a junior, was also honored at the luncheon after earning a perfect score on the U.S. Treasury Department's Financial Capability Challenge Test given in April.

Murphy was one of just 18 students in Maryland and 563 nationwide to earn 100 percent on the test. A total of 80,024 students took the online exam. The overall average score nationwide was 69 percent. In Maryland, 3,015 students took the exam and the average score statewide was 69 percent.

Of the 63 Southern High students who took the test, 24 earned grades of 88 percent or higher. The overall average was 76.7 percent, with 87 percent of students who took the test earning scores higher than the national average.

This is the second year in a row that one of Bender's students has earned a perfect score on the Financial Capabilities Challenge Test.

The SHS students who placed in the top 20 percent nationwide were: Jonah Alt, Kelsey Bosley, Elizabeth Broadwater, Brooke Ferguson, Megan Gotsch, Caleb Hawk, Katrina Kelly, Sarah Lambka, Colin Lynch, Mary Meyers, Murphy, Bethany Rush, Lara Schad, Jaxon Schwab, Patricia Sherrard, Elizabeth Sines, Megan Stone, Sara Sweitzer, Sam Thomas, Alexander Toothman, Natalie Tracey, Zach Virts, Ryan Wilburn, and Bryan Wilkinson.

SHS STUDENTS DISPLAY FINANCIAL LITERACY – Lisa Bender's class at Southern High School recently participated in the U.S. Treasury Department's Financial Capabilities Challenge Test, which is designed to measure financial literacy. After 63 of Bender's students completed the test, their average score exceeded the national average by nearly 8 percent, with a number of them scoring in the top 20th percentile on a national scale. One student, Cody Murphy, was honored for receiving a perfect score. He is pictured in the photo below left. In the photo below right is Rachael Huxford, who won a second place national prize for her essay on the subject of financial literacy. See story. The top scorers on the FCCT from Bender's class are pictured above. In the front row, from left to right, are Bethany Rush, Elizabeth Sines, Sara Sweitzer, Katie Kelly, Patty Sherrard, and Sarah Lambka. In the second row are Sam Thomas, Bryan Wilkinson, Alex Toothman, Ryan Wilburn, Johan Alt, Colin Lynch, Elizabeth Broadwater, Caleb Hawk, Murphy, Megan Stone, Megan Gotsch, and Natalie Tracey. Absent when photo was taken: Kelsey Bosley, Brooke Ferguson, Mary Meyers, Lara Schad, and Zach Virts.

Market Vouchers To Be Distributed To Senior Citizens

The Senior Farmers' Market Nutrition Program will once again provide vouchers for eligible senior citizens beginning on Monday, July 2.

The purpose of this particular program is to increase the consumption of fresh fruits and vegetables by older adults.

These vouchers will allow the person $30 worth of locally grown fresh fruits, vegetables, and cut herbs, and locally produced honey at qualified Maryland open-air farmers' markets.

To receive the voucher booklet, one must be at least 60 years old, a resident of Garrett County, income eligible (185 percent of federal poverty guidelines), and attend the Nutrition Education Program presented the day of the distribution.

For example, total monthly income before taxes for a family of one is $1,723; total monthly income for a family of two would be $2,333.

A copy of the income guidelines is posted at AAA senior centers/nutrition sites.

Local distribution sites and times are as follows:

• Mary Browning Senior Center – Monday, July 2, 1:15-3 p.m.; Monday, July 9, 9-10:30 a.m.; and Tuesday, July 17, 10-11:30 a.m., and 1:30-3 p.m.

• Swanton Community Center – Tuesday, July 3, 10-11:30 a.m.

• Friendsville Senior Center – Wednesday, July 11, 9:30-11 a.m.

• Grantsville Senior Center – Wednesday, July 11, 1-3:00 p.m.

• Kitzmiller Community Building – Thursday, July 12, 10-11:30 a.m.

Participants should expect to be at the site for an hour. During that time, eligibility will be reviewed, training on use of vouchers will be presented, and required forms will be completed.

If eligible seniors cannot be present the day of distribution for health reasons or other circumstances, they may arrange for a proxy to pick up their checks. This must be done at least one week prior to the day of distribution. Necessary forms for a proxy can be obtained either from senior center nutrition site managers or by calling 301-334-9431, ext. 178.

Northern Garrett GOP Women To Hold June Meeting

Northern Garrett Republican Women have scheduled their monthly meeting for Thursday, June 28, at 7 p.m., at the Hill Top Restaurant.

The guest speaker for the evening will be Sharon Menges, who serves as an outreach worker from the Garrett County Health Department. She plans to give information on how the health department functions. She will also take the blood pressures of those in attendance.

The members providing the gift basket for this event are Ruth Umbel and Ruth Beitzel.

Breathtaking Beauty

My heart sings when I look out into my little bird-feeding area and see a migrating indigo bunting quietly eating white proso millet. Indigo buntings are the most beautiful blue you will ever see. They are so beautiful, I'm sure all of the other birds are green with envy.

Strange BUT TRUE

• It is still not known who made the following sage observation: "Never attribute to malice what can be adequately explained by stupidity."
• If you are an aficionado of the word game Scrabble, you probably know that there are only five words that can be played using a q but no u. In case you're not in the know, those words are "faqir," "qaid, " "qoph, " "qindar" and "qintar."
• In 1774, surveyors in Maryland marked off a parcel of land by mistake. The error was immortalized when the town that grew up on that land adopted the name Accident. • The English word "mistletoe" comes from an Anglo-Saxon phrase that means "dung on a twig." It seems that the branches where mistletoe is often found have white splotches on them, which some say resemble bird droppings. • The martial art that is known today as karate actually originated in India and spread to China before becoming popular in 17th-century Japan, where it was dubbed karate, which means "empty hand" in Japanese.
• These days you'll rarely see an elected official with a beard, but facial hair wasn't always considered to be a liability in politics. In fact, it's been reported that Abraham Lincoln was inspired to grow a beard while he was running for president in 1860 because of a letter from an 11-year-old girl. Grace Bedell wrote to Lincoln that a beard would make him "look a great deal better, for your face is so thin. All the ladies like whiskers."
• When the United States bought Alaska from Russia in 1867, the going price was 2 cents an acre.

Thought for the Day: "Nothing gives an author so much pleasure as to find his works quoted by other learned authors." -- Benjamin Franklin

Moments in time

• On June 29, 1613, the Globe Theater, where most of Shakespeare's plays debuted, burns down. The Globe was built in 1599 from the timbers of London's very first permanent theater, Burbage's Theater. The galleries could seat about 1,000 people, with room for another 2,000 "groundlings," who could stand around the stage.
• On June 28, 1888, writer Robert Louis Stevenson and his family leave San Francisco for their first visit to the South Seas. Stevenson, an adventurous traveler plagued by tuberculosis, was seeking a healthier climate. His novel "Treasure Island" was published in 1883. • On June 27, 1922, the American Library Association awards the first Newbery Medal, honoring the year's best children's book, to "The Story of Mankind" by Hendrik Willem van Loon. The Newbery Medal seeks to encourage originality and excellence in the field of children's books.
• On June 26, 1948, in response to the Soviet blockade of land routes into West Berlin, the United States begins a massive airlift of food, water and medicine to the citizens of the besieged city. For nearly a year, supplies from American planes sustained the more than 2 million people in West Berlin.
• On June 25, 1956, the last Packard rolls off the production line at Packard's plant in Detroit. The classic American luxury car used the famously enigmatic slogan "Ask the Man Who Owns One."
• On June 30, 1962, Sandy Koufax strikes out 13 batters and walks five to lead the Brooklyn Dodgers over the New York Mets 5-0 with his first career no-hitter. Koufax went on to throw three more no-hitters, including a perfect game on Sept. 9, 1965, in which he allowed no hits and no walks. • On July 1, 1979, the Sony Walkman -- the world's first low-cost, portable music player -- goes on sale in Japan. The initial production run of 30,000 units looked to be too ambitious, as only 3,000 were sold at $150 apiece in the first month. Some 200 million sales later, Sony retired the cassette Walkman in 2010.

Q: I bought a signed photo of Jean Harlow at an antique shop for $1,500. It is a beautiful portrait, and I am about to have it framed. Before I do, I want to send you a Xerox of the photo to see if you can help me date it and perhaps tell me how much you think it is worth. -- Bob, Homestead, Fla.

A: Jean Harlow didn't sign many photographs. She was too busy making films. She turned that task over to her mother, and the two women had very different signatures. I am certain that you have one of the photos signed by Harlow's mother, and as such not worth a fraction of what you paid. I suggest you return the photo to the dealer for a refund.

Q: I have a letter signed by John F. Kennedy thanking me for my volunteer work during his presidential campaign. I have kept it for more than 50 years, but the time has come to sell it. Any suggestions? -- Ben, Macon, Ga.

A: First you need to have it authenticated. The sobering fact is that most presidential letters since about 1960 were signed by autopens. These are special machines that -- 24 hours a day, seven days a week -- sign letters such as the one you have. To find out if it is, indeed, a personal letter from JFK, the time has come to consult with an autograph expert. I recommend Brian Kathenes, a certified appraiser of autographs and related materials. His contact information is P.O. Box 482, Hope, NJ 07844; www.nacvalue.com; and brian@nacvalue.com.

Q: I have a sheet of first-class postage stamps that are 12 cents. Any idea of when they were issued? -- Ken, Abilene, Texas

A: Your stamps were issued between 1981, when the postage rate was hiked from 10 cents, to 1985, when it jumped again to 15 cents per stamp.

Q: I have an original soundtrack recording of "M*A*S*H." I have been offered $30 for it. -- Susan, Portsmouth, Va.

A: Take the money and run. According to several price guides I consulted, your LP was issued in 1970 and is worth about $10 in above-average condition.

Less is More

As the average age of our population increases, the movement to "downsize" becomes more popular. Less to maintain means more time for a relaxed lifestyle and more free time. There is time for family and time to volunteer still vital energy for worthy causes in the community. As earthly baggage is reduced, there is time and energy to increase participation in God's earthly kingdom...to serve as spiritual mentors to those still caught up in the busiest part of their lives. Share the wisdom that comes with age at your house of worship; spend more time with God's family.

We Are All Connected

Aristotle claimed that humans are political animals, meaning that we live in a political society or community, remarking further that only a beast or a god would live by himself away from others. One implication of this view is that our minds are part and parcel of the social fabric. Our minds develop socially, by being raised to speak a particular language in a particular culture. And we are literally connected to other people's brains in that the smile on our face will register in their brain and cause their brain to make them smile, and their smiles will have the same effect on us. We have been taught the message of individualism for so long that we don't often see the many ways in which we are connected. Our minds truly are social, think of how often we complete each other's sentences or feel each other's joys and sorrows. But, the philosophy of individualism emphasizes our separateness and makes us think that we can be just as fully human as distinct individuals, as we can when we are part of a larger group like a family or a society. Since we live in a world where it is possible to live alone, and more people are choosing to do so, it appears that at times we hold up the individual as more important than the collective.

And all who believed were together and had all things in common; and they sold their possessions and goods, and distributed them to all, as any had need.

Garden Tour To Feature Perennial Sale, Raffle Prize

A perennial sale and raffle prize will be available at one of the four gardens featured during the Mtn. Laurel Garden Club's 12th annual "Secret Country Gardens" tour on Saturday, June 30, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

The Horticultural Committee, chaired by Linda Harris, will oversee the plans for the perennial sale and be on hand to sell the plants. A variety of perennials appropriate for the Garrett County climate will be available for visitors to purchase during the tour.

The Herb Committee, co-chaired by Ginny Grove and Nellie Henken, has put together a raffle prize to be won the day of the tour. Tickets for the herb planter will be available at this garden as well. The prize is a rectangular, black metal planter that holds three 6-inch flower pots that will be filled with a variety of herbs. Attached to the back of the "basket" are three faux outdoor water faucets.

Refreshments will be available on the day of the tour.

A new addition at one of the gardens will be a boutique with many garden-related items from traditional to "shabby-chic" for sale.

The Conservation Committee will feature a five-minute computer presentation, "Invasive Plants of Garrett County," prepared by Liz McDowell of Elk Ridge Native Plant Preserve. Handouts about invasive plants and sources for native plants and actual invasive specimens will be available for plant identification education.

LOOK FOR THE PLANT SALE TENT AT THE GARDEN TOUR – Perennial plants and raffle tickets will be available during the Mtn. Laurel Garden Club's annual "Secret Country Gardens" tour, to be held on Saturday, June 30, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. See story. Above, club members ready the plant sale tent. Left to right are Carolyn Crabtree, perennial sale chair Linda Harris, Marg Lewis, Jerry Crabtree, and tour co-chairs Barbara Gallagher and Sue Campbell. Below, Herb Committee co-chairs Maggi Coene, Nellie Henken, and Ginny Grove prepare the raffle prize, a black metal planter that holds flower pots filled with herbs.

The cost of a ticket for the tour is $7. Tickets for the tour, which include a short description of each garden and directions, may be purchased in advance at the following locations: Gregg's Pharmacy, Oakland; Jan Florist, Oakland; Green Acres Garden Center, Oakland; Julie's Greenhouse, Spring Glade road off Rt. 219; Nature's Own, Sang Run Road, McHenry; Annie's Restaurant, Accident; and Beachy's Pharmacy, Grantsville.

On the day of the tour, members of the Garrett County Historical Society will sell tickets at the Gazebo in Oakland. Proceeds from the tour will be used by the Mountain Laurel Garden Club for the continued beautification of local communities, and to encourage gardening and sound conservation practices through club activities and programs.

The Mountain Laurel Garden Club is a member of the National Garden Clubs Inc., the Central Atlantic Region, and the Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland Inc. Affiliated clubs provide education, resources, and national networking opportunities for members as well as promote gardening, floral design, and civic and environmental responsibility.

For more information, persons may contact Barbara Gallagher, tour co-chair, at 301-387-5875, or Kathie Smith, publicity chair, at 301-334-3249, or visit www.mountainlaurelgardenclub.com.

Make room for truth: New HBO series goes behind the scenes of news show

By Dee Wright
TV Media

Comedians like Jon Stewart, Stephen Colbert and Bill Maher are some of the leading sources of political news nowadays. The pundits provide facts about governmental developments and policies while providing entertainment and comic relief about serious issues.

Though the media is supposed to be unbiased and unwavering based on events in the world, satirists like Colbert take an obvious side on the political spectrum to show some of the exaggerations made by the opposite parties.

HBO's new series follows a news show that started out as a simple broadcast but ends up breaking down walls that so many have been avoiding. Starring Jeff Daniels, Jane Fonda and Sam Waterston, "The Newsroom" premieres Sunday, June 24, on HBO.

Will McAvoy (Daniels) was a successful, non-partisan newscaster for "News Night," a nightly broadcast that covered the political news developments to the day. He had a solid audience and was the frontman for the whole network, ACN, because of his popularity. His stories played it safe -- he never asked controversial questions or pushed the limits. He kept his personal opinions out of his interviews and he was "popular because he doesn't bug anybody."

That image will soon come to an end. During a panel discussion, McAvoy is asked by a college student about why he thinks America is the greatest country in the world. Something within him snaps, and he declares that it isn't the greatest. He then spews out facts and figures about the low income, lower education and high costs of the country -- and his entire rant is caught on camera.

Afraid he will lose his audience, and ultimately his job, McAvoy agrees to revamp the entire news show to become a serious, hard-news provider -- putting politicians on the spot, asking questions voters want to ask and, finally, providing his own commentary on some of the events. Unfortunately, not everyone is happy about the new ideas.

The new producer, Mackenzie MacHale (Emily Mortimer), is constantly trying to tighten the leash on what McAvoy is trying to do, and the two are frequently butting heads. A simple request to take his BlackBerry off the desk results in him throwing his cellphone at the camera.

Charlie Skinner (Waterston), as president of ACN, plays the referee between the floor and the offices, going to bat for McAvoy but also helping him stay grounded. When he pitched the new structure of the show to the bigwigs, he said: "The newsroom will become a courtroom because American voters need a lawyer."

Leona Lansing (Fonda) is the new CEO of the company that runs ACN, and she is not pleased with the new format of the show. She wants McAvoy to revert to his human-interest stories that made him so popular in the first place, and she keeps threatening to fire him if he keeps stretching the boundaries.

Series creator, writer and producer Aaron Sorkin put himself in several newsrooms to do front-line research for his scripts. He had already worked on two other series about TV shows -- "Sports Night" and "Studio 60 on the Sunset Strip" -- but for "The Newsroom," Sorkin sat behind the camera at Fox News and CNN, as well as "Hardball With Chris Matthews" and "Countdown With Keith Olbermann." In an interview with "TV Guide," Sorkin stated that he wanted to provide a real sense of what newspeople go through.

"It'll be aspirational. It'll be wish fulfilment. But they're going to lose as much as they're going to win. In other words, it's not going to be a fantasy," he said. "They're going to be trying to do well in a context where it's very difficult to do well when there are commercial concerns and political concerns and corporate concerns."

Sorkin's work on "The West Wing" got him multiple Emmy awards for his trophy case, and he says he aims to give news teams the same treatment he gave the White House in his previous series.

"I'm loving the idea of coming back to television and taking the same combination of idealism and romanticism and realism that made government sexy on 'The West Wing' and seeing if we can't do the same with the news and journalism, which are held in at least as much contempt," he said.

Daniels has a recognizable face, like most newscasters should, but let's hope some of his biggest roles don't take away from his credibility. His roles in "Dumb & Dumber" (1994), "RV" (2006) and "My Favorite Martian" (1999) may paint him as a comedy actor, but he's had his share of dramatic roles as well. He has appeared in "Terms of Endearment" (1983), "Gettysburg" (1993), "State of Play," (2009) and "The Lookout" (2007). He's also won several stage awards for his roles in various plays, including "Fifth of July" and "Lemon Sky."

Waterston is also a recognizable face, though his best roles have drawn in a different audience than those who saw "Dumb & Dumber." As District Attorney Jack McCoy, he appeared in more than 350 episodes of "Law & Order," as well as a handful of episodes of the spinoffs. He also starred in NBC series "I'll Fly Away" in the early '90s and "The Killing Fields" (1984.)

Hudson paired with Pops for Fourth of July concert

By Sheila Busteed
TV Media

STARS AND SPARKLERS: This year's Independence Day festivities will feature plenty of star power, lots of crackling fireworks and, of course, the Pops.

CBS is gearing up for this year's broadcast of the annual "Boston Pops Fireworks Spectacular" by announcing it has landed renowned TV actor Michael Chiklis as the special's host. But the fireworks display will have to contend with the powerhouse pipes of Oscar- and Grammy-winning performer Jennifer Hudson, who will sing some of her most popular tunes with the Boston Pops Orchestra.

The special will broadcast live from the Charles River Esplanade in Boston on Wednesday, July 4. This year marks the 39th anniversary of the annual outdoor concert. The last 20 minutes of the special, which will feature the acclaimed fireworks display, will run without commercials.

Hudson will bring lots of popular appeal to the event. As living proof that contestants don't have to win the "American Idol" contest to become successful, the singer went on to win an Academy Award for her role as Effie in 2006's "Dreamgirls," which was also her film debut. Two years later, she won a Grammy for her self-titled debut album.

As an actor, Chiklis has been the man in charge through his leading roles in "The Shield" and "No Ordinary Family." He'll be part of an all-star ensemble cast, which also includes Dennis Quaid and Carrie-Anne Moss, when the highly anticipated CBS series "Vegas" debuts this fall.

Keith Lockhart, who has been the Boston Pops conductor since 1995, will lead the orchestra through its performance. He has helmed more than 1,300 concerts with the group and has helped usher in a new era for the orchestra. The new ventures have included the group's first Grammy nominations, an increase in international touring and its pre-game performance at Super Bowl XXXVI in 2002 -- the first time a symphony orchestra ever performed at the football event.

Jennifer Hudson will perform with the Boston Pops Orchestra during the July 4th celebration

Saturday

Travelers Championship
(2) (2) (5) 3:00 p.m.
Top golfers take on the challenging TPC at River Highlands in Cromwell, Conn., in the third round of this year's PGA Championship. The event is known as "glory's last shot" since it is the final of the four major championships in professional golf.

Olympic Trials
(6) (6) (8) (11) (11) (12) 4:00 p.m.
As the world gears up for the London 2012 Olympic Games, the most promising divers in the U.S. compete at the Olympic Trials in Seattle, Wash. Later, NBC offers viewers prime-time coverage of the track & field Olympic Trial finals from Eugene, Ore.

Storage Wars
(37) A&E 9:00 p.m.
The intense rivalries continue, along with the search for rare collectables and other valuable items hidden in storage units. The bidders have just a few moments to take a look at the contents of the units before they go up for auction.

Arachnoquake
(43) SYFY 9:00 p.m.
A massive earthquake unleashes horrifying subterranean creatures in this premiere. The sci-fi flick chronicles what happens when giant albino spiders go on a killing spree in New Orleans. Bug Hall, Ethan Phillips and Edward Furlong star.

President Obama wrote a note for a fifth-grader who skipped school so that he could hear him give a speech. At first, the boy's teacher was suspicious because the note was signed "Billy's President."

New research just came out showing that elderly people emit a distinct odor. The study was conducted by two guys stuck in an elevator with Larry King.

DC Comics has revealed that the Green Lantern is gay. Of course, it's not a huge surprise considering he's the only superhero who gets his powers from his emerald jewelry.

European Grand Prix
(10) (6) Noon
The people of Valencia, Spain, play host to some of the world's best F1 drivers during this year's European Grand Prix, held on the Valencia Street Circuit. The event, which had been on hiatus for a number of years, was re-introduced in the 1980s.

Dirt Late Model Show Me 100
(2) (2) (5) 2:00 p.m.
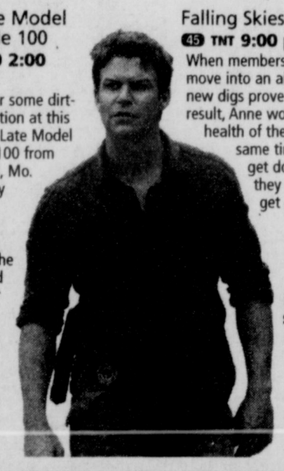
It's time for some dirt-slinging action at this year's Dirt Late Model Show Me 100 from Wheatland, Mo. Powered by 800-horse-power V-8 engines based on the Chevy, Ford and Mopar power plants, the expensive custom race cars are cutting edge.



Matt Passmore stars in "The Glades"

the L.A. Kings win the Stanley Cup, there are no plans for a public celebration. Not to worry, though: Laker fans have offered to riot on their behalf.

The Tonight Show: Jay Leno
Unemployment's still looking pretty bad. In fact, the White House has a new slogan on job creation: Hope and Change ... the Subject.

The Late Show: David Letterman
Miss Rhode Island is the new Miss USA, ladies and gentlemen. And today, Donald Trump demanded to see her birth certificate.

Late Night: Jimmy Fallon
This weekend, seven monkeys were stolen from a zoo in Poland. You know, so they could begin shooting Season 6 of "Jersey Shore."

GCHD To Provide In-Home Personal And Medical Care

by Donna McClintock Fost

Do you or your loved one(s) need some extra help with personal care? One of the long-standing health care programs of the Garrett County Health Department can provide assistance for qualified elderly, chronically ill, or disabled persons.

The state-funded Medical Assistance Personal Care Services Program (MAPC) began 30 years ago through the efforts of the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DHMH) with the goal of helping qualified persons remain in their homes by giving them help with daily activities such as feeding, dressing, bathing, toileting, and mobility.

"Many of the clients who currently receive personal care would not be able to stay in their homes without the extra help their providers give," said Donna McClintock Fost, program director.

MAPC qualifies individuals to become personal care providers who help clients in their homes with simple daily activities as well as household services directly related to medical needs. The program pays for a personal care provider and a registered nurse case monitor for those eligible.

Registered nurse case monitors make home visits within 120 days to ensure quality services are provided to meet the needs of clients. The case monitor also meets with the personal care aide and the qualified client to explain the plan of care needed for the medical assistance recipient.

"We are pleased to introduce Angela Savage as the RN monitor," said Fost.

"Angela comes with an extensive knowledge of caring for the elderly and special needs clients."

A registered nurse case monitor not only assesses the need for personal care, but also works with the recipient to develop a plan of care, assists in locating a personal care provider, and monitors the care provided for the program participants.

As of May, 27 MAPC clients have received assistance.

To qualify as a recipient and receive MAPC services a person must be eligible for medical assistance, be elderly, chronically ill, disabled, or under a doctor's care, as well as be a Garrett County resident and in need of help with daily activities, such as feeding, grooming, bathing, toileting, meal preparation, changing linens, personal laundry assistance, and limited shopping.

MAPC is always in need of more personal care providers. A personal care provider must be at least 18 years of age, dedicated to helping others, responsible and reliable, and be certified by a physician as being capable of performing needed tasks. The potential provider must undergo a criminal background test and be approved for employment.

A provider cannot be a family member of a program participant. This means not a legally responsible relative, including a spouse, a parent of a dependent child, or an individual who has full and unrestricted powers of guardianship.

Personal care providers receive $13.25 to $57.42 per day, depending on what level of care the recipient needs. Payment comes from the state, but providers are not state employees and are not eligible for state benefits.

As a special service, the Garrett County Health Department offers a free adult evaluation and review assessment to any adult living in Garrett County. The Adult Evaluation and Review Services assess a person's medical and social service needs by doing basic routine check-ups, reviewing existing medications, and determining the need for assistance.

The evaluation team consists of a registered nurse and a licensed social worker. As part of the evaluation service, one of the team members will talk to the client and the client's family about the services that are available to help the person remain in the home. The team will also determine if the person is eligible for the MAPC.

For more information one may call the Garrett County Health Department's MAPC program at 301-334-7740 or 301-895-3111 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

GARRETT COUNTY "HAMS" TO CONDUCT FIELD DAY – The Garrett County Amateur Radio Emergency Service has planned Field Day activities for June 23 and 24, at the Western Maryland 4-H Center off Rt. 495 in Bittinger. GCARES will begin setting up at 10 a.m. on Saturday, June 23, and will begin station operations at 2 p.m. Operations will run through the night and be completed at 2 p.m. on Sunday, June 24. The public and all amateur radio operators are invited to attend, free of charge. Field Day is sponsored by the American Radio Relay League. The purpose of the annual Field Day, which occurs throughout the country every year, is to practice setting up and operating amateur radio stations without the use of commercial power. In this way, "hams" may gain experience preparing for emergency communications should they become necessary. This year, there will be at least five stations using various modes of operation, including voice and CW (Morse code). Visitors who do not have licenses will have a chance to get on the air at a station under the supervision of a licensed operator. There will also be information for the general public about amateur radios, including some learning centers on Morse code and National Traffic System radiograms. Visitors will be able to prepare a radiogram message to be sent through the NTS anywhere in the country. Those interested in attending should proceed through the gate of the 4-H center and continue about one-half mile until coming to a circular path on the left, where they will drive around to a covered pavilion.

THIRD: BEGINNING at an iron pin standing Northeast 19 feet from the centerline of Old Route 219, said pin being the Southeast corner of Parcel #2 and running with the Northeast margin of Old Route 219, South 68 degrees 29 minutes 15 seconds East 75.33 feet to an iron pin, then South 72 degrees 58 minutes 30 seconds East 101.40 feet to an iron pin, also the Southwest corner of the 1.25 acres deeded to Gary King and Debra King and recorded in Liber 387, folio 769, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, then with the boundary between King-Savage properties North 14 degrees 29 minutes 30 seconds East 197.92 feet to a stake and stone pile set on the Southwest margin of a 74 foot right-of-way (measured from centerline) of New U.S. Route 219 then running with said margin, North 58 degrees 55 minutes West 115.50 feet to an iron pin, then Northeast corner of Parcel #2, then with boundary between Parcels 2 and 3, South 31 degrees 05 minutes West 227.50 feet to the point of beginning, containing 0.7 acres, more or less.

EXCEPTING, HOWEVER, that portion, if any, of the above-described real estate which was heretofore conveyed to the State of Maryland for use of the State Roads Commission, by deed dated April 7, 1967 and recorded in Liber No. 278, folio 248, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, as shown on Plat Numbers 21545, 21546 and 31723, filed in the Plat Case File Numbers 204, 203 and 189, in the Office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

The above-described property (the "Property") being all the same property which was conveyed by the Grantor by the Deed of Trust dated and recorded as aforesaid.

TERMS OF SALE: The Property is being sold and will be conveyed free and clear of the lien of the above-referenced Deed of Trust and all subordi¬nate liens and encumbrances. The Property is being sold and will be conveyed "As Is, Where Is", without recourse, together with and subject to all applicable conditions, restric¬tions, covenants, limitations, rights of way, streets, alleys, reservations, easements, and appurtenances of record and subject also to all environmental conditions affecting the Property, if any. The undersigned Substitute Trustee makes no warranties or representations, express or implied, with respect to any matters concerning the Property, included but not limited to, condition of the Property, matters of survey or title, tenancies or parties in possession, zoning compliance, housing or other governmental or regulatory violations, etc.

A deposit of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($25,000.00) (the "Deposit") will be required at the time of sale in cash or by certified check or other form of payment acceptable to the undersigned Substitute Trustee in the said Substitute Trustee's sole discretion; the balance to be paid upon ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland; except that no deposit shall be required of the holder of the note secured by the Deed of Trust (or any controlled affiliate of the holder; collectively hereinafter the "Holder") where the Holder bids on the Property at the sale and payment of the purchase price by the Holder shall be made by crediting the purchase price against the foreclosure costs and expenses and the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust. Interest shall accrue on the unpaid balance of the purchase price at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date of sale to the date of Court ratification, and at the rate of twenty percent (20%) per annum from the date of Court ratification to the date of settlement. No interest shall accrue on the Deposit. If the successful bidder (the "Purchaser") fails to make settlement within fifteen (15) days following the date of Court ratification, time being of the essence thereto, the entire Deposit may, at the option of the undersigned Substitute Trustee, be forfeited and retained as liquidated damages and notice of said forfeiture shall be provided to the Purchaser by the Substitute Trustee. If the Deposit is not forfeited as liquidated damages, but is instead retained by the Substitute Trustee in escrow pending resale of the Property, the Property may be resold by the Substitute Trustee at the risk and expense of the defaulting Purchaser, and the Deposit thereafter shall be applied as required to any subsequently realized loss of the Substitute Trustee by virtue of the default by the said Purchaser and the required resale of the Property including any expenses incidental thereto. All taxes, water, and other public charges and assessments shall be pro-rated on and as of the date of said sale and shall be assumed thereafter by the Purchaser. Following the date of sale, all risk of loss to the Property shall be assumed by the Purchaser. The Purchaser shall pay the cost of all recordation taxes, transfer taxes (including but not limited to that agricultural land transfer tax imposed by Maryland Tax Property Code §13-302; which said tax may be applicable to the sale and transfer of the Property), document preparation and other costs of settlement. Any and all rents due and payable after the date of sale (but excluding any rents due and payable through the date of sale) from leases of all or any portion of the Property will be received and held by the Substitute Trustee as an accommodation only for the benefit of purchaser pending closing with all of said rents to be credited to purchaser at closing without interest thereon or deduction therefrom. Notwithstanding the immediately preceding sentence, nothing therein contained shall be construed to oblige the Substitute Trustee affirmatively to collect said rents.As an express condition of sale, the Purchaser shall be required to execute at the time of sale a Substitute Trustee's Auction Contract for Sale of Real Property in that form which shall be available for inspection on the date of sale or which may be inspected in advance upon request to the undersigned Trustee or on-line at http://www.schlosslaw.com/docs/swagat.contract.pdf. The Purchaser shall be entitled to physical possession of the Property only after settlement; however, the Substitute Trustee assumes no responsibility to place the Purchaser in such possession of the Property. The undersigned specifically reserves the right to reject any bids submitted. The Substitute Trustee reserves the right at the sale to vary, modify, alter or qualify any of the foregoing terms or conditions of sale.

TERMS OF SALE: The Trustees reserve the right to offer and sell the Property as an entirety, in individual lots, or in alternate grouping of lots. A deposit in the amount of $75,000.00 shall be required at the time and place of sale in order to bid on the entirety. A deposit in the amount of $15,000.00 shall be required at the time and place of sale in order to bid on each lot offered individually, and for each lot if offered in a grouping. All deposits must be made payable in cash, certified check or other form acceptable to the Trustees and will be required at the time and place of sale. The Properties will be sold in the manner which the Trustees, in their sole discretion, determine will yield the higher return for the Holder. The balance of the purchase price shall be due in cash or by certified check with interest on the unpaid balance of the purchase price at the rate of eight percent (8%) per annum from the date of sale to and including the date of settlement. In the event the Holder, an affiliate thereof, or an assignee of either, is the successful bidder at the sale, such party will not be required to make a deposit or to pay interest on the unpaid purchase money. Taxes, water rent and all other municipal charges and liens owed against the Property shall be the responsibility of the purchaser and shall be paid by the purchaser at settlement. In addition, all other charges, expenses and liens owed against the Property, including, but not limited to, all condominium fees, homeowners association fees and expenses and public charges and assessments owed and payable on an annual basis, such as sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges, if any, shall also be the responsibility of the purchaser and shall be paid by the purchaser at settlement. In the event that taxes, water, sewer, water rent, ground rent, condominium fees, and/or homeowners association dues, or public charges or assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges, if applicable, have been prepaid, they shall be adjusted between the Trustees and the purchaser to the date of sale. The cost of all taxes, documentary stamps, recordation taxes, document preparation and transfer taxes is to be paid by the purchaser. The Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to extend the time for settlement, if applicable.

The Property will be sold in an "AS IS" condition and without any warranties or representations, either express or implied, as to the nature, condition or description of the improvements. The Property will also be sold subject to all existing housing, building and zoning code violations, subject to all critical area and wetland violations, subject to all environmental problems and violations which may exist on or with respect to the Property, and subject to all matters and restrictions of record affecting the same, if any. The purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss for the above-referenced Property immediately after the sale takes place. It shall be the purchaser's responsibility to obtain possession of the Property following ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

The Property shall be sold subject to all easements, conditions, liens, obligations of record, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, encumbrances, such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection might disclose, and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and not otherwise extinguished by operation of law.

The purchaser shall pay all state and local transfer taxes, recordation taxes and fees, title examination costs, attorneys' fees, conveyance fees and all other incidental settlement costs. The purchaser of the Property shall settle and comply with the sale terms within twenty (20) days following the final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, unless said period is extended by the Trustees for good cause shown. Time is of the essence. Settlement(s) shall be held at the offices of Rosenberg | Martin | Greenberg, LLP, 25 S. Charles Street, Suite 2115, Baltimore, Maryland 21201, or at such other location as the Trustees may agree..

In the event the purchaser fails to proceed to settlement when required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available to them, the Trustees may, without further order of the court, declare the aforementioned deposit forfeited and resell the Property at the purchaser's risk and expense. In such event, the defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorneys' fees, all other charges due, and incidental damages. In the event a resale of the Property results in a sale in excess of the amount originally bid by the defaulting purchaser, the defaulting purchaser waives any and all claims, rights and interest to any such excess amount and shall not be entitled to any distribution whatsoever from the resale proceeds. The parties' respective rights and obligations regarding the terms of sale and the conduct of the sale shall be governed by and interpreted according to the laws of the State of Maryland.

If the Trustees are unable to convey the Property as described above, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be limited to the refund of the aforementioned deposit, without interest thereon. Upon refund of the deposit to the purchaser, the sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claim against the Trustees or the Holder.

The information contained herein was obtained from sources deemed to be reliable, but is offered for informational purposes only. The Holder, the Trustees and the Auctioneer do not make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of this information.

SUBSTITUTED TRUSTEES' SALE OF REAL PROPERTY KNOWN AS NO. 36 LEE LANE FRIENDSVILLE, MD 21531 CASE NUMBER 11-C-12-012458

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a Deed of Trust from Beatrice B. Artice and Barbara Jane Oravitz recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber 1188, folio 539, and Declaration of Substitution of Trustees recorded among the aforementioned Land Records substituting Thomas P. Dore, Mark S. Devan, Gerard F. Miles Jr., Shannon Menapace, and Erin Gloth as Substituted Trustees, the Substituted Trustees will offer for sale at public auction, at the Courthouse Door, Alder Street entrance, Oakland, Maryland on Monday, July 2, 2012, at 03:20 p.m.

All that lot of ground and the improvements thereon situate in Garrett County, State of Maryland, as described in the Deed of Trust recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, in Liber 1188, folio 539, also being further described in a Deed recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber 1024, folio 776. The improvements thereon consist of a dwelling.

The property will be sold in "AS IS" condition, subject to any existing building violations, restrictions and agreements of record. Neither the Substituted Trustees nor their respective agents, successors or assigns make any representations or warranties, either expressed or implied with respect to the property. The Substituted Trustees shall convey insurable title.

TERMS OF THE SALE: A deposit in a form acceptable to the Substituted Trustee in the amount of $7,000.00 will be required of the purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns, at the time and place of sale. Unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, the balance of the purchase price shall be paid immediately with available funds within twenty (20) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Time is of the essence. The purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns, shall pay interest at the rate of 7.12500% per annum on the unpaid portion of the purchase price from the date of sale to date of settlement. Real property taxes and assessments shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser, unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, in which case, no adjustments shall be made. Ground rent, water and/or sewer charges public or private, if any, shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser, unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, in which case, no adjustments shall be made. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property.

In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. If the purchaser defaults, the entire deposit is forfeited. The Substituted Trustees shall resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorney fees, all other charges due, and incidental and consequential damages.

In the event the Substituted Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser's sole remedy is return of the deposit. The Substituted Trustees shall have the right to terminate this contract in the event the Holder or its Servicer has entered into any agreement with, or accepted funds from, the mortgagor. Upon termination of the contract, Purchaser's sole remedy shall be return of the deposit.

OAKLAND, MD 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Leslie A. Bittinger and Salena D. Bittinger dated February 28, 2007 and recorded in Liber 1291, Folio 524 among the Land Records of Garrett Co., MD, with an original principal balance of $232,000.00 and an original interest rate of 6.625% default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Sub. Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett Co., located at 203 S. 4th St., Oakland, MD, at the East Alder St. entrance, on JUNE 27, 2012, AT 1:30 P.M.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND, together with any buildings or improvements thereon situated in Garrett Co., MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust.

The property, and any improvements thereon, will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $24,000 in cash, cashier's check or certified check is required at time of sale. Balance of the purchase price, together with interest on the unpaid purchase money at the current rate contained in the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received by the Sub. Trustees, payable in cash within ten days of final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court. There will be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason. TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE FOR THE PURCHASER. Adjustment of current real property taxes will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the purchaser. All past due property taxes paid by the purchaser. All other public and/or private charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale to be paid by the purchaser. All transfer taxes shall be paid by the Purchaser. Purchaser shall pay all applicable agricultural tax, if any. Purchaser is responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property, and assumes risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale. If ratification or settlement is delayed for any reason there shall be no abatement of interest. The sale is subject to post-sale audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of the deposit without interest. If purchaser fails to settle within 10 days of ratification, the Sub. Trustees may file a motion to resell the property. If Purchaser defaults under these terms, deposit shall be forfeited. The Sub. Trustees may then resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulted purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds resulting from said resale even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulted purchaser. If Sub. Trustees are unable to convey either insurable or marketable title, or if ratification of the sale is denied by the Circuit Court for any reason, the Purchaser's sole remedy, at law or equity, is the return of the deposit without interest.

KNOWN AS NO. 971 BLACK OAK DRIVE
OAKLAND, MD 21550
CASE NUMBER 11-C-11-012301

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a Deed of Trust from Bartley A. Maheu and Renee P. Maheu recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber 1068, folio 290, and Declaration of Substitution of Trustees recorded among the aforementioned Land Records substituting Thomas P. Dore, Mark S. Devan, Gerard F. Miles Jr., Shannon Menapace, and Erin Gloth as Substituted Trustees, the Substituted Trustees will offer for sale at public auction, at the Courthouse Door, Alder Street entrance, Oakland, Maryland on Monday, June 25, 2012, at 03:20 p.m.

All that lot of ground and the improvements thereon situate in Garrett County, State of Maryland, as described in the Deed of Trust recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, in Liber 1068, folio 290, also being further described in a Deed recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber 1068, folio 287. The improvements thereon consist of a dwelling.

The property will be sold in "AS IS" condition, subject to any existing building violations, restrictions and agreements of record. Neither the Substituted Trustees nor their respective agents, successors or assigns make any representations or warranties, either expressed or implied with respect to the property. The Substituted Trustees shall convey insurable title.

TERMS OF THE SALE: A deposit in a form acceptable to the Substituted Trustee in the amount of $8,000.00 will be required of the purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns, at the time and place of sale. Unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, the balance of the purchase price shall be paid immediately with available funds within twenty (20) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Time is of the essence. The purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns, shall pay interest at the rate of 5.87500% per annum on the unpaid portion of the purchase price from the date of sale to date of settlement. Real property taxes and assessments shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser, unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, in which case, no adjustments shall be made. Ground rent, water and/or sewer charges public or private, if any, shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser, unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, in which case, no adjustments shall be made. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property.

In the event settlement is delayed for any reason , there shall be no abatement of interest. If the purchaser defaults, the entire deposit is forfeited. The Substituted Trustees shall resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorney fees, all other charges due, and incidental and consequential damages.

In the event the Substituted Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser's sole remedy is return of the deposit. The Substituted Trustees shall have the right to terminate this contract in the event the Holder or its Servicer has entered into any agreement with, or accepted funds from, the mortgagor. Upon termination of the contract, Purchaser's sole remedy shall be return of the deposit.

PUBLIC NOTICE OF BLASTING OPERATIONS

Notice is hereby given that Vindex Energy Corporation, 265-A Glass Drive, Mountain Lake Park, Maryland 21550, 301-334-6497, intends to conduct blasting activities on Surface Mine Permit No. SM-02-443 located in District No. 1 of Garrett County, 3.0 miles southeast of Swanton, Maryland.

Blasting will be conducted during daylight hours from 9:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and 2:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. for the period beginning July 9, 2012 and continuing through July 9, 2013.

Public access to the area prior to blasting will be controlled by barricading the access road. Three minutes prior to blasting, three short horn blasts of five seconds duration with five seconds between each blast shall denote the pre-blast warning. The "all clear" signal shall consist of one 20 second sounding of the horn.

As approved by the regulatory authority, blasting activities will not be conducted at times other than those announced without appropriate notification or in the event of an emergency situation where rain, lightening, other atmospheric conditions, operator or public safety dictate unscheduled detonation.

As a resident or owner of a dwelling within one-half mile of the permit area, you may request a pre-blast survey by contacting Vindex Energy Corporation at the above address or the Maryland Bureau of Mines, 160 South Water Street, Frostburg, Maryland, 21532. The request must be written. 6/21

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEE'S SALE
OF UNIMPROVED REAL ESTATE

14.71 acres, more or less, unimproved real estate along Route 219, McHenry, Maryland. By virtue of the power of sale contained in a Deed of Trust dated January 24, 2008, and recorded in Liber No. 1352, folio 0503, among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under its terms, I, Craig Ingram, Substitute Trustee, hereby give notice that I will, on at the Alder Street entrance of the Garrett County Court House, Oakland, Maryland, offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder the following property: 14.71 acres, more or less, unimproved real estate along Route 219, McHenry, Maryland. Being the same property as was conveyed by deed dated December 31, 2007 and recorded in Liber No. 1349, folio 0265, among said Land Records.

Terms of Sale: Deposit of EIGHTEEN THOUSAND FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS ($18,400.00) will be required of Purchaser at the time and place of sale, such deposit to be cash, certified check or such other form as the Substitute Trustee may determine acceptable in his sole discretion. Balance to be payable by same method within fifteen (15) days after final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court, with interest on said balance from the date of sale to the date of actual receipt of funds by the Substitute Trustee at 7% per annum. There shall be no abatement of interest for any reason. Deposit not required if mortgagee is purchaser. Substitute Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to extend the time of settlement at his discretion. Property is sold in "AS IS" condition. The Substitute Trustee makes no representations and/or warranty whatsoever regarding the title or any other matter with respect to the property, either express or implied, including but not limited to: the nature, condition, quality and quantity of the land, suitability of use and/or purpose, description of the property and/or improvements. The Property will be sold subject to all natural gas rights, easements, conditions, liens, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, encumbrances and agreements of record affecting the same, and such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection of the Property might disclose. The Property will be sold subject to all existing building, zoning, wetland, and environmental problems and or violations which may exist on or with respect to the Property, if any. Purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss with respect to the Property as of the time of sale. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining possession of the property. Taxes, public charges and assessments will be adjusted to the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the Purchaser. All costs of conveyance and settlement, including incidental settlement costs, including transfer taxes and recordation taxes, shall be paid by Purchaser. Time is of the essence as to Purchaser. In the event the Purchaser fails to settle as required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available, Substitute Trustee may declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and expense of Purchaser. In such event, Purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney fees, and all other charges due. In the event that Substitute Trustee is unable to convey marketable title, or, in the event the Mortgagor entered into a repayment plan, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to sale, or if for any other reason, Substitute Trustee did not have the right to sell the property, the sale is null and void and Purchaser is not entitled to any legal or equitable remedy, other than the return of the deposit, without interest and any and all other claims of the Purchaser are hereby released. Other terms and conditions may be announced at the sale. The information contained herein is offered for informational purposes only. It is Purchaser's obligation to obtain an independent investigation of the Property. The Note Holder and Substitute Trustee do not make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of this information and Purchaser holds them harmless from same.

Data Management Analyst

Morningstar's Back Office Services team seeks an entry-level Data Management Analyst to provide an efficient back-office solution for our licensed users. In this position, you will expand your knowledge of Morningstar products and electronic data population processes. As a Data Management Analyst, you'll join a group of friendly, dedicated individuals who focus on delivering database updates in a timely manner while maintaining accuracy. This position is based in our Oakland, Maryland, office.

The Data Management Analyst updates, corrects, and maintains active databases of multiple clients and their accounts. This takes place through an electronic process that retrieves data from entities such as mutual fund companies, financial institutions, broker/dealers, and data transfer agencies, then transfers this data into our software. You will monitor this process for errors, which may require research and correction. You will communicate with clients to explain or clarify data and, at all times, preserve the confidentiality of client data. Manual input may be required for clients and accounts that are not electronically processed. The Data Management Analyst also maintains quantitative and qualitative records of any actions taken.

We're looking for candidates with excellent written, verbal, and analytical skills. The ideal candidate will have an interest in the investment industry and an in-depth understanding of computers. Knowledge of Windows-based applications is required. A college degree is preferred but not mandatory.

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

There is always a bit of a drag on Wall Street's numbers when gasoline prices dip. Does anyone seriously believe any president can control the American economy or change international trends that have a severe impact on the economy?

Our economy is largely driven by consumers. That requires a thriving large middle class, not just a tiny number of super rich people, who mainly buy consumer imported goods, where the highest status products come from – like Gucci, which only produces luxury goods.

The one Gucci product I once owned was a very simple rectangle-shaped tote bag made of synthetic leather, but its price tag was over $100 because it had the Gucci symbol shape on it. That was not extremely valuable to me, but it might indicate a high regard for me from my employer.

Another wealthy employer gave me a very expensive carton of cigarettes, which naturally was imported from England. They were not much better than regular American cigarettes, except it gave me a higher status just to smoke the brand. It was not important to me, and the rest of the stable crew got the same kind of Christmas gift.

I would have preferred if they had simply paid for replacement glasses, which was necessary due to the fact that they were slammed on my head by one of their horses. It happened in the stable area in Madison Square Gardens, at a show that had an extremely demanding schedule. I was virtually sleep walking through my daily duties, and very soon I faced a long drive back to Ohio in their pickup truck, without my necessary glasses. But it was an older truck, and it only had me in it, not any of their equine stars, so it was no big deal to them if I had an accident.

I know that I will eventually have a conversation with my cousin Courtney Englar about the just completed Orioles' sweep of the Pirates. It was painful, just as the three games were. But our pitchers did not perform well, or even decently. The word that sprang to my mind was "dismayed." Not quite dreadful, but close enough.

I certainly remember crystal clearly my Accident Elementary School "lunch ladies" – Mrs. Garrett and Mrs. Coddington. They were important to the school community.

Like when we got a real bad winter storm – so bad that there was no bus for going home. Mrs. Coddington played hostess for about six or so girls from my neck of the woods. Now that was much better than camping out in the school cafeteria. It was almost like "home sweet home," but not quite, since I didn't have my parents, siblings, and my animals. But it was probably the first time I spent a night away from our farm, in a town (albeit a very small town). It was very different.

A bigger step was to stay over in suburban Cumberland. What I remember about that was that it was almost shockingly hot at night. The sound of window fans was also memorable, since we had never used them. Also, the sound of many katydids. My cousin had a private pool in her backyard. That was another novel thing for me.

A missing dog alert: A new resident on Peat Bog Road lost her husky/shepherd mix. It's a male black, white, and gray mix. If you see anything of it, please contact me. Thank you.

The band Lake Effect, which consists of my nephews Darryl and Elliot Glotfelty, and David Valenta, will be playing at the pub in Accident this Saturday evening. This band is well-known in the Baltimore-Washington area, and this will be a great opportunity for local folks to enjoy their music.

Altar flowers at Emmanuel last Sunday were given by Jack and Judy Perkins in memory of Ralph Buckel and in honor of Ethel Buckel.

Rev. Randy Nairn was guest preacher at the three services of the Bittinger Parish on Sunday.

The Bittinger Parish Vacation Bible School will start Sunday evening, June 24, and meet each evening from 6 to 8:30 p.m. at Emmanuel through Thursday, June 28. The theme is "Taking Root: Hunger Causes, Hunger Hopes." Everyone is welcome to attend. For more information, call the church office at 301-245-4202.

St. John's Women of the ELCA are collecting donations for the Bittinger Food Pantry during the month of June. Especially needed at this time are donations of personal-care items and household paper products.

Don't Take a Vacation from Investing

Summer is here — which means a vacation most likely isn't far away. Whether you're hitting the road, jumping on a plane or even enjoying a "staycation" at home, you're probably looking forward to some down time with your family. But not every aspect of your life should be relaxed. Specifically, you don't want to take a vacation from investing — which means you need to become a diligent, year-round investor.

Here are a few suggestions that can help:

• Keep on investing. Don't head to the investment "sidelines" when the financial markets experience volatility. You don't want to be a nonparticipant when things turn around because, historically, the early stage of any market rally is generally when the biggest gains occur. (Keep in mind that past performance of the market is not a guarantee of future results.)

• Keep learning. In just about any classroom, the best students are the ones who get the most out of their education and put their learning to the best use. And the same is true of the investment world: The more you know about the forces that affect your investments' performance, and about why you own the investments you do, the more likely you are to make the right moves — and the less likely you'll be to make hasty and unwise decisions.

• Keep your focus on the long term. As an investor, you need to look past those events — such as natural disasters, recession fears and political instability abroad — that may have noticeable short-term effects on the financial markets but little impact over the longer term. So instead of making investment decisions based on today's headlines, think about what you want your financial picture to look like in 10, 20 or 30 years — and take the appropriate steps to help that picture materialize. These steps include following a long-term, disciplined investment strategy that's suitable for your individual needs, making adjustments as time goes on and working with a professional financial advisor who knows your situation and can help you make the right choices.

• Keep looking for growth opportunities. To achieve your long-term goals, such as a comfortable retirement, you'll need to own growth-oriented investments, such as stocks and other investments that contain equities. The percentage of your holdings devoted to stocks should be based on your risk tolerance, time horizon and proximity to retirement. But no matter what your situation, you want a portfolio that's designed to help you meet your investment goals.

• Keep relying on "hardworking" investments. To help ensure your investments are working hard for you, choose those vehicles that can help you in multiple ways. For example, when you invest in a 401(k) or other employer-sponsored retirement plan, your money grows on a tax-deferred basis, which means it can accumulate faster than if it were placed in an investment on which you paid taxes every year. (Keep in mind that taxes are due upon withdrawal, and withdrawals prior to age 59½ may be subject to a 10% IRS penalty.) Plus, you typically fund your 401(k) with pretax dollars, so the more you put in each year, the lower your taxable income. Furthermore, with the choices available in your plan, you can create a good mix of investments.

Enjoy your vacation this summer. But no matter what the season, don't take a break from investing. Your efforts may pay off nicely for you in the future.

EXPLORE

Garrett County

Rich in History, Rich in Beauty!

The Republican
ESTABLISHED 1877
JUNE, JULY, AUGUST 2012

Welcome to our fourth issue of Explore Garrett County, a special publication that will be available free at locations all around the county throughout the summer months. Contained herein is information about the many festivals, concerts, celebrations, programs, recreation, and activities slated for the 2011 summer season. Explore also once again contains interesting stories, photos, and information about Garrett County's fascinating past, with a special focus this year on the various museums in the county. Soon to be added to that list of local museums will be the B&O Museum at the historic Oakland train station, expected to open this fall.

Once again, we extend our sincere gratitude to the Garrett County Historical Society for supplying much of the historical information via the pages of its quarterly publication, the Glades Star. The society members work so hard to preserve our past for the enjoyment of us today and for future generations! The society welcomes donations at any time, and memberships are available for only $20 per year.

We also sincerely thank all of our loyal advertisers, without whom this publication would not be possible.

Fabulous Hubcaps To Be Among Performers At Grantsville Days

The Grantsville Lions Club has announced that the Fabulous Hubcaps will perform for the second year at the 35th annual Grantsville Days this Sunday, June 24, from 2 to 5 p.m.

What began 36 years ago as "Harvey Hubcap and the Do Ron Ron" has evolved into the Fabulous Hubcaps, one of the nation's most sought-after oldies show bands. A spokesperson noted that the careers of the band members have been "as diverse and colorful as the bowling shirts they wear."

"On any given month, their schedule may take them from Miami to Pittsburgh, Atlanta to Detroit, or Albany to Washington, D.C., and now again to Grantsville," said the spokesperson. "Whether a black-tie-formal affair for the Northern Virginia Hospital, a '50s sock hop for the ASPCA or the annual Blow-Out at the Nantucket Yacht Club, the Fabulous Hubcaps have been the choice of entertainment for decades."

The band has performed on the South Lawn of the White House for the 1995 Press Corps Picnic, and sang the national anthem in Orioles Park at Camden Yards. The Hubcaps also performed at the Inaugural Ball for Gov. Joe Manchin of West Virginia.

Hubcaps fans include Maryland Senate president Mike Miller, Maryland Senator Barbara Mikulski, the late Louis S. Goldstein, former comptroller of Maryland, and Coach Joe Gibbs of the Washington Redskins.

The Hubcaps, who have been performing since 1974, were inducted into the Southern Legends Entertainment and Performing Arts Hall of Fame in 2005. Since their first 45 record in 1982, the Hubcaps have released 17 recordings, from cassette tapes to their most recent compact disc, Showtime is Next. They continue to perform the music of artists Little Richard, Sonny and Cher, James Brown, Fats Domino, Ray Charles, the Shirelles, the Beach Boys, and Rod Stewart, among others.

Last year at Grantsville Days there was a reported record attendance at the Hubcap concert, with the audience sitting on their own lawn chairs or blankets and the pavilions filled to capacity, according to Grantsville Days chair Gerry Beachy.

This year, performances from Friday night through Sunday will be held on a new stage, which is located near the playground.

Also performing this Friday, June 22, at 8:30 p.m. are the Davisson Brothers, a popular band from western Pennsylvania. Persons may view their web site at www.davissonbrothersband.com.

According to the web site, the band has a unique style infusing a blend of country, southern rock, and bluegrass to create a distinctive sound captured in their first single, "Big City Hillbilly." The band has a wide fan base all over the eastern United States.

Brothers Chris and Donnie Davisson and cousin Sammy Davisson, along with childhood friend Aaron Regester, continue the musical pursuits started by the Davisson family long ago.

They have been performing since 1980 at festivals, clubs, bars, and private and corporate events.

Another group, the Channel Cats Acoustic Duo of Tom "T.J" Jenkins and Pat Sullivan, will perform at Grantsville Days on Saturday, from 4 to 6 p.m.

Also on Saturday, the band Solid Gold will perform at 7:30 p.m.

A firemen's parade coordinated by the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department will start at 6:45 p.m. this Friday, June 22. Following the parade, there will be crafts and display booths at the park, and a variety of food available for purchase.

A fireworks show will be held at 10:30 p.m., sponsored entirely by First People's Credit Union.

A garden tractor pulling contest will be held at 9 a.m.

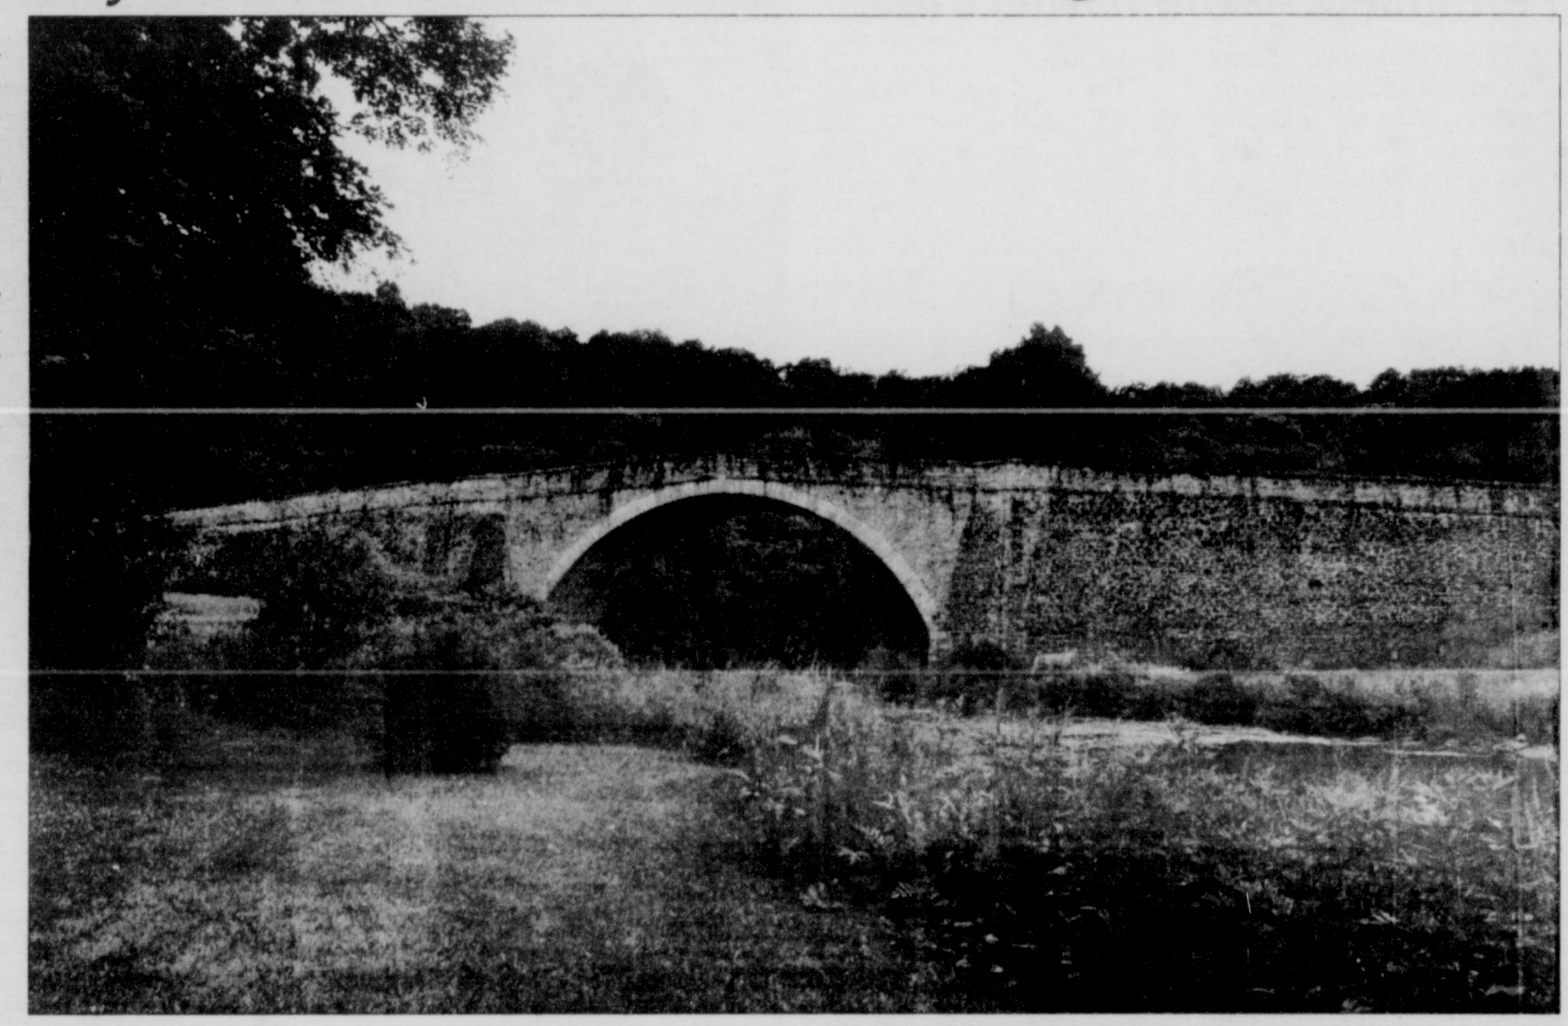
200th Anniversary Of Construction Of Casselman Bridge To Be Next Year



The Casselman Bridge, one of Garrett County's most distinctive landmarks, will be 200 years old next year. The following article appeared in the December 1959 issue of the Glades Star, the regular publication of the Garrett County Historical Society, and gives a detailed history as to what led to its construction. Note that the bridge was originally called the Castleman. The article was written by Marian Viola Broadwater of Grantsville.

The story of early America when roads were few and far between, and the construction of the Castleman stone arch bridge and Route 40 is indeed an interesting one.

Transportation between the seaboard states and the Mississippi Valley shortly after the beginning of the 19th century was a vital problem. The Braddock and Forbes roads of French and Indian War times were inadequate. Construction of a canal would be expensive, if not impractical, and there was opposition upon Just Who Was Ruth Enlow?

Probably everyone in Garrett County has heard the name Ruth Enlow, since it is for this lady that Garrett County's library system was named. But few actually know much of anything at all who the library's namesake was much of anything about Ms. Enlow. The following article appeared in the December 1950 issue of the Glades Star, the regular publication of the Garrett County Historical Society.

Ruth Enlow, in whose memory our library is named, was a true daughter of Garrett, though born in California. In her veins ran the blood of Enlows, Frazees, McMullens, Trents, Beachys, Warnicks – families early settled in this county.

For a hundred years and more, native born sons and daughters of this area have gone forth into all sections of these United States, to live and to labor, to seek better opportunities.

Families were large, and our county did not build cities or important industries, except coal mining, so this migration of our youth was necessary. These migrants have been a credit to their native mountains; some of them acquired honors, some accumulated wealth.

Among the migrant sons of the generation now almost past away was Ephriam Ellsworth Enlow, who was born December 20, 1859, on a farm now covered by the waters of Deep Creek Lake; he was reared on his parents' settlement by the Friendsville-Oakland road, one of the 13 children of William Frazee Enlow and Barbara Ellen Trent.

His education was acquired chiefly in the nearby one-room school house on Elder Hill; he also attended Summer Normal Schools and a Business College. He began adult life as a public school teacher in Garrett County, but, never of a robust constitution and for reasons of health, he sought a milder climate in California, where he also taught successfully in the public schools.

Wishing to live among his relatives and early associates, Mr. Enlow came back to his native glades and taught at the Bittinger school, but his health deteriorated and he constitutional grounds to the federal government making improvements.

GLAF TO PRESENT CASHORE MARIONETTES - The unique Cashore Marionettes will take the Garrett College stage as the next offering of the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival (GLAF). The show will be given on Saturday, June 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium. The program, which features detailed marionettes such as the one pictured, will consist of three segments on a broad range of subjects, a spokesperson said. "Everyday life is portrayed set to a succession of stunning music by composers such as Vivaldi, Strauss, Beethoven, and Copeland. From humorous to tragic, the performance spans a range of emotions that are amazingly lifelike," the spokesperson said. Joseph Cashore, the creator of the Cashore Marionettes, has been performing and designing his marionettes for more than 30 years. The group will also perform for the Garrett Mentors on Saturday, June 23, at 1 p.m. also at the GC auditorium. Tickets for the Saturday evening event are $15 for adults, $5 for students, and free for children 5 years and younger (tickets are required). Tickets may be purchased by calling the GLAF office at 301-387-3082, or through the GLAF web site at www.artsandentertainment.org. Sponsor partners for this event are Jan and Judy Finkel and Coldwell Banker/Deep Creek Realty.

The need was so urgent, however, that Congress decided to build a road across the mountains.

On March 29, 1806, President Thomas Jefferson approved a bill appropriating $30,000 for a road from Cumberland to the Ohio at Wheeling, W.Va., officially known as the "Cumberland Road."

The Road Commission appointed by the president consisted of Eli Williams and Thompson, a surveyor. They were authorized to hire two chain carriers, a marker, a vaneman, a pack horse, man and horse to make the preliminary survey.

The route decided upon followed the general course of the old Nemacolin Path from Cumberland to the Monongahela River, passing through "Little Meadows." It crossed the Castleman at the "Little Crossings," the Youghiogheny at the "Great Crossings," and the Monongahela at Red Stone Old Fort (Brownsville) where connection was made with Pittsburgh by boat.

By 1808, the right-of-way had been cleared one-half width as far as Brownsville. Contracts for construction of ten miles of the road west from Cumberland were signed on April 16 and May 8, 1811, and were completed in the fall of 1812.

The next letting was in August 1812, a distance of 11 miles, extending to Little Meadows. It was completed in early 1815.

The work was thence contracted to the Youghiogheny in August 1813, and finished in 1817. The delay was caused by scarcity of laborers during the war, high prices, and apprehension of possible failure of the contractors. The whole road was not completed and opened to traffic to the Ohio until 1818. The cost of building the road across the mountains from Cumberland to Uniontown, including the stone arch bridge, was $9,745 per mile.

Funds for construction were raised by the government from the sale of public lands in Ohio. It was planned to build the road to the Mississippi River, but it was finally constructed only as far as Springfield, Ohio.

Bridges and culverts were well built of stone. One of the most a noted of the bridges was the "Little Crossings" over the Castleman River, then known as the "Little Youghiogheny." This 80-foot span was the largest stone arch in America when constructed in 1813. It is said it was built larger than needed to carry the river water in order that the proposed C and O Canal might pass under it.

COMPTON SCHOOL

Compton School Approaches 150th Anniversary; Now At Spruce Village

The Compton School at one time was located at the intersection of New Germany and Chestnut Ridge Road, but was a number of years ago relocated to Spruce Village in Grantsville, thanks to the efforts of the late Dr. Alta Schrock. The following historical piece about the school was written by Ross C. Durst and appeared in the March 1960 issue of the Glades Star, the regular publication of the Garrett County Historical Society. At that time, the school was still on its original site, as noted in the first paragraph.

Several interesting accounts of the old Compton School have already appeared in previous issues of the Glades Star. Since this is one of the few authentic log schoolhouses still standing in its original location, it seems to deserve some further attention. If an attempt is to be made to preserve it, it must be done soon.

In the courthouse in Cumberland is the record of a deed issued by Elizabeth and David Compton to the School Commissioners of Allegany County, Md. The date is Oct. 28, 1863. This was a few months after the battle of Gettysburg and 10 years before Garrett County was born.

The description of the lot to be conveyed is as follows: "Begining at a chestnut tree standing at the County Road leading from Grantsville to Swauger's Mill at a point where the Glade Road crosses said County Road and running thence W. 66 ft. to a stone; thence S. 88 ft. to a stone; thence E. 66 ft. to a stone; thence by a straight line to the point of beginning."

The consideration was $10. This might seem to be a small sum to pay for a school lot, but it must be borne in mind that the lot was small, containing only .13 of an acre. This figures out to nearly $80 per acre; surely a good price for farm land in 1863.

It suggests the possibility that the log building was already in existence. Although not mentioned in the deed, it is possible that the Comptons were to continue living in the building until the School Commissioners were ready to use it as a school after the close of the Civil War.

David Compton died Aug. 14, 1866. His son Ross Compton and his bride Martha Engle lived in the building. Possibly the big Compton farmhouse was not yet completed. Their daughter Armada Compton married Daniel Enlow. She is still living in Akron, Ohio, and has repeatedly told the writer that she was born in the old log building.

However, when she reached school age, she attended school in the same building in which she was born. This would indicate that the building was taken over for school purposes some time between her birth (1872) and 1878.

To the list of teachers of the Compton School can be added another name. Rev. Lawrence Green of Stockton, Calif., remembers that his first teacher was Gertrude Hone. This was probably about 1889.

On Aug. 5, 1901, the Board of Education of Garrett County purchased from Arnold Jenkins a ½-acre tract along the same road, but more than a mile further north toward Grantsville and more centrally located. A frame building was built. The lot was carved out of an old grant known as the Mars Hill Tract. The name of the school was accordingly changed from the Compton School to the Mars Hill School.

One of the first to teach at the new location was Lawrence Green, who had spent his school years at the old site. I taught there during the school year of 1910-11. It was my last one-room school and also my largest enrollment. If my memory serves me correctly, we had 52 students during the year. The building was literally "bursting at the seams."

Early in February 1911 we held a school "entertainment" on a Friday night. A deep snow lay on the ground and the temperature was frigid. People came in sleds and sleighs from all directions. The program consisted of the usual recitations, declamations, music both oral and instrumental, and the inevitable "newpaper" which chronicled the humorous and imaginary

Annual July 4 Celebration At Garrett To Kick Off 2012 Chautauqua Series

Garrett Lakes Arts Festival will present its annual July 4 and Chautauqua programs under the tent on the lawn of Garrett College. The Garrett Community Concert Band and the Garrett Choral Society will join together to open the series with the traditional Independence Day Concert on July 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Chautauqua speakers from the Maryland Humanities Council will present the series July 5, 6, and 7 at 7 p.m. each day. These sessions begin at 7 p.m. under the tent.

The theme this year is "Inspiration, Unity, Preparedness, Courage: Maryland and the War of 1812." This year marks the bicentennial of that war.

The Garrett Community Concert Band, under the direction of Moe Turrentine, and the Garrett Choral Society, conducted by Julie Turrentine, will perform together and separately.

The musical groups will present patriotic gospel tunes, standard American folk music, and military selections celebrating American heritage.

The July 4 concert is timed to end shortly before the fireworks are to be set off from Marsh Mountain (Wisp ski slope). The fireworks can be viewed from the Garrett College lawn.

The Chautauqua speakers this year are as follows:

President James Madison on July 5, citizen Rosalie Stier Calvert on July 6, and British Major General Robert Ross on July 7. The characters will be portrayed by scholar actors. They will speak in character, presenting their perspectives on the War of 1812.

After a short opening act, the featured guest will speak in character, and remain in character to answer questions from the audience. At the end of the presentation, the actor will then answer questions as him/herself.

Bob Boal, president of the Garrett County Historical Society, will be a special guest on July 6, speaking briefly about Garrett County and the War of 1812.

Speakers are assigned through the courtesy of the Maryland Humanities Council. There are six Chautauqua

PENN ALPS HOSTING COBHAM CONSORT – The Cobham Consort (Runaway String Band) will perform as part of the Music at Penn Alps series on Aug. 18 at the Great Hall. This band's music has long been a staple of the American musical scene. Early groups like Charlie Poole and his North Carolina Ramblers and Gid Tanner and his Skillet Lickers blended together old tunes and songs with contemporary pieces into a unique sound. In this tradition, the Runaway String Band brings together four long-time Williamsburg-area musicians whose mix of traditional and contemporary bluegrass, old time, and swing music builds on the spirit of the old time sting bands. Seating is limited, and guests are asked to arrive by 7:15. Admission is $15 for adults, and free for those 19 and younger.

Friend Family Association of America Heritage Museum & Genealogy Library

The Friend Family Association of America Heritage Museum and Genealogy Library is located in Friendsville on the corner of First and Maple streets. It is housed in the Municipal Bank building that was built at the beginning of the 20th century.

Museum exhibits include military items, general store merchandise, farm tools, early dental tools and a dentist's chair, an old barber chair, a pump parlor organ, and Native American artifacts.

The building also houses the Friend Family Association office and the Col. Lester Friend Sr. Library. The library is a non-lending facility, but visitors are welcome to browse the vast collection of important genealogy and historical materials.

The purpose of the Friend Family Association of America is "to collect, record, preserve, and share the history of all family groups, to strengthen all family relationships, and to deepen the appreciation for those who came before us and the values they cherished."

The Friend Family Association originated in Fort Wayne, Ind., in 1976. The headquarters was moved to Friendsville in 1986, and "of America" was added to the name.

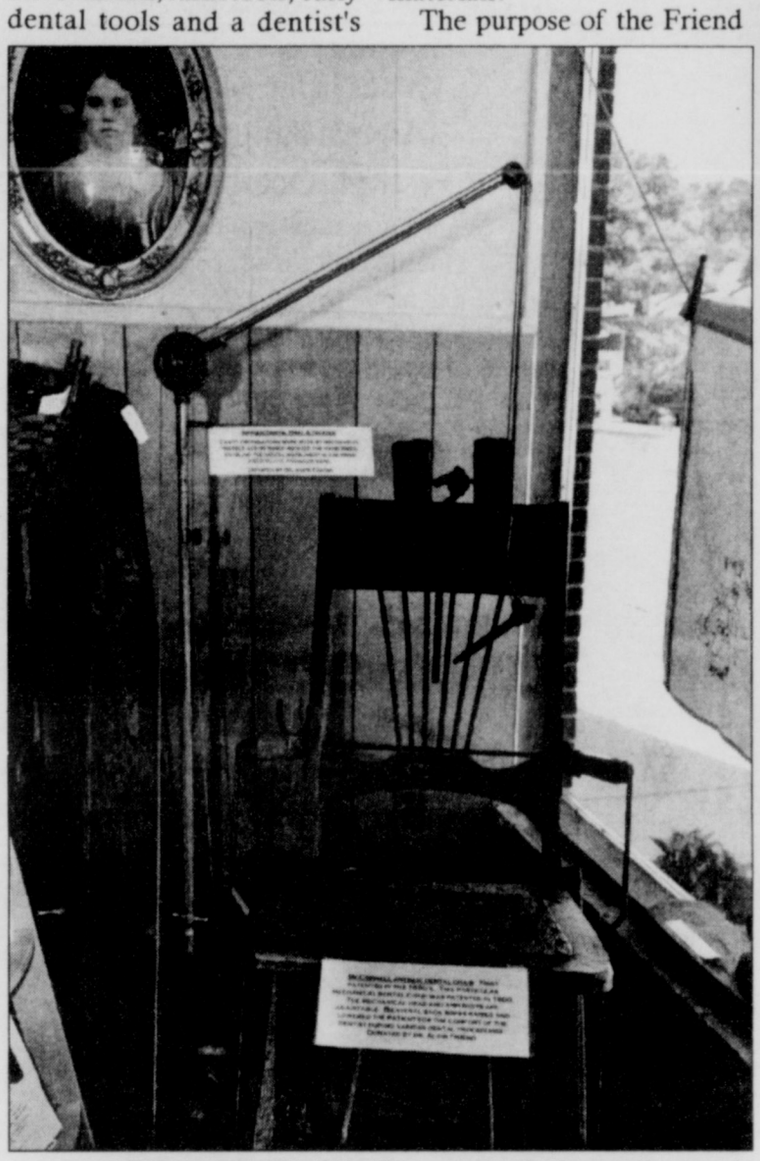
THE FRIEND FAMILY ASSOCIATION OF AMERICA Heritage Museum and Genealogy Library (FFAA) is located at the corner of First and Maple Streets in Friendsville. The building is known locally as the "Old Municipal Bank," and was built at the beginning of the 20th century. Museum exhibits include military items, farm tools, and general store merchandise. The museum and library are open from early May through August. Hours are Wednesday through Saturday from noon to 4 p.m. and Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m. Other times are available by appointment, and can be arranged by calling Shirley at 301-746-4247. Admission is free, but donations are appreciated.



AN ANTIQUE DENTAL CHAIR is among the items displayed at the Friend Family Association of America Heritage Museum and Genealogy Library. This McConnell mechanical chair was patented in 1900, and has adjustable head and arm rests. Bilateral back ropes raised and lowered the patient for the comfort of the dentist during various dental procedures. The chair was donated by the late Dr. Alvin Friend.

A BARBER CHAIR from the late 1800s is on display at the Friend Family Association of America Heritage Museum and Geneaolgy Library. It belonged to Orval (Red) John Jenkins, who was the great-great-great grandson of John (Old John) Friend Sr. Most Friendsville residents reportedly sat in this chair until the early 1960s. It is made of nickel, marble, and wood, with a leather seat, armrests, and backrest. The organ pictured was at one time owned by the Hiram Humberson family, and was donated by Jeanne Frantz.

The museum and library are open from early May through August. Regular hours are Wednesday through Saturday from noon to 4 p.m. and Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m.

A story telling session is featured on Sundays at 2 p.m. Topics are varied, and have included "Life Before Electricity" and "The Yough River Before the Dam."

The facility is also open weekends in September and October when weather permits and volunteers are available.

Other times are available by appointment. Interested persons should call Shirley at 301-746-4247.

Since the facility is completely staffed by volunteers, hours are subject to change. Visitors are asked to call ahead to be sure the museum is open.

For more information, persons may visit the web site at www.friendfamilyassociation.com.

sites in the state. Garrett College was the first to apply when the program begin in 1995, and this will be the 18th season of performances.

The programs are free to the public, although contributions will be accepted to help defray costs.

Food vendors will be available on site each evening, and guests are welcome to come early and purchase a picnic supper, or bring their own food. Chairs will be available under the tent.

Guests may bring lawn chairs or blankets if they wish to stay on the lawn outside the tent.

Garrett College lawn is accessible along Bumble Bee Road, about a mile east of Route 219. Parking is available in the large lot adjoining the lawn. The tent will be visible from the road.

For more information, persons may check the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival web site at www.artsandentertainment.org or "like" the organization on Facebook.

This event is sponsored by Garrett College and the Maryland Humanities Council.

"I'VE GOT A BIKE, YOU CAN RIDE IT IF YOU LIKE..." A fairly new bicycle display is currently being shown at the Garrett County Transportation Museum located along Liberty Street, Oakland, across from the Oakland Train Station. Many of the bikes have been lent to the museum for several years by Larry Black, founder/owner of College Park Bicycles and Mt. Airy Bicycles. Black has more than 45 years in the business, and has provided many of the unique collection of bikes representing over 130 years of cycling history. Above left is one of three cycles in the building with wooden rims. This one was built in Hagerstown in 1902. Above right is a Scarpony High Wheel bike manufactured in 1880 in Smithfield, N.J. This bicycle is deemed particularly interesting because the larger wheel is in the front rather than the rear, and pedaling requires an "up-and-down" motion rather than circular to maintain balance and control. Black has been known to demonstrate how to ride this bike as well as others in many parades and events. He has received numerous awards and recognition for his involvement in civic activities, and has commented that he was impressed with the intent and professionalism of the GC Transportation Museum, and saw it as a perfect venue to share his collection. It is rumored by museum staff that Black may make an appearance in this year's Autumn Glory Grand Feature Parade. Additional bikes among the display above are: a Woman Wheelman Special Antique Safety Bike (1897) featuring wooden rims and a chain skirt; a men's American Rambler (1900) with wooden rims, shaft drive system, and rear suspension; an early 1900 racing bike with a rare left side drive; a Ranger cycle by Mead Cycle Company (1920s); a child's classic cycle by Colson (1930s); a replica of the Roadmaster Luxury Liner by EX-Works (1948–1953 era), a three-speed Royal Prince by Hercules (1950s); and a novelty bicycle by Penderson featuring a Cyclone classic mix (1980s). More details on the collection will be provided at a later date.

sites around the country. In his approach to living history, he studies and portrays events as they occurred 200 years ago to the day, starting each day by reading gazettes and pamphlets of that particular date in history.

Mary Ann Jung (Rosalie Stier Calvert) is the award-winning actress behind the "History Alive!" interactive shows. She has been a lead actress and director of Renaissance History and Shakespearean Language at the Maryland Renaissance Festival for more than 30 years, and has appeared on CNN, the Today Show, and Good Morning America. Jung's living history performances include Julia Child, Clara Barton, Mistress Margaret Brent, Rosalie of Riversdale, Amelia Earhart, Good Queen Bess, and Rosie the Riveter. She has a bachelor of arts degree in British history from the University of Maryland.

Doug Mishler (Robert Ross) is an independent scholar who has taught at the University of Nevada and Western Washington University. He's the author of a history of the Ringling Brothers Circus. He has appeared in MHC's Chautauqua as Jefferson Davis, P.T. Barnum, Theodore Roosevelt, William Lloyd Garrison, Henry Ford, Upton Sinclair, and George Wallace. He also portrays Ernie Pyle, Billy Sunday, William Clark, Andrew Carnegie, Andrew Jackson, Edward R. Murrow, and Thomas Hart Benton. Mishler has a doctorate in American cultural history from the University of Nevada.

PIANO 4 HANDS TO BE PART OF MPA Music at Penn Alps will present Piano 4 Hands, the duo of Joan DeVee Dixon and Alice Fiedlerová, on Aug. 25 in the Great Hall. Dixon made her professional debut with the Minnesota Orchestra at the invitation of Sir Neville Marriner. Since that time, she has conducted extensive concert tours of the USA, England, France, Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Italy, Israel, Palestine, Japan, and the Czech Republic. She now performs for music festivals, schools, and churches all over the world and her recordings are frequently heard on broadcasts such as "Pipedreams." Fiedlerová joins Joan in a concert of music for four hands. Seating is limited, and guests are asked to arrive by 7:15. Admission is $15 for adults, and free for those 19 and younger.

to our local folk and our summer visitors. It's that time of year when you just want to relax, enjoy your friends and watch one of our four star sunsets.

Summer has so many meanings to all of us. Some of us will find refuge in our front porches while others of you will take to our trails hiking and biking your way through our lush meadows, tall pine and back roads. Then there is fishing, tennis, horseshoes, water skiing and campfires to enjoy, don't forget ingredients for s'mores.

Welcome to Garrett County and our surrounding area. We have something for everyone, even those who may be a little hard to please. Perhaps an outdoor summer concert in Oakland is to your liking or an evening with the symphony floats your boat. There are festivals, yard sales, auctions and retailers that want you to experience their goods. We have stained glass designers, renowned bird carvers, candlemakers, glassblowers for you to experience.

For the art lovers, we have a beautiful gallery in Oakland and some artists have visitations at their personal homes. There are fireworks, canoe and kayak championships and our annual county fair which is where you will find the famous Rotary French Fries. Speaking of food, we have plenty of choices to chose from and whether your taste buds favor Chinese, Mexican, French or a great steak, you won't leave Garrett County hungry. You will discover some interesting wine shops & unique stores where you can find that perfect gift to remind you of Garrett County all year-round.

We want you to be safe so watch for the deer, please don't feed the bears and be sure to pick up a local road map of the county available at most retailers, including my office. Make sure your batteries are good in your camera and most importantly...WEAR SUNSCREEN! You are 3000 feet above sea level, which makes you closer to the sun. Sunglasses and hats are things you should consider.

Thank you for choosing my home to vacation. We used to be the best kept secret in Maryland but it seems like the world has found its way here in one form or another. Enjoy your stay and I personally look forward to meeting you this summer at one of the many events that will be held. Until then, make a memory to share with your friends and bring them with you next time. One last special request, please drive responsibly. It's best not to go on vacation and go home on probation.

Activities Guide Now Available At Visitors Center

The 2012/2013 Garrett County Activities Guide is now available courtesy of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce. A comprehensive guide of things to do in Garrett County, the annual publication includes information about area attractions, family-friendly activities, outdoor adventures, restaurants, parks, and events. The new publication will serve as a guide for those who are in town visiting the area.

"We created this new publication this year so guests have a reference guide available to help utilize all of Garrett County's resources while they're visiting our area," said chamber president and CEO Nicole Christian. "We invited our chamber member businesses to stop by the Visitors Center to pick up a box of the new guides for distribution in their place of business."

Along with advertisements from the chamber members, the guide features colorful photography, annual events, and a list of activities that visitors to the area can do on the water, outdoors, and indoors. The guide also features shopping and dining options, state parks and forest information, special offers, and a Garrett County map. Great State Publishing, who produces Maryland Life Magazine, helped the chamber produce the guide.

The activities guide is being made available to visitors and chamber members, and can be found in county brochure racks and at chamber member businesses. The guides are also available at the Visitors Center and online at www.visitdeepcreek.com.

Those interested in receiving a guide or wishing to distribute them at a local business are asked to contact the Chamber of Commerce at 301-387-4386.

Hugh Umbel Co. To Sponsor July 4 Fireworks Event

Hugh Umbel Companies is this year's major sponsor for the annual "Fire on the Mountain" fireworks display presented by the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday, July 4, in McHenry. The rain date is July 5.

The display is set to begin at dark, with the fireworks launched from the top of the Bear Claw Tubing Park at Wisp Resort.

"Prime viewing locations include the Scenic Overlook on Rt. 219, Wisp Resort, and from a boat on the lake, particularly around McHenry Cove," noted a spokesperson.

"I would like to thank Hugh Umbel Companies for their continued sponsorship of the Fire on the Mountain Fireworks display," said Chamber of Commerce president and CEO Nicole Christian. "We could not present such

TOTL Theatre 2012 Season Is Announced

Lynn Broderick, executive director of the TOTL (Theatre on the Lake) Theatre Company, has announced the 2012 summer season offerings, which will once again be presented at the Barn at Ridgeview Valley in McHenry.

The four-show line-up includes a comedy, a youth theatre production, a 21st century Broadway musical, and a classic American drama.

The classic Neil Simon comedy The Odd Couple will open Thursday, July 5. Set in New York City, the play chronicles the stories of two men with marriages "on the rocks" who decide to share an apartment together.

Oscar Madison is a free-wheeling, card-playing slob who takes up residence with Felix Unger, the consummate neatnik who is a superb cook.

TOMLINSON'S STONE HOUSE INN was built at Little Meadows in 1816 by Jesse Tomlinson, a veteran of the Revolutionary War, in anticipation of all the business that the National Road would bring into the area. Slave labor was used to help with much of the construction of the building, which has walls that are two feet thick. Since that time, the building has served as an inn, tavern, post office, and polling place. Guests when it was an inn included presidents-elect James K. Polk and William Henry Harrison. Added to the National Register of Historic Places on Sept. 20, 1973, it currently serves as a private residence.

Local Restoration Association Preserving Mt. Beulah Church

Mount Beulah New Germany United Methodist Church, Twin Churches Road, seemed destined for demolition until a small local group began restoring the nearly 130-year-old house of worship in 2007.

New Germany's first recorded church services took place in an old log school house, located on wooded property below and east of the present twin churches. According to Pastors & People: Somerset Classis, the school was built before 1848 on land originally owned by the Swartzentruber and Brenneman families.

Around 1859, the community remodeled the little school and dedicated it as a union church for Reformed and Methodist worshippers. The Reformed members built their own house of worship in 1879, the Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church, located on a hill not far from the school on land originally owned by the Warnick family.

The Methodists continued to worship in the school before building a new facility in 1882, Mount Beulah Methodist Church (later called New Germany United Methodist Church). It was constructed only a few feet from Trinity.

Mt. Beulah and Trinity are similar in appearance: white unadorned structures about 50 by 30 feet, with pulpit recesses. So, even after the sister congregations separated, they continued to worship side by side in their "twin churches." And their descendants continue to be concerned about the welfare of each other and their churches.

When the old school was eventually torn down, the materials were sold for $100 and the two churches split the proceeds evenly, according to Pastors & People.

A congregation still worships at the Reformed church, now called Trinity United Church of Christ. But attendance at Mt. Beulah started to decline in the early 1970s as elder members passed away and younger ones moved away.

The United Methodist

TOTL Season

Together they try desperately to live together, along with the help of their card-playing buddies and the two Pidgeon sisters, who live upstairs.

The Odd Couple will run July 5, 6, 7, 13, and 14 at 7:30 p.m.

Opening on July 11 and running four consecutive Wednesday matinees will be the classic children's story Miss Nelson is Missing. The musical, taken from the book by Allard and Marshall, is set in Miss Nelson's classroom, where the children are unruly and out of control. To teach them a lesson in respect and discipline, Miss Nelson takes a few "sick days" and, unbeknownst to her students, returns as Viola Swamp, the meanest substitute on the planet.

Miss Nelson is Missing will run July 11, 18, and 25 and Aug. 1 at 11 a.m.

Third on the schedule is the 21st century musical The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee. Set in any state in the union that boasts a Putnam County, the drama of the yearly spelling bee unfolds with six competitors vying for the title in this slightly irreverent accounting. The attending audience has the opportunity to join the bee as additional

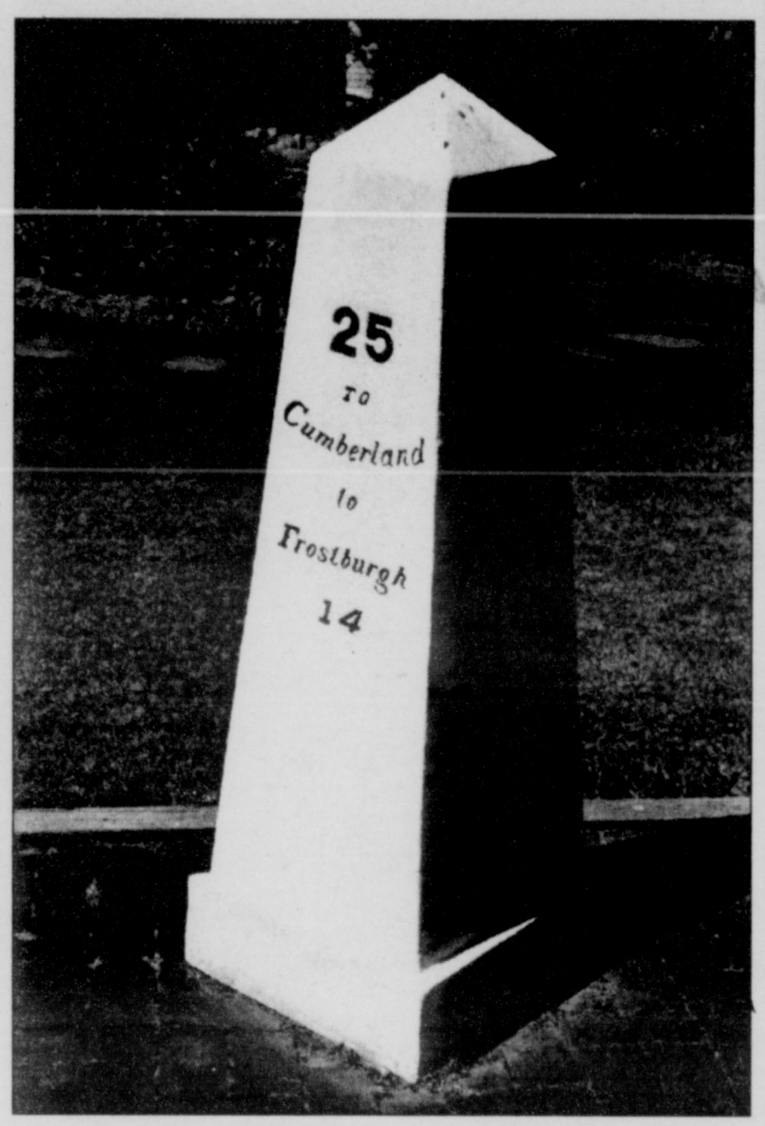
History Of National Road Summarized



WHITE CAST-IRON MILE MARKERS can be found at many locations along the National Road. They were installed in 1835 when the state of Maryland took over responsibility for the National Road from the federal government. The markers indicate how far it is to each end of the road, as well as the distance to the next town.

Braddock's Road was built by the troops of British General Edward Braddock in 1755 at the outbreak of the French and Indian War. At that time, the troops were marching to Fort Duquesne, which is now Pittsburgh. They needed a wagon road in order to haul artillery and heavy supplies, and they primarily removed trees and rocks to be able to pass through.

George Washington reportedly participated in this campaign, traveling through the area five times between 1753 and 1784. The road went from Fort Cumberland into Pennsylvania, then past the Youghiogheny River to the battle site with the French on the Monongahela River (Braddock, Pa.). Braddock's Road passed on the south side of what is now Grantsville.

The National Road (currently Alternate Route 40) was constructed between 1811 and 1818 along the general route of Braddock's Road.

National Road

Reaching from Cumberland to Wheeling, W.Va., it was the first federally funded highway in the United States. Congress approved funding for the road in 1806 under the administration of President Thomas Jefferson. A sum of $30,000 was allocated for the building of the road.

The first construction contracts were reportedly ordered in the spring of 1811. The men used sledge hammers to break up the stones, then put them into position with shovels and rakes.

By 1818, stagecoaches ran regularly scheduled routes along the road, with travel peaking between 1822 and 1852. As part of the National Road project, construction of the Casselman Bridge began in 1813.

In 1835, the state of Maryland took over responsibility for the National Road from the federal government.

According to the Greater Grantsville Business Association, as traffic increased, the road became crowded with horse-drawn stagecoaches, Conestoga wagons, freighters, and men on horseback. Mail and slaves were also moved along the road.

During the busiest years, from 1943 to 1852, up to 14 stagecoaches a day traveled in each direction. Pulled by four to six horses, each coach carried about a dozen passengers and traveled an average of eight miles per hour. There was reportedly fierce competition between the various stagecoach lines, with each trying to offer the best accommodations and food, as well as the fastest trip.

Ongoing repairs were needed to the road because of constant usage. Traveling conditions could be unpleasant because of cold and snow, mud and washouts, and dust during dry spells. Delays could mean that a stagecoach would omit scheduled stops for food or lodging in order to make up

THE DRANE HOUSE, which is believed to be the oldest standing man-made structure in Garrett County, was built in 1798 by William Lamar. He gave it to his sister and her husband, Priscilla and James Drane, in about 1800. Drane was the first permanent settler in the Accident area, having immigrated from the tobacco farming area of Prince George's County. He was one of several early farmers who attempted to grow tobacco in Garrett County. The Drane House was purchased by the Town of Accident in 1987, and was then reconstructed and preserved on the original site. The dedication service was held in 1994. It was named to the National Register of Historic Places on Jan. 11, 1985. For more information, persons may contact the Accident Cultural and Historical Society at 301-746-6346.

Inns were plentiful along the road, with some catering to the more affluent stagecoach passengers and others serving freight wagon drivers or drovers who herded the animals.

After the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad reached Cumberland in 1842, passengers transferred from trains to stagecoaches at that stop to continue traveling west.

When the railroad reached Wheeling in 1853, rail travel became more popular than horse-drawn road travel, and the National Road traffic decreased.

Bible School Slated At Bittinger Church

The Bittinger Lutheran Parish will hold its annual vacation Bible school at Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Bittinger, beginning on Sunday, June 24, through Thursday, June 28, from 6 to 8:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Leo Beachy Photographs Provide Unique Perspective Of Garrett County's History

Leo Beachy was born in 1874 and was one of seven children who lived on his father's 553-acre Mount Nebo farm near Grantsville. He stated in his autobiography that the farmhouse overlooked "promising prospects and beautiful views."

According to the Garrett County Historical Society, "Beachy was a schoolteacher and poet who at the age of 31 turned to photography to express his love of the environment and his community. With dogged persistence, he photographed the hillsides of western Maryland while teaching himself to see the extraordinary beauty of the world around him."

Beachy started photography in 1905, and continued for more than 20 years. It is reported that he often made more than 10,000 photos a year, but only about 2,700 remain today.

A DELIGHTFUL ARRAY of Leo Beachy photographs can be found at the Grantsville Community Museum. Beachy was a Grantsville resident who took many photographs from 1905 to 1927. His unique perspective of people and places is evident in the museum display.

"What induced me to take up photography was that I wanted our home photographer to go to that old log school where I taught my first school and take some pictures of it and the great hills lying about it and the rocky Savage River," he said. "He never got the pictures for me."

Beachy's niece, Maxine Broadwater, noted that her uncle thought that everyone should have a picture of himself.

"He had gotten a Brownie camera years prior, and just put it in the trunk of his car

Grantsville Community Museum History Noted By Former Mayor

by Gerry Beachy

The Grantsville Community Museum got its start when the Grantsville branch of the Ruth Enlow Library moved into its new facility. The library was housed in the former First State Bank building and had outgrown the facility. A committee was formed to raise funds for the new library, and nearly $1 million was generated, resulting in a state-of-the-art facility located next to the Grantsville Park.

While I was mayor of Grantsville, I met with a board member of the library, Jack Caruthers, and discussed the possibility of turning the former library into a museum. We decided to form a museum committee to look into that possibility.

Maxine Broadwater, a local historian, was asked to join, and she became instrumental in providing artifacts to start the museum. However, before that we talked to the Garrett County commissioners about giving the property to the town of Grantsville. With the stipulation that the property would have to be given back to the county if the museum ever closed, the property was acquired by the town.

The town council was very receptive to the idea of having a museum, and allocated operations funds to pay for utilities and repairs. To this day, the museum receives an annual stipend from the town for museum operations.

The museum board decided that it would be a good idea to join with the Garrett County Historical Society. When that was approved, the Grantsville Community Museum became part of the society. The Grantsville staff was given free reign, and the society provided assistance in setting up the facility.

The first curator was Alice Trauger, who, along with her husband David, spent much of their time and their own money to get the museum started. Several glass cases were acquired and a new floor was installed. A Leo Beachy gallery was set up in a separate room, and the museum was able to enlarge and frame some of his

THE GRANTSVILLE COMMUNITY MUSEUM is located in the former First State Bank building (built in 1920) and is a part of the Garrett County Historical Society. Open since 2004, special features include bank memorabilia and a gallery of Leo Beachy photography. Much of the collection is currently on loan, and the museum committee welcomes artifacts for display. Areas of focus are the First State Bank, the National Road, Braddock's Trail, and Leo Beachy. In addition, volunteers are also needed. The museum is open from April to October on Fridays and Saturdays from 1 to 4 p.m. Visitors may also request appointments at other times by contacting the museum at 301-895-5454, Earleena Tressler at 301-895-5314, or Sue Beachy at 301-895-5387.

and forgot about it," she explained. "He got that camera out and took some pictures. When he developed them, he thought they were as good as Rembrandt."

Beachy suffered from multiple sclerosis from his teen years. Even as he grew weaker, he continued to take photographs. His sister Kate reportedly chauffered him, and even carried him to the areas where he wanted to work. He died in 1927 at the age of 53.

A NURSE'S UNIFORM with a history can be viewed on a visit to the Grantsville Community Museum. It was worn by Sally Stanton, daughter of Guy and Almira Stanton, while she was in nursing training. The cape was used by Mildred Michael Beachy, who graduated from the University of Maryland Hospital in Baltimore in 1933. Pictured with the uniform is Maxine Broadwater, one of the museum volunteers.

ITEMS FROM THE GRANTSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL are included in the displays at the Grantsville Community Museum. Many photographs are included, as well as a desk that was found when the building was remodeled. The building currently contains apartments and several shops.

THE CASSELMAN HOTEL, located on the north side of the National Road (U.S. Rt. 40) in Grantsville, was built around 1842 by Solomon Starner. It was known as the "Starner House" or tavern, and later as the "Farmers' Hotel." The building, of substantial brick constructed, has been used as an inn or hotel since it was built, except the period from 1880 to 1894. During the busy days of the 1840s, Starners' was a "cattle stop" with a large corral nearby. After the Starners, the hotel was owned or operated by several persons, including John Mellinger, William R. Getty, Jonas E. Gnagey, Charles Bender, John O. Hanley, Daniel Dorsey, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Fahey. (This information was taken from the Sept. 30, 1950, issue of The Glades Star.)

spellers, adding to the comedy and enjoyment.

This production is appropriate for persons over 14 years of age. The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee will run two weekends, July 19, 20, and July 25, 26, and 27 at 7:30.

Concluding the seventh season on the lake will be the drama Inherit the Wind, by Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee. The classic historical play is the story of the Monkey Trials, where a local teacher is put on trial for teaching Darwin's theory of evolution to his science students. In American history, lawyer Clarence Darrow and Nebraska politician William Jennings Bryan battle the issue of science versus religion.

Inherit the Wind will run Aug. 1, 2, 3, and 4 at 7:30 p.m.

The cost of tickets is $10 for each show, and they may be purchased online at totltheatre.org or by making reservations by phone at 304-680-1002. Season tickets (which do not include Miss Nelson is Missing), are available for $30, which ensures priority seating for season patrons. Since the arrangement of the seating changes for each show, seat selection will be made by the box office manager.

The TOTL Theatre Company is funded in part by the Garrett County Arts Council, the Maryland State Arts Council, and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Mtn. Laurel Club Finalizes Country Garden Tour Plans

Members of the Mountain Laurel Garden Club met recently to finalize plans for their 12th annual tour, "Secret Country Gardens," scheduled for Saturday, June 30, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

The event will feature tours of four gardens in Garrett County, a perennial sale overseen by the Horticulture Committee, and tickets for a raffle prize offered by the Herb Committee. Refreshments will be available at different gardens on the day of the tour.

A new addition at one of the gardens will be a boutique with many garden-related items from traditional to "shabby chic" for sale.

The Conservation Committee will feature a five- minute computer presentation, "Invasive Plants of Garrett County," prepared by Liz McDowell of Elk Ridge NatureWorks LLC, Grantsville. Handouts about invasive plants and sources for native plants and actual invasive specimens will be available for plant identification education.

The cost of a ticket for the tour is $7. Tickets, which include a short description of each garden and written directions, may be purchased in advance at the following locations: Gregg's Pharmacy, Oakland; Jan Florist, Oakland; Green Acres Garden Center, Oakland; Julie's Greenhouse, Spring Glade Road, north of Oakland; Nature's Own, Sang Run Road, McHenry; Annie's Restaurant, Accident; and Beachy's Pharmacy, Grantsville.

On the day of the tour, members of the Garrett County Historical Society will sell tickets at the Gazebo in Oakland.

Proceeds from the tour will be used by the Mountain Laurel Garden Club for the continued beautification of its communities and to encourage gardening and sound conservation practices through club activities and programs.

The Mountain Laurel Garden Club is a member of the National Garden Clubs Inc., the Central Atlantic Region, and the Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland Inc. Affiliated clubs provide education, resources, and national networking opportunities for members, as well as promote gardening, floral design, and civic and environmental responsibility.

Persons may call Barbara Gallagher, tour co-chair, at 301-387-5875, or Kathie Smith, publicity chair, at 301-334-3249 for more information.

Preserving Church

West Virginia Charge eventually dropped Mt. Beulah and deeded the property over to a cemetery committee, which depended solely upon donations to pay someone to mow the cemetery.

The last funeral held in the church for a congregation member took place in December 1975. Shortly thereafter, Mt. Beulah was abandoned. Decades of neglect took their toll on the house of worship. The bell tower was sagging; the roof was crumbling; the rock foundation was weakening.

After hearing that the church might be torn down, a small group of people – many with ties to Mt. Beulah, some with connections to Trinity, and others who wanted to preserve New Germany's history – began to explore ways to save the church. Since their initial meeting in September 2007, Mt. Beulah Restoration Association members have strengthened the bell tower, replaced the roof, and stabilized the foundation. Their next project is exterior painting.

The nonprofit organization holds various fundraisers throughout the year, most notably the "Working On a Building" Bluegrass and Gospel Music Gathering, held annually in June at Grantsville Community Park.

For more information about the association and its projects, persons may call group founder Diana Deal at 301-746-7222.

GC Humane Society's FUNdraiser To Offer A Dog-Gone Good Time

SUZIE IS ALL FANCIED UP for the Canine Costume Contest, if only to taunt the dogs. The contest is just one of several activities scheduled during the Garrett County Humane Society's Dog-Gone FUNdraiser, slated for Saturday, Aug. 11. See story.

The Garrett County Humane Society's annual Dog-Gone FUNdraiser will be held this year on Saturday, Aug. 11. The event was previously held in July, but because the county fair has been moved up to July, the fundraiser is now in August.

"Regardless, this event still offers many events to enjoy, and, as always, there is free admission," said GCHS president Lisa Baker

The first 100 people to walk in will receive a free "goodie" bag containing items donated by various businesses. The day's activities start with HART's Pet Jeopardy (10:30 a.m.), then the Benefit Dog Walk (11 a.m.), which involves participants raising funds ahead of time by asking their friends and families for a donation for them and their dogs to walk a one-mile circuit.

There will be a Meet-the-Breed barn with dozens of types of dogs. People can interact with and ask the owners questions about that particular breed.

The Meet-the-Breed Parade (11:45 a.m.) preceeds the Canine Costume Contest (12:30 p.m.), followed by the ever popular Garrett County Sheriff's Office Dog Demonstration (1:15 p.m.).

The large silent auction featuring items such as gifts and gift certificates will be ongoing all day. It ends at 2:30 p.m. In addition, a live auction takes place at 2 p.m.

"We have added a new facet to the live auction, featuring items donated by animal loving celebrities," Baker said. "Bob Barker, Bindy Irwin, and Carrie Underwood have sent us items, and who knows what else we will get by August."

GCHS will have a special area dedicated in memory of treasurer Ellen Green, who died suddenly in January. The area will feature Rottweiler items from Green's collection that her family presented to the Humane Society.

A snack bar and a cash-and-carry gift area will be available

14th Annual Truck Show Planned At Grantsville Park

The 14th annual Western Maryland Truck Show will be held in the Grantsville Town Park on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, Aug. 24 to 26.

The headliner is Aaron Tippin, who is described as "a man whose passion for music fuels an array of other vigorous enthusiasms." He will present a concert on Saturday, Aug. 25.

Apart from writing and recording songs, Tippin is also a pilot, farmer, winemaker, outdoorsman, competitive bodybuilder, and devoted family man.

He entered the country music scene in 1990 with his song, "You've got to Stand for Something." Since then, hits have included "I Wouldn't Have It Any Other Way," "The Call of the Wild," and "Kiss This."

Also performing at the truck show will be the Girls in Black Hats and Southern Grind.

A lawn mower pulling contest will be held Friday evening.

New this year at the Truck Show is Billy's Big Riggers Saloon. Proper identification will be mandatory.

Ticket prices are $5 in advance and $7 at the gate. Admission for children under 12 is free. Tickets can be purchased at First United Bank's Grantsville branch, Accident Liberty, Grantsville Liquors, and Grantsville Napa, or online at www.westernmarylandtruckshow.com.

throughout the day as well.

"This is our biggest and most important fundraising event," Baker said. "We need to continue to raise money to keep up with the cost of helping hundreds of people have their pets spayed or neutered, and to help those who have emergency medical situations involving their pets. Many of the neglected animals we come into contact with need immediate medical care or have to be transported to a safe place, which can cost hundreds of dollars alone. We help people and domestic animals that have no where else to turn, so please come out and support us at this event."

Schedules and registration forms for the dog walk or costume contest are available at area veterinarian offices or by calling 301-334-2738. Registration for the walk and contest begins at 10 a.m. that day.

"Members are now collecting silent auction items," Baker said. "So, if we haven't been in to see you and you want to donate something, please call us."

She also noted that $1 raffle tickets (three cash winners) can be purchased from a GCHS member or at Gregg's Pharmacy, Oakland, and Trader's Coffee House, Deep Creek Lake.

The GCHS is a non-profit, 501(c) volunteer organization that has been helping homeless and helpless animals for over 25 years.

Baptist Church To Host VBS June 25–29

Deep Creek Baptist Church will host vacation Bible school June 25–29 from 6 to 9 p.m. each evening. Themed "Amazing Wonders Aviation," it is open to those entering kindergarten in the fall through those who completed seventh grade this spring. The event is free and will be held at the church, located along Rt. 219 across from Uno's Restaurant, Deep Creek Lake.

"Come join us as we fly to some of the world's greatest natural wonders and encounter God's awesome power," commented a spokesperson. "As kids 'fly' around the world, they will enjoy missions, music, recreation and games, crafts, Bible stories, and snacks."

Friday night will be family night, with parents invited to watch a performance of the week's songs by the VBS children. The church will host a free cookout and a time of fellowship following the performance, complete with a bouncy house and games.

For more information, persons may call the church at 301-387-5688 or visit the web site at www.deepcreekbc.com.

GLAF Presenting Johnny Staats & The Delivery Boys

The Garrett Lakes Festival will present Johnny Staats & the Delivery Boys on Saturday, Aug. 11, at Garrett College, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Born and reared in West Virginia, Staats caught the bluegrass bug right from the start, a spokesperson said. With his mother playing piano, his father playing on the guitar, and his sister on the banjo, it seemed only natural that Johnny would get his first mandolin at the young age of 7.

"Just as I started to take mandolin lessons, my teacher passed away," Staats said. "So I took matters in my own hands, and learned to play by ear from listening to records and 8 tracks of Bill Monroe, Country Gentleman, and many more. There were many nights I listened to those guys all night long."

Johnny joined his first band (Bluegrass Heritage) at age 9, and became a regular at competitions from age 13 on. He never entertained the thought of playing sports in school, because he was fearful he might injure his hands.

In West Virginia, Staats established dominance at his home turf – Charleston's Vandalia Gathering Mandolin championships in 1996, 1997, and 1999.

Staats finally made his way to Nashville to record his first CD, Wires and Wood, with Giant Records as his recording label. Wires and Wood demonstrates Johnny's mandolin talent and expressive voice, and features bluegrass artistslegends John Cowan, Sam Bush, Jerry Douglas, Jim Hurst, and Tim O'Brien. Other co-stars on the CD are Sara Evans and Kathy Mattea.

Tickets are available by visiting www.artsandentertainment or calling the GLAF office at 301-387-3082.

STANTON'S MILL, located next to Penn Alps and the Casselman Bridge, was built in 1797 by Jesse Tomlinson, when Thomas Stanton conveyed water privileges to him for a grist mill. The mill operated for nearly 200 years, first powered by water, then steam, and finally electricity. Portions of the original mill are still intact. Just before the Civil War, the mill was rebuilt and sold back to the Stanton family, and was enlarged to its present size in 1900. After that time, it operated as a grist and feed mill until 1977, and then as a feed mill only until 1994. It was added to the National Register of Historic Places on Jan. 17, 1983. An agreement was entered with Penn Alps Inc. in 2002 to restore Stanton's Mill as an authentic 1860-1889 stone ground grist mill.

The History Of Washington Spring

Washington Spring is located along the walking path just west of Oakland and along Rt. 39. The history of the site is provided as follows, having appeared in the September 1959 issue of The Glades Star, the regular publication of the Garrett County Historical Society. The piece was written by Felix Robinson.

As one leaves Oakland, Md., going west on Rt. 39 upon a wide curve leading into the community of Rosedale, there is a path to the right, which if taken will lead one to a spring that has quenched the thirst of the wayfaring stranger, the summer visitors, and the local people for over 230 years. It was a place frequented by the Indian also.

And in these succulent glades with tall grass adjacent to the spring one could have seen buffalo, deer, and elk grazing in large numbers. This is the kind of scene the first white men – fur traders – saw when with their pack horses as they travelled to and fro over McCullough's Path. This was a path that followed a buffalo trace (trail) from the Ohio to the Potomac Valleys – and passed nearby the spring. Fifty-seven years later the states of Maryland and Virginia erected a road (1787) from Westernport to Morgantown whose routing passed near the spring. This was the shortest route from the eastern tidewater or coast country to the Ohio River country – a distance of 60 miles. No sooner did the road open than it was used constantly by pioneers going westward to make new settlements.

Oakland has many distinctions, historically speaking. The first improved road from the Atlantic coast across the Allegheny mountains passed through this place. And the first railroad station to be built on top of any mountain in the world was erected in Oakland in 1851.

Along this road in what is now Garrett County there were taverns, most of them of a very primitive order. But at least they could accommodate the travellers – providing them rest, food, and shelter There were two taverns not far from the spring. The first was operated by a Mr. Boyle (a Hollander) and was located at the intersection of Wilson Creek and the Little Yough – about the same position as the Second Glades Hotel, the latter built in 1874. Thomas Walcutt of Massachusetts states in his journal of March 15, 1790: "We ate a little fried salt pork and a bit of vension at Friends' (Augustine Friend) and then crossed the great Youghiogheny. About two miles further on, we crossed the little ditto (Little Youghiogheny) at Boyles."

In Eric Bollman's letter dated 1796, we read: "We spent the second night with one named Boyle, an old Hollander. Early the next morning we could hear the howling of a wolf in the forest."

The other tavern was established about 1806 by William Armstrong and located further down the Little Yough – and on the other side of the spring – about where the Esso tank yard is now located. This became the headquarters for the first post office in the southern part of the county and was known as "Yough Glades Post Office."

Three years before the first improved road went through Oakland, General George Washington, returning from a western trip in which he was trying to ascertain the most feasible canal routing from the Potomac to the Ohio, came back by Mccullough's Path, stopping at Charles Friend's (about 3 miles from the spring) on September 26, 1784. In his journal he states: "From Friends I passed by a spring (distance three miles) – crossed the back bone (Backbone Mtn.), and descended into Ryan's Glade. Thence by Thomas Logsdon's etc."

There is evidence that Washington was referring to what was later known as Archies Spring adjacent to McCullough's Path in Pleasant Valley. The spring that bears his name is located north of Charles Friend's and adjacent to one of the branches of the first improved road that went approximately the right of way of the present Route 7 to Charles Friend's where it connected with a road that went to Moorefield.

But this was not a right of way until three years after Washington's trip. In The Glades Star Vol. II 12 p. 181 (fifth paragraph), we read: "A path (from the Oakland Hotel) led through the maples, oak, and pine trees to a spring which was called 'Washington Spring.' Washington stopped at this spring in 1784 when he journeyed by horseback over the mountains. This spring can still be found near the river below the Crellin Road."

This historic spring along the oldest trail across the Allegheny mountains and within precincts of Oakland's most famous summer resort hotel has been the well of deep desire for both the weary traveller making his way westward, and the multitudes of city folk who come to these mountain crests for the cooler clime and to drink the purest of water.

Many the time as a child have I, with companions, visited Washington Spring. We would walk down the tan bark path in the springtide, plucking violets on our way. After drinking freely from the spring, we would fill jars wherein we placed the violets and other flowers which we would take home.

There was no path more frequented in my childhood in the environs of Oakland than the path to Washington Spring.

Fitzhugh Coyle Goldsborough, internationally known violinist who summered with his parents in Oakland, would upon arising in the morning, before breakfast, walk down to the spring, drink from it,return home and to breakfast, and then practice his violin for seven hours.

In these earlier days, the spring was beautifully embellished by a rock grotto from which grew violets. And it was roofed by a rounded peristyle with benches where the visitors could sit and peer down into the cool depths and become fascinated by the way the water bubbled up through white sand.

Its place in local history and sentiment is well established. To restore this place should capture the imagination and loyalty of the entire community, with each organization making generous contribution.

I believe the Mtn. Top Chamber of Commerce is planning this restoration. If this organization is willing to assume the responsibility, it would seem that the other local organizations would want this project to be an outstanding success, as was the Oakland Centennial a decade before. This centennial was a success because it merited the support of the entire community. Washington Spring is such a project.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, which owns this spring and its environs, is willing to cooperate in a generous manner. The whole area could be conditioned as a picnic site. A new covering should be made for the spring, a suitable marker be erected along Rt. 7 describing its history and showing the direction to the spring.

held on the day the supporting timbers of the bridge were removed. People who had seen the arch under construction said it would collapse when the supports were removed.

David Shriver of Cumberland, road construction superintendent for the government, with a few laborers, on the night before the celebration, quietly removed the "key" of the supporting timbers. Shriver stood under the bridge and said that he might as well be dead, as his reputation depended on the arch.

The bridge stood without supports, just as it stands today. It carried the traffic of the great highway for 120 years until the new steel bridge was constructed. John Elliott, now living in Grantsville, is a great grandson of Shriver, who built the bridge.

The Garrett County Historical Society has a copy of the contract for construction of this bridge, which served the National Road traffic over the Castleman River. The Washington County, Pa., Historical Society has the original contract for the construction of the bridge. The contract is too long for publication, but here are some interesting notes from its contents:

"Article of agreement made this 4th day of September, between Abraham Kerne, John Bryson, contractors, and David Striver the part of the United States. The contractor agrees to build across the 'Little Youghiogheny' river on the ninth section of the U.S. Western road, 30-foot span in the clear with a width of road across the arch of 26 feet.

"The arch to be a segment of 120 degrees, to be three feet thick, etc. All materials to be found by the contractor, except lime. Bridge to be completed on or before the first day of Nov., 1814.

"The U.S. agrees to pay the contractor at the rate of $2.25 for every perch of mason work in the bridge: $2,000 to be paid as soon as the abutments of the bridge are built, and $2,000 when the bridge is half built."

The contract concludes as follows: "It is hereby likewise provided that no member of Congress shall be admitted to any share or part in the contract or agreement or to any benefit to arise therefrom."

The contract was signed and sealed by David Shriver and the contractors, Kerns and Bryson, before Jon Scott and M. Hallam on Sept. 30, 1813. It was approved by James Madison, then president of the U. S.

The historic stone-arch bridge spanning Castleman's river on this side of Grantsville was restored and preserved for posterity in 1955 as a monument to the earliest bridge construction methods in the United States.

The arch structure was restored with an appropriation of $20,000 by the state of Maryland, secured through the efforts of Harry C. Edwards, then Grantsville's member of the Maryland House of Delegates. The contract for the work was awarded to the Cumberland Construction Company and was completed in the early part of November 1955.

Restoration of the old bridge was a dream of many residents of Grantsville, who desired to see the bridge preserved for future generations.

From 1813 until 1933 the arch bridge carried the ever-increasing traffic of Route 40, the National Pike. In 1933, due to the heavy increase in vehicular traffic, it was necessary to relocate the right-of-way in order to eliminate several hazardous curves, as well as the steep incline over the historical bridge. The relocation project necessitated the erection of the present steel bridge some 400 feet south of the stone arch bridge. Since erection of the new bridge, the only traffic which used the old bridge were historians, people who knew and enjoyed the thrill or the way-down-deep feeling that took place in one's stomach when crossing the arch, and the rural mailman who delivered mail to families of "Little Crossings."

When the new steel bridge opened for traffic in 1933, no provisions were made by the Maryland State Roads Commission for maintenance of the old thoroughfare. Deterioration of the side walls of the approaches forced the State Roads Commission to barricade and close the old historical stone arch bridge to all vehicular traffic in 1953.

The move was called to the attention of Mr. Harry C. Edwards by citizens of "Little Crossings." Mr. Edwards, having a keen sense of pride in the historical value of the old bridge to Garrett County and the state of Maryland, assumed the responsibility of restoration and quietly began work on the project.

After several months and numerous contacts with state officials, he was fortunate to have included in the Maryland General Construction Loan, Chapter 266 of the Acts of 1955, a sum of $20,000 earmarked for the structure. Mr. Edwards had asked the Garrett County Historical Society to consider placing a suitable marker at the location and to arrange a rededication ceremony to be held in the early summer of 1956.

In 1955, $20,000 was allotted for restoration of the bridge. It was restored by the State Roads Commission. In 1956, $3,000 was allotted for acquisition of land for a park. The land was purchased by the State Roads Commission.

In 1957, $5,000 was allotted for developing the park. It was developed by the Department of Forests and Parks. The land was cleared, patios and fireplaces were built, also other facilities provided for picnickers. The various clubs and organizations meet at the park for their meetings. Many tourists stop for lunch and people visit the park to enjoy the scenic beauty of the old bridge and the peaceful Castleman River. The children also enjoy fishing, even though there are few fish to be caught. They sit on the banks and at times go wading.

The park is now under the supervision of the Department of Forests and Parks, New Germany unit. Mr. Edwards is to be congratulated for the effort he put into the project.

Additional restorative work on the bridge is currently under way.

returned to California with his bride, Harriet Beachy, a teacher and daughter of John and Christina Beachy. Their marriage was celebrated on November 19, 1889, in the home of her aunt, Mrs. Sarah Beachy Ashby, at Oakland.

Mr. Enlow was principal of a school and president of the Marin County, California, Board of Education, in 1892, when he was appointed an inspector of customs at San Francisco. He served at the port honestly and with marked efficiency in responsible posts until his retirement in 1932.

At 91 years of age, Mr. Enlow resided with two sisters, Mary Matilda and Minnie Jane Enlow, in a modest home, "Pine Crest Manor," on the hill overlooking apple orchards and the pleasant town of Sebastopol, California.

Ruth Christine Enlow, the only child of Ephriam and Harriet Enlow, was born in San Francisco on April 11, 1897. At the time of the great earthquake and fire in that city in April 1906, the Enlow home was destroyed. Mrs. Enlow and Ruth then resided for a year near Oakland, Maryland.

Returning to San Francisco, Ruth attended the public schools, graduating from the Lowell High School in 1915 and from the University of California with the degree of bachelor of arts in 1919. She was licensed to teach, but accepted a civil service position in the San Francisco Public Library, from which position she was steadily advanced on merit until she became librarian in charge of the largest branch library in that city, the Richmond Library.

PIANIST STURM TO GIVE MPA CONCERT – Fred Sturm, a pianist, will present the July 21 concert for Music at Penn Alps. Sturm earned a master of music degree in piano performance from the University of New Mexico in 1979. He is active as a performing pianist, and specializes in the solo piano repertoire of Latin America, with a particular emphasis on the music of Villa-Lobos. He has recorded five CDs of solo piano music, including Brazilian Soul (music of Villa-Lobos); American Rags, Brazilian Tangos, and Afrocuban Dances (music of Joplin, Scott, Lamb, Nazareth and Lecuona); Piano Music of Ginastera and Villa-Lobos; Spanish Dances (piano music of Mompou, Turina and Granados); and Sonidos de Nueva España (piano music by Mexican composers). All MPA programs take place at 7:30 p.m. in the Great Hall at Penn Alps, Grantsville. Seating is limited, and guests are asked to arrive by 7:15. Admission is $15 for adults. All those 19 and younger are admitted free.

A tractor pulling contest will be held at 5 p.m. for stock and hot stock classes. This event is coordinated by Franklin Broadwater.

A fireworks display sponsored by eight local businesses, will be held at 10:30 p.m.

There will be an interdenominational church service at the Grantsville Park in pavilion #3 next to the pond on Sunday at 11 a.m. The service is coordinated by the Grantsville Ministerial Association.

In the afternoon, there will be music by Jimmy B at the stage, and a pickup and truck pulling contest will be held at 2 p.m.

Throughout the weekend, there will be a variety of food booths in operation by local non-profit organizations, with Lions barbecued chicken dinners and kettle corn, along with other vendors selling french fries, sandwiches, ice cream, funnel cakes, hamburgers, hot dogs, sloppy joes, lemonade, and soft drinks.

Beachy says that Grantsville Days is unique in that no commercial food vendors are allowed so that churches, Scouts, and other local groups can raise funds for their organizations.

The entire event is sponsored by nearly 80 Grantsville businesses, and each business is listed on fliers and posters doings of all the young people of the community.

JIMMY B TO PERFORM AT GC FAIR – Local resident Jim Beitzel, also known to many in the area as Jimmy B, will perform two shows at the Garrett County Agriculture Fair this year, one on Tuesday (Senior Citizens Day) and one on Saturday, each from 1:30 to 3 p.m. As the owner of Center Stage Karaoke & DJ Service, Jimmy B has had the privilege to perform on stage for Chelly Wright, master of ceremonies for the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, and opened for Ricochet and Heidi Newfield, lead singer for Trick Pony. Trying to realize his dream of becoming a major performer, Jimmy has made numerous trips to Tennessee recording studios and had the opportunity to perform on a national television show known as America's Rising Stars. Not only does he perform current country hits, but also classic country, golden oldies, and classic rock.

Sara Roberta Getty, the charming writer of verses, was living at the time in Grantsvllle. I asked her to write something to be read at the meeting. She responded with a poem which she titled "The Mars Hill School." This poem was printed in the September 1957 issue of The Glades Star. I have the original manuscript in the author's own handwriting, which I am donating to the Garrett County Historical Society for preservation.

On Aug. 11, 1940, the Board of Education sold the lot to Edward O. Jenkins, a son of the original owners. Thus, officially came to an end a long era in the educational life of the community. I understand that the frame building burned to the ground some years ago, but the old log building still stands. For the hundreds of students and teachers who passed through her doors, only nostalgic memories linger on. This thought was expressed in the closing lines of Mrs. Getty's poem:

"When looking back in years to come, no matter what your lot,

"Your heart will point you back and say, 'Be true,'

"For, next to home, and dearer far than any other spot,

"Your Mars Hill School will always be to you."

How Did Bear Creek Church Get Its Name?

Bear Creek Church of the Brethren is located near Accident Elementary School, off Accident Bittinger Road at 1088 Brethren Church Road, which begs the question: Why isn't the church named Accident Church of the Brethren?

"Many members are asked why the church is named Bear Creek when it is nowhere near Bear Creek," noted a spokesperson.

When the congregation was first established in the mid 1800s, there were two other meeting houses. The church's center and head church was located near Bear Creek Cove (north of Accident), and the second was located south of town in the area called Flatwoods, now Bumblebee Road. The Chapel at Bear Creek gave the congregation its name.

The center of the church shifted to the Accident church, and since it was not near Bear Creek the name was changed to Accident. However, in 1906, Jacob Mosser left his estate to the Bear Creek Church, so the name was changed back to Bear Creek Church of the Brethren.

The present building was erected in 1889, but underwent extensive renovations in the early 1960s, including changing the place of the pulpit and the entryway, and Sunday School rooms, a kitchen, and a fellowship hall were added.

"New plans include installing handicapped accessible restrooms on the first floor and enlarging the fellowship hall," said the spokesperson.

Author Meister Will Speak At Oakland Library

Chris Meister, author of James Riely Gordon: His Courthouses and Other Public Architecture, will speak at the Oakland Ruth Enlow Library on Monday, July 2, at 6 p.m. The Garrett County courthouse is among the courthouses featured in his large-format, 334-page book that contains 150 black and white and 54 color photos.

Meister traveled to 50 communities in 12 states tracking the career of late-19th-century architect Gordon, who was perhaps the nation's most prolific designer of county courthouses and was recognized during his career as a leader in the field.

"Chris Meister's book on the courthouse architecture of J. Reily Gordon offers an incisive look at the realities of American architectural practice at the turn of the 20th century," said architectural historian Stephen Fox.

In addition to his lecture, Meister will sell and sign copies of his book at the event, which is free and open to the public. Registration is not required, but a courtesy call is appreciated. Persons interested are asked to call the Oakland library at 301-334-3996, ext. 117, or e-mail bonnie@relib.net.

Caleb Stein Will Perform At OTT Saturday, Aug. 18

Caleb Stine, country rock singer and songwriter, will return to Our Town Theatre's stage in Oakland with the Honey Dewdrops on Saturday, Aug. 18, at 8 p.m.

Since his concert at OTT last year, Stine portrayed Cisco Houston in Woody Guthrie Dreams: A Play by Michael Patrick Flanagan Smith, at New York City's Theater for the New City, and played MPT's Concert for the Chesapeake Bay. His friends Laura Wortman and Kagey Parrish, who are the husband and wife duo comprising the Honey Dewdrops, have appeared on "A Prairie Home Companion" and just released their third album, Silver Lining.

Reservations for the concert at OTT are $10 in advance and $15 at the door.

Our Town Theatre is accessible to people with disabilities. OTT is funded in part by Garrett County Arts Council and Maryland State Arts Council. For reservations, persons may call the theatre at 301-334-5640 or visit the web site www.ourtowntheatre.org.

Ruth Enlow

The Great Master called Mrs. Enlow home on February 27, 1930. She was a noble mother and the boon companion of her daughter and husband.

Upon the decease of Mrs. Enlow, Ruth inherited a one-third interest in the John J. Beachy farm at Bittinger; she was a taxpayer in Garrett County for about six years.

Of his beloved daughter, Mr. Enlow wrote:

"Bereft of her Mother's great love and care in 1930, Ruth continued bravely with her work as librarian for six years, when she too was called to her reward, leaving her father as her only nearby relative to mourn the loss of the companionship of two such lovable characters . . ."

Ruth Enlow was a beautiful flower, struck down by an untimely frost. She passed away on February 7, 1936. Her ashes rest near those of her mother in a crypt of Cypress Lawn cemeteries at San Francisco.

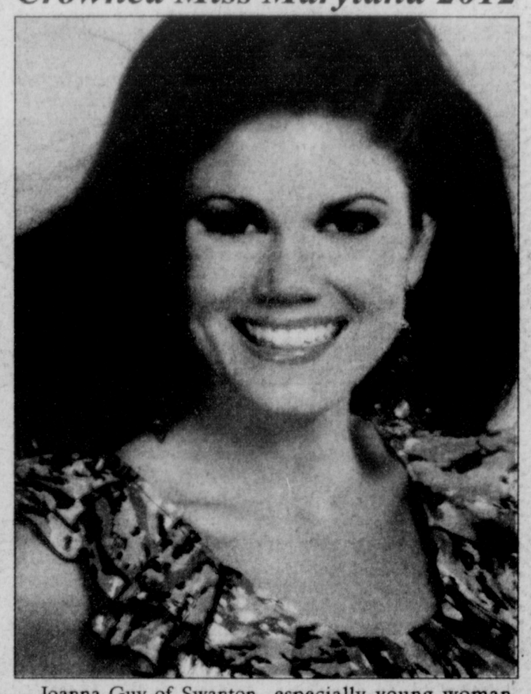
Local Resident Joanna Guy Crowned Miss Maryland 2012



Joanna Guy of Swanton was crowned Miss Maryland on Saturday and will represent the state at the Miss America pageant next January. A 20-year-old senior at Cornell University, Guy was the salutatorian of the Southern High School class of 2009.

The last Garrett County resident to win the title of Miss Maryland was Kim (Grimm) Weimer in 1990.

The Miss Maryland competition was held last week at the historic Maryland Theatre in Hagerstown. Guy won the swimsuit and talent preliminary competitions and was the overall winner in interview. She performed a Broadway vocal selection from the highly successful musical Wicked for her talent.

Along with her crown and the opportunity to represent the state in the Miss America pageant, Guy received a $10,000 scholarship, along with several other prizes and additional scholarship awards.

"As Miss Maryland, I am committed to serving as a positive role model for youth and an ambassador for our state," Guy said. "I look forward to making appearances in schools and communities, and to working with businesspeople and public officials throughout Maryland. Of course, I am also thrilled and honored to represent Maryland at Miss America."

During her year of service as Miss Maryland, Guy will travel throughout the state making appearances and promoting her personal platform, as well as the national platform of the Miss America organization, Children's Miracle Network Hospitals (CMNH). Her personal platform is "Heart to Heart: Raising Awareness for Healthy Hearts."

Guy said that her platform was the result of her being inspired by her grandparents, all four of whom suffered from heart disease or stroke. She works to educate people, especially young woman, about the risks of heart disease and the benefits of heart-healthy lifestyle choices. Her advocacy involves speaking appearances, a blog, and fundraising through special events.

This week Guy will travel to the Alpha Phi Foundation convention in Phoenix to perform at a major fundraiser for cardiac care and research. She was selected as one of five showcase performers in a nationwide talent competition.

"I was chosen to participate before winning the [Miss Maryland] title," she said. "I'm doubly excited now, because I can support the foundation's philanthropic work as both a collegiate member of Alpha Phi and as Miss Maryland."

At Cornell, Guy is on the dean's list and maintains an A average with a major in government and a minor in music. An accomplished vocalist, she is a member of the

Garrett Co. Commissioners At An Impasse Over Zoning Ordinance

The proposed Garrett County Land Use Management Ordinance is dead in the water. When or even if it will be revived is not known at this time.

The county commissioners met Tuesday morning to vote on the 85-page document but could not reach a consensus about its fate. About 30 people turned out to witness the proceeding at the courthouse.

Director John Nelson, Garrett County Planning and Land Development, reviewed the formal process for adopting the draft, the next step of which would be for the commissioners to present it to the local Planning Commission.

Commissioner Gregan Crawford made a motion to forward the document to the commission for its review and feedback.

"I am not in favor of moving it forward," Commissioner Bob Gatto said.

Neither he nor commission chair Jim Raley seconded Crawford's motion, and it died.

Garrett is the only county in Maryland without county-wide zoning. Under Article 66-B, Garrett County has the authority to enact land use regulations. But polices must be comprehensive. The county cannot pick and choose which types of uses to allow or disallow. It can, however, regulate the various uses.

About six months ago, the commissioners and other county officials started exploring the idea of zoning and began drafting a land use ordinance, an idea that, historically, has been somewhat taboo with previous commission boards.

The commissioners sought and received comments from the public about the proposal and received much feedback, most of which focused on wind turbine setbacks and height restrictions. Suggestions about setbacks from neighboring properties ranged from two to 10 times the height of a turbine, Raley noted.

Crawford acknowledged that the current draft is not perfect, that some changes are needed, but it is proactive and comprehensive.

"This document that was drafted allows all uses in all areas of the county," he said. "It is essentially performance zoning. We've not drawn lines saying businesses have to go here, homes go there. It doesn't do that at all. It is very open ended . . . it is as liberal a document as can be devised or written up/developed that addresses some of the issues that we have to deal with."

Raley differed, noting the draft does contain restrictions.

"The problem is, this document reaches far beyond wind energy," he said. "It reaches into the very rights that I often sit here and argue [against] [that] frustrate me from the government's perspective of getting into our personal lives, getting into our property rights, getting into our business, and limiting what we can do."

He said he could not advance the document to the Planning Commission without first giving the state another "shot" at implementing turbine regulations.

"Is Garrett County ready for comprehensive zoning?" Raley asked. "No. Garrett County is not ready."

He made a motion to table the ordinance so discussions could be held with Del. Wendell Beitzel and Sen. George Edwards about enacting turbine setback legislation during the next General Assembly session.

Crawford did not approve the idea, but he seconded the motion to enable Raley to comment on the motion under proper meeting procedures. After Raley commented, Crawford and Gatto voted against the idea.

Gatto made a motion to not forward the draft to the Planning Commission. It was not seconded.

"I'm not ready for this document at this time," Raley said. "I would like to see us tell the legislature that we're dead serious this time: 'You have to do something to address wind energy. You have to do something to put some [setback] number in there.' Otherwise, I see it as kind of pulling a number out of a hat. And the thing that worries me is, are we pulling the right number out, and are we really being fair? And is it really that we want to put this whole document forward? Or is it really that we want some reasonable setbacks for wind energy, understanding that wind energy is here – it's not going away."

Raley noted that state officials want to heavily regulate natural gas drilling in this area, almost bring it to a halt.

"But they want to put on blinders when it comes to wind energy," he said.

Legislators will not convene again in Annapolis until January 2013. Crawford indicated he did not want to waste time.

"It's pointless to go back and demand restrictions; it's not going to happen,"

Oakland Area Man Receives 20-Year, 15-Year Sentences

A 29-year-old Oakland area man pleaded guilty in Garrett County Circuit Court this week to one charge of first degree burglary and to one charge of second degree burglary. Additional charges against Scott David Collins were dismissed upon his plea.

Judge Jim Sherbin then sentenced Collins to 20 years in the Division of Corrections for the first degree burglary charge and suspended eight years of the sentence. For the second degree burglary charge, Collins was sentenced to 15 years in prison, with seven years suspended. The sentences are to run concurrently, and Collins will be on probation upon his release.

In January, a neighbor reported suspicious footprints and activity around a residence along Bray School Road, and Maryland State Police responded.

It was determined the house had been entered by the breaking of a rear door, a number of items of property had been stolen, and substantial damage occurred throughout the house.

Criminal investigators interviewed potential witnesses, who directed them to Collins and a female juvenile as suspects. Both confessed and some of the stolen property was recovered, the state's attorney said.

The juvenile was previously adjudicated in juvenile court as delinquent and placed in rehabilitative treatment.

Collins was subsequently interviewed by criminal investigators with the Garrett County Sheriff's Office, as he was a suspect in a number of burglaries and thefts in the

Separate Vehicle Accidents Result In Three Fatalities Last Week

Three lives were lost in Garrett County this past week as a result of two separate vehicle accidents, one investigated by Maryland State Police and one investigated by Garrett County sheriff's deputies.

Maryland State Police responded to a single-vehicle accident early last Friday morning along I-68 in Friendsville and discovered upon arrival two New Jersey residents dead and three others severely injured.

An initial investigation revealed that Kanubhai B. Bhagat, 34, Franklin Park, had been driving a 2003 Acura west on I-68, when for unknown reasons the vehicle traveled off the left roadside striking the median guardrail, traveled back across the westbound lanes, and struck the state highway sign on the north side of the roadway.

The driver and front passenger, Pushpaben B. Bhagat, 54, Franklin Park, were pronounced dead at the scene. Passenger Bhupendra Bhagat, 58, a 6-year-old juvenile, and a 4-year-old juvenile were all transported to Ruby Memorial Hospital, Morgantown, W.Va., by MSP Trooper 5, Health Net from Ruby, and State Medivac 5 from Connellsville, Pa.

The Maryland State Police Crash Team, Friendsville Volunteer Fire Department, Northern Rescue Squad, and personnel from the Maryland State Highway Administration and the State Medical Examiner's Office all responded to the 6:30 a.m. accident. Westbound I-68 was closed for approximately six hours while the investigation was being conducted.

In a separate accident last Thursday evening, Mt. Storm, W.Va., driver John Adam Delaney, 72, lost his life at the intersection of Garrett Highway and George Washington Highway.

Investigation revealed that Renee Jean Gaither, 51, Eglon, had been operating a 2005 Dodge van north on Garrett Highway, when she failed to stop at the flashing red light. The van then collided with Delaney's 2000 Chevy Tracker SUV traveling west on George Washington Highway. Southern Rescue Squad transported Delaney to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where he succumbed to his injuries.

Gorman Volunteer Fire Department also responded to the accident. Gaither was charged with failing to obey a traffic signal.

Fireworks Display Scheduled July 3 At Broadford Park

The town of Oakland will hold a fireworks display on Tuesday, July 3, at Broadford Lake Recreation Area beginning at dusk. The rain date is Thursday, July 5.

Bounce houses and an 18-foot inflatable wet slide will be available for children.

An admission fee will be charged: $1 for children age 8 and younger and $3 for persons older than 8.

Constellation Energy/ Criterion Wind is the major sponsor of the fireworks display, which will be presented by the American Fireworks Company, Hudson, Ohio.

Chamber Receives $30,000 Grant For Heritage Area Proj.

U.S. Senators Ben Cardin and Barbara Mikulski (both D-Md.) on Tuesday announced the Appalachian Regional Commission's (ARC) approval of a $30,000 grant to the Garrett Country Chamber of Commerce to develop the Strategic Initiative Program to increase tourism and create new jobs in heritage tourism.

Garrett County recently was authorized as a state Certified Heritage Area titled the Mountain Maryland Gateway to the West Heritage Area. The Strategic Initiative Program will identify ways to promote Garrett County's unique identity. This grant is the next major step in enhancing tourism, creating jobs, and promoting sustainability, according to the senators.

The program will include establishment of a Heritage Area web site and use of other social media tools, purchasing and installing four kiosks, hiring a consultant to research and compile the history of Garrett County, including interpretive signage, and the creation of multimedia materials.

"This is exactly the kind of grant I like to see," Cardin said. "It creates jobs, and it will make it possible for more people to come to Garrett County and enjoy all the history, nature and culture that this county and the state have to offer. We are faced with a unique opportunity here both to bolster existing tourist attractions and to showcase this beautiful part of our state."

The ARC is a federal-state partnership that works with the people of Appalachia to create opportunities for

Two Injured In Chestnut Ridge Road Accident

Two people were transported to the Western Maryland Regional Medical Center, Cumberland, Saturday afternoon following a two vehicle accident along Chestnur Ridge Road. Maryland State Police responded to the 4 p.m. accident.

Investigation revealed that Grant Allman, 84, Derry, Pa., attempted to make a U-turn in a 2005 Mercury Montego and struck a southbound 1988 Chevy Cavalier driven by Jeffery McCleary, 24, Meyersdale, Pa. The Cavalier was struck on the front right side. McCleary and a juvenile passenger were taken to the Cumberland hospital by Northern Rescue Squad.

Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department also responded to the scene. Allman was charged with failure to yield right of way.

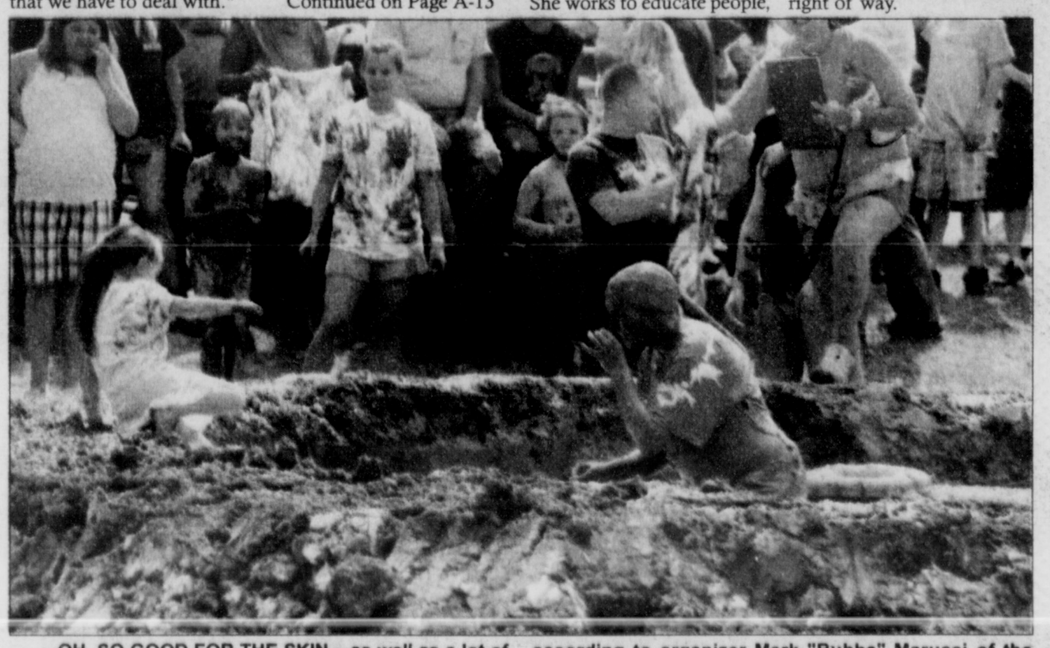
ONE OF THE LATEST ADDITIONS at the Garrett County Historical Society Transportation Museum in Oakland is this mint-condition 1923 Chevrolet Superior. The vehicle was reportedly confiscated by law enforcement officials a number of years ago in a drug sting and eventually purchased by Eric Belldina of Masontown, W.Va. David Holman, also of Masontown, did the restoration work. The car is on loan by Belldina, and can be seen at the museum anytime between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Monday through Saturday, and noon to 3 p.m. on Sunday.



OH, SO GOOD FOR THE SKIN – as well as a lot of laughs – was the mud pit that was "open to customers" at the recent annual Redneck Dayz festival at Broadford Park. The perfect weather, live music, games, lots of food, and attractions (such as the mud pit) drew "several thousand people" over the course of the two-day bash, according to organizer Mark "Bubba" Marucci of the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club. Proceeds from the event support the various charitable programs of the Lions club, as well as those of other participating organizations. Driver Sentenced To One Year In Garrett County Jail On DWI Charge

A Maryland driver was sentenced to one year in jail by Judge Leonard J. Eiswert during a Garrett County District Court hearing held this month.

Ralph Oscar Davis, 45, was found guilty on a driving while impaired (DWI) charge that stemmed from a July arrest by Garrett County sheriff's deputies. Nine months of his sentence were suspended, and Davis was fined $500. He will also be placed on two years of supervised probation upon his release from the Garrett County Jail. This will be monitored by the Maryland Division of Parole and Probation. He was not prosecuted on a driving under the influence (DUI) charge

In other court news this month, Nickolas Wayne Savage, 26, was found guilty on a DWI charge and sentenced to one year in the Garrett County Jail. All but one month of his sentence was suspended, and he was fined $750. Upon his release, he will be placed on two years of supervised probation. He was not prosecuted on DUI and DUI per se charges. Savage was arrested in February by Maryland State Police.

William Robert Lantz, 32, West Virginia, was given a probation before judgment (PBJ) verdict on a DUI charge that stemmed from a February arrest by MSP. He was sentenced to six months suspended and fined $500 with $150 suspended. He was also placed on three years of unsupervised probation. He was not prosecuted on a DWI charge.

Derrick Allen Reeder, 29, Pennsylvania, was given a PBJ verdict on a DUI per se charge and sentenced to 45 days suspended. He was also fined $500 with $200 suspended and placed on 18 months of unsupervised probation. He was not prosecuted on DUI and DWI charges.

James Ray Harrell Jr., 39, Md., was given a PBJ verdict on a DWI charge that stemmed from a traffic stop by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in February. He was fined $500 with $300 and sentenced to 45 days suspended. He was also placed on one year of unsupervised probation. He was not prosecuted on a DUI charge.

William Eugene Brantner, 27, Md., was given a PBJ verdict on a DWI charge and fined $500 with $300 suspended. He was also sentenced to 30 days suspended and placed on one year of unsupervised probation. He was arrested in February by Maryland State Police. He was not prosecuted on DUI and DUI per se charges.

Adam Timothy Gazda, 25, Pa., was given a PBJ verdict on a DWI charge and was fined $500 with $200 suspended. He was sentenced to 30 days suspended and placed on 18 months of unsupervised probation. Gazda was arrested in December by Garrett County sheriff's deputies. He was not prosecuted on a DUI charge.

John Junior Edwards, 53, Md., was given a PBJ verdict on a DWI charge that stemmed from a February stop by Maryland State Police. He was sentenced to 30 days suspended and one year of unsupervised probation. He was also fined $500 with $300 suspended. He was not prosecuted on DUI and DUI per se charges.

Lester David Lewellyn, 35, W.Va., was given a PBJ verdict on a DWI charge that stemmed from a February traffic stop by GC sheriff's deputies. He was sentenced to 30 days suspended and fined $500 with half suspended. He was also placed on one year of unsupervised probation. He was not prosecuted on a DUI charge.

Robyn Lynch Ingram, 55, Md., was given a PBJ verdict on a DWI charge that stemmed from a December stop by Garrett County sheriff's deputies. She was sentenced to 30 days suspended and one year of unsupervised probation. She was also fined $500 with half suspended. She was not prosecuted on a DUI charge.

Michael Alan Deters, 33, Colorado, was given a PBJ verdict on a DWI charge and sentenced to 30 days suspended and one year of unsupervised probation. He was also fined $500 with half suspended. Deters was arrested in December by Garrett County sheriff's deputies. He was not prosecuted on a DUI charge.

Floyd Clement Collins, 59, W.Va., was given a stet verdict on DUI and DWI charges that stemmed from a traffic stop in February by GC sheriff's deputies. The conditions of his stet are that he obey all laws, as well as attend and complete an alcohol education course.

Scott Eddie Sisler, 32, Md., was not prosecuted on DUI and DWI charges that stemmed from an October arrest by Garrett County sheriff's deputies.

In district court criminal hearings, John Glen Wiland Jr., 24, Grantsville, was found guilty on a perverted practice charge that stemmed from a February incident investigated by Maryland State Police. He was sentenced to 18 months in jail and given credit for 72 days served. An additional 12 months was suspended. He was reportedly involved in a sexual relationship with a 15-year-old female minor in Grantsville. He was not prosecuted on third-degree sex offense and second-degree assault charges.

Jeffery Allen Hornbeck, 43, Perrysville, Ind., was found guilty on a theft less than $1,000 charge that stemmed from an April incident investigated by Maryland State Police. He was sentenced to 30 days, for which he was given credit for time served. According to the police report, his 9-year-old son was discovered breaking into the business safe at the Good to Go gas station, Friendsville. According to the boy and his mother, Hornbeck had been coaching his son to steal like this for approximately one year. The boy also reportedly admitted to having succeeded at robbing several other places prior to the incident. Hornbeck was not prosecuted on conspiracy to commit theft less than $1,000 and contributing to the condition of a minor.

Wesley Daniel Viney, 24, Rawlings, was found guilty on a theft less than $1,000 value charge that stemmed from an October incident investigated by GC sheriff's deputies. He sentenced to 30 days in jail, for which he was given credit for time served. He was arrested at the Oakland 7-Eleven when he reportedly tried to cash stolen Maryland Lottery tickets.

Clyde Junior Stout, 55, Rowlesburg, W.Va., was found guilty on a possession of marijuana charge and sentenced to 30 days suspended. He was also fined $500 with $300 suspended and placed on one year of unsupervised probation. He was arrested in November when members of the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force conducted a traffic stop on his vehicle along Garrett Highway. Stout was found to be in possession of four bags of marijuana, two "stamp" bags of heroin, one Loratab pill, and two guns, a revolver and a handgun. He was not prosecuted on a handgun in vehicle charge and two counts of possession not marijuana.

Levi Robert Fazenbaker, 21, Grantsville, was given a PBJ verdict on a second-degree assault charge that

Happy First Birthday in Heaven

David W. Paugh Sr.

June 29, 1925 – February 18, 2012

We do not need a special day
To bring you to our minds.
The days we do not think of you
Are very hard to find.

Our hearts still ache with sadness
And secret tears still flow.
What it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.

We hold you close within our hearts;
And there you will remain,
To walk with us throughout our lives
Until we meet again.

Our family chain is broken now,
And nothing seems the same,
But as God calls us one by one,
The chain will link again.

Love Always & Sadly Missed,
Your Wife Betty & Your Loving Family

Garrett County Gridlock...

The gridlock that exists in Congress these days is likewise alive and well right here in Garrett County, as demonstrated this week in the county commissioners' meeting room where the topic was county-wide zoning. What a fiasco. Despite the hundreds of hours expended on meetings and the creation of an 85-page document that would at least keep the ball rolling toward obtaining some kind of protection through comprehensive zoning, only one of the three commissioners – Gregan Crawford – had the courage to make the motion to submit the draft to the Garrett County Planning Commission. His motion did not receive a second, so it died.

Further, a motion by Bob Gatto to not forward the draft to the commission (a motion that violates Roberts rules) did not receive a second, so that died, and a motion by Jim Raley to table the document until after the next legislative session failed by a 2-1 vote. So for now, the issue is not even tabled, but dead, much to the delight of our most vocal anti-zoning residents.

A number of facts remain. One is that Garrett County is the only county in Maryland that does not have some kind of comprehensive zoning. So county-wide zoning is certainly not new. It seems that when 95% of the state adopts some form of comprehensive zoning, does it not make sense to get on board? And as Commissioner Crawford said, the current proposal is not overly restrictive, but a flexible, performance-zoning plan that offers protection to property owners.

Another fact is that wind development companies got a foothold in the county several years ago when there was no protection in place, and several more are poised to move in. The devastation of private property values and quality of life for landowners in the current turbine areas is what sparked the more recent push to get some protection through zoning. (The most vocal aforementioned anti-zoning spokespersons do not live right under those monster turbines – nor do they reside beside pig farms or adult bookstores.) Efforts by local legislators to get the state to pass some wind turbine setback and height restrictions failed miserably, and repeatedly. The notion by Commissioner Raley that the commissioners need to tell the Maryland legislature that "we are dead serious" about getting the state to pass setback and height restrictions for Garrett County is absolutely hilarious. Legislators from the other counties are not going to adopt regulations that our own elected officials refuse to impose. As Crawford said this week, "The onus is on us; it's our responsibility."

Another fact is that next up for Garrett County is probably drilling – fracking – into the Marcellus shale, once the current moratorium by the state goes away. To then allow these companies to march into the county – a county in which there is no zoning – is absolutely terrifying. The state legislature will likely adopt certain regulations that the drilling companies will have to obey, but those will focus primarily on safety issues, and not zoning-related issues such as property values and desecration of our landscapes.

Protection of our citizens is right at the top of the commissioners' charge, yet only one of them has the courage to move forward on protection through zoning.

To the Editor:

For anyone concerned about the social, economic, and environmental impacts of natural gas fracking, Mike Herdering's letter of last week raised welcome alarms and a host of questions about the consequences the practice will impose on Garrett County.

In the short run, of course, fracking will create a relatively small number of jobs, and landowners who negotiated favorable leases may become wealthier if drilling occurs. In the longer run, however, most of the profits from this local resource will be taken out of the area to gas company corporate headquarters. Our region will be left to deal with the predictable effects of a boom and bust economy. We'll face battered roads, degraded recreational resources, falling property values, disposal of enormous volumes of hazardous drilling fluids, and the potential for toxic seeps that pollute our streams and lakes, wells, and air. Citizen taxpayers will bear the risks and costs of fracking, while private gas interests will enjoy most of the gains.

But anyone reading the "white paper" on fracking issued by the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce would reach a very different conclusion. They would read that it's the answer to our energy challenges, employment needs, future economic prosperity, and environmental sustainability. The chamber's "white paper" so carefully presents only the positive side of the fracking picture that gas industry marketing teams would be hard pressed to conjure rosier messages.

The issue for us, however, isn't whether the chamber of commerce should be able to promote its distinctive views and what it sees as the interests of its member businesses. It's whether our tax dollars, and those of visitors to our area, should directly support this already-wealthy and powerful interest group in issuing one-sided, misleading information to the public about the risks and benefits of fracking. This "white paper" is clear evidence that the chamber acts to advance very selective interests, and not those of the general public.

Yet amazingly, the chamber receives about $500,000 annually from the accommodation tax revenues! With the dramatic cuts in the county budget this year, shouldn't this revenue be used instead to support education, public services, infrastructure, and impartial information that the public needs?

In a time of budget austerity, the county commissioners should disconnect our wealthiest business interests – represented by the chamber of commerce – from these misspent public resources.

Brian Greenberg

To the Editor:

As a finisher of the Diabolical Double, part of Saturday's Garrett Gran Fondo, I want to express my sincere appreciation of several groups and individuals. Riding a bicycle 125 miles through the hillier (16,500 feet of climbing) parts of Garrett County is a challenge that I have thought long and hard about. This weekend a lot of factors came together and made this possible for me.

Greg Safko of the Joanna M. Nicolay Melanoma Foundation deserves our thanks for conceiving this event, now in its third year, and seeing it through. Kyle Yost, who actually developed the multiple bicycle routes, knows how to challenge even the most dedicated bicycle enthusiasts who are now coming from many states and countries to participate.

But a real big thanks goes to the vast number of Garrett Countians who volunteered to run the aid stations, patrol the course, and otherwise give freely of their time to support the over 1,100 riders and their families.

Garrett County's weather was beautiful this weekend, but it was our great friends and neighbors who showed what a special place Garrett County is. Thanks to all for making this a special event (growing all the time) and allowing me to get out and enjoy the challenge while supporting the Melanoma Foundation.

To the Editor:

The leadership of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce recently drafted and distributed a policy statement advocating drilling for natural gas in Marcellus shale, and doing it now rather than waiting until needed studies are completed. As a member of the chamber, I do not support the positions advocated in this document.

The president and CEO of the chamber claimed, "The white paper explains the chamber's position and was distributed as a way to educate its members."

This explanation raises several issues. First, if the members have not been educated about the issues, how can the leadership take a position that represents the interests of its members? This is non-sensical, and seems condescending toward members.

Second, the authors of the document endorse the position of multinational corporations who want to take these valuable resources and ship them to Europe and China where they can get a higher price. This is an advocacy document. There is no intention to "educate" anyone about the issues surrounding drilling for natural gas in Garrett County.

Finally, I don't understand how chamber leadership, our elected officials, or anyone else can claim they want responsible and safe drilling in Garrett County, but then oppose the studies necessary to develop the regulations needed for responsible and safe drilling. It doesn't make sense.

This document raises serious concerns about the leadership of this publicly funded organization. Anyone who depends directly or indirectly on tourism should be concerned about what the chamber has done here. This statement, on a very controversial issue in the county, was drafted and distributed without the input of the full chamber membership; apparently the members are too ill-informed to contribute to that discussion.

This raises questions about the judgment of chamber leadership. The document is an advocacy piece supporting the position of multinational gas corporations, not the business people of Garrett County. It is a political document drafted and distributed to create the false impression that the 600 members of the chamber support these positions.

The chamber should not take positions on controversial topics like this without discussion with its members, and then imply that the members support them. That is dishonest. This seriously undermines the trust, credibility, and legitimacy of the leadership of the chamber. They need to retract this statement immediately and seriously reflect on how they can better represent the interests of all members of the chamber, or resign.

Sincerely,
Michael Bell

On behalf of the Naylor's Hardware Helpers Relay for Life team and the American Cancer Society, we would like to thank all of those who came out and attended our first "Magnificent Wonders Fashion Show" that was held June 1. We would like to give a big "thank-you" to the 12 contestants of the show for making this event possible. They were Senator George Edwards, Dr. Richard MacLennan, Bob Gatto, Rob Michael, Bill Meagher, Chris Fredlock, Jim Johnson, Scott Lewis, Rob Heilig, Bruce Swift, Stephan Moylan, and Rev. Dr. Chip Lee.

Also a "thank-you" to Paul Mullan for his added touch as MC. A very special "thanks" goes to Bea Crosco for making her dream of this event come true.

We would also like to take time to thank the following businesses and individuals for helping with our event: Simon Pearce, Uno's/Garrett 8 Cinemas, Denny's, Our Town Theatre, Jane Avery, The Republican, Gregg's Pharmacy, Naylor's, Oakland Elks Lodge #2481 and the kitchen staff for the terrific meal, and Bertha and Arden Green.

From your donations made at the fashion show, bingo, raffle ticket sales, and personal donations, you helped us raise over $12,000 for the 2012 Relay for Life. Your donations are helping more cancer survivors celebrate more birthday.

With many thanks,
Naylor's Hardware Helpers Relay for Life Team

To the Editor:

From now through July 4, many churches across America are joining with the Catholic Church in a "Fortnight for Freedom," where attention is drawn to how precious is our religious freedom in America.

Maryland has a unique history that illustrates the point that religious freedom is precarious, and it goes away if not carefully guarded. In colonial times (1634 – not that long after the Mayflower), the Protestant King Charles I chartered the Catholic Lord Baltimore to found the colony of Maryland, where people of different faiths would live together peacefully. In 1649 the "Toleration Act" was the first law to protect an individual's right to freedom of conscience.

However, that law didn't last long, because in England there was only one permitted "establishment" of religion. Before long, discriminatory laws restricted Catholics to practicing their faith only within their homes. Maryland's exceptional experiment in religious freedom vanished in less than half a century.

The American Revolution brought back freedom of religion in all states. The fourth of July reminds us annually that patriots fought and died to preserve our basic freedoms. Freedom is not free.

Certain provisions within Obamacare directly contradict the teachings of the Catholic Church, and thus constitute an attack upon the religious freedom guaranteed in the Constitution. Even though most Americans can say, "I ain't got no dog in that fight," it is the principle which extends to all other religions as well. Mike Huckabee, now a TV host and a Baptist minister who was previously governor of Arkansas and a presidential candidate, phrased it very well - "We are all Catholics now!"

As parishioners of St. Peter the Apostle Catholic Church in Oakland, we invite all other churchgoers in Garrett County to share in appreciating the intrinsic value of their religious faith. In the days ahead, we encourage everyone to reflect upon the religious freedom that is so basic a cornerstone of America.

Very truly yours,
Ed Sipes, Mary Sipes, Brian Zerbe, Giusto Carlino, Arlene Huber, Ronald Huber Sr., Dan Poyer, Thomas Sheahen, Elizabeth Coviello, Albert Coviello, Marjorie Carlino, Connie Tomlin, W.F. Schrider, Jack Holt, James McMenamin, Daniel Clark, Andrew Clark, Neil Krebs, Jean Schrider, Edgel Sereno, Arden Reeves, and Loretta Reeves

To the Editor:

Last week's editorial was a reasonable portrait of the recent action taken by the county to amend the zoning code. A debate over the desirability of making changes to the zoning code one issue at a time is perfectly appropriate. The zoning code is expressly set up as a fluid document, and the ability to change with the technology and innovation is one thing zoning does well.

I want to point out the fallacy of "Special Exception" (SE) permitted uses. Garrett County relies upon too many SEs, and the public has a gross misunderstanding of the classification. Good zoning code does not allow neighbors to decide what their neighbors build, or what use and conditions they can make on private property.

Case Law by Schultz vs. Pritts (1981) amended the reality of special-exception uses. No longer should one assume that a use can be denied if there are issues that make one request somewhat less desirable than another. Law requires the zoning board to approve the requested use unless there are facts and circumstances that show that the particular use proposed at the particular location would have adverse effects above and beyond those inherently associated with such a special exception use, irrespective of its location within the zone. In short, it can only be denied at the worst location in the district. Special exceptions often pit neighbor vs. neighbor, and since case law amended the meaning, the zoning board is powerless to do more than apply reasonable conditions.

Mr. Spangler makes other important points in his letter of June 21, saying the current draft ordinance can infringe on the use of owners' property rights. It seems that the Plan Maryland folks at the state level are determined to set the use and development rules for all parts of Maryland, whether by zoning or not. Take care when you reach the point of opposition to "county-wide zoning" that makes you feel there is any right to keep state-mandated authority away from your property.

A far more prudent position would be to pass county-wide zoning and establish very broad, locally established rules and regulations – perhaps a very broad code that says "all uses are allowable

FRIEND RECEIVES LOCAL HONOR FOR MILITARY VALOR – A special display is now on exhibit at the American Legion in Oakland in honor of Richard "Dick" Friend, a local United States Army veteran. The Legion officially "opened" the display on Memorial Day for the decorated veteran, who is pictured above right. Friend is a recipient of the Distinguished Service Cross, one of the highest honors given in the country, for his valor in Vietnam, specifically for his actions on May 21, 1967. On that date, he was traveling with a convoy on a resupply mission near Soui Cat. The convoy was attacked by a large Viet Cong force firing mortars and automatic weapons. Friend was thrown to the ground when a recoilless rifle round hit his jeep, killing the driver. The vehicle spun, and Friend lost his rifle. Pinned down by heavy fire, Friend saw an enemy soldier moving toward an armored personnel carrier. Completely disregarding his own safety, Friend stood up in what was reported as a withering barrage and dashed to the enemy with only a knife. In what is documented as a fierce hand-to-hand battle with the enemy soldier, Friend killed him before the enemy was able to blow up the carrier. This saved the lives of multiple personnel. The document recording his actions states: "Specialist Four Friend's extraordinary heroism and devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, and the United States Army." Persons may view the display for Friend at the Legion. He is pictured with Ron Friend, who introduced the display and also gave Friend a commemorative plaque.

To the Editor:

Taking up where Mike Herdering left off last week in describing the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce's recent white paper as "gas industry rhetoric [and] personal biases," I note troubling factual errors presented by an organization that receives more than a half-million dollars annually from county taxpayers.

Chamber president Nicole Christian told me she drafted the paper in consultation with her board. Closely competing on a scale of outrageousness are two points in the crucial summary paragraph: the "maximum lifetime value" for the Marcellus shale gas in Maryland is $48.16 billion and "the Utica shale play is estimated to be even greater."

I was appointed by Gov. O'Malley to a commission studying whether drilling for shale gas is good for Maryland. The governor has shown courage to move methodically, despite continual irresponsible hyperbole broadcast by voices for expedited development, including every elected public official in Allegany and Garrett counties.

I cannot speak for the commission, but it has already issued reports that are public record. Our January report, in contrast to the chamber's white paper, cites official estimates by the U.S. Geological Survey: Based on a well-head price of $3.93/unit – far higher than the current price – Maryland's Marcellus shale gas value ranges from "$2.7 billion" to "$9.3 billion." Such values are based on geologists' estimates of the reserves, which include probabilities that the estimates will come true. The USGS median estimate (meaning a 50-50 chance) is "$5.1 billion" (page 14).

Compared even to this median $5.1 billion, the chamber inflates the dollar estimate by almost 90 percent. The bankable number ($2.7 billion) is a small fraction of the chamber's erroneous figure.

As for Utica gas, the latest information is a federal report called the Annual Energy Outlook 2012. Maximum Utica shale reserves are "16 trillion cubic feet" (page 9). Far from being "even greater" than the Marcellus reserve, as the chamber alleges in its case for development, this figure represents about one-tenth of the Marcellus total.

Incidentally, though the chamber sees our county becoming "a leader in supplying natural gas to the eastern United States," federal estimates of the maximum gas available in Eastern shales would last our country, at present consumption, less than seven years. (Energy Outlook 2012: total reserve of 157 trillion cubic feet divided by annual U.S. consumption of 23 tcf.). In truth, Maryland's portion of that gas is a few days' supply.

Those are the facts.

Driver Sentenced

stemmed from an incident investigated by GC sheriff's deputies in February. He was sentenced to 90 days suspended and placed on one year of unsupervised probation. Fazenbaker was reportedly involved in a sexual relationship with a 14-year-old female minor. He was not prosecuted on a second-degree assault charge and two counts of fourth-degree sex offense.

Teresa Marie House, 19, Friendsville, was given a PBJ verdict on a malicious destruction of property less than $500 charge that stemmed from a November arrest by MSP. She was sentenced to 10 days suspended and placed on one year of unsupervised probation. She was also fined $200 suspended. House reportedly damaged numerous Friendsville homes with spray paint. She was not prosecuted on MDOP plus $500 value, and five additional counts of MDOP less than $500 value charges.

Jeffrey Lee Custer Sr., 47, Grantsville, was given a stet verdict on a second-degree assault charge that stemmed from a March domestic dispute investigated by MSP in Frostburg.

Stephen Duane Wilder, 21, Oakland, was found not guilty on a second-degree assault charge that stemmed from a September domestic dispute in Accident investigated by Maryland State Police.

DIANE J. ROBESON

Diane Jeannette Woodworth Robeson, 83, Columbia, died on Sunday, June 17, 2012.

Born in 1929 in Syracuse, N.Y., she was a daughter of the late Samuel and Cora Woodworth. Samuel was a pioneer in radio and founder of Syracuse's first radio station, WFBL.

Diane and her sister Jean developed a lifelong love for movies and musicals, attending the movies weekly and traveling frequently to Broadway, including the opening night for the original South Pacific in 1949.

Diane attended Syracuse University, graduating in 1951 with a B.S. in social work. She was a member of the Alpha Phi sorority, and married William Graham Robeson, her Sigma Phi Epsilon sweetheart, in 1952.

Diane was a social worker until the birth of the first of her four children in 1955. Diane and Bill bought Bowman's Marina, Deep Creek Lake, in 1972, where she co-managed the business with Bill. Diane also took on significant volunteer roles in the Garrett County community. She was an active member of Zion Lutheran Church and Garrett County Health Board and chaired the Accident Health Board's successful search to bring a general practitioner to the rural mountain community.

Diane earned her real estate agent's license in 1973, joining Deep Creek Realty full time in 1977. She went on to win the Garrett County Distinguished Sales Associate award in 1985, becoming sales manager in 1986, and was named Garrett County's Realtor of the Year in 1990.

Bill and Diane retired to Kent Island on Maryland's Eastern Shore in 2000. Following Bill's death in 2011, Diane moved to the Vantage House retirement community, Columbia. She greatly enjoyed her Vantage House friends.

Diane Robeson is survived by four children, Bruce Robeson, San Diego, Calif., Lynn Robeson and Steve Hannan, Columbia, Lisa Robeson and James Walter, Bluffton, Ohio, and Mark Robeson and Christi Gable, Shaker Heights, Ohio; three grandchildren, Travis Robeson, San Diego, and Ian Gallagher and Nicholas Gallagher, Columbia; one niece, Sue Martin, Syracuse; and two nephews, Rick Martin, Charlotte, N.C., and Mike Martin, Baldwinsville, N.Y.

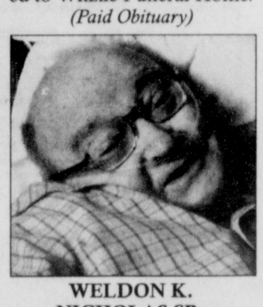
A memorial service will be conducted on Saturday, July 14, at 2 p.m. at Vantage House Retirement Community, 5400 Vantage Point Road, Columbia.

Friends will be received one hour prior to the service.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Maryland Public Television (www.mpt.org).

Arrangements are entrusted to Witzke Funeral Home.

(Paid Obituary)



WELDON K. NICHOLAS SR.

Weldon Keith "Nick" Nicholas Sr., 78, Oakland, went to be with the Lord on Thursday, June 21, 2012, after a long battle with prostate cancer.

Born January 24, 1934, in Ivydale, W.Va., he was a son of the late Harry Cecil and Mamie Ruth (Rhodes) Nicholas. He was also preceded in death by two brothers, Don and Darrell Nicholas.

He served in the U.S. Navy and retired from the National Security Agency as a computer analyst. He operated his own business, Nicholas Sales, on White Church Road, where he conducted a weekly auction.

He enjoyed being around people and making them laugh. He is remembered for his intelligence, kindness, generosity, and gentleness.

He is survived by his wife, Yvonne Eloise Matthews Nicholas, Oakland; six children, Patty Zillifro and husband Lynn, Clarksburg, W.Va., Keith Nicholas and wife Ginny, Oakland, Billy Nicholas and companion Ann Newport, Terra Alta, W.Va., Robin Nicholas and companion Bob Hoffman, Fairmont, W.Va., Jimmy Nicholas, Oakland, and Janet Nicholas and companion Wayne Golliday, Cranesville, W.Va.; eight grandchildren, Sammi Beery and husband Tony, Rittman, Ohio, Brandi Shahan, Rittman, Jeremy Shahan, Clarksburg, and Billy Nicholas Jr., Logan Beeman, Rachael Beeman, Dean Hoffman, and Dustin Hoffman, all of Oakland; two great-grandchildren, Lucas Hoffman and Preston Beery; one sister, Eileen Metcalf; numerous nieces and nephews; and many dear friends.

He lived his last eight months in Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home and greatly enjoyed the care he received. He touched the hearts of all that he met and gave each of us everlasting memories.

Burdock-Fredlock Funeral Home, Oakland, is handling the arrangements.

A private memorial service will be conducted on Friday, July 6, with Rev. Russell Liller and Rev. Don Matthews officiating.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that memorials be made to Western Maryland Health System Foundation, 12500 Willowbrook Road, Cumberland, MD 21502; Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home, 1113 Mary Drive, Oakland, MD 21550; or Wounded Warriors Project, P.O. Box 758517, Topeka, KS 66675.

DIXIE B. OTTO

Dixie B. Otto, 94, Salisbury, Pa., formerly of Springs, Pa., died Tuesday, June 26, 2012, at Goodwill Mennonite Home, Grantsville.

Born Jan. 13, 1918, in Avonmore, Pa., she was a daughter of the late Victor and Grace (Enos) Beachy. She was also preceded in death by her husband, Mark I. Otto; one brother, James Beachy; and three sisters, Hilda Ellenberger, Ruby Johns, and Evelyn Benton.

She was a school teacher for Salisbury-Elk Lick High School and a member of St. John's Lutheran Church. She was a graduate with honors from Indiana University of Pennsylvania and former treasurer of Springs Historical Society.

She is survived by two sons, James Otto, Morgantown, and David Otto, Accident; three daughters, Patricia Flowers, Pittsburgh, Pa., Marcia Cogley, Salisbury, and Beverly Metheny, Short Gap, W.Va.; nine grandchildren; and 11 great-grandchildren.

Friends will be received today, Thursday, from 6 to 9 p.m. at Newman Funeral Home, Grantsville, where a service will be conducted on Friday, June 29, at 11 a.m., with Rev. Glenn Foster officiating.

Interment will be held in Springs Cemetery.

RUTH C. SYPOLT

Ruth C. (Masters) Sypolt, 88, Terra Alta, W.Va., died on Monday, June 25, 2012. She was surrounded by her family in her home during the last weeks of her life.

Born Oct. 21, 1923, in Cameron, W.Va., she was a daughter of the late Charles O. and Erna Mae Litten Masters. She was also preceded in death by her husband, James H. Sypolt Sr.; one sister, Virginia Winter; and one brother, Charles O. "Bud" Masters Jr.

She was a member of the Faith United Methodist Church, Cranesville, W.Va.

She spent her early years traveling the world as a U.S. Navy postal clerk. While serving in the military, she met James and was married in Naples, Italy. As a civilian, she worked as a hairdresser and a nurse's aide, but she was also a homemaker.

She was an active member of the VFW Post 578, Ladies Auxiliary VFW, and the Preston County Senior Citizens.

She is survived by two daughters, Carolyn S. Metheny, Terra Alta, and Christine R. Kline, Addison, Pa.; two sons, Charles W. Sypolt, Dover, Tenn., and Robert M. Sypolt, Seneca Rocks, W.Va.; one stepson, James H. Sypolt Jr., Terra Alta; one stepdaughter, Sandra K. Bennett, Oakland; 18 grandchildren; 33 great-grandchildren; and nine great-great-grandchildren.

Friends were received at Faith United Methodist Church, Cranesville, where a service was conducted today, June 28, with Pastor Ross Glotfelty officiating.

Burial followed in Terra Alta Cemetery, where military graveside services were accorded by Preston County VFW posts, Vietnam Veterans of America, Chapter 977, Preston County, and the Naval Honor Guard.

Arthur H. Wright Funeral Home, Terra Alta, handled arrangements.

BETTY L. DeWITT

Betty Lorraine (Savage) DeWitt, 70, Bowden, W.Va., went home to be with her Lord and Savior on Tuesday, June 26, 2012, at her residence.

Born April 19, 1942, in McHenry, she was a daughter of Gladys Savage and the late Parley Savage. She was also preceded in death by her daughter, Darla DeWitt; and two brothers, Dale Savage and Deane Savage.

Betty was a good-hearted, fun-loving, and devoted wife, mother, grandmother, and friend. She was a current member of Bunker Hill Brethren in Christ Church, Bunker Hill, W.Va.

Betty was an accomplished piano player and taught piano for 38 years. She served as pianist and organist for numerous churches along with weddings, funerals, and revivals. While residing in the Deep Creek Lake area, she was a member of the Oak Grove Church of the Brethren and was the accompanist for choral groups at Garrett and Allegany colleges. She has blessed many with her beautiful music. Betty remained a charter member and volunteer of the Deep Creek Ladies Auxiliary.

She is survived by her loving husband, Andrew DeWitt; three children, daughter Debi Ayers and husband Jerry, Bowden, son Danny DeWitt, Bowden, and daughter Dana DeWitt, Oviedo, Fla. Betty was very proud of her five grandchildren, Dave Hertig, Lynchburg, Va., Jeremy Ayers and wife Christina Ayers and Garrett Graham, all of Morgantown, W.Va., Amanda Ogden and husband Johnny, Bowden, and Sheena Graham, Oviedo.

Betty was looking forward to ending her battle with cancer and being reunited with her loved ones in her Heavenly Homecoming. Yet, her main objective was to ensure that her family and friends knew how much she loved and cared for them. Betty taught us all that to love and be loved is the greatest joy on earth.

Friends will be received at Newman Funeral Home, Accident/McHenry today, Thursday, from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

A service will be conducted at Oak Grove Church of the Brethren on Friday, June 29, at 2 p.m., with Rev. Raymond Martin officiating.

Interment will be held in Blooming Rose Cemetery.

Expressions of sympathy may be directed to the Mountain Hospice, 1600 Crim Ave., Belington, WV 26250; or Oak Grove Church of the Brethren, P.O. Box 599, McHenry, MD 21541.

Condolences may be sent to the family at www.newmanfuneralhomes.com.

State Park Programs

DEEP CREEK LAKE STATE PARK/ DISCOVERY CENTER

The following activities have been scheduled at Deep Creek Lake State Park. Programs and center hours are subject to change without notice. All programs meet or begin at the Discovery Center unless otherwise noted. Further information can be obtained by calling the Discovery Center at 301-387-7067, or by visiting the web site: www.dnr.state.md.us/publiclands/western/deepcreeklake. The center also has a Facebook page.

Friday, June 29

• 10 a.m. – Dutch Oven Demonstration. Guests are invited to stop by the Discovery Center to see what the rangers are cooking up in camp Dutch ovens. (60 min.)

• 11 a.m. – Aquatic Adventures. Guests are invited to join the naturalist on the docks of the Discovery Center to check out fish traps, aqua scopes, and to learn about the animals that live in Deep Creek Lake. Free. (Approx. 90 min.)

• 1 p.m. – Bear Aware. The naturalist will lead a hike to discover the life of a black bear. A bear hide will be on display, and tracking equipment will be explained, along with facts about the animal. Appropriate for all ages. Light hiking. (Approx. 90 mins.)

Saturday, June 30

• 11 a.m. – Fish Prints. Fish that live in Deep Creek Lake will be discussed by the naturalist, who will explain how they survive and what they look like. The activity will culminate in guests making fish prints to take home. Free.

• 11 a.m. – Little Guard. Children age 5 to 7 invited to meet at the beach and learn the skills of a lifeguard. Participants will run a relay, practice throwing a lifesaving device, and learn how to recognize a troubled swimmer, among other skills. There is no swimming required. The cost is $7, and this includes a T-shirt. (60 min.)

• 7 p.m. – Campfire Program. The naturalist will be on hand at the amphitheater to present a Scales and Tales program.

Sunday, July 1

• 11 a.m. – Kids' Nature Hike. Youngsters may take part in a guided hike around the Discovery Center's Sensory Trail in search of birds and animals, nests, and dens. Free. (Approx. 60 mins.)

• 1:30 p.m. – Aviary Encounter. Guests are invited to the aviary to see and learn about birds of prey. The birds will be perched, which will provide photo opportunities, so guests should bring cameras. A naturalist will be available to answer questions. Free.

Monday, July 2

• 11 p.m. – Critter Encounter. Guests are invited to join a naturalist as the many fish, turtles, snakes, and birds of prey in the Discovery Center are fed.

• 1:30 p.m. – Toddlers in Nature. This program is for children 4 years old and younger. The naturalist will help them make a craft and find fun in nature. Fee: $2 per child. (60 min.)

• 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. – Summer at Sang Run. Friend's Store will be open to guests every Monday for special crafts, artisan visits, demonstrations, and shopping at the historic store.

Tuesday, July 3

• 8 a.m. – Birding at Deep Creek. Walkers will learn how to "bird by ear" and listen for distinctive songs on a stroll through the park. Participants should bring binoculars and meet at the Discovery Center. Both experienced and beginner birders are welcome. There are a few binoculars to lend out.

• 2 p.m. – Flutterbys and Flowers. Guests will walk around the Discovery Center with the naturalist to learn the many species of wildflowers and butterflies found in the area. The group will learn about the difference between native and non-native plants and their effects on the environment. (60 min.)

Wednesday, July 4

• 11 a.m. – What's That Reptile? Discovery Center staff will teach guests about the reptiles and amphibians in the center. Live specimens will be available for viewing and touching. Free. (Approx. 60 mins.)

• 1 p.m. – Wild Wednesday Tie Dye. Persons may meet at the Deep Creek Lake beach to make tie-dyed shirts and create a conservation message for each shirt. $10 per shirt and $5 for a bandana. (Approx. 2 hrs.)

Thursday July 5

• 10 a.m. – Junior Ranger Program. Youngsters are invited to join the naturalist for this six-week program. Jr. Rangers will meet every Thursday to explore the park, go behind the scenes in the aviary, learn outdoor skills, and more. Fee: $25 per child, $15 for next sibling. Persons are asked to pre-register by calling the Discovery Center at 301-387-7067. (2 hrs.)

• 11 a.m. – Brant Mine Hike. Guests can join a guided hike with the naturalist to the historic Brant Mine. Hikers will see the remnants of a coal mine that was operated in the 1920s, as well as possibly some wildlife along the way. This required moderate hiking. Free. (Approx. 90 mins.)

• 1 p.m. – Critter Encounter. Guests are invited to join a naturalist as the many fish, turtles, snakes, and birds of prey in the Discovery Center are fed.

• Save the Dates for Art in the Park, July 14 and 15.

NEW GERMANY STATE PARK

The following activities have been slated at New Germany State Park. More information can be obtained by calling the ranger station at 301-895-5453 or by e-mailing astachowiak@dnr.state.md.us. The Nature Center is open daily, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Saturday, June 30

• 10 a.m. – Who Polluted the Potomac? This interactive program illustrates how all people contribute to pollution, and how everyone can be part of the solution. Meet at the Nature Center, next to the Lake House.

• 1 p.m. – Tree ID Hike. The park naturalist will lead a guided one-mile hike, and teach hikers how to identify some common trees found in the park. The cost is $6 per family, which includes a field guide. Participants are encouraged to dress for the weather, wear adequate footwear, and bring drinking water. Hikers should meet at the Lake House.

• 3 p.m. – Salamander Scurry. During this interactive program, participants are invited to join the park ranger on a quest to find salamanders. Guests will learn about some common salamanders found in the park. The cost is $6 per family, which includes a field guide. Persons should dress for the weather (appropriate footwear recommended) and meet at the Nature Center.

• 7 p.m. – Greg Latta in Concert. Local musician Greg Latta will present a combination of Appalachian, Irish, old-time, and traditional music using instruments such as the Appalachian dulcimer, guitar, banjo, cittern, Irish bouzouki, harmonica, concertina, limberjack, and recorder. Latta is a singer and songwriter, proficient on more than 15 instruments. This free concert will take place at the Lake House.

Sunday, July 1

• 11 a.m. – Burlap Painting. The chief park manager of Africa's Rubondu Island National Park will be at the Nature Center to teach the craft of burlap painting. Participants will create their own works of art to take home. Meet at the Nature Center.

Tuesday, July 3

• 8:30 a.m. – Go Birding! On this peaceful, early-morning hike, participants will discover some of the many species of birds found in the park. Participants are encouraged to bring their own binoculars and wear appropriate footwear. Meet at the Nature Center.

• 9 p.m. – Full Moon Owl Prowl. Participants are invited to venture into the forest for a guided hike by light of the full moon. It is hoped the night hikers will hear some of the hoots, wails, and shrieks of owls native to the park. Participants are encouraged to wear appropriate footwear and bring a flashlight for safety. Meet at the Nature Center.

Wednesday, July 4

• All Day – License-Free Fishing Day. July 4 is a license-free fishing day across Maryland. On this day, no fishing license is required to catch and possess finfish in tidal and non-tidal waters of the state for recreational purposes. All other fishing laws and regulations still apply.

• 10 a.m. – Let Freedom Ring. Guests are invited to celebrate Independence Day with the park naturalist and learn about the bald eagle, and how this bird of prey became the USA's national symbol. Children will have the opportunity to paint a miniature bald eagle figure to take home. The cost is $2 per person. Meet at the Nature Center.

ON A PERSONAL NOTE
by Lucretia Sines

This past week I have noticed that the skies have been the loveliest shade of blue and the clouds exceptionally white, and their display a thing of beauty. This past week I have also been emotionally driven to take the time to hug my loved ones and wish that the events of last Friday morning were not the last thing I think of before I go to sleep and the first thing I think of upon awakening.

I went to bed on Thursday night looking forward to Friday being my day off from work and knew exactly what I was going to do from the time I got up in the morning until work that night. Needless to say, at 6:20 a.m. those plans were all changed. The tones went off for an MVC at the 5-mile marker just 20 minutes into my shift, which is not all that different from any other day, but upon arrival of our four-person crew to the scene, things were definitely not the same.

What was originally believed to be two cars involved turned out to be one car with five passengers. I am not going into details but just want to say that the volunteers who responded to the call did an exceptional job of controlling the situation and caring for the injured.

The Friendsville Volunteer Fire Department at the scene consisted of maybe five personnel with NGRS arriving with two medics, one EMT, and one first responder, who performed life-saving procedures to the injured until further help arrived. Two other ambulances responded with three more medics and one EMT, and Grantsville VFD also arrived to provide assistance. State police at the scene were extremely helpful also, and there were two or three passersby who stopped to lend a hand. It was overwhelming and taxing of our limited resources, to say the least.

We train hundreds of hours to be able to provide assistance in a traumatic situation, but nothing can prepare you for the effect that it has on your mind after such an event. Time seemed to stop, and from the time of the accident to the transport to Ruby Memorial until Trooper 5 dropped me off in Friendsville once again, less than two hours had passed, and it was hard to believe that so many lives had been changed in just that short amount of time. Volunteers at the scene that day are connected now in an unspoken way, and as many of us handle things in different ways, there will always be an understanding of what we all felt during those short hours of Friday morning.

The sign on I-68 which reads "Friendsville 1 mile" still stands, and passersby will have no reason to suspect that such a tragedy happened at that very spot except for the two wreaths and the five white candles that are placed at the bottom of the sign, probably by family members of those who have suffered such a tragic loss at mile marker 5.

Adorable Adoptables

DOZENS OF FURRY KITTENS in a wide variety of colors and types are available this week at the Garrett County Animal Shelter. Several dogs were adopted or reclaimed this week, but the recently featured brindle hound is still available."Now that summer is here, make sure your pets have shade and fresh water when outside," stressed a Garrett County Humane Society spokesperson. For more information, persons may call the animal shelter at 301-334-3553. Located along Oakland Sang Run Road, the county-operated facility is open Monday through Friday. D'Amore Duo Next At Penn Alps

The next offering of Music at Penn Alps will be a concert by the D'Amore Duo (guitar and oboe) on Saturday, June 30, at 7:30 p.m. in the Great Hall at Penn Alps in Grantsville.

The duo of William Feasley and Yeon Jee Sohn was formed in 1991 to investigate the wealth of chamber music for oboe and guitar. The two musicians have released two recordings, and performed at such venues as St. Martin in the Fields in London, the Yale Centre for British Art, the National Cathedral, the Arts Centre in Christchurch, New Zealand, the Spanish Institute in New York, the Smithsonian Institution, and live on ABC International Radio out of Sydney, Australia.

Composers who have written pieces for the duo include Albert Harris, Richard Greene, Stephen Gerber, Jose Manuel Lezcano, Marcos Vinicius, and Marcelo Ferraris. The Washington Post referred to the pair as "a perfect partnership of sound" and lauded their performance as "one of the most uniquely satisfying concerts of the season."

Feasley was the first guitarist to receive Peabody Conservatory's artist diploma. Since making his debut in 1980, he has kept an active international touring schedule. A student of Segovia, he has been a featured performer at international guitar festivals in Poland, the Czech Republic, Ecuador, Bolivia, Australia, Slovakia, and Peru. He has released six recordings for the Sonora and Center Earth labels.

Sohn's career as an oboist and English horn player includes solo, chamber, and orchestral performances. She holds degrees in oboe performance from Seoul National University, the Peabody Conservatory, and the University of Maryland. Dr. Sohn has won a number of awards and competitions, including the MTNA Collegiate Artists Performance Competition and the Korea Monthly Music Magazine Competition. An active chamber musician, she is a founding member of the Georgetown Woodwind Quintet.

Highlights of the program presented by the Duo will include Variations on Guardame Las Vacas by Peter Madlem; Ashokan Farewell by Jay Ungar; So What by Miles Davis, and Jose Lezcano's Sonata to the Sadness of Buenos Aires, among other pieces.

For the best seating at the Great Hall, persons are advised to arrive no later than 7:15 p.m. Admission is $15 for adults and free for those age 19 and younger.

THE ODD COUPLE*, Neil Simon's classic comedy about the cohabitation of Oscar Madison, an unkempt sports writer, and Felix Unger, an anal-retentive commercial photographer, after both are basically tossed out of their homes by their wives, will be the first offering of the 2012 season of Theatre on the Lake (TOTL), a local non-profit acting company. The show was successful on the Broadway stage, as a movie, and as a television series. Pictured above during a rehearsal are, from left: Matt Rothenberg, who plays the role of Speed; Patrick Crogan as Oscar Madison; Michael Pellegrino as Felix Unger; Zane Rerek as Roy; Todd Hull as Vinnie; and Anthony DeLauder, who plays Murray the cop. The show will be performed at the Barn at Ridgeview Valley in McHenry July 5, 6, 7, 13, and 14 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased online at www.totltheatre.org, by telephone at 304-680-1002, or by e-mail at boxoffice@totltheatre.org. TOTL is directed by Lynn Broderick.

THE DENNIS McCLUNG BLUES BAND from Fairmont, W.Va., will kick off the 16th annual Little Yough Summer Music Festival this Friday, June 29, beginning at 7 p.m. in Oakland at the Mtn. Fresh Producers Pavilion. The band's style is described as a cross between B.B. King, Ray Charles, Stevie Ray Vaughan, and Jimi Hendrix. The members' first first CD, Prisoner Of The Blues, received rave reviews from Blues Revue and Blues Wax magazines. Their most recent release, Live! Out of the Ordinary, has been inducted into Midnight Special Blues Radio's Hall of Fame. Food vendors will set up at 6 p.m. Admission is free. Seating is limited, so participants may want to bring their own lawn chairs and blankets.

Greg Latta To Give Concert At New Germany SP

New Germany State Park will feature the acoustic sounds of local musician Greg Latta in concert on Saturday, June 30, beginning at 7 p.m. in the Lake House. The show is free.

Latta, a local composer and performer, will present a combination of Appalachian, Irish, old-time, and traditional music using a variety of instruments.

Skilled on more than 15 different instruments, Latta will perform using the Appalachian dulcimer, guitar, banjo, cittern, Irish bouzouki, harmonica, concertina, limberjack, recorder, and more. His songs will include original works, old coal mining songs, whaling songs, contemporary and traditional topical songs, and children's songs.

Though known mainly for his hammered dulcimer playing, Latta is also an award-winning banjo player, having placed five years in a row at the banjo competitions held in Friendsville.

The musician is a three-time winner of the Mid-Eastern Hammered Dulcimer Championship, and has twice been a runner-up in the National Hammered Dulcimer Championships held at Winfield, Kan. In addition to his stage performances and recordings, Latta is host and producer of the radio show "Just Plain Folks," which can be heard Saturday afternoons on WFWM 91.9 FM (96.3 in southern Garrett County), the Frostburg State University public radio station. He is also a member of the Frostburg State University faculty.

More information is available at 301-895-5453 or park-new-germany@dnr.state.md.us.

Maryland DNR Accepting Entries For Photo Contest

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) is accepting entries for its annual Maryland Natural Resource Photo Contest.

"This is a great way for photographers of all skill levels to showcase their work and highlight the natural beauty of our state," said DNR secretary John Griffin.

Last year, Allen Sklar of Bishopville topped more than 300 other photographers with his winning image 'Fast' Food Pick-up. His remarkable photograph of an eagle swooping down onto the Assateague Beach shoreline graced the cover of the 2012 calendar.

Photos entered into the 2012 contest will be judged in six categories: birds, wildlife, insects, scenic, wild plants, and Maryland State Parks or people enjoying them. Winning entries will be featured in the winter issue of the Maryland Natural Resource magazine as well as the 2013 DNR calendar, which will feature the winning photo on the cover.

The best overall photo will win the grand prize of $500, a 2013 Maryland state park passport, a lifetime subscription to the magazine, and five copies of the 2013 DNR calendarFirst place winners in each category will receive a Maryland state park passport, a two-year magazine subscription, and two copies of the 2013 DNR calendar. Second place winners will receive a one-year subscription to the magazine and a calendar.

All qualifying photographs must be taken in Maryland. Photographers may submit up to three entries for a $10 entry fee and additional entries for $3 each. Photos may not be more than two years old or previously published. Non-residents may participate as long as the photos were taken in Maryland. Submissions are due by Aug. 31, and winners will be announced online Sept. 30.

Official rules and contest entry forms are available online at dnr.maryland.gov/photocontest/.

G'ville Sweeps Preston, But Falls Flat In Game With Ft. Cumberland

The Grantsville Post 214 American Legion baseball team opened its week of play with a crushing sweep of Preston Post 56 – by scores of 10-0 and then 11-2 – in a doubleheader played in McHenry on Sunday.

In all, Grantsville allowed Preston to score just two runs over two games in the sweep at Garrett College.

Then on Tuesday in Cumberland, Grantsville went from crusher to crushed, falling 14-2 to Fort Cumberland in a game ended by the mercy rule.

Post 214 needed just six at-bats to take the first game, winning by the 10-run mercy rule after putting up seven runs in the bottom of the sixth inning.

Grantsville's Corey Helbig had two hits with two RBIs in game one's final inning, while teammate Patrick Sines had two hits, including an RBI double. Jerad Fike had an RBI single and Seth Holler also contributed to Post 214's sixth inning offensive onslaught with a two-run base hit.

For Preston, Liam Massey doubled in the first inning. The remainder of Preston's four hits were all singles, as Grantsville's Scott Cooper tallied six strikeouts and walked four in the complete-game victory.

In its second contest with Preston, Grantsville surged ahead of its opponent in innings one and two to take a 7-2 lead into the third. Post 214 sat on that lead until the sixth inning, in which it drove home four more runs to set the game's decisive 11-2 score.

Cody Humberson and Fike each had two hits and two RBIs for the winning team. Humberson had a double and Helbig added an RBI base hit.

R.T. Hare had two singles for Preston and Caleb Atkinson and Kyle Cool each had RBI doubles.

Grantsville's Fike struck out five with a walk before going the distance in a complete-game win.

On the road in Cumberland, Grantsville was allowed just three hits by pitcher Dan Strietbeck, who also smashed a game-winning, three-run homer for Fort Cumberland.

Strietbeck struck out seven of Post 214's batters over a span of eight innings. He also hit two singles to contribute to Fort Cumberland's total of 13 hits.

Humberson swatted a double for Grantsville.

With two wins in its last three games, Grantsville improves to 7-9 overall and 2-3 in the Mountain District.

PLAYER, PITCHER OF THE WEEK – The Player and Pitcher of the Week for the Grantsville American Legion baseball team, respectively, were Cody Humberson, left, and Scott Cooper, right. A former standout for the Northern High Huskies, Humberson went 3-for-7 with his bat through three games this past week, smacking a pair of doubles and a sacrifice fly for two RBI. He also drew four walks and scored three runs. His award is sponsored by Grantsville Sons of the American Legion Post 214. Cooper, who also plays for the Southern High Rams, fired a complete-game four-hitter against Preston on Sunday. He fanned six batters and walked four in recording his third win of the season. His award is sponsored by Gregg's Pharmacy.

Golf Tourney Set For July 16 At Alpine Lake

The Preston High Athletics Golf Tournament is scheduled for Monday, July 16, at Alpine Lake Resort in Terra Alta, W.Va. The competition will be in an 18-hole scramble format and begin with a shotgun start at 9 a.m.

The entry fee for teams is set at $200. Teams will be provided with golf, prizes, a meal, and an award ceremony. The first-, second-, and third-place teams will receive cash prizes. The cash amounts will be determined by the size of the field and are subject to change. Proceeds will benefit the athletic programs of Preston High School.

Those interested in more information may contact Bruce Huggins at 304-288-0320 or bhuggins@access.k12.wv.us or Pam Wilt at 304-698-1245 or pwilt@access.k12.wv.us.

Oakland Golf Club League Results Noted

Charlie's Angels Senior Men of the Oakland Golf Club hosted the Alpine Lake Resort Senior Group on Tuesday in a team scramble format. The first place gross team with a score of 63 consisted of Tom Broadwater, Frank Damon, and Mike Stowell.

Back just one stroke in second place was the team of Don Kelly, Dish Cogley, Dave Lewis, and Barry Garris. Winning first-place low net was the team of Red Guthrie, Roger Levin, Gary Horsey, and Bill Beck, and in second place low net was the team of Jim Hetrick, Gary Cox, Jerry Pullias, and Ed Frantz.

The Wednesday Men's League played a stableford points format on June 20. Finishing first with 30 points was the team of Daryl Walters, Red Guthrie, and John Hetrick. Second place with 29 points was won by Mike Brantner, Jim Thomas, and Gary Dixon, and finishing third was the team of Billy Gindlesberger, Jim Hetrick, and Ted Raynovich.

The closest-to-pin contest winners were Justin Liller and Buddy Tasker. Scott Finch recorded a 34 for the low individual score for the evening.

Players are invited to call the Oakland Golf Club Pro Shop at 301-334-3883 for information and tee times.

Hot Stove Baseball League Results

Wednesday's Results (6/20)

Cork's Cars earned a win over D&D Homes last Wednesday, 8-4, in a Hot Stove League baseball game played at Potomac Park.

Cork's' Mike Welch whiffed nine D&D batters over the first five innings, before his team held off a late rally to seal the deal.

Logan Cvetnick had two singles and drove in three runners and Austin Graham had a double and a single. Lucas Ritchie had a single and two runs scored, while Keith Chapman added a single for Cork's.

D&D picked up a double from Chandler Sagal.

Cork's scored four times in the first inning and took an 8-0 lead into the bottom of the sixth inning. D&D scored four runs in the final two innings, but would come no closer to overturning Cork's' lead.

Wednesday's Results

Grantsville bested previously unbeaten Lakeview, 3-2, at home on Wednesday, as Roberto Pattison edged out Jones in a tight pitching duel.

Also on Wednesday, Team One Auto Mall fell on the road to Frostburg Legion by a score of 11-1.

For Grantsville, Pattison gave up five hits and relied on his curve ball to whiff four Lakeview batters in a complete-game performance. Lakeview's Jones allowed fewer hits in the loss, three, and struck out nine over six innings of work.

Logan White tallied an RBI single for Grantsville in the third inning to knock in what became the game's decisive run. Teammate Kyle Pattison had an RBI single in a two-run first innings, then scored the second run of the game on an overthrow to third base.

Lakeview scored its solo runs in the sixth and seventh innings, as Yommer doubled twice and Gallucci had an RBI single.

Grantsville (12-4) will play Hobo's Restaurant on Monday at Hyndman Park. Lakeview (13-1-1) is set to host Team One at Northern High School on Monday.

In its loss, Team One allowed Frostburg to total 15 hits, with nine good for extra bases.

D.J. Flanigan, who swatted an RBI single, was responsible for Team One's lone run.

For Frostburg Legion, Evan Payton led the charge with a triple, double, and a single, while winning pitcher Jake Hafer hit two triples and Daniel Blair and Zach Beal belted two doubles. Ben Nicol added a triple.

Team One (4-8-1) will next play Hobo's on Friday at Holler Field.

Manta Ray Swim Team Opens '12 Season With Freestyle Contest

Garrett County's Manta Ray Swim Team opened its 2012 season of competition with the freestyle meet at the Cumberland Riverside YMCA on Saturday, June 23.

The Manta Rays compete in the Summer Swim League, which includes teams from Cumberland, Bel Air, LaVale, Frostburg, and Hardy County, W.Va. The local team will participate in four regular meets followed by the championship contest, all held at the Riverside YMCA.

The Manta Rays train at the Community Aquatic and Recreation Complex at Garrett College.

The team won a number of first, second, and third places in both A-Flight and B-Flight competition. A-Flight swimmers are those swimmers who either swim year-round or have won a B-Flight championship.

In individual races, the following A-Flight swimmer won a first place ribbon:

Matthew Ball, boys ages 15 and over, 100 yards freestyle (58.87), breaking his record from last year (1:04.90).

Earning second in A-Flight races were: Matthew Ball, boys ages 15 and over, 50 freestyle (26.88) breaking his record from last year (29.01). Earning third place from A-flight was Sierra Legeer, girls ages 15 and over, 50 yards free (29.92) and 100 free (1:07.02).

In B-Flight competition, the following swimmers won first place ribbons: Ella Ashby, girls 7-8, 25 freestyle (18.89), breaking her record from last year (24.93), and 50 free (45.67), breaking her record from last year (1:15.56); Harley Rhodes and Charles Taylor, boys 11-12, 50 freestyle, tied with a time of (41:08); Harley Rhodes, boys 11-12, 100 free (1:35.66); Vanessa Calling, girls 11-12, 50 free (34:34) and 100 free (1:17.13).

Earning second places were: Charles Taylor, boys 11-12, 100 free (1:38.47); and Katelin Rank, girls 13-14, 50 free (36.91) and 100 free (1:19:94).

Earning third places were: Caleb Friend, boys 9-10, 25 free (20:35), breaking his record (24:13), and 50 free (51.00), breaking his record (1:05.65); Noah Aiken, boys 11-12, 50 free (46.83) and 100 free (1:40.10); Ava Ashby, girls 11-12, 50 free, (40.64) and 100 yard free (1:29.54)

The Manta Rays won several top two places in relay competition. In the 11-12, 200-yard Free Relay: Noah Aiken, Ava Ashby, Harley Rhodes, and Charles Taylor took first place.

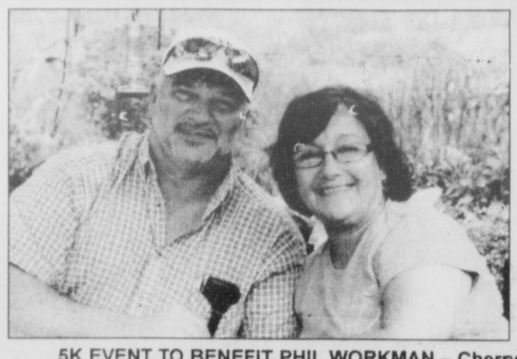
Second place standings were earned in the 9-10, 200-yard Free Relay by Ella Ashby, Caleb Friend, Caleb Rowan, and Laurel Williams; in the 15-18, 200 Free Relay: Matthew Ball, Sierra Legeer, Vanessa Calling, and Katelin Rank. In the Crescendo Relay: Ella Ashby, Vanessa Calling, Ava Ashby, Katelin Rank, Laurel Williams.

Several swimmers from A-Flight chose to participate in the mixed 500-yard freestyle race. Matthew Ball placed first in the Mixed 500 free (5:58.01), setting an MRST record in the A Flight Boys, 15 and over, and breaking his record from last year (6:39.66). Sierra Legeer took second (7:16.64). Caleb Rowan captured third place, setting a record in the A-Flight Boys, age 9-10 category, with a time of (9:06.93) and surpassing his time of 10:43.98 from 2011.

The Manta Rays took second place overall in the YMCA meet.

The team will compete in the backstroke meet on Friday, June 29. For more information, persons may visit the organization's web site at www.manta-ray.org.

THE 2012 MANTA RAYS – The Garrett County Swim Team, the Manta Rays, have entered into the 2012 summer season of competition at the Cumberland Riverside YMCA. The swimmers competed Saturday in the freestyle meet and brought home a number of first, second, and third place ribbons. See story. In the team photo, front row, from left, are Caleb Friend, Katelin Rank, Ella Ashby, Laurel Williams, and Caleb Rowan. Second row, same order: Matthew Ball, Harley Rhodes, Ava Ashby, Vanessa Calling, Sierra Legeer, Charlie Taylor, Noah Aiken, and Coach Dusty Huxford.



5K EVENT TO BENEFIT PHIL WORKMAN – Cherry Glade Mennonite Church's 4th annual 5K Fun Walk and Run will benefit local resident Phil Workman. The event is planned for Saturday, Aug. 18, beginning at 9 a.m. Workman, who is pictured above with his wife Debbie, had a four-way heart bypass last December. In February he was diagnosed with leukemia and underwent chemotherapy soon after. Currently in remission, he will receive a bone marrow transplant in July. The registration deadline for the 5K event is Aug. 4. For more information and to register, persons may visit www.cherryglade.org.

NHS Football Golf Event Set

The annual Northern High School Football Golf Tournament will be held Friday, July 27, at the Wisp course in McHenry. The format for the event, which will begin at 9 a.m., will be a two-player scramble.

The entry fee is $80 per golfer, which will cover two mulligans, power ball, and a meal served at the conclusion of the tournament.

A number of local hunter safety classes will be offered throughout the summer. To attend, children under the age of 12 must be accompanied by an adult at all times.

Hunter safety courses will be offered at two locations in the coming weeks. To pass a given course, attendees must complete the three classes at their chosen location.

On July 10 and 12, from 6 to 9 p.m., and on July 14, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., hunter safety courses will be given at the VFW with an outdoor portion of one course to be held at the Deer Park Sportsman Club. For more information on these courses one may contact the VFW at 301-334-9109.

On Aug. 21 and 23, from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m., and on Aug. 25, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., hunter safety courses will be offered at the Casselman Valley Sportsman's Club. For more information on these events one may contact Judy at 301-895-3335.

Those interested in attending one of these courses must preregister.

Crawford said, noting that for the last four or five years the county has tried to get state policies in place, but to no avail.

"The onus is on us; it's our responsibility," Crawford said about regulations.

He noted the urgency of approving the document, as there are several wind turbine projects pending in Garrett County.

"What do we say to those at risk?" Crawford asked Gatto about people who live near proposed turbine sites.

If the county does not move forward soon, Crawford noted, it might as well go ahead and approve the pending wind turbine permits today.

He indicated much work has gone into developing the draft and if the county abandons it now, it will be in the same position it was six years ago. He compared halting the approval process to boating "half way across the lake and turning the motor off."

"We weren't elected to do nothing, to be complacent," Crawford said.

The draft is available for public viewing at garrettcounty.org.

The commissioners' next public meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, July 3, beginning at 9 a.m.

self-sustaining economic development and improved quality of life.

"I'm proud of this regional partnership to protect Maryland's heritage, promote our tourist economy, and create jobs," said Mikulski. "These grants will encourage heritage tourists to enjoy the state's terrific combination of natural beauty and American history while boosting our local economy."

Sailboat Racing
On Deep Creek Lake

WHAT MORE CAN WE ASK?
IT WAS A GREAT WEEKEND
by Dan Muss

On Saturday morning, my new favorite Internet weather forecasting service, Weather Underground, nailed it, predicting a beautiful day with wind of about 7 knots. (What we had, of course, was more like 0 – 7... but, this is Deep Creek!) PRO Stephanie Mahan set a perfect triangle course for the NNW wind, and all four Flying Scot fleets got off on their starts right on time.

At the first windward mark, Peters was clearly ahead and with the rest of the Masters bunched together. On the second windward leg there was a bunch-up at the mark, as Meehan almost got into irons as he pinched up to make the mark. We went wide to avoid him, as Rissell came up from way back to round with good speed and, with a masterful spinnaker run, held on for second place. On that spinnaker run it was us, Meehan, Silverman, and Anderson all lined up like horses at a horse race for most of the downwind leg. We slipped inside Anderson at the last leeward mark, hardened up, sailed toward the Thousand Acres shore, picked up a bit, and nosed out Meehan at the finish for a third.

In the first race of the Gold fleet, Spinnenweber tried to start at the committee boat, but Schaeffer forced him across the line early. A number of boats tacked to port fairly soon to head to the right side of the lake, which is often favored when sailing upwind toward the Glendale Bridge. Coraor stayed in the center and was lifted straight up the lake and was first at the windward mark with a comfortable lead over Skoog and Ericsson.

On the downwind leg to the jibe mark, the wind began to die and grow shifty and, as is typical on a downwind leg, the wind filled in from behind, but Coraor held on to round first. Coraor again headed straight up the lake, while most of the fleet went right.

On the second windward leg it was Skoog in the lead. Then downwind it was Skoog, Coraor, Schaeffer, and Spinnenweber, who had made up ground from his bad start. Rounding the leeward mark for the final beat to the finish, Skoog had trouble with his spinnaker takedown. At the finish, Skoog, on starboard, could have pushed Coraor to the lay line and taken him out, but Skoog tacked away to give him a shot. Skoog won by only a couple of inches.

The course for the second race was a triangle, then windward-leeward. With the pin end favored, Coraor approached on port, but, with 10 seconds to go, was forced onto starboard and could not fetch the line. So he quickly jibed and crossed behind the fleet leaders, who, once across the line, also tacked onto port. Coraor worked his way up the right side of the course getting some nice lifts and good breeze while the two leaders, Spinnenweber and Skoog, stayed left.

At the first windward mark it was Spinnenweber, Coraor, and Skoog. At the first leeward mark it was Spinnenweber and Coraor increasing their lead over the rest of the fleet. Coraor continued to follow Bruce back up to the windward mark and then to the leeward mark, but gained a little ground as they reached the leeward mark and were not more than a boat length or so behind. On the final windward leg it was Spinnenweber, with Coraor close behind. At the finish, Spinnenweber was on starboard and Coraor had to make a decision as to whether to tack or to duck behind. Coraor ducked behind him, gaining speed as they sailed down and then carving up toward the finish.

As soon as Bruce crossed us, he tacked to try to steal our air and beat us to the finish, but Coraor had better boat speed, was able to point high with the extra speed, and finished inches in front of Bruce.

Two Gold fleet finishes, both by inches – a great day of racing. (Many thanks to Lee Coraor for this report on the Gold races.)

On Sunday, PRO Jon Skoog set a triangle, windward-leeward course in very fluky NW wind. When we first got to the line, I thought we might have a downwind start, but when the signals started the wind came around to the NW direction and all the fleets got off cleanly. In the Masters fleet, Anderson was first to the windward mark and never looked back; he won handily. We were back in the pack until a lucky bit of wind took us ahead of Peters on a downwind leg.

On the last downwind leg we were in second place with Peters hot on our heels when my wife let me know (in no uncertain terms) that we were headed for the wrong d*d mark! She was right; we were headed for the jibe mark, and I had to bear off to the leeward mark. We were able to hold Peters off in spite of my error, so I didn't have to sleep in the guest room that night.

LAKER WINS NATIONAL AWARD – Garrett College recently announced that Katelyn Welch, Oakland, a member of the women's cross country team, is a recipient of the National Junior College Athletic Association Superior Academic Achievement Award. The award is given to student athletes who have completed at least 45 hours of course work and have achieved a grade point average of 3.80-3.99. "For Kateiyn to win this award is not oniy a testament to her success as a student, but as an athlete who has incredible drive and determination," said Laker cross country coach Angie Sincell. "She was one of the most dedicated athletes I've had the privilege of coaching." The names of recipients of the 2011-2012 NJCAA Academic Student-Athlete Awards were released at the NJCAA Headquarters in Colorado Springs, Colo. Over 1,680 NJCAA student-athletes met the requirements for individual academic honors.

Cornell University Chorus and a soloist with the After Eight a cappella group. She also serves as vice president of the Delta Chapter of Alpha Phi and is a certified seminar leader in the campus Panhellenic community.

Guy earned the Congressional Award for Youth Gold Medal in 2009, and that year was the only female student in Maryland to earn scholarships in both academic achievement and talent in the arts as a Maryland Distinguished Scholar.

When home in Garrett County, Joanna says she enjoys slalom skiing on Deep Creek Lake and attending jazzercise classes at Brenda's Body Shop. In her work earlier this year as a local titleholder, Guy visited children at Ruby Memorial in Morgantown, a Children's Miracle Network Hospital, and raised more than $1,700 on behalf of CMNH. As Miss Maryland, she has plans for additional fundraising.

"CMNH is a national program," she said, "but the contributions are all sent to donors' regional hospitals. So the money that Garrett County residents donate goes directly to help critically sick and injured children locally."

In her professional endeavors, Guy worked during the summer of 2011 as an intern for U.S. Senator Benjamin L. Cardin, and will be employed this summer as a research assistant at the Baltimore firm of Goodell, DeVries, Leech & Dann LLP. She aspires to attend law school and pursue a career in public service.

Miss Maryland is part of the Miss America organization, the world's largest provider of scholarships for young women. More information about the program is available online at http://www.missmd.info/. Requests for appearances of Miss Maryland and sponsorship information may be directed to cthomas@allconet.org.

W.Va. Driver Is Charged With CDS Possession

A West Virginia driver was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies last evening after they responded to a report of a suspicious vehicle parked along Glade View Drive, off Hutton Road.

Investigation revealed that driver Jason Matthew Kaufman, 23, Eglon, had an outstanding bench warrant for failure to appear in Garrett County court. A K-9 scan was done on the vehicle and revealed a marijuana smoking device with burnt marijuana residue, as well as a set of hand scales. Kaufman was charged with possession of marijuana, possession of paraphernalia, driving without a license, driving an uninsured vehicle, driving an unregistered vehicle, and displaying tags issued to another vehicle.

He was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

Driver Arrested On Drinking And Driving Charges

Garrett County sheriff's deputies arrested a West Virginia driver on drinking and driving charges following a traffic stop Saturday along Crellin Road.

Police stopped a 1994 Ford truck driven by Kenneth James Murphy, 32, Bayard, at approximately 6:30 p.m. He was charged with driving under the influence, DUI per se, driving while impaired, failure to use a turn signal, and failure to drive right of center. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail, where he was released on personal recognizance.

Annual Meeting Of United Way Set For July 11

The 2011 annual meeting of the United Way of Garrett County will be held Wednesday, July 11, at 8:30 a.m. in the library of Perkins Restaurant, McHenry.

Donors and community partners (agencies) of the United Way of Garrett County are invited to attend the business meeting. Breakfast will be "Dutch treat."

Phil Rodeheaver, chair, will review activities of the past year and the recently completed campaign. There will also be an election of new members to the executive committee.

Questions regarding the meeting may be directed to the United Way of Garrett County at 301-722-2700 or toll-free, 877-597-2700.

In Loving Memory of

HOPE MARIE UPTON

February 20, 2001 – June 28, 2008

Our youngest granddaughter, Hope, was taken from us four years ago. She was struck by a van while riding her bike in front of her home. We smile when we think of our dearest little one. She was unending joy! She loved life and everything she did was with great passion. She had such a tender loving heart for people and animals. She never met a stranger and everyone was her friend.

She had a curious mind and was always asking questions and the older people loved her for including them. Her personality was so outgoing. Some of her favorite things were chasing butterflies or carrying her little brown dachshund doggie just like she did her dollbabies. She loved to ride her bike and play in the sandbox where all the sandcastles were made. If there was a pool around she was swimming like a fish. She was a normal little 7 year old girl, but she was also a girly girl. She loved to wear glitter, sparkly clothes and jewelry—loved the dresses that swirled around and pretty shoes that sparkled when she walked. Her hair she wanted curly for special occasions so it too was bouncy when she walked. No ponytails ever for her!

The one thing that Hope loved more than anything or anybody was "her Jesus." That's what she always called him when she spoke of him, which was very often. He was "her Jesus"! Nothing would ever harm her because "her Jesus" would keep her safe. And in His way, He did! He took her to her heavenly home where there's no tears or pain, just joy and happiness which was what Hope was all about.

So our memories of her love and laughter will never fade and inside our hearts they will always stay.
We only held you in our arms for a little while but we will hold you in our hearts forever.

With loving memories of our darling granddaughter,
Nan-Nan & Paw-Paw

EARN PHARMACY DEGREES AT WVU – Two Oakland residents were recently awarded doctor of pharmacy degrees from the West Virginia University School of Pharmacy. Dr. Robbin Gregg, daughter of Fred and Carol Gregg, is a graduate of Southern High School and McDaniel College. While studying at the WVU School of Pharmacy, she was a member of the Alpha Mu chapter of the Rho Chi academic pharmacy honor society. At the graduation ceremony, Gregg received the James K.J. Lim Academic Achievement Award. She graduated magna cum laude and will be working in community pharmacy practice in Oakland and Terra Alta, W.Va. Dr. Evan M. Lantz, son of Steve and Mary Lantz, is also a graduate of Southern High School and earned his undergraduate degree at WVU. While in the WVU School of Pharmacy, he was a member of the Alpha Mu chapter of the Rho Chi academic pharmacy honor society. He graduated magna cum laude and will be completing a pharmacy practice residency at LSU Hospital in Shreveport, La.

Local Churches To Hold Vacation Bible School

The annual Community Vacation Bible School is planned for Monday, July 9, through Friday, July 13, and will be sponsored by St. Paul's United Methodist Church, St. Peter's Catholic Church, and St. Mark's Lutheran Church.

The title of the Bible school is "Sonrise National Park." All sessions are planned for the evening from 6 to 8 p.m.

Every night will begin with an opening program in the St. Paul's UMC sanctuary and be followed by Bible story classes, crafts, and other activities.

Classes will be provided for children from age 3 (who have an adult present) through high school age students. Pre-K and kindergarten students will dismiss at 7:45 p.m.

St. Paul's UMC is located at 318 E. Oak St. in Oakland. For additional information one may call the church at 301-334-2391.

I Needed the Quiet
Alice Hansche Mortenson

I needed the quiet so He drew me aside,
Into the shadows where we could confide.
Away from the bustle where all the day long
I hurried and worried when active and strong.

I needed the quiet tho at first I rebelled
But gently, so gently, my cross He upheld
And whispered so sweetly of spiritual things
Tho weakened in body, my spirit took wings
To heights never dreamed of when active and gay.
He loves me so greatly He drew me away.

I needed the quiet. No prison my bed,
But a beautiful valley of blessings instead –
A place to grow richer in Jesus to hide.
I needed the quiet so He drew me aside.

Mother,

I pray you found the peace and quiet you longed for and deserved. I miss you so much, and look forward to the day that I too will be blessed with peace and quiet and will sit with you at Jesus' side.

With love,
Diana

Aurora To Celebrate 225 Years With Upcoming Heritage Days Festivities

The town of Aurora, W.Va., and its oldest church, St. Paul's Lutheran Church, will soon celebrate their 225th anniversary with the seventh annual Aurora Heritage Days Celebration, slated for July 6, 7, and 8.

Aurora was founded in part by the Rev. John Stough, a Lutheran pastor, who, having traveled westward from Hagerstown, came to the area in the spring of 1787. He named it Salem after the Hebrew word meaning "peace" and gathered a congregation of settlers into the church, which is now St. Paul's.

This church has the honor of being the first Lutheran church founded in the first settlement west of the Allegheny Mountains.

The settlement subsequently became known as Mount Carmel, German Settlement, and West Union, before finally assuming its present name, Aurora.

The Aurora Area Historical Society and the congregation of St. Paul's Lutheran Church have extended an invitation to take part in activities which they have planned.

On Friday, July 6, a yard sale is planned from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and will benefit the Relay for Life at the Union District ambulance hall. At 5 p.m., there will be free hot dogs, marshmallows, popcorn, and drinks.

Those in attendance will be able to visit the Union District History Center and General Store. At 7 p.m. there will be time set aside for vespers and remembrance at the Pioneer Cemetery, the site of the log church of the original Lutheran congregation, behind Dale Stemple's house. This spot is located across the road from the present church building just off the Aurora Pike. Those interested are asked to bring their lawn chairs and/or blankets for seating during the worship service. The organizers also ask that attendees arrive early and park in St. Paul's parking lot to carpool or shuttle over to the location.

In the event of rain, the service will be moved to St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

On Saturday, July 7, there will be a meal offering chicken or hotdogs, baked beans, coleslaw, a roll, and a beverage for the price of $8. Meals will go on sale beginning at 11 a.m. There will also be a bake sale. Also beginning at 11 a.m., an Aurora history game will be provided by the Aurora Pioneer 4-H Club at the Union District Center.

Two exhibits will also be available to the public. From 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., a display of pictures, quilts, furniture, and glasswares will be open to the public at the Aurora Community Building. Beginning at 10 a.m., a display of pictures and history at St. Paul's Lutheran Church will be available. At 7 p.m. a historical pageant is planned at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. The pageant will include a play. This play was written by the Rev. Martin Luther Peter and was originally performed in 1937.

The yard sale to benefit Relay for Life will also be available on Saturday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Also for Saturday, the Heritage Days organizers have invited those interested to set up craft tables. Space is available for $10, with purchasers responsible for their own tables and canopies (in case of rain).

On Sunday, July 8, St. Paul's will hold its service at 10 a.m. It will be followed by a community covered dish luncheon at the church at 11:30 a.m. At 1 p.m., pictures and other items will be on display at the Aurora Community Building.

All events are subject to change. For more information one may call 304-735-5832 or 304-288-6850.

LIBRARY

The following books were donated in memory of Russ McConnell: The Dream Encyclopedia by James R. Lewis and Kovel's Antiques Price Guide were given by John Lofink, and Shroeder's Antiques Price Guide was given by Margie Dixon. To Heaven and Back by Mary C. Neal was presented in memory of Barbara Root by the board of directors and staff, as well as The Beatles Lost Photographs by Larry Marion and A Land More Kind Than Home by Wiley Cash.

Mountain Echos presented tales, yarns, stories, and legends at the Summer Reading Program. Performers Jo Ann Dadisman of Independence and June Riffle of Fairmont started the program kick-off for the event. More than 50 in attendance were entertained by "The Old Woman Who Swallowed a Fly," along with other stories and legends. The attendees helped with different parts of the afternoon stories.

Nancy Hoffman from CEOS gave a brief talk on the library contents, the policies, and how each of these can be used to one's advantage following the Mtn. Echos. The CEOS will have Story Hour with crafts and games on Wedneday, Aug. 8, at 3:30 p.m.

Denise Cole will deliver a nature talk and activity on Wednesday, July 11, at 3 p.m. Skylar Freeman will be presenting a story on Wednesday, July 25, at 3:30 p.m.

Filmstrips will be shown on Wednesday morning, July 18, at 10 a.m. sharp.

The Summer Reading Program will conclude on Friday, July 27, with an awards day held that Thursday at 2 p.m.

New Deal Fest Set For July 14 In Arthurdale

Arthurdale Heritage's New Deal Festival is scheduled for Saturday, July 14, and is designed to give people of all ages a chance to step back in time as America and Arthurdale go to war in 1942, according to festival organizers. The festival will begin at 9:30 a.m. that day and will feature artisan demonstrations, historic re-enactments, museum tours, craft market, an antique car, truck, and tractor show, quilt show, supervised kids' area with games and activities, and other events.

"This year, our focus is on Arthurdale's contributions to America's war effort in 1942," said Jeanne Goodman, Arthurdale Heritage executive director. "Many people don't know how active Arthurdale was on the home front. The festival is not only fun, but also shows life in the 1930s and '40s, and explores the interwoven history of Arthurdale, the New Deal, and World War II."

New to the festival is the Traveling 219 exhibit, which picks up on the Smithsonian Channel's documentary "Soul of a People" and offers a candid snapshot of rural West Virginia during the Great Depression and the early days of World War II. Besides showing one-of-a-kind photographs and artifacts, those in attendance can listen to stories about Eleanor Roosevelt's travels through West Virginia. Many items in this exhibit have never been on public display, according to Goodman.

There will be expanded historic re-enactments and an authentic World War II military encampment, as well as a recruiting station. Also there are additions to the Fratkin Collection. Housed in the New Deal Homestead Museum, the items are on loan from Robert and Susan Fratkin, and feature original FDR campaign posters, Civilian Conservation Corps badges, and National Recovery Act posters. Goodman said that the Fratkin Collection provides a special opportunity to see rare objects that cannot usually be seen locally.

One of the most popular events at the New Deal Festival is the antique car, truck, and tractor show. The show includes some of Detroit's classiest machines from the 1920s to hot rods and muscle cars from the 1960s and '70s. Hosted by the Arthurdale Tire Kickers Club, the show also features antique tractors, including a restored tractor manufactured at the Reedsville Co-Op Tractor Factory.

There will be games and activities geared especially for children in the festival's supervised area. Hawks, eagles, and owls from the West Virginia Raptor Rehabilitation Center will be present this year. Children can also play old-fashioned games like marbles and stop by the little red barn to visit Turbo the "toy" pig, horses, goats, calves, and other livestock.

Tour options allow a closer look at Eleanor Roosevelt's Little Village. A horse-drawn wagon will be available to explore the Arthurdale community, or persons may opt for a hay ride. Tickets for these specialty tours can be purchased at the information booth the day of the event.

Patrons may purchase discounted festival tickets in advance. Online tickets are $5 per adult and $3 per child ages 6-11. At the gate, admission is $8 for adults and $5 for children 6-11. Children age 5 and under are admitted free, and parking is free. Advance tickets can be purchased online at: http://www.newdealfestival.org.

Arthurdale was founded in 1933 as the nation's first New Deal Subsistence Homestead Community by President Franklin D. Roosevelt's administration. The community provided jobs, education, and modern housing for impoverished, unemployed miners living in destitute coal camps in West Virginia. It also served as a laboratory for new educational, industrial, and farming techniques.

Arthurdale Heritage Inc. was formed in 1985 as a nonprofit organization dedicated to restoring and preserving historic Arthurdale.

AURORA/EGLON

ICE CREAM FEST

An ice cream festival will be held this Saturday, June 30, at Maple Spring Church of the Brethren, Eglon. Self-serve ice cream will be offered on cake or pie or in sundaes or banana splits. Hot chicken sandwiches will also be available, with noodles, green beans, coleslaw, and a beverage. Food will be ready at 4 p.m., and entertainment will be 5 to 8 p.m. This is sponsored by the Family Life Center.

TRACTOR PARADE

The annual parade of antique tractors will be held this Saturday, June 30, beginning at Mt. Grove at 8 a.m. and traveling to Thomas. An accompanying float will also be offered to any wives, children, etc., who want to participate. Lunch will be offered at the Thomas fire hall, and the group will return to Mt. Grove that afternoon.

REUNIONS

The Slaubaugh descendants will meet at the Mt. Grove Park this Sunday, July 1, for their annual reunion. The covered dish meal will be served at 1 p.m.

The descendants of Henry Harsh will meet for their annual reunion on Saturday, July 7, at the Aurora United Methodist Church Memorial Building. Those attending are asked to bring a covered dish to share for the 12:30 p.m. meal.

The annual Nice family reunion will be held on Sunday, July 8, at the Amboy United Methodist Church pavilion. Family and friends are invited to the 12:30 p.m. covered dish lunch and gathering.

The Hauser-Houser reunion will be held on Sunday, July 22, at the Farmer's Wildlife Park, Horse Shoe Run. Those attending are reminded to bring a covered dish to share at the 1 p.m. meal.

CHET'S FRIENDS

Chet Roth will provide a day of music this Saturday, June 30, beginning at 10 a.m. Those attending are asked to bring a covered dish to share, a comfortable chair, and any friends who may want to share the day of country, gospel, and bluegrass music. The Mt. Grove site is located about three miles beyond the Rt. 219/Rt. 24 intersection toward Thomas from Red House. Additional music days are planned for July 21 and Aug. 25.

AURORA VFD

The Aurora Volunteer Fire Department will participate in Aurora Days this year. It has been 50 years since the Aurora VFD was chartered, and an open house has been planned for July 7 and 8 to celebrate the occasion. A free spaghetti dinner will be offered on Sunday from 4 to 5 p.m. as a way to thank the AVFD supporters.

The Aurora VFD will hold a gun bash on Saturday, Aug. 11. Tickets cover all-you-can-eat food and a chance to win 23 guns. Tickets are available from any AVFD fireman or by contacting Adam Bachtel at 304-698-6541 or Matt Mayne at 304-692-1690. The effort is the biggest fund-raiser of the year. Last year's proceeds were used to acquire a new (used) engine.

AURORA CEOS

The Aurora Community Education Outreach Services club met on June 18 at the home of Jeannie Whitehair. The meeting opened with the group praying the Lord's Prayer.

The program, Time for Tea, began around the table where several types of tea were prepared. The origin of tea was discussed by Jeannie, as tea was served to the seven club members in attendance. The origin of tea dates back to 5,000 years ago in China. Camellia was the first variety discovered. The most common types of tea are black, green, white, and oolong. Jeannie served raspberry, Moroccan, jasmine, rose petal, Imperial gunpowder, and apple spice from Turkey. The group also enjoyed crumpets and a variety of jams and marmalades with the tea.

The Relay for Life was held in Rowlesburg and attended by Ressie Conrad and Keith Douglas, with Keith attending in the absence of his wife, Dee Douglas. The group is still planning to make cushions for the Cancer Center. The Relay for Life garage sale will be held at the Aurora squad hall in conjunction with Heritage Days, July 6 and 7. Donations are appreciated. Wilda Harsh, Opal Myers, Bonny Lantz, and Dee Douglas have offered their services in that effort.

Opal Myers and Dee Douglas attended the Tea Party at the Extension Office. This was another effort to celebrate CEOS Week, and each in attendance received a hand-painted ceramic cup prepared by some of the members during an earlier craft day.

Program leader training was held June 27 at the Extention Office. Wilda Harsh and Dee Douglas were in attendance. The one-day trip to the West Virginia State Fair is still planned for a fee of $42 each.

Health motivator Ressie Conrad discussed exercising by the "wiggle and shake for an earthquake." With this method one raises his/her arms above the flood, reaches higher above the flood, and jumps over the snow.

The July 17 meeting will be hosted by Dee Douglas, who is also responsible for devotions. The meeting will begin at 1 p.m., with Jana Freeman telling highlights of her many trips abroad with her family. All are invited.

PERSONAL

Visiting this week with their parents, Don and Neva Frantz, in Eglon were Donnie, Heather, Wyatt, and Donavin, Illinois, and Melvin, Melissa, Dakota, Violet, and Harmony Frantz from eastern Maryland.

Here this week for the funeral of Beatrice Spiker Gnegy were Eugene and Irma Whitcomb, Greenville, S.C., who visited with Mrs. Whitcomb's father, Paul Gnegy, Amboy. They spent Saturday afternoon at the Gnegy reunion.

Leroy and Doris Harsh, Bridgewater, were weekend visitors with his brother and wife, Robert and Carolyn Harsh, Eglon.

Terry Starr and his son Todd are spending this week with his mother, Linda Starr, at Stemple Ridge.

CADETS TEST SKILLS AT CAMP DAWSON – Six cadets from Southern High School were selected to complete their attendance of the Army JROTC Cadet Challenge Camp (JCLC) at Camp Dawson, W.Va. This annual event focuses on developing cadets' leadership skills by placing them in physically and mentally challenging activities. Several of these camps are held throughout the U.S. during the summer months, bringing cadets and instructors from many different schools together. Participating in the five-day Camp Dawson event were 240 cadets and 45 instructors from Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and West Virginia. The cadets were placed in various leadership positions, from an eight-man squad to that of company commander of 120 cadets. Their skills were tested on orienteering, confidence, and leadership reaction courses, on a one-rope bridge, and in "drown proofing" exercises. In addition, cadets participated in rappelling from a 60-foot tower. Cadets could also attempt to scale up the tower. SHS cadet Makaily McCroskey, pictured below, was one of only a few participants to reach the top of the tower. Cadet Jonathan Potts was a cadet commander during the camp, and Carl Cosner and Colton Wassell were platoon leaders. "The cost of camp is approximately $400 per person, but the Army JROTC program picks up 100 percent of that cost," noted Lt. Col. (ret.) Ralph Sheaffer, the senior JROTC instructor at Southern High. Pictured above, left to right, on the bottom of the pyramid are Patrick Kight, Kyle Hackett, and Colton Wassell. In the middle are chaperone Stacy Wassell, Potts, Cosner, Shaeffer, and instructor Sgt. 1st Class Tim Wilson. On top is McCroskey.

NORTHERN HIGH JROTC STAYING ACTIVE – The JROTC cadets of Northern High School have maintained a presence in the local community while meeting the demands of their elected program's many challenging activities. The most solemn of those activities was perhaps the ceremony pictured above, in which the cadets are seen paying their respects while folding the flag at Grantsville Park during Memorial Day services there. In the above photo, from left, are Thomas Harvey saluting the flag and Alex Allman, Curtis Friend, Daniel Baechtel, Tommy Yantz, and Courtney Lowery. At the annual JROTC Leadership Camp, held recently at Camp Dawson, W.Va., Northern cadets participated in military exercises after being selected to participate in the event based on their maturity, positive attitudes, mastery of skills, and their leadership ability and potential. Several of the cadets handpicked to participate were recognized for their contributions with certificates of achievement. The cadets who participated in the leadership camp at Camp Dawson are pictured below. In the front row are Brady Benton, Austin Bosley, Lowery, and Yantz. In the second row are Brandon Cosner, Baechtel, Friend, Harvey, and Cordel Yoder. At a recent Raider Challenge held at Preston High School (W.Va.), which pitted numerous JROTC programs against one another in friendly competition, Northern High captured a second-place trophy. The cadets received this distinction after completing challenges dealing with first aid, logistics, physical fitness, a 5K road march, and the construction of a one-rope bridge. Pictured in the photo at right is Northern High's Allman (left) accepting the trophy from Bill Miller, Preston High School senior Army instructor.

Hearing Check For Men Urged By Professional

June is Men's Better Health Month, a time when local hearing care professionals encourage all men to have their hearing checked, as this is an important health issue often overlooked or ignored by men, according to Jana Brown, a local doctor of audiology.

Brown said that it is estimated that one in five Americans experience hearing loss, the majority of which are men. This can be attributed to the occupational and recreational behaviors of men. Men are more likely to work in occupations that might expose them to excessive noise or participate in noisy activities such as shooting, motorcycle riding, or woodworking. Prolonged exposure to loud noise is one of the major contributors to hearing loss, Brown said.

Nearly 50 million Americans are impacted by hearing loss, making it the third most common health problem in the country today, just behind arthritis and heart disease. It is recommended that at age 45, everyone should have a baseline hearing test as part of a complete annual health exam.

"Hearing loss can be caused by exposure to loud noises, ear infections, trauma or ear disease, illness, certain medications, or deterioration from the normal aging process," said Dr. Brown. "The amount of noise that men are exposed to plays an important role in the increase of hearing loss."

Dr. Brown encourages all men to schedule a hearing screening and to learn more about treatment options for and prevention of hearing loss. An audiology-certified hearing health practitioner can screen for hearing loss, provide comprehensive hearing testing, make recommendations, and develop a plan for treatment or prevention.

Adults, Children Should Protect Hearing July 4th

Hearing care professionals also urge all people to protect their hearing when enjoying the fireworks this 4th of July.

The sound produced by the blast of a firework or firecracker at close range can cause permanent hearing damage. However, according to Dr. Brown, a few simple precautions can allow people to enjoy the festivities of the 4th of July holiday while still protecting their hearing.

"Two types of sound exposure can cause noise-induced hearing loss: prolonged noise exposure or a sudden, loud, single burst of sound like a bang from a firecracker," said Brown. "When exposed to loud sounds, the delicate hair cells lining the inner ear responsible for converting vibrations into sound can become damaged, resulting in hearing loss."

According to the Better Hearing Institute's (BHI) recommendation, people should observe fireworks displays from a comfortable distance and protect their ears with earplugs or other hearing protection. Hearing protection, such as earplugs, is readily available at pharmacies, hardware, and grocery stores. Disposable foam or silicone earplugs are an inexpensive practical solution because they provide hearing protection while still allowing users to hear conversation.

The BHI recommends placing the earplugs in securely at the beginning of the fireworks display and leaving them in place for the entire show. Children in particular are at high risk for noise-induced hearing damage, so parents should make sure that their children's ears are well protected.

"Noise exposure is one of the most common causes of irreversible hearing loss, but the good news is that it is preventable," said Brown. "Exposure to noise over 85 decibels is unsafe and can cause damage. The sound produced by fireworks is much louder at about 140 decibels which is why hearing protection is so important when enjoying the display."

Notes from Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

A college education is largely viewed by young people as an opportunity to broaden their new experiences and to meet other people.

Who would not root for little Poland against Russia in the soccer match? Especially since the site of that match was in Warsaw.

I think it is very clear what is wrong when a hotel chain claims it can give traveling business people more things to add to their success by selling to an Eskimo. If you buy the right products, everything will be perfect in your life. If you buy the right car, then everything in your life will be perfect and you will have positive family values. If you own a Subaru and let your daughter drive away, she will always be safe.

It is also ridiculous to think that if you buy a New York Life policy, your family will always be secure, completely protected, and safe from any bad event.

There were a lot of horse people with a lot of experience who told my father when I was just 10 years old that he needed to get a fully trained older horse for my first horse.

But luckily he believed me when I told him about a baby foal I had met. "That is my horse," I told him as our eyes spoke volumes to each other.

Our love-at-first-sight only grew deeper and wider every day we spent together trying new things. All I had to do with Joey was to quietly command him to do what I wanted. He would do anything possible to deliver it. I would spend many hours wandering around with him walking by my side. I would pick wild strawberries to feed him out of my hand and I would tell him all of my ideas, dreams, and everything about me as we walked. He would learn to jump by simply following me over every fallen log we encountered. He would see what I did, and simply do the same thing. He was able to absorb a simple idea. If we would encounter some kind of obstacle, we would just jump it.

There was the time,when my boss entered the bunkhouse where I lived with the rest of the stable help, and saw a photograph of Joey and me jumping a huge jump. Most of Joey's feet were above the jump. He asked me, "Whose horse is that?"

I told him that was my horse, and then suddenly he assigned me to ride all of the six-figure horses in his stable. That was something that is almost unheard of for a low groom.

He also noticed that all of the horses under my care had unusual, glowing coats. I had the experience of grooming my own horse. And I also had many teachers, had heard many lectures, and worked hard.

There was one English professor who had a student who was unable to attend class when an important assignment was due, and he asked me to supervise that class. He would not accept a paper late for any reason. I felt that was unfair, especially from a polite, top student.

Once in my class, the replacement teacher for me while I was out on maternity leave refused to accept a paper written in green ink. Is that enough reason to pick a fight with a polite A student? I don't think so.

Is the Watergate break-in the very tip of the iceberg of massive corrupt and political power? What was wrong with Richard Nixon?

Flag Day was June 14. I have nothing against our flag, but it is so often misused. It has become more a symbol of our military than of our whole nation.

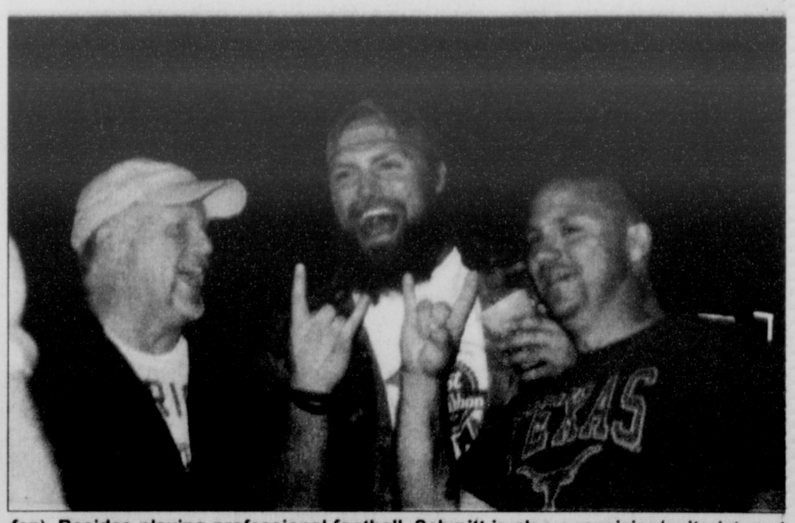
How can we measure a positive contribution for a child or young person by using numbers? Most important to me in the teacher's evaluation was the comments. My Garrett College students told me what worked well and how I helped them.

How could Sandusky emerge from his trial smiling, when his victims told so many dreadful stories about his behavior? It's bad enough he was the center of attention. What in God's sake was making him smile?

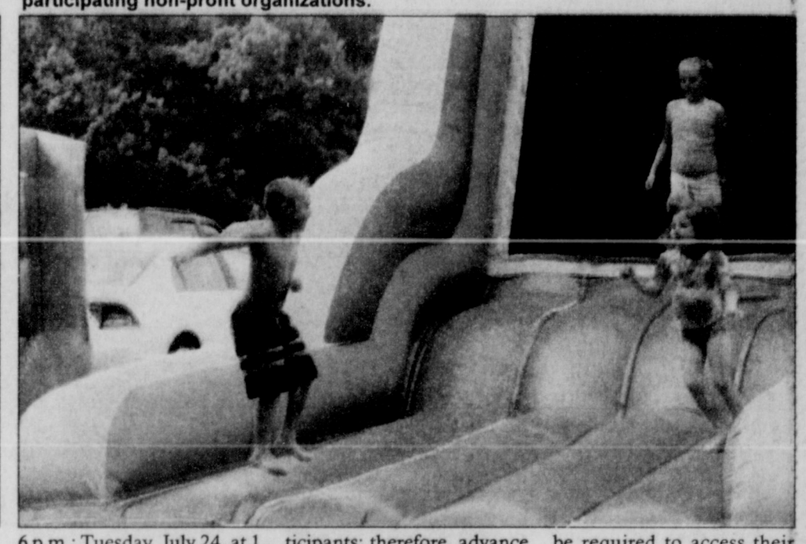
Maybe he believes he will get away with his bad behavior. He thinks he was rewarded with a huge position in a high-profile workplace, like the Penn State football program. He had the stamp of approval from some powerful people. I do not have a high opinion of him.

Watch out for baby birds as they learn to fly and go away from their nests. My friend has some baby squirrels in her bird feeders. How cute they must be! I am dying to go visit them. It was only very recently I saw a squirrel around my house. It too was far from the woods and all alone. I have always enjoyed watching squirrels.

When my girls were small, we would regularly get a new household member – a toad. They were easy, understanding, and no hassle to have around.



DEEMED "A MAJOR SUCCESS" by chairman Mark "Bubba" Marucci was the 2012 Redneck Dayz weekend, held June 16 and 17 at Broadford Park and attended by several thousand people. The weather conditions were perfect for the two-day celebration, which featured games, lots of live music, an anything-that-floats-except-a-boat regatta, a mud pit, carnival-like amusements for the children, and a wide variety of food and beverages. A special guest who flew in from California was NFL Oakland Raider and former star running back for the West Virginia Mountaineers Owen Schmit, who is pictured above right center, flanked by Jim Bosley, left, and Chris Helbig (despite the fact – and unbeknownst to Schmitt – that Helbig is a staunch Texas Longhorns fan). Besides playing professional football, Schmitt is also a musician/guitarist, and joined the Davisson Brothers Band for a set Saturday evening. Among the hits by the nationally known Davisson Brothers is "Here Come the Mountaineers." Pictured below left is one of the more unique anything-that-floats entries – a truly "redneckish" craft that includes a trolling motor, a grill, and yes, even a toilet (of sorts). Below right, some wee ones enjoy some of the amusement equipment. The primary sponsor of Redneck Dayz is the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club. According to Marucci, a club member, the two-day fest yielded gross sales of nearly $30,000 for the Lions club and other participating non-profit organizations.



"FRIENDSVILLE REMEMBERS THE CIVIL WAR" – The Friendsville Library Quilters have completed their ninth quilt, "Friendsville Remembers the Civil War." This sampler of popular Civil War-era quilt honors the 122 men from the Friendsville area who served in that conflict. Its square patterns are interspersed with setting blocks, which make interlocking chains across the quilt. It was constructed of reproduction Civil War-era fabrics by the quilting group. From left, beginning with the front row, are Jennifer Pletta, Marilyn Moors, and Ina Hicks. Back row: Janet Fike, Mary Frazee, Helen Bowser, Michele Liston (branch manager), and Mimi Demaree. Not available for the photo were Louise Lawrence, Glenna Reese, and Carol Edmiston. See story.

"Friendsville Remembers The Civil War" Quilt Completed By Group

The Friendsville Library Quilters have completed their ninth quilt, "Friendsville Remembers the Civil War," which honors the 122 men from the Friendsville area who served in that conflict. Their names are listed on the reverse side of the quilt and include three men who joined the Confederate side. All the others served in the second or third regiments of the Potomac Home Brigade under Gen. Benjamin F. Kelley.

"The quilt is actually dedicated to the mothers, wives, sisters, daughters, and sweethearts of these men – the women who stayed home, worried, fed their families, kept the farms going, and quilted," noted Marilyn Moors.

The quilt is a sampler of popular Civil War-era quilt square patterns interspersed with setting blocks, which make interlocking chains across the quilt. It was constructed of reproduction Civil War-era fabrics pieced by the Friendsville Library Quilters and hand-quilted in the Friendsville Town Hall. The historic research for the dedication of the quilt was undertaken by Ina Hicks and Marilyn Moors, with the help of the volunteers at the Friend Family Museum. Mimi Demaree was the lead designer and coordinator of the quilt.

It is currently on display at the library, open Mondays and Wednesdays 2 to 8 p.m., Tuesdays and Thursdays 1:30 to 5:30 p.m., and Saturdays 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. It will travel to different locations throughout the summer and will be displayed at the Autumn Glory Festival in October. It and two matching pillowcases will be raffled off to benefit the library.

Tickets are $1 each or 6 for $5 and are available from the quilters, local library merchants, and End of the Line Bookstore, Oakland. Tickets are not available at the library. The winning ticket will be drawn on Tuesday, Oct. 16, at the Friendsville library.

Bloodmobile To Visit Grantsville

The American Red Cross bloodmobile will make a regular visit to the Grantsville fire hall next Monday, July 2, from noon to 6 p.m. The ARC has issued a plea for blood, as supplies throughout much of the nation are currently low.

The fire hall is located at 178 Springs Road.

Ruth Enlow To Offer Hands-On Polaris Workshop

The Ruth Enlow Library will offer eight hands-on workshops with Polaris, the library's new online catalog. These workshops are all scheduled for next month and will be held in the Oakland library's meeting room.

Workshop dates and times are as follows: Tuesday, July 10, at 10:30 a.m. and 1 p.m.; Wednesday, July 11, at 4 and 6 p.m.; Tuesday, July 24, at 1 and 3 p.m.; and Wednesday, July 25, at 4 and 6 p.m.

These free workshops are intended for patrons wanting to learn how to use Polaris, with content to include searching for items, placing holds, and accessing personal account information.

Each session lasts for one hour and is limited to six participants; therefore, advance registration is required.

To register one may call the library at 301-334-3996, ext. 117, or e-mail bonnie@relib.net. Laptop computers will be provided for use during the training. Participants should bring their library cards and know their passwords (PINs), as these will be required to access their accounts.

Those interested in a listing of programs and services available at the Ruth Enlow Library may visit www.relib.net.

"Secret Gardens" Tour Slates Newly Featured Property

The Mountain Laurel Garden Club has announced that a fourth garden will be featured in its 12th annual "Secret Country Gardens" tour, which is scheduled for Saturday, June 30, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. This newly featured property, dubbed "Weingarten," is the residence of Ruth and Wendell Beitzel.

In addition, this garden will feature an array of items, ranging from traditional to "shabby-chic," for purchase.

According to an MLGC press release, the Beitzels acquired their property about 22 years ago. It includes a house, a large amount of acreage, and a spring house. Early on, they found themselves with a hillside of boulders and rhododendron, which overlooks Deep Creek Lake. The property also has a natural spring which flows down the mountain.

Wendell has created a vineyard for wine, planting many grapevines around the house. The Beitzels also have an orchard with apple, plum, and pear trees. Their deck is home to many potted plants and overlooks the lake and also a wildflower area.

Next to the deck is a small outdoor kitchen surrounded by roses and herb-filled pots. Typically, the Beitzels' flowers bloom from early spring to late fall and are frequented by birds and butterflies.

Visitors to "Weingarten" will see rhododendrons, pine trees, and a small water feature as they follow the driveway to the house. After Ruth retired from the restaurant business, she found she could "play in her garden." A small greenhouse, a garden shed, and a cottage cutting garden contribute to the Beitzels' estate.

The Conservation Committee and the Horticulture Committee will participate in the tour with a presentation and a perennial sale respectively.

Members of the Herb Committee will offer a prize with raffle tickets sold the day of the tour. Refreshments will be offered at a garden as well.

The of the tour is set at $7. Tickets for the tour, which come with a short description of each garden and directions, may be purchased in advance at the following locations: Gregg's Pharmacy, Oakland; Jan Florist, Oakland; Green Acres Garden Center, Oakland; Julie's Greenhouse, Route 219; Nature's Own, Sang Run Road, McHenry; Annie's Restaurant, Accident; and Beachy's Pharmacy, Grantsville.

On the day of the tour, members of the Garrett County Historical Society will sell tickets at the Gazebo in Oakland.

Proceeds from the tour will be used by the Mountain Laurel Garden Club for the continued beautification of the community and to encourage gardening and sound conservation practices through club activities and programs.

The Mountain Laurel Garden Club is a member of the National Garden Clubs Inc., Central Atlantic Region, and the Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland Inc. Affiliated clubs provide education, resources, and national networking opportunities for members, as well as promote gardening, floral design, and civic and environmental responsibility.

Those interested in further information may contact Barbara Gallagher, tour co-chair, at 301-387-5875 or Kathie Smith, publicity chair, at 301-334-3249. Information is also available on the club's web site, www.mountainlaurelgardenclub.com.

BEITZELS TO SHOWCASE "WEINGARTEN" DURING MLGC TOUR – Pictured here at their idyllic Deep Creek Lake homestead are the Beitzels, Wendell and Ruth, who have added their private garden to the Mountain Laurel Garden Club's upcoming "Secret County Gardens" Tour (June 30). The Beitzels refer to their home as "Weingarten," as it features a vineyard built by Wendell. Tickets for the garden tour are currently on sale at numerous local businesses. See story.

AAA Offering Six-Week Workshop On Managing Pain

Garrett County Area Agency On Aging will offer a free, six-week workshop on Living Well by Managing Your Pain from July 12 to Aug. 16 from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Grantsville Senior Center.

There is no cost to participate, but those interested must pre-register by calling 301-746-8050 on or before July 10. A minimum of eight people registered will guarantee the workshop taking place.

Participants will receive a book titled Living a Healthy Life With Chronic Conditions and a workbook called Chronic Pain Self Management. These workshops teach effective techniques to manage symptoms and improve quality of life. Caregivers are also welcome. Two trained leaders will present new material each week. Those with questions or in need of more information should contact Suzanne Carley or Tiffany Weeks at 301-746-8050.

South Garrett's GOP Women Hold Meeting

The Southern Garrett County Republican Women's Club held its annual June dinner meeting recently at the home of members Carl and Ann Rebele. Club president Sondra Buckel welcomed the group of about 60 members and guests.

Following a covered dish dinner, Buckel introduced those elected officials present and invited each to speak. Guest speakers were Maryland state Senator George Edwards, Delegate Wendell Beitzel, and county commissioners Jim Raley, Gregan Crawford, and Robert Gatto, as well as Maryland Federation of Republican Women president Ruth Umbel and central committee and school board members.

Discussion topics included the importance of electing a Republican president and representatives, alternative energy, the U.S. and local economies, Garrett County issues, redistricting, and school closings.

SGCRWC encouraged attendees to contact elected officials and share their opinions on issues, to volunteer, to help "get out the vote," to register voters, to promote "every vote counts," to work at central committee headquarters and at fairs, to put up signs, and to display promotional stickers.

Ellen Bartlett gave a brief campaign speech in support of her husband, Roscoe, while Umbel announced that a campaign fundraiser for the congressman will be held on July 28. Bea Crosco announced that a campaign fundraiser for Senator Edwards will be held on July 8.

Those interested in more information about SGCRWC may call 301-245-4376.

DONATION MADE TO LANDON'S LIBRARY EVENT – First United Bank & Trust has donated $500 to the first WGW Invitational Golf Tournament to benefit Landon's Library. Landon's Library is a non-profit organization established in memory of Landon Bryant Boal to encourage the importance of books and parents' involvement in their children's lives. "One of our top priorities has always been our commitment to supporting the community and the charities that serve our community," said FUBT president and CEO William B. Grant.

The Garrett County Chamber of Commerce has announced that the Garrett College Community Aquatic & Recreation Complex (CARC) will be hosting the next Business After Hours on Wednesday, July 11, from 6 to 8 p.m.

The CARC is a state-of-the-art fitness and wellness complex housed on the Garrett College campus that features a full-size competition pool, as well as a warm-water pool. The competition pool is overlooked by a large spectator viewing deck for competitions.

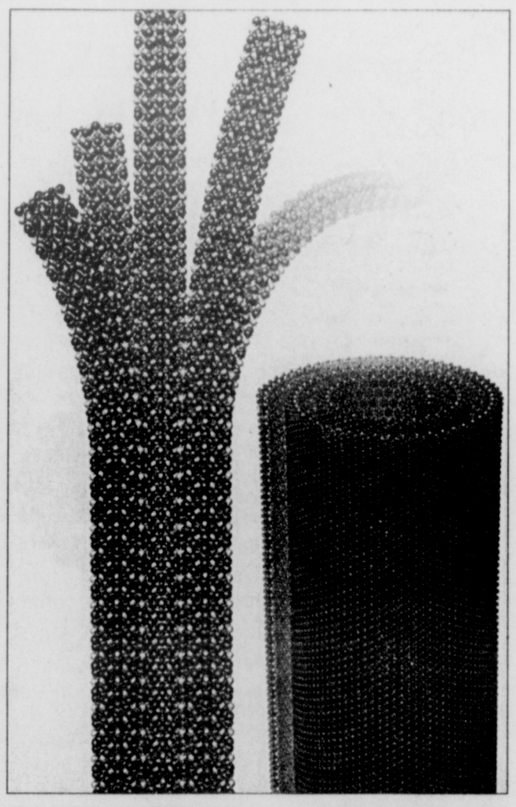
A full fitness center also features cardio and free-weight equipment. Personnel from Garrett County Memorial Hospital are onsite offering PT services in the warm-water therapy pool, and an array of fitness programming is scheduled through Garrett College's Continuing Education Division.

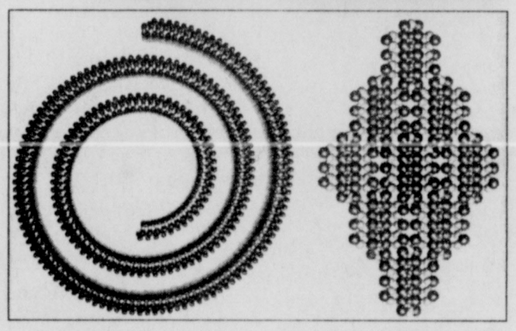
The cost to attend the after-hours event is $6 for members paid in advance, and $10 for non-members and members paying at the door. Persons may register online at visitdeepcreek.com or by contacting Charlotte Sebold by July 10 by e-mail at charlotte@garrettchamber.com or calling 301-387-6171.

A. Gotsch Named To Dean's List

Abigail Gotsch, Oakland, has been named to the spring 2012 dean's list at Loyola University Maryland.

In order to qualify for the honor at Loyola, a student must have a GPA of at least 3.5, with a minimum of 15 credits.





The student is the daughter of Ken and Patty Gotsch, Oakland.

Established in 1852, Loyola University Maryland is a Catholic, Jesuit comprehensive university comprising Loyola College, home to the University's arts and sciences programs; the Sellinger School of Business and Management; and the School of Education. Loyola enrolls 3,700 undergraduate and 2,300 graduate students from across the country.

Ask The Everyday Scientist

CHRYSOTILE AND CROCIDOLITE – TWO COMPLETELY DIFFERENT MINERALS

by Dr. Tom Sheahen

Q. I've seen a lot of TV commercials by lawyers that seem to say asbestos causes cancer. How accurate are their claims?

A. The misinformation in the public mind regarding this topic is great. Claimants have obtained big settlements on the basis of confusing two quite different substances, both of which go under the common name of "asbestos." That name goes clear back to ancient Greek times.

The two substances of interest are crocidolite and chrysotile, which sound similar enough that it's easy to think they're about the same. Both are grouped under the name "asbestos." But there is a world of difference between them. Crocidolite is one of a family of amphiboles, all of which are harmful only if they appear in a fibrous form. Most amphiboles are not fibrous, thus they do not cause disease.

Both adjacent drawings are taken from the book Nanoscale by K.S. Deffeyes (MIT Press: 2009). The first compares the large-scale structure of the two different kinds of asbestos. The top drawing shows an amphibole crystal splitting into fibers (left), and to the right is a serpentine structure, looking similar to a rolled-up carpet.

Amphiboles are found in banded iron formations, with an assortment of other iron minerals. Serpentine is a mixture of silicon-oxygen layers and magnesium-oxygen layers, which result in the coiled shape. These completely different minerals, crocidolite and chrysotile, should never have been called by the common name "asbestos," but that's history. Chrysotile is the soft form of asbestos that is commonly found wrapped around water pipes or heating ducts. Ninety-five percent of all asbestos use is chrysotile.

When taken inside the human body, chrysotile is harmless; you can eat it and it merely leaves undigested. If you breathe in some chrysotile dust, it will dissolve in your lungs (it takes about a year to dissolve) and your blood carries it away to the waste stream. Laboratory experiments showing this fact are summarized in the article "Chrysotile as a cause of Mesothelioma: An Assessment Based on Epidemiology" by C.M. Yarborough, Critical Reviews in Toxicology, 36: 165-187 (2006).

By contrast, crocidolite doesn't dissolve for perhaps 60 years, and thus sticks around the body long enough to cause big problems. The method by which cancer develops is unknown, but it appears that when fibers reside in lungs for long periods of time, cancer can ensue. Mesothelioma appears only after 20 or more years after exposure. Autopsies on men who died in their 70s and 80s sometimes find such fibers still present.

Additional detail on this entire matter appears in several scientific journals: M. Ross, Environmental Geology, v. 26 # 3 pp 182-188 (1995); R.P. Nolan et al., Journal of Environmental Medicine v. 47, # 8, pp 817-825 (August 2005); plus a lengthy bibliography spanning 1979 to 2008.

In particular, N. White et al., in Regulatory Toxicology and Pharmacology v. 52, S92 – S96 (2008), look very diligently at the epidemiology of mesothelioma associated with South African mining of crocidolite, and present this surprising conclusion: "No cases were associated with South African chrysotile. Consequently, in the vast majority of cases of mesothelioma, environmental exposure to asbestos occurred in the North Cape province, in proximity to mines, mills, and dumps where crocidolite was processed. Crocidolite appears more mesotheliomagenic than amosite, and chrysotile has not been implicated in the disease. This is true for both occupationally and environmentally exposed individuals."

In other words, chrysotile is innocent and crocidolite is guilty.

The good news is that over 95% of all asbestos (i.e., chrysotile) is completely harmless (except when exposures are very high and of long duration). All of us have been breathing a little chrysotile dust for our entire lives, with no adverse effects. Moreover, crocidolite is very rarely found in domestic environments such as floor coverings and insulating materials. However, asbestos miners of crocidolite breathed the dust, which exacerbated their health problems many years later.

In this column I have written twice before about asbestos: July 25, 2007, and March 2, 2009; subscribers to The Republican can probably locate those in the online archives. I am very critical of the scary "mesothelioma" television ads run by law firms who are trolling for customers, and have written, "The most accurate term for the entire asbestos worry is 'scam.'" The lawyers' ability to obtain big awards from juries is based entirely on sustaining confusion in the public mind, where both chrysotile and crocidolite are incorrectly lumped together under the common term "asbestos."

The manufacturers of pipe insulation, like Johns-Manville Corp. and others, surrendered to this faulty public perception years ago, and established a multi-billion-dollar fund to pay claims, even when the claims were without scientific merit. By perverse logic, the existence of that settlement fund made it so easy to get money for anything vaguely related that it encouraged more lawyers to go into the asbestos-litigation business. The cost of running the TV ads is tiny compared to the revenue brought in.

There is no free lunch. Sooner or later, all of us pay for this abuse in the form of higher costs of building construction and consumer products.

Dr. Sheahen lives at Deep Creek Lake and has taught physics at Garrett College. Persons wishing to submit questions for this column may e-mail them to newsroom@therepublicannews.com.

Local Students On Dean's List At Frostburg St.

A number of Garrett County students were named to the dean's list at Frostburg State University in recognition of outstanding academic achievement for the spring 2012 semester. To be eligible, a student must undertake a minimum of 12 credit hours and earn a cumulative semester grade point average of at least 3.4 on a 4.0 scale.

The following students earned perfect 4.0 grade point averages:

Ashton Carr, Rachel Margroff, Carrie Maust, and Meghan Voelkel, all of Accident; Andrew Sisler, Friendsville; Trevor DeVore, Adria Graham, and LaDawn Yoder, all of Grantsville; Samantha Calhoun, Aaron Lazarus, Cullen MacLennan, and Miranda Sharp, all of McHenry; Paige Carr, Seth Friend, Sara King, Meredith Pagenhardt, Tabitha Ringer, Rachel Skipper, Madison Storey, Courtney Strubin, Gina Stuck, Alex Stuck, and Briana Watson, all of Oakland; and Lauren Heilig and Summer Mossman, both of Swanton.

Other local students named to the dean's list are as follows:

Chelsie Custer, Maney Gale, Mitchell Hall, Amy Lander, Kara Savage, and Sarah Wampler, all of Accident; Carolyn Maxim, Bittinger; Kelly Bean, Deer Park; Brian Umbel, Friendsville; Dustin Brenneman, Ashleigh Friend, Kyle Gillum, Whitney Glotfelty, and Carl Koch, all of Grantsville; Diane Donham, Mountain Lake Park; Tyler Alt, Jerica Bennett, Amy Bittinger, Jennifer Cosner, Cameron Crawford, Kristen Dewitt, Laura Grabosky, Walter Lee, Carinna Lewis, Tommy Reams, Ashley Roush, Kody Sanders, and Kaitlyn Swift, all of Oakland; and Sarah Heilig and Melissa Wagner, both of Swanton.

SWANTON

REUNION

Family and friends of the late Edward and Meg Rhodes are invited to the Swanton Community Center for the annual reunion on Sunday, July 8, at 1:30 p.m. Those attending are asked to bring a covered dish and beverages to share.

YARD SALE

An indoor yard sale will be held at 99 Bittinger Road, Swanton, on July 12, 13, and 14, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. each day. The church youth will also be selling refreshments as a fundraiser.

BIRTHDAY

Everyone is invited to a birthday party for Richard Gerlach at the Oakland Nursing and Rehab Center, 706 E. Alder Street, Oakland, this Saturday, June 30, from 2 to 5 p.m. Guests are asked to not bring gifts, but cards would be appreciated.

CAMP AGAPE

Upcoming Camp Agape is set for Aug. 6–10 from 9:15 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. each day. Camp is held at the Teets lot along North Glade Road, Swanton. Different churches take part, and everyone is welcome whether one belongs to a church or not. This is a day camp for children and any adults that would like to help.

YOUTH

The church youth will be going on their trip to Kingsfest June 28 through July 1.

For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven

Fourth of July

Here comes the Fourth of July! Stands selling fireworks appear in empty parking lots and along the road, flags fly proudly, newspapers announce upcoming celebrations. Amidst the excitement and preparations, let's pause and consider the business of freedom. It consists not just of celebrations, but of courage and sacrifice. For each individual who enjoys the benefits of his or her freedom today, many have suffered and died on the battlefield to protect the freedom of our nation. Let us thank God for freedom as we enjoy this Independence Day.

WALK HUMBLY WITH YOUR GOD

In the sixth chapter of the book of Micah, there is a string of questions concerning how one should "come before the Lord." That is, should one come before Him bowed down with burnt offerings, with year-old calves or rams, or with offerings of oil? Should one offer up one's firstborn? Micah's answer is a summary of the Law and the prophets, telling us that "He has showed you, O man, what is good; and what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God?" (Micah 6:8)

We hear this message again and again in the prophets, i.e., that God doesn't want sacrifice but loving kindness and justice, but Micah's twist on this is unique. He tells us to walk humbly with our God. Why didn't he simply say to walk humbly with God? Micah recognizes that we all have different visions of God. We tend to think that our view of God is the true one, that somehow our view of God reflects His true nature. But, that is just another version of creating God in our own image. Just because God created us in His image does not mean that we are in possession of the truth about God. We may have some small sliver of truth about God, but we certainly don't have the entire truth. So, we should walk humbly with our God, and allow others to walk humbly with theirs.

Hear the word of the Lord, O people of Israel; for the Lord has a controversy with the inhabitants of the land. There is no faithfulness or kindness, and no knowledge of God in the land; there is swearing, lying, killing, stealing, and committing adultery; they break all bounds and murder follows murder.

Worthy TV: Wealthy people go undercover in 'Secret Millionaire'

By Kyla Brewer
TV Media

Custom luxury cars, glare-inducing diamonds and sun-soaked summer homes might be nice, but wealthy people are sometimes as generous with others as they are with themselves. Most people who've imagined winning the lottery have envisioned helping a favorite charity or cause, but what about real-life philanthropists?

ABC has a show for anyone who's ever wondered how rich people decide who's deserving of a piece of their wealth.

Self-made multimillionaire and author Steve Kaplan lets cameras tag along as he engages in a unique experience in "Secret Millionaire," airing Sunday, July 1, on ABC. He leaves behind his privileged, posh life to find out how the other half truly lives as he takes Chicago's famous L-train into a poverty-stricken neighborhood to find a group or organization to donate to.

Not to be confused with the comedian of the same name, Kaplan owns several businesses and has written the best-selling book "Bag the Elephant: How to Win and Keep Big Customers," among others. In "Secret Millionaire," he'll have a limited time to make his decision, and it won't be as simple as just walking into the community and throwing around his money.

The catch is he'll be masquerading as a man who's down on his luck himself. Required to subsist on the equivalent of welfare assistance, Kaplan spends a week in a community in Chicago's south side, an area rife with gang violence and poverty. There, he meets people who are struggling to make a difference with such projects as an after-school program to keep kids off the streets, a low-income senior citizens community, and a charity that provides everyday items to those in need.

Kaplan intends to dole out thousands of dollars from his own bank account to those he deems worthy.

Helping people is nothing new to the the best-selling author. For years, he's been helping others achieve success, and, in fact, has been credited with making at least 100 others into millionaires, in addition to inspiring countless others to follow their passions.

Narrated by actor Blair Underwood, who joined the show at the beginning of this season, ABC's "Secret Millionaire" is actually based on a U.K. version that first aired on Channel 4 in 2006. Across the pond, the show is still going strong with 10 seasons under its belt. The first season of the U.S. version actually started on Fox but moved to ABC in Season 2.

The American edition of the show follows the format of its predecessor quite closely. As in the U.K. series, the benefactors are required to hide their true identities from those in the community. Locals are told the cameras are present simply to film a documentary. At the end of the week, the wealthy participants reveal who they really are and make sizeable donations to those they believe are deserving. Although "Secret Millionaire" hasn't exactly spawned the kind of worldwide phenomenon as other U.K. imports such as "Pop Idol" ("American Idol") and "Britain's Got Talent" ("America's Got Talent"), the feel-good series has been picked up in Australia and Ireland, and recently it was announced Rogers Media may be considering a Canadian version of the show.

It isn't surprising "Secret Millionaire" has struck a chord with viewers. It shines a spotlight on those who really want to make a difference, and Kaplan is just one of the remarkable people to sign on for the unique series. The first season of the show attracted such entrepreneurs as Todd Graves of Raising Cane's Chicken Fingers, Myles Kovacs of "DUB Magazine" and Gregory Haerr of Century Software.

Season 2 standouts included self-made millionaires James Malinchak and John Ferber. In the second season, Curves founders Gary and Diane Heavin gave away more than $400,000, the biggest "Secret Millionaire" donation to date.

This season kicked off as world-renowned artist Scott Jacobs took his teenage daughter Alexa to Newark, N.J., away from their sheltered, wealthy life in search of those needing help. Chuck Runyon and Dave Mortensen, the brains behind Anytime Fitness, have also heeded the call.

Kids' Internet safety expert Hilary Decesare is up at bat after Kaplan, with her episode set to premiere July 8. She, too, will leave behind her luxurious lifestyle to volunteer for those in need. She'll travel to Long Beach, Calif., where she'll live on welfare-level wages in a run-down apartment, while also learning about people and organizations who help homeless people and even neglected animals.

Some might say true wealth is the giving of yourself. If that's true, it's the people these millionaires encounter who are truly wealthy. Their stories are often as compelling as their affluent counterparts, and cameras capture small snippets of their daily lives, making for uplifting or, at least, interesting television.

In a sea of back-stabbing reality TV villains, violence-laden primetime dramas and cynical comedies, "Secret Millionaire" stands out from the pack. While participation in the show is no doubt an act of altruism for the benefactors, it isn't a one-sided exchange. For them, it is the wealth of the experience that enriches their lives, something no amount of money can buy. Watch it all unfold, for both the wealthy and the less fortunate, in ABC's "Secret Millionaire."

Hilary Decasare will be featured in next week's "Secret Millionaire"

Cameras follow nannies of 90210 kids

By Sheila Busteed
TV Media

COUTURE CAREGIVERS: In Beverly Hills, reality is certainly different from the rest of America. This affluent neighborhood is known for its breathtaking views and posh designer shops, as well as, of course, being the place that Hollywood stars, professional athletes and many of L.A.'s elite citizens call home. Throw on top of that the fact that these upper-crust Californians often don't rear their children alone, and Beverly Hills can be a very unique place for kids and the caregivers who help raise them.

Starting next week, ABC Family will give curious viewers an inside look at life as a nanny in the town with the famous 90210 zip code when it launches a new reality series.

"Beverly Hills Nannies," which premieres Wednesday, July 11, follows a group of nine nannies as they work for famous families. The docuseries suggests that, while their bosses may have the money and the power, it's the nannies who keep things running smoothly.

The group of nannies is led by Kristin Lancione, who is one of the top celebrity caregivers in the city and is starting her own nanny-placement agency. Lancione previously worked with a number of big names, including Lori Loughlin and Mossimo Giannulli.

She's joined by Justin Sylvester, Lucy Treadway, Amanda Averill, Scott Cartmill, Shayla Quinn, Shaun Sturz, Amber Valdez and Maggie Thorne. Each of them brings varying degrees of experience to their job -- Sylvester, Treadway, Sturz and Valdez can boast of previously working for A-list stars, such as Kyle Richards, Kenny G. and Nick Cassavetes. Averill is new to the city and Thorne is new to the business, but as close friends of Lancione, they have a solid resource for help.

The show has also landed some big-name families to take part in the series, including those of model/actress Cindy Margolis, former NFL player Marshal Faulk and actress Tricia Fisher, sister of "Star Wars" star Carrie Fisher, among others.

Saturday

AT&T National
2 2 5 3:00 p.m.
Golf's brightest gather in Bethesda, Md., at the Congressional Country Club to compete in this year's AT&T National event. More than $1 million is on the line and players such as Tiger Woods, Steve Stricker and Jim Furyk are expected to attend.

The Matrix
34 AMC 5:00 p.m.
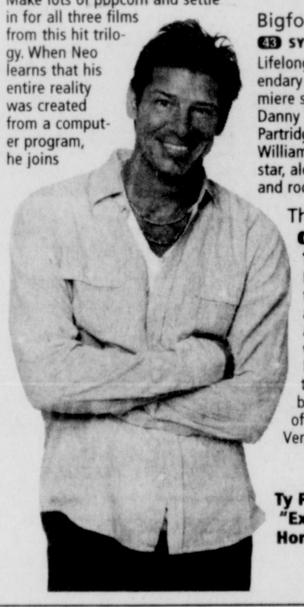
Make lots of popcorn and settle in for all three films from this hit trilogy. When Neo learns that his entire reality was created from a computer program, he joins forces with Morpheus, who shows him what the universe is really like. Keanu Reeves stars.



Extreme Makeover: Home Edition
4 4 8:00 p.m.
It's two hours of makeover madness and Ty and his team surprise the Hill family. After years of in-patient treatment for PTSD, Staff Sergeant Allen Hill is ready to come home, and the EM crew creates a new, safer environment for him.

Bigfoot
43 SYFY 9:00 p.m.
Lifelong rivals race to find a legendary creature first in this premiere sci-fi flick. TV legends Danny Bonaduce of "The Partridge Family" and Barry Williams of "The Brady Bunch" star, along with Howard Hessman and rock icon Alice Cooper.

The Firm
6 6 8 11 11 12 10:00 p.m.
Mitch's legal skills are put to the test when his client admits to some dangerous and criminal activities while he was in college. Elsewhere, Abby is unable to put aside her personal bias when Joey Morolto offers her a job. Gianpaolo Venuta guest stars.

Ty Pennington hosts "Extreme Makeover: Home Edition"

The world's largest and best-preserved Tyrannosaurus Rex resides at Chicago's Field Museum. The T-Rex is so old it was found wearing a Cubs World Series ring.

In local news, the Chicago city council is allowing fruit and vegetable stands all over the city. The city council called it a victory, while everyone else called it an unprecedented attack on our lifestyle.

The Tonight Show: Jay Leno
China is now preparing to send their first woman into outer space. Which at first seems like a feminist breakthrough until you realize she doesn't want to go.

America's Cup
(6) (6) (8) (11) (11) (12) 2:30 p.m.
NBC presents coverage of one of the world's most prestigious sailing events with a look at this year's America's Cup. The oldest active trophy in international sport, the event attracts the top sailors and yacht designers in the world.

Secret Millionaire
(4) (4) 8:00 p.m.
Self-made multimillionaire Steve Kaplan takes the famous L-train from his luxurious home to the poverty-stricken south side of Chicago. While surviving on the equivalent of welfare assistance, he looks for people and organizations worthy of a donation.

Extreme Makeover: Weight Loss Edition
(4) (4) 9:00 p.m.
Michael shares his journey to a healthier lifestyle as he commits to losing weight. At 493 pounds, the 28-year-old small-business consultant wants to share his life with someone special, but his weight issues have destroyed his confidence.

American Dad
(10) (6) 9:30 p.m.
When Stan runs into an old flame, Francine flies into a fit of jealous rage in this rebroadcast. Unfortunately, her plans for revenge lead Roger into the path of a dangerous alien hunter. Elsewhere, Steve accidentally wears Hayley's underwear to school.

Antiques Roadshow
(13) (13) (16) (22) 8:00 p.m.
Visit Houston for some fascinating finds, including a 19th-century Chinese jade scepter originally appraised at $1,500 to $2,500. Its estimated value spikes to between $50,000 and $80,000. Also, a 1912

Late Laughs

The Late Show: David Letterman

Betty White visited President Obama at the White House. The first time Betty was at the White House, she stayed in the Lincoln Bedroom... with Lincoln.

President Obama is going to a fundraiser at Sarah Jessica Parker's house. It will be a formal, sit-down dinner for 200 in her shoe closet.

Lindsay Lohan was driving her Porsche and she crashes. And they think maybe she had an open container of alcoholic beverage in the car. Considering her record, this could mean up to a half an hour in prison.

The Late, Late Show: Craig Ferguson

Today in San Francisco was Apple's annual Developers Conference where it was announced that there are now 650,000 apps available online. And that number will continue to grow as long as people will pay a few bucks to enjoy them. This is also true of Kardashians.

Summer Vacation

I usually shut down my bird garden before I leave for vacation. I don't want bacteria growing in dirty birdbath water, and I especially don't want to come home to wet, moldy seed in feeders. Birds are not dependent on us for food. When I return, they return.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

•On July 14, 1798, Congress passes the Sedition Act, which permitted the prosecution of individuals who voiced or printed what the government deemed to be malicious remarks about the president or government of the United States.

• On July 11, 1804, Vice President Aaron Burr fatally shoots his long-time political antagonist, Alexander Hamilton, in a duel. Burr shot Hamilton in the stomach, and the bullet lodged next to his spine. Hamilton, a Founding Father and first U.S. treasury secretary, died the next day.

• On July 9, 1877, the All England Croquet and Lawn Tennis Club begins its first lawn tennis tournament at Wimbledon, then an outer suburb of London. Twenty-one amateurs showed up to compete in the Gentlemen's Singles tournament, the only event.

• On July 10, 1925, in Dayton, Tenn., the so-called Monkey Trial begins with John Thomas Scopes, a young high-school science teacher, accused of teaching evolution in violation of a Tennessee state law. The law made it a misdemeanor to teach any theory that denied the story of the Divine Creation of man.

• On July 12, 1933, the first three-wheeled, multi-directional Dymaxion car is manufactured in Bridgeport, Conn. Part aircraft, part automobile, it had wings that inflated and a tail fin. It had a steel chassis, a body made of ash wood, an aluminum skin and a painted canvas roof. The Dymaxion was designed to reach a speed of 120 mph and average 28 mpg.

• On July 15, 1941, master spy Juan Pujol Garcia, nicknamed "Garbo," sends his first communique to Germany from Britain. The disinformation the double agent transmitted to Germany was fabricated by the British. In June 1944, he managed to convince Hitler that the D-Day invasion of Normandy was just a "diversionary maneuver."

Strange BUT TRUE

• It was revered Chinese philosopher Confucius who made the following sage observation: "He who learns but does not think is lost. He who thinks but does not learn is in great danger."

• If you ever have occasion to refer to an item that pertains to walnuts, it will be useful to have the word juglandaceous at your disposal.

• It's well-known that the United States is a melting pot of nationalities. At the end of the 1800s, New York City was so diverse that it had more Irish than any city except Dublin, and a larger Russian population than was to be found at that time in the city of Kiev. The only two cities in the world that had more German speakers were Vienna and Berlin, and Milan and Naples had fewer Italians than New York. • If you're like the average American, you will eat 1.5 tons of food this year.

• Beeswax candles are valued largely because they don't drip as other candles do, but they're also very durable. Archaeologists have found still-pliable beeswax candles in Egyptian tombs, and some have been recovered in good condition from sunken ships. • Iowa has the highest literacy rate in America.

• In the grocery stores of today you might find a half-dozen varieties of apple, if you're lucky. In centuries past, though, there were more than 350 varieties that were grown just for the purpose of making cider. • When paper currency is no longer in good enough condition to be circulated, it can be shredded and used in products such as shingles and insulation. You may have cash on your roof!

Collecting

Q: While attending a church sale in Iowa earlier this year, I spotted a Rookwood vase, which I bought for $100. After returning to my home in Texas, I asked an antiques dealer if he could identify it for me. He claims it is the work of Ed Diers, one of his poppy patterns executed on a vellum flaring vase. He could not give me an idea of its value, and that is why I am writing you. -- Betty, College Station, Texas

A: You got quite a deal. One of the better references for this type of ceramics is "Warman's Rookwood Pottery: Identification and Price Guide" by Denise Rago and Jonathan Claney (Krause Publications). According to this reference, your vase was made in about 1927, and in mint condition is valued in the $4,000 to $6,000 range. A word of caution: Reproductions of Rookwood have popped up at flea markets and in shops in recent years, the work of wicked Asian reproduction elves who never, ever rest. To make certain you purchased the real deal, a certified appraisal should be next on your shopping list.

Q: I have a Kodak camera that still has its original instruction book. It also includes a tripod. How much is it worth? -- Katherine, Grand Junction, Colo.

A: There are Kodak cameras ... and there are Kodak cameras. Your question is a little like how much is my old car worth. If the car is a 1934 Packard roadster, quite a bit, but if it is a Yugo, not so much. Without a model number and condition, I can't help you.

Q: I have two Jim Beam bottles: "Ohio" in the state series, and "George Washington" in the people series. I have been offered $25 for each, but I think that is probably too low. What do you think? -- Steve, Paris, Texas

A: I think that collecting Jim Beam bottles isn't as spirited as it was about 20 years ago. I checked several price guides, and your bottles seem to be valued at about $15 each. In other words, take the money and run.

CELEBRATING 40 YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY

Scholarship Funds Available At Truck Driving Institute

The Garrett College Mountaintop Truck Driving Institute (MTDI) recently announced that there is still scholarship money available for truck driving students. The funds are provided by the Maryland Motor Truck Association Inc. (MMTA) Walter and Harriet Thompson Scholarship.

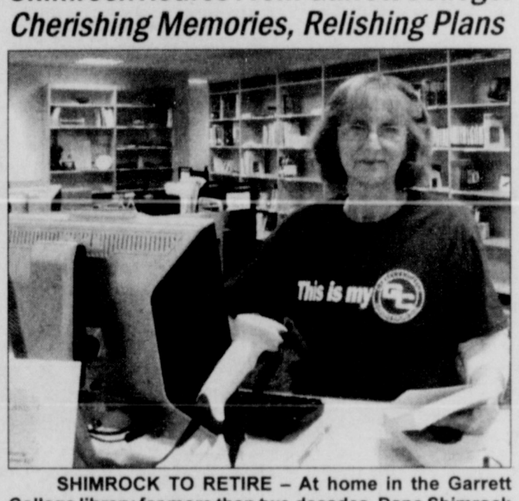
This scholarship provides financial support to students enrolled in a trucking/transportation-related program at Maryland-based community colleges that are also members of MMTA.

"This is a need-based scholarship for Maryland residents that can be used in conjunction with other funds such as the Garrett County Scholarship Program," said Terry Beachy, GC director of the Northern Outreach Center & Mountaintop Truck Driving Institute.

MTDI training programs help to prepare individuals to earn Commercial Driving Licenses Class A and Class B and prepare for truck driving careers. Instruction – in the classroom, on the range, and over the road – is offered by instructors with many years of success in training and placing drivers. Both day and weekend training schedules are available.

For information on the Mountaintop Truck Driving Institute and scholarship opportunities, persons may contact Terry Beachy at terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu or 301-895-4700.

Shimrock Retires From Garrett College: Cherishing Memories, Relishing Plans



SHIMROCK TO RETIRE – At home in the Garrett College library for more than two decades, Dana Shimrock retires this week from her post as library director. Over the years she has fostered the development of the library into a true resource center for the Garrett College and Garrett County community. Though joyful with anticipation of new adventures, she says she will carry with her treasured memories of the times and the people who enriched her life as she strived to contribute to theirs.

by Peggy Santamaria

"Bittersweet."

In one word Dana Shimrock perfectly describes her feelings about retiring from Garrett College. For 23 years she has served the Garrett County community as director of the GC library.

During these final days at the helm, her thoughts have wandered into that realm of languid awakenings to days to be spent as she chooses – filling her time with explorations of landscapes without and within; with distant travels to be close to loved ones; and with nurturing her creative energies.

But Shimrock will deeply feel the absence of the work and the people who have fueled her momentum for more than two decades.

The GC library is more than a repository of books, journals, and digital media. Shimrock has made it a vital place of learning and growth. It has served as a center of activities and interactions, drawing students, staff, faculty, and community residents. The facility has changed dramatically over the years of Shimrock's tenure.

"When I started working here in the fall of 1989, there was virtually no technology available in the library," she said. "It's exciting to look around now and see the changes. We have specialized databases for research, as well as access to digital materials. We have really grown from being a library to being a state-of-the-art resource center," adding that all these changes have attracted ever-increasing numbers of people to take advantage of the services provided.

Under Shimrock's leadership the Garrett College Library moved into a new building, filled with light and space to accommodate group study rooms as well as individual study spaces, and comfortable reading nooks.

But Shimrock's work at GC reaches well beyond directing library operations.

"My position here has allowed me to serve the community in so many ways," she said. "I have been privileged and proud to serve as co-chair on the Bucknell Scholarship Committee, to work with the Green Environmental Committee, and to help launch the Students in Need Group (SING)."

The Bucknell Scholarship Committee nominates students to participate in the Bucknell University Scholars summer program and ultimately to earn a full scholarship to complete a degree at that prestigious university.

"It has been enormously gratifying to see GC students succeed at Bucknell," said Shimrock. "It is an opportunity they may never have had without this program. I continue to follow our students as they move into their future roles in society."

Strongly dedicated to preservation of natural resources through individual actions, Shimrock acts on the motto "Think globally and act locally." She has taught a class titled Society and the Environment as part of the curricula for the Adventure Sports and the Natural Resources & Wildlife Technology programs. As a member of the Green Environmental Committee she has contributed her creative instincts to campus-wide teaching activities.

"One of my favorite projects is our annual creation of Christmas tree ornaments out of recycled materials," she said.

Everyone gets involved in this endeavor and the ornaments are put on a Christmas tree which is donated to the Dove Center's Festival of Trees fundraiser.

SING, another group in which Shimrock participates, was formally organized this year to carry on the work that is endemic at GC – assisting those in need. As a relatively small college campus, Garrett has a strong sense of community and a speed-of-light communication network. When someone is facing obstacles to his or her education, solutions will be found.

"At Garrett we are fortunate to know our students as individuals," said Shimrock. "We may learn that a young single mother is struggling to pay her college expenses and care for her children. So donations of food may be discreetly collected from among the staff and made available to this family."

This year, during the graduation ceremony, Shimrock received special recognition for her years of service, dedication, and commitment to the college, the students, and mission of Garrett College. She was presented with the Award for Outstanding Contributions to Garrett College made by a person within the college community.

In accepting the award, she made the following comment: "There was nothing that I did while I was here that I did alone. We are truly a community college – we work together to accomplish our goals."

Working side-by-side with Shimrock are her library staff members Linda Tomblin, Krista McKenzie, Ellen Sheaffer, and Teresa Feather.

"I am truly blessed to have a wonderful staff. We are family. I am confident that I am leaving the library in good hands," she said.

And what does a retired library director have on her "bucket list?"

"I plan to write a book that I have been thinking about for several years," she said. "It will be historical fiction based on a place I visited once in Colorado that is rich in history. I will finally have the time to dedicate to this project.

"Of course, I also plan to travel to California for a long visit with my son. And as a citizen, I plan to stay active in environmental issues, such as the debate surrounding drilling for Marcellus shale. I believe it is important to become educated on all sides of these issues, increase awareness, and move cautiously to assure the protection of Garrett County and its citizens," she said.

Wherever Dana Shimrock goes in the future, her imprint will remain on Garrett College, reflected in her contributions to the quality of campus life. For 23 years, Garrett College was most definitely her GC.

"End Of World?" Class On Maya Culture Slated

Garrett College will offer a four-session class on the Maya culture titled "The End of the World?" It will be led by noted Maya scholar Marilyn M. Moors. Sessions will be held on Tuesdays, July 10, 17, 24, and 31, at 1 p.m. on the McHenry campus.

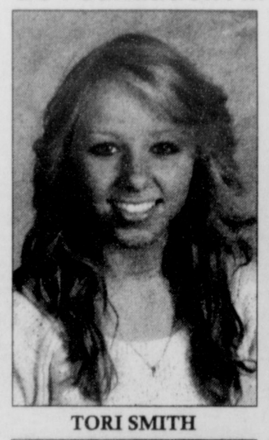
Moors will present information on the Maya classic civilization sites in Mexico, Guatemala, and Honduras, and examine what they reveal about their society.

"We will also figure out how their number system and their calendars work, trace their history following the Spanish conquest, and look at their determined preservation of their languages, traditions, and lifestyles in present day Mexico and Guatemala," Moors said.

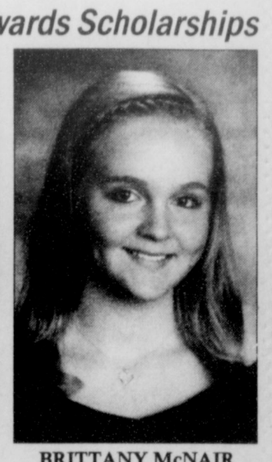
Moors is professor emerita of anthropology from Montgomery College and former adjunct faculty member at Frostburg State University. She co-edited The Maya Diaspora: Guatemalan Faces, New American Lives with James Loucky. She is a former national coordinator of the Guatemala Scholars Network, and now serves as president of the board of the Maya Educational Foundation, an organization committed to increasing educational opportunities for Maya men and women in Guatemala, Belize, and southern Mexico. Currently living in Friendsville, she has studied and traveled in Mexico and Guatemala since the 1970s.

For more information or to register for this session, persons may call the Garrett College Continuing Education & Workforce Development Division at 301-387-3069.

GC Foundation Awards Scholarships

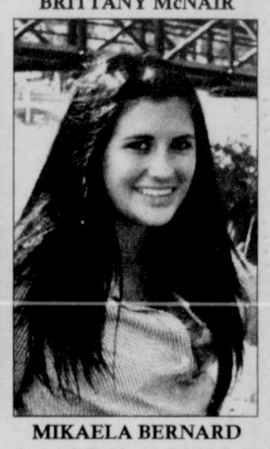


TORI SMITH



BRITTANY McNAIR

BRANDON MINNICH



MIKAELA BERNARD

The Garrett College Foundation board of directors recently announced the winners of scholarships for the academic year 2012-2013. Awards went to current students, as well as to new students at GC. Among those earning scholarships are the following:

Tori Smith was awarded the Civic Club of Oakland Patience W. Grant Memorial Scholarship. An Oakland resident, Smith earned her general education diploma in 2012. She is pursuing studies in mathematics and science, with an emphasis on chemistry.

Brittany McNair was selected to receive the American Association of University Women Scholarship. A resident of Oakland, McNair is a 2012 graduate of Southern High School. At Garrett College she plans to study nursing.

Brandon Minnich, who graduated from Northern High School this spring, has received the Charles L. Briner Memorial Scholarship. A resident of Frostburg, he will be in the pre-allied health program preparing for a career as a radiologic technician.

Mikaela Bernard, an Oakland resident, is a 2011 graduate of Southern High School. Currently a student at Garrett College working toward a degree in sociology, Bernard has earned the James H. and Gladys "Happy" Nordeck Memorial Scholarship.

Town Hall

OAKLAND

The next town meeting will be held on Monday, July 2, beginning at 7 p.m., with Public Hearing O2012-03 FY 2012 Budget Amendment Ordinance set at 7:30.

The meeting will include approval on the June 4 and June 29 meetings' minutes, approval of the June financial report, as well as bill for payment and utility bill adjustments. POS requests will be reviewed, and a 2013 legislative action will be addressed. The meeting will adjourn following the mayor update and committee reports.

MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK

Garbage will be picked up on Thursday, July 5, instead of Wednesday, July 4, because of the Independence Day holiday.

LOCH LYNN HEIGHTS

Garbage Collection Notice: Perry's Solid Waste & Disposal will collect household garbage on Thursday, July 5, because the regular pick-up day falls on July 4.

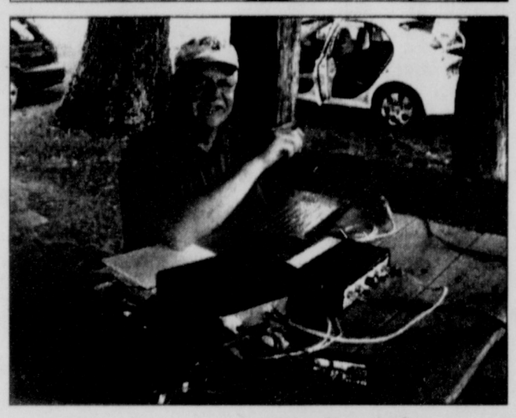
Garage/Yard Sale Signs: No permit is required; however, a maximum of two signs at a maximum of 2 sq. ft. are permitted. They may be placed 48 hours before the sale and must be removed 24 hours after the sale. No sign of any kind may be posted on any traffic control device, utility pole, street light, U.S. mail box, or any other utility structure located within the town. Violators will be fined.

Zoning permits are required for most construction projects. Residents are reminded to inquire before beginning any project at 301-334-8339.

The next regularly scheduled council meeting will be held on Tuesday, July 3, at 6 p.m.

The Planning Commission will meet on Monday, July 16, at 6 p.m.

AMATEUR RADIO OPERATORS HOLD FIELD DAY – The Garrett County Amateur Radio Emergency Service recently conducted a Field Day event at the pavilion at the Western Maryland 4-H Center in Bittinger. Five stations were set up for the event, which allowed licensed radio operators and members of the general public to communicate with individuals throughout the country. See story. In the top left photo are some of those who attended the event. Front and center is Phillip Lewis. In the second row are Howard Reynolds, Mark Moynahan, Allison Sowers, and Bob Sowers. In the back row are Tim Gift, Denise Moynahan, and Pam Viner. Pictured directly below, from left, are Jeremie Hamilton and Scott Beitzel manning one of the Field Day stations. At top right is Moynahan with Bea Crosco, a club member who helped prepare a cookout meal for the group. In the bottom right photo is Bill Shomo, who set up a station designated to a digital mode.



Garrett County "Hams" Hold 2012 Field Day

The Garrett County Amateur Radio Emergency Service conducted Field Day activities on June 23 and 24 at the pavilion at the Western Maryland 4-H Center in Bittinger. This annual event is sponsored by the American Radio Relay League and gives amateur radio operators, or "hams," throughout the country a chance to set up and operate stations without the use of commercial power.

This year five stations were established. Two stations used phone (voice) mode and two used Morse code. For the first time, Bill Shomo, whose call sign is KB3FMJ, set up a station dedicated to a digital mode, BPSK31, or Binary Phase Shift Keying. Among these five stations during the 24-hour operating period, over 500 contacts were made with other hams, including some in Alaska and Hawaii.

A Get On The Air (GOTA) station allowed unlicensed visitors a chance to try their hand at amateur radio while supervised by a licensed ham. Phillip Lewis made contacts on the GOTA station and also tried his hand at Morse code using one of the four learning centers provided for the public. Visitors were also able to see their radiogram messages put into the National Traffic System over high frequency radio for delivery to individuals in other states.

The club used the call sign K3EE, which belongs to Mark Moynahan, as its identifier. "The air waves came alive with K3EE this weekend," stated Moynahan, who has nearly 70 years' experience with ham radio.

Some operators worked through the night to make contacts as atmospheric conditions improved on certain bands. Jeremie Hamilton, KB3UMW, and new ham Scott Beitzel, KB3WSU, were able to make over 180 contacts on the 80-meter band. Beitzel said they were even able to hear a station in Kuwait, but unable to make contact.

Morse code is no longer a license requirement, but Tim Gift, KB8NUF, and Howard Reynolds, WA3EOQ, worked tirelessly using this mode to make over 100 contacts.

According to a spokesperson, part of the fun of Field Day is the camaraderie of friends new and old working together – and food is part of that.

Bea Crosco, N3SGL, a longtime member, arrived on Saturday afternoon to help prepare the cookout along with other members.

The GCARES meets the second Monday of each month at 7 p.m. at the Southern Rescue Squad building on Rt. 135. All interested persons are welcome.

GCARES invites all amateur radio operators to check into the weekly net, which meets on the 146.805 repeater at 8 p.m. on Sundays.

Benefit Dinner Slated To Assist Local Family

A benefit spaghetti dinner has been planned to help a local family dealing with medical expenses. The Upton family of Kitzmiller is beset with medical bills following the birth of their baby girl, who came three months early.

The dinner will be held on Saturday, June 30, at the Kitzmiller fire hall, from 5 to 8 p.m.

Donations will be accepted for the dinner of spaghetti, garlic bread, salad, dessert, and drinks.

JULY SUN – As July begins, the sun appears in front of the stars of Gemini, appearing to move a degree per day eastward relative to the stars. In early morning of July 20, the sun enters Cancer. Both of these star groups are nearly lost in the sun's glare in July. In early July, sunrises in Garrett County are at about 5:54 a.m., while sunsets are at about 8:49 p.m. (14.9 hours of daylight). Around the end of July, Garrett County's sunrises are at about 6:15 a.m. and sunsets occur at about 8:30 p.m. (14.25 hours of daylight). The above times are for places with flat eastern and western horizons. During July, the stars are last seen at around 5 a.m. (early dawn) and then reappear at about 9:40 p.m. (late dusk).

JULY MOON – On the evening of July 1, the evening moon appears above the Scorpion, whose brighter stars trace out a letter "J." The evening moon is full on July 3. This is the most southerly full moon of the year, so it has a low sky path, peaking only one third of the way up in the south in the middle of the night (at about 1 a.m.). By July 9, the moon will have left the evening sky, rising after midnight. On July 11, the moon appears half full (like a reversed "D") in the southern dawn sky. On July 15, a narrow crescent moon will appear near the bright planet Jupiter and brilliant Venus in the eastern 5:15 a.m. dawn. The moon swings from the morning to the evening side of the sun early on July 19. A very narrow crescent moon may be sighted low in the western dusk on July 21. On July 24, the crescent moon will appear under the planet Mars in the southwestern dusk. On July 25, the evening moon will appear half full (1st quarter), appearing to the left of the twinkling star Spica and the planet Saturn (above Spica). As July ends, the moon is nearly full. Next month will have two full moons, on August 1 and 31.

JULY PLANETS – The five nearest planets are easily seen by eye, four of them shining steadily in contrast to the twinkling stars. Of the five, Mercury is usually the most difficult to see. In the first week of July, the planet Mercury is setting more than an hour after sunset, appearing in the star group Cancer. The best chance to see this elusive planet will be from a site with a flat western horizon about 9:30 p.m. using binoculars. The brilliant planet Venus blossoms in the eastern dawn as its rising time changes from 4 a.m. to 3 a.m. (An earlier rising time means that Venus will be higher in the sky if you observe it at 5 a.m.) During July, the planet Mars moves from western to central Virgo, appearing low in the west as it gets dark. To the left of Mars is the planet Saturn and the bright star Spica. Mars will move past Spica and Saturn in mid-August. In July, the planet Jupiter is a morning object in the star group Taurus.

JULY STARS – On July evenings, the Big Dipper is easy to recognize in the north-northwest. The lowest two stars of the scoop point rightward to the North Star. The Dipper's handle can be extended in an arc to the bright golden star Arcturus, high in the west. The bright white-blue star Vega is nearly overhead in the evening hours. Low in the south is the bright pinkish star Antares, which lies in the head of the Scorpion.

JULY PROGRAMS – The Cumberland Astronomy Club, with members from the tri-state area, will meet Friday, July 20, at 7:30 p.m. at the LaVale Public Library, just off U.S. Route 40, about a mile to the east of the Maryland State Police barracks. All interested sky gazers are welcome.

The Sunday afternoon programs will resume September 9 with "Mammals of North America," featuring a wide variety of specimens in the Science Discovery Center in the Compton Science Center.

To receive a Planetarium schedule (or bookmark), persons may telephone 301-687-7799 and give name and mailing address.

Dr. Doyle writes this column for those who like to identify the brightest stars, planets, and sights in their backyards.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

U.S. Air Force Airman John W. Wilt has graduated from basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

The airman completed an intensive, eight-week program that included training in military discipline and studies, Air Force core values, physical fitness, and basic warfare principles and skills.

Airmen who complete basic training earn four credits toward an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Wilt earned distinction as an honor graduate. He is the son of Darlene Wilt, McHenry, and is a 2011 graduate of Northern High School.

TOWN OF KITZMILLER
ORDINANCE NO. 2012-01
RAISE GARBAGE HAULING FEE

An ordinance authorizing the increase of the quarterly garbage fee collected by Garrett Co. Public Utilities on behalf of the Town of Kitzmiller.

WHEREAS the charter of the Town of Kitzmiller in section 601-27 grants the Kitzmiller Council the power to require the removal of individual's garbage within the Corporate limits of the Town:

WHEREAS section 1113 authorizes the Council to bill residents such charges as they deem necessary for the removal of such garbage.

WHEREAS costs have significantly risen due to charges for fuel, employee's wages and cost at the landfill, The Kitzmiller Council finds it necessary to raise the annual garbage fee.

NOW, THEREFORE, THE MAYOR AND TOWN COUNCIL OF KITZMILLER FOES ORDAIN AND RESOLVE THE FOLLOWING:

1.) The annual fee for the collection of garbage shall be $100.00.

2.) Such increase shall become effective July 1, 2012.

3.) The Kitzmiller Mayor and Town Council authorizes the fee to be collected in quarterly payments of $25.00 by the Garrett Co. Public Utilities.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, shall be duly advertised in accordance with the Policy for the Adoption of Ordinances by the Mayor and Town Council of Kitzmiller, and a public hearing shall be held on July 3, 2012, at 10:00 a.m. at the Town Hall located at 104 West Centre Street, Kitzmiller, Maryland 21538.

MONDAY, JULY 2, 2012, 11:30 A.M.

By virtue of a Power of Sale contained in a Deed of Trust from Swagat Hotels, LLC dated April 17, 2008, and recorded among the Garrett County Land Records at Liber 1365, page 593 (the "Deed of Trust"), default in compliance with the covenants of said Deed of Trust having occurred; the same having become due and payable, and demand for payment having been made, and Roger Schlossberg, Substitute Trustee, having been substituted as Trustee thereunder and having instituted foreclosure proceedings in Case No. 11-C-12-12633-FC now pending in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, the said Substitute Trustee will offer at public sale in front of the Courthouse, in Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland on Monday, July 2, 2012, at the hour of 11:30 A.M., all that lot or parcel of land, together with the improvements thereon, and also together with and subject to all easements, rights of way, benefits and appurtenances thereunto belonging or appertaining, situate, lying and being in Election District No. 18, and being more particularly described as follows:

All that land situated in Garrett County, Maryland, described as follows:

FIRST: BEGINNING at an iron pin being the Southeast corner of Parcel #1 and running with the Northeast margin of Old Route 219, South 43 degrees 53 minutes 30 seconds East 71.89 feet to an iron pin, then South 58 degrees 15 minutes 15 seconds East 88.30 feet to an iron pin, then North 31 degrees 05 minutes East 227.20 feet to an iron pin standing on the Southwest margin of a 74-foot right-of-way (measured from the centerline of road) of new U.S. Route 219, then running with the said Southwest margin, North 58 degrees 55 minutes West 158.75 feet to an iron pin, the Northeast corner of Parcel #1, then with the boundary between Parcels 1 and 2, South 31 degrees 05 minutes West 209.50 feet to the point of beginning, containing 0.8 acres, more or less.

SECOND: BEGINNING at an iron pipe standing 19 feet Northeast of the centerline of Old Route 219, said pipe being a common corner between Oscar and Flora Savage and the 0.75 acre deed to David E. Bowman and recorded in Liber 394, folio 457, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland running then with the Northeastern margin of Old Route 219, South 39 degrees 02 minutes 30 seconds East 131.60 feet to an iron pipe, then South 43 degrees 53 minutes 30 seconds East 47.70 feet to an iron pin, then North 31 degrees 05 minutes East 209.50 feet to an iron pin on the Southwest margin of a 74 foot right of way (measured from centerline of road) of New Route 219 then with said Southwest margin North 58 degrees 55 minutes West 211.25 feet to an iron pipe, then with the boundary between Oscar Savage and David Bowman, South 18 degrees 25 minutes West 162.91 feet to the point of beginning, containing 0.8 acre, more or less.

THIRD: BEGINNING at an iron pin standing Northeast 19 feet from the centerline of Old Route 219, said pin being the Southeast corner of Parcel #2 and running with the Northeast margin of Old Route 219, South 68 degrees 29 minutes 15 seconds East 75.33 feet to an iron pin, then South 72 degrees 58 minutes 30 seconds East 101.40 feet to an iron pin, also the Southwest corner of the 1.25 acres deeded to Gary King and Debra King and recorded in Liber 387, folio 769, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, then with the boundary between King-Savage properties North 14 degrees 29 minutes 30 seconds East 197.92 feet to a stake and stone pile set on the Southwest margin of a 74 foot right-of-way (measured from centerline) of New U.S. Route 219 then running with said margin, North 58 degrees 55 minutes West 115.50 feet to an iron pin, then Northeast corner of Parcel #2, then with boundary between Parcels 2 and 3, South 31 degrees 05 minutes West 227.50 feet to the point of beginning, containing 0.7 acres, more or less.

EXCEPTING, HOWEVER, that portion, if any, of the above-described real estate which was heretofore conveyed to the State of Maryland for use of the State Roads Commission, by deed dated April 7, 1967 and recorded in Liber No. 278, folio 248, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, as shown on Plat Numbers 21545, 21546 and 31723, filed in the Plat Case File Numbers 204, 203 and 189, in the Office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

The above-described property (the "Property") being all the same property which was conveyed by the Grantor by the Deed of Trust dated and recorded as aforesaid.

TERMS OF SALE: The Property is being sold and will be conveyed free and clear of the lien of the above-referenced Deed of Trust and all subordinate liens and encumbrances. The Property is being sold and will be conveyed "As Is, Where Is", without recourse, together with and subject to all applicable conditions, restrictions, covenants, limitations, rights of way, streets, alleys, reservations, easements, and appurtenances of record and subject also to all environmental conditions affecting the Property, if any. The undersigned Substitute Trustee makes no warranties or representations, express or implied, with respect to any matters concerning the Property, included but not limited to, condition of the Property, matters of survey or title, tenancies or parties in possession, zoning compliance, housing or other governmental or regulatory violations, etc.

A deposit of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($25,000.00) (the "Deposit") will be required at the time of sale in cash or by certified check or other form of payment acceptable to the undersigned Substitute Trustee in the said Substitute Trustee's sole discretion; the balance to be paid upon ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland; except that no deposit shall be required of the holder of the note secured by the Deed of Trust (or any controlled affiliate of the holder; collectively hereinafter the "Holder") where the Holder bids on the Property at the sale and payment of the purchase price by the Holder shall be made by crediting the purchase price against the foreclosure costs and expenses and the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust. Interest shall accrue on the unpaid balance of the purchase price at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date of sale to the date of Court ratification, and at the rate of twenty percent (20%) per annum from the date of Court ratification to the date of settlement. No interest shall accrue on the Deposit. If the successful bidder (the "Purchaser") fails to make settlement within fifteen (15) days following the date of Court ratification, time being of the essence thereto, the entire Deposit may, at the option of the undersigned Substitute Trustee, be forfeited and retained as liquidated damages and notice of said forfeiture shall be provided to the Purchaser by the Substitute Trustee. If the Deposit is not forfeited as liquidated damages, but is instead retained by the Substitute Trustee in escrow pending resale of the Property, the Property may be resold by the Substitute Trustee at the risk and expense of the defaulting Purchaser, and the Deposit thereafter shall be applied as required to any subsequently realized loss of the Substitute Trustee by virtue of the default by the said Purchaser and the required resale of the Property including any expenses incidental thereto. All taxes, water, and other public charges and assessments shall be pro-rated on and as of the date of said sale and shall be assumed thereafter by the Purchaser. Following the date of sale, all risk of loss to the Property shall be assumed by the Purchaser. The Purchaser shall pay the cost of all recordation taxes, transfer taxes (including but not limited to that agricultural land transfer tax imposed by Maryland Tax Property Code §13-302; which said tax may be applicable to the sale and transfer of the Property), document preparation and other costs of settlement. Any and all rents due and payable after the date of sale (but excluding any rents due and payable through the date of sale) from leases of all or any portion of the Property will be received and held by the Substitute Trustee as an accommodation only for the benefit of purchaser pending closing with all of said rents to be credited to purchaser at closing without interest thereon or deduction therefrom. Notwithstanding the immediately preceding sentence, nothing therein contained shall be construed to oblige the Substitute Trustee affirmatively to collect said rents.As an express condition of sale, the Purchaser shall be required to execute at the time of sale a Substitute Trustee's Auction Contract for Sale of Real Property in that form which shall be available for inspection on the date of sale or which may be inspected in advance upon request to the undersigned Trustee or on-line at http://www.schlos-slaw.com/docs/swagat.contract.pdf. The Purchaser shall be entitled to physical possession of the Property only after settlement; however, the Substitute Trustee assumes no responsibility to place the Purchaser in such possession of the Property. The undersigned specifically reserves the right to reject any bids submitted. The Substitute Trustee reserves the right at the sale to vary, modify, alter or qualify any of the foregoing terms or conditions of sale.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEE'S SALE OF UNIMPROVED REAL ESTATE

14.71 acres, more or less, unimproved real estate along Route 219, McHenry, Maryland. By virtue of the power of sale contained in a Deed of Trust dated January 24, 2008, and recorded in Liber No. 1352, folio 0503, among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under its terms, I, Craig Ingram, Substitute Trustee, hereby give notice that I will, on at the Alder Street entrance of the Garrett County Court House, Oakland, Maryland, offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder the following property: 14.71 acres, more or less, unimproved real estate along Route 219, McHenry, Maryland. Being the same property as was conveyed by deed dated December 31, 2007 and recorded in Liber No. 1349, folio 0265, among said Land Records.

Friday, July 6, 2012, at the hour of 2:15 p.m.

Terms of Sale: Deposit of EIGHTEEN THOUSAND FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS ($18,400.00) will be required of Purchaser at the time and place of sale, such deposit to be cash, certified check or such other form as the Substitute Trustee may determine acceptable in his sole discretion. Balance to be payable by same method within fifteen (15) days after final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court, with interest on said balance from the date of sale to the date of actual receipt of funds by the Substitute Trustee at 7% per annum. There shall be no abatement of interest for any reason. Deposit not required if mortgagee is purchaser. Substitute Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to extend the time of settlement at his discretion. Property is sold in "AS IS" condition. The Substitute Trustee makes no representations and/or warranty whatsoever regarding the title or any other matter with respect to the property, either express or implied, including but not limited to: the nature, condition, quality and quantity of the land, suitability of use and/or purpose, description of the property and/or improvements. The Property will be sold subject to all natural gas rights, easements, conditions, liens, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, encumbrances and agreements of record affecting the same, and such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection of the Property might disclose. The Property will be sold subject to all existing building, zoning, wetland, and environmental problems and or violations which may exist on or with respect to the Property, if any. Purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss with respect to the Property as of the time of sale. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining possession of the property. Taxes, public charges and assessments will be adjusted to the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the Purchaser. All costs of conveyance and settlement, including incidental settlement costs, including transfer taxes and recordation taxes, shall be paid by Purchaser. Time is of the essence as to Purchaser. In the event the Purchaser fails to settle as required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available, Substitute Trustee may declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and expense of Purchaser. In such event, Purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney fees, and all other charges due. In the event that Substitute Trustee is unable to convey marketable title, or, in the event the Mortgagor entered into a repayment plan, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to sale, or if for any other reason, Substitute Trustee did not have the right to sell the property, the sale is null and void and Purchaser is not entitled to any legal or equitable remedy, other than the return of the deposit, without interest and any and all other claims of the Purchaser are hereby released. Other terms and conditions may be announced at the sale. The information contained herein is offered for informational purposes only. It is Purchaser's obligation to obtain an independent investigation of the Property. SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEE'S SALE OF IMPROVED RESIDENTIAL REAL ESTATE

.46 acres, more or less, with improvements known as 4323 Chestnut Ridge Road, Grantsville, Maryland. By virtue of the power of sale contained in a Deed of Trust dated April 23, 2004 and recorded in Liber No. 1038, folio 322, among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under its terms, I, Craig Ingram, Substitute Trustee, hereby give notice that I will, on at the Alder Street entrance of the Garrett County Court House, Oakland, Maryland, offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder the following property: .46 acres, more or less, with improvements known as 4323 Chestnut Ridge Road, Grantsville, Maryland. The home is assessed as having 972 square feet. Being the same property as was conveyed by deed dated August 21, 1992 and recorded in Liber No. 590, folio 0234, among said Land Records.

Terms of Sale: Deposit of ONE THOUSAND FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS ($1,400.00) will be required of Purchaser at the time and place of sale, such deposit to be cash, certified check or such other form as the Substitute Trustee may determine acceptable in his sole discretion. Balance to be payable by same method within fifteen (15) days after final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court, with interest on said balance from the date of sale to the date of actual receipt of funds by the Substitute Trustee at 7% per annum. There shall be no abatement of interest for any reason. Deposit not required if mortgagee is purchaser. Substitute Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to extend the time of settlement at his discretion. Property is sold in "AS IS" condition. The Substitute Trustee makes no representations and/or warranty whatsoever regarding the title or any other matter with respect to the property, either express or implied, including but not limited to: the nature, condition, quality and quantity of the land, suitability of use and/or purpose, description of the property and/or improvements. The Property will be sold subject to all natural gas rights, easements, conditions, liens, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, encumbrances and agreements of record affecting the same, and such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection of the Property might disclose. The Property will be sold subject to all existing building, zoning, wetland, and environmental problems and or violations which may exist on or with respect to the Property, if any. Purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss with respect to the Property as of the time of sale. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining possession of the property. Taxes, public charges and assessments will be adjusted to the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the Purchaser. All costs of conveyance and settlement, including incidental settlement costs, including transfer taxes and recordation taxes, shall be paid by Purchaser. Time is of the essence as to Purchaser. In the event the Purchaser fails to settle as required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available, Substitute Trustee may declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and expense of Purchaser. In such event, Purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney fees, and all other charges due. In the event that Substitute Trustee is unable to convey marketable title, or, in the event the Mortgagor entered into a repayment plan, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to sale, or if for any other reason, Substitute Trustee did not have the right to sell the property, the sale is null and void and Purchaser is not entitled to any legal or equitable remedy, other than the return of the deposit, without interest and any and all other claims of the Purchaser are hereby released. Other terms and conditions may be announced at the sale. The information contained herein is offered for informational purposes only. It is Purchaser's obligation to obtain an independent investigation of the Property. The Note Holder and Substitute Trustee do not make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of this information and Purchaser holds them harmless from same.

SUBSTITUTED TRUSTEES' SALE OF REAL PROPERTY KNOWN AS NO. 36 LEE LANE FRIENDSVILLE, MD 21531 CASE NUMBER 11-C-12-012458

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a Deed of Trust from Beatrice B. Artice and Barbara Jane Oravitz recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber 1188, folio 539, and Declaration of Substitution of Trustees recorded among the aforementioned Land Records substituting Thomas P. Dore, Mark S. Devan, Gerard F. Miles Jr., Shannon Menapace, and Erin Gloth as Substituted Trustees, the Substituted Trustees will offer for sale at public auction, at the Courthouse Door, Alder Street entrance, Oakland, Maryland on Monday, July 2, 2012, at 03:20 p.m.

All that lot of ground and the improvements thereon situate in Garrett County, State of Maryland, as described in the Deed of Trust recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, in Liber 1188, folio 539, also being further described in a Deed recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber 1024, folio 776. The improvements thereon consist of a dwelling.

The property will be sold in "AS IS" condition, subject to any existing building violations, restrictions and agreements of record. Neither the Substituted Trustees nor their respective agents, successors or assigns make any representations or warranties, either expressed or implied with respect to the property. The Substituted Trustees shall convey insurable title.

TERMS OF THE SALE: A deposit in a form acceptable to the Substituted Trustee in the amount of $7,000.00 will be required of the purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns, at the time and place of sale. Unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, the balance of the purchase price shall be paid immediately with available funds within twenty (20) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Time is of the essence. The purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns, shall pay interest at the rate of 7.12500% per annum on the unpaid portion of the purchase price from the date of sale to date of settlement. Real property taxes and assessments shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser, unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, in which case, no adjustments shall be made. Ground rent, water and/or sewer charges public or private, if any, shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser, unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, in which case, no adjustments shall be made. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property.

In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. If the purchaser defaults, the entire deposit is forfeited. The Substituted Trustees shall resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorney fees, all other charges due, and incidental and consequential damages.

In the event the Substituted Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser's sole remedy is return of the deposit. The Substituted Trustees shall have the right to terminate this contract in the event the Holder or its Servicer has entered into any agreement with, or accepted funds from, the mortgagor. Upon termination of the contract, Purchaser's sole remedy shall be return of the deposit.

PARCEL TWO

ALL that real property situate in Election District No. 18, Garrett County, Maryland, shown and designated as Lot No. 2, on the plat of Highline Subdivision, Section 8, recorded in Plat Case DKM 2, page 76, among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

BEING a part of the same property as was conveyed by deed to the Grantor dated January 2, 2003 and recorded in Liber 941 at page 0065, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

According to the Maryland State Department of Assessments and Taxation, Parcel Two has an Account Number of 18-069547.

TERMS OF SALE: Parcel One and Parcel Two shall be offered as separate parcels and then together. The sale(s) bringing the highest bid(s) shall prevail. A deposit in the amount of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00), payable by bank cashier's check, will be required of the purchaser at the time and place of sale. The balance of the purchase price, together with interest thereon at the rate of ten percent (10%) per annum from the date of sale to the date of settlement, shall be due from the purchaser to the Substitute Trustee by bank cashier's check within twenty (20) days following the final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, unless such closing deadline is extended in writing by the Substitute Trustee. Time is of the essence. Settlement shall be held at the offices of Jackson Kelly, PLLC, 310 West Burke Street, Martinsburg, WV 25402, or such other place as may be agreed to by the Substitute Trustee. In the event that the beneficiary under the Deed of Trust, or an affiliate or subsidiary thereof, is the successful bidder at the sale, such party will not be required to make any deposit required hereunder or to pay interest on the unpaid purchase money. The Substitute Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids at the sale, and to extend the time for settlement, at his discretion.

The Property is being sold in an "AS IS" condition and without any warranties or representations, either express or implied, as to the nature, condition, value, use or description of the Property or any improvements thereon. The Property will also be sold subject to: (i) all senior liens and encumbrances that are not extinguished by operation of law by the foreclosure sale of the Property; (ii) all easements, equitable servitudes, conditions, rights of way, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, restrictive covenants, declarations, documents establishing homeowners' association(s) and any other agreements, matters or restrictions of record affecting the Property; (iii) all existing zoning code violations, encroachments, and critical area and wetland violations; (iv) all environmental problems, conditions or hazards which may exist on or with respect to the Property; and (v) such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection of the Property might disclose.

All real estate taxes, assessments, water charges, county or municipal charges, homeowners' association charges and senior liens that are owed against the Property and that are not extinguished by the foreclosure sale of the Property, and the cost of all recordation fees and taxes, document preparation costs, transfer taxes, title examination costs, attorneys' fees and other costs associated with conveying the Property to the purchaser, shall be the sole responsibility of the purchaser and shall be paid for by the purchaser at settlement. The purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss for the Property immediately after the sale takes place. It shall be the purchaser's responsibility to obtain possession of the Property after the closing.

In the event that the purchaser fails to go to settlement as required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available to the Substitute Trustee, the Substitute Trustee may declare the aforementioned deposit forfeited and resell the Property at the purchaser's sole risk and expense. In such event, the defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price sustained by the Substitute Trustee and/or the Noteholder, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorneys' fees, and any other damages sustained by the Substitute Trustee and/or the Noteholder, including, without limitation, all incidental damages. If the Substitute Trustee is unable to convey the Property as described above, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be limited to a refund of the aforementioned deposit, without interest thereon. Upon refund of the deposit to the purchaser as aforesaid, the sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claim against the Substitute Trustee, the Noteholder or the auctioneer conducting the sale of the Property, if any. The parties' respective rights and obligations regarding the terms and conduct of the sale shall be governed by the laws of the State of Maryland.

The information contained herein was obtained from sources deemed to be reliable, but is offered for informational purposes only. The auctioneer, if any, the Noteholder and the Substitute Trustee do not make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of this information.

Grantsville Days Parade Winners Are Announced

The Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department has announced the winners of Friday's Grantsville Days Parade. The categories and prize winners are as follows:

High School Band – Northern High School, first prize ($200).

Twirling Group – Keystone Twirlettes, first ($125), and Lil' Raiders, second ($100).

Best Appearing Commercial Float – Pine Accents, first (trophy), and First United Bank & Trust, second (trophy).

Best Appearing Noncommerical Float – Grantsville 4-H, first ($100); Country Fest, second ($75); and Bear Creek Church of the Brethren, third ($50).

Road Tractor Or Tractor Trailer (trophies awarded) – Ernest R. Yoder, first, and Regis and Louise McKenzie, second.

Tri-axle-Tandem Or Straight Truck (trophies awarded) – Rigidply Rafters, first, and Cumberland Towing, second.

Best Looking Pick-up 20 Years Or Newer – Shaun Uphole, first, and Tyler Wilt, second.

TWO BIG EVENTS AT GRANTSVILLE DAYS were the annual tractor pull, shown above (photo by Gerry Beachy), and a concert by the Fabulous Hubcaps. Hundreds came out for both events, with the largest crowd of the weekend in attendance for the band, shown below. (Photo by Lisa Broadwater.) The celebration, which was the 35th annual Grantsville Days, included parades, fireworks, games and activities for families, and lots of food.

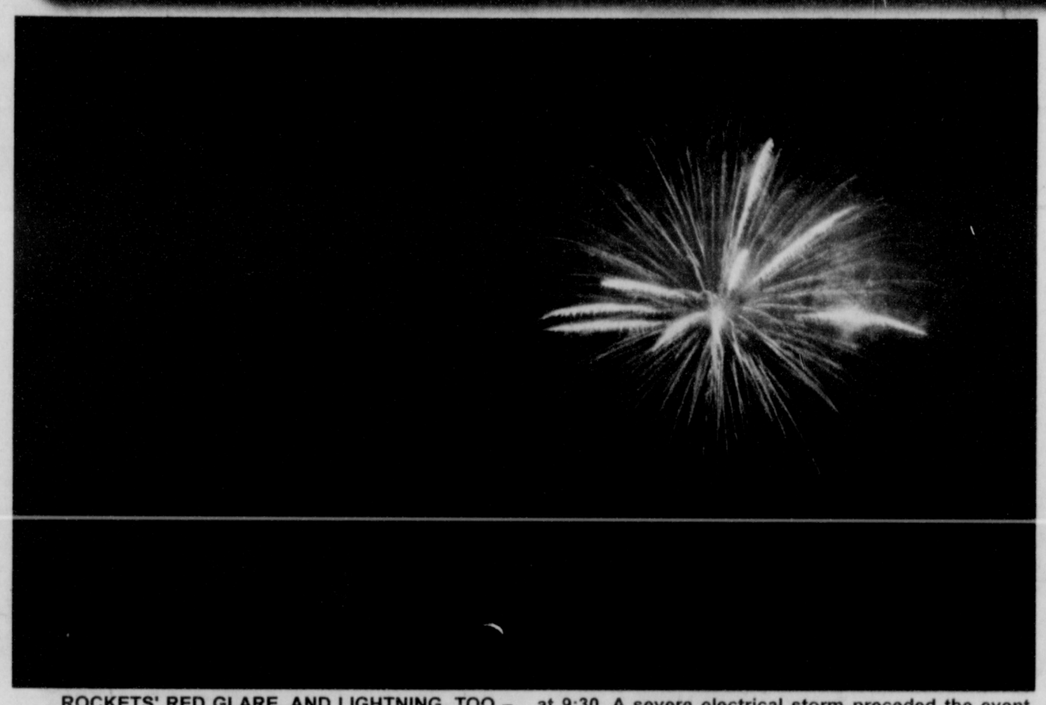
ALL HAIL BROKE LOOSE last evening just as festivities for the July 4th holiday were getting under way. An intense and damaging storm hit the Deep Creek Lake area at about 7:15 p.m., bringing high winds, torrential rain, and marble-sized hail. (And that's shooter marbles, not the little ones.) The storm went on for more than 30 minutes, absolutely inundating the food tables at the Deep Creek Marina, which was offering a customer appreciation event. The food, catered by Wisp, was suddenly mostly soup, as shown, as the severe weather descended. The annual Independence Day celebration at Garrett College by the Garrett Community Concert Band and the Garrett Choral Society was both abbreviated and relocated because of the storm. The performers and audience went into the college gymnasium, which is conveniently a storm protection area, and the program commenced inside. There is surely damage today in gardens and yards, as the hail was severe and the wind quite strong. Photo by Fabian Green.



ROCKETS' RED GLARE, AND LIGHTNING, TOO – Both man-made explosions and nature's own display were featured in the annual Fire On the Mountain July 4th fireworks last night at Wisp. The sky was quite alive with fireworks and lightning, as captured in this photograph, and had in fact just cleared enough for the show to begin at 9:30. A severe electrical storm preceded the event, bringing hail and high winds (see additional picture). But the show did go on, and thousands were able to watch and provide the appropriate "oohs and aahs." Happy Independence Day, America! Photo by Fabian Green.

Oakland Man Dies In Tree-Cutting Accident

A local timberer was killed Monday in an apparent fall from a tree he was trimming. Randy W. Sisler, 46, was pronounced dead at Garrett County Memorial Hospital following the 3:30 p.m. accident that happened along Silver Tree Lane at Glendale Road, Deep Creek Lake.

Sisler, who owned and operated the Oakland Timberjax Tree Service, was working with a four-man crew, reportedly to trim trees damaged in Friday night's storm. He was at least 50 feet above the ground when for unknown reasons he fell. Because he was an experienced timberer and the nature of his fall was deemed unusual, possibly caused by a medical episode of some kind, his body was sent away for an autopsy, according to family members.

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office investigated the

10-Year-Old Loses Life In Two-Car Accident In G'ville

The death of a 10-year-old Accident girl was the result of a two-vehicle accident along Rt. 495 just south of Rt. 40, Grantsville. Maryland State Police responded to the 4:45 p.m. scene.

Investigation revealed that Joseph Garrett, 36, Friendsville, had been operating a 2000 Ford pickup truck south on Rt. 495, when his truck struck the rear of a 2004 Pontiac mini van driven by Julia Yoder, 25, Accident. Yoder's vehicle was stopped to make a left hand turn off of Rt. 495. The mini van held six juveniles ranging in age from 3 to 12.

A 10-year-old female juvenile was flown by MSP Trooper 5 to Ruby Memorial, Hospital, Morgantown, W.Va., where she succumbed to her injuries on Sunday. Two other juveniles were transported via ambulance to Ruby Memorial.

Maryland State Police Crash Team, Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department, Northern Rescue Squad, personnel from the State Highway Administration, and State's Attorney Lisa Thayer Welch all responded to the scene. Rt. 495 was closed for approximately 5 hours while the investigation was conducted. The accident remains under investigation by MSP.

A full obituary for Bethany A. Yoder appears on Page A-6 of this section.

Garrett County Public Safety Director Reports On June 29 Storm, Aftermath

Garrett County suffered "some of the most extensive damage we've seen from a storm event," reported Brad Frantz, director of Garrett County Public Safety and Emergency Management, during a special briefing for the county commissioners on Tuesday morning.

A derecho – a rare string of powerful storms with intense lightening, rain, and hurricane-force winds–swept through the Midwest and mid-Atlantic region Friday (June 29) evening. According to some accounts, at least 22 people were killed, 5 million were left without power, and billions of dollars worth of damages occurred.

"We were quite fortunate that there were not more structures that had impact," Frantz said. "We had one reported on Savage River Road that was significant damage."

Three trees fell on a home, one of which landed in a bedroom. The house was insured, according to Frantz.

The director said 1,114 county electric power customers remained without service as of Tuesday at 7 a.m., but he anticipated that power would be restored to most of these customers by the end of the day.

As of Thursday morning, Potomac Edison reports that 140 Garrett County residences are still without power. Those without electricity in surrounding counties are as follows: Allegany, 1,225; Preston 2,421; Tucker 185; Grant 117; Mineral, 117; and Somerset, 7.

Utility companies have been working around the clock, since the storm hit Garrett County at 8:20 p.m. on June 29, Frantz said. Potomac Edison reported 147,000 of its area customers had lost power from the storm.

Frantz noted that nearly every fire department in the county spent the weekend clearing roads of trees and debris, and as of Monday, all roads in the county were open.

Cooling centers/shelters were established Saturday morning and remain available this week to residents at the Friendsville Volunteer Fire Department, the Deer Park Community Volunteer Fire Department, and the Southern Garrett Rescue Squad hall, according to Frantz.

At the impact of the sudden storm – with winds exceeding 65 miles per hour in some areas, according to Potomac Edison – Frantz said telephone calls into 9-1-1 were 300-400 percent above normal call volume.

"On a normal day, we might see 75 calls," he said.

The director said local dispatchers handled some 200 calls in just a three-hour period on Friday, and, all told, 600 for the weekend.

Commission board chairman Jim Raley praised Frantz and the staff of the county's emergency management staff, who immediately responded to the crisis. Raley was at the Garrett County Historical Society event at the Pleasant Valley Community Center when the storm hit on Friday evening.

"I saw the aftermath of the storm," Raley said about traveling from the center to his home in Finzel after the event. "Hats off to all the volunteers."

Frantz noted that, at times during and after the storm, Garrett County sheriff's deputies helped answer emergency calls.

"We saw the benefits of consolidation," the director said about the recent joining of the county's 9-1-1 and sheriff dispatch offices, noting that any "warm body" that could was picking up a phone.

Frantz said he did not know if Maryland's official State of Emergency would yield a federal disaster declaration, which would open up the potential for federal assistance for damages.

If county residents have storm damages, they are asked to report them to Frantz's office.

"Because if we get a disaster declaration, we want to compile as much information as possible," he told the commissioners.

For more information, persons may call the GC Department of Public Safety and Emergency Management at 301-334-1929.

Kitzmiller Charter School Initiative Inc. Requests Use Of Former KES Building

A group of Kitzmiller area residents met with the Garrett County commissioners on Tuesday morning to discuss their plans to start a public charter school and learning cooperative. They requested use of the former Kitzmiller Elementary School for those initiatives.

"We believe that our students in Kitzmiller deserve to go to school in their own community," said group spokesperson/town councilman Matt Paugh.

Faced with significant state funding cuts in recent and upcoming years, the local board of education recently decided to close Dennett Road and Kitzmiller elementary schools, effective this fall. The board had previously closed Bloomington Elementary School as a cost-saving measure.

When the new school year begins next month, former Dennett Road students will attend either Broad Ford, Yough Glades, or Crellin elementary schools, while Kitzmiller students will be redistricted to Broad Ford. The Dennett Road and Kitzmiller school buildings will eventually revert to Garrett County government.

"While no one questions that our children will receive a quality education at Broad Ford Elementary, or at any other school in the county, we truly believe that a smaller school closer to home is going to be the most beneficial to our students," Paugh said.

He also indicated that the town's strategic plan, well-being, and sense of community all hinge on having a school in Kitzmiller.

After learning in April that Kitzmiller Elementary would be closed, a group of concerned residents met in early May to discuss various options for keeping students and some type of educational system in the town, including establishing a private religious school, private nonsectarian school, homeschooling cooperative, and/or a public charter school.

"We've formed a nonprofit organization called the Kitzmiller Charter School Initiative Inc. and submitted our letter of interest to interim superintendent Sue Waggoner on June 8," Paugh said.

The group has not heard back from the Garrett County Board of Education yet, he noted, possibly because it was waiting for the new superintendent, Dr. Janet Wilson, to come on board.

Paugh said public charter schools are designed and operated not by a school board, but by a group of founders, which include parents, educators, and community leaders who have flexibility in deciding budgets, curriculum, and teaching methods. In addition, charter schools are tuition free and open to the public, employe certified teachers, and participate in state testing requirements.

The Maryland State Department of Education web site notes that state law:

- Allows new start-up schools and existing public schools to become charter schools..
- Identifies the local board of education as the primary authorizer of charter schools.
- Identifies the state board of education serve as a secondary authorizer as a result of an appeal decision or for a restructured school.
- Requires that charter schools receive funding that is commensurate to funding received by other public schools.
- Gives charter schools the right to appeal decisions made by local boards of education.
- Requires that charter schools have a right to appeal decisions made by local boards of education.
- Requires that charter school employees are public school employees of the local school board.
- Requires that local school boards adopt a charter school policy.

The Kitzmiller Charter School application must be submitted to the local BOE by Sept. 1 in order to begin operation in the 2013-2014 school year. Dr. Brenda McCartney, former BOE assistant superintendent, is helping the Kitzmiller group with the application process, which Paugh described as rigorous.

McCartney said she would be meeting with Dr. Wilson to discuss the concepts of the proposed charter school.

The BOE will turn the KES facility over to the county within the next few months, and the commissioners have been discussing how to handle the issue. They recently met with Ruth Enlow Library and Community Action officials about the possibility of keeping/maintaining the building as a library, Head Start, and senior congregate meal site.

McCartney asked the commissioners to consider allowing the charter school to use the building as well. The group would like to use three classrooms, have access to the media center and cafetorium, and have some office space.

"All of that is our initial thought, based on our survey of some parents," McCartney said. "We believe we'll start with between 50 and 60 students in the building. So, we would expect to open with three blended classrooms – [grades] K-1, 2-3, and 4-5."

She added that the Kitzmiller group, as it goes through the application process, also wants to maintain the option of adding grades 6–8 in the future, depending on the school's enrollment and success. Future plans may also include adding Bloomington

SHA To Begin Oak Street Paving Proj. This Sunday Night

The Maryland State Highway Administration (SHA) will begin a resurfacing project this Sunday, July 8, on both U.S. Rt. 219 (East Oak Street and South 3rd Street) and Md. Rt. 39 (East Oak Street) in Oakland.

SHA will mill, resurface, and restripe Rt. 219 between 8th Street and Center Street, as well as Rt. 39 from South 3rd Street to the Little Youghiogheny River Bridge. Weather permitting, the project will be complete by the end of July.

Motorists should anticipate lane closures on both routes between 5 p.m. and 5 a.m. Sunday evenings through Friday mornings. No parking will be permitted on Rt. 219 from 8th Street to Center Street between 4 p.m. and 6 a.m. Sunday evenings through Friday mornings.

SHA will use variable message boards, temporary signs, cones, and barrels, along with flagging operations to guide motorists through the work zone.

According to SHA, more than 15,000 vehicles per day use Rt. 219, and about 6,000 vehicles per day use Rt. 39 in the project area, so motorists should prepare for delays.

SHA awarded the $4.5 million contract to Keystone Lime of Springs, Pa. Customers who have questions about

Chesapeake Bay Restoration Fee To Increase On July 1

The Garrett County commissioners are reminding local property owners and visitors about two issues: the increase in the Chesapeake Bay Restoration Fee ("flush tax") and the new security system at the courthouse.

A change in the Chesapeake Bay Restoration Fee has taken place for the tax year beginning on July 1. Legislation was passed this year in the Maryland General Assembly, doubling the fee from $30 to $60 annually for properties whose on site sewage disposal systems (septic system) are located within the Chesapeake Bay Watershed and for properties that are connected to either a public water and/or sewer system and whose wastewater is treated by a facility that discharges in the watershed.

For properties that have a septic system and a private water supply, the fee will be reflected on the owners' annual property tax bills.

For those properties located within the watershed that are connected to either a public water and/or sewer system, this fee change equates to an increase from $2.50 to $5 per month, or $7.50 per to $15 per quarter. The Bay Restoration Fee will be reflected on the quarterly water/sewer bill for properties connected to a public water and/or sewer system.

"The county has made every possible attempt to accurately assess the correct fees for every Garrett County property tax account," county administrator Monty Pagenhardt. "If you believe the Bay Restoration Fee that you are billed is in error, please contact the Garrett County Department of Financial Services at 301-334-8985 or by e-mail at bayrestorationfee@garrettcounty.org.

Residents and visitors are also reminded that they must use the Alder Street entrance when conducting business at the county courthouse in Oakland.

A new security system has been installed in the courthouse building, and individuals must pass through security upon entering the building. Handicapped individuals may use the entrance located off the alley between St. Paul's United Methodist Church and the courthouse.

Arrested After Allegedly Stealing, Pawning Jewelry

A West Virginia woman was arrested Thursday by detectives with the Garrett Bureau of Investigation on felony theft charges.

Ashley Christine Shaffer, 23, Short Gap, was arrested on the strength of an arrest warrant stemming from an investigation in which she is accused of stealing approximately $9,000 worth of jewelry from a Finzel residence over a period of two months to which she was voluntarily invited. Earlier this month, several pieces of stolen jewelry were recovered from pawn shops in Frostburg, Cumberland, and West Virginia.

Shaffer was taken to the Garrett County Jail and later released on $2,500 bond.

Three Arrested Following Traffic Stop On I-68

Maryland State Police arrested three out-of-town drivers following a stop on I-68 in Grantsville Sunday morning.

Police stopped a 2012 Chrysler Town & Country van bearing Kentucky registration for speeding. As troopers were conducting the investigation, multiple criminal indicators were observed. A K-9 scan of the vehicle resulted in a positive alert and revealed approximately 700 cartons of untaxed cigarettes being transported from Louisville, Ky., to New York, N.Y. The suspects were identified as Mohamed Diol, 25, Columbus, Ohio, and Cherif Diallo, 25, and Hawa Kanoute, 21, both of New York City. The value of the untaxed cigarettes was estimated to be $40,000.

All three were charged with illegal transport of untaxed cigarettes. The Maryland Comptrollers Office also assisted with the investigation.

TEAM WINS 13 OUT OF 32 AT FLA. COMPETITION – The local Garrett County MATE Underwater Robotics Team recently traveled to Orlando, Fla., for the 2012 MATE International ROV Competition. The Project Phenix Team competed in the Ranger class for middle and high school students. There were also Explorer college level teams in attendance. The event was held in the Central Florida YMCA facility, where gold medalist Michael Phelps and other Olympians have trained. The team participated in an evening kick-off reception, where members talked to other teams, industry professionals, and judges about their ROV poster and experiences. The team had two rounds in the pool. Its ROV was built to simulate a debris inspection and oil recovery from a World War II shipwreck. The team placed 13 out of 32 Ranger teams on the ROV missions and second on its technical presentation. The awards program was held following a pirate dinner theater show for the MATE participants and families. The team brought home the Robot Design Elegance Award for the simplicity and functionality of its ROV. The judges liked the unique custom components the team designed using Autodesk Inventor and then printed using a rapid prototyping machine (or 3-D printer). The team received a $100 Home Depot gift card from the Gulf Coast Marine Technology Society and a Robot Builder's Bonanza book sponsored by the Monterey Bay Aquarium Research Institute. The team currently has its award-winning robot on display at the Smithsonian Folklife Festival in Washington, D.C. Many of the team members and families have been volunteering at the University of Maryland 4-H Robot booth at the festival. The team plans to use its robot to explore local lakes and ponds. Those who have a community project or mission for the team, may contact Phil Malone at 301-387-2331. Above, beginning with the front row, are dinner show cast member Sonny Dornburg, Levi Lantz, Alex Miske, and dinner show cast member Scott Brenneman. Second row: MTS director Kevin Haenftling, Kevin Maust, and Brandon Tichnell. Back row: Kendrick Bender, Zach Frick, and Aaron Lantz. Below, team members Zach, Alex, Levi, Sonny, and Kevin work together to create a new attachment for the robot to remove coral from the shipwreck.

Minor Injuries Sustained After Major Collision

Three people escaped major injury last Friday, when a passenger vehicle was struck by a tractor trailer at the intersection of Rt. 495 and North Glade Road, Swanton. Maryland State Police, Northern and Southern rescue squads, Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department and personnel from the Maryland State Highway Administration all responded to the scene.

Investigation revealed that William J. Grady, 18, Seven Springs, N.C., was stopped in a 2005 Ford Escape SUV on North Glade Road at the intersection, when he pulled out onto Rt. 495 in front of a 2001 Kenworth W900 tractor trailer driven by Robert Shroyer Jr., 37, Johnstown, Pa. The tractor trailer struck the rear of the Ford, causing it to spin out into a nearby field. Grady and two female juvenile passengers, ages 13 and 15, were transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital for treatment of non-life-threatening injuries. Schroyer was uninjured.

Grady was cited for failure to stop and yield right of way.

MSP Seeking Info On Stolen Snow-Mobile Trailer

Maryland State Police are investigating the theft of a snowmobile trailer from a McHenry residence.

Sometime between March 17 and June 28, unknown suspect(s) removed a 2010 Superior cargo snowmobile trailer from a home at 2030 Deep Creek Drive. The trailer is black in color with modifications on the rear tailgate of black plastic skids and a rubberized mat in the center of the tailgate. It was bearing a Maryland registration 71112TL and VIN# 4M8US1017AD001084.

Anyone with information regarding this incident is asked to contact Senior Trooper J. Schlossnagle, MSP McHenry Barrack, at 301-387-1101.

BOE Slates July Meeting

The Garrett County Board of Education will hold its next regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, July 10, beginning at 4 p.m. The meeting will be held at the Board of Education's central office in downtown Oakland.

The meeting will open with public comment before the board enters its closed session, which is scheduled to run until 6 p.m. Following the closed session, public agenda topics will involve action on the vehicle fleet insurance bid award.

Information items on the agenda are BOE policies concerning ethics and pupil transportation, bus contracts, the Summer Reading Program, and the paper bid award.

A second session for public comment and participation on any topic will be set aside at 7 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Lonaconing Man Sentenced For Assault Charge

A 29-year-old Lonaconing man was found guilty of second degree assault following a jury trial in Garrett County Circuit Court on Tuesday. Judge Jim Sherbin then sentenced Mark William Myers to three years in the Division of Corrections, to be served consecutively to a two-year sentence he is serving for unlawful taking of a motor vehicle.

In September, Maryland State Police arrested Myers on a warrant, charging burglary, theft, and the unlawful taking of a motor vehicle. During his appearance in the District Court Commissioner's Office in Oakland, Myers became irate when advised of the bail bond being required for that case and ultimately lunged at the commissioner, the state's attorney said.

The troopers who had transported Myers to the initial appearance restrained Myers and obtained the additional assault charge.

Streak Is Intact...

What a week it has been. We are fortunate to even put a newspaper on the street today, given the recent power/telephone/fax/Internet outages as a result of the storm that hit the mountaintop last Friday evening. America's 236th birthday falling right smack in the middle of the week was the icing on the cake.

Operations were virtually dead in the water here at our main office in Oakland on Monday, as our communication with the community was essentially nonexistent. Folks could not call us, and we could not call them. Obviously, there was no faxing capability either. Worse yet, we had no e-mail nor Internet capabilities. We were, however, extremely fortunate to have electricity, unlike many Garrett County residents and those in surrounding West Virginia counties. Power has yet to be restored to the homes of three of our employees who reside in the Cranesville area.

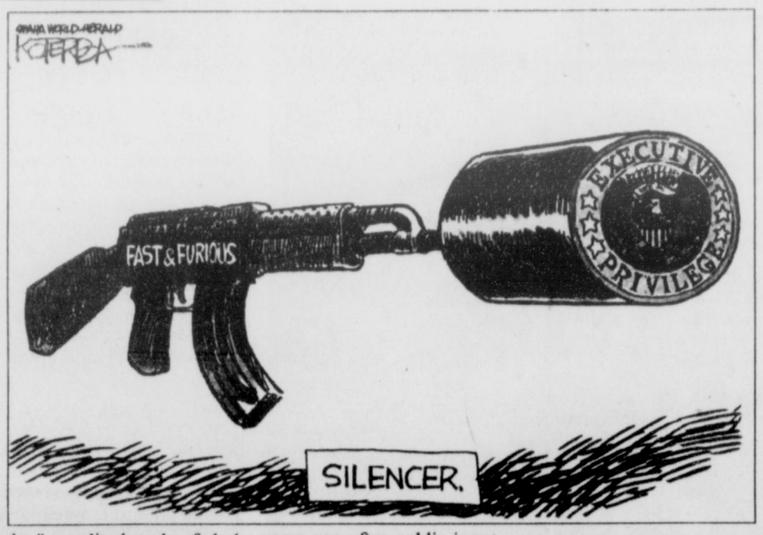
There could not be a worse day than Wednesday as a national holiday for those of us who publish a weekly on Thursdays. We get along just fine when holidays are on Fridays and Mondays. Tuesdays are not too bad for us, as we still have a full day of work (Wednesday) to get our paper out on Thursday. When a holiday falls on Thursday, we publish on Wednesday, which is a bit of a push, but is certainly doable.

As for a few additional problems, as if the above were not enough, the sudden, tragic death of a good friend of our assistant editor made things far more miserable for her this week. Then the computer that was used to type this column was "locked up" this morning and was once again unable to send or receive e-mail.

Among the thoughts that come to mind during such crises are how dependent so many of us are on the technology of the day in order to produce our product. As is the experience with most people who utilize computer technology in their work, when it is suddenly rendered useless, there are few options available to accomplish the task at hand. We take so much for granted until it is not there.

Yet such experiences also result in creativity, as the brains of all involved quickly depart from the taken-for-granted mode and collectively figure out what to do. Fortunately, our Grantsville office did have all of its usual communication capabilities on Monday, and the nearby residences of some of our employees were also able to send and receive e-mails. Thus through some roundabout ways we were able to stay connected to the outside world, and obtain the information. We were also saved by the fact that phone and e-mail capabilities were restored by Tuesday morning.

Such circumstances also make one wonder what the employees of this office did, say, 100 years ago when a major storm took out electric and telephone lines, especially on a Wednesday or Thursday. That was a time when quick fixes of such things were simply unavailable. But they, too, were somehow able to compensate, in ways we can't even imagine. They figured it out, because as far as we know, there has never been a single week since the first issue the first week of March 1877 that The Republican did not get published. We are glad that the streak was not broken today.



Letters to the Editor

Writers of letters to the editor are reminded that letters will not be published if they exceed 400 words, do not include contact information, and/or are deemed to be libelous. All letters must be type written or submitted via e-mail.

To the Editor:

The Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, with funding from us, the taxpayers, should be prudent in spending our money. Our hard-earned money. One would at least expect that scientific facts would play into their decision in what to support, what to write, and how to "educate" us.

Were it not for volunteer, hard-working, committed souls like Paul Roberts, I shudder to think where we would be led. Is the chamber aware of its inaccurate reporting? Whether this is politics at its best – or at its worst – depends on how you define politics.

Ruth Yoder
Grantsville

To the Editor:

Perhaps Marcellus shale gas drilling will have as much a positive impact on tourism in Garrett County as the windmills did. One on my uncles from out of the area (who owns a vacation cottage here) commented that if he wanted to see windmills he would have "gone to Holland, not Deep Creek."

Wonder how he will feel when football field-sized gas drilling areas are installed with tall steam stacks that blast fire all night long. Or how when road infrastructure becomes torn and unsafe from all the increased truck traffic? Perhaps he will be able to show his grandchildren a neat show when he ignites his faucet water with a match since it is now loaded with methane gas (and other pollutants).

The chamber of commerce is publicly funded to do one thing – serve the people who fund them. With their "white paper" they, like many public entities, have done the exact opposite. They have taken the side of multi-national gas companies that will likely export Maryland's gas to foreign nations with power grids to support natural gas energy as a means of creating electricity for the masses. It's as if the chamber of commerce were trying to sell the idea of Marcellus shale gas drilling. They want it done safely; they just don't want to wait on the testing that will show how to do that. It's like saying, "I want to jump into this bubbly water, but I don't want to check the temperature to see if it's boiling."

Garrett County and Deep Creek Lake are four-season vacation destinations. We are lucky, as many regions cannot offer the diversity of activities and fun that is available here. If a large gas corporation rolls in, ruins our water, tears up our mountainside and ground, and poisons our skies, all that recreational value may go the way of the dinosaur – all because people who wanted to get rich quick on a gas lease were too impatient to wait for some actual, impartial science to be applied and studies to be completed.

Jeremy Gosnell
Oakland

To the Editor:

"For a community that is so environmentally conscious and touts sustainability, we believe that Garrett County is perfectly suited to be a leader in supplying natural gas to the eastern continental United States."

So reads a main premise in the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce's recently published white paper on shale gas development.

It's rather incredible that the chamber – conspicuously silent on county school closings and the state wealth formula impact – feels duty-bound to publish a document urging expedited shale development so full of economic hyperbole when serious risks remain. To say that Garrett County has natural gas enough to become a "leader" for the eastern U.S. when far wider swaths of shale exist in neighboring states is quite enough, but to further suggest that being environmentally conscious is consistent with the "expedited study of shale gas development" and extraction is really a stretch.

The chamber and everyone vested in Garrett County need instead to keenly focus on another passage in the chamber's paper: "safe and responsible shale gas development in Maryland." Safe and responsible cannot just be assumed. It must mean judicious development of enforceable protections to ensure land and water are kept safe. It also means honest, intelligent assessments – which do take time – conclude that real risks weighed against real rewards are indeed in the long-term interests of the entire county.

To date, shale development has dangerously resembled the subprime mortgage meltdown that led to the nation's financial crisis. There, we had unscrupulous mortgage brokers selling loans to either unqualified or greedy buyers. We had the government pushing "affordable housing" for nearly everyone, backed by federal guarantees, but no regulation behind such policy. All the while, large banks collected exorbitant fees by packaging these risky loans and selling them off to institutional investors.

In our region, we know "land men" have routinely sold pennies-on-the-dollar mineral rights contracts to landowners who are told everyone else has already signed; inadequate regulations are in place to safely govern shale development; private security firms have been hired by energy companies to enforce the fine print of these contentious contracts; faulty compressor stations and water contamination have been reported; and, no adequate state disposal sites exist.

I, too, was once a proponent of expedited shale development. After doing the homework, I have come to know better. The chamber should too. "Measure twice, cut once."

Sincerely,
Fred Fox

To the Editor:

As someone who attended last Tuesday's commissioners' meeting, I have a few comments that I think will clear up some of the reasons for the "gridlock" that occured, but first let me say this.

Commissioner Gatto's position on zoning speaks for itself. To him I can only say, Denny Glotfelty would be proud of you. He knows what I mean.

Secondly, Commissioner Raley did not act in a vacuum here. If he had his way, his decisions would satisfy everyone. I understand this, but when he walked out on that platform he did so as a man who had to come to grips with the fact that he could not "protect," as he calls it, everyone unless he traded away the property rights of the folks who signed the petitions and letters that he carried in with him. While he, in the way that only he can, started to talk around them, I could see him, through his choice of words, come back to that fact time and again.

The way I see it, he made a wise decision. What we did was stack up so much opposing opinion, in the form of two petitions with more than 700 signatures plus an almost 3-to-1 advantage in letters, that no one could ignore it. It is still going on. We have more if we need it, including a letter of strong opposition from the Garrett County Farm Bureau that was never mentioned at the meeting.

While these documented facts and figures are not specifically mentioned either in the front-page article or the editorial of last week's Republican, make no mistake, this was not about setbacks. These citizens signed a petition that literally bristled with the strongest anti-zoning language that could be put on paper, and that says to anyone listening that just as zoning was pronounced dead some years ago after public input, it is buried even deeper now, and down there with it will go the political future of the next Garrett County commissioner who dares to dig it up again!

We are watching!

Jerry Plauger
Mtn. Lake Park

To the Editor:

It is past time for Garrett County to come into the modern world. Zoning is used to keep order in an otherwise haphazard land we live in. Protection is the name of the game.

How many who live in a residential area would like to have a car lot next door or a factory of whatever? How about mixing residential and commercial for a neighborhood to live in? This is not practical, yet that is what has happened in Garrett County up until now. It is time to stop the nonsense.

Zoning rules are meant to establish some sense as to how we go forward or face progress in our daily lives. We have to keep the setbacks of the wind turbines to be reasonable, and now the fracking/drilling for gas in the county must be addressed. Rules must be made to regulate these things or they will get out of hand and cause problems we cannot imagine. Property values, scenic views, good neighborhoods will all lose unless rules are put into place to preserve our values.

Zoning must be adopted on the local level ASAP to keep up with ever-changing projects that come into the county. I urge the county commissioners to wake up and get moving on the zoning issues before it is too late to save the county from self-destructing and losing its values.

Some say zoning is awful, but the alternative is pure chaos in property values and lifestyle as we know it. We must save ourselves, and depend on the commissioners to do just that, which is why they were voted into office. Now is the time for them to do their jobs.

This is a very nice county with a lot to offer, especially as a vacation location. I'd hate to see it all lost on the lack of common-sense regulations designed to preserve a decent way of life here. The future is now.

"BE THE WALL" CAMPAIGN UNDER WAY – The Garrett County Health Department (GCHD) and Garrett County Drug Free Communities Coalition provided a "Be the Wall" banner for the Oakland/Mountain Lake Park Lions Club to display at the recent Redneck Dayz event. The campaign reminds adults that they have to be the wall between youth and alcohol to help combat underage drinking. The information from the campaign effort notes that teenagers' brains continue to develop into their 20s. "Until then," a spokesperson said, "They are going to try new things, test boundaries, and drive you crazy. When it comes to alcohol, be clear, be firm, be consistent, be the wall – because they need you now more than ever." The Be the Wall Campaign includes billboards, banners, and radio ads, through funding from the Maryland Alcohol and Drug Abuse Administration. Town hall meetings have also been held in several locations to create community-wide plans. "If enough of us work together, each being a part of the wall, we can make Garrett County a safer place for our youth," said Nancy Brady, GCHD prevention supervisor. Several members of the Oakland/Mountain Lake Park Lions Club recently received TIPS training (Training for Intervention ProcedureS). TIPS for Concessions is designed to teach vendors how to help reduce the risk of alcohol-related incidents. Participants learn techniques to assess patrons in a short period of time and prevent alcohol sales to underage or intoxicated individuals. Pictured are Lions members behind the Be the Wall banner at Redneck Dayz. Shown from left are Josh Bosley, Jay Stewart, Ed Panther, and Brian Boal.

Shepherd Of Hills Church To Mark 8th Anniversary

Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church (ELCA) will celebrate its 8th anniversary on Sunday, July 8. The community is invited to join the celebration at an outdoor worship service, to be held at the amphitheater of Deep Creek Lake State Park, beginning at 5 p.m. Pre-worship singing will start at 4:45 p.m.

Rev. Donald R. Thomas will preside, using the "Service of the Word" from the With One Voice hymnal, along with familiar hymns. The Praise Ensemble will lead the singing.

Parking will be available at the Discovery Center, and signs will be posted with directions to the amphitheater.

All are invited to attend. For further information, persons may contact Beth Johnson at 301-387-8547.

Sentenced To One Year On Malicious Destruction Of Property Charge

A Washington, D.C., man was sentenced to one year in jail in Garrett County District Court after Judge Leonard J. Eiswert found him guilty on a malicious destruction of property plus $500 value charge.

Dominic Dwayne Kingsbury, 23, was ordered to pay restitution of $500 each to two victims involved in the incident. All but 10 days of his one-year sentence was suspended, and upon his release he will be placed on two years of supervised probation, to be monitored by the Maryland Division of Parole and Probation. He was also found guilty on a failure to obey a lawful order charge and sentenced to 30 days suspended.

He was arrested by Maryland State Police in November after he allegedly damaged two vehicles and a door at a Close Road, McHenry, residence. He was reportedly intoxicated when he punched and kicked the vehicles, causing considerable damage to both. He was not prosecuted on disorderly conduct, malicious destruction of property plus $500, MDOP under $500, and disturbing the peace charges.

In other court news this month, Charles Kevin Davis, 34, Baltimore, was found guilty on a possession of paraphernalia charge and placed on 60 days of unsupervised probation. He was also fined $250. Davis was arrested in July 2009 after the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force received a complaint of smoking in the building from a manager at Comfort Inn, McHenry. A quantity of marijuana was recovered from Room 210, where Davis was staying. He was not prosecuted on a possession of marijuana charge.

Betty Jane Hawse, 26, Harpers Ferry, W.Va., was found guilty on a possession of paraphernalia charge and fined $100. She was arrested in May 2011 following a traffic stop on I-68 by MSP, during which they recovered a metal smoking pipe from her vehicle.

Kevin James Greene, 48, Oakland, was given a stet verdict on a theft less than $1,000 value charge. He was arrested in April by Garrett County sheriff's deputies after he allegedly stole $90 in change, 18 Hydrocodone pills (worth $50), and 10 Lorazapam pills (worth $20) from an Allegany Drive home. He was not prosecuted on two counts of first-degree burglary, theft less than $100 value, and conspiracy to commit theft less than $1,000 charges.

Thomas Kendall Miller, 30, Oakland, was given a stet verdict on a second-degree assault charge that stemmed from a dispute with an adult male at a Sunnyside Road residence. The January incident was investigated by Garrett County

IRVIN L. HENLINE

Irvin Lawrence Henline, 69, Parsons, W.Va., went home to be with our Lord early Saturday morning, June 30, 2012, at his home. Death was attributed to a courageous battle with cancer.

He was born on Thursday, Dec. 3, 1942, in Parsons and reared in Leadmine, W.Va. He was a son of the late Gilbert and Ina Evans Henline. He was also preceded in death by one infant brother, Charles Henline.

He was twice married, first to Frances Ann Casto Smith, who survives in Winchester, Va. He was then married on Oct. 24, 1992, in Leadmine, to the former Wilda E. Bowman Dillsworth, who survives in Parsons.

Also surviving are three daughters, Linda Helmick and husband Mike, Fairmont, W.Va., Coleen Taylor and husband Mike, Winchester, and Rose Schoenly and husband Brad, Middletown, Va.; two stepdaughters, Jenny Johnson and husband Roger, Thomas, W.Va., and Dawn Webb, Oldsmar, Fla.; four stepsons, Harold Dillsworth and wife Kerry, Oakland, Steve Dillsworth and wife Kathy, Aurora, W.Va., Shawn Dillsworth and wife Alexis, Harrisburg, Pa., and James Dillsworth and wife Amie, Parsons; one sister, Betty Moran, Hambleton, W.Va.; his mother-in-law, Alice Baker, Parsons; nine grandchildren, Dena, Jodie, Dallas, Levi, Nathaniel, Brooke, Cody, Sarah, and Katie; 15 stepgrandchildren, Mary, Brandon, Dusty, Justin, Aaron, Amanda, Jonathan, Cody, Emily, Alison, John, Bridget, Cortney, Megan, and James; and eight great-grandchildren.

He attended the one room school at Shafertown and Parsons High School. He was a heavy equipment operator for the Fairfax Company for over 30 years and a former employee of Hinchcliff Lumber Co.

He was a member of the St. John's United Methodist Church, Parsons, and a former member of the Leadmine United Methodist Church. He was a former member of the Parsons Lions Club.

Irvin loved the Lord very much and enjoyed going to church. He loved spending time with his family, hunting, fishing, and riding his four-wheeler.

Friends will be received today, Thursday, from 5 to 8 p.m. at Lohr & Barb Funeral Home, Parsons, where final rites will be conducted on Friday, July 6, at 11 a.m., with the Rev. Philip Dent officiating.

Interment will follow at the Texas Cemetery, Horse Shoe Run, Preston County.

Lohr & Barb Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Online condolences may be expressed to the family at www.lohrbarbfuneralhome.com.

DONNA L. SIMMONS

Donna (Littman) Simmons, 85, Cheyenne, Wyo., died on Monday, May 28, 2012.

Born Aug. 22, 1926, in Oakland, she was a daughter of the late Julius and Donna Littman. She was also preceded in death by her husband, Daniel L. Simmons, who was the Wyoming state geologist at the time of his death; and one son, Gregg Simmons, formerly of Denver, Colo.

She graduated from Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg, Va., in 1946, with a degree in music. Donna worked for the Registrar's Office of the University of Wyoming, Laramie, where she met her future husband, Daniel.

They were married March 6, 1952, in Oakland. Daniel was a ground water geologist, whose work took them to Salt Lake City, Utah, Billing Mont., Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, Africa, Manila, Philippines, and then Cheyenne in 1968.

She was a member of the Mu Phi Epsilon musical sorority in college, Chapter Z-PEO, and the First Congregational Church in Cheyenne.

She is survived by three sons, Bryan Simmons, Monument, Colo., Steve Simmons and wife Brenna, Aurora, Colo., and John Simmons and wife Jennifer, Westminster, Colo.; and three grandchildren, Daniel Simmons, Jacob Gabel, and Tyler Simmons.

Friends were received at Schrader Funeral Home, Cheyenne, where a service was conducted on Saturday, June 2.

Interment was held at Lakeview Cemetery, with a reception following.

Condolences may be offered to the family at www.schraderfuneral.com.

ELECTRICAL FLOOR TILES
by Dr. Tom Sheahen

Q. I read about special tiles in a mall. People walk on the tiles and it converts the power of their footfalls into electricity. Wouldn't this solve a lot of our dependence on other energy sources?

A. This is a nifty gimmick being developed by a British company named Pave-gen. It was described in a recent National Geographic article, which can be found online at http://news.nationalgeographic.com/news/energy/2012/05/120518-floor-tiles-turn-footfalls-to-electricity/.

The text reads, "The power generated from millions of footfalls can be used to operate a range of low-power applications, including lighting, signs, digital ads, and Wi-Fi zones."

It further says that the central disc underfoot moves about 5 mm, or 1/5 inch, when stepped on. Quite possibly the device involves breaking a magnetic circuit so as to send an electrical pulse through a coil. If you've ever struggled to pull a crossbar (the magnetic "keeper") off the two poles of a horseshoe magnet, you know that magnetic fields can be pretty strong. Getting your finger pinched between a pole and the crossbar hurts, and shows that a magnetic circuit likes to stay closed. Pushing down with a foot and opening that linkage will suddenly induce a voltage in a coil of wire wrapped around either pole, and hence a current will flow.

Another way to generate electrical current is via piezoelectricity, where slightly deforming certain solid crystals produces current. In a microphone, electricity is produced when a sound wave vibrates the surface of a crystal. However, it would be extremely expensive to make floor tiles out of any piezoelectric material.

The big question is, "How much electricity, and how valuable is it?" The article says each footfall equals about 7 watts. That number is a very key assumption. Moreover, the pulse occurs only when your foot first contacts the floor tile. Seven watts for ½ second works out to 3.5 Joules (J). (Think of a quick on-off flash of a 7-watt nightlite.) The maximum energy that a 90-kg (200-pound) man can transfer in such a step is 4.4 J, so it's in the ball park. If another walker steps on that tile every three seconds (a pretty steady stream of mall traffic), that's 1,200 pulses every hour, accumulating to 4,200 J. Converting Joules to kilowatt-hours, that equals 0.00117 kWh in one hour.

You may have seen the classroom demonstration where a child vigorously pumping a bicycle wheel can keep a light bulb shining ... until the cyclist gets tired. Rest assured that the amount of electricity generated by walking people is not going to displace other sources of electricity.

In the National Geographic article, Pave-gen stated that the cost-per-tile is declining, but still too high; but by producing large quantities with economy-of-scale, they hope to get the cost down to $50/tile. That certainly states the major obstacle very well.

Here is how "engineering economics" looks at this application: The question is always whether or not you can generate significant amounts of electricity – and do it for a reasonable cost. Can tiles like this generate enough electricity to make a profit?

The biggest wild card in any calculation is "How often does a mall-walker step on the plate?" That puts a big +/- on any calculation. Using five-J input every 3.3 seconds, one of these floor tiles acts as a 1.5-W electrical generator.

Presume that the target price of $50/tile is actually reached. The "time value of money" principle says that investing $50 is equivalent to having $5 per year, so it has to generate $5 revenue each year just to break even.

The mall doesn't have foot traffic 24/7, but use the 1.5-W figure anyway. In a year (8,760 hours), it generates 13 kWh, worth about $1.50. That's nowhere close to breaking even, so no one would buy this just to generate electricity.

Large-scale electricity generation (nuke, coal-burner, gas-burner) commonly has a capital cost of about $1 per watt = $1 billion per gigawatt; maybe $2 or $3 after litigation and lengthy construction delays. One $50 floor tile generating 1.5 W works out to $33 per watt, far above even solar photovoltaic costs. Clearly, this method will never be a system for generating raw electricity.

Often in low-power applications, the value is in information, not just electricity. Where is the exit when the building is on fire? The economics gets much better whenever electricity is used in a high-value way. Paying $50 for a floor tile is worth it to alert you that a burglar is in your otherwise unguarded home. You willingly pay far more for the information than for the raw electricity.

Floor-tile electricity is sufficient to flip a switch that turns on a light, so that a person who enters a dark hallway finds the lights going on right after the very first step. That convenience may be worth a lot in certain circumstances. There are many situations where a little electricity is worth far more than the electric company's price of 11 cents/kWh.

Dr. Sheahen lives at Deep Creek Lake and has taught physics at Garrett College. Persons wishing to submit questions for this column may e-mail them to newsroom@therepublicannews.com.

Theodore Evans Jr. Joins American Angus Association

Theodore Evans Jr., Oakland, was recently announced as a new member of the American Angus Association by Bryce Schumann, CEO of the national cattle breed group headquartered in St. Joseph, Mo.

The American Angus Association, with nearly 30,000 active adult and junior members, is the largest beef breed association in the world. Its computerized records comprise detailed information on nearly 19 million registered Angus cattle.

The association records ancestral information, keeps production records on individual animals, and develops industry-leading selection tools for its members. These programs and services are designed to help members select and breed the best animals in their herds to produce quality genetics for the beef cattle industry and quality beef for consumers.

Terra Alta Business Association Meets

The Terra Alta Business Association (TABA) met on June 18 for its annual meeting. After the completion of minutes, treasurer's report, and routine business, the board discussed the circus planned for the fall.

The Walker Brothers circus is slated to be in Terra Alta in August or September; a final date will be provided soon. This will be a fund raising activity for TABA.

Most of the TABA officers met with some of the Terra Alta Betterment officers on June 14 to discuss the two organizations' goals and desire to work more closely together and possible mergers in the future. This is to be pursued in the future.

The outcome of that meeting was TABI agreed to present to its membership the proposal to host the annual tree lighting and parade for Christmas on a Saturday, to merge with the retailers' open houses on that same day.

An election was held and the officers for the next year are as follows: president Loretta Wotring, vice president Fred Gregg, secretary-treasurer Dorinda Kisner, and board members Nancy Kelly and Chuck Beatty.

Samuel S. Myers Reunion Slated

The Samuel S. Myers and related families – Becker, Gnegy, Lantz, Wotring, and Hauser – will hold their 14th annual family reunion on Saturday, July 28, at the Aurora (W.Va.) Methodist Church Memorial Building.

Family, friends, and those interested in genealogy are invited to come at noon and bring a covered dish with recipe. Drinks and paper/plastic products will be furnished.

Participants are also asked to bring any old photos and/or genealogy/stories to share with others. For more information, persons may contact Mary K. Teets at 302-376-9610 or litelady3@yahoo.com.

TERRA ALTA

LIBRARY

The Red Hats recently donated to the library Love Finds You in Daisy Oklahoma by Janice Hanna, Sea Change by Karen White, The Last Lecture by Randy Pausch, and Dream New Dreams by Jai Pausch, all in memory of Barbara Roots.

The Summer Reading Programs are going well. The students have read more books than the adults to date. Several children attended the afternoon reading hour with Sandra LaRue and Una Kisamore. The theme was West Virginia Day, followed by the group acknowledging the Terra Alta Fire Department who sponsors the oldest celebration in the state. Facts on West Virginia led to the children creating the rhododendron and flag with colorful imaginations. Sparky, the Fire Dog was read to the group, giving them preventive facts and escape routes in the case of a fire at home or in the surrounding area. American flag wrappings of mints were given to those in attendance.

Sarah Hart and Alecia Hart have been donating their time working on the library's scrapbooks.

AURORA-EGLON

HERITAGE DAYS

In order to celebrate the 225th anniversary of the establishment of the church and town of Aurora, several things have been added to this year's celebration, which is set for July 6, 7, and 8.

The church owes its founding to the efforts of Rev. John Stough, who emigrated from Hagerstown to this area, found a location that pleased him, and established a church as people came to join him there. The town was first named Salem, but later became Mount Carmel, West Union, German Settlement, and finally Aurora. In celebration of this anniversary, the St. Paul's Lutheran Church and the Aurora Area Historical Society invite all residents to attend one or all of the following activities.

A hot dog roast will kick-off the event on Friday, July 6, at 5 p.m. in the General Store lot. Vespers at the old log church will be held at 7:30 p.m. Those attending must park at St. Paul's Church and be transported to the site. Attendees are also reminded to bring chairs and blankets.

A chicken barbecue will be held on Saturday, beginning at 10:30 a.m. A display of long ago photos will be shown at St. Paul's Church at 11 a.m. A historical pageant, written by Rev. Martin Luther Peter, will be presented at 7:30 p.m. It was previously given in 1937.

A special joint service will be held Sunday morning with guests invited to come also, but bring along food dishes for the picnic and chairs and blankets for seating.

Joining in the celebration, the Aurora Volunteer Fire Department will have an open house Friday evening, Saturday, and Sunday, with the evening ending with a free dinner to those who have helped with ambulance, fire hall, or other volunteer places needing workers and leadership.

The General Store will be open each day beginning at 10 a.m. A yard sale will also be held July 6 and 7 at the Union Ambulance squad hall. Cooperating sponsors are CEOS and the Aurora Area Historical Society. Proceeds will benefit the Relay for Life.

AVFD GUN BASH

The Aurora Volunteer Fire Department is sponsoring a gun bash on Aug. 11. Tickets include all-you-can-eat dinner and a chance to win 23 different firearms. One may purchase a ticket from any fireman or contact Adam Bachtel at 304-698-6541 or Matt Mayne at 304-692-1690. This will serve as one of their biggest fundraisers this year. Last year's proceeds were used to acquire an engine, which, although used, helps to provide better service to the community.

AURORA YARD SALE

The Women's Fellowship of Brookside Church of the Brethren will host a yard and bake sale at the Aurora fire hall on July 12 and 13 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day. The church is located beside the fire hall and they use the shared parking lot.

REUNIONS

Family and friends of the Nice family will be going to the Amboy United Mthodist Church for a reunion this Sunday, July 8, The covered dish meal will begin at 12:30 p.m.

The descendants of Henry Harsh are meeting for their annual reunion this Saturday, July 7, for a carry-in dinner at 12:30 p.m. at the Aurora Methodist Memorial Building.

The Amos Snyder family reunion will be held on July 15 at Cathedral State Park with the covered dish lunch set to begin at 1 p.m.

The Houser-Hauser family is meeting July 22 at the Farmer's Wildlife Park, Horse Shoe Run, with the covered dish meal set to begin at 1 p.m.

DEATHS

John Delaney, 72, Mt. Storm, was killed in a vehicular accident in Red House on June 21.

Robert A. Kight Sr., 59, Horse Shoe Run, died at his home on June 26. He was a son of Orville Kight, with whom he lived, and the late Shirley Pancake Kight.

Gerald Lipscomb, 76, Eglon/Horse Shoe Run, died quite suddenly at his home on June 26. He was a son of the late Charles and Lona Lipscomb.

Effie Evans, 90, Elkins, died at her home on June 24. She was a daughter of the late Joe and Bernice Hardesty Conn.

Full obituaries for each of the above-named deceased appeared in last week's issue of The Republican.

Relatives here were notified this past Saturday of the death of John Beckman, a son of the late Lee and Dean (Martin) Beckman.

PERSONAL

Patsy Lipscomb Hall, Morgantown, has been moved to a different nursing home in Morgantown, and still appreciates cards and notes. Her new address is 161 Bakers Ridge Road, Room 104, Morgantown, WV 26505.

Rick and Tina Winters, Eglon, visited recently in Germany with their son Ryan and his family and were then accompanied home by their three granddaughters. They will be staying with grandparents and other relatives until their parents arrive here.

Memorial Tree Planting Set For Charles Strauss

A tree-planting ceremony will be held at the Hickory Environmental Education Center near Accident Friday, July 13, at 2:13 p.m. in memory of local educator Charles F. Strauss.

Strauss, who was a resident of Accident, was a pioneer in developing one of the premier outdoor education programs in the state of Maryland, which evolved into Hickory Center.

"To Charlie, outdoor education was a common-sense method of learning – natural, plain, direct, and simple," said retired Hickory director Joe Winters.

Members of Strauss's immediate family will participate in the ceremony.

Persons desiring more information may telephone Winters at 301-359-5096.

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

My large fan does a little good in this heat, but not quite enough. It is close to noon, but I'm sure it will get much hotter as the afternoon goes on. It is almost too hot to allow me to think.

It is only about 12 hours before I get reunited with my dear Caitlin. She is supposed to come home around midnight tonight from Morgantown. So maybe I will watch the whole Pirates game this evening – not like most times when there is a game that starts after 6 p.m.

Most of the time, I am only able to stay up until the seventh inning stretch. And most times, I am unable to predict the result. But it just keeps on going forward. The young Pirates team of 2012 seems to have all the right pieces to become a winning team.

People have said that this might be another "Lumber Company," which was the nickname of the 1970s Pirates. That was extreme, with Willie Stargell, Dave Parker, and Bill Maddox. That was a powerful team. Today's Pirates are not as bullish-type men. They are more youthfully slim, and rely more on quickness than sheer power.

It sounds like maybe a big thunderstorm is approaching, and is not very far away. I welcome it, since as I mentioned it was close to being unbearably hot. But I remember a far hotter first day of July when I was working at the Maryland Pony Show in Baltimore County.

It was not only horribly hot, but the water supply at the showgrounds required that we haul all water from about a mile away. And since our equine charges were every bit as hot as their care keepers, they needed lots of baths and lots of water to drink.

While it is unusually hot in Bittinger on the last day of June, a whole bunch of people around here are suffering with no electricity, mainly on Accident-Bittinger Road, like the Bass household and Cherry Glade Church.

But my house and, I assume, the Southerly home still have power. Most of the time when I lose power, Sheila and Bill do also.

It was good news that my Pirates were able to score a decent win against the St. Louis Cardinals, the reigning World Series champions.

It is simply lovely that my girls have so many close friends of the offspring of people very close to me. Second-generation friendship is a lovely thing to watch, and it makes us parents feel more comfortable about our young folks' social lives. It often involves kids who have been together since they were in diapers.

The altar flowers at Emmanuel Lutheran Church were given by Bill and Sheila Southerly in memory of Sheila's mother Phyllis Buckel.

The annual Bittinger Parish picnic is scheduled for July 29 at the 4-H Camp near Bittinger. The events start with a worship service with communion at 10 a.m., followed by a picnic and a time of fellowship. The parish will provide hot dogs and the fixings.

Quality & Service That You Won't Regret!

RENTERS, BEWARE!

June 2, 2012

Well, we are finally off for a beautiful week at Deep Creek Lake, Garrett County. We rented a nice place on the water. There is a beautiful 147 inch Champion Maple off the deck and a nice dock in the water.

My wife and daughter stopped for groceries in LaVale about noon. I paid for an early check-in 1:00 pm. We brought our dog "Maime" and all of her toys for a week at the lake. We put all the groceries away and unpacked. The dog settled in, everything was great.

My wife wanted to get in the hot tub as the ride and moving in is hard on her back. She loves a hot tub, very relaxing and good for her back. Well, the hot tub did not work. I called the realtor, no problem, they will send a serviceman over. He arrived and said he can only work on the top. He did not do anything. I had already pushed all of the buttons. Next serviceman comes and he cannot open the door to the electronics because of electrocution. I moved the steps and the door fell open. We could see a small hose and a wire that was disconnected and unplugged. He said that he could not do anything. He left. Next serviceman (3rd) came in with a toolbox. I was shocked. He left 2 hours later with everything working 6:00 pm Saturday. (3 men, 1 tub).

Now my wife is in the hot tub, I thought I would watch qualifying for the Olympics on TV. 4 TVs and only one worked. Yes, I do watch TV at the lake, news, etc. We called the realtor again and they sent a serviceman who put batteries in the remotes. He said that the owner needs to put in boxes for Comcast, a new set-up at the lake. The owner was I guess notified and she came by a few days later and was sorry as she did not know about the boxes from Comcast and replied that she would purchase them immediately. She apologized for the problem.

We had a nice night, woke up the next morning to find that a bear had been in the bear proof garbage container and had garbage everywhere. After 20 minutes of cleaning this up, I checked the locks, both were broken with straight bolts. They must have been repaired sometime ago with cheap aluminum hinges. They were chewed off don't know when. I called the realtor; they sent a man over and he was very nice and said he would fix me up. I said "Thank you" I appreciate that. He cleaned out the bear proof wooden container and left with everything shining, except he never fixed anything to do with the locks and he never returned. I used a coat hanger. I have a game camera and have a picture of the bear sniffing my game camera the next night.

DNR sat and rode up and down the lake most of the night with "NO" running lights. I thought this was strange and very dangerous.

Next door a young college graduate rented a jet ski for $96 an hour. He liked it so rented one later in the week for $400-plus A DAY so he rented it from a dealer down back of the Creamery ice cream stand. When he returned it the man at the dealer wanted $75 for a scratch. The college grade did not know anything about the scratch. The man said that if he did not want to pay the $75, he could go to his house and CUT HIS GRASS!! He also lived on Lake Shore Drive. His mother said NO WAY and paid the $75. I question how many people have paid for the same scratch or was slicked into cutting his grass.

Well, the week is over and the first thing I am going to do is request brochures from Ocean City for next year. I already know that I can rent one Ocean Front for the same money and maybe have better luck with the accommodations.

Thank you,
Jim Smith

CAT DADDY
by Jackson Galaxy with Joel Derfner
C. 2012, Tarcher/Penguin, $24.95; 285 Pages
Review by Terri Schlichenmeyer

Your cat is making you crazy. He used to be such a good kitty. He used to cuddle and come when he was called. He was such a happy cat, but lately he runs when you reach for him and he bites, which he never did before. What's worse, he's started avoiding the litter box in favor of your closet. You've had him since he was a kitten, but you can't take it anymore.

Author Jackson Galaxy says that there's a way to stop Fluffy's madness. In his new book Cat Daddy (with Joel Derfner), you'll find out how Galaxy learned to think like a cat.

For a lot of his early adulthood, Jackson Galaxy was in crisis. He drank too much, ate too much, and did too many drugs. "Eggshell-like" and prone to anger, he hardly dared to dream about much more than his wish for life as a songwriter and guitarist, a career he thought he'd get by fleeing New York for Colorado.

In Boulder, he quickly found fellow musicians, but he didn't find the fulfillment he sought or the paycheck he needed. Finally, underemployed and overwhelmed, he learned of an opening at the local animal shelter. Maybe, he figured, it was time for a job with altruism, and animals were non-judgmental.

To his surprise, he was good at this work, and he had a knack for cats in particular.

And then he met Benny.

With a freckle on his nose and an air of bemusement, Benny was certainly a unique kitty, but his former owner listed his problems. He wouldn't bond, hated to play, and he didn't "like" her. She didn't like him, either.

Oh, and Benny had been hit by a car. His pelvis was shattered so, unable to pay the vet bills, she surrendered Benny to Galaxy, who promptly recognized a kindred broken spirit. He took the cat in and became Benny's guardian.

Adding another cat to an already overloaded life didn't seem like a smart move, but Galaxy was determined to do it. Just like he overcame his addictions. Just like he overcame his erroneous ideas about cats. Just like he overcame his pain to learn about life, from the best mentor he ever had…

Readers who pick up Cat Daddy may think they're getting a kitty how-to, and they'd be half right. Author Galaxy does offer useful advice on learning to see things from a cat's POV, but that's not all this book's about.

With more than just a little in-your-face-ness and some adults-only profanity, Galaxy lays bare his life: his addictions, depression, and struggles, failed relationships, and tentative romances. He writes chillingly of work at an animal shelter and what the job entails, then he celebrates his stewardship of a change-hating, crotchety cat that never stopped teaching.

Surprisingly, I think this book will appeal to dog lovers who can appreciate a wryly told story, as well as to feline fanciers who crave being kitty-cornered. If that's you, then Cat Daddy is a book to pounce on.

Bluegrass Fest Band Lineup Is Announced

The Claire Lynch Band is but one of many that will perform in the Bluegrass Festival on the Cheat, scheduled for this weekend – July 6-8 – in Rowlesburg.

Besides the Claire Lynch Band, which was featured in a recent issue of The Republican, the following other bands are scheduled to provide entertainment over the three-day festival: the Back Creek Valley Boys, Marv Ashby and the High Octain Band, Bear Hill Bluegrass, the Moatsville Boys, Rocky Hollow, Medicinal Medicine, and the Lamberts.

Playing bluegrass for audiences in the Washington, D.C., area and beyond, the Back Creek Valley Boys hail from Hedgesville. The group has "officially" been a band since 2009, but most of the members have been playing together for many years. Ike Jordan (mandolin) and Randy have played together with Nestle Quarry Boys, Berkeley Ramblers, Bluegrass Drive, Ernie Bradley and Grassy Ridge, and Jack Fincham and Dixie Grass.

With a career beginning in 1979 in San Clemente, Calif., with the Smokey Valley Ramblers and Hangfire, Frank Maietta joined as the band's banjo player in 2010. The newest member is fiddle player Brandon Michael, who previously played with Ernie Bradley and Grassy Ridge.

They have three albums – Bluegrass, Plain and Simple, The Back Creek Valley Express, and Real Live Bluegrass.

From the West Virginia Panhandle comes Marv Ashby and the High Octane Band. Both traditional and contemporary bluegrass genres are showcased during High Octane performances. The band features Marv's aggressive flatpicking style and straight-ahead vocal arrangements. Other members are "Beardie" and Robbie Benzing. The band's latest CD release is titled Route 9 to Berkeley Springs.

Bear Hill Bluegrass takes pride in playing the familiar bluegrass, gospel, and a few country songs that most recognize. The audience is invited to participate.

The Moatsville Boys, also called just the Boys, mixes country, hillbilly, and gospel with traditional bluegrass sounds. The band members say that their main musical influences are Ricky Skaggs, Ralph Stanley, Earl Scruggs, Randy Travis, George Jones, and Merle Haggard, among others. For the past four years, the band has dedicated its time to raising money for a variety of charitable causes, especially the American Cancer Society's Relay for Life.

Rocky Hollow comes from Warwick, R.I., and is a family band featuring Nancy, Dick, and Gary Hutchings. The band plays all styles of bluegrass, from traditional to progressive.

Medicinal Medicine, also know as From the Hip, is Rowlesburg's own bluegrass band. Carrying on in the tradition of their singer/songwriter father Keith Pitzer (former executive director of Friends of the Cheat who died in December), Jake and Jesse are joined by Greg Short Jr. (percussion) and Chris Bern (upright bass), performing an energetic "newgrass" style picking of originals, bluegrass, and some folk. Three of the four current musicians are founding members of the group.

The Lamberts, a gospel group, sings at many churches and bluegrass festivals. Their music is straight gospel from the long Appalachian tradition of such music. This highly acclaimed band and singing family plays an extensive schedule, at churches, gospel songfests, and community centers around the region.

The venue for the festival is Rowlesburg Park, which lies along the Cheat River. Ample parking is available nearby. A variety of food and beverages will be available for purchase. Camping is also permitted at the festival. All proceeds from the festival will go to the Shriners.

The festival schedule is as follows:

Children's Author Ball Wins Mom's Choice Award

Children's author Ashley Ball of Terra Alta, W.Va., recently attended the 2012 Book Expo America where she received a Silver Mom's Choice Award in the nonfiction books for children 9-12 category for her work My Horse Samson.

In the book, Ball writes about how her family rescued two neglected mares in Preston County, W.Va. One of those horses had a foal, which she named Samson and trained to win ribbons in jumping competitions.

The BEA event, held in New York City, is North America's largest gathering of book trade professionals and attracts an international audience. It is organized with the support of association partners including the Association of American Publishers and the American Booksellers Association.

The Mom's Choice Award is designed to recognize authors, inventors, companies, parents, and others for their efforts in creating quality family-friendly media, products, and services.

At the expo, Ball was scheduled for three book signings, where she rubbed elbows with many authors attending the event, such as Jimmy Fallon, Patti Smith, Neil Young, Kirstie Alley, Meghan McCain, and Jane Seymour.

W.Va. Public Theatre To Present Godspell Musical

West Virginia Public Theatre will present the classic show Godspell July 5 through 7 at 8 p.m. and July 4, 5, and 8 at 2 p.m. at the historic Metropolitan Theatre downtown Morgantown, W.Va.

Godspell was one of the biggest off-Broadway and Broadway hits of all time, organizers said. The show is based on the Gospel according to St. Matthew, featuring a score by Stephen Schwartz. Schwartz is also known for his work with the modern Broadway show Wicked.

WVPT veteran Chris Saunders is directing and choreographing the production.

For Godspell WVPT has teamed up with Christian Help for a food drive for discounted tickets. Persons may bring non-perishable children's breakfast items (cereal, dry milk, peanut butter, jelly, cereal bars) in exchange for $15 tickets.

Other productions this season include Anything Goes, The Marvelous Wonderettes, All Shook Up, and Ring of Fire.

Tickets can be purchased by calling 304-291-4122 or by stopping by the box office at 369 High Street, Morgantown.

Preston Arts Center To Hold Photo Show

Photography categories will be unenhanced photos, computer-enhanced photos, and computer-modified photos.

Photos must be submitted to the arts center on July 26 and 27 and will be accepted from 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Entries must be original and must have been taken within the last two years. They are to be framed and wired for hanging.

There is a $10 non-refundable entry fee. Each artist may enter one photo.

Prizes will be awarded for Best of Show, first place in each category, and People's Choice. For additional rules and an entry form, one may visit the art center, e-mail mountainteer@atlanticbb.net, or call 304-329-6336.

Madeline Adkins To Be Next Artist In MPA Series

Music at Penn Alps will present violinist Madeline Adkins on Saturday, July 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the Great Hall at Penn Alps.

Accompanied by Edward Newman on piano, Adkins will perform Stravinsky's Suite Italienne, Mendelssohn's Sonata in F Major and the Sonata No. 1 in G Major, Op. 78, by Brahms.

Adkins is associate concertmaster of the Baltimore Symphony and appears annually as soloist with the BSO. She is also concertmaster of the Baltimore Chamber Orchestra, and has served as guest concertmaster of the Hong Kong Philharmonic, the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, the Oregon Symphony, and the Grant Park Symphony Orchestra in Chicago, where she was featured in Beethoven's Missa Solemnis.

Adkins performs frequently in the Baltimore-Washington area. The daughter of noted musicologists, she is the youngest of eight children, six of whom are professional mu-

MISS NELSON IS MISSING* will be a special presentation by the TOTL theatre ensemble on July 11, 18, and 25, and Aug. 1. All performances are at 11 a.m. at the Barn at Ridgeview Valley in McHenry. This is aimed toward very young children. "Miss Nelson's class is the worst behaved in the whole school. Spitballs flying across the room, paper airplanes sailing every which way and uncontrollable children send the gentle, long-suffering teacher, Miss Nelson, over the edge," a spokesperson said. "But the students of Room 207 are in for a surprise when Miss Nelson turns up missing and is replaced by Viola Swamp, a scary substitute teacher who assigns homework from hell and wields her ruler like a sword. In desperation, the students set out to find their beloved Miss Nelson." For tickets and other information, persons may go online to www.totltheatre.org or call 304-680-1002.

G'ville Takes Three Straight Losses To Romney, Elkins, And Fort Cumberland

The American Legion baseball team Grantsville Post 214 suffered back-to-back road losses to Romney and Elkins on Thursday (June 28) and Sunday, respectively.

The loss to Romney came after Grantsville out hit its opponent in a tight slugfest. The home team would claim the victory, however, and Grantsville was forced to absorb a 10-7 defeat.

At Elkins, Grantsville would again fall to its host, though this time by a 12-4 margin.

Then at home on Tuesday, Grantsville would make it three straight dropped games, as it lost to Fort Cumberland in McHenry by a score of 4-2.

In last Thursday's contest, Grantsville and Romney combined for 33 hits, with Grantsville accounting for 19 of that total.

Josh Crawford and Shane Ennis had RBI doubles in the first inning to give Romney a quick 2-0 lead. Crawford also hit a solo homer, Aaron Fox had two singles and an RBI, Josh Moreland doubled and Trevor Largent added two singles.

Cody Humberson had five singles and two RBIs to lead Grantsville. Logan Stewart had four singles and an RBI, Scott Cooper three singles and an RBI, Patrick Sines three singles, and Corey Helbig two singles and an RBI.

In Elkins, Grantsville was overmatched in part by Heath Broughton, who hit a home run and a pair of singles, and Brennan Dettinger, who added a double and three singles.

Broughton's three-run homer highlighted a six-run fourth inning that put Elkins up 10-0.

Grantsville's Helbig hit a two-run homer in the seventh inning and an RBI single in the ninth. Teammate Humberson and Stewart hit two singles, Aaron Broadwater had an RBI double and Steven Holtschneider also had a double.

Hosting Fort Cumberland at Garrett College, Post 214 would succumb to the pitching of Kevin Myers, who threw a complete-game six-hitter, striking out 10.

For Grantsville, Humberson doubled and singled, while Jerad Fike doubled, and Helbig singled in a run.

For Fort Cumberland, Dan Strietbeck led off the three-run second inning with a triple and also doubled. Matt Propst had two singles and Travis Miller doubled.

Grantsville, now 7-12 overall, will host Ridgeley on Sunday at Garrett College.

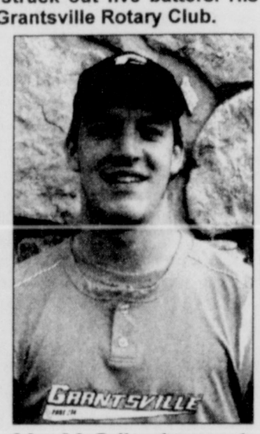
Humberson, a former standout for the Northern Huskies, went 9-for-15 with his bat (.600 average) during the past three games, including a 5-for-6 performance in a losing effort to Hampshire. He had one double and two RBI. His award is sponsored by Lakeview NAPA. Helbig was 5-for-8 (.625 average) in three games, smacking one homer, driving in five runs, and drawing six walks. His award is sponsored by First United Band & Trust. Holtschneider tossed 7 1/3 innings in a 4-2 loss to Fort Cumberland on Tuesday. He allowed only two earned runs and struck out five batters. His award is sponsored by the Grantsville Rotary Club.



Matt McCullough swatted a triple in the win.

Team One and Grantsville (13-4) will play on Friday in Oakland.

Tuesday's Results

On Tuesday, Madigan's downed Salisbury Legion, 11-5, in a game played at Southern High School.

Pitching a full game was Austin Reckart, who whiffed 11 Salisbury batters before claiming a win. He allowed just five hits total. Ryan Wilburn assumed the catcher's duties.

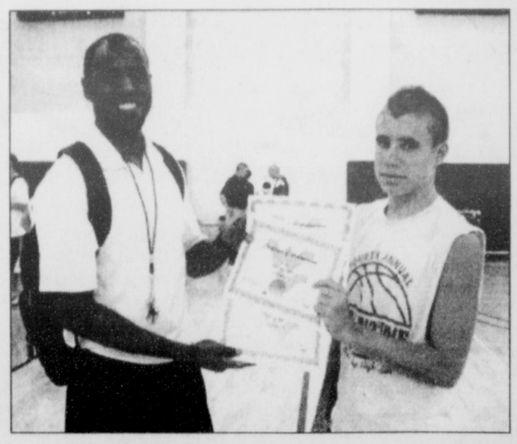
Reckart also got things done with his bat and went 2-for-4 with a single and a triple. Teammate Keeton Taylor connected for a triple, while Hanline and Lucas Haller each had a pair of singles.

Madigan's did the majority of its scoring in a seven-run third inning, which was marked by back-to-back lead-off triples, but also tacked on runs in the second, fourth, and sixth.

For Salisbury, pitching duties were shared by Tim Garlitz, who threw the first three innings, and Harvey Hershberger, who took the mound in the fourth.

Salisbury did commit just two errors to Madigan's five, but that was the only bright spot for the visiting team in Madigan's win.

Matt Geiger hit a double and single and Nick Davis a double for Salisbury.



WINS HONORS AT WVU CAMP – Tyler Fazenbaker, who will be a freshman this fall at Southern High School, attended the 2012 West Virginia University boys' basketball camp June 24-27 and received three awards. He defeated over 80 other boys in his age group to win the 1-on-1 champion award, was named the Most Valuable Player, and received a team championship award, as his team was undefeated in four days of competition. The camp focused on offensive development. Campers were divided into three leagues and played approximately two games a day. Teams were formed according to age and ability. Campers also competed every day using their individual skills. Pictured with Tyler is Adrian Ferrera, commissioner of Tyler's League.

Oaks Sweep Mt. Storm In DH Behind Brunswick's 5-For-7 Performance

The Oakland Oaks opened their week of Pen-Mar Baseball League play with a clean sweep of rival Mt. Storm, winning the first game 11-1 and the second 7-5. Both games were played at Southern High School on Sunday.

In the opener with Mt. Storm the Oaks' Tommy Brunswick went 2-for-4 with a triple and a single. Oakland grabbed a quick lead with four runs in the first inning. That lead was extended to 8-0 after three more at-bats.

Cody Toothman had a single and four RBIs and Frankie Wilson scored three runs for Oakland. Nathan King earned the game-one win on the mound after striking out 10 batters.

Buddy Hall doubled and singled for Mt. Storm, while pitcher Jake Freels struck out 12 before being tagged with the loss.

In game two, Brunswick was again active behind the plate, this time going a perfect 3-for-3 with a double, two singles, and three runs scored. As in game one, Oakland took an early lead, thanks, in part, to a three-run homer blasted by Jason Ashby in what became a five-run first inning.

Ashby, who assumed the pitching duties for the Oaks, was also dominant from the mound. He stuck out 10 of Mt. Storm's batters through six innings of work.

For Mt. Storm, Shane Forney hit a single and a double.

The sweep sets Oakland's record at 9-5. The Oaks will next face Tri-State in a Saturday doubleheader at Southern High. Those games are scheduled to begin at 1 p.m.

Hot Stove Baseball League Results

Thursday's Results (6/28)

G&S Coal/Taylor Mining suffered a 12-2 loss in a Hot Stove game played last Thursday with Keyser VFW.

Winning pitcher Vinnie Cuthbertson had three hits and scored three runs to lead Keyser in the four-inning contest.

G&S was paced by Alan Green, who hit a triple and a single, and Gary Shingler, who swatted a double.

Keyser finished with 12 hits and limited G&S to three.

G&S (1-13) is set to play at Frostburg Legion today.

Friday's Results

In a game played on Friday at Holler Field, Team One Auto Mall fell to Hobo's Restaurant by a score of 8-1.

Chaz Fatula gave up just one run on four hits in his complete-game win for Hobo's. Fatula and catcher Elijah Stair hit two singles and M.J. Messenger had a double.

Team One earned its only run in the fourth inning, as Cory Horner and Hunter Nazelrod accounted for three of the team's four hits.

Monday's Results

Team One suffered another loss on Monday, this time to Lakeview Auto, 10-0, in a game played in Accident. Earning a win was Grantsville, 7-2, which bested Hobo's Restaurant on the road.

Also winning their Monday games were Madigan's Auto Sales, 14-4 at D&D Homes, and Cork's Cars, which bested Frostburg First United by a score of 3-1 at Broadford Park.

In Accident, Team One was treated to a one-hit shutout by Lakeview pitcher Brooks Carr. That lone hit, a single in the fourth inning, came off the bat of Team One's Colton Peck. It was too little, too late, however, as Lakeview had already put the game well out of reach with 10 runs on the board.

Grantsville hurler Meshach Metz had a no-hitter going into the seventh inning in the game with Hobo's, but ultimately allowed his pitching rival, Hobo's' Messenger, to have one to lead off the final inning. Metz settled for a one-hit, complete-game victory. Hobo's' two runs came in the first and second innings and were unearned.

Grantsville was led offensively by Diori Pattison's double and single, and Logan White and Logan Fratz with two singles each.

To defeat Frostburg First United, Cork's Cars relied on pitcher Mike Welch to lead them through and out-duel Frostburg's Dillon Shimko.

Welch surrendered Frostburg's only run of the game in the top of the first inning.

Cork's rebounded to take the lead with two runs in the fourth inning and added some insurance with a run in the sixth.

First United threatened in the seventh with a tying run at the plate, but Cork's managed to turn a big double play to end the game.

Matt Imhoff had a double and scored two runs and Keith Chapman had an RBI double for Cork's Cars (12-5), which will play at Salisbury today.

In Madigan's blowout win over D&D Homes, Zach Hanline allowed just four runs on five hits and struck out six in a complete-game performance.

D&D was first to strike in the contest, taking the lead early, though temporarily, with a three-run second inning.

Madigan's would then blow things wide open. After tying it with three runs in the third inning, Madigan's drove home six runs in the fourth and three more in the fifth.

Manta Rays Take Second Place At Backstroke Meet

The Manta Rays Swim Team competed in its second contest of the season, the Backstroke Meet, at the Cumberland Riverside YMCA Friday.

The team placed second overall in terms of total points against competing teams from Cumberland, Bel Air, LaVale, Frostburg, and Hardy County, W.Va., and captured a number of top-three individual honors in both A-flight and B-flight competition. (A-flight swimmers are those who either compete year-round or win an end-of-year championship.)

In individual A-Flight races, Matthew Ball won a first place ribbon in the boys 15 and older division 100-yard backstroke (1:09.60), breaking his personal YMCA record of 1:14.04.

Capturing second places were Sierra Legeer, girls 15 and over, 100-yard backstroke (1:17.83), and 200-yard individual medley (IM) (2:47.66); and Matthew Ball, boys 15 and older, 200-yard IM (2:30.56).

Earning a third place A-Flight was swimmer Caleb Rowan, boys 9-10, 50-yard backstroke, (48.59).

In B-flight competition, the following swimmers won first place ribbons: Ella Ashby, girls 7-8, 25-yard backstroke (23.92), breaking her record of (30:65) and 25-yard freestyle (20:39); Charlie Taylor, boys 11-12, 50-yard backstroke (45.30) and 50-yard freestyle (41.60); Vanessa Calling, girls 11-12, 50-yard backstroke (39.35) and 50-yard freestyle (33.83), breaking her record of (34.34); and Andrew Burkett, boys 15 and older, 50-yard backstroke (37.85) and 50-yard freestyle (32.27).

Placing second from B Flight were: Caleb Friend, boys 9-10, 25-yard backstroke (28.02), breaking his personal record of (43:11); Ava Ashby, girls 11-12, 50-yard backstroke(48.78); Noah Aiken, boys 11-12, 50-yard backstroke (46.98) and 50-yard freestyle (42.33) breaking his personal record of (46.83); and Katelin Rank, girls 13-14, 50-yard backstroke (43.93), breaking her personal record of (50.17), and 50-yard freestyle (34.84) breaking her personal record of (36.11).

Earning third were Caleb Friend, boys 9-10, 50-yard Freestyle (49:40), breaking his record of (51.00); Harley Rhodes, boys 11-12, 50-yard Backstroke (52.20) and 50-yard freestyle (42.66); and Ava Ashby, girls 11-12, 50-yard freestyle (40.04), breaking her personal record of (40.64).

In relay competition, the team consisting of Charlie Taylor, Harley Rhodes, Ava Ashby and Noah Aiken won first in the 11-12, 200-yard medley, and the team of Caleb Rowan, Katelin Rank, Vanessa Calling and Andrew Burkett took first place in the mixed 400-yard medley relay. Taking second in the mixed 15 and over, 200-yard medley were teammates Katelin Rank, Sierra Legeer, Matthew Ball, and Andrew Burkett

Several A-Flight Manta Rays took part in the mixed 200-yard backstroke. Matthew Ball took first place with a time of 2:27.11 breaking his personal YMCA record of 2:45.59 and setting an MRST record in the A Flight boys 15 and older age category. Sierra Legeer took second place with a time of 2:58.11 and Caleb Rowan came in third with a time of 4:02.49, breaking his personal record of 5:01.40

The Manta Rays will compete in the YMCA Breaststroke Meet on Saturday, July 7.

For more information about the team and complete meet results, persons may go to the organization's web site at www.manta-ray.org.

Lisa Wade Run Scheduled For Saturday, July 14

The Georges Creek Soccer Club will sponsor the 12th annual Lisa Wade 5-K Run and 1.5-mile Fun Run/Walk on Saturday, July 14, at 8:30 a.m. at Creekside Park in Westernport.

Proceeds from the race benefit the Lisa Wade Scholarship that is awarded annually to student athletes at Mountain Ridge, Southern, and Northern high schools.

Lisa Wade was a Bloomington resident and a student at Westmar High School when she was fatally injured in a vehicle-pedestrian accident.

Bob and Sue Broadwater have offered a race incentive this year, offering $100 for each course record that is broken. An additional $50 will be added for each year the records stay intact, increasing to a maximum payout of $500.

Current course records are 15:15 for male runners, set by Jaron Hawkins; 17:33 for female runners, set by Jennifer Davis; 17:07 for male masters, set by Dennis Mickey; and 19:34 for female masters, set by Maureen Hall.

Payouts this year will be $250 for the overall male winner, $150 for the overall female winner, $200 for the male masters (over age 40) winner; and $300 for the female masters winner.

Mugs will be presented to the top three finishers in each age division. The top male and female overall winners will also receive a jacket, along with a special gift.

Runners will compete in one of the following age classifications, male and female: 9 and under, 10-14, 15-19, 20-24, 25-29, 30-34, 35-39, 40-44, 45-49, 50-54, 55-59, 60-70, and 70 and over.

After the awards are presented, there will be refreshments available. There will also be a drawing for door prizes, for which persons must be present to win.

The run will begin approximately 100 yards north of the American Legion on Rt. 36 and continue across the Waverly Street Bridge and through the town of Westernport. From there the course goes to Franklin and back down to Creekside Park. This is a predominantly flat course with one hill toward the end of the run.

The time for early registration has passed. The day-of-race registration fee is $18. Sign-up will be from 7 to 8:15 am at Creekside Park. T-shirts are guaranteed to all entrants.

Applications are available on the Queen City Striders' web site at http://www.qcstriders.org/. Applications can also be obtained by calling Steve Amann at 301-707-9641.

BOY WRANGLES TROUT AT FISHING RODEO – The Accident Community Planning Group, in partnership with the National Wild Turkey Federation, recently held its annual Fishing Rodeo at the town pond in Accident. More than 130 individuals participated in the event, including Damien Few, who is pictured above with his prize catch. Activities of the planning group are supported in part by funds from the Garrett County Health Department to promote healthy living and prevent risky behavior. Those interested in further information about joining a planning group in their area may call the Health Department at 301-334-7730 or 301-895-3111.

Entry or sponsorship inquiries should be directed to Donna Brenneman at 301-689-8176, extension 208, or donna@mdsalem.org.

Former Laker Rivero Joins Dodge City A's

Jesus Rivero, a former Garrett College baseball player, has taken a spot with the Dodge City A's of the Jayhawk Baseball League in Kansas.

According to a press release, the Jayhawk League is one of the most prestigious collegiate wood bat leagues in the country. Lefthander Rivero will see action as a member of the A's bullpen, while he works his way into the starting rotation. During his career with the Lakers, Rivero finished fifth in the country (Division II, JUCO) in strikeouts per inning with 1.389.

"It's funny how things work out," stated Eric Hallenbeck, head baseball coach at Garrett College. Jesus stayed in Deep Creek Lake to finish his associate's degree this summer. The head coach for the local Pen-Mar team asked me if he would be interested in throwing for them.

"When I talked it over with Jesus he was a little reluctant because he wanted to focus on his classes. I told him that they only played on the weekends and it would be a good way to stay in pitching shape. He decided to play and one thing led to another, and now he is going to pitch in an elite league."

Rivero has credited Hallenbeck for the role he played as his coach and mentor. "Eric helped me a lot," said Rivero. "He is very supportive of all his players and always looking for opportunities for them. He would always tell us that 'good things happen to good people,' so I've been good and something good really did happen."

Hallenbeck, who is leading youth baseball clinics this summer at Garrett College, said he is sharing Rivero's story with the young people he works with.

"It's what I've been telling my campers this week," stated Hallenbeck. "You never know who is in the stands watching."

The A's are currently a half game out of first place. Those interested may follow Rivero and his new team at www.dodgecityas.com.

For more information on the youth baseball clinics and other Kids on Campus activities at Garrett College, one may visit www.garrettcollege.edu.

Gran Fondo Event Receives Accolades From Participants

A bevy of accolades from cyclists, who rode from 25 to 125 miles throughout Garrett County in the third annual Gran Fondo event, continue to be posted on the county's Facebook page and other sites, according to the Board of Garrett County Commissioners.

Friday evening before the June 23 "Win-The-Fight" cycling ride – which attracted more than double the number of participants from last year's Gran Fondo with 1,100 cyclists – high winds from "micro burst" weather conditions had wreaked havoc on county roads.

"But thanks to volunteers and herculean efforts by the Garrett County Roads Department, county roads were clear and clean by Saturday morning," said Kyle Yost, president of Win-The-Fight, Gran Fondo organization.

Cyclists from some 20 states and Canada, praised the event and superb road conditions.

"A huge thanks to everyone for clearing the roads in prep for Garrett County Gran Fondo," said Stephen Wilson of Frederick. "It's an amazing event that shows the best of Garrett County."

Cyclist Donna Bowser of Marysville, Ohio, said she's "hooked on it and coming back for more; when is the 2013 Gran Fondo?"

County commission chair Jim Raley extended "a big Garrett County thank-you" to all who participated and stressed the importance of the event, not only for more than 1,000 cyclists and their families who came to the county, but for the event's beneficiary, the Joanna M. Nicolay Melanoma Foundation.

"The foundation provides funding for research projects and a program surrounding what is the deadliest form of skin cancer," Raley said.

Commissioners Robert Gatto and Gregan Crawford also endorsed the cycling event and acknowledged the support from business sponsors and the Adventure Sports Center International (ASCI), which coordinated volunteer support at the start and finish lines atop the Marsh Mountain river park.

"Garrett County remains committed to hosting the Gran Fondo and the SavageMan Triathlon, and we want to provide the very best experience for participants," said Crawford. "These are premier sport events for a tremendously worthy cause."

Yost also reported that many Gran Fondo participants who lodged in the area have already made reservations for next year's event.

Volunteer Russell Bounds of Railey Realty, one of several key event sponsors, noted that many volunteer workers are "permanent Garrett County residents, who recognize the Gran Fondo as a great opportunity for people to test themselves, while making sure everyone has a pleasant ride."

He estimated about 50 of the cyclists turned the event into a 12-hour endurance ride. He said 25 Garrett County cyclists also rode in the event.

ASCI event coordinator Suzanne Nicolas said some cyclists signed up for rafting trips and rock climbing activities.

"Apparently a lot of people stayed for the weekend and came with their families," she said. "We had several groups rafting, climbing, and repelling on Friday and Sunday."

Nicolas said ASCI would participate in next year's Gran Fondo, scheduled for June 22, 2013.

The Adventure Sports Center International is a not-for-profit, 501(c)(3) charitable organization formed to promote adventure tourism and healthy outdoor lifestyles. Programs are designed for groups and individuals of all skill levels and backgrounds.

State Park Programs

DEEP CREEK LAKE STATE PARK/ DISCOVERY CENTER

The following activities have been scheduled at Deep Creek Lake State Park. Programs and center hours are subject to change without notice. All programs meet or begin at the Discovery Center unless otherwise noted. Further information can be obtained by calling the Discovery Center at 301-387-7067, or by visiting the web site: www.dnr.state.md.us/publiclands/western/deepcreeklake. The center also has a Facebook page.

Friday, July 6

• 1 p.m. – Aquatic Adventure. The naturalist will be down by the shore to invite all to wade in knee-deep and learn about the animals that live in Deep Creek Lake. The fish traps and aqua scopes will also be used. Free. (Approx. 90 min.)

• 1:30 p.m. – Fish Prints. Fish that live in Deep Creek Lake will be discussed by the naturalist, who will explain how they survive and what they look like. The activity will culminate in guests making fish prints to take home. Free.

Saturday, July 7

• 11 a.m. – Hike the Snakeroot Trail. The naturalist will lead a leisurely hike along the Snakeroot Trail. This hike will focus on birds, flowers, and mammals. (Approx. 90 min.)

• 11 a.m. – Little Guard. Children age 5 to 7 invited to meet at the beach and learn the skills of a lifeguard. Participants will run a relay, practice throwing a lifesaving device, and learn how to recognize a troubled swimmer, among other skills. There is no swimming required. The cost is $7, and this includes a T-shirt. (60 min.)

• 7 p.m. – Greg Latta Concert. All are invited for an evening of music at the Discovery Center. Latta, a local musician and composer, plays the hammered dulcimer, concertina, Appalachian dulcimer, banjo, and more. The concert is free to the public.

Sunday, July 8

• 11 a.m. – Kids' Nature Hike. Youngsters may take part in a guided hike around the Discovery Center's Sensory Trail in search of birds and animals, nests, and dens. Free. (Approx. 60 mins.)

• 1:30 p.m. – Aviary Encounter. Guests are invited to the aviary to see and learn about birds of prey. The birds will be perched, which will provide photo opportunities, so guests should bring cameras. A naturalist will be available to answer questions. Free.

Monday, July 9

• 11 p.m. – Critter Encounter. Guests are invited to join a naturalist as the many fish, turtles, snakes, and birds of prey in the Discovery Center are fed. Free. (Approx. 90 min.)

• 1:30 p.m. – Toddlers in Nature. This program is for children 4 years old and younger. The naturalist will help them make a craft and find fun in nature. Fee: $2 per child. (60 min.)

• 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. – Summer at Sang Run. Friend's Store will be open to guests every Monday for special crafts, artisan visits, demonstrations, and shopping at the historic store.

Tuesday, July 10

• 8 a.m. – Birding at Deep Creek. Walkers will learn how to "bird by ear" and listen for distinctive songs on a stroll through the park. Participants should bring binoculars and meet at the Discovery Center. Both experienced and beginner birders are welcome. There are a few binoculars to lend out.

• 2 p.m. – Flutterbys and Flowers. Guests will walk around the Discovery Center with the naturalist to learn the many species of wildflowers and butterflies found in the area. The group will learn about the difference between native and non-native plants and their effects on the environment. (60 min.)

Wednesday, July 11

• 11 a.m. – What's That Reptile? Discovery Center staff will teach guests about the reptiles and amphibians in the center. Live specimens will be available for viewing and touching. Free. (Approx. 60 mins.)

• 1 p.m. – Wild Wednesday Tie Dye. Persons may meet at the Deep Creek Lake beach to make tie-dyed shirts and create a conservation message for each shirt. $10 per shirt and $5 for a bandana. (Approx. 2 hrs.)

Thursday, July 12

• 10 a.m. – Junior Ranger Program. Youngsters are invited to join the naturalist for this six-week program. Jr. Rangers will meet every Thursday to explore the park, go behind the scenes in the aviary, learn outdoor skills, and more. Fee: $25 per child, $15 for next sibling. Persons are asked to pre-register by calling the Discovery Center at 301-387-7067. (2 hrs.)

• 11 a.m. – Brant Mine Hike. Guests can join a guided hike with the naturalist to the historic Brant Mine. Hikers will see the remnants of a coal mine that was operated in the 1920s, as well as possibly some wildlife along the way. This required moderate hiking. Free. (Approx. 90 mins.)

• 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. – Fire Tower Open. Hikers may walk to the fire tower, where a volunteer will be available to show persons to the top of the structure. From that vantage point, one may see scenic views of Deep Creek Lake. $5 per person donation.

• 2:30 p.m. – Critter Encounter. Guests are invited to join a naturalist as the many fish, turtles, snakes, and birds of prey in the Discovery Center are fed.

• Save the Dates for Art in the Park, July 14 and 15.

NEW GERMANY STATE PARK

The following activities have been slated at New Germany State Park. More information can be obtained by calling the ranger station at 301-895-5453 or by e-mailing astachowiak@dnr.state.md.us. The Nature Center is open daily, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Friday, July 6

• 6:30 p.m. – Old-Time Jam. Musicians and spectators of all ages are invited to share traditional folk, bluegrass, and other "old-time" Appalachian music. The jam will take place at the New Germany Lake House. Admission is free, and refreshments and gift items will be available for purchase at the New Germany Snack Bar & Gift Shop.

Saturday, July 7

• 10 a.m. – Leave No Trace Hike, Games, & Crafts. This activity will feature a short hike with the park naturalist, in which participants will learn about Leave No Trace outdoor ethics. The activity will conclude with Leave No Trace games and crafts. Participants are encouraged to wear appropriate footwear (close-toed shoes). Meet at the Nature Center, next to the Lake House.

• 2:30 p.m. – Wilderness Survival 101. Participants are invited to join the park naturalist on an outdoor adventure and discover what it takes to survive in the wild. Participants are encouraged to wear appropriate footwear (close-toed shoes). Meet at the Nature Center, next to the Lake House.

• 4 p.m. – Salamander Scurry. The park ranger will be turning over rocks in search of animals. Guests are invited for this activity to learn about some common salamanders found in the park. The cost is $6 per family, which includes a field guide. Persons should dress for the weather (appropriate footwear recommended) and meet at the Nature Center, next to the Lake House.

• 7:30 p.m. – Campfire Program: Bee Aware. This program will feature Garrett County beekeeper "Hop" Cassidy. Participants will learn about the fascinating lives of honey bees, and why these pollinators play such an important role in life on Earth. Local honey products will be available for purchase. After the program, participants are invited to make s'mores and honey-related treats around the campfire. Meet at the Nature Center, next to the Lake House.

Sunday, July 8

• 1 p.m. – Native American Hike. On this guided hike with the park naturalist, participants will learn about what the Native Americans and early settlers did for food and medicine before there were grocery stores and pharmacies. Participants are encouraged to wear appropriate footwear (close-toed shoes). Meet at the Nature Center.

SWALLOW FALLS/HERRINGTON MANOR STATE PARK

4-H Club News

GRANTSVILLE
by Cheyenne Bagley, reporter

The Grantsville 4-H Club met at the Casselman Valley Sportman's Club for its monthly meeting on June 7.

President Brooke Colmer brought the meeting to order. Pledges were led by Camden Friend, Tyler Lytle, and Garrett Schmidt. The roll call was answered by 24 members.

Tommy Yantz gave a report from the Grantsville Days Float Committee, Tanner Friend gave a report on the dime pitch booth, and Cheyenne Bagley gave a report on the dog treats that the club made for HART for Animals.

The Fair Booth Committee will meet and bring ideas to the next meeting.

Jaylyn Wilt gave a demonstration on a soda pop geyser and Tyler Lytle gave a demonstration on the crossbow.

Refreshments were provided by Jaylyn Wilt, Samantha Wilt, and Jacob Wilt.

NORTH GLADE
by Shawn Markwood, reporter

The North Glade 4-H Club met Thursday, June 21, at Garrett College to swim.

After the session, Warren Wright called the meeting to order. Jacki Markwood led the pledges and Wyatt Wright gave the treasurer's report.

North Glade is a sponsor of the rodeo. Six members received a free admission ticket through a drawing. Cow Patty Bingo tickets and fair books were distributed.

Jacob Gilpin's demonstration was "Cleaning a Hog and Steer to Show." Tyler Gilpin's demonstration was "Things You Use to Get a Hog and Steer Ready to Show."

Ice cream coupons donated by the Livestock Association were handed out to Spring Show exhibitors who cleaned their stalls.

On July 18 at 6 p.m., the club will meet at the 4-H building. New members are welcome.

TRAILBLAZERS
by Zachary Ritchey, reporter

The Trailblazers 4-H Club held farm tours on June 10. Members visited the farms of Austin Sines, Laura Smith, Jordyn Sines, Harley Hayhurst, Amy Schmidt, and Lilah Schmidt. Each of the members gave a demonstration on their fair animals. Due to construction, Erika Ritchey and Zachary Ritchey presented pictures for their demonstrations.

After the tours, everyone met at the Bittingers' for a short business meeting, picnic, and water balloon battle.

On June 19, the Trailblazers met at Kiddie Korner for dinner. Erika Ritchey and Zachary Ritchey prepared and served a lasagna dinner to the club members and their families as part of their food projects. After dinner there was a brief meeting and members worked on the fair booth and float. Another work session will be announced to complete the booth and float.

OAK HILL
by Bailey Brewer, reporter

The Oak Hill 4-H Club held its June meeting at the home of Gary and Dana Mason.

Logan Mason completed demonstrations on his goat named "Peterbuilt," his pig named "Putt Putt," and a display board showing his service learning project at the Benders' Farm, which is part of his 4-H Lego competition.

Annie Fratz opened the meeting with the pledges. No roll call was taken. Emily Fratz gave the treasurer's report.

Under old business, the Hershey Park/Farm tour trip for July 22 and 23 has been canceled and will be rescheduled later. Plans will be made for a day trip only.

On July 18 at 7 p.m. at the Brewers' home, members are asked to participate in building the club's 4-H display board. Further information will be sent out about all the supplies that are needed.

Under new business, the club is responsible for the corn booth at the fair on Monday, July 30, from 3 to 6 p.m.

Cow Patty Bingo tickets were available, and each club member was asked to sell at least two tickets. The bingo will be held on Monday and Friday of the fair.

On July 25, there will be an orientation meeting at the fairgrounds, and all new members with market animals must attend.

Jackie Fratz noted all members who have not completed their Quality Assurance. This must be completed before participating in the Garrett County Fair in July.

The next club meeting will be in August because of the fair, and plans are being arranged for an outing for club members. Details will be provided later.

SNOWY CREEK
by Kendra Friend, reporter

The Snowy Creek 4-H Club met on June 14 for a farm tour at the home of Austin and Colby Lowdermilk.

President Derrica Friend called the meeting to order. Eight members, seven adults, and one guest were present.

Members participated in cemetery clean-up at the Laurel Run Church on May 5 and Adopt-A-Senior Citizen on May 12. They also assisted Woodmen of the World in planting flowers.

Weigh-in was held on May 18 and the Spring Show on May 19. Rileigh Lowdermilk attended the rabbit workshop on June 2.

Under old business, club members voted on giving a donation to Students Helping Honduras.

Several members attended the Maryland District Show on June 16. Members will be contacted about working on the fair booth.

Under new business, members discussed animal health checks.

Members are encouraged to participate in the engineering events held on July 23 and 26.

Fair buyers' lists are due to the Extension office by July 20.

The next club meeting will be held on Thursday, July 12, with a farm tour starting at Miranda Fisher's and ending at Derrica and Kendra Friend's farm.

To Be Next Artist

sicians. The siblings, who include titled players in the National, Dallas, and Houston symphonies, joined together in 1994 to form the Adkins String Ensemble. Adkins has performed on viola and violin with this chamber ensemble for more than 15 years, and the group has made numerous recordings.

Edward Newman received both bachelor's and master's degrees from the Juilliard School and has been soloist with numerous orchestras, among them the Cleveland Orchestra, the National Symphony and the Baltimore Symphony. He was awarded first prize in the 1979 Casadesus International Piano Competition. He also was a prizewinner in the Gin Bachauer and University of Maryland competitions and was a semifinalist in the 1981 Van Cliburn Competition. An addition to maintaining a private studio, Newman has performed with a number of chamber music ensembles. By virtue of his marriage to Elisabeth Adkins (Madeline's sister), Edward was declared an "honorary Adkins" and in 1995 joined the Adkins String Ensemble, for which he serves as pianist.

After the concert, which is sponsored by the Sincell Publishing Company Inc., there will be an opportunity to meet the artists and share light refreshments.

Admission is $15; all under age 19 are admitted free of charge. Attendees are encouraged to arrive no later than 7:15 p.m. for good seating.

Underwood United Brethren Church Plans Bible School

The Underwood United Brethren Church has slated its Bible school for Monday, July 16, through Friday, July 20. Sessions will last from 6 to 8 p.m. Classes will be available for everyone from preschoolers to adults.

This year's theme is "Adventures on Promise Island." There will be crafts, refreshments, and prizes every night. Organizers invite the public to "come and join the fun and learn about Jesus."

The church is located five miles south of Oakland along Underwood Road. Those interested in further information may contact Debbie Wilt at 301-387-7109.

DESIGNATED CHAPLAIN OF THE YEAR – Members of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital Chaplaincy Program recently named Rev. Arthur Evans as the Chaplain of the Year for 2012. Evans has participated in the program since 1999. Through the initiative, local clergy volunteer their time and service to hospital patients, visitors, and staff. A chaplain is available, as needed, seven days a week. Pictured, left to right, at the annual recognition luncheon are hospital CEO Donald Battista, Evans, and Rev. Dr. Donald Forrester.

CHEVRON AWARDS for years of service were presented to several members of the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club last week at the Lions' pavilion in Broadford Park. Pictured above left, from left, are club president Josh Bosley and Chevron Award winners Mark "Bubba" Marucci, W. Porter Welch, Steve Finger, Gene Flinn, Mike Speranzella, and Frank Lewis. District 22 Lions governor Steve Finger presented the awards, and then recognized Porter Welch with the Lions International President Certificate of Appreciation for spearheading vision testing of 572 children in Head Start, pre-kindergarten, kindergarten, and children day-care facilities throughout the county. Of those tested, 13% were referred to see an optometrist, one child required muscle eye surgery, another needed eye muscle exercises, and 26 children were fitted with glasses. In the photo above right, from left, are Elwood Glass from the LaVale Lions Club, who trained Welch and others in the local club in how to operate the vision screening equipment; Welch; and Finger. Paul Everly became the newest member of the club. He was inducted by Bubba Marucci and sponsored by Rich Rohrbaugh. Paul's father, the late Carl Everly, was a longtime member of the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park club. Pictured below, from left, are Marucci, Finger, Rohrbaugh, Everly, and Bosley. Marucci and Brian Boal gave a report on the great success of Redneck Dayz held the previous weekend. The club donated $2,700 to the town of Oakland for the use of the park, and netted approximately $6,700 to fund the various charitable programs of the club. The club's next event will be serving chicken dinners at the Garrett County Fair.

STORM DOWNS TREES, POWER LINES – Downed trees like the one pictured above at the Sisler residence along Nest Lick Acres Road are still visible throughout the county following the massive storm system that moved through the Midwest and mid-Atlantic region Friday evening. Director Brad Frantz, Garrett County Department of Public Safety and Emergency Management, said Tuesday there was only one report of a structure receiving significant damage – three trees fell onto a Savage River Road home, one of which landed in a bedroom. The director said it was fortunate that the county did not have more major damages. See story on front page. Below, a tree rests on power lines along Rt. 219, just north of Sand Flat Road. Thousands of residents in Garrett, Allegany, Preston, Tucker, Grant, and Mineral counties were still without power this morning. Photos by John McEwen.

area students at the Kitzmiller school.

McCartney said the charter school would provide a "place-based" education for its students. She noted that current plans are very preliminary, as community members and the Board of Education need to provide further input.

"We're looking at the school sort of thematically, as a place where students and community thrive," she said. "And we would hope to continue efforts with Community Action, the library, and other agencies to enhance the public charter school as a real community center for that area."

She noted that Garrett County has never had a public charter school. There are currently about 50 charter schools in Maryland.

"We look forward to working with the board [of education] in a cooperative way to provide this opportunity for students," McCartney said.

She noted her group will be working closely with the BOE on such issues as staffing contracts and funding.

"It will be a part of the public school system, so all of those things hold with the charter school," McCartney said. "It's a very complicated process. We'll be learning a lot."

Because the charter school will not be open for at least another year, Kitzmiller parents are exploring educational options for this fall, Paugh noted.

"Parents are strongly opting for a homeschooling program, and coming together to provide instructional support for their children, perhaps even employing certified teachers to help in that process," he said.

Paugh added that others may choose to send their children to Broad Ford or to a private school for the 2012-2013 school year.

"But regardless of whether they're homeschooled or attend school elsewhere, we've formed another nonprofit corporation called the Kitzmiller Learning Cooperative," he noted.

He said the co-op is designed to support those who opt to homeschool and to provide support beyond the school day for homeschoolers and others. He noted more meetings will be held to work out the details about the effort.

"But this is where we need your assistance," Paugh told the commissioners. "Although we realize you won't have control of the facilities (the former Kitzmiller Elementary School) until they are turned over to you by the Board of Education, we would like to request use . . . of at least two classrooms for use of Kitzmiller Learning Cooperative."

The group would like to begin using the old school this fall. Paugh said the co-op will help sustain the community, provide an educational resource for its students, and function as a bridge to development of Kitzmiller Charter School.

Commission chair Jim Raley indicated the commissioners would discuss the school building use issue further with county officials, Dr. Wilson, and the BOE.

The commissioners' next public meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, July 17, beginning at 4 p.m. in their meeting room at the courthouse.

CONDITIONS FOR SAILING on Deep Creek Lake have been favorable of late, with the annual racing season of the Deep Creek Lake Yacht Club continuing every weekend. This shot of a fleet of Lasers in close competition was taken Saturday by Doug Woodburn, as was the photo below of a creatively designed craft that must be doing an excellent business in the hotter-than-normal weather conditions of late.

Graham Awarded Promotion To VP At First United

William B. Grant, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of First United Bank & Trust, has announced the promotion of Becky Graham to vice president and loan operations/ processing manager.

Graham has over 20 years' experience in the banking industry. Since joining First United as a customer service representative, she has been promoted several times, serving as a senior staff auditor and loan servicing manager. She is a graduate of Garrett Community College and Frostburg State University with an associate degree in business administration and a bachelor of science degree in accounting and business administration.

"Becky's expertise and experience have made her a tremendous asset to the company," said Grant. "She is held in the highest regard for her lending knowledge, and she is dedicated to the bank's vision."

Graham is a member of the Fairview Church of the Brethren, where she teaches Sunday school, serves on the ministerial board, and leads the junior youth choir. She is also treasurer of the Fairview Cemetery, a member of the Garrett County Livestock Association, and coach of the junior varsity volleyball team for Southern High School.

She resides in Oakland with her husband Chuck Graham and their three children, Annie, Austin, and Isaac. She enjoys reading, spending time with her family, and coaching v olleyball.

On Dean's List At Davis, Elkins

Ruth Enlow To Host Consumer Material Insurance Workshop

Trained staff representing the Maryland Insurance Administration will be available at two Ruth Enlow Library locations to answer questions and to provide a variety of consumer materials on all types of insurance products.

On Thursday, July 19, from 1:30 to 5 p.m., a representative will be available at the Grantsville library branch.

On Friday, July 20, from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., the Oakland library branch will host an MIA member.

"A key aspect of the Maryland Insurance Administration's mission involves educating the citizens of our state about the choices available to them as consumers of insurance products," stated Therese Goldsmith, Maryland Insurance commissioner.

"The more informed consumers are, the better equipped they are to make purchasing decisions that are right for them."

A schedule of agency outreach activities and consumer materials is available on the web site www.mdinsurance.state.md.us and at various community events. One may also call 410-468-2360 for information.

We wanted to send this letter to say "thank you" to Beverly and Bob Everett for all their help selling our home. As you know, this is not a particularly strong market for a seller and we feel they far exceeded our expectations as listing agents. They were both extremely diligent and spent a tremendous amount of time with us making sure that all details of the contract and sale were completely clear. They were always upbeat and helpful with any and every question brought to them (believe us, there were many). Beverly and Katherine did such an unbelievable job helping us get the house ready for our showings. The pictures were amazing, and the buyers have told us that those pictures are what brought them to the house.

Currently, Beverly and Bob are hard at work helping us find a new house to move in to. They have been wonderful in this aspect as well. Again, they are always available and happy to answer questions, and I can reach them by phone and email easily. All around it has been a wonderful experience.

We are extremely pleased with our experience and will definitely continue to use Beverly, Bob and Coldwell Banker now and in the future.

Sincerely,
Scott and Toi Hershman

Birding BITS

BY Cindy Brook

Wildlife Seed Blend

I like to buy a wildlife seed blend from my local wild bird store. It is chock-full of white stripe and black oil sunflower, small peanuts in the shell, dried corn and much more. To stretch it out, I mix it with sunflower chips and unsalted peanuts. The birds love it.

Strange BUT TRUE

• It was ancient Chinese philosopher Confucius who made the following sage observation: "It is only the very wisest and the very stupidest who cannot change."
• The 1,000 most common words in English make up approximately 90 percent of all writing in the language.
• If you're planning a trip Down Under, be sure you save some time for the Australian state of Tasmania. In the capital, Derwent, is the critically acclaimed Museum of Old and New Art, or MONA. One of the unusual -- I would even venture to say unique in the world -- offerings is the after-hours "naturist tour." Yes, that means naked. A naked tour guide leads naked tourists through the museum. Even the security guards are naked. • You may be surprised to learn that hot and cold running water has been around for thousands of years. Members of the upper class in ancient Egypt used copper tubing to pipe it into their homes.
• The oldest goldfish on record lived 41 years. His name was Fred.
• According to the U.S. Census, the Pacific states (including Hawaii) are home to the men with the longest life expectancy, while women tend to live longer in the South.
• If one or both of your parents were sleepwalkers, you're more prone to nocturnal wanderings yourself.
• In the late 1960s, J.I. Rodale, creator of Prevention magazine, was invited to be a guest on the "Dick Cavett Show." After talking confidently about his good health and predicting that he would live to be 100, he seemed to doze off. The host and another guest chuckled a bit about the apparent nap, until they realized that Rodale had died. Needless to say, the show never aired.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On July 14, 1798, Congress passes the Sedition Act, which permitted the prosecution of individuals who voiced or printed what the government deemed to be malicious remarks about the president or government of the United States.
• On July 11, 1804, Vice President Aaron Burr fatally shoots his long-time political antagonist, Alexander Hamilton, in a duel. Burr shot Hamilton in the stomach, and the bullet lodged next to his spine. Hamilton, a Founding Father and first U.S. treasury secretary, died the next day.
• On July 9, 1877, the All England Croquet and Lawn Tennis Club begins its first lawn tennis tournament at Wimbledon, then an outer suburb of London. Twenty-one amateurs showed up to compete in the Gentlemen's Singles tournament, the only event.
• On July 10, 1925, in Dayton, Tenn., the so-called Monkey Trial begins with John Thomas Scopes, a young high-school science teacher, accused of teaching evolution in violation of a Tennessee state law. The law made it a misdemeanor to teach any theory that denied the story of the Divine Creation of man.
• On July 12, 1933, the first three-wheeled, multi-directional Dymaxion car is manufactured in Bridgeport, Conn. Part aircraft, part automobile, it had wings that inflated and a tail fin. It had a steel chassis, a body made of ash wood, an aluminum skin and a painted canvas roof. The Dymaxion was designed to reach a speed of 120 mph and average 28 mpg.
• On July 15, 1941, master spy Juan Pujol Garcia, nicknamed "Garbo," sends his first communique to Germany from Britain. The disinformation the double agent transmitted to Germany was fabricated by the British. In June 1944, he managed to convince Hitler that the D-Day invasion of Normandy was just a "diversionary maneuver."

Collecting

by Larry Cox

Q: I have a cast iron hay hook that I purchased at a farm auction several years ago. I have been offered $25 for it. -- Carl, Camden, Ohio
A: If your hay hook has wooden handles, it is worth about $15.

Q: I have a coin silver knife that was brought from England to New Jersey during the 1790s by Stephen Pierson, a lumberman and mayor of Alton during the 1840s. I have estimates of very high to very low; what do you think? -- Thomas, Alton, Ill.
A: You didn't state whom the estimates were from, so I suggest you begin by getting an appraisal from a certified appraiser. This doesn't mean the opinion of a neighbor, or knife collector or someone who watches the "Antiques Roadshow" on PBS. There are basically two types of appraisals, verbal and written. The verbal appraisals are less expensive, but if you are determining a value for insurance purposes, a written appraisal is the only way to go. You should, of course, expect to pay a small fee for this service. Check the business pages of your local phone book, and make certain that the appraiser you choose specializes in personal property, not real estate.

Q: I am a Vietnam veteran and managed to save some things from my tour of duty. I have such things as a M7 bayonet, an M1956 belt, several canteens, a field mess kit and, of course, my uniforms. I am downsizing and wonder if the time has come to get rid of this stuff. -- Robert, Midland, Texas
A: It depends on how much these things truly mean to you. My dad kept his WWII footlocker and its contents until the day he died. I have it now and wouldn't part with it for any amount of money. On the other hand, a friend of mine couldn't wait to discard his U.S. Navy gear. Before you decide what to do, I suggest you contact an expert who is in the business of buying and selling military collectibles. I highly recommend George Kotarpole, owner of History, By George, 129 W. Main St., Mesa, AZ 85201.

Drawn to the Sea

e power of the sea can be reassuring, a memory to recall when we feel weak and alone during the storms of life. "All the rivers run into the sea; yet the sea is not full." (Ecclesiastes 1:7) How deep and how endless is God's love for us! He can help us through the worst catastrophe when we believe in his omnipotence. As we are drawn to the sea, may we be drawn to our house of worship so that the power of His might and His Word will remain fresh in our hearts and minds.

DESPERATION

"When my spirit grows faint within me, it is you who watch over my way."
Psalm 142:3

The shining dreams and ideals of youth often become tarnished and faded in mid-life. We expected great things from life but are disappointed to see our dreams unfulfilled and time running out. Thoreau famously remarked that "Most men lead lives of quiet desperation and go to the grave with the song still in them." Living with this desperation takes a heavy toll which few can bear. Most of us either relinquish the dreams or lower our expectations. Some of us continue to believe that the brass ring might still be grasped. But no one can live with the thought that they have somehow failed at life, or failed to live up to their own ideals. So how should we face this? How do we live in such a way that we can approach the grave with a full-throated singing of our dreams and ideals? One way is to keep doing the best that we can, knowing we are finite creatures who often stumble. But, at least if we know that we have run the race with determination, never giving up, we will know we have done our best. We should also realize that this isn't an individual race, but a relay race, where we have taken the baton from others and will soon pass it on. And finally, to complete the analogy, the coach of our team is God, and ultimately God's team will win. We are all cosmic winners if we are on the side of goodness.

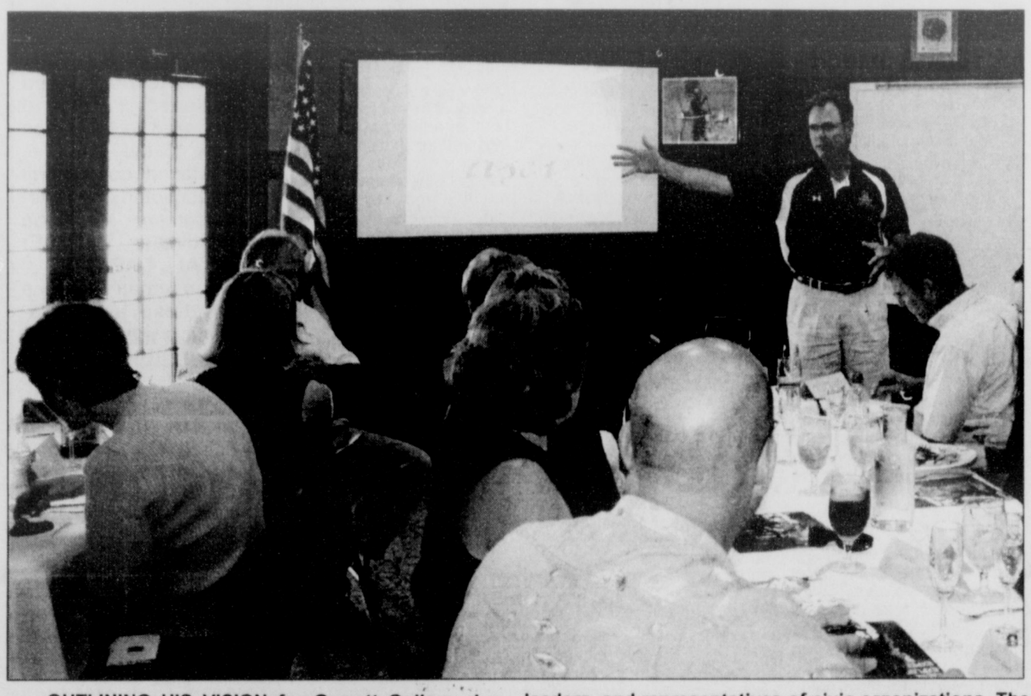
CELEBRATING 40 YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY



OUTLINING HIS VISION for Garrett College during a meeting of the President's Circle, Garrett College president Dr. Richard MacLennan emphasized the importance of partnerships within the community. Attending the luncheon were community officials, business leaders, and representatives of civic organizations. The President's Circle is sponsored by the Garrett College Foundation. See story for details. For information on the President's Circle, persons may call 301-387-3100.

President's Circle Created At GC; Meets To Discuss Future Of ASCI

A group of Garrett County officials and community leaders met last week with Garrett College president Dr. Richard MacLennan to share information. The forum, the President's Circle, is sponsored by the Garrett College Foundation.

Michael Logsdon, interim director of the Adventure Sports Center International (ASCI) and director of the Garrett College Adventure-sports Institute, presented information about the plans for the county-owned sports center located on Marsh Mountain at Deep Creek Lake.

Fred Learey GC Foundation executive director, explained the purpose of the newly formed President's Circle.

"The foundation saw the need to expand networking within the Garrett County community to increase public awareness and to receive input about Garrett College's efforts to stimulate economic growth and enhance the quality of life for the people of Garrett County," Learey said. "The college is an integral part of this community."

Dr. MacLennan welcomed the group and shared his vision for Garrett College.

"In order to meet the challenges that lie ahead and to achieve the goals we have set, we will need strong partnerships with everyone in Garrett County," he said. "The collaboration between the college, Garrett County, and ASCI is a vivid example of how the county's institutions and organizations can be strengthened by working together."

Following his comments, the president introduced Logsdon.

Logsdon's presentation about ASCI focused on the enhancements of the programming offered at ASCI through the partnership with the Garrett College Adventure Sports program.

"This partnership is mutually beneficial," Logsdon's said. "Our college students are able to get the finest hands-on training by actually participating in the programming offered at ASCI. It allows these men and women to have top-notch experience as they move into their careers."

He pointed out the ASCI programs would benefit from the enthusiasm of the Adventure Sports students.

Learey noted that the foundation hopes to offer these networking sessions several times during the year.

"Garrett College is where the community comes together," he said. "Our goal is to work closely with all the other leaders within the community to ensure the best future for all the residents of Garrett County."

Adventure Sports Students To Help With Fundraiser

An Oakland-based charity will benefit from an adventure competition slated this week at Cooper's Rock State Forest near Morgantown, W.Va., at which Garrett College Adventure Sports program students and graduates will provide on-site volunteer services.

The Cooper's Rock Charity Climb-A-Thon will raise funds to support "It's in the Bag," a cooperative outreach ministry of the Episcopal churches of Garrett County, St. Mark's Lutheran Church of Oakland, and Garrett County United Methodist churches. The fundraiser is slated for Friday, July 6, from 4 to 9 p.m., with a rain date of Friday, July 20, 4-9 p.m.

The climb-a-thon allows participants with all levels of experience to compete based on number of vertical feet climbed during the event.

"To bring difficulty into the equation, harder climbs are worth more 'calculated distance' than easier climbs," said event coordinator Andy Hershey.

A crew of Garrett College Adventure Sports program students and former students will help coordinate the benefit as well as assist climbers at the event. Among those volunteering services are Josh Armstrong, Stephen Hyndman, Luke D'urso, Nick Stipanovic, and Charlie Hengemihle.

"It's in the Bag" identifies local children who take part in the free or reduced school breakfast and lunch program as their main meal for the day. The program provides these children with an opportunity to take home a backpack filled with healthful food on Fridays to ensure that they have something to eat over the weekend.

Each Climb-a-Thon participant pays a modest registration fee to enter this contest and is encouraged to help raise additional funds by way of sponsorships.

"All sponsor donations must be submitted on the day of the event during the registration process, via either cash or a check made out to It's in the Bag. The two climbers collecting the most money will win prizes," Hershey explained.

To learn more about this event, persons may e-mail janelle@coopersrock-climbingguides.com or call 304-777-7638.

For more information on It's in the Bag, persons may go to www.episcopalchurchingarrettcounty.org or e-mail episcopalchurchingarrettcounty@verizon.net

REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL

Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc. (GCCAC) has been awarded a BeSmart Aggregated Energy Efficiency Services grant which will increase the accessibility of energy conservation and efficiency opportunities throughout Garrett County. Under this new program, GCCAC plans to explore the potential market for for-profit weatherization services by contracting with a marketing consultant or business planner to research the market and develop a business plan. GCCAC is seeking proposals from interested contractors for the purpose of formulating a business plan tailored to the needs of the market and in accordance with the strengths of the agency's Weatherization Department. The successful proposal should address how the business plan will assist the agency in:

- Understanding the market for moderate and above-moderate income weatherization
- Pricing its services
- Structuring the business so that there is minimal risk to the non-profit
- Defining tax implication
- Understanding the connection between revenues received from the utility weatherization program and the for-profit side of the program
- Product development, such as audits, full weatherization, loan packaging, and renewable energy consultation
- Determining if for-profit weatherization is viable and sustainable endeavor for GCCAC.

A summary of the contractor's prior experience/capabilities is required.

For more information, contact Lisa Swift at 301-334-9431, Ext. 149. All proposals should be mailed to GCCAC, attn: Human Resources, 104 E Center Street, Oakland, MD 21550, no later than July 20, 2012. Garrett County Community Action is an equal opportunity employer. 7/5-12(2)

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEE'S SALE OF UNIMPROVED REAL ESTATE

14.71 acres, more or less, unimproved real estate along Route 219, McHenry, Maryland. By virtue of the power of sale contained in a Deed of Trust dated January 24, 2008, and recorded in Liber No. 1352, folio 0503, among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under its terms, I, Craig Ingram, Substitute Trustee, hereby give notice that I will, on at the Alder Street entrance of the Garrett County Court House, Oakland, Maryland, offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder the following property: 14.71 acres, more or less, unimproved real estate along Route 219, McHenry, Maryland. Being the same property as was conveyed by deed dated December 31, 2007 and recorded in Liber No. 1349, folio 0265, among said Land Records.

Friday, July 6, 2012, at the hour of 2:15 p.m.

Terms of Sale: Deposit of EIGHTEEN THOUSAND FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS ($18,400.00) will be required of Purchaser at the time and place of sale, such deposit to be cash, certified check or such other form as the Substitute Trustee may determine acceptable in his sole discretion. Balance to be payable by same method within fifteen (15) days after final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court, with interest on said balance from the date of sale to the date of actual receipt of funds by the Substitute Trustee at 7% per annum. There shall be no abatement of interest for any reason. Deposit not required if mortgagee is purchaser. Substitute Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to extend the time of settlement at his discretion. Property is sold in "AS IS" condition. The Substitute Trustee makes no representations and/or warranty whatsoever regarding the title or any other matter with respect to the property, either express or implied, including but not limited to: the nature, condition, quality and quantity of the land, suitability of use and/or purpose, description of the property and/or improvements. The Property will be sold subject to all natural gas rights, easements, conditions, liens, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, encumbrances and agreements of record affecting the same, and such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection of the Property might disclose. The Property will be sold subject to all existing building, zoning, wetland, and environmental problems and or violations which may exist on or with respect to the Property, if any. Purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss with respect to the Property as of the time of sale. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining possession of the property. Taxes, public charges and assessments will be adjusted to the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the Purchaser. All costs of conveyance and settlement, including incidental settlement costs, including transfer taxes and recordation taxes, shall be paid by Purchaser. Time is of the essence as to Purchaser. In the event the Purchaser fails to settle as required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available, Substitute Trustee may declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and expense of Purchaser. In such event, Purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney fees, and all other charges due. In the event that Substitute Trustee is unable to convey marketable title, or, in the event the Mortgagor entered into a repayment plan, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to sale, or if for any other reason, Substitute Trustee did not have the right to sell the property, the sale is null and void and Purchaser is not entitled to any legal or equitable remedy, other than the return of the deposit, without interest and any and all other claims of the Purchaser are hereby released. Other terms and conditions may be announced at the sale. The information contained herein is offered for informational purposes only. It is Purchaser's obligation to obtain an independent investigation of the Property. The Note Holder and Substitute Trustee do not make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of this information and Purchaser holds them harmless from same.

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a Deed of Trust dated May 18, 2009, and recorded in Liber No. 1434, folio 211, among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under its terms, I, Craig Ingram, Substitute Trustee, hereby give notice that I will, on at the Alder Street entrance of the Garrett County Court House, Oakland, Maryland, offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder the following property: containing 13,939 square feet, with improvements known as 104 Gravelly Run Road, McHenry, Maryland. The home is believed to contain 1,428 square feet, have a detached two-car garage with a mother-in-law suite over the garage, and frontage on the Deep Creek Lake bufferstrip. Access to docking area is with annual permission from State Highway Administration. Being the same property as was conveyed by deed dated August 1, 2001, and recorded in Liber No. 852, folio 106, among said Land Records.

Terms of Sale: Deposit of FIFTY-ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($51,000.00) will be required of Purchaser at the time and place of sale, such deposit to be cash, certified check or such other form as the Substitute Trustee may determine acceptable in his sole discretion. Balance to be payable by same method within fifteen (15) days after final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court, with interest on said balance from the date of sale to the date of actual receipt of funds by the Substitute Trustee at 7% per annum. There shall be no abatement of interest for any reason. Deposit not required if mortgagee is purchaser. Substitute Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to extend the time of settlement at his discretion. Property is sold in "AS IS" condition. The Substitute Trustee makes no representations and/or warranty whatsoever regarding the title, docking rights, or any other matter with respect to the property, either express or implied, including but not limited to: the nature, condition, quality and quantity of the land, suitability of use and/or purpose, description of the property and/or improvements, if any. The Property will be sold subject to all easements, conditions, liens, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, encumbrances and agreements of record affecting the same, and such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection of the Property might disclose. The Property will be sold subject to all existing building, zoning, wetland, and environmental problems and or violations which may exist on or with respect to the Property, if any. Purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss with respect to the Property as of the time of sale. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining possession of the property. Taxes, and all current or past due water or sewer charges, including any transfer fees, public charges and assessments will be adjusted to the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the Purchaser. All costs of conveyance and settlement, including incidental settlement costs, including transfer taxes and recordation taxes, shall be paid by Purchaser. Time is of the essence as to Purchaser. In the event the Purchaser fails to settle as required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available, Substitute Trustee may declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and expense of Purchaser. In such event, Purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney fees, and all other charges due. In the event that Substitute Trustee is unable to convey marketable title, or, in the event the Mortgagor entered into a repayment plan, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to sale, or if for any other reason, Substitute Trustee did not have the right to sell the property, the sale is null and void and Purchaser is not entitled to any legal or equitable remedy, other than the return of the deposit, without interest and any and all other claims of the Purchaser are hereby released. Other terms and conditions may be announced at the sale. The information contained herein is offered for informational purposes only. It is Purchaser's obligation to obtain an independent investigation of the Property. The Note Holder and Substitute Trustee do not make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of this information and Purchaser holds them harmless from same.

According to the Maryland State Department of Assessments and Taxation, Parcel Two has an Account Number of 18-069547.

TERMS OF SALE: Parcel One and Parcel Two shall be offered as separate parcels and then together. The sale(s) bringing the highest bid(s) shall prevail. A deposit in the amount of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00), payable by bank cashier's check, will be required of the purchaser at the time and place of sale. The balance of the purchase price, together with interest thereon at the rate of ten percent (10%) per annum from the date of sale to the date of settlement, shall be due from the purchaser to the Substitute Trustee by bank cashier's check within twenty (20) days following the final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, unless such closing deadline is extended in writing by the Substitute Trustee. Time is of the essence. Settlement shall be held at the offices of Jackson Kelly, PLLC, 310 West Burke Street, Martinsburg, WV 25402, or such other place as may be agreed to by the Substitute Trustee. In the event that the beneficiary under the Deed of Trust, or an affiliate or subsidiary thereof, is the successful bidder at the sale, such party will not be required to make any deposit required hereunder or to pay interest on the unpaid purchase money. The Substitute Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids at the sale, and to extend the time for settlement, at his discretion.

The Property is being sold in an "AS IS" condition and without any warranties or representations, either express or implied, as to the nature, condition, value, use or description of the Property or any improvements thereon. The Property will also be sold subject to: (i) all senior liens and encumbrances that are not extinguished by operation of law by the foreclosure sale of the Property; (ii) all easements, equitable servitudes, conditions, rights of way, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, restrictive covenants, declarations, documents establishing homeowners' association(s) and any other agreements, matters or restrictions of record affecting the Property; (iii) all existing zoning code violations, encroachments, and critical area and wetland violations; (iv) all environmental problems, conditions or hazards which may exist on or with respect to the Property; and (v) such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection of the Property might disclose.

All real estate taxes, assessments, water charges, county or municipal charges, homeowners' association charges and senior liens that are owed against the Property and that are not extinguished by the foreclosure sale of the Property, and the cost of all recordation fees and taxes, document preparation costs, transfer taxes, title examination costs, attorneys' fees and other costs associated with conveying the Property to the purchaser, shall be the sole responsibility of the purchaser and shall be paid for by the purchaser at settlement. The purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss for the Property immediately after the sale takes place. It shall be the purchaser's responsibility to obtain possession of the Property after the closing.

In the event that the purchaser fails to go to settlement as required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available to the Substitute Trustee, the Substitute Trustee may declare the aforementioned deposit forfeited and resell the Property at the purchaser's sole risk and expense. In such event, the defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price sustained by the Substitute Trustee and/or the Noteholder, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorneys' fees, and any other damages sustained by the Substitute Trustee and/or the Noteholder, including, without limitation, all incidental damages. If the Substitute Trustee is unable to convey the Property as described above, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be limited to a refund of the aforementioned deposit, without interest thereon. Upon refund of the deposit to the purchaser as aforesaid, the sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claim against the Substitute Trustee, the Noteholder or the auctioneer conducting the sale of the Property, if any. The parties' respective rights and obligations regarding the terms and conduct of the sale shall be governed by the laws of the State of Maryland.

The information contained herein was obtained from sources deemed to be reliable, but is offered for informational purposes only. The auctioneer, if any, the Noteholder and the Substitute Trustee do not make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of this information.

Mimicry not always flattery: CBS and ABC face off over new reality series

By Dee Wright
TV Media

Networks usually welcome a little bit of friendly competition. Once a new series premise is developed, other networks tend to take the idea, tweak it a little bit, and launch it on a different station.

Such was the case of "Pawn Stars" vs. "Hardcore Pawn," "Wife Swap" vs. "Trading Spouses," and "Hoarders" vs. "Hoarding: Buried Alive." "American Idol" on Fox was followed by NBC's "The Voice," and Fox's "Hell's Kitchen" led to "Top Chef" on Bravo. Even "The View" and "The Talk" are often lumped together, though they have different discussions and guests.

"Big Brother" starts Season 14 on Thursday, July 12, on CBS. There are several reality shows that put strangers in a new environment and make them compete against each other for a variety of prizes.

But every once in a while, someone gets their toes stepped on, and the lawyers are called in.

CBS launched "Big Brother" in 2000, putting a group of strangers into a house that is fully equipped with video and sound equipment, recording their every move and conversation. Between Head of Household competitions (which are usually based on physical endurance) and in-house alliances, the houseguests are gradually evicted one by one, until only one is left standing. Houseguests compete for $500,000.

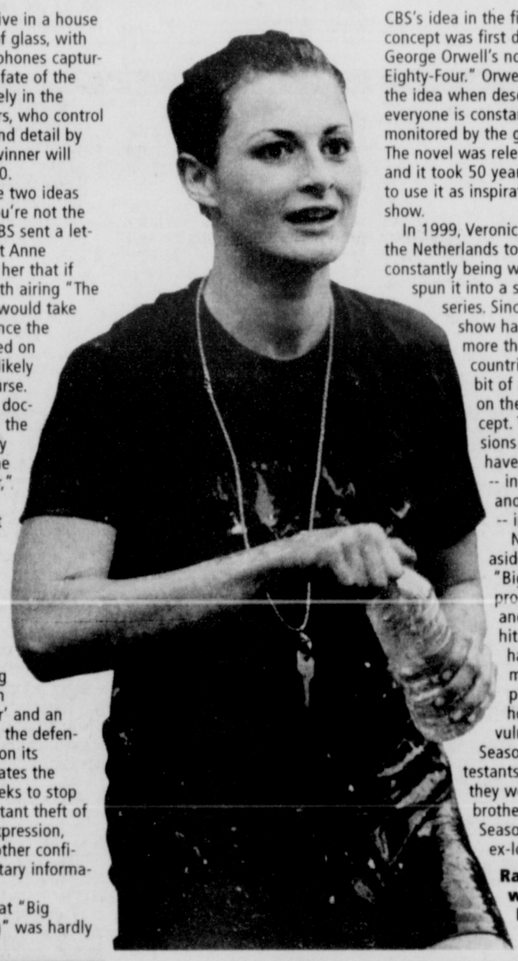
Back in June, ABC premiered a series called "The Glass House." It features 14 people who've never met as they live in a house made entirely out of glass, with cameras and microphones capturing everything. The fate of the contestants is entirely in the hands of the viewers, who control every elimination and detail by voting online. The winner will take home $250,000.

If you think those two ideas are quite similar, you're not the only one. In May, CBS sent a letter to ABC president Anne Sweeney informing her that if ABC goes ahead with airing "The Glass House," CBS would take legal action. And since the ABC series premiered on June 18, there will likely be more legal recourse.

According to the documentation filed by the eye network on May 10, provided by "The Hollywood Reporter," CBS is concerned with more than just a similar game.

"'The Glass House' remarkably employs at least 19 former producers and staff from CBS's hit reality television series 'Big Brother,' is a carbon copy of 'Big Brother' and an obvious attempt by the defendants to capitalize on its unique success," states the complaint. "CBS seeks to stop the defendant's blatant theft of its copyrightable expression, trade secrets, and other confidential and proprietary information."

Now, the idea that "Big Brother is watching" was hardly CBS's idea in the first place. The concept was first discussed in George Orwell's novel "Nineteen Eighty-Four." Orwell presented the idea when describing that everyone is constantly being monitored by the government. The novel was released in 1949, and it took 50 years for someone to use it as inspiration for a TV show.



Rachel Reilly won "Big Brother" last season

In 1999, Veronica network in the Netherlands took the idea of constantly being watched and spun it into a successful series. Since then, the show has erupted to more than 40 different countries, each with a bit of a different spin on the original concept. These extensions usually still have "Big Brother" -- in English or another language -- in the title.

Network drama aside, Season 14 of "Big Brother" promises to be another ratings hit. Past seasons have boasted many twists that played on the houseguests' vulnerabilities. In Season 5, two contestants discovered they were actually brother and sister; Season 4 reunited ex-lovers; Season 11 separated the players into groups -- the Haves and the Have Nots. While the Haves enjoyed full meals and comfortable beds, the Have Nots had to eat unappealing combinations -- like eels and eggplants -- and sleep on cots or lawn chairs with the lights always on. Season 11 introduced Pandora's Box, in which the Head of Household is tempted with a reward in exchange for some form of punishment.

An early promo for the new season promises more houseguests than ever before, which means that there'd have to be at least 17 people in the house. The commercial also alludes to multiple big twists, which could be revealed before the door to the house is even unlocked.

One consistent aspect of every season has been host Julie Chen. Chen greets the players before competitions and evictions, as well as interviewing the houseguests after they are evicted one by one. Chen has been brand-loyal to CBS, having worked on the eye network for most of her career. She's even married to CBS president Leslie Moonves. Chen is also one of the visionaries and hosts of "The Talk," the daytime motherhood-themed talk show that took the place of "As the World Turns."

Last season's winner was 27-year-old Rachel Reilly, a model and waitress from Las Vegas. She first appeared in Season 12, when she met and fell in love with fellow houseguest Brandon Villegas. Rachel and Brandon, now engaged, returned for Season 13 along with several other previous guests, and Rachel came out the winner.

CBS has heart

'3' women look for love in new series

By Sheila Busteed
TV Media

CBS HAS HEART: CBS has lagged behind the other major networks in producing a unique match-making reality series, but that's all about to change. Later this month, it will debut a new dating show that will turn three unknown women into household names as they support each other through their separate quests to find love.

The network recently announced the cast of "3," which will premiere on Sunday, July 22, and it will feature April Francis, Rachel Harley and Libby Lopez. Based on a popular reality series from Israel, "3" will show how the women give each other advice as they narrow down their choices from nearly 100 men.

Francis, 29, runs Chicago's Haute Closet fashion service. She also created the city's Dose Market and consults for high-end spas. However, this businesswoman would rather dedicate herself to being a wife and mother and is looking for a man who is ready for marriage.

At 34, Harley is the oldest of the three women and certainly has a story to tell. She has two children and lost her husband to cancer in 2010, so any suitor will have to be comfortable with the fact that she's a widow who already has a family.

Lopez is the youngest of the group at the age of 24, and she has been working as a model since she was 18. Her parents divorced when she was a kid, so she has high expectations for the men she'll meet because she doesn't want her relationship to end the same way. As a devout Baptist, she is also insisting that her partner share her religious beliefs.

The series will be hosted by Alex Miranda ("Travels With Nixon"), and this will be his first show to be broadcast nationally.

Rachel Harley, April Francis and Libby Lopez as seen in "3"

Saturday

Tour de France
6 (6) 8 11 (11) 12 8:00 a.m.
The best cyclists from around the globe battle for the ultimate achievement in the sport at this year's Tour de France. The race covers a distance of approximately 2,230 miles and consists of 21 stages that include mountain and time-trial challenges.

Sell This House: Extreme
37 A&E 11:00 a.m.
When Paul and Carolyn found a log cabin on the lake, they thought they'd found the home of their dreams. But between rickety framing, a leaking roof and bad wiring, their dream is soon turning into a nightmare. It's up to Tanya and Roger to fix it.

The Walking Dead
34 AMC 11:30 a.m.
AMC kicks off the summer with a marathon of this unique zombie drama. As the action begins, Rick emerges from a coma only to find the world is overrun with zombies. As he searches for his family, new friends Morgan and Duane help him survive.

Wimbledon
4 (4) 3:00 p.m.
ABC brings tennis fans all of the action from the high stakes women's singles final from at Wimbledon. Considered the crown jewel of the sport, Wimbledon is the oldest tennis tournament and the only one still played on grass courts.

NYC 22
2 (2) 5 9:00 p.m.
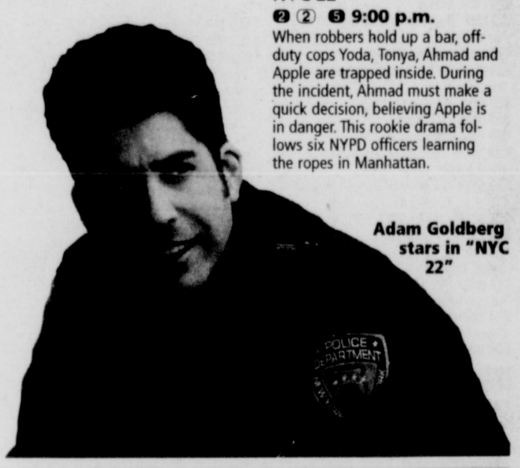
When robbers hold up a bar, off-duty cops Yoda, Tonya, Ahmad and Apple are trapped inside. During the incident, Ahmad must make a quick decision, believing Apple is in danger. This rookie drama follows six NYPD officers learning the ropes in Manhattan.



Adam Goldberg stars in "NYC 22"

Late Laughs

Conan: Conan O'Brien
Over the weekend President Obama issued an order that allows some illegal immigrants to stay in the country. Or as Fox News reported it, "Obama issues order allowing himself to stay in the country."

On the set of her new movie, Lindsay Lohan has been treated for exhaustion. Also being treated for exhaustion is the guy who does the body work on Lohan's car.

The Tonight Show: Jay Leno
President Obama is going to let certain illegai immigrants stay in this country. But there is an age requirement. You have to be old enough to vote by November.

Sunday

British Grand Prix
10 6 Noon
The best of the best gather across the pond for the British Grand Prix, featuring some of the most famous F1 drivers in the world. Held in Silverstone, England, the highly anticipated event is one of the sport's longest-running world-championship races.

The Greenbrier Classic
2 2 5 3:00 p.m.
The Old White Course in White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., hosts some of golf's greatest players at this year's Greenbrier Classic. The event attracts the sport's biggest names, and recently earned the distinction of Best in Class Tournament on the PGA TOUR.

Chris Hardwick as seen in "Talking Dead"

The Simpsons
10 6 8:00 p.m.
Lisa tries to improve her social status by anonymously writing positive things about herself on the school blog. Lady Gaga (guest starring as herself) discovers Lisa needs help and shows the entire town it's better to be yourself.

Extreme Makeover: Weight Loss Edition
4 4 9:00 p.m.
Cosmetology student Ashley receives the ultimate gift for her 20th birthday when trainer Chris Powell offers to help her transform her body and her life. Filmmakers follow her throughout her journey as she aims to lose half of her 323 pounds.

Talking Dead
34 AMC 9:00 p.m.
As "The Walking Dead" fans gear up for its return, host Chris Hardwick gives them a sneak peek at Season 3. Hardwick also speaks with the show's executive producers and celebrity fans, and reveals a code fans can use to win a walk-on role.

Late Laughs

The Late Show: David Letterman
According to a story on the front page of "The New York Times," Kanye West is marrying Kim Kardashian. The wedding is scheduled for June and the divorce is in July.

This will be Kim's third marriage, and experts say that if she stays healthy, she could beat the record currently held by Larry King.

Live: Jimmy Kimmel
There's a great tradition in hockey. Each player on the winning team gets the Stanley Cup for a night. It's similar to what happens in the NBA, but instead of a trophy, they get a Kardashian sister.

Late Night: Jimmy Fallon
President Obama played his 100th round of golf since taking office. You could tell it was Obama, because he finished about 14 trillion over par.

Live! With Kelly
4 4 9:00 a.m.
Kelly announces the top five finalists in the North American co-host search. Viewers were invited to submit video entries that demonstrate their co-hosting skills. The top five will travel to New York to compete for a guest co-host spot with Kelly.

So You Think You Can Dance
10 6 8:00 p.m.
The live performance shows kick off as the top 20 finalists are paired up to show off their skills in this two-hour episode. The dancers who don't perform as well as the others will have to perform solo routines next week to stay in the competition.

America's Got Talent
8 6 8 11 11 12 9:00 p.m.
Host Nick Cannon announces which of the four acts from last night's installment will move on as one of the top 24 acts left in the competition in this special live episode.

Royal Pains
28 USA 9:00 p.m.
When Hank treats a passionate matchmaker, she is determined to set both Hank and Divya up. Meanwhile, Evan is busy trying to get a grip on the overcrowded HankMed 2.0, and Paige's plans for a small kick-off party end up being anything but small.

A scene from "Royal Pains"

Thursday

Big Brother
2 2 5 9:00 p.m.
Another group of strangers comes together to compete for the $500,000 grand prize in this season premiere. Hosted by Julie Chen, the hit series follows people living in a house wired with dozens of cameras and microphones that record their every move.

Saving Hope
8 6 8 11 11 12 9:00 p.m.
When a severely injured man arrives at the hospital, he appears to be in a hypnotic state and can't remember his identity. The hypnotist responsible is called in to the hospital and tries to use his psychic abilities to connect with Charlie and Alex.

Rookie Blue
4 4 10:00 p.m.
When Andy and Swarek respond to a noise complaint at an illegal warehouse party, they come to the aid of a homeless man who's been stabbed. The evidence leads them to an unexpected material witness -- Oliver Shaw's teenage daughter, Izzy.

NOTICE OF PUBLICATION

NOTICE IS GIVEN that on this, the 28th day of June 2012, a Complaint has been filed by Denny Broadwater before the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, seeking to foreclose the equities of redemption as to that certain property known as 1.00 of an acre, .1 of a mile West of Route 219, Sand Flat, Garrett County, Maryland, and which is more particularly described in a Deed from N.R.L.L. East, LLC, a Florida Limited Liability Company, to John Star and Taiwo Daguilar, and recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, in Deed Liber 1376, folio 0203, together with any improvements thereon, hereinafter referred to as the property.

And that the Complaint alleges inter alia that the Plaintiff is the holder of a Certificate of Sale as to said property issued by Cheryl A. Uphold, Collector of Taxes for Garrett County, Maryland.

An Order has been issued by this Court requiring any person having or claiming to have an interest in the aforesaid property to appear on or before the 27th day of August 2012, and answer the Complaint or redeem the property or otherwise show cause if any there may be as to why the relief prayed in the Complaint shall not be granted. Failure to answer or redeem the property within the time allowed may result in a judgment foreclosing the right of redemption. In the event that no cause to the contrary shall be shown within the time set forth herein, then this Court may grant the relief as prayed.

TRUSTEE'S SALE
159 Chestnut Ridge Road
Grantsville, MD 21536

Under and by virtue of the powers of sale contained in a Revolving Credit Deed of Trust ("Deed of Trust") dated September 24, 2001, and recorded in Liber 858, Folio 462 of the Garrett County Land Records, the undersigned Trustee will offer for sale at public auction at the entrance of the Garrett County Circuit Courthouse, located at 313 Alder Street, Oakland, Maryland, on

FRIDAY, JULY 20, 2012, AT 1:00 P.M.

The property described as follows:

ALL that lot, piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in Election District No. 3 of Garrett County, Maryland, and known as 159 Chestnut Ridge Road, Grantsville, Garrett County, Maryland, and as more particularly described in the Deed of Trust. The property consists of approximately 0.58 acres +/- and is improved with a residence containing 3 bedrooms and 1 bath and detached 3 car carport.

TERMS OF SALE: The property and improvements will be sold in "as is" physical condition without warranty of any kind and subject to all conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same. The purchaser is responsible for, and the property and the improvements described above are sold subject to any environmental matter or condition, whether latent or observable, that may exist at or affect or relate to the property and the improvements and to any governmental requirements affecting the same. A cash or certified check deposit in the amount of $5,000.00 shall be paid by the purchaser (except for the party secured by the Deed of Trust) at the time and place of sale. The balance of the purchase price shall be paid in cash or by certified check at settlement (except that if the party secured by the Deed of Trust is the purchaser, a credit will be allowed for the indebtedness secured by the Deed of Trust) which shall be ten (10) business days after final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland unless said period is extended for good cause shown, time being of the essence. If payment of the balance due does not take place within ten (10) business days of ratification, the deposit will be forfeited and the property will be resold at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser or in any manner designated by the Trustee. Interest at the rate of 8.75% per annum shall be paid on the unpaid purchase money from the date of sale to the date the funds are received in the office of the Trustee. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, and the property and improvements are purchased by someone other than the party secured by the Deed of Trust, then there shall be no abatement of interest caused by the delay. Taxes and water to be adjusted to date of sale. All other public and private charges and assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges to be adjusted for the current year to date of sale and assumed thereafter by purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes, document preparation and title insurance shall be paid by purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property. If Trustee is unable to convey good and marketable title, purchaser's sole remedy in law or equity shall be limited to the refund of that purchaser's deposit to the purchaser. Upon refund of the deposit, the sale shall be void and of no effect, and purchaser shall have no further claim against the Trustee or the party secured by the Deed of Trust. This sale is subject to post-sale audit of the status of the loan secured by the Deed of Trust, including, but not limited to, determining whether prior to sale a forbearance, repayment or other agreement was entered into or the loan was reinstated or paid off; in any such event this sale shall be null and void and purchaser's sole remedy shall be return of deposit without interest.

NOTE: The information contained herein was obtained from sources deemed to be reliable, but is offered for information purposes only. Prospective purchasers are urged to make their own inspection and inquiries of the property and improvements and relevant matters relating thereto, including, but not limited to, any information set forth above relating to access to Deep Creek Lake and dock privileges.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEE'S SALE
OF UNIMPROVED REAL ESTATE

17.95 acres, more or less, unimproved real estate along Route 219, McHenry, Maryland. By virtue of the power of sale contained in a Deed of Trust dated October 29, 2007 and recorded in Liber No. 1338, folio 0334, among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under its terms and I, Craig Ingram, Substitute Trustee, hereby give notice that I will, on at the Alder Street entrance of the Garrett County Court House, Oakland, Maryland, offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder the following property: 17.95 acres, more or less, unimproved real estate along Route 219, McHenry, Maryland. Being the same property as was conveyed by deed dated December 31, 2008 and recorded in Liber No. 1408, folio 0181, among said Land Records.

Friday, July 20, 2012, at the hour of 2:15 p.m.

Terms of Sale: Deposit of NINE THOUSAND THREE HUNDRED DOLLARS ($9,300.00) will be required of Purchaser at the time and place of sale, such deposit to be cash, certified check or such other form as the Substitute Trustee may determine acceptable in his sole discretion. Balance to be payable by same method within fifteen (15) days after final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court, with interest on said balance from the date of sale to the date of actual receipt of funds by the Substitute Trustee at 7% per annum. There shall be no abatement of interest for any reason. Deposit not required if mortgagee is purchaser. Substitute Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to extend the time of settlement at his discretion. Property is sold in AAS IS@ condition. The Substitute Trustee makes no representations and/or warranty whatsoever regarding the title or any other matter with respect to the property, either express or implied, including but not limited to: the nature, condition, quality and quantity of the land, suitability of use and/or purpose, description of the property and/or improvements. The Property will be sold subject to all natural gas rights, easements, conditions, liens, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, encumbrances and agreements of record affecting the same, and such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection of the Property might disclose. The Property will be sold subject to all existing building, zoning, wetland, and environmental problems and or violations which may exist on or with respect to the Property, if any. Purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss with respect to the Property as of the time of sale. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining possession of the property. Taxes, public charges and assessments will be adjusted to the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the Purchaser. All costs of conveyance and settlement, including incidental settlement costs, including transfer taxes and recordation taxes, shall be paid by Purchaser. Time is of the essence as to Purchaser. In the event the Purchaser fails to settle as required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available, Substitute Trustee may declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and expense of Purchaser. In such event, Purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney fees, and all other charges due. In the event that Substitute Trustee is unable to convey marketable title, or, in the event the Mortgagor entered into a repayment plan, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to sale, or if for any other reason, Substitute Trustee did not have the right to sell the property, the sale is null and void and Purchaser is not entitled to any legal or equitable remedy, other than the return of the deposit, without interest and any and all other claims of the Purchaser are hereby released. Other terms and conditions may be announced at the sale. The information contained herein is offered for informational purposes only. It is Purchaser's obligation to obtain an independent investigation of the Property. The Note Holder and Substitute Trustee do not make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of this information and Purchaser holds them harmless from same.

CIVIC CLUB MAKES DONATIONS – The GFWC Civic Club of Oakland recently presented donations to two local organizations. HART for Animals Inc. and the local AAUW (American Association of University Women) both received checks. HART, founded in 2003, is a non-profit animal welfare organization with the mission of improving the lives of companion animals in western Maryland. HART for Animals rescues and transports animals from the county shelter, funds low-cost spay/neuter surgeries, and is currently building its own animal adoption center that is to be completed this year. The Civic Club's donation will be used to pay for gasoline for the transports. Pictured above left is Mercedes Pellet, at left, development director and registered veterinary technician for HART, as she accepts the donation from Ellen Fritz of the Civic Club. The club's donation to the AAUW is earmarked for the organization's Second Chances for Women Workshop. The Civic Club has co-sponsored this workshop since its inception eight years ago. It encourages and supports women who have interrupted their education pursuits to return to Garrett College and continue toward earning a certificate or degree. Women who have never attempted college or have had their college experience cut short are introduced to the local college and its resources, and are helped to explore financial opportunities, career choices, scheduling options, and support networks. In the photo above right are, from left, Sandy Hill, Civic Club co-president; Marilyn Moors, Garrett AAUW president; and Lindy Donahue, Civic Club co-president.

Md. Superintendent Of Schools Lowery Begins First Term

Dr. Lillian Lowery began her first term this week as Maryland's state superintendent of schools.

Lowery now helms the nation's number one-ranked state school system following nearly three years as Delaware secretary of education. She succeeds interim state superintendent Bernard Sadusky, who becomes executive director of the Maryland Association of Community Colleges.

The state board confirmed Lowery's appointment in April. She has signed a four-year contract as state superintendent. Lowery has already started scheduling a series of public meetings to listen and learn from education, parent, civic, legislative, and other public and stakeholder groups.

"Maryland has an outstanding education system," Lowery stated. "I am looking forward to working with its wonderful educators as we continue to move the state in a positive direction.

"Our goal is to make certain our schools prepare all of our children for the needs of the 21st century, focused on excellence, equity, and efficiency. The world demands it, and our children deserve no less."

Governor Martin O'Malley said Maryland schools are poised to continue their improvement under Dr. Lowery's leadership.

"I am pleased that Lowery has officially joined us as Maryland's new state superintendent of schools," O'Malley stated.

"We welcome her and look forward to building upon the progress we've made for our state's top-ranked public school system. Together, we can give our children the tools they need to build a better future."

James DeGraffenreidt Jr., president of the Maryland State Board of Education, said that Lowery comes to the state fully prepared for the mission at hand.

"Dr. Lowery is the right person for the job, as we continue our efforts to provide our students with a world-class education that prepares them for lifelong success," DeGraffenreidt said.

"The state board has already learned what the rest of Maryland will soon understand: We have in Dr. Lowery a leader who is ready to help our schools take the critical next step forward."

Lowery has worked in various educational institutions and programs since 1976 and has been secretary of education in the state of Delaware since 2009, where she distinguished herself by facilitating a broad-based statewide strategic planning and grant application process.

That process resulted in Delaware's selection as one of the first states to be awarded a federal Race to the Top grant. She has led efforts to establish Teacher and Leaders Effectiveness Units as well as Turnaround Units within Delaware, which have assisted in the implementation of the grant and the improvement of instructional opportunities for students.

Additionally, she has helped to differentiate the support for local school districts in an effort to assist them in their improvement efforts, as well as hold them accountable for student success.

Prior to serving as the secretary of education in Delaware, Lowery was the superintendent in the Christina School District in New Castle County, Del., for three years. She has served as an assistant superintendent in Fairfax County, Va., and as an area administrator in Fort Wayne, Ind. Other administrative experiences have included serving as both an assistant principal and principal at the high school level, and as the minority student achievement monitor. In addition, she taught English at the middle and high school levels in Virginia.

Lowery holds a doctorate of education in educational leadership and policy studies from Virginia Polytechnic and State University, as well as a master of education in curriculum and instruction from the University of North Carolina, and a bachelor of arts in English and secondary education from North Carolina Central University. She is also a nationally known speaker and is recognized as a leader among chief state school officials.

Dr. Sadusky served as interim state superintendent beginning on July 1, 2011. He replaced Dr. Nancy Grasmick, who retired in 2011 after 20 years as state superintendent of schools.

Work Toward Your Own Financial Independence Day

Once again, Independence Day is here, bringing fireworks and barbecues. Of course, the 4th of July is more than hoopla — It's a time to reflect on the many freedoms we enjoy in this country. Yet, for many people, one important type of freedom — financial freedom — is still elusive. So you may want to use this holiday as an occasion to think of those steps you can take to eventually declare your own Financial Independence Day.

Here are some moves that can help:

• Create a strategy. Financial freedom doesn't just happen — it takes planning, patience and perseverance. To work toward your financial independence, you'll need to create a financial strategy, in conjunction with your financial advisor, and stick to that strategy. Over time, you'll need to make adjustments, but if your overall strategy is appropriate for your goals, time horizon and risk tolerance, it should help you get you to where you want to go.

• Contribute as much as possible to your retirement plans. Each year, put in as much as you can afford to your 401(k) or similar employer-sponsored retirement plan, such as a 457(b) if you work for a school or other tax-exempt organization. These plans offer the potential for tax-deferred earnings, so your retirement funds can grow faster than if they were placed in an investment on which you paid taxes every year. Also, if you're eligible, try to "max out" on your IRA every year.

• Maintain adequate life insurance. If you have a family, you aren't just thinking of your own financial independence – you have to think of theirs, too. And that's why you need to maintain adequate life insurance, particularly during the years when your children are growing up. But even after they've left the home, you may find that life insurance can be valuable in providing retirement funds for your spouse, should anything happen to you. And if you have permanent life insurance, which contains an investment component, you can generally access the cash value, through policy loans or withdrawals, to help pay for your own retirement.

• Protect yourself from long-term care costs. You may never need any type of long-term care, such as a stay in a nursing home or assistance from a home health aide, but if you do, the enormous costs can threaten your financial independence — and possibly even put an economic strain on your spouse or grown children. After all, the national average rate for a private room in a nursing home is more than $87,000 per year, according to the 2011 MetLife Market Survey of Nursing Home, Assisted Living, Adult Day Services, and Home Care Costs. And the national hourly rate for home health aides is $21, according to the same survey. Medicare typically pays very little of these costs, which puts the burden on you. Furthermore, some investment vehicles can help you deal with long-term care expenses. Consult with your financial advisor to determine which of these vehicles may be appropriate for your needs.

A national holiday won't be declared when you achieve your financial independence – but for you, it will be a time well worth celebrating. So do what it takes to work toward the arrival of that happy day.

Revival Services Slated At Crellin United Brethren

Crellin United Brethren Church will hold summer revival services Friday, July 13, through Sunday, July 15, at 7 p.m. each evening, as well as at 10:45 a.m. on Sunday. Rev. Dan Frederick of Ulysses, Ken., will be featured.

"Rev. Frederick's talents have allowed him the opportunity to sing and travel with gospel groups around the country," noted a church spokesperson.

Frederick has pastored several church and began evangelistic work in 1998, for which he has received the Denman Award.

"Dan is committed to the cause of evangelism," said the spokesperson. "His ministry is dedicated to the salvation of the soul and fulfilling the mission to go and make disciples."

Crellin United Brethren church is located about five miles west of Oakland along Rt. 39. Visitors are welcome. For additional information or questions, persons may call 301-334-1870.

THANKS TO HIS "MAGIC FOOT," Barfee does an excellent job in The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee, the hit Broadway musical that will be presented by Theatre on the Lake (TOTL) the weekends of July 19-20 and July 25-27. Playing the role of Barfee is Patrick Crogan. Other cast members, pictured from left and moving clockwise, are Elizabeth Nelson, Danielle Riggins, A.J. Delawder, Meghan Broderick, Zane Rerek, Michael Pellegrino, Matthew Rothenberg, and Leah Broderick. Set in any state in the union that boasts a Putnam County, the drama of the yearly spelling bee unfolds with six competitors vying for the title in this slightly irreverent accounting. The attending audience has the opportunity to join the bee as additional spellers, adding to the comedy and enjoyment, according to Lynn Broderick, TOTL director, who added that the show is appropriate for persons over age 14. Showtime is 7:30 p.m. at the Barn at Ridgeview Valley in McHenry. Tickets are $10 for all shows and may be purchased online at totltheatre.org or by making reservations by phone at 304-680-1002. The TOTL Theatre Company is funded in part by the Garrett County Arts Council, the Maryland Arts Council, and the National Endowment for the Arts.

A VERY INVOLVED FATHER – The male oriole is a busy sort, quite active in the life of his offspring. A male is shown above as he feeds grape jelly to his youngster. The orioles are active throughout the spring and early summer, but will soon be moving on. They are attracted to brightly colored, sweet foods, such as orange slices and jelly. In early spring, they gather bits of string to make their unusual hanging nests. Their song is a distinctive alto sound, with varying lengths. These birds were photographed in an Oakland yard by Lisa Rook, an active birder and photographer.

Brooklyn, N.Y., Man Sentenced To Four Years In Md. Prison

A 31-year-old Brooklyn, N.Y., man was found guilty this week in Garrett County Circuit Court of possession with intent to distribute cocaine. Cornelius J. Walter had entered a not guilty plea, but stipulated to the facts the state would present at trial, leading to his conviction.

Walter was sentenced to four years in the Division of Corrections, with two years suspended. Fines and costs totaling $1,725 were imposed. He will be on probation upon his release from prison.

Walter was stopped along I-68 by Maryland State Police in January for a speeding violation. A positive canine alert led to a search of the vehicle, during which no drugs were found. A trooper had observations of behavior of Walter that, combined with the canine alert and other information, led to a search of Walter's person. A large quantity of cocaine was found concealed in Walter's pants, the state's attorney said.

In an unrelated case, Joshua Robert Brown, 26, Oakland, pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of alcohol per se. Related charges were dismissed upon the plea. Brown was sentenced to three years in the Division of Corrections, with all but 90 days suspended.

Brown will be on probation after he is released from jail. Fines and costs totaling $445 were also imposed.

He was charged by Garrett County sheriff's deputies following the investigation of an accident that occurred along Bray School Road in February. Brown lost control of his vehicle as it rounded a curve, traveled into a ditch,

Guides Play Integral Role In ASCI Whitewater Experience

For the 62 seasonal guide staff, employment at the Adventure Sports Center International (ASCI) can represent significant income, a thrilling experience, and a physically active lifestyle, according to Mike Logsdon, ASCI acting executive director.

"The ASCI guide team, made up of mostly high school and college age young men and women, is a critical element in the delivery of a high-quality product to ASCI's 11,000-plus summertime rafting guests," said Logsdon.

"I really enjoy getting to know my guests, helping them understand the sport of rafting, and giving suggestions on places to visit while in the area," said Kurt Gangler, a standout athlete at Southern Garrett High School and second-year ASCI guide.

"Guiding has given me a chance to practice public speaking," said Cara Stough, a standout athlete from Northern High School and second-year ASCI guide. "Guides have to be sort of like a teacher. We have to clearly explain instructions to our guests. Their safety is in our hands, and we feel responsible for them having a great time and not getting injured."

ASCI guides begin their training by successfully completing a multi-day course that emphasizes proper whitewater guiding technique, customer relations, and care and maintenance of rafting equipment. Each ASCI guide must also complete a first aid and CPR certification course.

"All the training and certifications come at no cost to the trainees," said Joe Schroyer, director of ASCI operations and the administrator responsible for organizing guide training through the Adventuresports Institute at Garrett College. "This year, we seem to have an exceptional group of guides and support staff. We measure our success, to some degree, by the smiles on the faces of our guests, and we're seeing plenty of smiles."

An additional 18 seasonal employees work behind the scenes to take guest reservations, answer questions, match-up and schedule guides with their guests, photograph

Pittsburgh Symphony's Friday Concert Will Feature Violin Virtuoso Chee-Yun

The Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra (PSO) will present a classical concert highlighted by the works of Mozart and Vivaldi this Friday, July 13, at 7:30 p.m. at the Wisp Resort in McHenry. The PSO will be led by resident conductor Lawrence Loh, and the program will feature violin virtuoso Chee-Yun as the soloist for Vivaldi's Four Seasons.

This is the sixth summer that the PSO, sponsored by the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival, has performed at Deep Creek Lake.

"Violinist Chee-Yun's flawless technique, dazzling tone, and compelling artistry have enraptured audiences on five continents," stated one critic. "Charming, charismatic, and deeply passionate about her art, Chee-Yun continues to carve a unique place for herself in the ever-evolving world of classical music."

Chee-Yun performs regularly with the world's foremost orchestras, including the Philadelphia, the London Philharmonic, and the Toronto, Houston, Seattle, Pittsburgh and National symphony orchestras. She has performed with renowned conductors Hans Graf, James DePriest, Jesus Lopez-Cobos, Michael Tilson Thomas, Jaap van Zweden, Krzysztof Penderecki, Neeme Järvi, Pinchas Zukerman, Manfred Honeck, Giancarlo Guerrero, and Carlos Kalmar.

Museum Will Host Antique Automobile Owners Saturday

A group of antique car enthusiasts will motor to Oakland this Saturday, July 14, to visit the new Garrett County Transportation Museum.

According to a release from the Garrett County Historical Society, there will be at least 10 vintage/antique vehicles, which are expected to arrive in Oakland between 10:30 and 11 a.m. The group will have breakfast at Curt's Restaurant at Farmington, Pa., and then will travel to Oakland via Markleysburg, Pa., and Friendsville, then following Route 42 to McHenry and Route 219 into Oakland.

The spokesperson for the group is Russ Redshaw, president of the Mon Valley Region of Antique Automobile Club of America.

BOE Meeting Last For Member Rodney Durst

The Garrett County Board of Education's Tuesday meeting marked the first for newly hired superintendent of schools Dr. Janet Wilson and the last for outgoing BOE member Rodney Durst.

At the close of the meeting, Durst was given a standing ovation by his fellow board members and those in attendance. He has served the community for 22 years and seven months. His position will be filled following an appointment by the county commissioners. Durst has stated in the past that he plans to move to Pennsylvania and retire.

Prior to the farewells exchanged by Durst and his colleagues, the board discussed the Summer Reading Program, transportation policy, and the school system's financial disclosure policy for members. It also took action on a paper bid and a proposed vehicle fleet insurance contract.

The board appointed the following employees at the meeting: Patrick Damon, assistant principal, Broad Ford Elementary; Brooks Elliott, assistant principal, Southern Middle; Melissa Nesselrodt, secretary III, central office; Robert Sines, head custodian, Route 40 Elementary; Eugenia Cassidy, cafeteria person in charge, Yough Glades Elementary; and Diana Bachtel, cafeteria assistant, Broad Ford Elementary.

Connie Uphold was reassigned as teaching principal at Friendsville Elementary School.

Noted resignations were Christa Bowser, a teacher at Southern High, and Joyce Ridder, part-time cafeteria assistant at Southern High.

New Inmate Work Program Has Saved Garrett Co. More Than $40,000 So Far

Sheriff Rob Corley provided an update report to Garrett County commissioners last Tuesday on the county's new inmate work program. Established in January, the initiative is a joint effort between the GC Sheriff's Office and the Board of Garrett County Commissioners.

To date, the sheriff said, certain nonviolent offenders have provided 5,395 of free labor. In previous years, this work would have been contracted out to bidders.

"At $7.50 an hour, that's a $40,462 savings to the county; this is huge," Corley said, referring to recent county budgetary cuts.

The commissioners praised the new initiative.

"Thanks for putting this program together," Chairman Jim Raley told Corley,

Calling it a "win-win" situation for all involved, the sheriff said the program has provided unskilled labor without cost to 30 county properties, municipalities, and nonprofit agencies.

He said his office used the detention center in St. Mary's County as a blueprint for Garrett County's plan, whereby nonviolent inmates provide such outdoor work as mowing, trash pickup, and maintenance with minimum supervision costs.

Under the county's old program, a correctional officer had to be with the inmate workers at all times.

"So I had to pay a correctional officer to go out and supervise these inmates," Corley said, noting that the old program was not very cost effective.

He said the new Inmate Work Incentive Program allows him to send an inmate out into the community. The sheriff has invited towns to take advantage of the program. After doing a brief background check, a designated town employee can pick up an inmate, take him to the municipality, and have him do work every day. The sheriff noted Mountain Lake Park mayor Leo Martin picks up an inmate five days a week to work side by side with town employees from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m.

"There's no question it's a good program," Martin said. "Inmates have done a little bit of everything, from mowing and trimming grass to building walls.

"The inmates we've had working have good attitudes with good work ethics," Martin added. "They like getting outdoors, and we haven't had any problems with anyone. We used to provide inmates lunch, but now the Sheriff's Office even packs their lunch."

Inmates also work at 28 county properties, which range from refuse collection sites to water treatment facilities. This week, the town of Grantsville also picked up inmates for outdoor storm clean-up work, Corley noted.

According to the sheriff, Garrett County inmates have mowed and cleared debris from 1.7 miles of trails at the Adventure Sports Center International, plus worked at the Oakland Cemetery, Youth Little League fields at Broadford Park, and the Garrett County Visitors Center in McHenry.

The county jail currently houses 73 inmates.

"If an inmate signs up for the program and does a good job, [he] can earn up to five days a month off [his] sentence," said Corley

Commissioner Bob Gatto asked how inmates are selected for the work program.

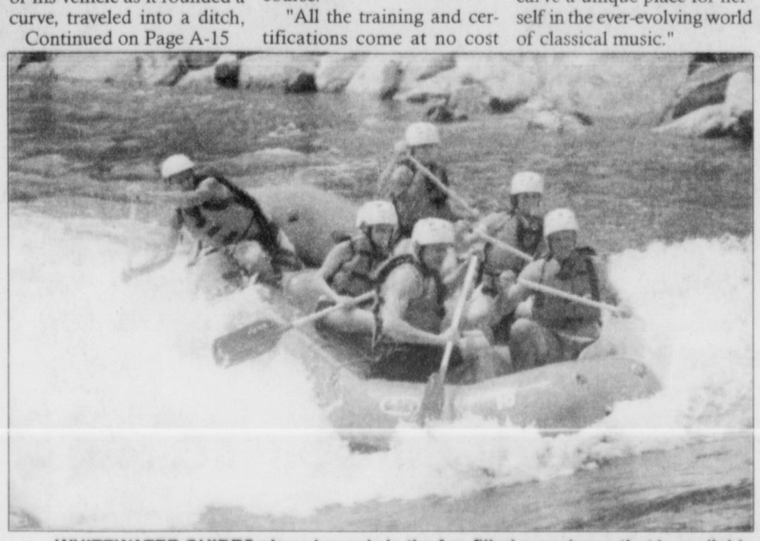
"They have to be pretty trouble free in the jail," the sheriff said. "There have to be no violent offenses, no sex offenses. They have to have been sentenced. So you're looking at guys who are sentenced in our jail for a maximum of 18 months, because that's the longer you can be in my facility. [They have to be] on good behavior, not cause problems, and are in there for minimal charges."

If the work of more violent inmates is needed, they are supervised by armed guards, Corley indicated.

The sheriff noted that the county purchased one zero-turn mower and two push mowers and pays for gasoline for the inmate work program.

"When I first bit into this apple, I didn't know how much we could do," Corley said. "Next year, I think we'll be able to take care of all county mowing contracts, and, in the winter, do snow removal."

Governmental and nonprofit agencies may contact the Sheriff's Office for further information at 301-334-1917.



WHITEWATER GUIDES play a key role in the fun-filled experience that is available on the whitewater course of Adventure Sports Center International, located atop Marsh Mountain at the Wisp. Some five dozen guides are needed to serve the 11,000-plus rafting guests. See story.

"TENNIS, ANYONE?" might be the question that was on the mind of this wayward redtail hawk that was perched on one of the benches at the Mountain Lake Park Tennis Club courts on Monday. The bird had apparently sustained some kind of injury to its wing and was having difficulty flying. MLP town secretary Judy Paugh contacted officials from the Maryland Department of Natural Resources, who came to the courts, successfully corralled the bird, and have sent it to rehabilitation experts who will attempt to nurse it back to health before returning it to the wild. LOCAL STUDENT PLACES IN NATIONAL MEET – Southern High School student Cody Sliger, pictured here, recently traveled to Kansas City to compete in the 48th annual Skills USA National Leadership and Skills Conference. Sliger, accompanied by Jared Roth, machine tool teacher, attended the weeklong event, where he placed ninth in the nation in precision machine technology competition. He was among approximately 45 competitors. Sliger is the son of Stephen and Carolyn Sliger. He is currently employed as a machinist at Pioneer Conveyor. Sliger and Roth thank Josh Helbig of Pioneer Conveyor and John White for their generous contributions and for making the trip possible.

DR. KAISER HONORED – ThE 2012 Western Maryland Area Health Education Center (AHEC) Award for Excellence in Geriatrics and Gerontology was presented to Dr. Margaret Kaiser of Oakland (right) by Reba Cornman, director of the University of Maryland Geriatrics and Gerontology Education and Research Program (left) at AHEC's annual meeting on June 19. Dr. Kaiser was chosen "for 30 years of her dedication to caring for older adults and to sharing her knowledge and skills in geriatrics with medical students and residents." Dr. Kaiser makes home visits to frail elderly patients and serves as a certified medical director at area geriatric care facilities. She has also collaborated on Geriatric Assessment Interdisciplinary Team projects, sharing her knowledge of rural practice, geriatrics, and the benefits of interdisciplinary care with Maryland health professions students." The award was created to recognize an individual, organization, or community group who/that demonstrates leadership, commitment, and innovation in educational programs, research, or collaborative activities that contribute to high quality, sustainable, culturally competent services to enhance the health and quality of life of older adults in Western Maryland.

$6,020 RAISED FOR NHS – A partnership between a local automobile dealer and Ford Motor Company recently raised $6,020 for Northern High School. Diehl's Ford Sales partnered with Ford for its fourth, one-day Drive One 4UR School event held May 12. More than 300 people came to Diehl's Ford Sales to test drive a new Ford vehicle. For every test drive, Ford Motor Company donated $20 to the school. Members of 14 extracurricular groups from Northern assisted with the event. The money raised will be divided among these groups, with each receiving $430. Each group also conducted its own individual fundraiser throughout the day, resulting in an additional $1,000. In the four events held by Diehl's Ford Sales, the total earnings for NHS exceeds $27,000. The funds have been used by the groups at the school to purchase much needed supplies, football field improvements, etc. "It is great that we have been able to conduct such a successful event for the high school, said Greg Diehl, owner. "We are very happy that we are able to be of service and give back to the community that supports our business." Pictured from left are Gary Reichenbecher, NHS principal; and Vivian and Greg Diehl. The next Drive One 4UR School event will be held Saturday, Sept. 29.

Health Dept. Slates Vaccination Clinic For College Students

The Garrett County Health Department will hold a clinic on Thursday, July 26, for college students to receive immunizations. Vaccines offered will include: meningitis, hepatitis B, hepatitis A, MMR (measles, mumps, and rubella), varicella, polio, tetanus, and HPV (human papilloma virus). Titers (blood tests for immunity) can also be drawn if necessary.

The clinic will be held in Room 205 at the Garrett County Health Department location at 1025 Memorial Drive, Oakland. Appointments are necessary and can be scheduled by calling 301- 334-7770 or 301-895-5355. A parent or guardian must accompany adolescents under the age of 18.

"Starting college is an exciting time in a person's life," said Cindy Mankamyer RN, GC Health Department. "Whether traveling to a distant state or taking classes at a local school, there may be required and also recommended immunizations to help keep you healthy. Sharing of communal spaces combined with potentially increased stressors such as irregular sleep habits, intense study, test taking, and meeting deadlines may leave a student vulnerable to illness."

Almost every college/university requires a meningitis vaccine for incoming freshmen who will live on campus. Close quarters such as dormitories make it easy for the bacteria to spread.

Recently updated recommendations state that if a college-bound youth received meningococcal conjugate vaccine (Menancta®) under the age of 16, he or she should receive a booster dose for college at 16 years of age or older. Previously unvaccinated college freshmen living in dorms should receive one dose.

Another important vaccine is tetanus-diphtheria and may also be required for college. Tdap (pertussis-containing tetanus and diphtheria) vaccine is now a routinely recommended immunization for all adolescents age 11 – 18 years who have not already received a single dose of Tdap.

Many colleges require hepatitis B vaccine for students going into health care or athletic programs. Hepatitis A vaccine may also be required for foreign studies.

Other vaccines that young adults entering college may be asked to show either dates of immunization or proof of immunity are MMR, varicella, and polio.

Local Teens Receive Scholarships From Western Md. Prog.

The Distinguished Young Women of Western Maryland program recently awarded scholarships to high school girls from Garrett and Allegany counties. Scholarships were given, at a minimum of $50, in recognition of accomplishments and may be used at the college of each girl's choosing.

Megan Fitzwater was named the Distinguished Young Woman of Oakland 2013. She attends Southern Garrett High School, where she is very active in the drama and theater programs. She has also been a People to People ambassador to Europe, a Maryland Leadership Workshop graduate, and a Model United Nations delegate.

In her community, Megan serves as an assistant instructor for Brenda's Body Shop and the Manta Ray Swim Team.

She plans to pursue a career in theater management and arts marketing by attending DePaul University.

Nicole Walch, also a student at Southern Garrett High School, is the Distinguished Young Woman of Garrett County 2013. She is also a member of the National Honor Society.

Nicole enjoys participating in such activities as track and field, triathlons, and cross country. She is a camp counselor with 4-H and also volunteers at the HART spay/neuter clinic.

Future plans for Nicole include attending Boston University to study sports medicine and becoming an orthopedic surgeon.

Aleksandra Knepper of Frostburg was selected as the Distinguished Young Woman of Western Maryland for 2013. She attends Mountain Ridge High School, where she is a member of the National Honor Society and the varsity track team, and serves as co-captain of the Diamonds dance team.

Kennedy Logsdon of LaVale has been selected as the Distinguished Young Woman of Allegany County 2013. She also attends Mountain Ridge High School, and is involved in Fellowship of Christian Athletes, National Honor Society, and tennis.

These four Distinguished Young Women have joined 11 other representatives from all regions of Maryland for the state competition. They have been participating in many community activities, rehearsals, and interviews throughout this week, which will culminate in an on-stage showcase of talent, self-expression, and physical fitness this Saturday, July 14, at 7 p.m. in the Scott Theater at Carroll Community College.

All state winners will travel to Mobile, Ala., next June to participate in personal development activities and community service projects before competing for the opportunity to become the Distinguished Young Woman of America for 2013 and for a share of more than $125,000 in cash scholarships.

On June 30, 2012, North Carolina's Christina Maxwell won the 2012 title and more than $30,000 in a cash scholarship.

Founded in 1958 in Mobile, America's Junior Miss, now Distinguished Young Women, is the largest and oldest national scholarship program for high school girls. During its 55 years of operation, the program has provided experiences for more than 700,000 young women, according to the organization.

For more information about Distinguished Young Women of Western Maryland, persons may contact Terri or Lindsay Hanna at WesternMaryland@DistinguishedYW.org or 301-689-9678.

For information about the upcoming state program or Distinguished Young Women of Maryland in general, persons may contact Cheryl Poklemba at Maryland@DistinguishedYW.org.

For more information about Distinguished Young Women, one may visit the Distinguished Young Women web site: DistinguishedYW.org.

"DISTINGUISHED YOUNG WOMEN" TO COMPETE AT STATE EVENT – Four area young women were recently awarded titles from the Distinguished Young Women of Western Maryland scholarship program. Left to right are Megan Fitzwater, Distinguished Young Woman of Oakland; Nicole Walch, DYW of Garrett County; Aleksandra Knepper, DYW of Western Maryland; and Kennedy Logsdon, DYW of Allegany County. They have been participating in many activities this week in preparation for Saturday's state title competition at Carroll Community College. See story.

Historical Society To Present Prog. On 1950s Health Care

The third installment of the Garrett County Historical Society Presents Then and Now Learning Series is scheduled for this Sunday, July 15, in Oakland in the Transportation Museum community meeting room at 7 p.m.

"Admission is free; however, donations are greatly appreciated," said a society spokesperson.

This month's program will focus on a film produced by the Department of Health Education and Welfare titled The Critical Decades, which features Dr. Eugene Baumgartner and health care in Garrett County in the 1950s and 1960s.

"This film gives a great deal of insight into living in Garrett County during this period," said the spokesperson.

Light refreshments will be served.

Future programs have been planned on a monthly basis, with the history of Garrett County as the main focus. Programs will be announced in The Republican each month.

"We plan to have speakers, films, and PowerPoint presentations," noted the spokesperson.

GEARS To Host SuGO Outreach Project For Youth

The Garrett Engineering and Robotics Society (GEARS) is seeking Garrett County youth to participate in its free SuGO Outreach Project, which will provide free training and LEGO Robotics hardware to area youth groups interested in robotics.

To participate, clubs need at least four members in the 8 to 14 age group and must have an adult mentor/leader. Some examples would be 4-H, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, homeschool and church groups, etc. The three-hour training sessions are scheduled every two months at various locations, with the upcoming dates set for July 15, Sept. 10, and Nov. 2.

"Garrett County has many successful youth robotics teams, so the SuGO Outreach Project is designed to help kick-start more traditional clubs in the fun world of robotics," said Phil Malone, a local mentor. "SuGO is all about building sumo wrestling robots using LEGO Mindstorms, so it's an easy way to get youth interested in robotics, since everyone loves battling robots."

The goal is for these clubs to then use the equipment to incorporate more robotics into their own activities. This could include participating in national robotics competitions, which would ultimately lead to exciting careers in science, engineering, and technology.

Since the project's inception in late 2011, 14 clubs (representing 180 youth in the target age group) have received the SuGO training, along with a total of $13,000 worth of robotics equipment. The goal is to reach 65 clubs county wide.

To register for a training session, persons may visit www.SuGobot.com/grants.htm and complete the online application. For more information, persons may contact Malone at 301-387-2331 or SuGOmaster@GEARSinc.org.

New Commanders Assigned To McHenry, Cumberland Barracks

Maryland State Police superintendent Col. Marcus Brown recently announced the appointment of Lt. Mark Rodeheaver to commander at the McHenry Barrack and Lt. Mike Fluharty to commander at the Cumberland Barrack.

Lt. Rodeheaver is a 23-year member of the department and has served in many capacities while employed with Maryland State Police. In his most recent assignment as the north, south, and west regional commander of the Drug Enforcement Division, he was responsible for the operations of 11 drug task forces and the Pro-Active Criminal Enforcement Team located along I-95 in Cecil County. Lt. Rodeheaver has also served as an assistant barrack commander at the Frederick Barrack, supervised the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force, and worked patrol assignments in Garrett and Queen Anne's counties.

"I'm excited for the opportunity to command the McHenry Barrack and look forward to serving the citizens of Garrett County," said Rodeheaver. "We have a lot of dedicated troopers assigned to McHenry who are committed to reducing crime and promoting highway safety. I'm eager to work with the allied departments and law enforcement community as a whole."

He is a native of Garrett county and a graduate of Northern High School and Frederick Community College. He currently resides in McHenry with his wife Sarena and two children, Derek and Carly.

"Lt. Rodeheaver brings an immense criminal background [in law enforcement] to the citizens of Garrett County, and it has been a long time since we have had a native of Garrett County commanding the McHenry Barrack," said Col. Brown.

Lt. Fluharty joined Maryland State Police in 1997. He was transferred to the Cumberland Barrack in 2000 and served as a patrol trooper and K-9 handler until 2007. He was then assigned to a special traffic criminal interdiction unit that worked in Washington, Allegany, and Garrett counties. Until this recent promotion, Lt. Fluharty ran the day-to-day operations of the MSP Academy and oversaw the successful graduation of 160 new troopers. He is a U.S. Marine Corps veteran currently working toward his bachelor's degree in criminal justice.

A Triple Win...

If ever there were a win-win-win endeavor, it seems that the new inmate work program recently instituted by Sheriff Rob Corley and his staff is a prime example. The program has already saved the county and some of our municipal governments well over $40,000, and barring some unforeseen situation, there is no reason that it cannot continue to provide significant savings. (See front-page story.)

The inmates who are carefully selected to participate in the program, because of their good behavior while incarcerated, win the opportunity to get out from behind the bars one or more days each week to do the work at hand.

The sheriff's office personnel who operate the jail win by the eligible inmates' striving to behave themselves when they are in their cells in order to earn and to maintain the opportunity to participate in the program. That good behavior makes things calmer, quieter, and thus more manageable for the jailers on a day-to-day basis.

The biggest victory, however, is for local governments and ultimately the taxpayer, as demonstrated by the thousands of dollars in savings for necessary labor. Not only are taxpayer dollars saved, but those incarcerated help "pay" for their room, board, and whatever other services they receive while in jail, instead of just sitting in there and having all of that subsidized by the taxpaying public.

A case could be made that there is one loser because of this program – the contractors who were previously hired by the county and towns to do this work. However, in most cases, outside contractors were not being hired to do these jobs anyway, as town and county crews generally took care of them. With the inmates being utilized, these crews are available for other necessary work that might otherwise have to be put on hold.

So this column writer joins the county commissioners this week in praising this "redesigned" program of Sheriff Corley, and in thanking him for his initiative. Further, other municipal officials are encouraged to participate in the program, especially during these extremely challenging budgetary times in which we live.

To the Editor:

With the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce's white paper in support of fracking causing a well-deserved uproar, my initial thought was, "Forgive them, Lord, for they know not what they do." What might serve community members better is to hear actual stories from individuals who are dealing with fracking going on now in their communities.

On July 19, the TourdeFrack will be coming through Maryland with a stopover in Cumberland at Canal Place from 7 to 9 p.m. Please read the press release in this week's paper for more details. This is a 400-mile bike trip starting in Butler, Pa., which is in the thick of drilling right now, and culminating in Washington, D.C., for a national rally on July 28 to bring attention to the issues surrounding nonconventional Marcellus shale drilling.

I have been spending a lot of time talking with Pennsylvania residents and, as much as I would hope they were thrilled with what is going on in their communities, that is not the case. If this industry really represented all that is promised, why in the world is there a national rally coming up against it? Why are people losing the value of their land and homes, instead of gaining?

Let's start first looking at people over profits before we jump into something that is so controversial. There is sound basis for this controversy. One of the people I have been communicating with who has helped to organize the TourdeFrack is Jason Bell from Butler, Pa. I am forwarding his letter (below) that he wrote to his citizens, with his permission. His letter makes it seem like he lives in Garrett County. When he mentions the person he was talking to as he followed the stench of the truck with fracking fluid on his way home, that would be me.

The stories Jason shares with me are frightening. He is not making this up – he is living in the middle of it. I am saddened that an organization as significant as the chamber of commerce would undermine those of us in the county who fully support the governor's executive order to conduct a study for three years to assure the safety of its citizenry.

Dana Shimrock

To the Editor:

I guess a lie told often enough must be the truth – enter the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce and its white paper.

Two years ago this information was the same thing the chamber was saying in Annapolis during and after the PACE reception. The information they received, according to Nicole Christian, was supplied from the state chamber's legislative board, which was chaired by Drew Cobbs, president of the API (American Petroleum Institute).

I was a member of the chamber at the time and chose to speak out. I dropped my membership, but I have spoken to many current members who feel the same way I do. Unfortunately, there are many who cannot and will not speak out because they don't want to have their opinions negatively affect their businesses or their families' lives. It's a shame that folks feel they have to fear their friends and neighbors, that they may lose business or friends because of their concerns about our community. Then to have an organization that is supported through tourism tax dollars supply inaccurate and outdated information as an "educational tool" is egregious.

The chamber's position is that Marcellus gas development will create jobs. One need only look at Wetzel County in nearby West Virginia. Wetzel County is one of the heaviest drilled areas in West Virginia, where gas development is at its peak, but so is unemployment.

Energy independence is a push-button term that the gas industry created to get us onboard with under-regulated gas development. Now that gas prices are down, the same industry is shutting wells until gas prices are driven higher, and at the same time pushing for eight new exporting terminals in the U.S.

Fracking has occurred in Garrett County for years, but the new technology that is called high-volume slick water hydraulic fracturing has not ever been done in Maryland, and anyone who has read up on the process knows the difference, or should.

The chamber's legislative affairs committee in coordination with the board of directors was supplied industry information on natural gas development with hopes of swaying the uninformed. But why? Should we look into their motives, track their land purchases and land deals.... No!

Get informed and stay informed.

Eric Robison

To the Editor:

I haven't seen any comments regarding Jim Zimmerman's past letters to you, and his efforts to educate us, the public. His very informative, well-written, thoroughly researched, and incredibly timely letters were so very much appreciated – appreciated not only by me, but by hundreds of others, I am sure. Thank you, Mr. Zimmerman, for expending the effort to detail exactly what fracking is all about – details that hopefully opened the eyes of many whose eyes were closed or who are unable to see.

I know that I, for one, have clipped and saved his letters. I revisit them often when I stumble on a question – as happens constantly with those of us concerned about the impacts of fracking. It is often difficult to find a clear, concise answer to an immediate concern. Mr. Zimmerman has outlined many of these concerns (i.e., What is fracking? What does it take? Why will it affect us so dearly? etc.) in easy-to-understand language.

My colleagues and I wholeheartedly applaud this man and his dedicated educational efforts about difficult topics. I am disappointed that his letters have stopped. Please, Mr. Zimmerman, if you can, continue! There are so many more details on this subject that we need to learn... and you write so very well.

Regards,
Linda Herdering

To the Editor:

This letter is to poor Jim Smith who had a rotten week in Garrett County. You must have been really angry to take the time to write such a long composition on your lousy week, let alone pay for an 8th of a page ad in which to air your gripe. However, it sounds to me like your anger should be more directed at the realtor instead of Garrett County.

Aside from a malfunctioning hot tub and TV, which, by the way, can even happen in Ocean City, I do want to make you aware that, yes, we do have bear – and deer and fox and even an occasional stray dog. Heck, we might even have elk some day soon. Think of the damage they will do. Instead of sitting in a tub of hot water containing God only knows what, or sitting in front of a TV, you and Mrs. Jim should have gone out and enjoyed some of our beautiful nature.

While I found your letter extremely amusing (amusing enough that I'm writing this letter), I feel bad that you still sound so stressed. You really need to chill, Jim. And, while I love Ocean City, to compare it to Garrett County is like comparing apples to oranges.

I hope that some day you will give Garrett County another try. Aside from the windmills, you won't find a more beautiful place.

To the Editor:

Ignorance is bliss, but knowledge is power.

As I swam off our anchored sailboat at the western edge of Lake Arthur, I couldn't think of a better way to celebrate freedom. I watched my family float in the crisp, clean water of the lake, and I felt a calm that is hard to come by in the shalefields. Bliss, these days, is hard to come by.

I hate the word shalefields. Western Pennsylvania was once synonymous with sweetwater creeks for kayaking, local ponds for fishing, and slow, winding roads for bicycle rides. Is it any wonder why in 2009 tourism overtook agriculture as Butler's top industry?

But what was oft described as an outdoorsman's paradise now has this new demarcation and all that comes with it. We are promised jobs, environmental stewardship, and sensitivity to the community. More often than not, what we find are industrial shortcuts, unintended consequences, snarled traffic, fractured communities, and an erasure of our outdoor heritage. It must stop!

When speaking with a concerned citizen from Maryland on the phone last weekend, I pulled up behind a residual waste truck with temporary plates at a stop sign. It was the same red cylinder truck with a cat-walk on the driver's side that I have seen countless times all over the state. Once you know what's in them, you look at them in the same way that early humans must have looked at saber-tooth tigers – as a threat. The smell was horrific. This truck was loaded.

A driver just a few days earlier had told me that truckers were not supposed to use Rt. 528N when they were loaded, but that this rule was frequently broken. This driver seemed to be Exhibit A. He turned left onto Rt. 422W heading toward Ohio.

After a barbecue at home, we finished our 4th of July celebrations at the community park in the baseball field listening to the Pittsburgh Philharmonic playing songs from the Wizard of Oz and watching the fireworks overhead. The children played in the infield while we sat in the outfield facing the third-base wall. We took solace in the fact that these explosions were in the air and not under our feet.

The temporary comfort of forgetting is blissful, but knowledge is power, and we at TourdeFrack intend to use and spread ours. Clicking our heels three times will not solve anything.

To the Editor:

It is with great joy that I congratulate all of you who stood up for freedom and liberty; however, don't celebrate too soon. Rest assured that county-wide zoning will be rolled out again sometime in the future.

My guess is that the 85-page document is lying there just waiting for the right turn of phrase or distraction and then another attempt will be made to sneak it through.

Eternal vigilance is the only answer. The political history of this country tells us that time and again.

Always look for the hidden agenda behind the innocuous "helpful" proposed laws or regulations. Pay attention to distractions – especially meaningless news releases designed to grab your attention while other plans are afoot. Read the letters to the editor, but more important, read the public notices in section C; that's where the real action is. Be especially alert when politicians tell you that they just want to do the right thing, or that their priorities are the same as yours.

There are those who would have you believe that being the only county without county-wide zoning is a bad thing. The fact is that we live in the only county with people who are willing to fight to keep freedom and democracy alive. History is rife with examples of rights and freedom stripped away under the guise of benevolent laws and regulations. A general rule of thumb is, if politicians, the business community, and insiders want it, it's probably not a good thing for everyone else.

I am very grateful to live in a county where people are willing to keep the spark of freedom and liberty alive.

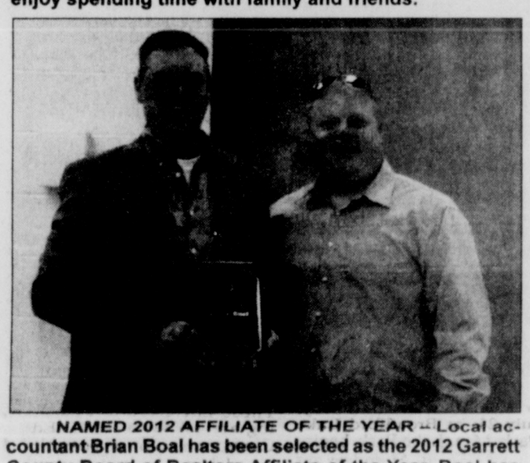
RECEIVES REALTOR OF THE YEAR AWARD – The Garrett County Board of Realtors recently named Betsy Spiker Holcomb as its Realtor of the Year. She is pictured above receiving her plaque from GCBR president Andrew Eiswert. The award is one of the top honors granted each year by the GCBR. It recognizes a member who has been active in the organization on local, state, and national levels, who exemplifies the "realtor spirit," upholds the group's code of ethics in business practices, and who has made significant contributions to the local civic community. Holcomb will now represent the local board at the annual Maryland Association of Realtors (MAR) conference in Ocean City in September. The MAR Realtor of the Year will be announced during that event. She has been in the real estate business for 14 years and has served the GCBR in various capacities, including as secretary and director of its board of directors. "Her dedication and commitment in serving on the committees of Public Relations, Task Force, and Builder Liaison have been instrumental in others becoming involved," said a spokesperson. She currently serves as chair of the Realtors Political Action Committee. Holcomb was born and reared in Garrett County and has dedicated numerous hours to her community by serving on the Garrett County Memorial Hospital Foundation board and board of governors, with the GCMH Life Savers Club, as a volunteer for HART for Animals and PAWS (Partners for Animal Welfare and Safety), and as a Garrett Lakes Arts Festival sponsor. She and her husband Bob reside at Deep Creek Lake and enjoy spending time with family and friends.



NAMED 2012 AFFILIATE OF THE YEAR – Local accountant Brian Boal has been selected as the 2012 Garrett County Board of Realtors Affiliate of the Year. Boal has been actively involved with GCBR since 2010 and has been a major sponsor of many realtor events. He is also much involved in the community, serving as treasurer of the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club, Friends of Ruth Enlow Library, and Our Town Theatre. He is also co-trustee of Landon's Library and serves on the First United Bank and Trust Advisory Council and the Garrett County Memorial Hospital Foundation's Planned Gifts Committee. Boal is pictured at left receiving his plaque from GCBR president Andrew Eiswert.

Oakland High Alumni Slates 2012 Reunion

The Oakland High School Alumni Planning Committee has finalized plans for the 2012 reunion. The event is scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 11, at the Pleasant Valley Community Center, located south of Oakland at 975 Joni Miller Road.

Social hour will begin at 3 p.m. A buffet style dinner catered by Rita Sweitzer will begin at 5:30 p.m. Joe DiSimone, class of 1951, will be the master of ceremonies. Hammers and Strings will entertain.

"If you spent any of your school years at Oakland High School, please plan to attend and join old friends and classmates," said a committee spokesperson. "Guests and spouses are welcome."

Letters have gone out to those whose addresses are available, but reservations are open to all who wish to attend. The cost is $20 per person, and the deadline for reservations is Aug. 1.

Checks are to be made payable to OHS Alumni, and mailed to Delores Moyer, 408 Fairway Drive, Oakland, MD 21550.

For additional information, persons may call Moyer at 301-334-3338.

Garrett County Lighthouse Inc. To Mark 20 Years With Open House

Garrett County Lighthouse Inc. will mark its 20th year of operation with an open house event on Thursday, July 19, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Guest speakers scheduled to participate in the event are former Oakland mayor Asa McCain, Garrett County Health Department administrators Rodney Glotfelty and Fred Polce, and Julianne Albowicz, assistant to U.S. Senator Barbara Mikulski, who plans to present GC Lighthouse with a senatorial certificate of recognition. The public is invited to attend.

The GC Lighthouse, which marked its 20th anniversary on July 1, is a private 501(c) (3) non-profit psychiatric rehabilitation service center for adults over 18 years of age. Originally developed as a facility of the Garrett County Health Department, it gained independent, non-profit status in July of 1992.

Those in the care of GC Lighthouse are provided with rehabilitation opportunities directed toward their recovery and the improvement or restoration of skills. These include the improvement of self-care skills, social skills, and independent-living skills, as well as medication services, health promotion and training, and education and information regarding mental illness and recovery.

According to Donna Gregory, the director of GC Lighthouse who has been with the organization since its inception, it is the non-profit's mission to support its clients while identifying effective strategies to assist and manage their wellness.

GC Lighthouse is also active outside its central location, as it provides off-site services through its Safe Harbor facility and Compass House of Oakland and Cumberland, respectively. These facilities provide residents with crisis and respite services.

GC Lighthouse also provides psychiatric rehabilitation programs throughout Garrett County and sponsors six residential rehabilitation programs in the community. Gregory has stated, though, that their locations are kept confidential.

GC Lighthouse's newest community service is its Sober House program, which assists those with substance abuse problems. This program, in its second year, provides individuals with structured, recovery-oriented, transitional housing options while in treatment.

"We've gone through several changes over the years and have persevered, with the help and support of the community," stated Gregory.

"I can't say enough about Garrett County – it's very important to me. I've raised my children here. I feel invested in the community, which fuels my passion for what we do here at Garrett County Lighthouse Inc.

"As an organization we strive to provide quality services and are very appreciative of the community, the Garrett County Health Department, and our very talented board of directors."

Boy Scouts To Collect Worn Flags July 14

Boy Scout Troop 1 of Oakland will collect worn flags on Saturday, July 14, from 4 to 5 p.m. at the Oakland train station. Anyone with worn flags may drop them off at that time. The troop will later dispose of them according to the Federal Flag Code.

Chamber To Host Commissioners At Before-Hours Event

The Garrett County Chamber of Commerce will hold a "State-of-the-County" program at its next Business Before Hours event, which is scheduled for next Tuesday, July 17, at Will O' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake. Garrett County commissioners Jim Raley, Bob Gatto, and Gregan Crawford will be present to speak about the county's priorities, pending projects, challenges, and plans for this fiscal year.

The forum will begin at 8 a.m. with breakfast, and the program will follow from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m.

"We are very pleased to host our county commissioners to provide our members an overview of how Garrett County is fairing," said Nicole Christian, chamber president and CEO. "It's been a tough few years, and it is important that what is happening in the county is communicated with the business community. The commissioners have made it a goal to be accessible and transparent, and their participation in this State-of-the-County program will help them achieve that goal."

The cost for members is $15 in advance and $20 at the door. The cost for non-members is $30. Persons may register online or by calling Charlotte at 301-387-6171 by this Friday, July 13, to receive the advance payment discount for members. Space is limited, so early reservations are recommended.

Clear Mountain Bank and Potomac Edison are the sponsors of Business Before Hours – State-of-the-County.

The Business Before Hours breakfast programs are bimonthly events designed to focus on specific topics with formal presentations. The remaining topics slated for 2012 are Industry Appreciation and Tourism Update. Non-competing sponsorship opportunities are available for each forum.

For more information or sponsorship opportunities, persons are asked to contact Sarah Duck online at sarah@garrettchamber.com or by telephone at 301-387-8746.

the action, and monitor the whitewater course for safety.

"It's like a giant jigsaw puzzle," said Meredith Pagenhardt, an Oakland resident and Frostburg State University student completing her fifth summer at ASCI. "We have to balance all aspects of scheduling the guides, river guards, the conveyor operator, the photographer, and the reservationist."

ASCI is also home to Rudy's Mountaintop Outfitter (RMO), a retail outlet stocking high-quality adventure clothing and gear. RMO employs an additional nine staff.

"The professionalism displayed by ASCI guides and support staff is extremely important to customer satisfaction and directly affects the traffic that flows through our store," said Mark Greene, RMO manager. "Happy guests mean better sales of items that remind them of their positive ASCI experience."

Individuals interested in summer seasonal work are welcome to complete a job application by telephoning ASCI at 301-387-3250 or sending an e-mail to asci@adventuresportscenter.com.

Pizza, Yard, And Bake Sale Set At Emmanuel UMC

Betty Louise (Wilburn) Bowser, 76, McHenry, went to be with the Lord on Thursday, July 5, 2012, at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland, surrounded by her loving family.

Born May 25, 1936, in Oakland, she was a daughter of the late Randall D. and Charlotte A. (Kaiser) Wilburn. She was also preceded in death by one brother, Wayne Claude "Smokey" Wilburn; one niece, Tonya Wilburn; and one great-nephew, Michael Mullins.

Mrs. Bowser retired from the Sears Company after 20 years or service and spent the rest of her life raising her large family. She was a 1954 graduate of Northern High School and a member of Lakeside Assembly of God.

She was very active in her family members' lives, passing on her love of reading and crochet/needlework. She just loved all the babies and new additions to her ever-growing family. Betty devoted herself to God and his Word.

She is survived by the love of her life, her husband of 58 years, Harry William Bowser; one son, Harry David Bowser and wife Robin, Weatherford, Texas; three daughters, Diane Lynn Hylton and husband Steve, Fresno, Calif., Darla Marie Taves and husband Bernard, Grandville, N.Y., and Deborah Louise Bowser and Blaine Jr., Accident. She also leaves behind one sister, Peggy Youles and husband Lou, Cohasset, Minn.; one brother, Randall William Wilburn and wife Mary, Boonsboro; and a special sister-in-law, Shirley Wilburn, Maryland.

She also leaves behind her pride and joys, 17 grandchildren, Jason Bowser and fiancée Amanda, Kimberly Bowser, Amanda Wilburn and husband Jason, Michael Bowser, Shannon Durst and husband Eric, Amber Hummell and husband Bryan, Jackie Logsdon and fiancé Zack, Joshua Gendron and fiancée Chelsea, Mark Logsdon and fiancée Jacque, Loretta Hylton, Bryce Taves, Ashley Stonesifer, Steven Hylton, Brittany Bowser, Rachel Bowser, Rebecca Bowser, and John Bowser; 17 great-grandchildren, Bailey, Jeffrey, Caitlin, Blade, Skylar, Elissa, Andrew, Patience, Taylor, Brayden, Kasey, Brooke, Jade, Breanna, Cheyenne, Chloe, and Ryley; and many other special nieces, nephews, and extended family.

Friends were received at Newman Funeral Home, Accident/McHenry.

A service was conducted at Lakeside Assembly of God on Monday, July 9, with Rev. Dennis Caton officiating.

Interment was held in Deep Creek Baptist Church Cemetery, Oakland.

Special thanks to the staff at Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home for taking good care of her toward the end.

Condolences may be sent to the family at www.newmanfuneralhomes.com.

CASSANDRA J. RINGER

Cassandra June "Casey" Ringer, 48, Bloomington, died on Thursday, July 5, 2012, at Western Maryland Regional Medical Center.

Born Feb. 5, 1964, in Beckley, W.Va., Casey was a daughter of Stanley Church, Meadow Bridge, W.Va., and Constance (Scott) Smith and stepfather Doug, Beckley, W.Va.

She was a veterinary technician. She loved animals, spending time at the beach, and swimming in the oceans. She also enjoyed riding Harley motorcycles.

Casey is survived by her husband, Donald Joseph Ringer II, three stepchildren, three sisters, three brothers, and several nieces and nephews.

At Casey's request, her body was cremated.

A memorial service will be held at a later date.

Arrangements were entrusted to Burdock-Fredlock Funeral Home, Oakland.

RUSSEL H. BOWSER

Russel H. Bowser, 90, Oakland, passed away on Sunday, July 8, 2012, at Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home.

Born Oct. 5, 1921, in Ford City, Pa, Russel was a veteran of World War II, having served in the U.S. Army. He was retired from Pitt Auto Parts as a salesman.

Russel was a 50-year member of the Oakland Lodge #192 Ancient Free & Accepted Masons, Shriners, Syria Ambassadors and American Legion Proctor Kildow Post #71, Oakland.

He is survived by numerous nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Ethel Jane (Walley) Bowser, in 2010.

Friends will be received on Friday, July 13, from 6 to 8 p.m. at Burdock-Fredlock Funeral Home, Oakland, where a service will be conducted at 10 a.m. on Saturday, with the Rev. Bobby Holcomb officiating.

Interment will follow in Garrett County Memorial Gardens, where full military honors will be accorded by the combined American Legion Proctor Kildow Post #71 and VFW Post #10077.

Because of Russel's love of reading, the family requests that memorials be made to the Ruth Enlow Library, 6 N. 2nd St., Oakland, MD 21550.

Online condolences may be made to the family at www.burdockfredlockfh.com.

Adorable Adoptables

THIS BROTHER-SISTER CHIHUAHUA DUO (above left) are available for adoption at the Garrett County Animal Shelter. "Their owner had to give them up because she was moving," said a GC Humane Society spokesperson. "Hopefully they will be adopted as a set." Above right are two dogs without IDs, one black and one longhaired brown, who were found by a tourist and dropped off at the shelter. Below left is a cute big eared young female mix that was left at the shelter after hours. "She is very quiet and needs some TLC," said the spokesperson. 'Below right is a young female Great Dane that was left at the shelter after hours. She looks as though she recently had pups. These and other pets are available, including the brindle plot type hound from last week and a hound mix. Plus, there are tons of cats, all sizes and colors including a large black female found along Shady Dell. She must have an owner who misses her. During the hot summer weather, make sure your outdoor pets and livestock have some shade and access to fresh water." For more information, persons may call the shelter at 301-334-3553. Located along Oakland Sang Run Road, the county-operated facility is open Monday through Friday. Photos courtesy of the GC Humane Society, a nonprofit volunteer organization.

State Park Programs

DEEP CREEK LAKE STATE PARK/ DISCOVERY CENTER

The following activities have been scheduled at Deep Creek Lake State Park. Programs and center hours are subject to change without notice. All programs meet or begin at the Discovery Center unless otherwise noted. Further information can be obtained by calling the Discovery Center at 301-387-7067, or by visiting the web site: www.dnr.state.md.us/publiclands/western/deepcreeklake. The center also has a Facebook page.

Friday, July 13

• 1 p.m. – Aquatic Adventure. The naturalist will be down by the shore to invite all to wade in knee-deep and learn about the animals that live in Deep Creek Lake. The fish traps and aqua scopes will also be used. Free. (Approx. 90 min.)

• 1:30 p.m. – Fish Prints. Fish that live in Deep Creek Lake will be discussed by the naturalist, who will explain how they survive and what they look like. The activity will culminate in guests making fish prints to take home. Free.

Saturday, July 14

• 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. – Art in the Park. The 13th annual Art in the Park offers over 50 artisans, food, fun, naturalist tent, tie dying, and more. Park entrance fees apply.

Sunday, July 15

• 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. – Art in the Park. The 13th annual Art in the Park offers over 50 artisans, food, fun, naturalist tent, tie dying, and more. Park entrance fees apply.

Monday, July 16

• 11 p.m. – Critter Encounter. Guests are invited to join a naturalist as the many fish, turtles, snakes, and birds of prey in the Discovery Center are fed. Free. (Approx. 90 min.)

• 1:30 p.m. – Toddlers in Nature. This program is for children 4 years old and younger. The naturalist will help them make a craft and find fun in nature. Fee: $2 per child. (60 min.)

• 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. – Summer at Sang Run. Friend's Store will be open to guests every Monday for special crafts, artisan visits, demonstrations, and shopping at the historic store.

Tuesday, July 17

• 8 a.m. – Birding at Deep Creek: Walkers will learn how to "bird by ear" and listen for distinctive songs on a stroll through the park. Participants should bring binoculars and meet at the Discovery Center. Both experienced and beginner birders are welcome. There are a few binoculars to lend out.

• 2 p.m. – Flutterbys and Flowers. Guests will walk around the Discovery Center with the naturalist to learn the many species of wildflowers and butterflies found in the area. The group will learn about the difference between native and non-native plants and their effects on the environment. (60 min.)

Wednesday, July 18

• 11 a.m. – What's That Reptile? Discovery Center staff will teach guests about the reptiles and amphibians in the center. Live specimens will be available for viewing and touching. Free. (Approx. 60 mins.)

• 1 p.m. – Wild Wednesday Tie Dye. Persons may meet at the Deep Creek Lake beach to make tie-dyed shirts and create a conservation message for each shirt. $10 per shirt and $5 for a bandana. (Approx. 2 hrs.)

Thursday July 19

• 10 a.m. – Junior Ranger Program. Youngsters are invited to join the naturalist for this six-week program. Jr. Rangers will meet every Thursday to explore the park, go behind the scenes in the aviary, learn outdoor skills, and more. Fee: $25 per child, $15 for next sibling. Persons are asked to pre-register by calling the Discovery Center at 301-387-7067. (2 hrs.)

• 11 a.m. – Brant Mine Hike. Guests can join a guided hike with the naturalist to the historic Brant Mine. Hikers will see the remnants of a coal mine that was operated in the 1920s, as well as possibly some wildlife along the way. This required moderate hiking. Free. (Approx. 90 mins.)

• 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. – Fire Tower Open. Hikers may walk to the fire tower, where a volunteer will be available to show persons to the top of the structure. From that vantage point, one may see scenic views of Deep Creek Lake. $5 per person donation.

• 2:30 p.m. – Critter Encounter. Guests are invited to join a naturalist as the many fish, turtles, snakes, and birds of prey in the Discovery Center are fed.

HISTORICAL SERIES
by Jane and Janice

The Friend Family Association of America (FFAA) held its biannual meeting in Hagerstown June 22–24. A total of 52 were present including members, their families, and friends. Guests traveled from Washington, California, Kansas, Texas, Missouri, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Maryland. Features were show-and-tell antique items, a tour of the Antietam Battlefield in Sharpsburg, and principal speaker was John H. Nelson tracing the history of all the casualties of the Civil War. The Heavener family participated in the Sunday morning worship.

At the business meeting, the officers elected were president Patricia Thompson, first vice president Becky Cornes, chairman of the board Hugh Friend, secretary John Thompson, and treasurer Donna Friend. Local members attending were Hugh and Louise Friend, Donnie and Wilma Friend, Jane Fox, Fred Fox, and James Fox.

Geneological books are on sale at the museum. Any local family can trace their roots with the books available. (Being a Friend is not required to become a member of FFAA.) Community support is encouraged to maintain the rich history of Friendsville.

SAND SPRING CEMETERY MEETING

A meeting for the Sand Spring Cemetery will be held on Sunday, July 22, beginning at 2 p.m. at the home of Dale Schroyer at 3955 Friendsville Addison Road. Families with lots are encouraged to attend.

UMBEL REUNION

The Clarence and Manila Umbel family reunion will be held this Saturday, July 14, with a covered dish dinner beginning at 1 p.m. The reunion will be held at the Friendsville Community Park. Note: There has been a change of date and place.

TOWNWIDE YARD SALE

The mayor and town council are sponsoring the annual townwide yard sale on Saturday, July 21, beginning at 9 a.m. prior to the Fiddle/Banjo Contest. Residents may sell their items from their own yards, garages, and porches throughout the town.

TOWN NEWS

Because of an decrease in revenue from highway revenue and other funding sources and the increase in town operating expenses, the mayor and town council deeded the town parking lot over to the Friendsville Fire and Rescue Department.

Patrons may continue to use the parking lot as they have in the past for one year from the date of transfer (May 10). After one year, the fire department will regulate who can park there. Those who use the parking lot on a regular basis should contact the fire department to see what their stipulations might be.

Residents and guests are asked to contact the Garrett County Sheriff's Office at 301-334-1911 or Maryland State Police at 301-387-1101 when witnessing any vandalism in the community park or around town.

The next mayor and town council meeting will be held on Monday, July 16, beginning at 7 p.m. This will be the only meeting in July.

Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad Auxiliary held their annual Longaberger Basket & Vera Bradley Bingo on June 24 at Grantsville Elementary. The Auxiliary would like to thank all those who purchased tickets and snacks, and we hope that everyone had a good time!

Congratulations to the winners.

If you missed it this year, come out and join us again next year.

The Auxiliary is always looking for more help, so if you are interested in joining or getting more information about the Auxiliary, call President Diane Friend at 301-616-6271.

A special thank-you goes out to our sponsors and those who donated to make this another successful event to benefit the NGCRSA!

The Arts

OPENING YESTERDAY at the Barn at Ridgeview Valley in McHenry by the TOTL Theatre Company was the classic children's story Miss Nelson is Missing. She show will be presented the next three Wednesdays (July 18, 25, Aug. 1) at 11 a.m. The musical, taken from the book by Allard and Marshall, is set in Miss Nelson's classroom where the children are unruly and out of control. To teach them a lesson in respect and discipline, Miss Nelson takes a few "sick days" and, unbeknownst to her students, returns as Viola Swamp, the meanest substitute on the planet. Cast members pictured above, from left, are Elizabeth Nelson, Joanna Moomaw, Danielle Riggins, and Leah Broderick. Tickets for all of TOTL's shows may be purchased online at totltheatre.org or by making reservations by phone at 304-680-1002. The TOTL Theatre Company is funded in part by the Garrett County Arts Council, the Maryland Arts Council and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Father/Daughter "Team" Offering Photo Workshop

The Garrett County Arts Council will offer a creative photography workshop the weekend of August 4 and 5. Zoom from Creative to Manual Photography is the title of the class that will be taught by Neal Blizzard and his daughter Caroline.

Students will learn how to move from fully automatic through creative to full control manual mode with a digital camera. The class will review the basics and focus on getting the camera user to full manual mode. Students should have basic knowledge of their camera. F-stop and aperture, digital SLR camera, memory cards, and charged batteries are required.

This class will emphasize nature and landscape photography. The Saturday, Aug. 4, morning session of the class will be held at the Discovery Center at Deep Creek Lake State Park. The afternoon session will move outdoors at the park. Class on Sunday, Aug. 5, will be held at a different outdoor Garrett County location, to be determined.

The Blizzards are both accomplished photographers who exhibit regionally. Their work has been on display at the Gallery Shop in Oakland. They are two of the founders of Four Storm Artists Gallery, located along Swallow Falls Road.

Neal Blizzard said he got his start as a backyard photographer, adding that his interests are anything in the outdoors. He spends times in the woods, swamps, and streams around the area watching and waiting to capture "the perfect image." He has participated in numerous workshops and spent many hours reading and practicing to improve his skills and techniques.

Like her father, Caroline Blizzard has had a lifelong interest in studying nature. She has been a naturalist for the Maryland Department of Natural Resources for nearly 20 years. She says that her love and knowledge of the outdoors helps her to capture nature in a unique way.

Class size is limited, and pre-registration is required. For more information – including the class fee – and to register, persons may call the Garrett County Arts Council at 301-334-6580.

Local Author Gordy To Read In Grantsville

Local author Rose Gordy will read from her work and sell and sign books at the Grantsville Library on Monday, July 23, from 6 to 7 p.m. This event is free and open to the public.

Gordy has written four books – The Ladies Baltimore: Mothers and Daughters Alone and Together, Into the Green Unknown, Unsettled Lives, and Stairs to the Attic: A Collection of Poetry.

This latest collection contains poems such as "The Catch-22 of Human Existence," "And the Lake Flows On," and "The Corridors of Myself." Gordy says they all inherently address life's vexing questions of love and loss and learning.

"Throughout the dramatic changes in my life, I have discovered that the elusive truths we all instinctively search for somehow manage to manifest in our lives when we need them most," she said.

Gordy also is a national and state workshop facilitator, speech coach, veteran secondary English teacher, dream counselor, and published poet, essayist, and short-story writer. She holds a master's degree in English and French from the University of Notre Dame, and has been writing and teaching for most of her life.

More information about the author and her work is available online at www.rosewords.com.

For questions about the July 23 event, persons may contact Kim at 301-895-5298, or via e-mail at kim@relib.net.

A listing of programs and services at the Ruth Enlow Library is available on the web site at www.relib.net.

ART IN THE PARK will be held this Saturday and Sunday, July 14 and 15, at Deep Creek Lake State Park. The event will feature over 40 artisans displaying and selling their artwork, including jewelry, fused glass, pottery, woodworking, sewing and hand embroidery, painted wood furniture, tatting, baskets, photography, wool rugs, and more. Art in the Park is co-sponsored by the Western Garrett County State Park Volunteers and the Garrett County Arts Council. Proceeds from the event will benefit both organizations. The two-day event will run 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, rain or shine. Food vendors will be available along with art demonstrations, children's art and nature activities, and roaming naturalist programs. Admission to the park and event is $3 per person in state and $5 out of state. Children in car seats and seniors age 62 and over are admitted for free. Boat docking is available for those wishing to come by water. Guests may also visit the Discovery Center, open daily 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the summer. Art in the Park is designed to provide entertainment for the entire family.

Artist Studio Tour Weekend Set July 28-29

Artists of Garrett County, in conjunction with the Garrett County Arts Council, invite the public to visit their working studios on Saturday and Sunday, July 28 and 29. Studios will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, and 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday.

This, the fifth annul tour, will encompass a broad section of the county and include 21 artists at seven separate locations. Artists will provide demonstrations and artwork available for purchase, as well as the opportunity to talk with them about their artistic process and the business of art in the region.

The artist studio tour is free. An array of work will be featured, including pottery, jewelry, fused glass, furniture, photography, wood crafts, painting, sculpture, recycled folk art, and handmade paper artwork.

"This is a chance for local residents and our guests to really make contact with the variety of talent we have locally," said an Arts Council spokesperson. "Some of the locations are not generally open to the public."

A brochure of the studios is available at a number of area locations, including the Gallery Shop in Oakland, the Visitors Center in McHenry, Ruth Enlow libraries, and various businesses throughout the area. There will also be directional signage along the tour route to guide drivers to the sites.

For more information, persons may telephone the Garrett County Arts Council at 301-334-6580.

BACK BY POPULAR DEMAND to the Little Yough Summer Musical Festival will be the Boilermaker Jazz Band. The group will perform this Friday, July 13, at 7 p.m. at the Mtn. Fresh Produce Pavilion in Oakland. Leading the group on clarinet and vocals will be Paul Cosentino, a full-time bandleader/performer who founded the band in 1988 at Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh, Pa. Also scheduled to perform during the festival series are Halftime String Band, July 20; Jessica Lee, July 27; the Mon River Big Band, Aug. 3; Mateo Monk, Aug. 10; the Hillbilly Gypsies, Aug. 17; Sam Lamont, Aug. 24; and the Remedy, Aug. 31. All performances begin at the pavilion at 7 p.m. Food vendors set up at 6 p.m. Admission to the performance is free. Attendees may want to bring lawn chairs or blankets, as seating is limited.

Beginning Portrait Painting Class To Be Held In G'ville

Edna Bender, local artist and instructor, will teach a course in beginner portrait painting at the Garrett College Northern Outreach Center (NOC) in Grantsville. The classes are slated for Wednesdays, beginning Aug. 1, from 9 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. and continuing for a total of five consecutive sessions.

In this course, students will be introduced to basic painting techniques and colors used in producing portraits in oils. Topics to be covered include: creating a sketch, mixing and applying skin and hair tones, achieving better tonal values, and first steps in achieving a likeness.

A materials list will be provided upon registration. A kit of supplies, excluding canvas, may be rented from instructor for a small fee.

For more information on this course, persons may contact NOC program coordinator Terry Beachy at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

Anyone interested in registering for this course may contact the Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division at 301-387-3069.

Schoemer Works Now On Display At Gallery Shop

The Garrett County Arts Council's Gallery Shop in downtown Oakland is currently featuring the work of local watercolor artist Arwana Schoemer in a one-woman exhibit. "Another Dimension" is the title of the special Backroom Gallery display, which consists of 23 paintings created with watercolors on rice paper and Suminagasi marbling.

Schoemer holds a degree in studio arts from the University of Maryland. She conducted private watercolor classes in Montgomery County for several years before retiring to Deep Creek Lake.

Her paintings and photographs have been exhibited in Maryland, Florida, West Virginia, and New York. She maintains membership in several art centers and watercolor societies, from which she has received recognition and awards. Her work is included in the Loar Auxiliary permanent art collection at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. She is a signature life member of the Baltimore Watercolor Society, and a member of the Florida Watercolor Society.

About "Another Dimension," the artist said, "The Eastern materials miraculously provide a venue for me to stay true to my soft-edge painting. Although rice paper does not permit the flow of paint found in my previous work, it is an uplifting challenge to incorporate the Eastern materials into my Western training!"

Mstislav Rostropovich, the Mostly Mozart Festival's tour to Japan, a performance with Michael Tilson Thomas in the inaugural season of Carnegie Hall's Zankel Hall, and the U.S. premiere of the Penderecki Sonata No. 2 with pianist Barry Douglas.

Chee-Yun has received exceptional acclaim as a recording artist since the release of her debut album of virtuoso encore pieces in 1993. Her recent recording of the Penderecki Violin Concerto No. 2 on Naxos was acclaimed as "an engrossing, masterly performance" (Strad Magazine) and "a performance of staggering virtuosity and musicality" (American Record Guide).

Chee-Yun has been heard frequently on National Public Radio's "Performance Today" and on WQXR and WNYC radio in New York City. She has also been featured on KTV, a children's program on the cable network CNBC, Garrison Keillor's "A Prairie Home Companion," on Public Radio International, and numerous syndicated and local radio programs across the United States and abroad. She has appeared on PBS as a special guest on Victor Borge's "Then and Now 3," in a live broadcast at Spivey Hall in Atlanta concurrent with the Olympic Games, and on ESPN performing the theme for the X Games.

Chee-Yun's first public performance at age 8 took place in her native Seoul after she won the Grand Prize of the Korean Times Competition. At 13, she came to the United States and was invited to perform the Vieuxtemps Concerto No. 5 in a Young People's Concert with the New York Philharmonic. Two years later, she appeared as soloist with the New York String Orchestra under Alexander Schneider at Carnegie Hall and the Kennedy Center. In 1989, she won the Young Concert Artist's international competition, and a year later became the recipient of the Avery Fisher Career Grant.

In addition to her active performance and recording schedule, Chee-Yun gives master classes around the world and has held several teaching posts at notable music schools and universities, such as the University of Cincinnati College-Conservatory of Music, the Indiana University School of Music, and Southern Methodist University.

Tickets for Friday's concert at the Wisp can be purchased for $40 for adults and $10 for students, and admission is free for children age 5 and younger. Tickets can be purchased by calling 301-387-3082 or by going online to http://www.artsandentertainment.org.

MISSION GROUP RETURNS FROM JOPLIN – A group comprising 18 people from several local churches recently spent time in Joplin, Mo., working with the Joplin Habitat for Humanity to rebuild homes destroyed by the F-5 tornado that struck the city on May 22, 2011. Local churches involved included Brookside, Oak Grove, and Pine Grove Churches of the Brethren and St. Peter's Catholic Church. Their motto is "It's not about us, it's about doing God's work." The group will present highlights of their trip on Sunday, July 22, at 6:30 p.m. at Oak Grove Church of the Brethren, Sang Run Road, McHenry. The presentation will include an 80-minute movie with storm chasers following the tornado throughout the city, along with personal accounts from victims. The public is invited, and light refreshments will be served in the church basement following the program. The mission group noted their sincere thanks and appreciation to everyone for their donations and support. Pictured above, front row, from left, are Dwain Rodeheaver, Judy Rodeheaver, Keith Cummings, Judy Rush, Lynn Perry, Phil Perry, Seth Matthews, Sharon Perando, and Ryan Scheurmann of the Joplin Habitat for Humanity. In the back are Janet Fike, George Fike, Teresa Browning, Mack Rush, Pete Savage, Pastor Phil Matthews, Dottie Sines, Bill Sines, Kathy Savage, and Rick Perando.

Grantsville Drops Four Of Last Five At Home

American Legion baseball team Grantsville Post 214 suffered a pair of losses in its doubleheader with Ridegely played Sunday at Garrett College. Grantsville dropped the first game 5-3 and the second by a score of 14-5.

RIDGELEY (5)
GRANTSVILLE (3)

G	220	100	0	-	5	8	4

Dillon Simone and Timmy Shaffer; Pat Sines, Cody Humberson (5), and Seth Holler.

In his team's Friday doubleheader with Potomac Valley, Grantsville's Josh Bittinger singled home the game-winning run in the bottom of the ninth for a 15-14 game-two win. Post 214 took that win after suffering an equally close defeat in game one, 2-1. That series was also played at Garrett College.

Then on Wednesday, Grantsville took another loss, 8-2, while hosting Fort Cumberland in McHenry.

In the opener with Ridgeley, Grantsville saw its 3-3 tie snapped as Ridgeley picked up two unearned runs in the sixth inning.

Thane Cutter had three singles and an RBI, Cole Smith two singles and Jones an RBI single to lead the Ridgeley offense.

Corey Helbig had two singles and an RBI for Grantsville. Scott Cooper went the distance but absorbed the loss despite allowing only two earned runs.

Ridgeley's Colton Dorsey tossed a four-hitter to earn the win.

In the nightcap, Grantsville was hammered by a 13-hit attack and found itself unable to recover in its nine-run loss.

Mason Dick and Logan Stewart had two singles for Grantsville.

POTOMAC VALLEY (2)

Brandon George, Brian George (5), and John Starkey; Kevin Colaw and Josh Bittinger.

For Ridgeley, Brent Parrish had two singles and two RBIs and Braiden Popluhar had two singles and one RBI. Dillon Simone went the distance for the win and allowed only one run over the final five innings.

In Grantsville's well-pitched first game with Potomac Valley, its opponent scored both of its runs in the first inning, unearned. On the mound for Post 214 was Kevin Colaw, who threw for all seven innings, walked two, and struck out six batters.

Potomac Valley's Brandon and Brian George teamed for a seven-hitter and nine strikeouts.

Mason Dick had two singles and an RBI and Aaron Broadwater doubled for Grantsville.

Ryan Colaw doubled and singled while Harman and Warner had two singles for Potomac Valley.

In the next game, Grantsville, which led 9-5 after a nine-run second inning, found itself tied 14-14 after eight at-bats. It was then that Jerad Fike led off the ninth with a double. That hit was followed by a walk to put Broadwater on first. He and Fike were advanced into scoring position after Kyle Rosenberger made contact for a groundout.

After an infield error loaded the bases, Bittinger hit a line drive over a drawn-in outfield to bring home Fike for the win.

In all, the teams combined for 30 hits. Grantsville got the lion's share of those with 18.

Dick had two doubles, two singles, and three RBIs, Broadwater a double, two singles, and two RBIs, Corey Helbig a double and two singles, Fike a double and a single, Steven Holtschneider a two-run single, and Rosenberger and Brooks Carr each had RBI singles.

For Potomac Valley, Hunter Warner hit a grand slam, Garrett Keller had two doubles and a single, Shawn Skovron added two doubles and three RBIs, and Trevor Harman singled three times.

Facing Fort Cumberland, Grantsville was unable to slow Kevin Myers, who pitched and hit his team to victory.

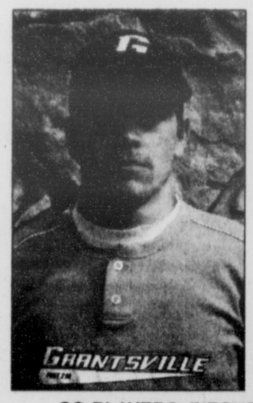
Myers tallied 11 strikeouts against Grantsville, allowing just four hits in his nine-inning, complete-game performance.

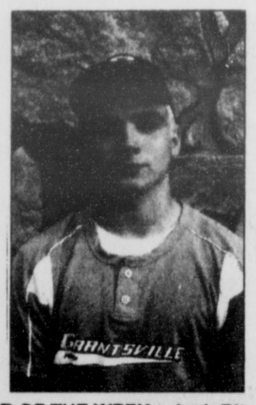
Grantsville picked up a run off Myers in the first and third innings and put runners in position to score in the sixth, though Myers struck out three consecutive batters to escape.

Grantsville got a couple of doubles from Cody Humberson with one of them scoring Pat Sines, who had two singles and crossed the plate for both of Post 214's runs.

For Fort Cumberland, Dan Strietbeck hit a pair of doubles to go along with Myers' two-run double. Matt Propst and Evan Harden had two singles and an RBI and Travis Miller had a double and a single.

Grantsville (8-16) will play Romney at Garrett College on Friday in a 6 p.m. doubleheader.





CO-PLAYERS, PITCHER OF THE WEEK – Josh Bittinger, above left, and Mason Dick, above right, were named Co-Playes of the Week for the Grantsville American Legion team, while Kevin Colaw, below, was named Pitcher of the Week. Bittinger, a former standout at Northern High School, delivered the game-winning hit in extra innings against Potomac Valley on Saturday. From his catcher position, he has thrown out three potential base runners over his past three starts. His award is sponsored by WildWood Athletic Club. Dick, a former standout for Southern High School, recorded a sizzling .615 batting average (8-for-13) over the past five games with five RBI, two doubles, two runs scored, three sacrifice bunts, and one stolen base. His award is sponsored by Gregg's Pharmacy. Colaw, a current Southern Ram, has pitched 12-1/3 innings over his last two starts and gave up just one earned run. He struck out 10, and allowed 12 hits. His award is sponsored by Lakeview NAPA.

Frank Arnold Falls To WEPCO, 10-9

In its Rec. League baseball game played on Monday, Frank Arnold saw its chance for victory dashed when WEPCO mounted a late rally to edge the home team by a score of 10-9.

Frank Arnold had trailed 9-3 entering the bottom of the sixth inning, but scored five times before getting one run and leaving the tying and winning runs on base in the seventh.

Frank Arnold was led by Derek Noble's two-run home run in the first inning. Noble also added a single, while Danny Sislo and Ryan Bennett both hit a double and a single. Scott Cooper contributed two singles.

For WEPCO, Fazenbaker hit two doubles, Adam Stowell added a double, single, and an RBI, and Dylan Burdock had one RBI on two singles. Miller and Ryan Redinger had one RBI single each, and Wilson and Hunter Broadwater had two singles each.

Frank Arnold will next face Chessie FCU in a game to be played on Monday.

K. There will be no holding or pinning. You can knock or push a car into a situation where it can not move. After your last hit you MUST back off and wait to see if he or she can move clear (one minute's time). If you cannot back off and your motor stops or quits, you have (1) minute to restart and back off. Failure to restart will result in the other car being the winner. The car making the last hit is the winner, unless you hit and hold.

L. There will not be and head-on collisions.

M There will be no hitting of the driver's door.

N. Once you enter the arena or crush zone, you must stay in your car with helmet on and seat belt tight until your heat is over.

O. To take your car out of competition in your heat, snap your stick off.

P. You must report any and all injuries to the track officials or the EMS people at the track.

Q. The track officials, events coordinator, or fair board reserves the right to accept or reject any car or driver at any time.

R. Heats will stop when there are two cars left running. They will be co-winners of the heat and advance to the feature event.

S. Crowd's choice will be decided as usual.

T. The cash awarded to the winner and crowd's choice will be put together and split between the co-winners of that heat.

U. Crowd's choice will receive no cash prize but advance to the future event.

V. The winner of the feature event will take the winnings. No cash prize will be awarded for second place.

Thursday's Results (7/5)

In its regular season finale at Salisbury, Cork's Cars earned a dominating win, 8-3, with Lucas Ritchie leading the way with three hits and two RBIs.

Ritchie hit two doubles and a single to collect his two runs batted in. He also accounted for two runs scored. Teammate Keith Chapman also drove in two runs with a double and a single.

Cork's received solid pitching performances from both Zach Tasker and Matt Imhoff. The duo combined for nine strikeouts.

Salisbury picked up four singles from four different players.

With the win, Cork's finishes its regular season at 13-5 and now awaits playoff seeding.

Friday's Results

Team One Auto Mall would claim a victory in Oakland on Friday over Grantsville, 11-10, after an RBI double by Devin Tracey scored the go-ahead run for the home team. That run, which came in the bottom of the sixth inning, would cap a back-and-forth battle and allow Team One to conclude its regular season with a win.

After scoring four times in the top of the sixth inning to take a 10-8 advantage, Grantsville seemed to have things in the bag. Team One rallied, however, for three runs in the bottom of that inning and reclaimed the lead. Team One's Colton Peck hit a two-run double to drive in the first runs of the inning before Tracey singled him home.

D.J. Flanigan finished with two singles and an RBI, while Justyce Fulmer, Corey Horner, and Skyler Carrico each hit a single with one RBI. Shawn Markwood hit a double.

Horner relieved Markwood, who started on the mound, in the seventh inning and struck out the side in order to save the win.

Grantsville was led by Meshach Metz, who drove in two runs in the top of the sixth inning with a ground-rule double.

Team One has concluded its regular season at 5-13.

Tuesday's Results

In Tuesday's action Cork's Cars downed Frostburg Legion, 5-3, in a game played at Broadford Park, while Madigan's Auto suffered a loss to Lakeview, 13-3, at Northern High and Grantsville fell, 13-2, to Thomas Chevrolet at Holler Field.

For Cork's, Mike Welch and Imhoff combined for 11 strikeouts, with Imhoff getting six over the final three innings of the playoff series opener with Frostburg.

Ethan Bittinger delivered an RBI single in the fifth inning that tied the score at 3-3, and Cork's would score its final two runs in the sixth inning.

Tasker had a two-run single, Ritchie hit a double and scored two runs, and Brock Lohr and Chapman had one RBI single apiece for Cork's.

Frostburg's Daniel Blair, Jake Hafer, and Ethan Hovatter finished with two singles each.

Cork's will look to close out the best-of-three series with a win at the Frostburg Armory today.

In its game with Lakeview, Madigan's was hampered by the strong pitching performance of Trevon Jones, who had nine strikeouts in the best-of-three opener in Accident.

Jones gave up one hit while whiffing his nine batters. He also issued five walks and received plenty of support from his teammates, who gave him six runs in the first inning and three more in the bottom of the second. Jones himself hit a triple.

Lakeview also got a triple and a double from Justin Derato, as well as two singles each from Bud Oates and Caleb King. Aaron Rodeheaver, Logan Yommer, and Brooks Carr each added a double.

The series resumes today at 5:30 p.m. at Broadford Park.

In Grantsville's loss, Thomas Chevrolet scored early and often, and needed only five innings to claim its round-one playoff win.

Thomas picked up three runs in the first inning and another three in the second. After pushing the lead to 8-0 in the third inning, it finished off its offensive production by scoring five times in the fourth.

Robert Hernandez had a triple and a double in the win, while Zach Shaffer had a triple and a single. Nate Shoemaker also finished with a triple.

Grantsville finished with one hit, a single by Noah Werner.

The two teams meet again today at Hamilton Field.

Oakland Golf Club Reports Men's Results

Oakland Golf Club pro Max Hill reported recent results of play by two men's leagues.

Charlie's Angels Senior Men played a team "shamble" format at the Oakland Golf Club course on July 3. The team of Tom Broadwater, Wayne Johnson, Bill Cheesman, and Dave Lewis won first place, while the team of Bill Fredlock, Don Savage, Jack Rickman, and Terry Donahue finished second. Don Wilkinson and Larry Dixon won the skill contests for the day.

In play on July 10, the team of Al Marucci, Max Hutchins, Dan Broadwater, Bill Springer, and Dean Durst recorded a score of 61 to win the team "scramble." Dave Fazenbaker, Red Guthrie, Tom Mirras, Joe Hughes, and Dave Beachy came in second with a 63. The skill contest winners were Bill Salter, Tom Mirras, and Don Wilkinson.

The Wednesday Men's League played a 3-man team format on June 27. The first place team of Daryl Walters, Matt Scheffel, and Jack Rickman won with a score of 63. Second place went to Tom Woods, Red Guthrie, and Ted Raynovich. The skill contest winners were Austin Doerr and Tim Schwinabart. Rob Heilig carded a 35 for the low individual score.

The Oakland Golf Club will host the First United Bank & Trust Charity Golf Tournament this Friday, July 13, beginning at noon. The benefactor of the event this year will be the United Way of Garrett County.

Players are welcome to telephone the club pro shop at 301-334-3883 for information and tee times.

Sailboat Racing
On Deep Creek Lake

I THINK I'M GETTING OLD!
by Dan Muss

We had really fine sailboat racing weather last weekend, but on Saturday, after sailing half way up the windward leg, I concluded that the wind in the slot was just too heavy for me, so we headed home... I must be getting old!

Since I didn't really sail much, I asked the PRO for the Saturday races, Ed Peters, to write up his impressions, which are as follows:

"At 10 a.m., we had a nice 8 mph breeze from the west and started to set up a triangle course with port roundings in front of the Turkey Neck Club. As we were setting the leeward mark, there was a significant shift, with increasing velocity to the northwest. This required pulling the set marks and moving to the slot between Turkey Neck and Thousand Acres.

"The course ended up being windward, leeward with port roundings, and the start off Poland Run. The finish was close to the windward mark off Holy Cross.

"We were able to maintain the same course for both races, with winds for the first race between 8 and 12 mph, and for the second race, 5 to 8 mph."

On Sunday the wind was a very nice 5 – 10 knots out of the NW. The PRO set a dog-leg course W through the slot and then NW. The problem with that course was that the slot tends to funnel and intensify the wind. The wind in the slot kept shifting between its true direction – NW – and its funneled direction – W.

After the start, I took a long starboard tack into the Turkey Neck shore and, as I tacked out on port, there was bunch of starboard tack boats coming at me. Just then a puff hit and I essentially lost control of our boat, as my wife let me know about it in no uncertain terms. But we didn't hit anyone and we sailed the course, without spinnaker, to finish way back in the fleet. I am getting old!

FIRECRACKER REGATTA (June 30)
by Ted Rissell

There is a tradition for Firecracker regattas at DCL. It seems that almost every year one race ends with a really big thunderstorm and squall, with lots of excitement, capsizes, rescues, etc. This year the storm came Friday night, but there were still capsizes. At least one Flying Scot turned turtle (upside down) at its mooring during the night.

The excitement was during Sunday's race. At the start, Ray Gauthier's Scot capsized and lay with its sails on the water. Ray used the technique developed by Kevin Rissell at the Deep Creek Sailing School, got the boat righted, and sailed the race, although he was several minutes behind. The capsize seemed surprising since Ray is an excellent sailor. It turned out that Ray's tiller extension broke, and he fell over backwards into the lake.

Eric Von Eckartsberg has been sailing FS #97, the oldest active racing Scot on the lake. At the jibe mark he laid the boat over, almost a full capsize. The spinnaker was in the water, but he still had enough rudder in the water to fall off downwind and save the day. He has been gradually improving over the last year since he started sailing old #97. The boat dates from the mid 1950's, but was refurbished by Flying Scot Inc. and looks like new.

On Sunday the race committee set a triangular course with starboard roundings, followed by a windward leeward course. Usually port roundings are preferred, but the wind direction suggested that a starboard rounding would provide a better course. The wind was quite gusty, and a number of sailors opted not to fly their spinnaker; some of those who did had a wild ride downwind.

For the Firecracker regatta, the Lasers had a separate course both Saturday and Sunday. Peter Frey was the race committee.

It is noteworthy that on Saturday, 12-year-old Jessica Bennett with Joni Palmer as crew started in the Silver Fleet and finished first in that fleet. However, she sailed so well that she ended up in second place in the Gold Fleet, which had a five-minute head start before Silver's – quite an accomplishment even for seasoned sailors.

Oaks Avoid M'town Sweep With Clutch Sixth Inning; Will Host WV Powerhouse

After narrowly losing game one, 3-2, in its Pen-Mar Baseball League doubleheader played at Morgantown (W.Va.) on Sunday, it looked like the broom was coming for the Oakland Oaks.

Down 5-2 after five innings of the second contest, the Oaks would surge in their sixth at-bat to score six runs and take the lead. That swing in momentum allowed Oakland to capture game two by a final score of 10-5.

In the first game, Oakland scored an unearned run in the top of the seventh to tie it, and Morgantown scored an unearned run in the bottom of the inning to win it.

For Morgantown, Alex Rotuck singled and scored two runs, including the game-winner. Morgantown had only three hits, but was aided by six Oakland errors. Jake Robinson got the win and struck out seven.

Jason Ashby had two singles and Tommy Reams a double and an RBI for Oakland. Nathan King was tagged with the loss despite throwing a three-hitter.

It was Ashby who began to turn the tide for the Oaks in game two. With the bases loaded, he struck a three-run double during Oakland's sixth inning slugfest. His clutch hit was followed by another, as Tommy Brunswick then clocked a two-run single.

The Oaks would tack on another run in that inning, followed by two more in the seventh to set the final score.

Shane Valentine had three singles and scored two runs, Jeremy Fitzwater doubled, singled, and knocked in a run, and Reams had a double, two RBIs, and three stolen bases for Oakland. Fitzwater pitched three relief innings for the win.

Rotuck and Shea Davis hit three singles for Morgantown. Davis had eight strikeouts in six innings, but was tagged with the loss.

Oakland (10-6) is scheduled to host the West Virginia Powerhouse on Saturday at Southern High School.

WAITING FOR HIS TEAMMATE to touch the wall in a relay event of the annual YMCA breaststroke meet is Garrett County Manta Ray Jacob Green, as he prepares to launch from the starting block in the mixed age 9-10 200-yard freestyle relay. Also in the photo are teammates Evan Sechler and Kassidy Andris, who had just completed their legs of the same event. See story for details on the meet.

Manta Rays Vie In Breaststroke Meet; Place Second As A Team

The Garrett County Manta Rays participated in the annual Summer Swim League Breaststroke Meet held at the Riverside YMCA in Cumberland on Saturday. The competition began with Noah Aiken, a Manta Ray competitor in the boys' 11-12 age group, singing the national anthem, accompanied by MRST coach Dusty Huxford.

The Rays placed second overall in total points against competing teams from Cumberland, Bel Air, LaVale, Frostburg, and Hardy County, W.Va., and earned a number of top-three honors in both A-flight and B-flight competition.

A-flight swimmers are those who either compete year-round or win an end-of-year B-flight championship.

In individual races, the following A-flight Manta Rays won first-place ribbons: Jackie Tidd, girls 13-14, 100-yard breaststroke in 1:29.46, topping her previous YMCA record of 1:30.90, and 50-yard freestyle in 30:48, also breaking her past YMCA record of 31:21; and Matthew Ball, boys 15 and over, 50-yard freestyle in 26:30, defeating his previous YMCA record of 26:88.

Ball also took a second place in the 100 breaststroke, recording a time of 1:23.43 and surpassing his past YMCA record of 1:36.39.

Manta Rays winning first places in B-flight competition were: Katy Tidd, girls 15 and over, 50 breaststroke in 39.84, breaking her YMCA record of 40.96, and 50 freestyle (32.03); Katelin Rank, girls 13-14, 50 freestyle in 34.03, breaking her record of 34.84; Charlie Taylor, boys 11-12, 50 breaststroke (52.33); and Vanessa Calling, girls 11-12, 50 breaststroke (43.98) and 50 freestyle in 33.24, topping her past record of 33.83.

Capturing second places in B-flight races were Manta Rays Katelin Rank, 50 breaststroke in 50.60, surpassing her personal mark of 58.76, and Noah Aiken, boys 11-12 50 freestyle in 41.92, topping his record of 42.33.

Rays earning third places in B-flight events were Harley Rhodes, boys 11-12, 50 breaststroke (58.96), and Charlie Taylor, 50 freestyle (42.51).

In relay competition, the Manta Ray team consisting of Matthew Ball, Katelin Rank, Jackie Tidd, and Katy Tidd won second place in the mixed 15 and over, 200 freestyle; Noah Aiken, Harley Rhodes, Caleb Rowan, and Charlie Taylor, second place, mixed 11-12, 200 freestyle; Evan Sechler, Vanessa Calling, Katy Tidd, Katelin Rank, place, mixed 250 freestyle crescendo relay; and Kassidy Andris, Evan Sechler, Jake Green, and Laurel Williams, third place, mixed 9-10, 200 freestyle.

Several Manta Rays participated in the mixed 200 breaststroke. Matthew Ball, A-flight boys 15 and over, placed second with a time of 3:00.83, breaking his personal record of 3:31.69; Caleb Rowan, A-flight boys 9-10, 11th place (4:31.04); and Laurel Williams, B-flight girls 9-10, finished 15th (4:58.60) and established the Manta Ray record in this age category.

The Manta Rays will compete in the butterfly meet on Friday, July 20. For more information about the team and complete meet results, persons are invited to visit the organization's web site at www.manta-ray.org.

The Family of

would like to extend their sincere gratitude for the expression of love extended to us during the loss of our dad.

To those who delivered food, our houses were overflowing; the many visits, words of sympathy, cards, hugs, thoughts and prayers, all was very much appreciated. We would ask that you continue to lift us in prayer.

We would also like to thank the Southern Garrett Rescue Squad and the ER staff at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. We know you did everything you could do.

To all his lodge, hunting and fishing buddies, coworkers and his many friends, thank you for the time you spent with dad doing his favorite things. Also to all of our employers, the outpouring of love and kindness has been overwhelming.

To Chris and MaryAnn at Burdock-Fredlock Funeral Home, you are very special. You made this as easy as it could be for us. The love you expressed to our family will never be forgotten. We are grateful.

To Rev. John Walker, thank you for the beautiful service and the memories of Dad you shared with us. The Locust Grove Church of the Brethren Ladies Auxiliary as well as the women of the church, thank you for your time preparing a delicious meal for our family and friends.

To Sarah, the first person on the scene, there are no words to express our gratitude to you for being there to talk to Dad, and for caring enough to come to his services to share his last words with us. Dad loved us all the days of his life as well as in his final breaths. For you sharing that with us, we are so thankful. God placed an angel by Dad's side.

Dad, your journey is over, you've found your resting place. You fought the battle, worked hard and now you've won the race. You told us when you were gone, you didn't want us to cry. We haven't been doing a very good job of that one. Because of all you've done for us, the tears just keep falling. Thank you for everything, thank you for being the dad that you were. Thank you for so many memories; we will cherish them forever. We love you dad. Until we meet again,

Debbie, Johnnie, Mike,
David, Randa and all our families.

CELEBRATING 40 YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY

Youse Hired By GC As Assistant Prof. Of English

Garrett College has recently named several new faculty members, among whom is Dolores (Lori) Youse, pictured right, who will assume responsibilities as assistant professor of English as the fall 2012 semester begins.

"Lori's primary focus will be our developmental English program," said Jim Allen, interim dean of instruction, who made the announcement. "Lori has worked for us as an adjunct professor and was instrumental in helping redesign our developmental English program."

Youse, a resident of Oakland, holds a master of education degree from Frostburg State University, where she also earned a bachelor's degree in English literature and certification in secondary education.

Employed at Garrett College since 2010, Youse previously held the position of interim full-time instructor in English. She has taught expository writing, introduction to literature, and developmental English, while also serving as a student advisor.

Previously Youse was an adjunct professor at Stevenson University, Baltimore, where she specialized in developmental reading. While serving as adjunct professor at Harford Community College, Bel Air, she taught a variety of courses in reading, comprehension, and writing skills.

Youse's career as an educator also includes seven years of teaching in high schools and middle schools in Baltimore and Allegany counties.

Youse said that she is looking forward to taking on the challenges of her new position.

"Working with readers and writers has been a driving force through much of my professional life," she said. "I have always enjoyed helping people sharpen reading and writing skills and, at the same time, I have always hoped to instill in them the joy of reading and writing."

The ability to comprehend written information and to communicate in writing are two skills that are invaluable for securing employment and advancing within a chosen career, Youse said, adding that enhancing these abilities can improve one's quality of life.

"I look forward to my new role within the Garrett College community, and I embrace the opportunity to work within the Garrett County community and beyond as we help to strengthen and develop skills in those areas so essential in today's world," Youse concluded.

GC Foundation Awards Scholarships

The Garrett College Foundation board of directors recently announced the winners of scholarships for the academic year 2012-2013. Awards went to current students as well as to new students at GC. Among those earning scholarships are the following:

Rachel E. Staley, an Oakland resident, was awarded the Garrett College Board of Trustees Scholarship. She is a 2011 graduate of Southern High School and a current student at Garrett College. She is pursuing her degree in chemistry.

Monica Keller was selected to receive the Ann Dilgard Scholarship. A resident of Grantsville, Keller is a 2011 graduate of Northern High School and a current student at Garrett College. She is majoring in education and history.

Kelley Wagner, who is currently a student at Garrett College, was awarded a Garrett College Board of Trustees Scholarship. A resident of McHenry, she is a 2010 graduate of the Walkersville Christian Family Schools. She is pursuing a degree in pre-allied health with the goal of becoming a register nurse.

Morgan Townes of Baltimore is the recipient of a Garrett College Foundation General Scholarship. She is a 2012 graduate of Baltimore Polytechnic Institute. At Garrett College she will pursue an associate degree in pre-allied health, with the goal of becoming a physician.

CELEBRATING 40 YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY

Youse Hired By GC As Assistant Prof. Of English

Garrett College has recently named several new faculty members, among whom is Dolores (Lori) Youse, pictured right, who will assume responsibilities as assistant professor of English as the fall 2012 semester begins.

"Lori's primary focus will be our developmental English program," said Jim Allen, interim dean of instruction, who made the announcement. "Lori has worked for us as an adjunct professor and was instrumental in helping redesign our developmental English program."

Youse, a resident of Oakland, holds a master of education degree from Frostburg State University, where she also earned a bachelor's degree in English literature and certification in secondary education.

Employed at Garrett College since 2010, Youse previously held the position of interim full-time instructor in English. She has taught expository writing, introduction to literature, and developmental English, while also serving as a student advisor.

Previously Youse was an adjunct professor at Stevenson University, Baltimore, where she specialized in developmental reading. While serving as adjunct professor at Harford Community College, Bel Air, she taught a variety of courses in reading, comprehension, and writing skills.

Youse's career as an educator also includes seven years of teaching in high schools and middle schools in Baltimore and Allegany counties.

Youse said that she is looking forward to taking on the challenges of her new position.

"Working with readers and writers has been a driving force through much of my professional life," she said. "I have always enjoyed helping people sharpen reading and writing skills and, at the same time, I have always hoped to instill in them the joy of reading and writing."

The ability to comprehend written information and to communicate in writing are two skills that are invaluable for securing employment and advancing within a chosen career, Youse said, adding that enhancing these abilities can improve one's quality of life.

"I look forward to my new role within the Garrett College community, and I embrace the opportunity to work within the Garrett County community and beyond as we help to strengthen and develop skills in those areas so essential in today's world," Youse concluded.

GC Foundation Awards Scholarships

The Garrett College Foundation board of directors recently announced the winners of scholarships for the academic year 2012-2013. Awards went to current students as well as to new students at GC. Among those earning scholarships are the following:

Rachel E. Staley, an Oakland resident, was awarded the Garrett College Board of Trustees Scholarship. She is a 2011 graduate of Southern High School and a current student at Garrett College. She is pursuing her degree in chemistry.

Monica Keller was selected to receive the Ann Dilgard Scholarship. A resident of Grantsville, Keller is a 2011 graduate of Northern High School and a current student at Garrett College. She is majoring in education and history.

Kelley Wagner, who is currently a student at Garrett College, was awarded a Garrett College Board of Trustees Scholarship. A resident of McHenry, she is a 2010 graduate of the Walkersville Christian Family Schools. She is pursuing a degree in pre-allied health with the goal of becoming a register nurse.

Morgan Townes of Baltimore is the recipient of a Garrett College Foundation General Scholarship. She is a 2012 graduate of Baltimore Polytechnic Institute. At Garrett College she will pursue an associate degree in pre-allied health, with the goal of becoming a physician.

Gypsy Brady Celebrates 100th

Gypsy Bonnie Brady celebrated her 100th birthday on June 29 at the Goodwill Retirement and Nursing Center in Grantsville.

Attending the celebration were her daughters, Nancy Dove, South Carolina, and Julia Knox, Loch Lynn; and her sons, Kenneth Lane and wife Wanda, Hagerstown, D.F. Lane and wife Geri, Georgia, Jim Lane, Nebraska, Wesley Lane and wife Jackie, Florida, and Glenn Lane and wife Carolyn, Michigan.

There were also eight grandchildren, 15 great-grandchildren, and six great-great-grandchildren present.

Special poems and letters were read by the children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren before dinner. The eldest son, Kenneth, gave a toast, and cake was served.

Mrs. Brady has been a resident of Garrett County since relocating here in 1947. She and her husband Glenn reared nine children. He retired from the Maryland State Roads Commission after many years of service, and passed away in February 1995.

The couple's son Welton passed away in September 1996, and their youngest daughter Mary passed away in December 2009.

Marriage Permits Recently Issued

Twelve couples recently applied for their marriage licenses, according to Sondra R. Buckel, clerk of the Garrett County Circuit Court. One couple requested that their names not be published.

Troy Arthur Gatian, 43, Grafton, W.Va., and Kathryn Lyn Williams, 42, Fairmont, W.Va.

Ricky Aaron Moats II, 24, and Brandy Lynn Hinebaugh, 25, Terra Alta, W.Va.

Richard Craig Welch, 54, and Karon Poe Schnably, 63, both of Oakland.

Roy Jackson Rexrode, 36, Hagerstown, and Megan Nichole Wynn Bowers, 28, Swanton.

Shawn Douglas Shiflett, 23, and Alayna Michelle Gaither, 23, both of Oakland.

Joshua Earl Henderson, 31, and Melissa Nicole Durst, 27, both of Chesapeake, Va.

Timothy Lynn Ferguson, 43, and Holly Elizabeth Mesa, 39, both of Parsons, W.Va.

John Carl Catena, 55, and Diane Marie Frederick, 52, both of Canastota, N.Y.

Keith Gerard Brown, 22, and Jessica Korrine Harvey, 22, both of Oakland.

Aaron Matthew Klein, 20, Grantsville, and Lucinda Elaine Griffin, 17, Accident.

Daniel Thomas Lattanzi, 29, and Gabrielle Wohl, 30, both of Charleston, W.Va.

Miss Wiley To Wed Mr. Doerr

Together with their families, Megan Beth Wiley and Jason Todd Doerr announce their engagement and upcoming marriage.

Ms. Wiley is the daughter of Charles and Terry Wiley, Frostburg. She is the granddaughter of the late Chester and Shirley McFarland and the late Blaine and Cora Wiley, all formerly of Grantsville.

She is a 2009 graduate of Northern High School and a 2012 graduate of Allegany College, majoring in nursing. She is currently employed at Cherry Hill Assisted Living, Accident.

Mr. Doerr is the son of Todd and Kelli Doerr, Accident. He is the grandson of Ron and Deb Doerr, Accident, and Bonnie Doerr, Oakland, Louise Grove, Friendsville, and the late Larry Grove.

He is a 2007 graduate of Northern High School and is employed at Doerr Construction.

A Sept. 1 wedding is being planned.

McHenry Church Slates Celebration

McHenry United Methodist Church will celebrate its 130th anniversary this Sunday, July 15. A special worship service is scheduled for 11 a.m., followed immediately by a potluck picnic at the church pavilion.

Those attending are asked to bring canned goods to donate to depleted food pantries in storm-ravaged areas of southern West Virginia.

Herrington SP To Host "Bio Blitz" In August

A "Bio Blitz" will be held at Herrington Manor State Park on Aug. 4 and 5. The Bio Blitz is a 24-hour period in which persons find, identify, and record all species of mammals, birds, fish, plants, fungi, and insects within a given area.

All 365 acres of Herrington Manor State Park will serve as the area of search, according to an organizer. There will be group leaders available to give guided hikes for each specialized group of species being sought. The public is invited to take part in this event.

The Bio Blitz will begin on Saturday at 8 a.m. and continue through Sunday at 8 a.m. Registration for this event is free and began on July 6. Everyone who wishes to participate is asked to register no later than Aug. 1, although walk-ins will be allowed to participate.

To register, persons should call the Herrington Manor park office at 301-334-9180 or contact the naturalist via e-mail at jasidebottom@dnr.state.md.us.

Persons with expertise in a field of natural sciences who would like to be a group leader may also contact park personnel at the phone number or e-mail noted above.

SAVING FROZEN FOOD IN A POWER FAILURE

by Dr. Stephen I. Parks

Q. I had to throw out a bunch of thawed food from my freezer during the big power failure. Short of buying a generator, what can I do next time?

A. Several things.

First of all, freezers come in two styles : "upright," where the door swings out like a fridge, and "chest," which opens at the top. When you open an upright freezer, your feet get cool real quick, as cold air pours out and is replaced with room-temperature air. The freezer then has to run for a while to cool down that new slug of air. With a chest freezer, the cold air is heavier so it stays put. During a power failure, you can open your chest freezer, but must avoid opening an upright. Next time you buy a freezer, keep this in mind.

Second, keep emergency freezer supplies on hand: several pounds of table salt in the pantry, and a few Ziplock© bags of ice in the freezer. When the lights go out, add a quarter pound of salt to each bag of ice and put them in the highest spot in the freezer. The ice-salt mixture can get as cold as -9 degrees F, but more practically it will not get below zero. Every 12 hours, take out the bags and pour off the water. Top them off with more ice and salt, then shake them to mix them up. This will go a long way toward saving your food.

Remember that your supermarket will sell out of ice a few hours after opening. I fill a couple of 1-liter soda bottles to the ¾ point with salt and ice. I squeeze them a bit before I screw the top on so there is room for expansion, and then stash them in the bottom of the freezer. I move them to the top during outages, and this reduces the urgency to buy ice.

Sometimes dry ice is available. This is an excellent solution if you can get enough, but don't count on being able to get it at all. And because it sublimes (evaporates) at normal freezer temperatures, you cannot keep it on hand "just in case."

And by the way, thawed and refrozen food may taste mushy, but it is safe to eat if it never warmed above normal refrigerator temperatures (40 F). Grocers and restaurants have to discard it for liability reasons if it is even partially thawed.

Dr. Parks has a Ph.D. in solid-state physics, and most of his career has involved the design of sensors and instrumentation. Side interests include molecular biology, exotic travel, and nature study.

Alpine Learning Program To Kick Off This Friday

The fourth season of the Summer Alpine Learning Program (ALP) sponsored by Alpine Lake Resort, Terra Alta, will offer a series of 15 programs featuring guest speakers and musical events which are open to the public.

According to organizers, the programs will range from spending evenings with "Mark Twain" and "Stonewall Jackson" to armchair travel through India to learning about and listening to the origins of West Virginia music.

The first program will be Geocaching 101, set for this Friday, July 13, at 1 p.m. Adults and children over age 5 (with an adult) are welcome. It will be led by Sheila Amato, and participants should meet at the Alpine Lake boathouse.

Attendees will learn about and try geocaching, the hobby/sport enabled by the use of a hand-held GPS unit communicating with satellites to locate caches of items hidden by fellow "geocachers."

Basic Computer 1 with instructor Sally Boone will be the second in the series, to be held next Tuesday, July 17, 2 to 4 p.m., at East Preston School in Terra Alta. This session will target novice computer users and includes basic computer and word processing skills. Preston County School computers will be available for use.

Basic Computer 2, also led by Boone, will be held next Thursday, July 19, from 2 to 4 p.m. also at the school. This session will focus on use of the Internet and the online experience, with an introduction to web skills.

The ALP programs are primarily scheduled for Tuesdays and Fridays from July to October, and are open to the public for a $3 fee per program (except for music programs) which is payable at the door. The complete schedule with full program/speaker information can be found online at www.alpinelake.com. For more information, persons may call 304-789-6575 or 561-702-4142.

Amateur Radio Club Invites Area "Hams" To Picnic

The newly formed Backbone Mountain Amateur Radio Club will hold a family picnic for all area 'ham' radio operators on Sunday, July 29, at Cathedral State Park, Aurora, beginning at 1 p.m.

"All family members and any friends interested in ham radio are invited," said a spokesperson. "Come on out for an afternoon of getting to know new and old ham radio friends."

Participants are asked to bring a covered dish, drinks, and eating-ware. A charcoal fire will be available for cooking meats.

Farm Service Agency Reports

Eric M. McCartney, County Executive Director
Preston County FSA Office
157 Plaza CT., Suite 13, Kingwood, WV 26537-1793
304-329-1923

FSA REMINDS FARMERS OF 2012 CROP ACREAGE REPORTING DEADLINES

Eric McCartney, executive director of USDA's Farm Service Agency in Preston County, reminds farmers of the following crop acreage reporting deadlines. Reports of crop acreage are required for participation in many USDA-FSA farm programs.

FSA programs that require annual crop acreage reports include the Direct and Counter-Cyclical Program (DCP), Average Crop Revenue Election (ACRE) Program, Conservation Reserve Program (CRP/CREP), Loan Deficiency Payments (LDPs), Marketing Assistance Loans (MALs), the Farm Storage Facility Loan Program, and the Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP).

The remaining acreage reporting deadlines for the 2012 crop year for West Virginia producers are as follows:

July 16 – Corn, spring oats, soybeans, and all other crops;

December 17 – Fall barley and wheat, and all other fall-seeded small grains; and

January 15 – Apples and peaches.

Failed acreage must be reported within 15 days of the disaster event and before disposition of the crop. Prevented planting must be reported no later than 15 days after the final planting date.

Acreage reports are considered timely filed when completed by the applicable final crop reporting deadline, which may vary from state to state. Producers should contact their county FSA office if they are uncertain about reporting deadlines.

With the implementation of the new acreage reporting dates that began July 1, late-filed fees will not be assessed for crops with final reporting dates that fall within the timeframe of July 1, 2012, through June 30, 2013.

Acreage reports on crops for which Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP) assistance may be paid were due in the county office by the earlier of May 31 for noninsurable small grains and July 15 for all other crops, or 15 calendar days before the onset of harvest or grazing of the specific crop acreage being reported.

For further information regarding crop acreage reports, producers are invited to visit the Farm Service Agency office located in the corner mall of the Kingwood Plaza, or telephone 304-329-1923.

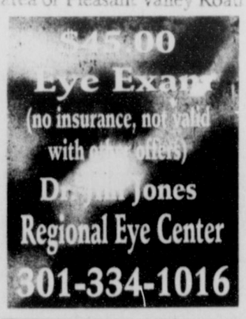
GC Deputies Arrest Two On Assault Charges

Garrett County sheriff's deputies arrested two men on second-degree assault charges this week. The following incidents are unrelated.

Deputies responded to the area of Pleasant Valley Road last Thursday in response to a possible domestic dispute in progress. Investigation revealed that Russell Edward Tasker, 61, Oakland, had reportedly struck a female adult in the face. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

In a separate incident, deputies responded to an Overlook Drive residence Tuesday evening for a reported assault. Investigation revealed that Cody Allen Bulford, 24, Oakland, had allegedly assaulted a female victim in the home. The victim reportedly sustained injuries to her neck, nose, right shin, and elbow. Bulford was charged with second-degree assault and false imprisonment. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail for processing.



Demo Slated At Oakland Library For Grant Seekers

The Oakland library will host an open house on Monday, Aug. 6, to acquaint members of the nonprofit community and individual grant seekers with the resources available from the Foundation Center at the Washington County Free Library (WCFL) in Hagerstown. The event will take place in the Oakland Library meeting room at 6 North Second Street, Oakland, during the hours of noon to 8 p.m.

This event is a walk-in program, whereby individuals can receive one-on-one demonstrations and access the two grants databases.

These databases are available only in-house at WCFL's location in Hagerstown and cannot be accessed locally in Garrett County after Aug. 6.

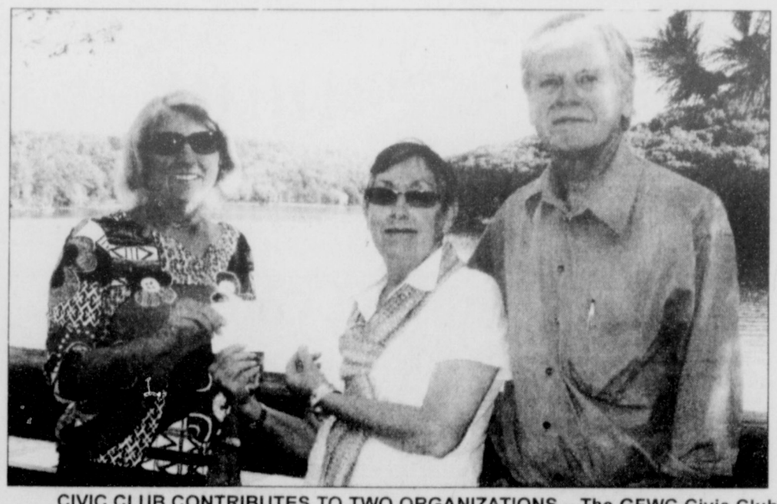
Harry Sachs, supervisor of the Foundation Center's Cooperating Collection at WCFL, will provide demonstrations of the two online databases and information concerning the collection, which also includes print materials. These resources are available to anyone in the general public who is searching for grant funding, whether it is for a religious organization, a community group, students, artists, or researchers.

Cooperating Collections provide under-resourced and underserved populations in need of vital information and training with tools they can use to become successful grant seekers. At locations throughout the U.S., Cooperating Collections offer free access to the center's detailed information on grant makers and how to apply for grants. WCFL also hosts training sessions on how to effectively use these resources and identify potential funders.

Established in 1956, the Foundation Center is the nation's leading authority on organized philanthropy, serving grant seekers, grant makers, researchers, policymakers, the media, and the general public. The public is served through the center's five regional learning centers, and the national network of Cooperating Collections.

For more information, one may contact Harry Sachs at 301-791-5169 or hsachs@washcolibrary.org, or contact the Oakland library at 301-334-3996, ext. 117.

A listing of events and services at the Ruth Enlow Library is available at www.relib.net.



CIVIC CLUB CONTRIBUTES TO TWO ORGANIZATIONS – The GFWC Civic Club of Oakland has been making donations to multiple local organizations recently. Among the 27 recipients this year are PAWS and the Friends of Deep Creek Lake. PAWS is a non-profit all-volunteer organization that helps eligible Garrett County residents pay for the costs of spaying or neutering their pet dogs and cats. Eligible families can take their pets to any vet in the county, and PAWS will pay approximately 2/3 of the cost of the spay/neuter procedure. Residents may also take their pets to the HART low cost spay-neuter clinic in McHenry to receive help. "By reducing the number of unwanted animals in our county, we also can reduce the number of neglect and cruelty cases, health problems associated with abandoned animals, financial demands on our county shelter, and the number of dogs and cats that must be rescued and transported to other counties," a spokesperson said. In the photo above from left are Judi Schiff, Civic Club member, Evelyn Hugueley, treasurer of PAWS, and Tom Hertz, PAWS president. In the photo below at left is Sandy Hill, co-president of the Civic Club of Oakland, as she presents a donation to Barbara Beelar, director of the Friends of Deep Creek Lake. The Friends organization requested the funding to purchase two field meters to be used in monitoring streams in the lake watershed as part of the Marcellus Shale Water Quality project. The group will collect baseline data prior to any drilling, and will continue to take samples in order to document any change in the quality of stream water that empties into Deep Creek Lake. "Whether you are for or against drilling, we can all agree that we want to protect our natural resources if or when drilling should occur," Beelar said. To volunteer for the water project, persons may send an e-mail to Christine King at cking@dnr.state.md.us.

Rainbow Girls Collecting Items For Needy Families

Oakland Assembly #8, International Order of Rainbow for Girls, is conducting a clothing drive to aid needy persons in the United States and in other nations. It will continue until Sept. 8.

Good used or new clothing for all seasons is being accepted for men, women, and children, including shoes, belts, ties. Also being collected are baby accessories, pocketbooks, backpacks, handbags, blankets, tablecloths, bed sheets and pillows, curtains, towels, small rugs, quilts and comforters, stuffed animals, hard toys, action figures, toy cars, trucks, and airplanes, and dolls and doll houses.

Persons with such items to contribute are asked to call (for drop-off or pick-up) 240-321-3299, 301-616-2807, or 301-387-4545. Charitable donations receipts are available.

The items will be shipped to areas of need in Ghana, Conakry, Guinea, Honduras, Chile, Haiti, Ecuador, Belize, Mexico, Eastern Europe, and the United States.

At the loss of a dear sweet child words cannot explain, how much the heart is broken or how awful is the pain.

"Why doest Thou take little ones?"
I asked as I knelt to pray.
I felt his spirit telling me,
"They are too pure to stay."

I had the warmest feeling that my child is happy and waits, until we are together again past Heaven's Golden Gates.

Time will reunite us,
in not too many years.
In Heaven's place, we will embrace and joy will replace the tears.

Love,

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

It's interesting how today's Pittsburgh Pirates have so many moving players. For example, it is unclear who our number one catcher is. Last summer, I watched this bunch of young players, and I knew then that they seemed like a special group. They took the division lead about mid-season, then kind of faded. So they had that experience, and no doubt learned from it. Now, they seem ready to make their move into a genuine contender team.

It was not July 4, 1776, when John Hancock put the first signature on the Declaration of Independence. It was July 2. Of course, the slave colonies would not sign it if it meant that they would lose their ability to treat other people like livestock.

Well, there is no need for man-made fireworks this evening. It's not unusual for the 4th of July to have a totally natural display of a big thunderstorm with pretty flashes of lightning and lots of noise, and even falling hail – plus lots of badly needed water from heaven, and a bit of a cool breeze to cut the worst of the almost unbearable, oppressive heat. But all these clouds mean that we are unlikely to see the aurora borealis lightshow from a major solar storm. The storm is not quite as intense as it was last Saturday, but it was still pretty violent, with marble-sized hail. We already had a brief flickering of our power.

The best thing about this heat wave is that it includes a hot streak for the Pirates.

Cherry Glade Mennonite Church will hold its fourth annual 5-K Run and Fun Walk on Aug. 18 at 9 a.m. to benefit Phil Workman for his current health problem (leukemia). Contact Cherry Glade at 301-245-4250 to register.

Mere pushed my wheelchair to the last of our remaining yellow transparent apple trees on our farm that served my grandparents' family and my parents and their children. When I was expecting my first baby, I got an intense desire to make as much applesauce as possible for her. And it led to a spat with my sister Carol over the splitting of the crop of apples. But they did produce the best imaginable applesauce.

It was also the best tree to climb and see robins' nests full of blue eggs, then baby birds. That is the same pastime enjoyed by my daughter, too.

So it was an ugly shock when I saw that the biggest branch had broken off. I guess it was during last weekend's storm. I touched the branch on the ground, told it that I loved it, and thanked it for 100 years of service to my family. I am in deep mourning that it was so badly damaged at such an advanced age.

We also put an orange day lily on Boo's grave just beside it. So a wonderful evening was also tinged with some deep sadness.

I experienced a similar sadness when I discovered that a big productive elderberry bush at the end of the stoop had been cut down. It also served generations of my family.

Also irreplaceable is my very old aloe plant. Yes, it was a bit scrawny looking, but it produced endless baby aloe plants to transplant. No household should be without a decent aloe plant, because it is the best burn remedy possible. I always took a large leaf of it to our beach vacation because it was great for treating sunburn. It was one of the things that the cleaning crew removed from my home when I was stuck in the hospital in 2009.

It is still unbearably hot. I have never experienced anything remotely similar in Bittinger.

One of my favorite parts of watching Pirates baseball on television is watching many kinds of young men try to get established in their careers in major league baseball – truly a high-pressure career.

Do we have a United States of America? Or just an assembly of independent states able to act independently, often against the common good of all of America?

I am sure most readers of this column don't care at all about the problems of big cities, because many never visit any or have much connections with them. Like one former Garrett County guy with whom I had a significant relationship. When I suggested that he and I should take a trip to New York City, he responded, not surprisingly, "I will never go there."

I still enjoy fairly regular contacts with at least 20 people who were students at the University of Maryland at the same time I was. Add the numbers of the college friends of my brothers and sisters and all their significant others, and there are a lot.

Perhaps you caught a glimpse of our weekend-long Memorial Day and Labor Day parties. There were many tents in our hay fields, and maybe you heard some music coming from our old barn. That slowed when I was struck by my life-changing illness. But they were always very enriching events. There were maybe a hundred people talking and laughing, often with strangers, with their offspring running around with kids their same age.

We heard recently that women can't have everything: both a good family and a career. Nonsense. It is possible. It's hard work, yes, but I did have both, because my workplace was baby-friendly.

I used to experience severe Bible School fatigue every June. I had to go to three every summer. I needed some free, self-directed times to advance my very important agencies. I was sick to death of sitting in a classroom with an adult in charge, forcing me to do things that weren't interesting or important to me when there were so many pressing tasks waiting at home, like finishing my weekly supply of library books from the Bookmobile that used to stop every week at the end of our lane. I used to check out about six books at a time.

I learned an enormous amount from my free reading. If every child got in the habit of always having at least one book at all times, it would boost the average student's performance easily and inexpensively.

That's if we still have public libraries available to everyone. That is now questionable in some states because some believe that libraries are a waste of taxpayer money. This is extremely short-sighted.

I would even read while I was riding my pony. It was just peaceful wandering around my farm. (Not when I was training.) I enjoyed just being free in the outdoors and exposed to our fresh air, smelling the fragrance of things growing, or the wonderful scent of a field newly mown hay.

Before we took a hay mower in a particular field, I liked to ride through it and alarm the nesting meadowlarks and bobwhites, and the hiding tiny bunnies. I wanted them to know it was time to rise and move out of there so they wouldn't get hit by the mower.

Have you ever seen a nest full of baby meadowlarks running behind their mother? There are few things so adorable in all the world as that sight. And they deserve a little foresight to help them survive from the onslaught of big dangerous human machines.

We could cut a field of hay by much more tender methods, requiring more persons or animal power. But it would lessen the amount of oil we would have to use. I saw my grandfather Pappy Orval Glotfelty cut a large grass field with a sickle in a fairly short time. It made him very strong and healthy, and he enjoyed an active, long life for 92 years.

I just got the most exciting phone call! It was from Caitlin, who is back in the USA. She called from the Chicago airport. She will be back in Morgantown tonight. Mere is planning to run over to see her in the middle of the night. But she needs to work a full week next week, then she can take a week off. She will go back and forth for the rest of summer. But at least I can talk to her and see her now and again.

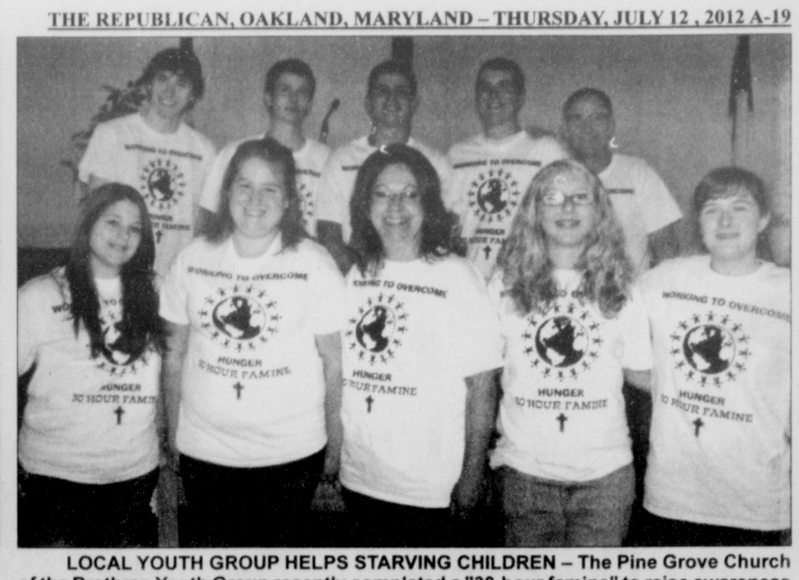
She sounded very happy and excited from her big adventure in Vietnam. She has more courage than I did. I never went to Asia. That is half a world away.

Well, I will remember the summer of 2012 as the most extreme swing in our temperatures. Yesterday, it was cool enough that I was thinking about heating oil, and then I woke up on Wednesday morning at 6 a.m. because it was so essential to open my front door and let cool air in ASAP. Now it feels kind of normal. Like Goldilocks' porridge – not too hot, not too cold, but just right.

But the forecasters predict that it will be very hot again soon. They say the eastern seaboard might get to 100 degrees soon. That is way too hot.

The Bittinger Volunteer Fire Department will have its chicken barbecue this Saturday, beginning at 3 p.m. and as long as supplies last.

PAS HOLDS YEAR-END CELEBRATIONS – Throughout the school year, the Partners After School (PAS) programs in Garrett County provided enrolled students with homework help, enrichment activities, and recreation time. To celebrate the end of the school year, events were held that provided children with inflatable amusements, fishing, canoeing, and team building on a ropes course. "There was a lot of laughing and yelling as the kids went through the obstacle course, slid down the slide, jumped in the bouncy house, and ended up stuck to the Velcro wall," said Sam Moon, director of PAS @ Oakland. "Things were a little more laid back down at the lake, where they paddled across the water in canoes and tried to outsmart the fish." Many families joined the celebration as it culminated in a cookout and door prize drawing. PAS is currently working to secure funding for summer programs. Students enrolled in the school year program will be notified if a summer program is made available. Persons may call the Garrett County Health Department at 301-334-7730 or 301-895-3111 for more information. Partners After School programs are provided by the Garrett County Local Management Board (LMB), Garrett County Commissioners, Governor's Office for Children and Families, and United Way of Garrett County. Programs are administered by the health department and Garrett County Community Action Committee. Pictured above at one of the PAS parties is Michael Clapper as he tries to help James Michaels, coordinator of PAS @ Oakland, down from the Velcro wall.



LOCAL YOUTH GROUP HELPS STARVING CHILDREN – The Pine Grove Church of the Brethren Youth Group recently completed a "30-hour famine" to raise awareness about and funds for hungry children through World Vision, a Christian humanitarian organization. Inspired by another church's famine relief project, Jessica Cooper suggested that her group hold its own World Vision fundraiser. She and other Pine Grove youth collected donations from sponsors and then held a 30-hour "lock-in" at the church, subsisting only on juice and water. They were not idle during this time period, however. The members completed a community work project, staining the playground equipment at the church. "As as group we give special thanks first to God, our church family, our own families, friends, neighbors, and to Browning's Foodland, which provided the platform to reach out to our community as well," said youth leader Loretta Stoner. "Together we were able to raise $4,542.49. This total will feed 151 children for one month, or 13 children for one year. That is what joining together can do." For more information and/or to make a donation, persons may visit worldvision.org. Left to right in the front are Jenna Bassford, Rachel Friend, Loretta Stoner, Karrington Paugh, and Jessica. In the back are Jenner Wilt, Cody Friend, Jason Friend, Ryan Cooper, and Charlie Stoner (youth leader). Not pictured are Evan Paugh, Taylor Dick, Logan Miller, Kylie Smith, and Tonya Sanders.

READY FOR SOME FRESH AIR – It's Fresh Air time again in the area, and families were on hand to welcome the bus from New York City upon its arrival in Frostburg Tuesday afternoon. Children will spend the next two weeks with their host families enjoying activities that are often impossible in the city, all the while building lasting friendships. Pictured above is the Garrett County group of Fresh Air Fund children with representatives from the host families. In the front row, from left, are Symphony Sanders, Lizzie Yoder, Serenity Huertas, Julianne Kauffman, Joanna Kauffman holding Jalissa Kauffman, Jenell Kauffman, and Anazsa Blanding. In the back are Lena Fratz, Nathan Yoder, Wilma Yoder, Leonardo Colon, Emily Yoder, Carol Orendorf, Denae Orendorf, Nyasia Mouzon, and Jenette Kauffman. For more information about the program or hosting children, persons may contact local coordinator Alice Orendorf at 301-245-4326 or the Fresh Air Fund at 800-367-0003.

A BIRTHDAY BALLOON was waiting for Symphony Sanders when she stepped off the Fresh Air bus in Frostburg on Tuesday. Her host, Lena Fratz of Accident, greeted her with the balloon since she arrived a few days after her birthday. Lena and her husband Jim hosted Fresh Air children a number of years ago, and decided to do it again now that they are grandparents.

Wine Appreciation Course Scheduled By Garrett College

Wine appreciation classes have been scheduled by the Garrett College Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division. The first session is slated for Tuesdays, Aug. 7–21, from 6 to 8 p.m. The second session will be held on Fridays, Sept. 14 –28, also from 6 to 8 p.m.

Instructed by Maryellen Miller, the classes will be held at Fireside Deli & Wine Shop, located along Glendale Road in the Deep Creek Lake area.

This three-session workshop will offer information on different types of wine, how it is produced, basic wine terminology, and information to help pair wines and foods to create a well-blended dining experience.

Each session will be specifically geared to the interests and tastes of the participants enrolled, whether they are new to wines or have experienced palates, and will include comprehensive tastings. All participants must be 21 years or older and identification will be checked. Participants are asked to not wear perfume or cologne.

The cost of the classes includes wine for tasting. Persons unable to attend all three sessions may be allowed to "drop in" one evening for a reduced rate if space permits.

Reservations for the wine appreciation classes must be made in advance by calling 301-387-3069.

Annual TriState Festival, Auction, Cruise-In Set July 20-21 In McHenry

The annual TriState Festival, Auction, & Cruise-In will be held at the Garrett County Fairgrounds on Saturday and Sunday, July 20 and 21. According to organizers, local volunteers of Mennonite and Brethren churches have been working year-round to create items for the auctions and craft tables.

Ray Miller of Pleasant Valley Dream Rides, located south of Oakland, volunteers his time each year to provide horse-drawn pleasure rides both days.

"I participate in the TriState Festival because I know where the funds go – to help people in disaster in the United States and around the world, and I want to help when I can," said Miller.

He will also offer an opportunity to place a bid on Saturday's auction to spend a day on his Amish farm with friends or family and enjoy a horse-drawn wagon ride and picnic.

Beginning Friday evening, July 20, a large silent auction will be held, featuring handcrafted wood and craft items, artwork, chain saws, gift certificates for local entertainment, and B&B stays.

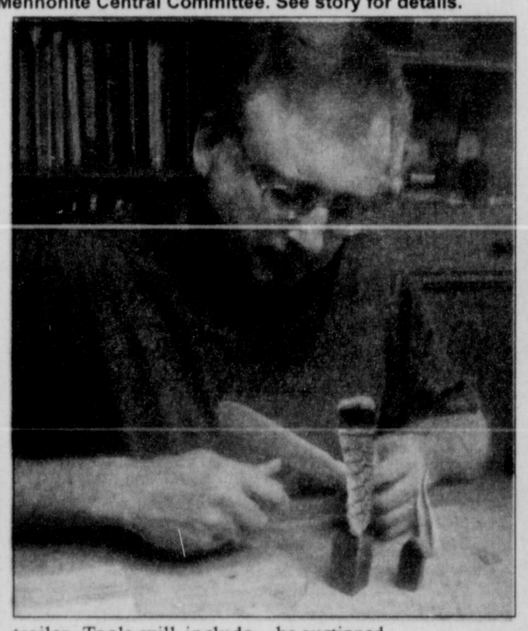
A market place will offer fair-trade handicrafts from around the world at the Ten Thousand Villages table, as well as baked goods, plants, woven rugs, crib quilts, homemade jellies, and both new and used books.

Saturday, July 21, will begin with a pancake and sausage breakfast and a performance by Second Wind. Various other food items will be available for purchase, including barbecued chicken, fresh-made doughnuts, and strawberry shortcake.

A classic auto cruise-in, sponsored by a local car club, will be held on the grounds. All antique and/or classic vehicle owners are invited to participate. The first 50 entries will receive a free dash plaque.

The benefit auction, featuring all new items, will begin at 10 a.m. in the exhibit hall, offering over 100 quilts and wall hangings handmade by local Mennonites. There will be handcrafted furniture, including children's furniture, bentwood rockers, a hand-hewn oak dinette set, corner cupboards, a set of four oak chairs, and lawn furniture. Also available will be John Deere collectibles, a JD girl's bike and tricycle, and a JD motorized farm tractor with trailer. Tools will include Husqvarna chain saws, a leaf blower, an air compressor, a Skilsaw, and a handcrafted three-foot-high wooden backhoe for children. A 6 x 8-foot Cape Cod shed made by Mennonites in Ohio will also be auctioned.

A CAPE COD PLAYHOUSE will be but one of scores of items that will be auctioned off at the annual TriState Festival, Auction, and Cruise-In, scheduled for July 21 and 22 at the Garrett County fairgrounds in McHenry. In the photo above is Doug Berg of Springs, Pa., with his granddaughter Lucy Page, who checks out the interior of the house. Another item that will be auctioned is a wooden feather carved by international carving champion Gary Yoder of Grantsville, pictured below. All proceeds from the weekend will benefit victims of hunger, famine, and war, both worldwide and in the United States, through the Mennonite Central Committee. See story for details.



Artwork, including hand-thrown Lais pottery and two wood-carved feathers by five-time International Waterfowl champion carver Gary Yoder, both artists in residence at Spruce Forest Artisan Village, Grantsville, will also be available for purchase, as will Lynford Yoder art and Lenox pieces.

Other items will be vacation opportunities from Washington, D.C., Laurel Highlands, Canaan Valley, Hidden Valley, and Amish country.

Train excursion tickets for the Potomac Eagle and Mountain Thunder runs will be available. Local naturalist and Garrett College professor Kevin Dodge will offer a guided nature walk in Garrett County, or the purchaser will have the option to visit the Husky Power sled-dog kennel in Accident.

There will also be activities for children on Saturday, including an auction just for them at 11 a.m., hands-on fun creating comforters, scavenger hunts, and barrel train rides. Pennies and small coins will be accepted for this year's Penny Power project to support Mennonite Central Committee's meat canning project, which feeds persons in need.

All proceeds from the weekend will benefit victims of hunger, famine, and war, both worldwide and in the United States, through the Mennonite Central Committee (MCC), the relief and development arm of Mennonite and Brethren churches, based in Akron, Pa. (www.mcc.org). The American Institute of Philanthropy's Charity Watch gives MCC an "A" rating.

For more information or to obtain a schedule of the Saturday auction, persons may call 814-442-4594 or go online to www.tristatesale.org for a preview of sale items, which will be continually updated.

MWA Western Md. Chapter To Co-Sponsor Event

Modern Woodmen of America's Western Maryland Chapter 9970 has offered to co-sponsor this year's timber-cutting event at the Garrett County Agriculture Fair set for Saturday, Aug. 4, at 1 p.m. Art Beckman's Variety Store has fully sponsored it in the past.

The Woodmen will also award additional prizes to the top three contestants in each of the three events: chain saw, cross cut saw, and wood splitting. The event ties into Modern Woodmen of America's history, as it was founded as a fraternal benefit society in 1883 to clear away the "financial forests" for its members. In the early 1900s, MWA members had AXE drill teams that marched in many major parades in the Midwest. MWA Maryland representative Rick Bibbee thought this would be a way to pay homage to that past history.

Coordinated by local MWA members, chapters provide opportunities to take part in social activities and community service projects to meet local needs. For more information, persons may contact J.R. Glotfelty at 301-387-5408, activities coordinator Lynn Bibbee at 301-790-7799, or Richard Bibbee at Richard.L.Bibbee@mwarep.org.

A toddler sees the world with her mom as she carries her in her arms. What a wonderful perspective to view and learn from —so safe and secure. God wants to show us the world as He knows it… to point the way to a joyous life and a strong and peaceful spirit. Take your place in His loving arms. Come to know Him at your house of worship. Let the Father show you His world from an elevated perspective.

MODESTY IN AN IMMODEST WORLD

"On the contrary, those parts of the body that seem to be weaker are indispensable, and the parts that we think are less honorable we treat with special honor. And the parts that are unpresentable are treated with special modesty, while our presentable parts need no special treatment."
1 Corinthians 12:22-24

We live in a world that is immodest in so many ways. Some athletes and performers boast immodestly of their skill and prowess in ways which would make the humbler athletes and performers of bygone eras blush. But, we are also immodest in a more literal and physical way, that is, by how much of our bodies we put on display. A hundred years ago, ladies and gentlemen considered it unseemly if they were not covered almost literally from the neck down. Now it seems that necklines and waistlines have plunged to the point where very little is left to the imagination. We seem to have no shame about displaying body parts that just a generation ago would have been mortifying. We should consider what it means to live and dress modestly in an immodest world. In the midst of others flaunting their bodies and screaming from the rooftops how great they are, a modest person will truly stand out as a moral exemplar.

Kathy Bisko Is New Director Of Savage River Assn.

The new executive director of the Savage River Watershed Association (SRWA), Kathy Bisko, will be introduced at the July 19 bimonthly SRWA meeting, which will be held in the classroom of the Appalachian Laboratory in Frostburg, beginning at 7 p.m. The public is welcome to attend.

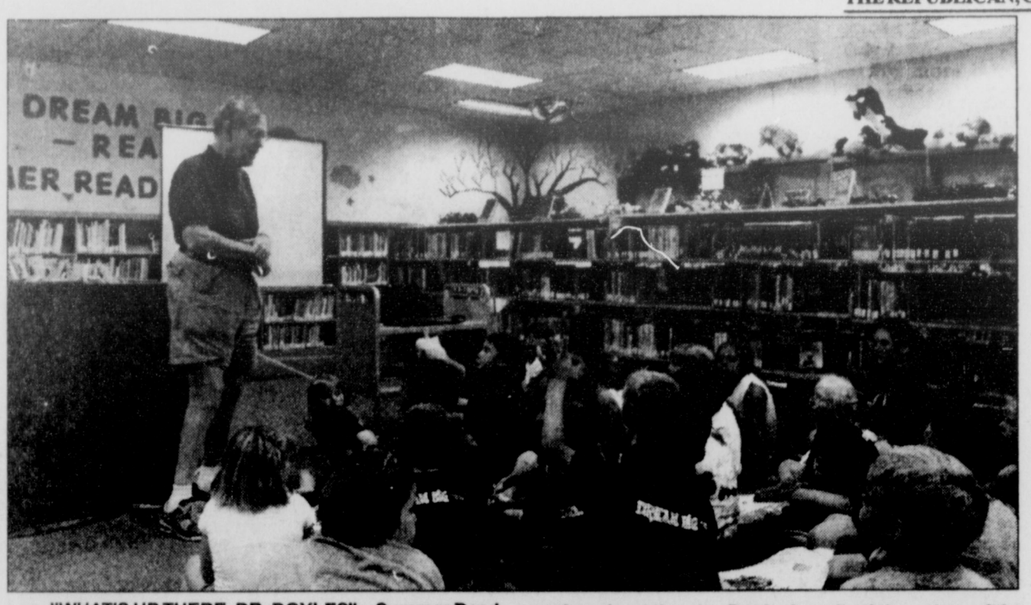
Over the past 15-plus years, Bisko has worked with a diverse group of communities, organizations, and businesses to help implement local programs and projects. These range from a green-building initiative in rural Montana to the construction of a residential subdivision on a reclaimed brownfield site in suburban Philadelphia. Most recently she has been working as program director for a non-profit organization in Somerset County, Pa., to implement community improvement projects based on local priorities and long-term goals.

In her new position with SRWA, Bisko says she looks forward to dedicating her skills and experience to help preserve and enhance this natural area.

"Although there are sure to be many challenges along the way, the organization has an impressive record of accomplishments to build on – and I am excited about the potential to do even more good work on behalf of SRWA in the future," she said.

The SRWA is a group of local landowners and other citizens dedicated to preserving and enhancing the rural nature and natural resources of the Savage River watershed. Members assist interested landowners and public land managers with environmental stewardship efforts and educational outreach. Anyone who is concerned about the Savage River watershed is invited to join.

For more information, persons may contact SRWA through e-mail at SRWA-director@gmail.com or by telephone at 301-689-7156. The SRWA is a non-profit charitable organization. Donations may be sent to: Savage River Watershed Association, PO Box 355, Frostburg, MD 21532.



"WHAT'S UP THERE, DR. DOYLE?" – Summer Reading Club began at the Accident library last Tuesday and the Oakland library last Thursday with Dr. Robert Doyle (pictured at left), planetarium director at Frostburg State University, talking to the children about the night sky. "We're going to talk about some big things," he said as he began his presentation titled "What's Up There?" He discussed the sun and its eight planets, the moon and the stars, comets and asteroids, and what makes the colors in a rainbow. "What makes a planet a planet?" he asked the children, the answer being, it must revolve around the sun. "What is the moon made of, and what's beyond the moon?" he continued. Rock and asteroids were the answers to those questions. He pointed out that the moon is 2,000 miles across. In the course of his discussion about the sky, Doyle described the colors of the rainbow, pointing out that red, orange, and yellow have the longer wavelengths, while green, blue, and violet have the shorter ones. In addition to Doyle's presentation, the program included activities at both libraries. Children at Accident made shooting stars to hang on lanyards, decorated Frisbees, and crafted constellation cootie-catchers. A total of 40 children attended Accident's program. Activities in Oakland included a planets mnemonic (making up a sentence to remember the planets in order), night sky collages, a rocket launch, and a balloon rocket. A total of 51 children attended Oakland's program. Summer Reading Club continues through July. Details are available on the Ruth Enlow web site at relib.net, or by calling any library branch or Keela at 301-334-3996, ext. 115.

Local Teacher Attends Program At Mount Vernon

Historic Mount Vernon welcomed Melanie Collins, a teacher at Southern High School in Oakland, to participate in a free, weeklong program in July to further learn about the life and times of George Washington.

The George Washington Teachers' Institute provides an intensive study of George Washington and his world through discussions led by noted Washington scholars and hands-on workshops. Collins resided on George Washington's estate within view of his mansion and had the opportunity to meet with Mount Vernon's historians, curators, and educators.

"The Institute not only taught me more about George Washington, but it also showed me how to incorporate math, history, and biology into my English class," said Collins. "I can't wait to share all of the wonderful information that I learned at Mount Vernon with my students."

During their stay on the estate, the Institute participants met with Stuart McLaurin, vice president of the new Fred W. Smith National Library for the Study of George Washington, to learn more about Mount Vernon's latest project. The 45,000-square-foot library, scheduled to open in the fall of 2013, will serve as a scholarly retreat, create educational outreach programs on Washington, and provide seminars and training programs with a special focus on Washington's leadership.

The Donald W. Reynolds Museum and Education Center, which opened in 2006, contains galleries that tell Washington's life story, using hands-on and interactive exhibits, original movies, and artifacts. Upon completing the program, teachers prepared lesson plans on George Washington and will conduct seminars for their colleagues in their home districts to share the information they gained at the institute.

The Phoebe Apperson Hearst Learning Center, a section of the education center, served as a resource for teachers to learn how to incorporate George Washington and history into their lesson plans in a variety of subjects. It is a virtual library devoted to the life and times of the nation's first president.

This program is fully funded by private donations.

GC Offering Class On Microsoft Office At Oakland Center

Class sessions on Microsoft Office 2010 will be offered by the Garrett College Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division (CEWD) at the Southern Outreach Center, Oakland, Monday through Friday, July 23–27, from 9 to 11 a.m.

Information will be presented on the basic skills needed to work in programs that include Word, Excel, Outlook, and PowerPoint.

Maria Zumpano-Lipscomb, a computer applications teacher for the Garrett County Board of Education, will instruct these classes.

For more information or to register, persons may call CEWD at 301-387-3069.

Bittner Named Certified Water Tech At Servpro

The Institute of Inspection, Cleaning, and Restoration Certification (IICRC) has announced that Nevin R. (Bob) Bittner of Servpro of Allegany and Garrett counties in Grantsville recently qualified by education and examination as a certified water restoration technician. According to a spokesperson, many hours of study are required to reach this level of certification.

Tom Hill, IICRC executive administrator, noted that Bittner is an example of the type of individual who cares about consumers and their belongings as well as his industry.

"He has demonstrated the desire to provide customers with thorough, professional and caring service," Hill said.

The IICRC is a nonprofit certifying and standard-setting organization dedicated to raising industry standards through technical proficiency. By administering a strict process of certification, the IICRC provides a means by which consumers can receive the highest quality of service from trained, knowledgeable, professional technicians.

"Bob joins the ranks of the true professionals within the cleaning, restoration, and inspection industry," the spokesperson said. "The IICRC welcomes his participation and continuing education."

Driver Ed Classes Available Through Garrett College

Garrett College, in collaboration with Widmyer Driving School LLC, will be offering Maryland driver education, July 23 to Aug. 3 (Monday through Friday) from 9 a.m. to 12:15 p.m., and Nov. 26 through Dec. 7 (Monday through Friday) from 5:30 to 8:45 p.m.

Widmyer is licensed by the Maryland Vehicle Administration (MVA) and has driving schools throughout the state of Maryland.

The driver education course fulfills the requirement for all new drivers in Maryland. This class consists of 30 hours of classroom instruction and six hours behind the wheel.

Widmyer additionally offers a driver improvement course for individuals who have been referred by the MVA to attend improvement classes. This course is specifically for drivers with a suspended or revoked license, drivers who have had a moving violation while on a provisional license, drivers referred by the court, or drivers who want to voluntarily take it before a traffic court date. This course can be taken online or at Garrett College (drivers younger than 18 must take this course at Garrett College).

For additional information, persons may call Widmyer Driving School, 301-791-7676, or visit widmyer.com.

Persons may also contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

Strange BUT TRUE

•It was beloved cowboy humorist Will Rogers who made the following sage observation: "Nobody wants to be called common people, especially common people."

• Do you think you could eat 80 pounds of chicken? If you're like the average American, that's how much you will consume this year.

• You've probably heard or even used the term "fly off the handle" to describe someone losing their temper. You probably don't realize, though, that the handle referred to was originally an axe handle. Sometimes the blade of such a tool would be improperly fastened to the handle, and would therefore be sent flying when the axe was being used.

•The composer who wrote the famous song "Que Sera, Sera" also wrote the theme song to the 1960s TV show "Mr. Ed."

• Those who study such things say that England's Elizabeth I owned 3,000 dresses.

• If you make a trip to Venice to see the famous canals, keep an eye out for any gondola not painted black. If you see one, you can be sure that it belongs to a high official in the government; they are the only ones permitted by law to have gondolas in any other color.

• The world's single largest consumer of fossil fuels is the United States military. • You might be surprised to learn that, according to the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, half of all American children suffer at least one dog bite before the age of 12. The ASPCA also says that most of those bites aren't from strange animals; rather, it's the family pet or a friend or neighbor's dog that does the biting.

Moments in time
THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On July 22, 1598, William Shakespeare's play "The Merchant of Venice" is entered on the Stationers' Register. By decree of Queen Elizabeth, the Stationers' Register licensed printed works, giving the Crown tight control over all published material.

• On July 19, 1799, during Napoleon Bonaparte's Egyptian campaign, a French soldier discovers a black basalt slab inscribed with ancient writing near the town of Rosetta, about 35 miles north of Alexandria. Called the Rosetta Stone, the artifact held the key to solving the riddle of hieroglyphics, a written language that had been "dead" for nearly 2,000 years.

• On July 18, 1925, Volume One of Adolf Hitler's philosophical autobiography, "Mein Kampf," is published. It was a blueprint of his agenda for a Third Reich and a clear exposition of the nightmare that will envelope Europe from 1939 to 1945.

• On July 16, 1935, the world's first parking meter, known as Park-O-Meter No. 1, is installed on the southeast corner of what was then First Street and Robinson Avenue in Oklahoma City, Okla. Parking cost a nickel an hour. By the early 1940s, there were more than 140,000 parking meters operating in the United States.

• On July 17, 1955, Disneyland -- Walt Disney's metropolis of nostalgia, fantasy and futurism -- opens. The $17 million theme park was built on 160 acres of former orange groves in Anaheim, Calif. Today, Disneyland hosts more than 14 million visitors a year, who spend close to $3 billion.

• On July 20, 1969, at 10:56 p.m. EDT, American astronaut Neil Armstrong, 240,000 miles from Earth, speaks these words to more than a billion people listening at home: "That's one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind." Stepping off the lunar landing module Eagle, Armstrong became the first human to walk on the surface of the moon.

Q: I have a Big Little Book, "Lone Ranger and the Black Shirt Highwayman." The only publishing date I can find is 1939. -- Steve, Southbury, Conn.

A: The first Big Little Book was issued during the Christmas season of 1932 and was titled "The Adventures of Dick Tracy." The nifty little books originally sold for a dime and were an immediate hit. I think your Lone Ranger book is worth about $25, but to find out for certain, I suggest you contact Larry Lowery, the Big Little Book Club, P.O. Box 1242, Danville, CA 94526; or larry@biglittlebooks.com. Also, check out the club's dandy website at www.biglittlebooks.com.

Q: I have inherited a box of salt and pepper shakers and am not certain if I have anything worth keeping. I need your advice. -- Ken, Laramie, Wyo.

A: Most salt and pepper shakers that I've seen in shops and at antique malls are priced in the $5 to $10 range, but as with most collectibles, there are always exceptions. S&Ps that were made during World War II and have a patriotic design, or ones that reflect Black Americana themes are always desirable, for example. One of the better guides is the Antique Trader Salt & Pepper Shaker Price Guide by Mark F. Moran (Krause, $19.99). You also might check out antique shops for S&Ps in your area to determine what the market is like in Wyoming.

Q: I have a teapot in the Blue Willow pattern marked North Staffordshire Pottery Co., Ltd. It is a four-cup pot and in almost perfect condition. Any idea of how much it is worth? -- Susan, Newark, N.Y.

Birding BITS
BY Cindy Brook

Getting Started

If you're new to backyard birding and want to attract colorful songbirds to your yard, fill a tube feeder with black oil sunflower seed. Birds love this seed, and the shell is soft enough for little songbirds to crack. Look for cardinals, wrens, titmice, chickadees, finches and many more.

REL Arranging Charter Bus To National Festival

The Ruth Enlow Library invites local residents to take a bus trip with Schrock Tour & Charter to the 12th annual National Book Festival in Washington, D.C., on Saturday, September 22.

The chartered bus will depart the Oakland town parking lot at 6:30 a.m. the morning of September 22 and stop for pick-up at Delano's Furniture Store (former IGA) in Accident at 7 a.m. The bus will leave Washington, D.C., that same day at 5:30 p.m. to return to Garrett County. It will stop at the Sideling Hill rest area en route to the festival, and at the Golden Corral in Frederick for dinner on the return trip. Restrooms, TV, and VCR are available on the bus. Glass containers are not permitted on the bus.

The Book Festival is organized and sponsored by the Library of Congress and is free and open to the public. It will be held on the National Mall in Washington between 9th and 14th streets from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 22, and from 1 to 5:30 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 23. The festival features award-winning authors, poets, and illustrators in several pavilions. More details about the festival are available on the web site at www.loc.gov/bookfest.

"The chartered bus trip affords the public the opportunity of traveling to D.C. without the hassle of driving and parking, and enjoying not only the festival, but other attractions as well, such as the Smithsonian, the Lincoln Memorial, and the Washington Monument," stated library spokesperson Bonnie Winters. "Public transportation via the Metro is available at the Smithsonian station."

The cost of the trip is $50 person, or $30 with a student ID, payable in full at the time of registration. It is non-refundable. The registration deadline is Saturday, Sept. 8. To register, persons are asked to contact Georgie Dawson, administrative assistant at the Ruth Enlow Library, at 301-334-3996, ext. 106, and provide name, address, phone number, and number of reservations.

For information about services and programs at the Ruth Enlow Library, persons are invited to go online to www.relib.net.

TRUSTEE'S SALE
159 Chestnut Ridge Road
Grantsville, MD 21536

Under and by virtue of the powers of sale contained in a Revolving Credit Deed of Trust ("Deed of Trust") dated September 24, 2001, and recorded in Liber 858, Folio 462 of the Garrett County Land Records, the undersigned Trustee will offer for sale at public auction at the entrance of the Garrett County Circuit Courthouse, located at 313 Alder Street, Oakland, Maryland, on

FRIDAY, JULY 20, 2012, AT 1:00 P.M.

The property described as follows:

ALL that lot, piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in Election District No. 3 of Garrett County, Maryland, and known as 159 Chestnut Ridge Road, Grantsville, Garrett County, Maryland, and as more particularly described in the Deed of Trust. The property consists of approximately 0.58 acres +/- and is improved with a residence containing 3 bedrooms and 1 bath and detached 3 car carport.

TERMS OF SALE: The property and improvements will be sold in "as is" physical condition without warranty of any kind and subject to all conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same. The purchaser is responsible for, and the property and the improvements described above are sold subject to any environmental matter or condition, whether latent or observable, that may exist at or affect or relate to the property and the improvements and to any governmental requirements affecting the same. A cash or certified check deposit in the amount of $5,000.00 shall be paid by the purchaser (except for the party secured by the Deed of Trust) at the time and place of sale. The balance of the purchase price shall be paid in cash or by certified check at settlement (except that if the party secured by the Deed of Trust is the purchaser, a credit will be allowed for the indebtedness secured by the Deed of Trust) which shall be ten (10) business days after final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland unless said period is extended for good cause shown, time being of the essence. If payment of the balance due does not take place within ten (10) business days of ratification, the deposit will be forfeited and the property will be resold at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser or in any manner designated by the Trustee. Interest at the rate of 8.75% per annum shall be paid on the unpaid purchase money from the date of sale to the date the funds are received in the office of the Trustee. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, and the property and improvements are purchased by someone other than the party secured by the Deed of Trust, then there shall be no abatement of interest caused by the delay. Taxes and water to be adjusted to date of sale. All other public and private charges and assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges to be adjusted for the current year to date of sale and assumed thereafter by purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes, document preparation and title insurance shall be paid by purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property. If Trustee is unable to convey good and marketable title, purchaser's sole remedy in law or equity shall be limited to the refund of that purchaser's deposit to the purchaser. Upon refund of the deposit, the sale shall be void and of no effect, and purchaser shall have no further claim against the Trustee or the party secured by the Deed of Trust. This sale is subject to post-sale audit of the status of the loan secured by the Deed of Trust, including, but not limited to, determining whether prior to sale a forbearance, repayment or other agreement was entered into or the loan was reinstated or paid off; in any such event this sale shall be null and void and purchaser's sole remedy shall be return of deposit without interest.

NOTE: The information contained herein was obtained from sources deemed to be reliable, but is offered for information purposes only. Prospective purchasers are urged to make their own inspection and inquiries of the property and improvements and relevant matters relating thereto, including, but not limited to, any information set forth above relating to access to Deep Creek Lake and dock privileges.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEE'S SALE OF UNIMPROVED REAL ESTATE

17.95 acres, more or less, unimproved real estate along Route 219, McHenry, Maryland. By virtue of the power of sale contained in a Deed of Trust dated October 29, 2007 and recorded in Liber No. 1338, folio 0334, among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under its terms and I, Craig Ingram, Substitute Trustee, hereby give notice that I will, on at the Alder Street entrance of the Garrett County Court House, Oakland, Maryland, offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder the following property: 17.95 acres, more or less, unimproved real estate along Route 219, McHenry, Maryland. Being the same property as was conveyed by deed dated December 31, 2008 and recorded in Liber No. 1408, folio 0181, among said Land Records.

Friday, July 20, 2012, at the hour of 2:15 p.m.

Terms of Sale: Deposit of NINE THOUSAND THREE HUNDRED DOLLARS ($9,300.00) will be required of Purchaser at the time and place of sale, such deposit to be cash, certified check or such other form as the Substitute Trustee may determine acceptable in his sole discretion. Balance to be payable by same method within fifteen (15) days after final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court, with interest on said balance from the date of sale to the date of actual receipt of funds by the Substitute Trustee at 7% per annum. There shall be no abatement of interest for any reason. Deposit not required if mortgagee is purchaser. Substitute Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to extend the time of settlement at his discretion. Property is sold in AAS IS@ condition. The Substitute Trustee makes no representations and/or warranty whatsoever regarding the title or any other matter with respect to the property, either express or implied, including but not limited to: the nature, condition, quality and quantity of the land, suitability of use and/or purpose, description of the property and/or improvements. The Property will be sold subject to all natural gas rights, easements, conditions, liens, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, encumbrances and agreements of record affecting the same, and such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection of the Property might disclose. The Property will be sold subject to all existing building, zoning, wetland, and environmental problems and or violations which may exist on or with respect to the Property, if any. Purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss with respect to the Property as of the time of sale. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining possession of the property. Taxes, public charges and assessments will be adjusted to the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the Purchaser. All costs of conveyance and settlement, including incidental settlement costs, including transfer taxes and recordation taxes, shall be paid by Purchaser. Time is of the essence as to Purchaser. In the event the Purchaser fails to settle as required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available, Substitute Trustee may declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and expense of Purchaser. In such event, Purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney fees, and all other charges due. In the event that Substitute Trustee is unable to convey marketable title, or, in the event the Mortgagor entered into a repayment plan, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to sale, or if for any other reason, Substitute Trustee did not have the right to sell the property, the sale is null and void and Purchaser is not entitled to any legal or equitable remedy, other than the return of the deposit, without interest and any and all other claims of the Purchaser are hereby released. Other terms and conditions may be announced at the sale. The information contained herein is offered for informational purposes only. It is Purchaser's obligation to obtain an independent investigation of the Property. The Note Holder and Substitute Trustee do not make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of this information and Purchaser holds them harmless from same.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE OF VALUABLE FEE SIMPLE DWELLING
5935 Sang Run Road, McHenry, MD 21541

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Robin Elizabeth Welsh, dated May 11, 2007, and recorded in Liber 1317, folio 39, among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under the terms thereof, and at the request of the parties secured thereby, the undersigned Substitute Trustees will offer for sale at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Courthouse Door, Oakland, MD, on Monday, July 30, 2012, at 3:20 p.m.

All that lot of ground and the improvements thereon SITUATED IN Garrett County, Maryland and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust.

The property is believed to be improved by a Log Home dwelling believed to contain five bedrooms and four baths. The property address is 5935 Sang Run Road, McHenry, MD 21541.

Said property is in fee simple and is sold in an "as is condition" and subject to all covenants, conditions, liens, restrictions, easements, rights-of-way as may affect same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

THIS PROPERTY IS BEING sold subject to the legal operation and effect of a prior Deed of Trust, the balance of which will be announced at the time of sale.

Purchasers acknowledge the IRS has a right of redemption pursuant to a Federal Tax Lien. Purchasers agree that they are purchasing the property subject to the IRS's right of redemption and that the existence of such right shall not delay settlement.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $30,000.00 will be required of the purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns, at the time of sale, such deposit to be in cash, cashier's check, certified check, or in other form acceptable to the Substitute Trustees. Balance of the purchase price is to be paid in cash within ten (10) days of the final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. If payment of the balance does not take place within ten days of ratification, the deposit will be forfeited and property will be resold at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. Interest to be paid on unpaid purchase money at the rate pursuant to the deed of trust note from date of sale to date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustees in the event the property is purchased by someone rather than the note holder.

In the event settlement is delayed for any reason , including, but not limited to, exceptions to the sale, bankruptcy filings by interested parties, or court administration of the foreclosure, there shall be no abatement of interest. Taxes, ground rent, water, condominium fees and/or homeowner association dues, all public charges, assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges and front foot benefit charges, if applicable, to be adjusted for the current year to date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale forward. If the Substitute Trustees are unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law or equity shall be limited to the refund of the deposit. Upon refund of the deposit, this sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claims against the Substitute Trustees.

Being part of the land conveyed by Raymond W. Klotz to Donald J. Adams and Pamela J. Adams, husband and wife, by deed dated May 25, 2002, and recorded June 5, 2002, among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, in Liber No. 899, folio 155.

TERMS OF SALE: The Trustees reserve the right to offer and sell the Property as an entirety, in individual lots, or in alternate grouping of lots. A deposit in the amount of $50,000.00 shall be required at the time and place of sale in order to bid on the entirety. A deposit in the amount of $10,000.00 shall be required at the time and place of sale in order to bid on each lot offered individually, and for each lot if offered in a grouping. All deposits must be made payable in cash, certified check or other form acceptable to the Trustees and will be required at the time and place of sale. The Properties will be sold in the manner which the Trustees, in their sole discretion, determine will yield the higher return for the Holder. The balance of the purchase price shall be due in cash or by certified check with interest on the unpaid balance of the purchase price at the rate of eight percent (8%) per annum from the date of sale to and including the date of settlement. In the event the Holder, an affiliate thereof, or an assignee of either, is the successful bidder at the sale, such party will not be required to make a deposit or to pay interest on the unpaid purchase money. Taxes, water rent and all other municipal charges and liens owed against the Property shall be the responsibility of the purchaser and shall be paid by the purchaser at settlement. In addition, all other charges, expenses and liens owed against the Property, including, but not limited to, all condominium fees, homeowners association fees and expenses and public charges and assessments owed and payable on an annual basis, such as sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges, if any, shall also be the responsibility of the purchaser and shall be paid by the purchaser at settlement. In the event that taxes, water, sewer, water rent, ground rent, condominium fees, and/or homeowners association dues, or public charges or assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges, if applicable, have been prepaid, they shall be adjusted between the Trustees and the purchaser to the date of sale. The cost of all taxes, documentary stamps, recordation taxes, document preparation and transfer taxes is to be paid by the purchaser. The Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to extend the time for settlement, if applicable.

The Property will be sold in an "AS IS" condition and without any warranties or representations, either express or implied, as to the nature, condition or description of the improvements. The Property will also be sold subject to all existing housing, building and zoning code violations, subject to all critical area and wetland violations, subject to all environmental problems and violations which may exist on or with respect to the Property, and subject to all matters and restrictions of record affecting the same, if any. The purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss for the above-referenced Property immediately after the sale takes place. It shall be the purchaser's responsibility to obtain possession of the Property following ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

The Property shall be sold subject to all easements, conditions, liens, obligations of record, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, encumbrances, such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection might disclose, and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and not otherwise extinguished by operation of law.

The purchaser shall pay all state and local transfer taxes, recordation taxes and fees, title examination costs, attorneys' fees, conveyance fees and all other incidental settlement costs. The purchaser of the Property shall settle and comply with the sale terms within twenty (20) days following the final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, unless said period is extended by the Trustees for good cause shown. Time is of the essence. Settlement(s) shall be held at the offices of Rosenberg | Martin | Greenberg, LLP, 25 S. Charles Street, Suite 2115, Baltimore, Maryland 21201, or at such other location as the Trustees may agree.

In the event the purchaser fails to proceed to settlement when required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available to them, the Trustees may, without further order of the court, declare the aforementioned deposit forfeited and resell the Property at the purchaser's risk and expense. In such event, the defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorneys' fees, all other charges due, and incidental damages. In the event a resale of the Property results in a sale in excess of the amount originally bid by the defaulting purchaser, the defaulting purchaser waives any and all claims, rights and interest to any such excess amount and shall not be entitled to any distribution whatsoever from the resale proceeds. The parties' respective rights and obligations regarding the terms of sale and the conduct of the sale shall be governed by and interpreted according to the laws of the State of Maryland.

If the Trustees are unable to convey the Property as described above, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be limited to the refund of the aforementioned deposit, without interest thereon. Upon refund of the deposit to the purchaser, the sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claim against the Trustees or the Holder.

The information contained herein was obtained from sources deemed to be reliable, but is offered for informational purposes only. The Holder, the Trustees and the Auctioneer do not make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of this information.

The balance of the purchase price, together with interest thereon at the rate of ten percent (10%) per annum from the date of sale to the date of settlement, shall be due from the purchaser to the Substitute Trustee by bank cashier's check within twenty (20) days following the final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, unless such closing deadline is extended in writing by the Substitute Trustee. Time is of the essence. Settlement shall be held at the offices of Jackson Kelly, PLLC, 310 West Burke Street, Martinsburg, WV 25402, or such other place as may be agreed to by the Substitute Trustee. In the event that the beneficiary under the Deed of Trust, or an affiliate or subsidiary thereof, is the successful bidder at the sale, such party will not be required to make any deposit required hereunder or to pay interest on the unpaid purchase money. The Substitute Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids at the sale, and to extend the time for settlement, at his discretion.

The Property is being sold in an "AS IS" condition and without any warranties or representations, either express or implied, as to the nature, condition, value, use or description of the Property or any improvements thereon. The Property will also be sold subject to: (i) all senior liens and encumbrances that are not extinguished by operation of law by the foreclosure sale of the Property; (ii) all easements, equitable servitudes, conditions, rights of way, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, restrictive covenants, declarations, documents establishing homeowners' association(s) and any other agreements, matters or restrictions of record affecting the Property; (iii) all existing zoning code violations, encroachments, and critical area and wetland violations; (iv) all environmental problems, conditions or hazards which may exist on or with respect to the Property; and (v) such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection of the Property might disclose.

All real estate taxes, assessments, water charges, county or municipal charges, homeowners' association charges and senior liens that are owed against the Property and that are not extinguished by the foreclosure sale of the Property, and the cost of all recordation fees and taxes, document preparation costs, transfer taxes, title examination costs, attorneys' fees and other costs associated with conveying the Property to the purchaser, shall be the sole responsibility of the purchaser and shall be paid for by the purchaser at settlement. The purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss for the Property immediately after the sale takes place. It shall be the purchaser's responsibility to obtain possession of the Property after the closing.

In the event that the purchaser fails to go to settlement as required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available to the Substitute Trustee, the Substitute Trustee may declare the aforementioned deposit forfeited and resell the Property at the purchaser's sole risk and expense. In such event, the defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price sustained by the Substitute Trustee and/or the Noteholder, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorneys' fees, and any other damages sustained by the Substitute Trustee and/or the Noteholder, including, without limitation, all incidental damages. If the Substitute Trustee is unable to convey the Property as described above, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be limited to a refund of the aforementioned deposit, without interest thereon. Upon refund of the deposit to the purchaser as aforesaid, the sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claim against the Substitute Trustee, the Noteholder or the auctioneer conducting the sale of the Property, if any. The parties' respective rights and obligations regarding the terms and conduct of the sale shall be governed by the laws of the State of Maryland.

The information contained herein was obtained from sources deemed to be reliable, but is offered for informational purposes only. The auctioneer, if any, the Noteholder and the Substitute Trustee do not make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of this information.

Too much of a 'Bad' thing: Drugs and drama abound in the final season of AMC hit

By Kyla Brewer
TV Media

Bryan Cranston is so bad, he's good. He's great, in fact -- so great, the actor has earned three Emmy wins for his role as Walter White in AMC's "Breaking Bad," a role he's set to reprise in the premiere of the series' fifth and final season, airing Sunday, July 15.

In an unconventional move, AMC will present the final season of "Breaking Bad," which follows former chemistry teacher White as he sinks deeper and deeper into the seedy drug underworld, over the course of two summers. Consisting of 16 episodes in total, Season 5 begins this summer with eight of those episodes, but the series conclusion isn't set to hit TV screens until Summer 2013. While it may be unorthodox, the strategy will likely bode well for the cable channel, as it will keep viewers on the hook longer. The show has been a hit from the very beginning and AMC execs should be sad to see it go.

What began as an arguably noble attempt by White to secure his family's future in the wake of a cancer diagnosis has spiraled completely out of control. Initially, the teacher enlisted the help of former student Jesse (Aaron Paul) to make and distribute methamphetamine in the hopes he could earn enough money to cover his cancer treatments and provide for his family if the unthinkable happened.

Since then, Walter and Jesse have become more embroiled in the dangerous drug trade, rising through the ranks from lowly pawns to power players. Despite a few falling-outs over the years, the duo is back together in Season 5 and ready to take on the world in the wake of last season's shocking finale. Fans are eager to find out what will happen now that drug lord Gus (Giancarlo Esposito) is gone, and White assumes his post as kingpin.

In addition to Paul, Cranston shares the "Breaking Bad" screen with Anna Gunn as his long-suffering wife Skyler, R.J. Mitte as his son Walter Jr. (who has cerebral palsy), Dean Norris as his lawman brother-in-law Hank, and Betsy Brandt as his sister-in-law Marie. Rounding out the cast are Emmy-winning writer Bob Odenkirk as lawyer Saul Goodman and seasoned TV actor Jonathan Banks as thug and "cleaner" Mike.

Season 5 has a lot to live up to. Critics have been singing the praises of the show from the very beginning when "Newsday" deemed "Breaking Bad" a "must-see series" after its January 2008 premiere. The show hadn't lost momentum by last season, making several top-series lists and even drawing the attention of "Time" magazine, which heralded White's "I am the one who knocks" line as one of the best TV lines of the year.

Luckily, the new season shows just as much promise with Cranston again in the leading role. As White, the actor dances a fine line between brilliance and madness and somehow manages to elicit sympathy from TV viewers in spite of White's heinous, seemingly remorseless acts. In less capable hands, it would be a tough sell, but the actor has done his job beautifully, evidenced by the aforementioned Emmys.

Cranston snagged his three "Breaking Bad" Emmys for the first three seasons of the show, and it's important to note that Season 4 debuted in July, after the May 31 cutoff for the 2011 awards. His triple win made him the first actor in a cable series to win the honor three consecutive times, and only the second actor overall to earn it three times in a row (after Bill Cosby in 1966-1968 for "I Spy").

Bryan Cranston and Aaron Paul star in "Breaking Bad"

"Breaking Bad" has been a boon for Cranston, but it was the Fox comedy "Malcolm in the Middle" (2000-2006) that made him a bona fide star. His work as hapless dad Hal earned him his first three Emmy nominations. Other memorable TV credits include dentist Tim Whatley in NBC's "Seinfeld" and Buzz Aldrin HBO's "From the Earth to the Moon."

Right now, Cranston is hot on the big screen with roles in Adam Shankman's "Rock of Ages" (2012) and "Madagascar 3: Europe's Most Wanted" (2012). He's also set to star as villain Vilos Cohaagen in Len Wiseman's highly anticipated remake of "Total Recall," scheduled to be released in August.

While the onscreen talent is indisputable, creator Vince Gilligan is also a force in the show's success. The former "The X-Files" producer has pushed the boundaries of television with "Breaking Bad" by completely transforming the main character. Usually, TV series establish stable characters so that the show may go on for season after season. But "Breaking Bad" has seen White spiral further downwards as he sheds his meek schoolteacher persona for his current larger-than-life ego.

Though the end is in sight, all may not be lost for fans of the show. Cranston recently told the "L.A. Times" that he would consider a "Breaking Bad" movie. Mind you, while he's open to the idea, who knows whether White will actually survive the end of the series. If Gilligan does have it all worked out, how the show ends is a closely guarded secret for now. Tune in for the beginning of the end Sunday, July 15, on AMC.

'Criminal' threat

Tripplehorn gets into the 'Minds' of bad guys

By Sheila Busteed
TV Media

'CRIMINAL' THREAT: A brunette bombshell who last played a polygamist's wife will soon be weighing the actions and motives of all sorts of deviants.

The departure of "Criminal Minds" cast member Paget Brewster at the end of last season opened the door for CBS to bring in Jeanne Tripplehorn, who will replace her as the team's newest profiler starting at the beginning of the new season.

"We're thrilled to have Jeanne Tripplehorn join our team as a profiler," said executive producer Erica Messer. "Her character will be introduced in the premiere. It's an exciting way to start Season 8."

Tripplehorn's last regular television gig was as Barb Henrickson, the first of Bill Henrickson's three wives in the critically acclaimed and controversial HBO series "Big Love." The series wrapped in 2011 after five seasons, and it also starred Bill Paxton, Chloe Sevigny, Ginnifer Goodwin and Amanda Seyfried.

Television viewers may also remember Tripplehorn for her memorable portrayal of Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis in the acclaimed 2009 telefilm "Grey Gardens" -- a performance that earned her an Emmy nomination.

The actress is also known for her versatility in film, with credits in such titles as "Swept Away" (2002), "Paranoid" (2000), "Mickey Blue Eyes" (1999), "Sliding Doors" (1998), "Waterworld" (1995), "The Firm" (1993) and "Basic Instinct" (1992).

Most recently, she did a two-episode arc as Ouli in the hit freshman comedy "New Girl" on Fox. She was also one of many industry A-listers attached to the poignant Lifetime telefilm "Five" (2011), which told the stories of people affected by breast cancer through five short films.

With this great variety of experience under her belt, it's safe to assume that Tripplehorn will bring great strength to the long-running CBS series as it works through this transition.

Jeanne Tripplehorn, seen here in HBO's "Big Love," joins CBS's "Criminal Minds" next season

U.S. Senior Open
6 8 11 11 3:00 p.m.
Golfers 50 and up prove they've got what it takes on the course of the Indianwood Golf and Country Club in the third round of the U.S. Senior Open. Last year, Olin Browne of the United States won the tournament, which was held at the Inverness Club.

Undercover Boss
54 TLC 5:00 p.m.
Spend an evening with some of the most powerful people in corporate America as TLC presents a marathon of this reality TV series. Top executives go undercover to learn more about the grass-roots operations of the companies they head.

NYC 22
5 2 19 8:00 p.m.
While Kenny and Ahmad race to find a suspected rapist during a chaotic block party, White House and Jackpot find human remains. Drena De Niro, daughter of executive producer Robert De Niro, guest stars as a detective who's investigating a rape case.

Alaska: The Last Frontier
56 DISC 8:00 p.m.
After bears killed their livestock, the Kilchers are forced to resort to hunting to survive the winter. This series follows the married couple as they live off the land, with no running water or electricity, on their massive property in rural Alaska.

Clash of the Titans
39 TNT 8:00 p.m.
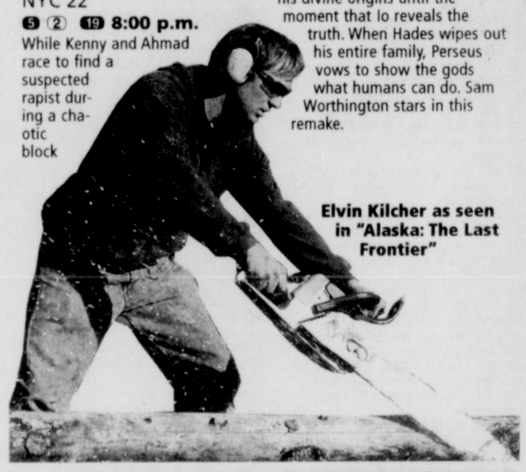
Perseus, a demigod son of Zeus, grows up with no knowledge of his divine origins until the moment that Io reveals the truth. When Hades wipes out his entire family, Perseus vows to show the gods what humans can do. Sam Worthington stars in this remake.



Elvin Kilcher as seen in "Alaska: The Last Frontier"

Conan: Conan O'Brien
Joe Biden said the only place Mitt Romney has created jobs is in China. This has sparked an angry rebuttal from Romney spokesperson Wen Cheng-Bao.

For the first time ever, Saudi Arabia is going to allow women to compete in the Summer Olympics. The rumour is that Saudi women are excellent runners -- because they're not allowed to drive.

The Tonight Show: Jay Leno
Jerry Sandusky was found guilty on 45 counts. Penn State did not release a statement on the Sandusky verdict. As usual, they're going to wait 10 years before they say anything.

Sunday

Code Name: The Cleaner
53 COMC 4:00 p.m.
Cedric the Entertainer and Lucy Liu star in this action comedy. When Jake, a forgetful janitor, wakes up beside a dead body, he tries to put the pieces together of what led him to be there. With few clues to go on, he discovers he's a spy.

Hoarding: Buried Alive
54 TLC 9:00 p.m.
Another shocking tale comes to light in this new episode. Compulsive hoarder Randy is being forced out of his apartment after more than 20 years. He has just a few days to clear out the 8 foot-high mountains of stuff he's collected over the years.

Political Animals
33 USA 10:00 p.m.
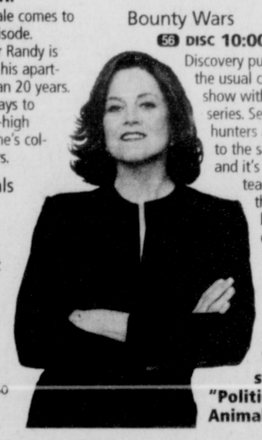
Sigourney Weaver makes her TV debut as Elaine Barrish, a former First Lady who's appointed as Secretary of State. The six-part drama, which follows a political dynasty, also stars Adrian Pasdar, Carla Gugino and Oscar winner Ellen Burstyn.



Sigourney Weaver stars in "Political Animals"

Breaking Bad
51 AMC 10:00 p.m.
While Hank is busy trying to wrap up his investigation, Walt deals with the aftermath of the Casa Tranquila explosion in this season premiere. Bryan Cranston stars as a formerly meek

Late Laughs

The Late, Late Show: Craig Ferguson

Climate change is a serious problem. We all need to do what we can. Unless that means I've got to change stuff, then I'm not doing it.

Scientists say over the next hundred years, the coast of California will sink almost five feet. So the presidential candidates need to do something. Mitt Romney is conflicted: on one hand, he denies that global warming exists. But if California is under water, he would definitely win the next election. President Obama would be affected, too. Because if there's no more Hawaii, where would he pretend to be born?

Late Night: Jimmy Fallon

Over the weekend, a man in Tennessee was kicked out of a Kenny Chesney concert because he looked too much like Kenny Chesney. That actually happens a lot -- in fact, my grandma was kicked out of an Aerosmith concert for looking too much like Steven Tyler.

NOTICE OF PUBLICATION

NOTICE IS GIVEN that on this, the 28th day of June 2012, a Complaint has been filed by Denny Broadwater before the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, seeking to foreclose the equities of redemption as to that certain property known as 1.00 of an acre, .1 of a mile West of Route 219, Sand Flat, Garrett County, Maryland, and which is more particularly described in a Deed from N.R.L.L. East, LLC, a Florida Limited Liability Company, to John Star and Taiwo Daguilar, and recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, in Deed Liber 1376, folio 0203, together with any improvements thereon, hereinafter referred to as the property.

And that the Complaint alleges inter alia that the Plaintiff is the holder of a Certificate of Sale as to said property issued by Cheryl A. Uphold, Collector of Taxes for Garrett County, Maryland.

An Order has been issued by this Court requiring any person having or claiming to have an interest in the aforesaid property to appear on or before the 27th day of August 2012, and answer the Complaint or redeem the property or otherwise show cause if any there may be as to why the relief prayed in the Complaint shall not be granted. Failure to answer or redeem the property within the time allowed may result in a judgment foreclosing the right of redemption. In the event that no cause to the contrary shall be shown within the time set forth herein, then this Court may grant the relief as prayed.

REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL

Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc. (GCCAC) has been awarded a BeSmart Aggregated Energy Efficiency Services grant which will increase the accessibility of energy conservation and efficiency opportunities throughout Garrett County. Under this new program, GCCAC plans to explore the potential market for for-profit weatherization services by contracting with a marketing consultant or business planner to research the market and develop a business plan. GCCAC is seeking proposals from interested contractors for the purpose of formulating a business plan tailored to the needs of the market and in accordance with the strengths of the agency's Weatherization Department. The successful proposal should address how the business plan will assist the agency in:

- Understanding the market for moderate and above-moderate income weatherization
- Pricing its services
- Structuring the business so that there is minimal risk to the non-profit
- Defining tax implication
- Understanding the connection between revenues received from the utility weatherization program and the for-profit side of the program
- Product development, such as audits, full weatherization, loan packaging, and renewable energy consultation
- Determining if for-profit weatherization is viable and sustainable endeavor for GCCAC.

A summary of the contractor's prior experience/capabilities is required.

For more information, contact Lisa Swift at 301-334-9431, Ext. 149. All proposals should be mailed to GCCAC, attn: Human Resources, 104 E Center Street, Oakland, MD 21550, no later than July 20, 2012. Garrett County Community Action is an equal opportunity employer. 7/5-12(2)
